Chapter 48 - The highest state of rubbish

Wow, so many reporters! When Natalie arrived at the basketball hall, she was taken aback by the pile of reporters at the door. She quickly pulled up a scarf to cover her face, and only relaxed when she saw the ESPN and other professional sports signs on their microphones. Tone, fortunately, I didn't come to me. I don't want the peaceful college life to be broken by them.

"Isn't our team counting down from the Ivy League? How come this reporter interviewed again?" I heard that there was a fan discussing Natalie quickly followed.

"Guys, they didn't come to interview the Harvard Crimson team, they came to see the guy from Princeton!", A guy who looked like a senior fan answered his question, "That guy broke out last time. With Duke, he became a popular figure in next year's draft with the results of one game! I think these reporters want to see if he can maintain the status of the last game today! "

"Who are you talking about?", The other party asked Natalie the same curious question, and at the same time the shadow of Lu Qiuqian appeared in her mind, wouldn't it be him?

"It's a Chinese, it seems to be called Lv, you know, the Chinese name is always awkward to read! He is about six feet an inch, with black hair and looks a bit thin, but in fact it is very strong, shot more than Bray Jay Miller is still accurate! ", The man gestured as he spoke.

Six feet and one inch, Natalie stretched her hand over the top of her head and made a gesture, um, my head just came to his chin, and I recalled the scene when I chatted with Lu Qiuqian yesterday.

Yeah, it really is him! When she entered the basketball court, she discovered that the only black-haired player on the court was Lu Qiuqian! Natalie quietly found a corner to sit down, thinking in her heart, can he really find himself among so many people?

"Man, don't be nervous, this is just a normal game!" Lu Qiuqian looked at Harvard Crimson's point guard Elliott-Plasi-Freeman and said, "Biologically nervous Although it will increase attention and bring a faster reaction, it will also increase your physical exertion speed. You can't stick to a game in this state! "

"Huh? Are you also studying biology?", Elliott asked with a slight surprise, did not expect to meet a professional opponent with himself on the court.

“I just dabbled a little.”, Lu Qiuqian said modestly, and at the same time used the afterglow of his eyes to pay attention to the changes in the situation on the field, “I have read your paper, the article about the analytical institution and Professor Kornberg The points made in “Science” are very close, but one thing you may not have noticed ... “

“What is it?”, Lv Qiuqian’s words happened to scratch Elliot’s itch. This article of his did indeed refer to the latest research results of biological authority Kornberg.

Just as Elliott was thinking about what point Lu Qiuqian was going to say, Lu Qiuqian accelerated the Elliott who flicked away from the sky and made a 3-pointer shot!

“Elliott! What are you doing!”, Harvard’s coach screamed, if he couldn’t keep up with being faked, but now he looks like a player on the court!

“I’m sorry!” Elliott quickly raised his hand and apologized. Harvard center Sam Winter passed the bottom line to his hand. Elliott began to dribble forward.

Just after half-time, Lu Qiuqian stopped him again, and then the topic just said, “Professor Cohenberg ’s research is based on his original discovery of multiple factors involved in transcription, the determination of protein function, to The structure of the final transcription complex is analytical; and your article lacks sufficient support in this regard, I think you can change the method! “

“What’s the way?” Elliott didn’t think he slowed down the dribbling rhythm. Lv Qiuqian then let this opportunity pass. With a long arm, he poke down the basketball, and he drew up the basketball before a low body. Just go to Harvard’s half and go to the penalty area to make a three-step easy layup.

“Elliott!”, Harvard’s coach was almost mad at him. Didn’t he see such absent-minded performance in previous games? What’s going on today? He looked back at Jason Norman on the bench. Forget it, this guy is no different from a stump. Give Elliott another chance!

This time Elliott was clearly alert, leaned over to protect the ball tightly, and moved forward while making up his mind to never listen to Lu Qiuqian’s  again.

“I think you can use the combination of electron microscopy and X-ray to solve the problem of protein structure analysis.” Lu Qiuqian’s words still drilled into Elliott’s ear like a pervasive ghost.

“Electron microscope and X-ray?”, Elliott retold Lu Qiuqian’s words involuntarily. Previous biologists seem to use these two instruments to analyze the structural analysis of proteins, but they have never been People tried to use them in combination, but this method seems to have a very high operability. When thinking about it, Elliott was empty of his hand. He suddenly woke up and turned around, Ma De, the ball was stealing again!

Three seconds later, Lu Qiuqian hung proudly on the rim. Haha, what kind of  is weak. The highest level of  is to let opponents listen willingly. For elite schools like Harvard What attracts them more than the cutting-edge research in the player’s profession?

Lu Qiuqian’s topic is not nonsense. He came to Harvard’s campus network to find Elliott’s paper and researched the latest achievements before he came up with the topic so he should not be fooled.

Looking down the basket and falling down, Lu Qiuqian beckoned to a corner of the fan area. With his unforgettable memory and keen eyes, he has seen Natalie over there!

Substitution, Harvard, the coach finally can’t stand Elliott’s state, replaced him with backup guard Jason Norman; the replaced Elliott doesn’t seem to hear the coach’s scolding, and his mind is full It is all kinds of guesses about how electron microscope and X-ray are applied to protein structure analysis.

Looking at Elliott holding his head on the bench, Lu Qiuqian smiled at Jason Norman from the bench, “You are a business school student? What do you think of the latest announcement by Luther Technology? Data? I think they must have made a fake. These data simply do not comply with Benford’s law! “

Three minutes later, Jason returned to the bench with both eyes bright and cheerful, and Eliot, who was interrupted, reluctantly returned to the court. The first sentence to see Lu Qiuqian was, “How to solve the problem of in vitro transcription with this method?”

Cough, Kornberg is the Nobel winner, the paper is his achievement, this method was also proposed by him, I used it for the protagonist. Under gossip, Kornberg’s father is also a Nobel Prize winner.
