Chapter 231 Was Ran Xueyi Telling The Truth?

In the next few days, Ran Xueyi established a good relationship with her co-stars as well as the staff members of the production crew. The atmosphere in the studio was different from the other studios they've been into because everyone treated each other warmly and much friendlier there.

For almost two weeks, the main actors ran around the studio and acted their scenes very well. Ran Xueyi especially achieved the respect from everyone in the crew and constantly praised her skills in acting. Even Director Sun, who was at first skeptical about Ran Xueyi, soon became more open and truthful towards Ran Xueyi's decisions during some scenes.

To them, it was no wonder that Ran Xueyi achieved the most prestigious Best Actress award several years ago. And although it was inevitable that she still made little mistakes, it wasn't so much that the scene they were playing out would call off in that second. Instead, it was still passable and within the standard that the script and directors wanted from her.

On the other hand, her co-stars were the ones who made a lot of mistakes during filming. Ran Xueyi never had NGs called out, but because some extras and co-stars didn't show the exact expressions and feeling that their roles should have, the scene had to be acted out once again until Director Sun finally called it a pass.

During these two weeks, Ran Xueyi didn't only focus on her role as Ruan Jiaojiao, she had to run from one studio to another to play her other roles as well.

True to her words, Zhao Fei found her a few roles that don't have that many scenes but have vital importance to the plot of the films and movies. These roles weren't just some glass characters that are used to decorate and make the scene even prettier. These roles have a depth and background to it, and it also helped the plot to thicken and progress.

At this moment, Ran Xueyi acted out three different roles. Ruan Jiaojiao, the two-faced policewoman and psychopath murder. Chu Young, the shining first moonlight of the male lead from another romantic film, and Li Xin, a villain demoness from an immortal sect who wanted to kill the female lead and marry the male lead.

Every role has a different feel in it and different types of emotion and character background. If others were to accept each role and act them out, they would have gone crazy by now due to being overwhelmed by their roles' emotions and switching between three different roles.

Ran Xueyi sat in the backseat and heard Zhao Fei speak beside her, "You've played two antagonistic characters and one innocent character in just two weeks. It must be quite draining for you. Are you still planning to accept other scripts and play other roles?"

Ran Xueyi nodded without looking at her, "Yes, please send the script to me so I can review it."

Zhao Fei gave her a concerned look and asked, "Ran Xueyi, tell me, is there something going on with you?"

Ran Xueyi sighed, "Why do you think so, Sister Zhao?"

Zhao Fei said, "You've been working a lot these days. For two whole weeks, you didn't take a break and started to act in different roles. And not only that, you still want to act in other roles and shoot a commercial! Don't you think this is a bit too strange coming from you?"

She turned to stare at Feng Huai, who was munching on his snack, "Am I right, Xiao Feng?"

Feng Huai blinked his eyes and expressed his thoughts on this, "Though Sister Zhao is right... Aren't there some stars who work like a madman as well? I've heard that some actors even accepted five films and movies to act in."

Zhao Fei felt her head throbbing and gave him a vicious look, "It's true that there are actors and actresses that act in more than five films and movies, but it was all done within a year! When did you hear an actress acting three roles in two weeks?"

"Oh, I know someone who's like that... Isn't Sister Ran like that?"

Zhao Fei was even more frustrated and no longer gave Feng Huai her attention. She focused on Ran Xueyi and said, "Look, just tell me, is this about that person? Did something happen at home?"

Ran Xueyi didn't want to tell Zhao Fei about her circumstances and shook her head while reassuringly said, "Sister Zhao, you're thinking too much. It's been a while since I've entered the entertainment circle. If I don't work hard right now and play in different films, I'll be buried by other stars."

She continued, "Besides, two of my initial films after going back to the circle have been put into an awkward situation. It's frustrating me that I still don't have any film to appear in after coming out of my cave."

Zhao Fei was still not fully convinced after hearing the reason behind why Ran Xueyi suddenly wanted to act in several roles. There was a nagging feeling that after a period of time, something huge will happen. However, Ran Xueyi stayed calm while answering her questions and there were no fluctuations in her voice.

Was Ran Xueyi really telling her the truth?

In any case, Zhao Fei could only accept her words this time since there was no other reason that could justify Ran Xueyi's sudden strange actions.

The three drove to another studio where Ran Xueyi will act in the last scene of her character, Ruan Jiaojiao.

The scene was between the three main characters.

Gao Yang found out Ruan Jiaojiao's true identity and felt great dismay and disappointment. He was still in disbelief and it was only Yao Mu's intervention that he finally couldn't deny the truth.

As for Ruan Jiaojiao, she was already prepared to meet the main leads and showed them her last masterpiece.

This scene required a lot of pure and twisted emotions. Of course, there will be a lot of blood in the scene too.

Director Sun nodded his head in appreciation for the work of the staff to recreate the scene from the book. He signaled for his assistant director to hit the clapperboard and shouted, "Scene #23 Ruan Jiaojiao's death! Everyone get ready to act!"

Chapter 232 Scene #23: Goodbye, Ruan Jiaojiao

Inside one of the classrooms in an abandoned school in City Z, cripes footfalls fell on the tiled floor. The echo rebounded against the walls of the fourth floor of the school and soon stopped when it reached the door.

The camera quickly followed the black heels that stopped in front of the door before slowly climbing up to show the female's beautiful figure and stopped at the back of the woman's head.

The long, dark hair was slightly wet and one didn't know whether it was from the rain or from something else.

From behind her, there was a raspy and hoarse sound of breathing and gasping.

Then, the woman heard a faint sound of voice coming inside the classroom.

"Help... Some...body, save me..."

The woman finally turned around, showing Ruan Jiaojiao's sweet face and charming smile. She looked down at the figure lying on the ground, heavily bleeding out and crawled towards her like a maggot.

Ruan Jiaojiao showed a concerned expression and asked, "What did you say? You need help?"

The person lying on the ground didn't seem to hear what she said and might have been too focused on the pain he was feeling thus he could only murmur the same line over and over again.

Ruan Jiaojiao stepped forward and stopped when there was an appropriate distance between them. Then, she raised her fair, white leg that wore the other pair of the heels and using the pointed part of the heel, she made the man raise his chin so he could look at her.

The man shuddered in fear and his eyes tried to look everywhere, not wanting to stare at the person who reduced him to such miserable and bloody state. He wondered why it had come to this point? Why was he targeted when he solely did everything to live honestly as a teacher.

At this point, there was a loud flurry of noises coming from the corridor. Two hushed voices coming from a male and female echoed and they opened several doors. The two seemed to be cautious enough to keep the sound to a minimum, but inside an abandoned school where no one should be there, the sound was extremely loud and they heard it.

The man seemed to find a glimpse of hope and tried to grab that string, he shouted weakly, "Help! I'm... here! Save me!"

Though the voice of the man wasn't too loud, Gao Yang and Yao Mu still heard it. They quickly rushed to the direction where the voice came from and kicked the door open.

They found the victim and a woman they were extremely familiar with.

"Ruan Jiaojiao!"

"Put your hands up!"

Gao Yang and Yao Mu shouted almost at the same time.

Ruan Jiaojiao wasn't even surprised at their sudden appearance. She merely glanced at them before her smile deepened and said, "Yang-ge... I'm not the one who you should point your gun at. This man did a lot of wrong things and still got to live a life without any worries."

Ruan Jiaojiao was a master of deception, twisting the truth to her own advantage.

Right now, she should be trying to convince the male lead to believe that the man lying on her feet, still bleeding out and having numerous cuts and bruises, was a sinner.

Yao Mu glanced at Gao Yang and saw him hesitate for a second. She frowned before firmly pointing the gun at the murderer that the government wanted to capture, Blood Ivy.

"Ruan Jiaojiao... No, Blood Ivy. You're under arrest for attempting murder of a professor and illegal detainment. You also committed several murders in the past several years. Get down on your knees and surrender now!"

Yao Mu didn't hesitate. She knew that the woman in front of her was one of the most wanted people in the country. Capturing her was tantamount of getting a high promotion and reward. But she didn't care about all that. She wanted Gao Yang to see the truth and wake up from this dream. Ruan Jiaojiao wasn't the pure and sweet colleague that was afraid of blood. She wasn't the same woman who he showed some interest in when he and Yao Mu broke up. And she has been lying to him.

Gao Yang seemed to realize this and his eyes flashed coldly, the slight reluctance and hesitation soon disappeared.

Ruan Jiaojiao laughed at the sight of that.

Humans are too fickle. One second, they could be your most trusted and gentle friend, and the next second, they could turn into your number enemy who will kill you.

But then again, she was also one of them. A human who was used to deceive people with her disguise while killing people without remorse.

"Yao Mu-jie... I will surrender... However, I will only do it when I'm done with him," she sweetly smiled at them as she added, "Will you please sit on that chair and wait for me?"

"Should we call out, Director?" the assistant director asked.

Director Sun shook his head, "Let them continue this scene until the end. Camera 1 and Camera 3 give Ran Xueyi a good closeup. Make sure to capture the smile on her lips and expression on her face."

This time, Director Sun was really floored by Ran Xueyi's performance. The way she looked was truly sinister and insidious. Even he, as the director of the movie, couldn't help but shiver when he watched her act in front of him. What more if the audience were to see this?

Since the director didn't call out to pause their acting, the four actors on the stage continued their acting. The staff members were held captive in their performance and goosebumps appeared on their arms when they saw Ran Xueyi continue playing her role.

She said, "You don't want to? That's okay, you can just stand there and wait for me to be done with him too."

Gao Yang moved forward and harshly said, "Ruan Jiaojiao, don't move! I'll pull the trigger if you even lay a finger on Professor Tang!"

Ruan Jiaojiao showed a rare expression of surprise, looking exactly like a child that was reprimanded.

With glassy eyes, Ruan Jiaojiao blinked her eyes before the smile disappeared on her lips. "Officer Gao, you look really bold and handsome, right now. However, shouldn't this line apply to Professor Tang as well?"

Gao Yang and Yao Mu refused to answer her question.

Ruan Jiaojiao laughed at their lack of response, "How double standard can you be? I can't lay a finger on this vile and evil man. But he can lay his fingers on his students and force them to have s*x with him? Why, tell me, is it because you didn't catch him in the act so he could be pardoned by spending several years in prison while you caught me so I am punishable with death?"

As soon as she was done speaking, the lights turned down and there was only darkness. The people inside the classroom panicked when they couldn't see in the dark.

The darkness that consumed their sights only took five seconds. But it was enough for a person to commit a sin.

And when the lights went alive, Gao Yang and Yao Mu saw the lifeless body of Professor Tang. His neck was cut open, the gurgling sound coming from his throat and mouth was terrifying.

'Thud'.

Seeing that the target they needed to save was dead, Yao Mu panicked. She was scared shitless at the ruthlessness that Ruan Jiaojiao showed them and before she knew it, she opened fire despite Gao Yang shouting at her to not shoot.

Ruan Jiaojiao stumbled backwards a few times as the bullets hit her body.

There was shock in her expression, she probably couldn't believe that someone would be stupid enough to kill her, one of the most wanted criminal that the government wanted to capture. She was also surprised that Yao Mu, someone she once considered a colleague and friend, could really shoot her.

However, the shock and surprise was soon replaced by delight and feeling of achieving something.

Now, she can relax and no longer regret.

Ran Xueyi followed the impact of the shots and fell to the ground with a soft thud. She lay on the ground, looking at the moon that was shining outside of the window.

A single tear flowed down the corner of her eye.

This time, it was time to say goodbye to her role as Ruan Jiaojiao.

Chapter 233 A Treasure Found By Director Sun

Soon after the clapperboard was hit, the surrounding people soon clapped their hands as if they were standing inside a dome where athletes would perform so great and they couldn't help but do a standing ovation for the athlete. In their case, some don't even need to stand and just clap their hands. While some even wiped the tears on the corners of their eyes.

Director Sun heard his own heart drumming inside his chest. He never felt this kind of sensation where his blood was pumping and boiling within his body.

Only until he watched Ran Xueyi act her role as Ruan Jiaojiao did he finally feel what it means to be a director who found a treasure.

Director Sun forgot to call out and when he recovered his senses, he quickly said, "Alright, Cut! This scene is spectacular! You all did a great job."

The four actors were still in their position and waited for Director Sun to call cut, and when he finally did, they soon relaxed and slumped down to the ground.

The scene just now was too nerve-wracking.

Previously, Su Zixi and Miao Li thought they could waltz over in this scene and act in their usual state. However, they were once proven wrong once they saw Ran Xueyi standing before them and acted against them.

The scene where Ruan Jiaojiao taunted them endlessly, made them somehow realize how crooked the law system in their world can be, and how cruel she could be to everyone around her and herself, it was truly beautiful. And only Ran Xueyi made this role turn out into this.

If it were anyone else, Su Zixi and Miao Li did not know if they could pull it off.

Thankfully, Ran Xueyi came to their studio to play as Ruan Jiaojiao.

Ruan Jiaojiao was a complicated role, after all. She was not only a two-faced character that doesn't have any depth. Her role was like two contrasting colors that neither wanted to mix but always clashed on. Ruan Jiaojiao, herself thought that she could be as selfless and ruthless, but when she met the main characters and spent time with them, she somehow found warmth once again and her mind continued to sway.

Professor Tang's appearance, however, clouded her mind, leading her to commit a crime once again.

Ran Xueyi remembered when she read the script for her role, she almost wanted to cry. Ruan Jiaojiao's life was too miserable. She lost her little sister after she was abused and SA'd by a teacher. That teacher got some connection in the government and was not given any sentence. He was released and got to live another day.

On the other hand, Ruan Jiaojiao's little sister, who was around 10 years old at that time, was found floating in the river, lifeless. Ruan Jiaojiao went crazy from this incident and was finally adopted by the Chief Director Officer, who was overlooking the case at that time and let the culprit go as if nothing happened.

Since then, she has ventured out on a journey of no return. She continued to commit a crime of murders. Her main targets were all criminals who had done vile and ruthless things to innocent people and got away through their money and connections.

At the very end of her journey, she finally killed the adopted father who helped her little sister's murderer get away. Of course, Professor Tang, the man who killed her little sister, didn't get a happy ending as well.

As for Gao Yang and Yao Mu...

The two will live in regret when they find out the truth.

p However, their characters were the main leads and so, they cannot continue staying in their remorseful state and proceed with their lives to pursue other criminals.

Unfortunately, Ruan Jiaojiao was the existence that made their characters seem unsightly and annoying.

But that's how human nature and world laws are.

"D*mn it... Why did the writer have to kill Ruan Jiaojiao? Wouldn't it be better if she and the main leads worked together to fight evil criminals in the country?" Miao Li huffed and complained.

Su Zixi smiled helplessly, "You're right..."

Honestly, he really liked the role of Ruan Jiaojiao. If only there was no gender for the role, he would have signed up for it. Who wouldn't want a role that the audience would fall in love with once it was shown to them?

However, he still had some reservation and understanding of his own acting skill. He might be able to satisfy the directors and audience with his acting, but he will never be able to pull off the perfect assimilation of the role and himself like what Ran Xueyi did.

"What do you think, Sister Ran? Should we ask the writer to extend and put new scenes for you?" Miao Li approached the director's tent where Ran Xueyi was.

After Ran Xueyi heard the director call 'cut', she didn't stay where she was lying on the ground and quickly approached the monitor and watched the replay.

Director Sun heard Miao Li's suggestion and thought hard on it. It seems that it wasn't such a bad idea.

However, they still need Ran Xueyi's opinion about this.

Unexpectedly, Ran Xueyi said, "No, I don't think so."

"Why?" Miao Li seemed shocked when she heard her.

If it were others, they would jump directly to take this chance to get more scenes. Even Director Sun was surprised to hear her.

Ran Xueyi explained when she noticed their eyes on her, "If there were more scenes for Ruan Jiaojiao, her character would lose its essence. Ruan Jiaojiao is a mysterious and complicated character. If we add more scenes, I don't think the audience will react as well as when she has fewer scenes."

Director Sun understood what Ran Xueyi was saying. A character would lose its meaning if it's overplayed. Just like when you eat too much ice cream and you would grow sick of it.

Besides, Ruan Jiaojiao was just one of the many other villains in the movie and a third main character. It really wasn't good to add more scenes for her.

In order to celebrate her final scene at the studio, the production crew gave her a surprise. Everyone gave her a big red envelope and they even paused everything that day for them to go out and eat together.

After eating supper with everyone else, Ran Xueyi ran back to her hotel room to pack her clothes. In order for her to finish her scenes quickly, she decided to live in a hotel room so she could easily go to the studio whenever she had a scene.

When she closed the door behind her, Ran Xueyi felt the nausea that had been burning her inside climb up to her throat.

She ran towards the bathroom and threw up everything she ate earlier.

Chapter 234 Perfume Advertisement

Ran Xueyi didn't think that the crew would do their job so well that the classroom scene was overflowing with blood. Although it was all fake blood, the ruby color of blood on her hands and around her made Ran Xueyi feel lightheaded.

She almost collapsed on her last scene.

Ran Xueyi wasn't afraid of blood. It was just until now that she suddenly felt uncomfortable around them.

Probably because she was pregnant, her body rejected the usual things that she was commonly used to. Just like eating meat...

Earlier, the crew reserved the whole restaurant and ordered tons of meat. But just at the sight and smell of meat, she felt like she wanted to throw up. Thankfully, Ran Xueyi was able to force the bile forming in her throat down and kept a normal face when she was interacting with the others.

She should be grateful for her acting skill that she was able to survive that night without collapsing or vomiting in front of everyone.

After washing her mouth with water, Ran Xueyi stepped back to her room and lay on her bed.

It's been such a tiring week, but she won't stop until she is done with her plan.

The next morning, Zhao Fei knocked on her door and told her that she was scheduled to appear at another studio for a commercial shooting.

When the three arrived at the studio, Ran Xueyi was shocked to see that the studio was located inside the Song Group's office building. It was on the 7th floor and there were many other studios there.

"The Director for this advertisement shoot is someone you have already worked with in the past. You should know who Director Tian is, right?" Zhao Fei pressed the open button of the elevator.

Ran Xueyi nodded.

Director Tian was indeed someone she worked with in the past. To be honest, she has worked with him three times already. He is a renowned advertising director who has been trusted by many sponsor daddies who handed their products and brands in his hand. He was even called 'Ads Miracle Maker' for selling out every brand that fell on his hands.

Now, Ran Xueyi wondered why Director Tian wanted to work with her again?

Ran Xueyi wasn't arrogant enough to think that it was because of the online traffic she created recently. She also didn't think it was due to their friendship in the past that he picked her to star in his work.

So, why was it?

Ran Xueyi didn't want to continue thinking about this and soon, they arrived on their floor.

There were other studios on that floor and many other stars were shooting their own commercials there.

Though Ran Xueyi expected that she would meet someone there, she was a bit speechless when she saw Ran Yue standing with her manager in the corridor.

Similarly, Ran Yue heard the commotion near the elevator and turned her head.

She saw Ran Xueyi and Zhao Fei with Feng Huai. A frown appeared on her face.

"Why is she here?"

Manager Zhang also what she saw and warningly said, "Don't do anything stupid. Why else do you think people appear on this floor?"

Ran Yue's eyes flashed, "You mean she's also shooting an advertisement like me? Are you kidding me? Why is she even shooting ads in this building?"

Manager Zhang has grown used to Ran Yue's temperament. Usually, she was very calm and easy to get along with. Heck, she's smart sometimes, but when it comes to Ran Xueyi, she would always turn into someone irritating and stupid.

"It doesn't matter why she's here. Focus on your filming and try not to fail it. The investors might like you right now, but don't forget that they want their money to return to them as well," Manager Zhang reminded her.

Ran Yue didn't want to argue with her manager again and after losing a few times against Ran Xueyi, she finally decided to not bother with her. She would just have to surpass her and leave her in the dust...

Then, Ran Xueyi will never touch her again!

Ran Xueyi felt Ran Yue's burning gaze, but she didn't say anything. She followed Zhao Fei and Feng Huai to the studio number where Director Tian was waiting for them.

"Sh*t... She's going to film with Director Tian today?" Manager Zhang said in surprise.

Director Tian was someone that many stars wanted to work with. Ran Xueyi getting such a huge backer like Director Tian to film her in one of his advertisements, was like hitting a jackpot.

Ran Yue's advertisement that was sponsored and invested by some of her supporters couldn't even compare to ten Director Tian.

Ran Yue's face paled and urgently said, "What's happening? I thought Director Tian didn't have any advertisements to shoot this month! Why didn't you grab his advertisement instead!"

Manager Zhang was speechless. This... If he knew that Director Tian was filming an advertisement, would he even approach another director to shoot an ad?

However, Director Tian's sudden move was truly out of their expectation. Shooting an advertisement was widely spread in their circle. And so, many stars would try to audition or hope to be picked to appear in an advertisement. This time, however, there was no news about Director Tian shooting an advertisement hence Ran Yue lost this chance.

The only good thing about this is that she wasn't the only one. There were many others who didn't get picked.

Manager Zhang was the only one who was relieved. Ran Yue, however, wasn't pleased by this news and wanted to kick the door open. She wanted to drag Ran Xueyi out of the studio and replace her to shoot the advertisement!

"Ugh... Why do I feel cold suddenly?" Feng Huai murmured and walked beside Ran Xueyi, "It must be because of your younger sister. She was glaring at us as if she wanted to freeze us over. Do you think she leveled up her eyes?"

Ran Xueyi: "..."

Chapter 235 Director Tian Jun

Ran Xueyi no longer cared about Ran Yue and focused on her job. This time, she would be appearing for an advertisement featuring a perfume produced by a perfume tyrant in the country.

Director Tian's aesthetics when it comes to shooting advertisements was completely trusted by many local and foreign business tyrants. He graduated from the Glacier Academy of Fine Arts. His family was also a generation of commercial directors, film directors, and modeling directors.

That was one of the reasons why in the past, Ran Xueyi worked really hard to get an entry to his advertisement shoots and eventually became one of his favorites. Of course, Ran Xueyi also liked him a lot.

Out of all the directors she worked with in terms of shooting advertisements, Director Tian blew everyone out of the water. He has his own aesthetics and thoughts on what he wanted to show and each time, it was very successful.

As soon as Ran Xueyi and the others walked to the door of the dressing lounge, they heard the heated discussion inside.

"If it weren't because of Director Tian being here, I wouldn't even come here and shoot for someone who is no longer popular? Just what is Director Tian thinking?"

"I also want to know that. A popular artist or idol would ensure the advertisement's overall popularity and selling point. But instead of casting someone like Zhao Wei and Yu Suxin, who are both recognized in the entertainment circle and tens of millions of fans, he personally casted Ran Xueyi. Who is Ran Xueyi? I've never heard of her name before!"

"Exactly... Could it be that this unknown star paid a lot of money to the perfume brand and the investors forced Director Tian to cast her?"

"... We can only hope that we won't have to stay in the studio for a few days to finish the shooting. I just want to go home now."

Soon, three people signed almost at the same time, as if they were extremely worried about the advertisement shoot.

Although they were careful enough not to raise their voices, the door to the dressing lounge was slightly opened and their voice slipped through the gap and enabled the people near the door to clearly hear what they were saying.

Zhao Fei and Feng Huai's expressions changed when they heard these people talking behind their backs. Although it wasn't them being subjected as the main topic of their conversation, it was still their artist who was being mocked and insulted like this!

Ran Xueyi was also stunned when she heard them. Was Director Tian so easy to be bribed and forced to cast just anybody? She didn't think so... She worked with him in the past and knew how much importance he put into his job as an advertisement director very carefully. He will never bend to anyone just because someone said so.

Besides, Director Tian Jun's family was also a local business tyrant!

Would anyone underestimate him and look down on him because of his title as a Director?

Absolutely not!

Suddenly, Ran Xueyi felt somebody standing behind her. A comforting voice whispered and said, "You heard them? Don't mind them. You should be more clear that you cannot please everybody else and in your case, it'll be more difficult to convince everyone."

Ran Xueyi knew this as well. She was someone who was inactive for several years in the acting circle. It would be weird if she suddenly got popular just because she announced her revival.

There would be a lot of people who would doubt her, look down on her, and even try to suppress her. But so what? Was she going to let them do whatever they wanted?

"Good morning, Director Tian." Ran Xueyi turned around to face the man standing behind her.

Director Tian was already 37 years old this year. Yet, he had the aura of a rigorous young man and super male god in the entertainment circle.

Unfortunately, the women who wanted to climb on his bed wouldn't even think of doing it. After all, Tian Jun was a closetted man who preferred men over women.

This was a secret that Ran Xueyi found out several years ago. She accidentally saw him with another man, kissing behind the tree at a party. Since then, Ran Xueyi and Director Tian reached another type of friendship.

Director Tian lowered his head and said, "Ran Xueyi, I haven't seen you for several years, but why are you looking so blooming? Tell me, did you suck a man's essence like those succubus in fairytales before coming here?"

When Ran Xueyi heard him, she almost wanted to cough. Ahem, though Director Tian was just messing around with her, she still felt guilty since his words hit the bullseye in one shot!

She forgot that Tian Jun was a pervert who never felt ashamed saying these words!

In the next second, the conversation inside the room stopped. It seems that they found out that there were some people standing outside of the room.

One of the three stepped out to check and almost felt her soul flying out of her body. There were actually four people outside of the dressing lounge and what's more... the door was not closed!

Director Tian was even standing outside...

Director Tian sensed the anxious gaze of the makeup artist inside and raised an eyebrow, "Now, you know how to shut up? You were hired to do your job, not to use your mouth. If you want to use your mouths, I can find some men who will love using them!"

The three makeup artists who will help with the makeup, hairstyle, and costume were scared. They all looked down on their feet and shut their mouths. Director Tian was not someone they could go against.

Ran Xueyi didn't say anything and watched him scold these people. She sat in front of the mirror and waited until Director Tian finished.

Finally, the three stylists moved to help her prepare her look for the advertisement. All of them were moving like puppets with strings attached on their bodies.

After two hours of preparation, Ran Xueyi finally finished her makeup and costume.

"Little Ran, have you read the script for this ad?" Director Tian approached her again when the stylists left.

Ran Xueyi raised the script in her hand and said, "I'm still reading it.

Director Tian was surprised, "That's so not like you. Usually, you read the script before coming to the studio."

Ran Xueyi laughed and replied, "I just received the script this morning. I didn't have enough time to read everything and only read the first part."

Because there were three types of perfume she was going to shoot separately, Ran Xueyi had to change her look three times, and stand in front of the camera and adjust her acting style three times too.

The first perfume was called 'Siren's Temptation'. The script didn't say much, but instructed her to give the feeling of a siren seducing sailors to fall in the water.

Because the theme of the first perfume was 'seduction', everyone unanimously decided to use a siren's look for Ran Xueyi. Her eyes were designed with glittering eyeshadows and small pearls were stuck on each corner of her eyes.

Originally, they planned to use a blue wig, but Director Tian stopped the hair stylist and told them to use Ran Xueyi's real hair. Ran Xueyi's hair was extremely long and smooth like silk. With a bit of curling and pearls attached everywhere, the look of a seductress was finished.

Of course, the costume must coincide with the theme.

When Ran Xueyi saw the clothes, she was obviously surprised.

This dress... Isn't this a bit too irresistible?

Director Tian saw her looking at her dress and scoffed, "Don't be afraid, the strap is made of elastic and durable fabric. It won't come off even if you pull it. I actually wanted to use a succubus theme and even planned the costume design, but my partner told me to have mercy on you."

Ran Xueyi shivered and secretly thanked Tian Jun's partner for saving her.

When she imagined what Director Tian planned and designed for her dress, she could picture a dominatrix in black latex outfit with a whip and two horns. Bam, bam, are you tempted?

Ran Xueyi changed the topic and quickly said, "But why did you suddenly want to shoot an ad with me?"

Director Tian said, "I heard your agent is looking for an ad to shoot for you from a friend. I was intrigued since this is the first time I heard from you and decided to cast you. Anyway, I know your skill and capability. Add to that my miraculous and magical touch as the director, I'm sure that we will make a lot of noise when the ad is released."

He was very picky with the people he casted in his ad films. He naturally cannot choose an artist with low acting skills. Why would he choose some other artist when Ran Xueyi, someone he knew could pull anything off, offered herself for him to shoot an ad?
