Chapter 96 - sensation

Just as the whole school in Princeton celebrated the Tigers winning the NCAA championship, major media also released the news that the Tigers won the championship and Lu Qiujuan refused to participate in the draft.

“Princeton won the NCAA championship, Lu Qiujuan gave up participating in the draft”-this is a satisfactory news headline.

“Chinese genius refused to draft, James breathed a sigh of relief”-this is bad intentions, provocative.

“Princeton creates the greatest miracle in NCAA history, MOP said he prefers science”-this is a bit sensational.

“Lu Qiujuan’s Reasons for Refusing the NBA: Garnett earned too little”-this is not to exercise ...

One by one, the media racked their brains to hold countless shocking topics, and soon spread these two messages to all corners of the world, causing a stir in the fans and basketball circles.

“Damn it! This is a disaster!” A Jewish old man threw the newspaper on the table. It can be said that Lu Qiujuan decided not to join the NBA. It was him.

NBA Commissioner David Stern has already felt the role of Yao Ming in expanding the Asian market after joining the NBA. Now another Chinese player may be selected from the high position to enter the NBA to make him look forward to; Lu Qiujuan is the point guard Compared with Yao Ming’s center position, his commercial value is greater, and he can bring more commercial benefits to the NBA after entering the league!

But he was very much looking forward to it, and even thought about doing something in the draft lottery, so as to ensure that Lu Qiujuan can reach a team that can maximize his commercial value, such as New York, etc. Unfortunately, all this preparation Working after that press conference became a joke!

Those teams that have been in the playoffs and the coaches and managers who have been following Lu Qiujuan for a long time also feel extremely sorry:

“It seems that I have to give up the plan to trade the draft pick!” This is the idea of the Spurs coach Popovich. It is a pity that there is no way to see his combination with Duncan! If possible, this will be a duo that does not lose to the Magician and Jabal!

“An additional option is missing, it seems that there is no need to struggle. If you can get the top pick, choose LeBron James!” This is the reaction of the Cavaliers.

“It’s no big deal if he doesn’t participate in the draft! I think he’s still not as good as Miricic!” This is a wonderful idea of the Pistons management.

As for those opponents who have dealt with him, their mood is even more depressed! Anthony and Wade keep roaring in their hearts, mother, you are not even giving us a chance to get revenge!

The news came back to the country, and it surprised the fans who had tried all kinds of ways to finish the NCAA finals. Now China has three major insiders, but the outside has been short of people; now it is hard to come out a top organizational guard, who is in YY When the NBA was killing the Quartet, it ushered in a great shot-they didn’t even plan to participate in the NBA.

Hurry up and open the webpage. After reading the text, the chin fell to the ground instantly. What’s the reason? I want to continue to study and do research so I do not participate in the NBA!

Hey, how can you become a ball tyrant when you learn to make money! A group of fans suddenly felt unworthy for Lu Qiujian. Brother, we want to see you abuse people on the basketball court! As for the essays you tinkered with some time ago, we can’t understand them!

The fan forum even exploded, and it was recommended to collect signatures to persuade Lv Qiujian to withdraw the decision, and help to calculate and analyze how much income Lv Qiujian would lose if he did not participate in the NBA, as well as a comparative analysis of Lv Qiujian playing basketball and being a scientist The one that contributes more to the country ... In short, one sentence, don’t understand! I do not understand why he made this decision!

This time, the basketball management center rarely kept in line with the fans. This is the Athens Olympics. I was thinking that Yao Ming with the men ’s basketball team may be able to make it to the quarterfinals. Now a sudden top guard has emerged. If he joins the national team, he may achieve better results than the quarter-finals. This is all political achievements!

And although I have n't heard of his experience in sports school, he must have learned to play basketball in China. This is how I can find a way to ask him if he needs training fees. According to the current situation, Lu Qiujian will definitely be high. After being selected, even if only 30% of the income is a lot of money, this is something better than political achievements!

But now he is not going to play in the NBA, this training fee immediately fell through, and joining the national team has become unknown. These officials are also as crowded as the fans, and the loss is huge!

"What's the matter? Are you dumb? What should I do?", Who asked the head of the basketball center who was scolded by the fans countless times, knocked on the table, these people are usually smarter than one, how to use them when they get there They did not speak at all.

"Well, you can see if we can persuade him like this!", A small roe deer said, "It's not his job to play in the NBA! Joining the NBA and joining the national team is all about winning glory for the country. How can I not go? And how can such a big thing be decided without consultation with the organization, it is simply unorganized and undisciplined Isn't he an exchange student? Check that he is from that school, Well reflect with her school that as long as he is still within the organization and management, he will definitely find a way! "

It did n't take long for these people to pay attention to Lu Qiujian, and he had n't had time to inquire about his background. This little official could know that Lu Qiujian was an exchange student. It was a great deal. Everyone nodded, "Yes, this is the way Go check which university he is studying in China, and there must be a basketball hall in this university. He must have used it when he was in school. Is this the reason for the training fee? Do n't believe them, do n't be tempted! "

"Well! A good way, Xiao Li is a good idea!", The head of the staff nodded his head and waved his hand, "Go check it now, as long as he is still within the scope of organization and management, he is not afraid to solve it!"

He thought about it secretly, but he is a cadre at the department level, and there are not many principals in universities across the country who are higher than himself, and he can contact the central government at any time in the emperor. Presumably, after contacting the school, they will probably not need much effort to convince them ? Finally, give a little more money, then the school does not help themselves to do things.

Sometimes the efficiency of this kind of bureaucratic unit is good. The crowd did n't wait long in the conference room, and Lu Qiujian 's information was passed on, and the head took it with a smile. ‘S parents are ordinary employees. “This is another obstacle removed.” High school is in ... university in ... um? “
