Chapter 89 - Against a strong enemy

“That’s Cameron-Anthony!”, While entering the arena to prepare for the field adaptation training, Patrice patted Lu Qiu Jian’s shoulder, pointing to a sturdy figure, about two meters in length, leaving one end The braided black player said, “The most popular star player in the Eastern Conference!”

“Come on, our Lv is not bad!” Gardson retorted, “Did you look at the reporters excitedly when we came in?”

It felt as if someone was watching him, Anthony turned his head and faced Patrice’s eyes, Patrice immediately put away the envy of him and raised his chin to stare at him.

Anonymous with provocative eyes like this has seen him more, and was not irritated by Patrice. He smiled and shook his head to follow his teammates past the Tigers; he had recognized Patrice’s jersey, an Ivy League The team that entered the tournament is destined to play soy sauce. Since it is difficult to meet in the later game, why should he care!

Watching Anthony leave, Patrice turned back to hug Lu Qiu Jian, “You said, can we meet Anthony in the game?”

“Sixty-four into thirty-two, thirty-two into sixteen, sixteen into eight, you can meet him after three games; only need to win three opponents, this is not a difficult thing!”, Lu Qiu Jian said lightly that he had studied it before anyway. Before Syracuse University, they would not encounter a very strong team.

After the opening ceremony, the game officially started. As Patrice expected, in the opening game, the host Oklahoma City Football Team easily beat South Carolina State University with a score of 71:54 in the cheering of the audience. For the Bulldogs, Taki-Grey runs inside and out, and there is no one to stop.

“Leave him to me in the next game, I will let him know what is a tough inside!”, Patrice said with a sneer.

“I think you are jealous that he is so popular? But I’m afraid you can’t enjoy this kind of treatment! Who makes this the home of others!” Will smiled while tidying his braces.

“Well, if you can’t let the audience like it, then let them hate it! I can’t wait to get that guy down!”, Patrice beat his strong muscles in the chest hard.

“Although it is also a branch of the University of California, the Berkeley Golden Bears are not as strong as UCLA. Their previous games were all relying on shooting guard Joe Sip in singles, as long as he solved the game and won!” In the locker room, coach Thompson pointed on the tactical board, “Lv, in addition to defending their point guard Amit Tamil, you should also pay attention to defending Will! Patrice, you are always on the inside. Prepare to block him! “

After a simple arrangement, the game officially started, and Patrice won the jump ball without controversy. Lv Qiu Jian tried to reapply Tamer after receiving the ball, “Hey, I just and Freeman the day before yesterday -Dyson met and talked about quantum electrodynamics. Do you want to know what we talked about? “

“Ang? Is that a * horse?”, The data shows that Tamir, who is reading physics, is confused. He does not understand what Lu Qiu Jian means!

Well, I know that this trick is not easy to use except the Ivy League! Lu Qiu Jian’s depressing cross dribble flashed off Tamil, and by the chance of Xipu coming to the defense to pass the ball to Will, Will decisively shot two points first.

The game continued, and Joe Ship broke through Will’s defense without much effort, but before he was happy he found that Lu Qiu Jian had blocked the way; under his interference, Sip missed the shot, Pat Rees took the rebound and quickly passed it to Lu Qiu Jian. Lu Qiu Jian dribble the ball and made a 3-pointer shot.

In this way, Berkeley ’s own offense was suppressed under the defense of Will and Lu Qiu Jian. They could not stop Lu Qiu Jian ’s breakthrough and passing. The score was slowly pulled away. At the end of the first half, the Princeton Tigers 44:29 lead the big score.

In the second half, Lv Qiu Jian played another seven or eight minutes, and scored 20 plus 10 again. Sip hit countless irons, but let Patrice brush the rebound to double digits.

The game had lost its suspense by thirty-two minutes. Berkeley’s coach replaced the main force and announced his hand to surrender. Coach Thompson also replaced Lu Qiu Jian and Patrice for the rest. The Princeton Tigers won the first game in a bloodless manner!

Then the Butler Bulldog, Syracuse Orange Man, Louisville Cardinals and other strong teams also won, and the game entered the second round.

The first battle between the top 32 and the top 16 took place between the Princeton Tigers and the Oklahoma Giants. Although the Czechs won the Tigers in the preseason, the Tigers were Lu Qiujian didn't play; Taki-Grey thought that the game would still win as he did last time, but soon Lu Qiujian smashed his fantasy with a pass.

In this game, Lu Qiujian knew that Patrice held a strong desire to get revenge, so as long as he had the chance to pass the ball to him Patrice also lived up to expectations, using his strong body and Skilled footwork took scores on Taki Gray 's head again and again, keeping in mind the technical flaws of Taki Gray pointed out to him by Lu Qiujian in the last game, and put on one cap after another. The poor children almost cried when they hit.

Although this game is the home of Oklahoma, the fans in the stadium also tried their best to cheer for the Czech team, but in the face of absolute strength, these are useless.

Even if the Czech Republic broke out their pre-season fighting spirit, they still could n't stop the cooperation between Lu Qiujian and Patrice. They finally lost with a score of 74:65 nine points, trying to break into the final again. The dream of the semi-finals was broken, and the Princeton Tiger stepped on his body to enter the sweet sixteen.

After entering the round of 16, the venue was changed to Albany, Princeton also ushered in the challenge of the Butler Bulldogs, they just defeated the Louisville Cardinals 79:71.

Experienced nearly 40 minutes of hard work. At the last moment of the game, Lv Qiujian scored two three-pointers before locking the victory, defeating the Butler Bulldogs with a score of 78:72.

Then Cameron Anthony also led the team to defeat Auburn University in the final moment with a score of 79:78. Coincidentally, the team of Auburn University was also called Tiger.

In this way, the Eastern Conference finals will be held between the Princeton Tigers and the Syracuse Oranges. The winner will enter the final semifinals, and Princeton has ushered in the strongest opponent so far this season.
