

D. School 45

Chapter 45 - examination

“The game you played was awesome! I’ll cheer for you when the regular season begins!” As soon as he entered the classroom, Alfos came to congratulate him. The paper revised by Lu Qiuqian has been published, and his future is bright. The person also became full of spring breeze.

Congratulated more than him, Samuelson and other people who had usually dealt with him also came to send praise words, the only thing that made Lu Qiuqian regret was that no girl came to congratulate.

This is not because girls are shy, but the mathematics department has always lacked the creature of girls. Throughout the history of science, many women such as Mrs. Curie’s mother and daughter, Tu Youyou have won the Nobel Prize in natural sciences, but Fields However, it was not until 2014 that the medal was first presented to the Iranian female mathematician Mariam Mirzahani.

In history, female mathematicians are also extremely rare creatures, and only the French mathematician Mary Sophie-Germain, the daughter of the famous poet Byron, and the British mathematician Auguste-Ida can leave names in later generations. -A dozen women including Lovelace, Russian mathematician Kovalevskaya-Sofia, and German mathematician Amy Noth.

So when you hear a student in the math department say he has n’t spoken to a woman for months, do n’t be surprised, because this is almost normal.

“Boys! I feel that you ca n’t wait to go home for Christmas! But do n’t forget the exam before that!” As soon as the professor who came to class dropped his voice, there was a wailing in the classroom. In that country and that school, exams are very unpopular.

Lu Qiuqian is quite indifferent to this. Examination may be a very difficult thing for others, but it is not difficult for him at all. After this semester of study, his research depth at the frontier of some branches may still be Not as good as those professors who have devoted their lives to these fields, but they have completely surpassed them in breadth.

Ok? When he received the test timetable, he frowned, and the last test on the timetable coincided with the first game of the NCAA Ivy League regular season, and the first game needed to go to Cambridge, Massachusetts. There is no way to challenge the Harvard Crimson team away from the exam and play at the same time.

“What!” Coach Thompson heard him saying he would take leave in the first game and almost scolded. “Do you know how high expectations the fans have placed on us since the game against Duke! Do you know? What a rare opportunity for the Tigers! Then you tell me now that I can’t play in the first game?”

“But I still have to take an exam! I am not a basketball scholarship player. The exam is more important to me than the game!” Lu Qiujiang shrugged. “Besides, the strength of the Harvard Crimson team is similar to ours. We can still win them with your command!”

“I knew I would encounter this kind of trouble in Princeton!” Coach Thompson did not take pride in his touts. “Without your win rate at Harvard and Harvard, we are even in the consideration of their home factors. Disadvantage! Every victory in the regular season is related to whether we can break through the league, I can’t lose my core player in the first game!”

After talking about Coach Thompson putting on his suit, “Let’s go, I will discuss with your professor to see if I can test it for you alone!” Hey, if you are in a famous basketball school like North Carolina and Georgetown, you must This is a matter of calling himself, but in Princeton, the status of the basketball team coach is far inferior to those of the professors, and he dare not guarantee whether his trip can achieve his goals.

“Professor Nan, Mr. Thompson came to you!”, The teaching assistant called the professor who was in charge of the last exam. After a minute, she hung up the phone, “Professor Nan please invite two of you!”

“Thank you, beautiful lady!”, Thompson showed his gentlemanly style and took Lu Qiujiang to an office on the second floor.

“Hello Mr. Thompson, Xiao Lu, you are here too!” It is not surprising that Professor Nan’s second sentence was replaced by Chinese. Professor Nan was originally a Chinese, and finished reading from the Institute of Mathematics of the Chinese Academy of Sciences The master later came to the United States and received a Ph.D. from UCLA. He once worked as a researcher and professor at the Institute for Advanced Studies at Princeton. He had just been a professor in the Department of Mathematics the previous year and was responsible for teaching knowledge in computational and applied mathematics.

“I have finished reading the books you introduced to me before.” Lv Qiujiang did not ask him to ask questions before, perhaps because he was also a Chinese, Professor Nan asked him more than Professor Goles. Strictly much.

“What’s the harvest?” Professor Nan’s eyes light up.

“Cough!”, When Lu Qiujian was about to answer, coach Thompson interrupted the conversation between them. If these professors were asked to talk about professional issues, it would be fine if they were addicted to chatting all night. Have eaten more than once! They did not start to explain their intentions quickly, “Professor Nan, I’m Thompson, the coach of the school basketball team. Now I have a little thing to trouble you! ...”

He listened to Barabara telling him about the leave Professor Nan frowned, “Xiao Lu, are you still playing in the basketball team?”

Professor Nan’s expression reminded Lu Qiujian of the high school class teacher’s talk of the situation of the Internet cafe. That was a heartache and an outrage! “Sometimes tired of reading, go to play and relax!”, Lu Qiujian quickly explained.

“Xiao Lu, I may not like to listen to my speech! But you are very talented in mathematics, so I still advise you!” Professor Nan Nan said with a long heart, “The research career of mathematicians is actually very short, almost All creative research results were born during the time period between the ages of 20 and 35 of mathematicians. After this period of time, I can only do some work to check and fill vacancies like me! “

Hey, I wasted too much time when I was young! Professor Nan felt a little emotion and persuaded Lv Qiujian to become more determined. He could not let this good young man be spoiled. “So I do n’t recommend you to participate in too many club activities. Basketball, just relax and relax after class. Okay, no need to invest too much energy! For the sake of your math career, you better quit the basketball team! “

Lying trough, I will ask for a leave, don’t let him leave the team even if you disagree! Coach Thompson burst into tears immediately, “Professor Nan, I disagree with you! Lu also has a talent beyond basketball in basketball!”

Mommy, I found that the regular season time and the exam time are not the same. Forget it, let’s classify the bug as the difference between the eccentric plane and the normal plane!