

D. School 32

Chapter 32 - Propaganda suspended

"I'm also surprised. When I first read the paper, I didn't expect him. After I was sure, I remembered that several of the papers he sent in the country before going abroad were about finite groups. How did he turn into partial differentials when he went abroad? Professor Zhang knows that Lv Qiujian chose the finite group in the first place in order to vote for what he wants.

"This is our department's best achievement in recent years, but unfortunately the signature of this article is not what a school!", Professor Ren sighed regretfully.

"It's not our school anymore!" Professor Zhang was unwilling to compete for funds between schools and schools in China, as well as between departments and departments. An important basis for the fight is the number of papers in top journals. At this time, the responsibility of the head of his department was finally awakened, "The exchange student is also from our department, and will come back next year, even if it is a thesis of our department!"

"Although it can't be used as an official bonus point, it can still win a lot of impression points!", Professor Ren also knows the truth, "Professor Zhu published a cooperative paper in the Journal of Mathematics the previous year and gave it to our Try to get a computer back; this was done independently. Although it is hung with the name of another school, can one computer be exchanged? "

Professor Ren said that it is a small supercomputer, which is very useful for the research of the Department of Mathematics. However, as soon as the machine came to the Department of Mathematics, it was generally hung up by professors. He applied for a long time before it was a small one. Later, if there is one more, then I can not spend more time myself?

"Yes!", Professor Zhang echoed, "We have to build up the momentum first! It took a month for Bioscience to make a piece of" Nature ", and we must keep up with them this time!"

In the past few years, the average number of papers published in "Nature" and "Science" by Peking University was 0.625 papers each year.

"Little Liu! You come in!", Professor Zhang opened the door and shouted Assistant Liu again, "You can check the number of Lu Qiu's phone in the United States. I want to talk to him!"

What happened today? Assistant Liu quickly echoed and made a phone call before finding his mobile phone number in Mi Guo from Lu Qiujian's roommate.

"Why is it so slow!" Professor Zhang mumbled again, "You go to the school's publicity department and let them send someone over to say that our mathematics department has achieved great results!"

"Old man, what time is it in the United States?" Professor Zhang just picked up the phone and remembered that there was a time difference.

"Look at it, it's almost nine o'clock at night! I shouldn't sleep yet, hit it!", Professor Ren said after looking at the table.

The phone rang a few times and was quickly picked up, "Hello, hello! This is Lu Qiujian, may I ask you?"

"Haha, Xiao Lu! Haven't slept yet? You should also pay attention to the combination of work and rest. It's not too hard to work too hard!", After a long chatting with Professor Ren's reminder, he remembered to introduce himself, "I am a teacher of Beijing Normal University Department of Zhang Yongjian! "

"Oh, Director Zhang!" Lu Qiujian's tone did not change at all. He called this number several times before going abroad, but it was the first time he received it.

"I just received the latest issue of the" Annual Mathematics "and saw your article on it, so make a phone call to congratulate it!" At this point, Professor Zhang was very upset, if he did not send it, he would be depressed, But Lv-Qiujian is not what Li-Qiang and Liu-Yang are everywhere. The probability of two Lv-Qiujian appearing at the same time in Princeton Mathematics Department is too small; in mathematics, the smallest probability event is equal to impossible, and Professor Zhang is busy Cheer yourself up with professional knowledge.

"Oh, are you talking about" A Method for Solving Partial Differential Equations "?", Lv Qiujian didn't expect the country to react so quickly, and quickly humbly said, "It's all a good foundation in school. When I came here, I happened to encounter a difficult problem, and I had some ideas in the process of solving the problem. Fortunately, with the help of Professor Gores and Professor Wiles, I was lucky to get some results! "

“Professor Wiles? Is he still substituting? Is it okay to talk?” Upon hearing Professor Wiles’ name, Professor Zhang almost forgot the purpose of his phone call and greeted him in a hurry, he almost said a coach, and I I want to go to Princeton!

“The professors are very kind, especially for professional problems, it can be said to be endless!”, Lu Qiujian also followed his words.

“That’s good, that’s good!”, Professor Zhang finally recovered from the star chasing mentality, remembering the purpose of the call and quickly changed to a serious emphasis, “Classmate Xiao Lu, I only represent the Department of Mathematics of Beijing Normal University. Congratulations on your achievements and I hope you will make persistent efforts! “

The phone was busy here, but Professor Ren found something was wrong. How did Professor Zhang’s face grow more and more strange, until he hung up the phone and quickly asked, “What’s wrong with this?”

“He said there is one more article!” Professor Zhang couldn’t help but twitch, did you post on BBS? Can it be irrigated?

“What else is there?”, Professor Ren froze.

“There is also an” Annual Mathematics “, he said that he also co-authored a paper with the person as the first author and also passed the approval of Professor Goles!” Dao Xi’s phone did not expect another gain, and Professor Zhang was a little ignorant.

“Isn’t it because the” Annual Mathematics “was run by Princeton?”, Professor Ren couldn’t help thinking from the usual way of thinking.

“No, what is Professor Gauss’s vision? Is the article he approved still not enough? Besides, is it not enough for you to read this article?” Professor Zhang was anxious at that time. A series of rebuttals instantly turned into Meet the parents whose children are cheated for cheating on exams!

“Blame me, blame me for not talking!”, Professor Ren quickly apologized.

There was a knock on the door outside the talking room. After opening the door, Assistant Liu’s probe came in, followed by a fashionable beauty of about thirty years, “Director Zhang, this is Jia Officer of the Propaganda Department!”

“Professor Zhang! I heard that the Department of Mathematics has achieved significant results again, so I quickly came over first, and the colleagues behind me would still pick up the machine, and I might be there in a few minutes!” Perhaps I was aware of Director Zhang’s age and position. Dissatisfaction, Officer Jia quickly explained.

Means that you are just in a hurry to fight the front line, if the mathematics department really has a major achievement, the successor troops will arrive immediately, if there is no success, then the successor troops will be there.

Had to say that her words were very good. Professor Zhang’s dissatisfaction subsided, and he waved his hand, “Call me Professor Zhang, we have achieved some results recently, but let’s delay this promotion first!”
