

D. School 106

Chapter 106 - Ozark Plateau

“Professor Gals! Will Lu agree?” After waiting for several days, the head of the school’s publicity department was unable to sit still and hurriedly opened the door of Professor Gals’ office.

“What did you promise?”, A gray head emerged from behind the computer, blinking innocent eyes.

“About the holding of the Poincaré Conjecture Special Report!”, This lady who has always been known for her good temper took a lot of effort to suppress her anger, saying one by one.

“Oh, yes, the special meeting!”, Professor Gals patted his forehead, and then looked at her sincerely, “Oh, sorry, I forgot this matter, Lu showed me an article that day The new paper gave me new inspiration. I have been thinking about this for two days! “

Well, since Princeton can tolerate eccentric scholars like Nash and Wyeth, it ’s just normal to forget something because of inspiration like Gals! The lady stepped forward with Professor Gals’s hands two steps forward and asked Wen Wen, “So do you think you can take the time now to solve this matter?”

“Look, my research is now at a critical time!”, Professor Gals waved his arms to express his research on the disturbed department. He never thought that the reason why others came to disturb him was because he forgot what the other party told him. He didn’t care about the gentleman’s demeanor and took the lady’s arm while walking out and said, “You can persuade someone to convince him that Professor Wyeth, Professor Nan, Professor Thurston have a good relationship with him.”

“But!”, She is now covered with black lines, and the scientist who entered the research state is the most annoying!

“Okay, I wish you a smooth job, goodbye!”, Professor Gals slammed the office door!

She stood stunned in the doorway, her face changed instantly, and finally she could only stomped her feet and walked to the professor’s lounge of the Mathematics Department; she dared not knock on the door anymore. How angry the professor will be.

“Hey, ma’am, let’s play a game!” When I just walked into the professor’s lounge in the Department of Mathematics, a man with a disheveled hair, a beard and a beard walking around with bare feet came over and shook his hand. Paper and pen, with some neatly arranged circles drawn on the paper, “Come and play the game of life with me!”.

“Sorry, Professor Conway, I still have things. Did you see Professor Thurston or Professor Wyeth?” This man, who looks a little unusual, is also a professor in the Princeton Mathematics Department, John Hutton- Conway was one of the pioneers of combinatorial game theory and created a new digital system for super real numbers. It is more widely known that he invented many interesting mathematical games, such as life games, philosophers’ football, etc.

“John, I’ll come and play with you later!” Professor Thurston came out to help her out and comforted Conway to the side, and then came over, “Girl, what are you doing with me!”

“It’s like this ...” She finally found someone who could communicate normally. She wept with joy, and she quickly uttered her intentions, “So, you can help urge Lu Qiuqian What? “

“Uh!”, Thurston scratched his head embarrassedly, “Lv is not in school recently, I may not be able to help you convince him, although I may even expect this report more than you!”

“Where did he go? Don’t you have his phone?”, This stick hit her dizzy.

“You know, the exam is about to take place. We didn’t continue the lectures, but left them free time to complete the thesis and prepare for the review! Lu said that he hadn’t gone out to play after he came to the United States. Go hiking! When I left, I said that I did n’t want to be disturbed, so I did n’t even take the phone! ”Said Professor Thurston. As far as examinations and papers are concerned, in his opinion, Lu Qiuqian will not cause any trouble at all.

“Where did he go?”

“Ozark Plateau!” After hearing this place name, this lady was completely desperate. There is no way to find someone in such a deserted place!

In the distance, the top of the mountain was snow-capped, and a shallow stream at the foot of the mountain slowly flowed. Lu Qiuqian sat on the boulder by the stream and watched the fish playing in the clear stream, completely immersed in this beautiful Among the natural scenery.

“Nat, it’s time to get up!” After a while, he turned back and shouted to the back, a scent came out of the pot above the portable fire stove, “Breakfast has been cooked!”

With a hissing sound, a dark blue tent was pulled through a gap on the flat ground at the back, and a white arm was stretched out. Natalie said in a lazy voice, “Let me sleep for a while. It was really last night. It was too late! “

“Who has never wanted to sleep?”, Lv Qiujian smiled, don’t look at her figure is petite, did not expect that the energy will be so full, has been tossing until midnight to rest.

There was no sound in the tent, it seemed that she had fallen asleep again; Lv Qiujian shook her head and no longer called, It seems that today ’s journey may not be completed as planned.

Since he had dealt with the urging of Professor Goles, he knew that the school would continue to push forward, so he hurried away by relaxing before the exam. I do n’t believe that they could still find such a rare place in the Ozark Plateau!

Of course, he did n’t forget to call Natalie when she came. Although she had to prepare for the exam, she still could n’t refuse Lu Qiujian ’s temptation. The two of them rarely put their studies aside for a while and came to Arkansas on foot. Travel holy place Ozark Plateau.

After a while, when the fire was about to extinguish, the sparse dressing sounded in the tent, and Natalie finally woke up from her sleep.

“Well, this T-shirt seems to be mine?” The hem of the clothes was almost reaching Natalie’s knee, and a wide white collar exposed a tender white, which made Lu Qiujian quite regretful, but it was a poor breast, otherwise There is a good view.

“I’ll wear it first!”, Natalie walked to the stream, picked up the stream and rinsed, and climbed up to the top of the boulder under the pull of Lv Qiujian, and took a hot breakfast from his hand. , “Your craft is simply amazing!”

If you are a vegetarian, you can make better food! Lu Qiujian hugged her shoulders, “If you are not happy, we may not be able to catch up with the intended destination!”

“Since it’s a relaxing trip, why should you be so hurried!” Natalie stretched out, “Just stop and go, there is no plan, there is no destination to be reached, is it not good?”

Well, it sounds good!
