Chapter 186 To Especially Manage Her Back Garden

Zhao Fei worriedly banged her fist against the wooden surface of the door and shouted several times. Last night, she left Ran Xueyi alone with that man while thinking she could trust Ran Xueyi's character and mental state as an actress.

After all, Ran Xueyi should be able to resist a man's charm since she already met several handsome men in the actor's circle, right?

However, when Zhao Fei returned to her room and went to bed that night, she completely forgot one important thing.

She could trust Ran Xueyi's judgment and character, but could she say the same thing for that man?

Thus, the second that Zhao Fei opened her eyes the next morning and woke up, she immediately dragged a haggard-looking and sleepyhead Feng Huai from his room and had him take a copy of the keycard of Ran Xueyi's hotel room while she made her way to the actress's room.

Feng Huai rubbed his eyes and found Zhao Fei still banging her fist on the door. He slowly approached her and yawned, "Sister Zhao, why are you so loud in the morning? Aren't you afraid that someone would report you to the police for making such loud noises?"

Zhao Fei glared at this pure and innocent young man and harshly scolded him, "I don't care! I only care about what will happen if I don't take this door down and get Ran Xueyi out of there!"

Feng Huai was confused. "Why? Is Sister Ran in any danger? Did that Witch Gu bully her again?"

Zhao Fei didn't even get to reply to his question when she saw Feng Huai looking alert, and all the gentle and child-like expressions on his face disappeared. He pulled back his sleeves and was moving forward as if he was about to take the door down.

Just as he was about to rush forward and body-slam the door, the door was opened from the inside and Ran Xueyi peeked her head out from the small gap of the door.

"Sister Ran! Good morning!"

Ran Xueyi saw Feng Huai's adorable smile and almost reached her hand out to rub his head. She covered her impulse to rub him with a cough and looked at the two standing outside her door.

"Sister Zhao, Xiao Feng, what are you two doing out of here?"

Zhao Fei looked unimpressed and raised a seething eyebrow, returning the question back to her, "Why do you think?"

Ran Xueyi replied with a confused face, "Ah?"

Zhao Fei felt her heart tightening as she moved her face closer and whispered to her closely, "You really don't know what I'm talking about?" Seeing Ran Xueyi's baffled expression, she could already guess that it was indeed the case. It did not make Zhao Fei relax one bit. Instead, it infuriated her even more and she fumingly said, "Ran Xueyi, might I remind you that you're still not back to your previous peak. Don't make trouble before you can take the title as the Film Empress!"

Ran Xueyi also no longer tried to act like she didn't know what Zhao Fei was deeply concerned about.

She sighed and told her, "Sister Zhao, I know what you mean. But I can't do anything about this matter. Anyway, can I ask you to take Xiao Feng away from here? I can't sneak my guy out if you two are standing here?"

Zhao Fei agreed to this. The only people who knows about Ran Xueyi's marriage should be her, Feng Huai was still not ready to take this information in and he was also just starting his career as an assistant. Even though Feng Huai was an honest and sincere child, no one could really fully trust anyone in their circle. One rumor could start a nationwide scandal and destroy somebody's life in just a matter of a second.

Besides, it was Ran Xueyi, her artist's request, to not tell anybody else about her secret. And so, Zhao Fei didn't reveal it to anyone.

"Let's go, Xiao Feng," said Zhao Fei as she grabbed Feng Huai from there.

Feng Huai scratched his head and looked aggrieved. He woke up early due to Sister Zhao's insistent shouting and screaming that someone would steal Sister Ran from them. But now, she was pulling her away as if nothing happened.

After the two of them entered the elevator, Feng Huai rubbed his left ear that turned extremely red after Zhao Fei pulled him by the ear as they left that floor. "Sister Zhao, what happened to you? Did you suddenly get possessed by an Alarm Clock Spirit? Why did you go to our rooms and wake us two?"

Hearing him, Zhao Fei sent him a glare.

However, instead of being a scaredy cat, Feng Huai seemed to be still half-asleep and dared to meet Zhao Fei's intense glare with his innocent puppy eyes.

Zhao Fei accepted her defeat. She couldn't win against Feng Huai and sighed. In any case, she couldn't tell him the truth and say that the reason why she went over to wake the two of them up was because she's afraid that Ran Xueyi would be too exhausted to even stand up after a long nightly activity with her husband.

"That's right, that's right. I was momentarily possessed by a ghost. Now, shut up!"

Feng Huai nodded and accepted this reasoning without any problem.

Back inside the room.

Ran Xueyi closed the door after shooing away two noisy people. She leaned her back against the door and released a deep sigh of relief before raising her head to look ahead.

With his arms crossed over his muscled chest and leaning one side of his body to the wall, Song Yu Han was staring at her with an amused expression.

"Did they leave already?"

Ran Xueyi nodded while walking over to the water dispenser and poured herself a clean, warm water. She drank the entire water in her glass before telling him, "The one banging the door earlier is my new manager and agent. Her name is Zhao Fei. As for the puppy-like young man following her, that was Feng Huai, he's also my new assistant."

Ran Xueyi did not get to discuss her current and future plans with Song Yu Han. He shouldn't have known about Zhao Fei and Feng huai until he came to the city. Though she doubted that he hadn't heard of them from his people.

As expected, Song Yu Han answered, "I know..."

His answer confirmed Ran Xueyi's guess from earlier. Wu Qi must have told Song Yu Han about the matter with Gu Jiao and the changing of scripts, forcing him to come out and personally handle things on his own.

Ran Xueyi believed that despite what it appeared to other people, Song Yu Han didn't really come to meet with Chief Producer Li to demand answers about the modification and deletion of scenes in the film. Rather, he made a trip to Silver City especially to help her manage her back garden and also slap people who bullied her. Not that Ran Xueyi couldn't do it herself.

Song Yu Han must have been thinking it was his duty and responsibility as her husband to protect her from any kind of harm.

To other people, this might have been too forceful and overbearing, however, Ran Xueyi thought that this was not the case at all!

Rather, she enjoyed his attention and help.

No one has ever done this to her in the past, and he was the first person to do this without her asking for help from him.

Besides, weren't they husband and wife? Why should she act shy and refuse his help?

While thinking of this, Ran Xueyi suddenly remembered something and asked him, "You drove three important people out of the film crew... Does this mean, I'm currently unemployed?"

Song Yu Han didn't expect that she would put this in that way and chuckled. He walked over to her and grabbed her tiny waist as he said, "No... before coming here, I already told my assistant to look for a new director and scriptwriter to overlook the filming. As for the producer position... Chief Producer Li already proposed to manage the whole crew and actors in the film."

"And what about the second female lead and supporting character?"

"Well, if you can help producer Li to look for a suitable actor, maybe you could suggest someone?"

Ran Xueyi thought about it for a few seconds before shaking her head. She hasn't been up-to-date to the activities and talents of several actors and actresses in the entertainment industry so she wouldn't blindly recommend somebody to act a role in the film. If she did that, and that person ended up not being suited to the character he or she was going to play in the film, wouldn't that destroy the link between the actors and scenes?

Song Yu Han didn't force her either to recommend anyone and they left the topic about looking for new artists to end.

And just as Ran Xueyi thought that that morning would be uneventful, she noticed that the buttons of the white shirt she was wearing was slowly becoming undone by his swift fingers.

Looking up, she gave him an inquisitive glance and got an instant reply from him... Or more precisely, the hard thing that kept on rubbing against her lower abdomen.

Ran Xueyi: "..."

Chapter 187 The Filming Starts! (1)

A while later, Ran Xueyi propped her chin against her hand and watched Song Yu Han, who already took a bath and changed his clothes. Her eyes squinted in a glare as she looked at him for a long while.

Song Yu Han pretended that he didn't notice her intense stare and when he was done getting ready to go back to work, he approached the sofa where she was lying, and leaned down to give her a kiss on her forehead.

Ran Xueyi let him do as he pleased before grumbling, "If I ever need to go to the hospital because of my sore waist... I'll have you compensate me for it aside from the hospital bills."

Song Yu Han's lips curved and patted her on the waist. "I'll remember..."

He didn't deny that it was indeed his fault that she was unable to get up from the bed this morning. Well, half of the blame should be put on Ran Xueyi because she was too tempting for him to ignore.

Nevertheless, in order to make her feel good, Song Yu Han sat down beside and started to massage and rub her waist for her.

It wasn't until several minutes later that his phone started to ring and he had to stop his action to look at his phone screen. The screen revealed the caller ID and it turned out to be Special Assistant Guo's number.

Not thinking too much about it, he directly answered the call.

Special Assistant Guo notified him that everything was handled very efficiently and quickly. Producer Luo was sent away and wouldn't be able to produce any movies or television drama for the next six months. Scriptwriter Chun was also fired from his position and can never join the scriptwriter circle anymore in this lifetime. On the other hand, Director Zheng's wife, Su Nian, was helped by a lawyer friend who was coincidentally connected to the legal department of YH Group to process her divorce smoothly.

Of course, Director Zheng will not get anything out of this divorce and on the contrary, he will live the proceeding without a penny in his pocket. His position as a film director will be stripped off of him and not only was he unable to direct any film forever, he would also have to compensate for the damages of delaying the shooting of the drama, wasting everyone's time. Not only that, his name that was all over the films of his other previous works will be censored and they will no longer have the chance to see the light of day.

As for Gu Jiao and Cheng Han, they will naturally won't be able to take in any resources for the next six years. They will also have to pay the cost of damages and settlement for breaching their contracts from the other works they already signed to do within that aforementioned six months. That includes their signed promotion, appearance in various talent and variety shows, endorsement and commercials, and films.

According to this, if they calculated the amount they should pay for all of these, it should be around 50 million yuan to 100 million yuan since some contracts will mention that if one party does something that causes the other party any damage or breaching their contracts, they will have to pay twice or a certain percentage of the money they received for this type of job.

Everyone seemed to have not expected this outcome at all, and when they finally heard this from the legal team of both their company and several other companies, Gu Jiao and Cheng Han seemed to witness the doors of hell opening for them.

Even if they worked for a lifetime, they wouldn't be able to pay this at once.

Their only chance to avoid this from happening was to hold on to their wealthy backer's thigh and beg them for help.

After listening to Special Assistant Guo's recollection of these things, Song Yu Han hung up on their call and also informed Ran Xueyi of this.

Ran Xueyi lifted the corners of her lips and she said, "My hubby is really awesome. He can even do all these in just a day."

Usually, for all of this to be done, it should at least take a week or two for everything to be processed and be done with. However, it only took Song Yu Han almost half a day for him to finish dealing with these matters.

"This only happened because the people behind this are very idle and they have debts to repay." Song Yu Han replied before asking, "Are you not planning to release the matter regarding Gu Jiao's wealthy backer?"

Ran Xueyi was thoughtful for a moment before shaking her head. "I won't release it for now... My guess is that Gu Jiao is not someone who will let matters end like this. She will probably come and look for me for revenge."

Gu Jiao was a stubborn woman who was very impatient and greedy. This was evidenced by how she wasn't satisfied with her idol journey but also took the acting industry as her playground. Moreover, she wasn't satisfied with only one backer, she used every means and methods to achieve her goals no matter if it was detrimental to herself or others.

"In any case, leaving this hidden knife for a bit longer won't hurt me. Instead, it would help me beat her again if she ever wants to get in my way."

A hint of toughness appeared in her eyes as she said this to him.

Song Yu Han did not doubt her confidence nor her words and replied lightly, "Alright, I'll let you be. However, if there's anything you can't handle, you can tell me anytime."

The entertainment world was never peaceful. Though it wasn't as dangerous and deadly as the world he was in, it still carried some type of danger that could ruin a person's life forever. Song Yu Han would never allow anything to happen to Ran Xueyi.

After Song Yu Han left, Ran Xueyi stayed inside her room for a bit longer until Zhao Fei arrived to check on her.

Seeing her staring blankly while sitting on the sofa, Zhao Fei sighed in relief and walked up to her.

"What's wrong? After rolling in the bed with that man, your head turned mushy and stupid?" Zhao Fei was irritated that she wasn't fast enough to steal Ran Xueyi from Song Yu Han and could only grumble.

Ran Xueyi finally moved her eyes and looked at her way.

"Sister Zhao, do you think I was too ruthless in my ways to deal with other people?" Ran Xueyi suddenly asked this.

Zhao Fei received this unexpected question from her and asked back, "Why are you asking? Shouldn't you already know the answer to that? Ran Xueyi, are you suddenly doubting your actions after what happened?"

"Do you regret it?"

Chapter 188 The Filming Starts! (2)

Ran Xueyi turned her head to look out of the window where the city's landscape lay spread to the ground. They seemed like tiny infrastructures designed by an architecture student. She looked at this beautiful and peaceful scene before her eyes before turning her head to look at Zhao Fei.

"I don't regret anything." Ran Xueyi was not stupid. "If I were to return to that time and knew this would happen, I would still do it even without anyone's help. I'm not a saint who would let anyone hurt me and never retaliate. It's just that it was such a shame that human emotions could be so fickle and easily manipulated."

Gu Jiao selfish actions and greed destroyed a lot of people's lives. She ruined Producer Luo and destroyed a perfect picture family and marriage of Director Zheng and his wife. Who knows how many other people were affected by her actions.

Feeling that Ran Xueyi's mood was not doing good, Zhao Fei was worried that what happened must have affected her more than she expected. However, just as she was about to say some comforting words, Ran Xueyi suddenly laughed and her eyes were narrowed.

Zhao Fei didn't understand the meaning behind her laugh when Ran Xueyi suddenly changed the topic. She asked, "Sister Zhao, has Chief Producer Li decided on when will the shooting start?"

The shooting has been delayed way too much due to Gu Jiao's interruption. They should really quicken the pace so everyone's time wouldn't be wasted.

Zhao Fei also didn't bother continuing the topic and explained, "Chief Producer Li asked the crew to regroup early this morning. He also called the managers of each actor and actresses included in the cast to inform us that the shooting will officially start tomorrow. There will be no more delay and Wen Lai, who has excused himself because of a prior commitment with another crew, will probably arrive the next day."

Speaking of, Wen Lai, was another main lead of the drama. He was to play the character as the love interest of the character which Ran Xueyi will play. Outside of the script, he was an impressive actor himself and grabbed several awards from different events in the past and almost snatched the Best Actor Awards from Sean Chu. He was also under the same label as Gu Jiao.

Previously, he asked the crew to allow him to take a few weeks of leave due to a conflict with his schedule. The production crew allowed him last time because they couldn't do anything about it.

However, after what happened to Gu Jiao, in order to erase the bad image to their company and also restore the ruined relationship between the production crew and Brilliant Media, they decided to pull out Wen Lai from the variety show and only allowed him to show up in a few episodes of it.

Thankfully, the variety show crew also didn't think much of this and released him from his responsibility as a cast member and let him go.

Half a month later, at the filming set.

Director Qing raised the megaphone and shouted, "Xueyi, Wen Lai, and Zhilan, the three of you did well in that scene! We will now move to the next scene so prepare yourselves to modify the mood of your characters!"

Ran Xueyi sighed in relief after hearing this. They had been playing the same scene for almost two hours. Even though she was confident with herself, she wasn't that sure if she could capture the same pure acting over and over again.

Zhilan, who made a lot of mistakes that morning, knew this and bowed to everyone and apologized. "I'm so sorry, everyone! Thank you for your hardwork and for being patient with me!"

Wen Lai patted Zhilan's shoulder and said, "Little sister Zhilan, you should be more careful next time. I really thought that my knees would turn into jelly just now."

Wen Lai's scene this time required him to kneel on the hard floor. Because of Zhilan's repeated mistake, he had to kneel down for two hours. His back was already soaked with his sweat and he couldn't wait to take off his clothes.

Zhilan was ashamed of herself when she heard this. Despite knowing that Senior Wen was joking with her, it still didn't erase the fact that she was not as talented as him or Senior Ran Xueyi in terms of acting skills.

Ran Xueyi also went forward to give some comforting words to this newcomer and said, "Don't worry about it too much. You're just starting so you're excused..." She then turned to Wen Lai and complained in a teasing manner, "But Brother Wen, you also made mistakes earlier so don't be too hard on our little sister!"

Zhilan chorused after her and shouted, "That's right!"

Earlier, Wen Lai couldn't help but laugh whenever Zhilan made a mistake. It wasn't only her who had to be called out by Director Qing.

Wen Lai saw that these two people betrayed him and focused on him. He was deeply hurt since they cultivated a sisterly and brotherly bond during this half month period they spent with each other.

Being pointed at, Wen Lai couldn't suffer in silence and unfairness. He also pointed at Ran Xueyi and said, "You also acted out of character earlier too! Don't slander me, Sister Ran!"

Ran Xueyi and Zhilan didn't expect him to act like this. The two looked at each other in unison before breaking out in laughter. Wen Lai also laughed at their childishness.

The crew only took a quick glance at them before looking away. In the past half month that they worked with everyone, these three stars would always pick on and tease each other. They were already acting as if they were siblings and the crew was also used to them acting like this.

Half a month ago, a lot of people from the production crew were fired and replaced. The tension in the set should have been very stiff and restrained. The stars who have never met each other should also be like this.

However, after acting together in just a few scenes, the stars got along very quickly. And the atmosphere of the set became bright and friendly.

As for Ran Xueyi and Wen Lai, their relationship was surprisingly better. They looked as if they were brother and sister instead of enemies since the actor belonged to the same company as Gu Jiao.

Chapter 189 Harmonious Filming On Set

Everyone in the production crew initially thought that when Wen Lai met Ran Xueyi, he would show some arrogance in his bones and try to do some tricks on her to avenge his Junior Sister, Gu Jiao, who was signed under the same company as him.

However, Wen Lai's attitude towards her, or more precisely, his actions and words wasn't in everyone's expectation. Rather, he was extremely friendly with everyone and treated everyone well. Even Ran Xueyi, who at first thought that he would be at least friendly with her on the surface but holding an evil mind in his heart, didn't think that she would become closely acquainted with Wen Lai.

No matter if it was his acting or he was genuine in his actions, Ran Xueyi didn't care. For as long as the filming was done properly and finished on time, she doesn't have any opinion behind his character.

Director Qing, the director who replaced Director Zheng, tapped the script against his palms and explained, "Xie Qing, as the main protagonist, you have a mysterious character that not many could understand. Most of the people around you are scared of you. However, you also have this playfulness unique to you. As the actor playing his role, Wen Lai, I want you to show me that kind of contradicting personality."

Wen Lai listened very seriously to what Director Qing was telling him. "Don't worry, Director Qing. I will perfect my character as soon as possible!"

As an actor, perfecting the assimilation of yourself to a character wasn't easy. Rather, it was too difficult that it was very rare for an artist to be empathetic towards their character and lose themselves in the character.

Wen Lai wanted this talent of being able to have a certain amount of affinity with his characters. However, even in these years of being an actor, he still couldn't do it. He could only do his best to follow the script and also show appropriate expressions and emotions in front of the camera.

Director Qing was pleased with his response and turned his head to look at Zhilan. "And you..."

Zhilan froze and awkwardly lifted the corners of her lips. She didn't wait for him to criticize her and said, "I will also do my best!"

However, Director Qing was not satisfied with her words. Instead, he was even more angry.

"Zhilan, you don't have to do your best! Do what you need to do to match everyone's pace! Don't always get caught up in your own world and try to think why your character is like that? Why must you act alongside the group? And how can you avoid getting NG every single time!"

Zhilan lowered her head and was extremely embarrassed, but she had nothing to say to defend herself. It was true that it was her fault that the taping took a bit longer to finish for one scene. This only meant that she wasn't that talented and skilled in acting, and she still has a lot to practice.

Though Director Qing's words were a bit too harsh, Zhilan didn't get angry at him for what he had said about her. She was actually glad that he was willing to guide and scold her so she could grow.

Ran Xueyi glanced at the two and looked at Director Qing with a pair of expectant eyes. Her pupils were shining so bright even without lighting from the crew.

Seeing those eyes, the three, namely, Director Qing, Wen Lai, and Zhilan, didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

What kind of star wanted to be scolded and corrected? Didn't they want to be praised and acknowledged for their skill in acting?

But Ran Xueyi was different.

In the past half month that they got acquainted with her, they witnessed her tenacity to deeply know her role. As the female main protagonist, she had more scenes to act and the emotions her character would have to showcase in front of everyone and in front of the lenses of the camera was even more complicated.

However, from time to time, she would always mesmerize them with her acting. It was too perfect. It has a lot of impact, not only to the artists playing opposite her, even the production crew could feel it inside their bodies.

But despite the fact that she was doing very well and there was almost no NG when she's acting in her scenes, Ran Xueyi still expected herself to be scolded and guided by them.

Under her intense and expectant gaze, Director Qing stopped tapping his script and instead reached his hand out with the script in it and softly smacked her head.

"If you stop being so good in your acting, I will be more glad to scold you!" Director Qing didn't directly guide her about her acting but instead complained.

Wen Lai and Zhilan looked at each other with their eyes filled with amusement before laughing together.

"Sister Ran, stop making trouble for Director Qing. He won't scold you even if you beg him." Wen Lai narrowed his eyes at her, but the corners of his lips were upturned.

Zhilan joined in the fun and said, "That's right. Do you know that while you're acting in front of everyone, Director Qing was incessantly wishing that you would make a mistake so he could make an excuse to scold you? I even heard him complain under his breath when you successfully complete your scene without any problem!"

After saying this, she received a smack on her forehead from Director Qing.

Even though he did that, Director Qing did not refute her words at all. It was true that he was hoping she would make a mistake at least once so that he could showcase his directorial skills in front of everyone. But who told Ran Xueyi to be so good that no matter what scene she played, she would be able to do it in one take?

Besides, who could have expected that Ran Xueyi was so good even after six years of being inactive in the acting circle?

Previously, when everyone heard that Ran Xueyi got the main character role at the audition, many of them did not have much expectations from her. After all, she was not able to act in any role and in front of the camera for six long years.

If it were someone else, they would have to work through their acting skills once again like a trainee actor or actress and learn acting from the beginning.

But Ran Xueyi's skill in acting was so monstrous that it was almost scary.

Six years was not even enough to cloud her vision in the acting world. She was still able to perfectly act any character.

Chapter 190 Red Light TV's Thriller Movie (1)

Although everyone was praising and was in disbelief when they saw her acting, Ran Xueyi knew it inside herself that she was still far from her peak in the past. It may look like she was perfectly able to act her character in a correct manner and satisfying way in the eyes of the directors, but Ran Xueyi was not satisfied with it.

The amount of empathetic feeling she was able to match with her character was about 60 percent. It might have been acceptable since the number of actors who can do this much in the country was very few. However, compared to the world standard in acting, this was far from enough.

That's right. Ran Xueyi wasn't planning to just aim for the country's standard of acting. She wanted the world to recognize her as an actress who could completely absorb any character no matter if it was just a passerby or a major character in a film.

The road to achieve this was treacherous and difficult, but Ran Xueyi was confident with herself that she would be able to achieve it if only she could act more characters in the future without limiting her vision.

Director Qing no longer kept the three actors to his side and let them go to their respective lounges to take a thirty-minute break before the next scene.

Back inside the lounge, which was a mini truck with a mini living room, mini sofa set, bed, small kitchen and changing room, Ran Xueyi saw Feng Huai inside the truck, looking at his tablet PC which he was holding in his hand.

Seeing her appear after finishing a scene, Feng Huai dropped the tablet in his hand and quickly handed a cup of milk tea to Ran Xueyi and helped her take off the outer layer of her costume.

"Where's Sister Zhao?" Ran Xueyi sat down and took a sip from the straw, feeling refreshed at the sweet and bitter taste of milk and tea.

Feng Huai hung the outer layer of her costume then said, "Sister Zhao went to Red Light TV. There was a new movie that was being discussed right now. She's planning to get you a spot in that movie."

Red Light TV was a giant Satellite TV in the country. The number of movies and dramas they produced was many and all of them achieved success in both gaining several box offices and fans.

Ran Xueyi also acted in some of their movies and was relatively acquainted with their style. Red Light TV is more interested in investing and producing films with serious themes, unlike < A Thousand Lotus > which was a revenge and light romance theme.

However, that was six years ago. Ran Xueyi hadn't been able to watch any films produced by Red Light TV so she was unclear if the TV station stayed true to their style or went along with the new trends of mainstream media themes.

"What movie is she aiming for?" Ran Xueyi asked Feng Huai.

Feng Huai drew his eyebrows and said what Zhao Fei told him earlier this morning. "A thriller movie. There aren't any leaks about the storyline, title, or script so Sister Zhao was unsure about it. She went there to find out."

p He continued to say, "But from what I heard from a friend who works at Red Light TV, it should be based on real-life events that happened years ago."

Ran Xueyi raised her eyes to glance at him, surprise flashed in her eyes.

The month of October and November was getting closer. If her guess was right, Red Light TV was aiming for the Halloween Series Film Season, a much awaited and yearly grand film festival that every entertainment and TV station company was looking forward to participating in. Horror, Suspense, and Thriller themes were usually what were shown during these two months though there were a few romance-horror themes that were included in the line-up.

Feng Huai saw her deep in thought and was thinking that she might be worried that Zhao Fei wouldn't be able to get her a role in the film and said, "Sister Ran, don't worry about this. I'm sure Sister Zhao will get you the main role!!"

Ran Xueyi wasn't worried about this, but still, she offered him a smile.

Red Light TV doesn't hand out roles easily to any actors or actresses. Unlike other TV stations, they were one of the few stations that pick the actors whom they think suited the roles. They don't need to do an audition screening nor let any investors make a call in the casting selection.

Ran Xueyi didn't have much hope to get the main characters of that movie. She knew herself that as someone who was inactive and doesn't have much new work experience to refer her current skill in acting, Red Light TV might not want to choose her. However, she still wanted to at least participate in that movie even if it was just a character that had a few scenes.

Inside her head, the gains outweigh the losses, and Red Light TV will surely challenge her skills in acting.

Ran Xueyi never aimed for fame or popularity, unlike many other stars, what she wanted was to enrich her world using acting.

As she was thinking of this, Feng Huai's phone rang. Feng Huai reached for it and answered the call when he saw the caller ID.

"Sister Zhao, how is it? Did you get the main role for Sister Ran?" Feng Huai didn't waste any words and went straight to the point.

There was a long pause between Feng Huai and Zhao Fei. In the end, Feng Huai's expression was dark as he looked a bit sad.

Ran Xueyi could already tell what happened. Zhao Fei was unable to get the role she wanted for Ran Xueyi. Well, it was already expected so Ran Xueyi wasn't that disheartened when she thought about it.

After he hung up on the call, Feng Huai weakly sat beside her and sighed deeply, looking a bit like a deflated balloon.

Ran Xueyi found him adorable and wanted to poke his cheeks.

"What did Sister Zhao say?" she asked.

Feng Huai heard her question and remained calm. "Sister Zhao didn't get the role... She's planning to return this evening. But she said that she'll look for another film for you to act in after." Then he started to grumble and complain, "Why are they being so picky? You worked with them in the past so they should already know that you're very capable!"

Ran Xueyi chuckled and replied, "In this circle, nobody cares about your past works. Red Light TV is also like that. What they want is someone or something that could max out the profits they will gain and at this moment, I don't think I will be able to add much if I were to play the main role."

Feng Huai didn't have anything to refute her words since Ran Xueyi already said this much.

And just when Ran Xueyi was going to tell him to let this matter rest and forget about it, he heard her continue speaking.

"However, I also think it is such a shame to waste this chance to play in that movie..." Ran Xueyi's lips raised up into a smile as she said, "Call Sister Zhao and ask if there are still other characters that are available for me to take. I'll take any role."
