Chapter 14 - Team practice

The Princeton Tigers lost to the Pennsylvania Quakers in the last game of the previous season. They were 11 wins and 3 losses with Pennsylvania, but they missed the crazy March because of the victory and defeat. Coach John Thompson III is also quite helpless about this. With Princeton's status, there is no need to use sports to improve his popularity, and there is no basketball tradition like UCLA. There are less than 2,000 freshmen every year, excluding girls, If the physical condition is not up to standard, there is not much room for him to choose. Princeton's tactics are more of a helpless choice than Pete Carrel's great initiative.

Coach Thompson III had no great hopes for this year's qualifying, but the rapid growth of Patrice and the joining of Lu Qiujian gave him a glimmer of light. The other teams in the Ivy League are facing the same situation as Princeton. They also lack talented players. If these two people can develop their potential before the game starts, then the Tigers may have the opportunity to go crazy in March this year. Once.

"His shot is really good!", Said assistant coach Black Qiujian who was not far away.

"Shooting in practice and shooting in the game are two different things! Facing the basket and shooting when facing the defense are completely different! He is a rookie, has never experienced the test of the game, and now everything is hard to say!", Thompson The coach shook his head.

“Why not give it a try?”, Coach Black suggested, “It is less than two months before the start of the season, leaving him little time!”

“Okay!”, Coach Thompson slaps to call the players together, “Okay, boys, let’s play an in-house practice game to see if you are lazy during the summer!”

Coach Black divided the players into two teams, one team was last year’s main lineup, the other team was composed of last year’s bench and this year’s rookie, Lu Qiujuan and Patrice were divided into one team, they served as the point guard and center respectively And, with whom do they start, which psychology power forward Spencer Griegel, shooting guard Scott Greenman and small forward Mick Stephens.

Opposite were center Gardson Wallace, power forward Kyle Winter, small forward Ray Robbins, shooting guard Will Venable and point guard Ed Persia.

“Remember to pass more to me later, I will cry that silly big guy!” Patrice patted Lu Qiujuan’s shoulder before jumping, “I will pass you if you run out of space. of!”

Stupid big man? Lu Qiujuan looked at Gardson and then Patrice. It seemed that he was more suitable for this nickname. Which one on the other side is the newest theoretical physics who has published a paper in Nature.

Facts have proved that no matter how good the theoretical study of physics is, there is no way to add an anti-gravity system to his basketball shoes. Patrice easily defeated Gardson and put the ball into Lv Qiujuan.

Lv Qiujuan took the basketball and learned the movements he learned on TV these two days, carefully dribbling the ball to the main team’s half, and then using a small change of direction to throw off the opposite Ed to hang the ball to Patrice. .

“The dribbling movement is very smooth, the position of the ball is close to the side, so it is difficult for the defensive player to steal the ball, and can use the wrist shaking movement to pass the ball at any time! This kind of dribbling movement reminds me. “, Black praised.

“Is John Stockton?”, Coach Thompson habitually touched his bald head. “Now young people rarely like this simple dribbling action. You see he has taken the ball for so long. There was n’t even a change of hands! The moment when I got rid of Ed just now relied on a small change of direction behind me, the movements in my hand are compact and machine-like! There is no trace at all! “

After catching the ball, Patrice used his physical advantage to squeeze out Gardson to send the ball into the basket. Before he could give Lu Qiu Jianxian, he greeted coach Thompson, “Damn it! Mick just now. Have you run out of space and have n’t you seen it? In the Ivy League, you can bully others with your own body. When the knockout round comes to play, do you think you can compare with those monsters who have won scholarships ?! “

“Sorry! Coach, I blame Gardson for being too fragile. I can’t control it! I will remember to pass the ball next time!” Patrice quickly quibbled.

Offensive and defensive conversion, this time replaced by Gardson holding the ball to face Patrice’s defense. I saw him swaying a small space and then divided the ball to the bottom line. Ray, who got rid of the defense, took the ball quickly and successfully Scored two points.

“Did you see! Patrice, this is the offense Princeton wants!” Thompson reminded him in a timely manner.

Patrice waved his hand to signal that he heard it, turned his head and whispered to Lu Qiu Jian, “But don’t you think it’s enough to be a man like me?”

“As long as you can play O’Neill in this way, I think Coach Thompson will change his tactics immediately!” Lu Qiu Jian responded in a low voice, knowing that Coach Thompson said it was the right choice. UU reading books

Advance to the front court again, use the change of dribble to disrupt Ed's defensive rhythm, and then suddenly a diagonal shoulder accelerates to break through the defense and passes the ball to Patrice again. The ball does not stay in place after the shot, but is fast Inserting into the unmanned defense area at the bottom corner, Patrice saw Lu Qiuqian's running position this time. His right hand flicked and passed the basketball to Lu Qiuqian's hand. In the rim, the three-pointer was easy.

"Good job! Patrice, remember the feeling just now!", Coach Thompson applauded.

After a few rounds, in addition to some confusion when defending, Lu Qiuqian's performance is not like a rookie. There are almost no mistakes in dribbling and passing. After the pass, he does not stay in place, or quickly Run to neutral and wait for the shot, or use the running position to help the teammates pull the defensive player, and they will not hesitate to shoot when they encounter the opportunity.

"His movements and consciousness are awesome! It's as fast and accurate as a computer, and he always finds opponents' defensive loopholes!" Black was almost speechless by Lv Qiuqian's performance.

The root of all this lies in Lu Qiuqian's abnormal control of the body and the fast-moving brain. Those basic basketball actions regret the rapid formation of muscle memory after his practice. The response will automatically make the best choice. The fast-moving brain can help him calculate the running path of each player on the field. If it is still not good for passing and running, then he is in vain!
