

D. School 105

Chapter 105 - Go talk to Curry

Jump your sister's steps! Counting your bullish fork and not arguing with you, Lu Qiujian took the basketball from James and started a new round of attack. He bent down and dribble forward. James tried to use his advantage of the wingspan to break the ball several times, but Lu Qiu Jian's combination of man and ball is very good, coupled with the small dribble and fast frequency, James has not tried many times to find a good opportunity.

The left shoulder violently made a breakthrough movement inwards. James quickly took a step back, but knowing that Lu Qiujian immediately withdrew the movement and took a three-point shot quickly, the brush shot, "2: 1!"

The next two fell into the fight for you. Lv Qiujian was short and low in center, but the ball was first-class, the speed and frequency of action were better than James, and he made many shots outside the three-point line.

James, relying on his height and strength, repeatedly posted this Lu Qiujian forcibly broke through the layup. Of course, if Lu Qiujian exerts his power, the transformed body can resist James, but there is no problem. In order to avoid being too scary, he put away his own power, only using speed and prejudice to interfere with his movements.

Under the interference of Lv Qiujian, James' breakthrough layup was not easy to succeed every time. During the period, he was intercepted by Lv Qiujian once, and he once hit the neck of the basket with one shot.

After several rounds of alternating attack, the score came to 8: 6, and then it was Lu Qiujian's turn to hold the ball to attack. At this time, James was even more depressed. Lu Qiujian's pace and shot speed were too fast, and the hit rate was high. It made him feel that he couldn't defend. It seems that he came to Princeton to find him a little loss this time!

The dribble moved to the right along the three-point line and suddenly pulled a ball, slamming James's defense into a neutral block, and it was a lightning shot. The score became 9: 6. Lu Qiujian held four match points.

James's already dark face was even darker. The forehead that could have pinched mosquitoes is now wrinkled to pinch grasshoppers! Silently took the basketball passed by Patrice and walked out of the line to attack.

This breakthrough seems to be much smoother than before. James's long-depressed depression seems to have finally found a chance to vent. He threw off Lu Qiu Jian and prepared for a slam dunk three steps from the free throw line.

Just as the basketball was about to be taken into the basket by his mouth, there was a sudden gust of wind behind him. Lv Qiu Jian's right hand extended from the rear, and his finger lightly touched the basketball. Empty!

"You have fouled!" James said hummily as he fell off the rim.

I left you a face without wearing a dead hat, you are still sophistry! Forget it, anyway, there is only one ball left, too lazy to care about you, Lv Qiu Jian shrugs indifferently, "then even if you score this ball, the score is 9: 7, now I should attack!" Anyway, I I don't like the 6: 9 score!

"Let's come here!", This time James played a twelve-point spirit, eyes staring at Lu Qiu Jian's movements, this time can't be shaken by you anyway!

Lv Qiu Jian stood well in front of the arc of the middle circle, took the basketball, and slowly fainted two steps forward; almost coming, according to his previous offensive method, the next two steps would change the dribble, this time it was Left or right? James guessed Lu Qiu Jian's next move.

One step forward, James moved slightly to the right, should the next step go right? But Lu Qiu Jian didn't do what he wanted, and he took a decisive jump shot at a distance of two steps from the three-point line.

James didn't expect that he would shoot so far away, and when he took off, the basketball had already flown over his head! Lu Qiu Jian defeated James with ten three-pointers.

"Okay, the game is over!" Lu Qiu Jian walked to the side of the court and put on his coat.

Grass! grass! grass! James only half a day before he suffocated, "You can't shoot a dead man with a three-pointer during the game. You are only lucky enough to have such a high hit rate today!"

Three-pointer is not dead? At that time, you can talk to Curry, he will teach you to be a man in three minutes! At this time, the clothes were already worn. He tipped his toes and patted James on the shoulder. “You are right, I am a little bit lucky today. In the official game, you still have a better way!” Defensible!

“Shall we have another game?” James still was a little unwilling.

“Forget it, anyway, I didn’t plan to go to nba, even today is entertainment!”, Lu Qiujian waved his hand.

He was actually relieved when he heard this. His hit rate was just abnormal, and he did n’t have much confidence again!

He was secretly lucky while wearing a coat. Fortunately, he is in an indoor basketball court now, and there is no spectator outside, otherwise today’s face will be too big!

While thanking God for blessing, a clear shutter sound suddenly came from a corner of the stand! In the trough, someone candidly shoot! James immediately ran past, and the two panicked paparazzi fled while thanking God for their good luck; I did not expect to catch such big news by sliding a lap on the basketball court in Princeton! The video just sold can definitely make a lot of money!

Even James ’perverted physique ca n’t catch up with the paparazzi who got big news The next day, the news that James and Lv Qiujian failed to head to the headlines hit the major media. The video was also sold to espn at a high price and played again and again.

James was shocked every time he saw it, until the draft registration deadline, when he found that Lu Qiujian really would not participate in the draft, he even scolded himself over and over again, paralyzing what happened to you at that time!

I went to New Jersey for a walk, and played a one-on-one with James, which temporarily disrupted Lu Qiujian’s paper revision plan, which made some mathematicians who were waiting in front of the computer waiting to see updates updated. .

“From the point of view of the publication time of the previous eight papers, the longest interval is four days, and the shortest is only two days; now it is six days, how come there is no update?”, A bitter graduate student asked depressed.

“I used to change every week, but now a week is coming, and there is nothing for an update. Isn’t it time for the ***** to run out of inspiration?”, His classmates echoed!

“Hey, I can’t see the update and I really don’t want to work! Come out quickly!”, He pressed f5 again, but still nothing.

Like when everyone was looking forward to it, Lu Qiuqian also returned to the computer. He looked at the unpublished papers stored in the folder, opened the web page login account, and felt his chin. Is it better today?

There is something at home, it will be updated automatically
