

Daddy CEO 201

Chapter 201 Are You Going To Help Her?

Inside a resplendent and private club in Sea City, Imperial Capital.

At this moment, Gu Jiao was ecstatic at the reactions of many passersby and fans commenting below the post.

"Come on, keep commenting and spreading the news," she mumbled excitedly before she took a large gulp from the bottle of beer in her hand.

"Gu Jiao, what are you still sitting there for? Come, join us here!" A friend called her impatiently to come to the dance floor with their other friends.

Gu Jiao swatted the hand of that friend and glared at her. "Go by yourself, Cindy. Can't you see I'm enjoying myself here?! What an annoying woman!"

Cindy Kang leaned forward to take a look at what Gu Jiao had been staring at the entire night.

Seeing the interface of a social media platform shown in the screen of her phone, Cindy Kang frowned and raised her gaze to ask, "Are you being serious? You called us out here to drink and have fun, but you actually want to read gossip on Weibo?"

Gu Jiao was not at all annoyed by Cindy, and she said with a smile, "That's because you don't know what I'm looking at, idiot!"

"Oh? Pray tell me then."

Cindy took a seat beside her and leaned on Gu Jiao's arm to take a closer look at the phone.

Gu Jiao was already used to Cindy's attitude and proudly showed her work to her best friend. "I was really annoyed because I couldn't do anything for the next six months. I should be staying at home and waiting for time to pass, but I heard something really funny. Nowadays, anyone could just take a role I threw away and coincidentally, the person who took the role I previously took is someone you probably knew too well."

Cindy became interested and asked, "Someone I know? But I don't know anyone in the entertainment circle aside from you though?"

Gu Jiao laughed at her answer and clicked a few times on her phone screen before showing it to Cindy, "Look at this... Now, tell me if you don't know her."

Cindy Kang looked at the photo Gu Jiao showed to her for a second, squinted her eyes, then finally, she gasped in excitement. "What the heck! Isn't this Zhilan? Isn't she the nerdy girl in our class who tried to steal your boyfriend in high school?"

"At that time, you and Chen Kai were still dating when that nerdy suddenly appeared in front of your boyfriend while blushing. I heard she even gave him a love letter and met him behind the school building to confess her feelings for him. Everyone knew this because the next day, the rumor that she was dumped was spread around very quickly. That was also why we started bullying her, right?"

Gu Jiao's eyes shook when she heard her words, but the smile on her lips were still as straight and effortless.

In fact, she and Chen Kai broke up a month before because he caught her kissing someone else. Chen Kai was the school's handsome classmate and sports idol, he was always away for training and competition. Because she couldn't take the loneliness and hole that her boyfriend couldn't patch up, Gu Jiao found the second most handsome man in school and hooked up with him.

Unfortunately, Chen Kai witnessed it on the day he unexpectedly returned to their class. No one else was inside the class since it was already after class, but he still caught her there with another man.

Gu Jiao begged him to stay, but Chen Kai refused. Without any other choice since the latter didn't want her anymore, Gu Jiao asked him for one last favor and that is to hide the fact they already broke up before they tell their friends. Chen Kai agreed since he wouldn't be always in the school ground anyway since he would be training and competing anyway, but who knew that he would fall to the quiet and smart student in their class.

Chen Kai continued hiding the fact that he and Gu Jiao were no longer together with other people, but told Zhilan about him when he was pursuing her. Gu Jiao also said this to Zhilan.

But the month after their break up, things got out of hand.

Gu Jiao's jealousy became a bit too much seeing that Chen Kai and Zhilan were getting a bit too close to getting their happily ever after.

Hence, she made up the rumor about the love letter and about Zhilan stealing her ex-boyfriend from her.

Till this day, she never told a soul about this truth and Chen Kai was now living abroad.

Only Zhilan had to suffer for several years and carried the name of a 'Homewrecker' ever since.

Gu Jiao snorted angrily, "Let's not talk about that... Just thinking about it is already making me angry.

After saying this, the two continued to watch the live comments starting to increase in numbers and more and more people cursed at Zhilan. Moreover, Cindy Kang used her own account to also post something about Zhilan:

[Cindy not Cinderella: Hey, isn't this someone I know? Everyone, calm down... This person is a classmate of mine from high school. She's very known for being such a gloomy and nerdy student that the teachers even hated her! Not only that, she even stole my best friend's boyfriend and now, this? Woah, her face must be so thick that she can still lie through her teeth! If everyone wants to know more about her, just send me a private message and I will tell you her name!]

Soon, Cindy's post became hot and she gained a lot of followers while the numbers of people sending her private messages and asking her the identity of the girl keep pouring in.

Cindy was very satisfied with this response, but she forgot that she only has two hands and she couldn't reply to everyone. To help a friend out, Gu Jiao asked Cindy if she wanted to go inside a private room where there's a computer and also order for two club men to service them later.

Cindy was definitely happy to join her and the two finally left their private clubroom.

As soon as they got a private room and told the club manager to send two club men to service them, the two were about to busy themselves with ruining Zhilan's reputation even more for fun.

And just as the computer was turned on inside the room, the door of the private room was knocked.

The soft and clear sound of someone knocking from outside their door came after another, like a drum being hit on, making people's heart accelerate without reason.

Gu Jiao thought that the men that the club sent to them to service them for the night were here and didn't have her guard on as much as she opened the door.

"That was fas—"

The next second, before her word could even finish making a landing, a hand zoomed into her face.

And an extraordinarily cold voice entered her ears.

"You must be thinking you're free to do whatever you want to do after I let you off so easily last time?" The hand grabbing her hair changed direction and went to grab Gu Jiao's hair, pulling it tightly.

Gu Jiao felt the very familiar pain almost instantly.

She was about to scream, but the moment the tiniest sound came out of her mouth, a hand covered her lips, forcing the sound to be muffled and swallowed back down to her throat.

"Shh... I don't want to hear your ugly voice so shut your trap."

Gu Jiao stared in shock at the beautiful woman in front of her and wondered why she was here.

—Ran Xueyi!

Standing before her was Ran Xueyi, looking still as beautiful as when she first met her at the airport before. However, her eyes were not as warm and lively as it was when she first saw them. Her eyes were red with red-hot anger, like a red steel freshly taken out of the furnace. One touch and you will burn.

Previously, Gu Jiao saw Ran Xueyi being unrestrained and fierce, but today, her aura was different. It was more violent and filled with deadly coldness.

"What's taking you so long?"

A voice interrupted her thoughts and Gu Jiao desperately glanced at Cindy's way for help since her body felt like there was a poisonous and big predator constricting her body, causing her to lose her ability to move and whole body to become numb.

—Quick, help me push her off me!

Hearing that there was someone else inside the room, Ran Xueyi moved her gaze and glanced at Cindy lazily. She didn't show an expression of shock or being flustered as though everything was just under her control.

Cindy was shocked by her, "Who are you? Let go of her!"

Ran Xueyi looked at her for a few seconds and raised her eyebrows, "Are you going to help her?"

Cindy was stumped by her question before aggressively saying yes.

Ran Xueyi's eyes and expression suddenly changed into a smiling face silently.

Both Gu Jiao and Cindy were terrified and crept by her smile.

Then, in the next second, Gu Jiao was held down with her face smacking against the wall, very loudly and forcefully. Gu Jiao could feel her blood rushing through her nose and she curled up into a ball on the ground while groaning painfully.

[Bang!]

Cindy stared at this gruesome scene without a sound and was helpless as she watched Gu Jiao bleeding on the floor. She wanted to help her, but her mind and body were united and told her to not move.

Ran Xueyi looked very satisfied and said, "I'm going to ask you again...."

"Are you going to help her?"

Chapter 202 Will You Become My Practice Partner?

Cindy was given such a simple choice.

Either help her friend or fight together with her against this pretty stranger.

Although the question was very easy to answer and it was no brainer that she should help her best friend to go through this situation, however, it was as if there was invisible hands that crawled out of the ground and took her by her ankles and a grim reaper that was looking down on her with a big silver scythe in his hand by her neck.

The woman's pair of eyes were shaped into a cat-like shape and just like a cat staring at her lazily, but sharply as if it saw any potential danger were to approach it, sharp claws able to tear apart a person's skin and bleed them would definitely come out.

Thankfully, Cindy was never a cat person so she chose a very obvious answer.

While there was no response to the question, Gu Jiao expected that her best friend's answer would be the same as what was inside her mind.

Cindy will help her!

Sadly, the reality proved to be such a cruel thing as no matter if a minute had passed or an hour had gone by, Cindy didn't move a step forward and push Ran Xueyi off her. She didn't even make a move to fight her back and help her at all.

The yellow-orange light inside the room shined brightly and enveloped the whole room in a warm light.

Getting a non-verbal agreement from the other person, Ran Xueyi moved her gaze to the bed, gesturing for the other person to take a seat on the bed as though she was merely inviting a guest in her own house to sit in the living room. It looked extremely normal and natural that even Cindy felt the need to sit.

Of course, under the compulsion of Ran Xueyi's cold aura, Cindy knew that the other wasn't simply trying to tell her to take a seat; she was telling her to sit and behave inside the room.

And so, behave is what she did.

After taking care of the other person, Ran Xueyi finally focused all of her attention on her only target— Gu Jiao.

With her eyes wide and filled with disbelief, shock, and uncontrolled anger for being betrayed by her best friend, Gu Jiao was seething with undescrivable rage. Didn't they promise to stand and fight together no matter how bad and good the situation was? Weren't they best friends for life?

"Uhmph! krghh!"

Ran Xueyi settled her gaze on Gu Jiao's still bleeding nose. One might think that it would be dangerous to leave it alone and find a way to stop it, but what she did next would definitely become a nightmare that Gu Jiao will never get to erase from her life.

Dragging the other person with her hands still pulling her hair and covering her mouth, Ran Xueyi kicked the door to the bathroom open and saw a bathtub filled with water. Colorful petals from red, pink, and white, scattered in the water. Without a doubt, the club has prepared this for the guests who wanted to play wildly during the night.

Gu Jiao stumbled down all the way and looked fearless until she saw the water becoming closer and closer to her.

Like a fish that jumped out of the water, she flailed and protested, but against the hand that held the back of her head, she had no way out of this.

A voice then said above her head, "Don't worry, I'm not going to kill you... I'm not that heartless and you still have to pay for all the things that you did in the past to the lives you ruined."

Gu Jiao was in tears and shook her head. Even if the other said she wouldn't kill her, who would believe it in this situation?

Ran Xueyi saw that she didn't seem to believe her and clicked her tongue: "Tsk, you don't believe me?"

Gu Jiao quickly shook her head.

Then, as if she was afraid that Ran Xueyi would be displeased by her response, she nodded her head and lied that she believed her.

Ran Xueyi lowered her gaze and sighed, "Don't be afraid... I'm just trying to teach you a lesson here. I'm very professional and tried this to other people."

Gu Jiao was once again shocked by her revelation. What does she mean by that?

Ran Xueyi didn't tell her the answer to that question and continued to say, "But that was five years ago. So, I might need time to practice."

"What do you say? Will you become my practice partner?"

A smile dangled on her lips as though she never thought of anything of the meaning of her words.

Gu Jiao could almost feel her soul flying out of her body.

Blinking her eyes innocently, Ran Xueyi shook the girl in her arms and let the hand covering the other person's mouth down to reach for the faucet and turned out to water before pointing the head of the faucet at Gu Jiao's face.

"Ah!"

Gu Jiao screamed, surprised and scared shitless at the cold water that slapped into her face.

"Why the hell are you doing this?!" She yelled in anger. "Ran Xueyi, don't think that after this I won't come after you! The world will find out that you're not the kind of person you show to the camera, but an evil and heartless person capable of murder!"

Feeling the adrenaline rushing through her blood as she reclaimed her freedom, Gu Jiao continued to scream whilst in pain and feeling the water slapping her face. "Wait for me to tear you into pieces! I will show the world your true color. Do you think you can escape when I report you to the police after you beat me up? I will make sure you will rot in prison and have all the criminals inside it f*ck you until you kill yourself!"

The club has several surveillance cameras, she could use it against Ran Xueyi and there were also bruises on her face. To Gu Jiao, this altercation was not all losses. She will make Ran Xueyi pay soon after!

Unfortunately, Ran Xueyi was unperturbed by her words. On the contrary, her eyes became even more dull and looked bored as she continued to listen to the other shout.

"Is that so?"

Following her screams, Ran Xueyi suddenly nodded her head causally, one didn't know if she listened in her heart. "You're free to do that, Gu Jiao..."

Not seeing her flustered, fearful, or even slightly anxious, Gu Jiao had a bad premonition.

"But you know... You're not the first person to say those words to me." Ran Xueyi showed a cruel smile. "And the person who might end up in prison between the two of us... Isn't it you?"

Chapter 203 Mm, Interesting

Inside a vast office in YH Group Main Branch Office.

The neon lights coming from the buildings and city that looked like tiny chess pieces from the top floor of the skyscraper building of the main office of YH Group became a silver light that pierced through the darkness.

The office was very large, but it seemed that not many people had come to this room as the floor still looked as new as though it was just made yesterday and the silver light coming from the city was reflected in it.

Standing inside this spacious office was a tall man with broad shoulders, gorgeously dressed in a sophisticated and high-end three-piece suit which was personally customized by a world renowned fashion designer. The clothes the man wore was the one and only piece in the entire world.

Song Yu Han looked at the city in front of him, or more precisely, at the 17th floor building that stood just a few buildings across YH Group's main branch office. It was his wife's company, Chestnut.

At this time in the evening, the lights that were still on were not that many since the employees should be leaving or had already gone home. But Song Yu Han still looked at it for a long time as if he could see Ran Xueyi inside her office.

Unfortunately, the woman he wished was inside that building was not even in the same city as him and he could only stare at the dark window with familiarity and longing.

As he was waiting for time to pass before he could go and prepare to sleep in the bedroom connected to his own office, the black phone that was on top of the smooth surface of his wide office desk received a call.

Surprisingly, it was from Ran Xueyi who had to return to Silver City that afternoon to shoot the rest of her scenes.

She asked him whether he had anything on President Tzongshi and asked if he could release it.

Song Yu Han was not surprised that she knew that he really had something on President Tzongshi. In the business world, if you don't have a single dirty thing against someone, you would become a prey that people could chew on by big predators.

As a man who had built his own business empire, Song Yu Han naturally had more than what other people had in their hands and had less of things that people could use against it, turning him into an indestructible and fearsome man that no one could dare offend without preparations.

And at this moment, no one has had any preparations or plans prepared to bring him down from his throne.

A rare indulgence appeared in his eyes as soon as he heard Ran Xueyi's voice and told her that he had something on President Tzongshi.

"I'll send it to you now."

After he said that, he really did what he told her and sent a file containing the past actions that President Tzongshi has done, including the fact that he had been abusing his wife and psychologically abusing his children who were already old and was also doing some terrible and horrible things to other people just like their father.

Afterwards, Song Yu Han continued to speak to her, however, who knew that the moment he spoke, the disconnected tone answered him.

Song Yu Han didn't have the time to sulk like an abandoned puppy as he directly called Wu Qi and asked him about what Ran Xueyi has been doing.

That was when he found out that Ran Xueyi was in fact not in Silver City, but in Imperial Capital.

He lowered his gaze and looked outside the floor to ceiling window again where the lights in the city flickered in various colors.

The curve of his lips deepened and he said: "Mm, interesting."

—What are you planning to do now?

Since Ran Xueyi is playing a game right now, naturally, Song Yu Han wanted to watch it with his own eyes.

And so, the big golden dragon left his throne to watch his kitten catch her prey.

Gu Jiao never experienced being drowned. She was a very good swimmer in their class back in high school and was confident with the lung volume she possessed and could go on swimming underwater for three minutes.

However, at this moment, she felt that her whole body was being compressed and the air in her lungs wasn't enough at all!

Gurgling sounds could be heard as Gu Jiao's head was forced to dunk into the bathtub water by Ran Xueyi. She waited until 30 seconds had passed before fishing out the head that had been forcefully put into the water and was very satisfied when she heard Gu Jiao coughing and breathing erratically.

Once, twice, thrice.

Gu Jiao felt lightheaded and was already tired and couldn't resist any longer. She didn't care anymore if she drowned completely, just end this cycle!

Of course, Ran Xueyi had no plans to drown her truly. She doesn't have any plans to be a murderer.

It was just that the words written in black against the white paper that told her about the previous endeavors of Gu Jiao in the past years disgusted and angered Ran Xueyi tremendously that she somehow couldn't stop herself from showing a bit of the dark side that she suppressed very silently in her heart.

Zhilan was not the only victim that Gu Jiao victimized and traumatized. There were several others who were targeted by her without any logical reasons. These people were either beaten up, kidnapped, and blackmailed. However, there were some others who tried to fight back against Gu Jiao's oppression.

But these people got an even more severe punishment.

In the end, the humiliation and harassment that were done to these people had sent them to lose hope and trust on other humans and most tragically, they couldn't help but disappear eternally to escape from Gu Jiao's grasp.

Ran Xueyi could never forgive Gu Jiao and the actions she had done in the past. She could have been one of those people if she hadn't done something about it, but what about those other people who could no longer defend themselves because they had to be buried deep under the ground and watched on by their crying and tormented loved ones?

"Do you know how lucky you are that I don't do murder?" Ran Xueyi's voice was extremely cold, seemingly like a knife that could slice a person's neck.

Chapter 204 Sweet As Candy

Gu Jiao shivered uncontrollably and her eyes were glassy as she stared back at Ran Xueyi after being forced to face her. Relief seemed to have washed down on her body when she heard those words.

Ran Xueyi curled her lips sardonically and patted her cheeks: "Don't get too comfortable yet. The night is still young."

After almost an hour had passed inside the bathroom, Cindy finally woke up from her trance. There was no sound coming from inside the closed door in front of her and wondered if something bad had happened to her friend.

Earlier, she was so scared by Ran Xueyi that she was unable to move. Now that some time has passed, she regained control over her body, but the remaining fears she accumulated from the previous encounters with Ran Xueyi were still affecting her reasons.

Two knocks sounded from the door to the room and Cindy cautiously glanced at it. She hoped that another Ran Xueyi wouldn't pop out of it.

Thankfully, her fears didn't materialize and there were three people outside of the room. The manager smiled at her as he waved for the two good looking men to come forward, "Miss, here are the men we picked to serve you. They're both robust and energetic. Their faces are also very young and suit your preferences."

Under normal circumstances, one might bring the three men with bigger figures than Cindy inside and have them help her save her friend, Gu Jiao, but Cindy kept her mouth shut and ruthlessly chased the men away like a guardian who was tasked to keep people away from a monumental place.

"You arrived too late! We don't need your services anymore!" Cindy pushed them away and closed the door behind her with a bang. Then after closing the door, she fearfully gazed back inside the room, afraid that she might have disturbed the ghost inside the bathroom to come out.

However, Cindy didn't even have time to scream or hide her presence because the moment she turned, she saw Ran Xueyi standing outside of the bathroom door, wiping her hands with a clean towel and raising an eyebrow at her.

"Who was it?" she asked.

Cindy gasped and tremblingly answered honestly, "The club manager and two men we asked to service us."

Ran Xueyi was slightly amused by this and asked again, "Oh, and you didn't try to ask for help?"

There were three men who had just come to their room and they could easily take Ran Xueyi away after calling the police, however, Cindy did nothing to alert them. What was more surprising was that Cindy was left inside the room unattended and had more freedom and time to call anyone or the police to tell what happened here.

But as if she was an extremely obedient servant, she followed along with her order, which was to behave inside the room.

Somehow, this made Ran Xueyi wonder if there was something wrong in her (Cindy) head?

Cindy directly shook her head and said, "How can I dare?"

Giving the bathroom a sneak glance and saw that Gu Jiao's sorry figure was lying on the cold tiled floor, Cindy shuddered and was relieved that she didn't tell on her to anyone. Who knows if she would be the next one who will lay on the floor like Gu Jiao, right?

Sensing her gaze, Ran Xueyi instructed her, "She's still alive, if you're curious. But you might want to drag her to the bed and take off her wet clothes from her body."

Although Gu Jiao didn't drown to death, she received quite a scare tonight. No one knows if she will be able to get rid of Ran Xueyi's presence in her mind from now on.

Ran Xueyi folded her sleeves that were soaked with water from the bathtub. She made her way to the door when she heard Cindy asking from behind her, "When Gu Jiao wakes up, she might come after you... Aren't you afraid that people will come to ask you about what happened to her?"

Gu Jiao's broken nose was a hard thing to ignore and there was also the risk of being sued by her. The moment she wakes up, she will raise hell to the other person and ask a lawyer to file a case against Ran Xueyi for what happened to her tonight.

Ran Xueyi paused and slightly turned her head before her voice sounded softly inside the room, "Thanks for telling me this... But I am not afraid."

Coming after Gu Jiao was not an abrupt plan at all. Ran Xueyi already considered doing this when Gu Jiao first offended her and saw the report that Wu Qi sent to her before. At that time, she didn't review the information about Gu Jiao very deeply because she (RX) was taken by the video scandal of her (GJ) and Director Zheng. And so, she didn't know much about Gu Jiao's past actions until the moment she decided to call Wu Qi again to obtain the link between her and Zhilan.

Without turning back, Ran Xueyi resumed walking out of the room. The hallway was brightly lit by chandeliers set up against the ceiling and the floor was covered with sapphire colored carpet.

Ran Xueyi entered the elevator and continued to go down the club's entrance. No one stopped her though there were people who stared at her for a glance like moths drawn to the flame.

Just as she stepped outside of the club's entrance, a black lamborghini stopped in front of her. The expensive car looked extremely cool and brand new, like a black panther cutting through the night to stalk its prey and stretch its waist before pouncing.

Ran Xueyi stared at the reflection on the mirror and frowned.

And just as she was about to move away from the expensive car, the tinted window rolled down and a familiar face appeared inside.

A deep chuckle as fine as rum came from the man driving the black car and said, "Have you had enough fun?"

Ran Xueyi's eyes blinked and she couldn't help but release a sigh. She completely forgot to report her whereabouts to Song Yu Han, but he still found her anyway. Probably, it was Wu Qi, who reported what happened on her side again to this big boss.

Ran Xueyi got inside the car and didn't answer his question. She leaned her head against the chair and closed her eyes.

Truth to be told, Ran Xueyi didn't expect that she would be blinded by rage and come after Gu Jiao like this. She usually didn't care about anything or anyone unless they tried to get on her bottom line.

And what Gu Jiao did snapped something inside her.

As Ran Xueyi was deeply thinking about her life choices and how to control her rage a bit more tightly the next time, a warm hand touched her cheeks and caused her eyelids to fly open.

She glanced at Song Yu Han and noticed that the car stopped to the side of the road.

Song Yu Han had long unbuckled the seat belt around his front and shifted on his seat. His gaze deepened when her eyes moved to land on him and his lips curved up into a smile as if a puppy finally received his owner's attention and affection.

Then, the pair of peach blossom eyes narrowed with concern as the fingers that caressed her cheeks lowered and captured her hand that was placed on top of her knees: "Are you feeling alright?"

When Song Yu Han drove his car and saw Ran Xueyi standing in front of the club and entered his car, he could almost instantly sense that something was off with her. He didn't ask her since she had her eyes closed, looking tired and weary, and waiting until he drove away for several minutes in the city.

Finally, the heavy feeling and uneasiness inside his heart couldn't be put down and he had to reach his hand out to her to check on her.

Ran Xueyi tilted her head and instead of answering his question, she asked him: "Do you have candy?"

Not long after, an expensive car that was veiled in the darkness of night like a beautiful predator dancing in the dark sped up on the street and stopped in front of a candy shop. After parking, Song Yu Han made a ridiculous purchase of several bags of candies and put them all in her arms.

"I don't know what flavor you like so I bought each one of the candies inside the shop," Song Yu Han said before he thought of something and a frown appeared on his face, "But if it's not enough, there should be other candy shops in the city we can go to until you find what you like."

Ran Xueyi's eyes twinkled like stars and picked one of the candies in her arms. She tossed the cellophane to her feet and tasted the saccharine and saltiness of the hard candy inside her mouth. The flavor bursted in her tongue and the gloomy feeling and irritation decreased significantly.

"How is it?"

"It's tasty!" she exclaimed.

Seeing the childish reaction and shine of her eyes, Song Yu Han felt that all the workload he received that day was lifted off his shoulders.

He told her, "If it's tasty, you can have more."

Ran Xueyi looked at him and asked, "You don't want to taste some?"

Song Yu Han was about to refuse since he never liked sweets in the first place, but under her expectant and bright eyes, he changed the direction of his mind and said, "Just one then... What do you recommend?"

There were several bags on top of her lap and only one was opened. Ran Xueyi hadn't tasted what the other candies tasted like and was a bit torn apart. She wanted to taste the others too, but since Song Yu Han bought only one for each, if she gave him one, she might not be able to taste what she gave to him.

Song Yu Han watched her patiently choose what to give to her and didn't disturb her. He thought that it was time to drive back home and was about to reach for the belt against when she heard a rustle coming from his side.

He turned towards the sound and slender fingers touched his chin and a hand was put on top of his lap.

Then, without warning, a wet sensation touched his lips and he tasted something very sweet and tasted like orange.

However, before he could carefully savor the taste, the lips that covered his had already pulled away and the sweetness of orange disappeared as quick as it appeared.

Blinking her eyes innocently and expectantly, Ran Xueyi said, "How is it?"

Song Yu Han felt his throat going dry, but he still replied, "I'm not... Give me another for me to get a clear taste of it."

Chapter 205 Return And Rest

Ran Xueyi rolled her eyes at him and didn't give him the chance to take advantage of the situation to steal a kiss from her. After buying enough sweets for her to erase the uneasy feeling she was experiencing earlier, the two returned home and slept in each other's embrace.

The next morning, two pieces of news took over the media.

Gu Jiao, an idol turned actress, was taken to the police station early that morning to be interrogated. Though the police officers who came to confront the numerous reporters and journalists who were tipped off about this affair did say they were detaining Gu Jiao under interrogation, in fact, the evidence that was sent to them was fully proofed and it was too hard to ignore. Thus, Gu Jiao would surely spend the rest of her life in prison.

Of course, there were some people who were asking about the reason behind all of this and are making trouble.

Gu Jiao's fans especially camped and rioted outside of the police station that took their goddess from them, screaming for justice and for their idol to be released.

However, these fans couldn't get what they wanted in the end because the Chief Police that were leading the case and the main page of the police department for combating drugs and department of homicide intervened and posted their statements regarding this affair.

Gu Jiao, the idol that many are still hoping to be released turned out to be a monster who forced people to take their own lives after bullying them. The level of bullying she put onto other people was so sickening and immoral that nobody wanted to hear the full story.

After the police statements were released, more and more victims came out to file a case against Gu Jiao. In the end, she was to serve 30 years of imprisonment for countless counts of forced suicide and seventeen counts of proven acts of bullying and another 20 years in her sentence. In total, she would need to serve 50 years of life imprisonment with bail.

However, no one really knows if Gu Jiao could pay the full payment for the bail and return to her life normally without the public criticizing her.

The next news that many people were still in disbelief when they heard of it was deeply connected with Gu Jiao.

It was President Tzongshi, who was quite known for his charitable actions of donating huge sums of money to several public organizations. It turns out that the man was not what he showed to everyone. He was just a pig that was dressed in a golden robe. Not only did he cheated on his wife, abused his wife and children mentally and physically, he also enslaved several small stars and tortured them until they were almost unrecognizable.

Most importantly, he had killed several people.

The result of the investigation was very quick and the punishment given to him was also not light at all.

President Tzongshi will be given death sentence for all the counts of murders and crimes under his belt.

"What are you planning to do next?" Song Yu Han moved behind her and grabbed her waist. The TV was still showing the process of the events regarding Gu Jiao and President Tzongshi.

Ran Xueyi thought about it and was silent for a moment.

Currently, due to the several issues that entangled the drama <A Thousand of Lotus>, there might be a possibility that the shooting will be put on hold. If that happens, she still has a month of free time to do whatever she wants to do. However, Ran Xueyi didn't want that so she might have to look for a film that she can participate in during that time.

Song Yu Han understood Ran Xueyi's hesitation completely.

"If you have nothing in your itinerary, I have a friend who you might want to cooperate with. He's a famous designer from C Country and he came to the country to complete a design that my company is currently trying to push into the market," said Song Yu Han.

Ran Xueyi raised her eyebrows and thought about it. Then, she said to him: "I'll try asking my agent if she wants me to cooperate with your friend and company."

She didn't refuse him, but she also didn't give him an answer.

Song Yu Han also did not force it on her. It was still her choice whether she chooses to cooperate with Fabio or not. In any case, he would still give her a spot in case she wanted it.

Song Yu Han's eyes were deep and unpredictable and he looked at Ran Xueyi with affection: "You did great..."

Even though he helped her drive away people from the crew, however, it was not entirely him that did all the work. Ran Xueyi singlehandedly planned everything and used their own medicine on them. His presence was only there to put pressure and support to her plans.

"It's just good luck," Ran Xueyi shrugged. "The modification and deletion of scenes are common in the entertainment circle and if Gu Jiao didn't underestimate me as someone lower than her, she would have probably thought of some countermeasures to my plans. Sadly, she's just a fool who underestimates the enemy, so it's not that hard at all."

She blinked at Song Yu Han and with her eyes and lips smiling, she didn't forget to praise him as well: "But it's all thanks to your support that she didn't get to ask for help from her backer to put pressure on me."

If Song Yu Han hadn't been there for her at that time to warn President Tzongshi to not lift a hand to help Gu Jiao out of the situation, who knows if Ran Xueyi could even repay Gu Jiao for what she did.

Ran Xueyi has been quite busy these past few days and the moment she found a comfortable position in his arms, she quickly fell asleep.

Special Assistant Guo: "..."

Standing in the middle of the living room of his boss's home, Special Assistant Guo could only stare everywhere but the two figures lying on the sofa.

He didn't move, just looked at Song Yu Han with silent mercy.

He originally had an appointment to meet his boss that morning to report the current situation in the company since Song Yu Han called him last night to tell him to bring his work for the day home since he couldn't go to the office. Since that was the case, he was given a free pass to enter the villa last night.

But who would have known that when he arrived at the location, he found his boss and madam sleeping in the living room.

Guo Yun had an ominous premonition.

Thankfully, his shameless boss woke up ahead of the madam.

Two minutes later, Guo Yun looked at Song Yu Han and asked tentatively: "Should I leave and return later sir?"

Ran Xueyi moved slightly.

Song Yu Han raised a hand and made a 'silent' gesture.

Guo Yun immediately stopped talking and made a gesture of zipping his mouth.

Song Yu Han looked at him deeply and lowered his voice to say: "Leave the reports on the table before driving away."

Guo Yun nodded his head, put down the documents in his hands on the coffee table, and with his tail tucked between his legs, he ran off back to the office to handle the rest of the work that his boss had left in the office.

"Who was that?" Ran Xueyi rubbed her eyes and slowly sat up.

Song Yu Han: "My assistant. Why don't you sleep a bit more?"

Ran Xueyi shook her head, "No, I can't go back to sleep anyway."

She was already awake when Special Assistant Guo arrived, she just didn't open her eyes and chose to listen to their conversation.

Ran Xueyi stood up and went to get candy, popped it inside her mouth, and went back to his arms.

"Are you going to work later?" Song Yu Han asked while gently touching her back.

Ran Xueyi thought for a second before shaking her head. With one side of her cheeks slightly bulging, she replied, "I told my agent that I'll take the entire day to laze around. I'll probably read some books or watch you work."

When hearing Ran Xueyi's words, Song Yu Han's heart was filled with warmth and joy.

Meanwhile, Ran Yue, who has been waiting for Ran Xueyi's reply, has been on her toes since yesterday.

She never thought that the scandal between her and Yang Baihua would ruin her completely. Originally, she thought that once the fact that she and Yang Baihua had been together, her fans would eventually accept it since they love her so much. However, she didn't think that they would turn their back to her the moment the scandal broke.

Moreover, ever since her parents demanded the Yang family to take responsibility, Yang Baihua hasn't shown up in front of her.

Ran Yue was at her wits end and only Ran Xueyi could save her by helping her whitewash her image.

However, Ran Xueyi never answered her calls nor replied to her messages.
