Chapter 103 - Renewed discussion

You said that the audience in the back rows was unlucky enough. There were two big men sitting in front, Yao Ming and Patrice. The sight was definitely blocked, so watch the game!

Just when he was thinking about it, a heavy slap slapped on his shoulder, “Hey, Lu, why are you coming to the game today? Did you change your mind and plan to participate in the draft?”

Looked back and saw the fat bald narrator Sir Charles Barkley in front of him. He shook his head and said, “No, I never changed my mind. Today I was just pulled by Yao Ming!”

“I also explained a few of your games! It’s a pity that you don’t join NBA! If I were the general manager of the Cavaliers, I would definitely pick you as the No. 1 pick!” The current draft draw has ended and the Cavaliers won No. 1 pick.

Lying trough, you big mouth, you have brought me hatred again! Lu Qiujiang patted his bulging belly, “It depends on your hard work to see you retire, so it seems that playing nba is not necessarily a good job! I will continue to study!”

“When you say that, I also feel that I am working hard, and I will ask for a salary increase when I go back!”, Barkley made a joke, and after a few words with Lu Qiujiang, he began to tease Patrice, “Hey, Boy, you play like a man, with my style, come to nba next season! “

The ridicule on the sidelines also attracted the attention of the warm-up players on the field. Kidd, Martin, Pierce, Walker and others also came to say hello to Yao Ming and Lu Qiujiang. Obviously they also watched this year’s finals. Lu Qiujiang smiled and responded one by one.

After the game started, the scenes of major TV networks swept across this corner from time to time. The commentators of each channel saw Lu Qiujiang suddenly excited, in addition to understanding the game, he guessed why he came to see the ball.

Some people say that Lu Qiujiang may have been moved by Yao Ming to join the Rockets, a top center in the league, and a very potential point guard. The Rockets ’strength next year cannot be underestimated!

Some people refuted the fact that Lu Qiujiang's strength in the draft was definitely not going to the Rockets. They did n't even have one round of picks. The top pick was the 15th pick in the second round. Signing Patrice is almost the same, as for Lu Qiujiang, it is delusional, unless the managers of other teams are blind.

The Nets quickly established a lead under Kidd's leadership. The combination of Pierce and Walker could not stop the Nets' mercury-like attack. The last quarter of the game entered garbage time.

The game did not attract the attention of the commentators. They all began to crook the building and guessed that Lu Qiujiang participated in the nba draft in the first few rounds.

"Anthony was a popular candidate before, and Lu Qiujiang defeated Anthony, so he may also win the champion!"

"No, no, the Cavaliers will not care about any rookie other than James. The champion has definitely belonged to James! The second-placed Pistons have Billups and do not need to guard. He is ranked third at most! "

"James has not really proved himself, and Lu Qiujiang has led a team of fish belly to win the championship, his technical level and leadership ability is beyond doubt! If I am the general manager of the Cavaliers, I will definitely choose Lu Qiujiang and Not that high school student! "Barbara's argument attracted the attention of many fans.

After the game, Yao Ming went to Kidd where he had a meal, then returned to the hotel to rest, and the two resigned to return to Princeton the next morning.

They didn't think that just watching a ball just caused an uproar in the media, and they regarded it as a sign that Lu Qiujiang changed his mind to participate in this year's draft.

Expressed strong welcome to David Stern, and even began to wonder what means to use to get Lu Qiujiang to the Rockets. This is a good opportunity to open up the Asian market!

Argued for a day or two, the media began to predict the pick of this year's draft. For a time, the battle between the three champions of Lu Qiujiang, Anthony and James became a pot of porridge.

Hey, is it a mistake to participate in the draft this year! Why was it impulsive at the beginning? I'm afraid it will be different if I fight for another year? Anthony thought depressed, he finally changed the idea of playing Lu Qiu Jian for another year and signed up for this year's draft.

But now it seems that he might have been able to keep the top pick! Not to mention that high school student, Lu Qiu Jian beat his own in the competition! Forget it, my performance is not much worse than him, and the inside players are obviously superior to the point guards in the draft. Wait for the nba to revenge!

Anthony temporarily let go of the depression, but the other person will not work!

"What are all the messy things! Am I not as thin as a six-foot-one!" LeBron James angrily ripped the newspaper on the table to pieces.

The recent contract with Nike had originally reached the signing stage, but recently Nike seems to be a bit hesitant to postpone the signing time, all this is caused by this guy! James stared at a pair of bullseyes and looked at the photos of Lu Qiu Jian sitting on the sidelines watching the Nets game!

Since high school he became a super star wholegrain national attention media have praised him as a once-a-century genius, will become the most dominant players after Jordan; even such a superstar Shaquille O'Neal will come look at his game, espn, and some even charging station will broadcast his game, it is simply unthinkable for the high school basketball is.

The media has long been touted him confident of their own strength, and now a new came out of the yellow light suddenly seized him, which made him feel not accepted!

You have to think of any way to fix this thing? LeBron – James brains pondering it, after a long while he finally had an idea!

I went to see him one on one! I believe my strength definitely after blasting him time to see how those correspondents who would say? Look Nike contract will not delay! Look draft pick will not fall into the hands of others!

LeBron – James played in my mind yy Lvqiu built in their own superb technology layup loss, in the attack be brought to own a another big cap, while the offensive and defensive ends of yourself off the hook, and then by their own big score defeated look.

What I especially really a genius, so I would like to also be a good way out! James shook his fist proud of, apart from anything else go straight to the airport.

An hour later he was back in disgrace, paralysis, forget to bring a wallet!
