Chapter 80 - Go to rice country

Thanks to the well-known reportage of that year, most of the reporters here have heard the stories conjectured by Chen Jingrun and Goldbach, and they suddenly exploded, "So can we say that the results we have achieved so far are international How many influences are they? "

"Yes, since Poincaré proposed this conjecture in 1904, in the past hundred years, countless mathematicians have devoted themselves to this research. Smel, Friedman, Thurston and other Phil The winners of the awards have made some progress, but unfortunately they have not completed the final proof! ", Said with regret, in fact, Professor Zhang felt very happy in his heart, and then he threw out a reporter to listen After the name, "Several disciples of Professor Qiu Chengtong are also conducting research in this area."

Relative to Smer, Thurston, etc., Qiu Chengtong's name is more familiar to these reporters. They have keenly discovered a problem from Qiu Chengtong's resume, "Professor Zhang, Professor Qiu Chengtong has won the highest award in the mathematical world The Erz Award, does Lu have a chance to win such a breakthrough? "

This problem calmed the noisy meeting place. Everyone, including the principal, looked at Professor Zhang. Professor Zhang had thought about this problem long ago, and he said stubbornly, "If this breakthrough is widely recognized by the mathematics community, , I think there is a great possibility of winning! "In his view, winning is almost certain, but it is better to speak in front of the media.

"So classmate Lu has arrived at the scene today?" Finally, someone thought of the protagonist of the news.

"Ye, Lv is currently in the exchange study period, and is temporarily out of the country!" The principal replied slightly depressed, and then immediately took out "Science" and pointed to the signature in the paper, "But this article is written by us The name of Peking University, this achievement is undoubtedly the honor of Peking University! "

"Which country is he in now? That school? Is there any contact information for him?" The reporter didn't care about these, and he quickly asked a series of questions. Now that he has made such a big achievement, he should apply to Taili / News for an interview abroad. Isn't that a big problem?

After a while of noise, the reporters asked a lot of questions, and then they left with the red envelope that Minister Zhang had prepared. They went back to the newspaper and TV station and they prepared a manuscript and asked the boss to interview the country. Application.

Perhaps it was because the signboard of Beijing Normal University was indeed loud enough. Perhaps it was the strength behind Minister Zhang that the reporters of the court and youth newspapers had fortunately passed the application and embarked on a journey to the United States to interview Lu Qiujian.

And his party arrived at New York Airport after a long flight. They just got off the plane and had time to take a rest. Then they arrived at Princeton. When they arrived, it was already midnight.

Woke up early the next morning, and immediately went to the external liaison department of Princeton University based on the previously found information, and asked them to interview Lu Qiujian.

In the morning and afternoon, the time of class is naturally undisturbed, and training is required at night, so the time left for them is only after the training; the two of them get out of the office in depression, if they only need to report the name of their unit in China That school did n't immediately pull the interviewee over and let him toss himself, but when he got here, he still had to wait for the other party to have time.

"Eh, what kind of person is Lu Qiujian in the end?" Li Xiao asked, drinking Coke depressed.

"What did the best person in school look like when you were studying?" Zhou Wei asked back, "I guess these school bullies are probably the same?"

"Wearing a pair of thick glasses, people look a bit thin, most of them are either reading books or doing questions when they see him!" Li Xiao recalled slowly, "Some are not very social, usually alone. In the past, it seems that I don't like talking to people very much; eh, I said if Lu Qiujian is such a person, wouldn't it be difficult for us to interview?"

"It's not that people are out of gangs, but people in gangs don't have you!", Zhou Wei made a joke, "Isn't there so many teachers and classmates even if he's not good at communicating? Then interview and comment on their evaluation of Lu Qiujian, The audience and readers like foreigners to praise our compatriots the most, and wait for it to be guaranteed to be popular!"

“Well, what you said makes sense!”, Li Xiao patted his own camera, “Then I will be much cheaper than you, so the picture is attractive than the text!”

After eating, they went back to the hotel to make up for a while. After waking up, they went straight to the Vladivostok Indoor Sports Hall and stood outside the sports hall. They looked at each other in wonder, “Are you sure you heard it right? This is the place ? Why do we see a mathematics student come to the gym? “

“Are you a reporter from the Imperial Court? Came to interview Lu Qiujian?”, While the two of them were a little puzzled, a Chinese reporter who was also waiting nearby saw the logo on Li Xiao’s camera and came to say hello.

“Yes, are you?”, Li Xiao was a little wary. Which reporter is this? He came earlier than himself!

“Oh, I am Feng Hongqi of Sports Weekly! Why didn’t they come this time?” Feng Hongqi quickly handed over his business card, and secretly strangely, the reporter in charge of basketball on the court court is familiar with himself. Having seen these two, could it be a newcomer from Taiwan?

“Who is Daxu? In that department?” Li Xiao is even more entangled. What do you do here when a sports newspaper runs? Is math now divided into sports? Mathematical problems in the future Olympic Games?

“Daxu is the one who is in charge of basketball on the sports station! Tall, keep an inch ...” Feng Hongqi said more and more strange, could not help asking, “You are not here to interview Lu Qiujian? “

“I made a special trip to interview him! But what does he have to do with your sports newspaper?” Li Xiao couldn’t help asking.

“He is a well-known NCAA player. If he participates in the NBA draft at the end of this year’s NCAA game, he can at least make it into the top five! You said that such a player is not worth sending someone to interview?” Feng Hongqi finished asking, “You two don’t Know these? “

“NBA? The NBA that Yao Ming played?”, The two looked at each other in surprise. “We participated in a press conference of Beijing Normal University. We knew that Lu had achieved a shocking result in mathematics. Come to interview! “

After speaking, the three reporters opened their mouths at the same time, and they all felt that Lu Qiujian's original image in his heart became fragmented and blurred.
