Chapter 57 - Busy christmas

“It seems that your thoughts for the development of your home country have been determined!” Professor Nan is both relieved and envious. “Now, the domestic conditions are much better than when I came out. You can’t worry about going back. Here comes the score! “

Indeed, I can send such a good gift for Beijing Normal University, I think Xiao Lu will go better in the future in the country? Conversely, if the name of Princeton is applied, and it will not be possible to achieve a comparable result in a short time after returning to the country, someone should say something strange, either from the academic world or from the media.

“Lu, are you going to return to China?” Thurston listened to their conversation, wondering, and couldn’t help but interject, “Isn’t it good to stay in Princeton? Is there a world more suitable for mathematicians than here?” Is there any place? “

Princeton can allow Wiles to leave the article for seven years and delve into Fermat ’s theorem. He can also help John Nash recover from schizophrenia. At the afternoon tea party created by Levschez, you can meet the world ’s most cutting-edge Mathematicians collide in thought.

Relaxed research environment, humane care management, generous treatment, lofty status, sufficient funds and smart communication partners, if you just want to study mathematics, there really is no better place than here.

“Although Liang Yuan is good, it is not a hometown of long-lasting love!”, Lv Qiujian said a sentence in Chinese, and turned the topic back to the question of the paper’s signature. “Professor Thurston, I can sign my own paper. Is the name of the Department of Mathematics at Peking University? “

Seeing the question of whether Lu Qiujian was unwilling to continue, Thurston did not insist. He said casually, “This is something you completed independently. You can write whatever name you want! As long as you remember to complete it first Just send me a copy! “

“Okay, I will strive to complete it before the end of the holiday, and I will send it to you ... and Professor Nan’s mailbox after completion!” Lu Qiujian was not afraid of plagiarism and nodded.

“Since you are busy with this now, I’m afraid you don’t have much free time? Or will you push out from the basketball team now?” Professor Nan began to replay the old tune again.

Lv Qiujian once again rejected the Houqing feast. It was just at the end. Because of drinking, all three did not drive. While talking about the latest major events in the mathematics world, they walked back to school.

“Lv, you finally woke up!” When I opened the door of my bedroom, I saw that Patrice’s suit was standing at the door, not to mention that this guy was wearing a suit and it was quite windy, “I get it The car is parked downstairs, shall we leave now? “

“Don’t worry, now Norman begs us. If you negotiate with this emotion, you will definitely lose money!”, Lu Qiujian slowly poured himself a glass of milk for breakfast.

Today is the day before Christmas. According to the previous agreement, it is time to start cooperation negotiations with Jason Norman on obtaining benefits from the false account of Luther Technology.

Since the last time he took advantage in Las Vegas, Patrice told Lu Qiujian to admire the five-body land, saying that everything required Lu Qiujian to bring himself this time.

After eating breakfast unhurriedly and changing into very casual clothes, he was ready to go. Patrice looked at his dress, then looked in the mirror, and returned to the room in a dejected mood and changed into sportswear. The suits that are specifically customized are not at all useful.

Sitting in the car from Patrice, listening to Jay-Z’s latest album, it took more than an hour, the two came to the agreed hotel.

Can see that Jason-Norman’s economic conditions are good. He directly opened a luxury suite. In the reception room, the three people discussed the cooperation while drinking red wine.

“I can collect 1.2 million US dollars before the stock market reopens. How much can you put out?” Jason asked slightly reserved, although Lu Qiujian’s discovery was the key to this plan, but If they can greatly overwhelm them in terms of funds, they should be more confident in asking for more.

“I’m a poor man, I can only give out 350,000 US dollars!”, Patrice shrugged. It seems that he has thought of a few more ways these days.

“I have about 2.1 million dollars here!”, Lu Qiujiang took out a card and threw it to the table. After returning from Las Vegas, he did not just throw money into the bank.

“Okay, let’s talk about the sharing of cooperation!” Jason raised his hand and surrendered. After some controversy, the final share ratio was determined: Lu Qiujiang used 2.1 million funds and the original plan to account for 65% of the capital. The share of Jason is three dollars with 1.2 million US dollars and specific trading technology. Patrice only pays nothing and does not account for half.

“Okay, now let’s talk about our plan!” After the agreement was signed, Jason and Lu Qiujiang began to discuss how to profit from it.

After the news of the fake account is released, the stock of Luther Technology will definitely fall sharply, so how can we make a profit from it? Thanks to all evil capitalism, various financial instruments have been invented to cope with different market changes. This time they chose to make money through margin trading.

Margin trading is actually similar to futures. The specific operation method is to borrow the stock of Luther Technology Company from the securities company and sell it. After the agreed time, buy the stock from the market and return it to the securities company. If the price is returned when the stock is returned When buying low then Lu Qiujiang they will make money, otherwise they will lose money.

In order to maximize their profits, Jason also used financial leverage to enlarge the $ 3.65 million of funds held by the party to hundreds of millions. Of course, their risk will be much greater after using leverage.

However, in the case where it is determined that the stock of Luther Technology will fall, this is a profitable business.

“The paper is written to me! Of course, the specific data and calculation process need your help!” Jason is undertaking the offensive. “I strive to use the relationship to publish it to Fortune Magazine! Use them ‘S influence quickly knocked down Luther’s stock price! “

“OK, no problem!”, And discussed in detail the steps of the plan. After confirming that there were no omissions, everyone was planning to have a drink. Lu Qiujiang’s phone rang.

“Hey, Yangyang! ... Oh, I know OK, I just happened to be in New York ... No, it’s really something ... I’ll go there!” After finishing the call, Lu Qiujian stall He opened his hands and said, “I’m sorry, I’m afraid I can’t accompany you to the bar.”

Came out of the hotel, took a taxi, and went straight to the place where Yangyang said good; Lu Qiujian felt with emotion, hey, this is really a busy Christmas.
