

Daddy CEO 30

Chapter 30 I'll Wait For Your Return

Chairman Yi did not understand what she was talking about and it took him a long while before he could recover from what happened inside the office. What does she mean by that? Is she planning to return to the industry again?

When the secretary entered the office to check on the chairman, she found the chairman blankly looking ahead. Afraid that she would disturb him, she pulled back out of the room again and sighed deeply.

Inside the elevator, Ran Xueyi was smiling while staring at the cheque in her hand. She never felt so happy to have money in her hands, probably because she grew up in a wealthy background and she never experienced being short of money.

When she found out that she couldn't use her bank account, Ran Xueyi hesitated for a bit. Having no money means she had to rearrange her plans to a cost effective one.

After stepping out of the private elevator, Ran Xueyi didn't forget to send a text message to Chairman Yi, reminding him to tell his bank earlier since she was planning to get her money today.

And just when she stepped out of Star Studios, she received a call from Song Yu Han telling her that he couldn't come to their dinner plans because he had somewhere to go outside of A city. Ran Xueyi didn't want to hinder him or act clingy by trying to stop him and allowed him to go.

"Let's meet again when I return to the city," Song Yu Han told her

Ran Xueyi hummed, stepped into her car and started it. She then heard him speak again to the phone.

"Didn't you just rent out your apartment?"

Ran Xueyi replied, "Yes, I just rented it out this morning."

There was silence on the other side of the phone.

Then, he said after a split of a second, "Don't go to a hotel. I have a villa in A city where I currently live while staying in the city. Go and stay there."

"Alright." Ra Xueyi didn't try to refuse his offer. They were now married, there was no need for her to act shy and refuse her own husband's offer. Besides, shouldn't she try to be more shameless? "I'll wait for your return," she told him before hanging up.

After an hour, Ran Xueyi finally arrived at the address that Song Yu Han sent to her.

The villa was slightly bigger than she thought. She first assumed that since Song Yu Han lived alone, it should be a smaller villa. But it seems that she underestimated the Song family's young master.

The door to the villa opened and an old auntie came out. When the old woman saw Ran Xueyi, she quickly smiled and said, "Are you Xiao Han's wife?"

Ran Xueyi replied, "Yes."

The old woman looked her up and down. Then, she nodded while her smile spread wider. She approached Ran Xueyi and took a hold of her hand, "Xiao Han chose well. It seems that I don't have to worry about him anymore. Please take good care of our family's Xiao Han."

"I will, Auntie." Ran Xueyi didn't expect her to say things like this and wondered about her relationship with Song Yu Han. Was she someone related to the Song family?

"Let's go inside. I'll tour you to the villa and serve you dinner later."

Ran Xueyi was pulled inside by Housekeeper Shu or Aunt Shu. While walking inside the villa, Aunt Shu talked about a lot of things. For example, Aunt Shu was hired by Song Yu Han's mother to take care of him since he was young and followed him everywhere. She also mentioned that he never brought home a woman before so she has been quite worried about his health.

Ran Xueyi responded shyly. It didn't really matter to her if Song Yu Han had one or two secret lovers that he hid from the public. She wasn't that petty to feel it was wrong for him to have one or two lovers in the past since it was normal for a person to be in a relationship when they met someone their type.

Besides, she grew up being an actress and how many people had she seen remain single inside and outside the industry?

After eating dinner with Aunt Shu, the old woman told Ran Xueyi that she had somewhere else to go and left her alone in the villa. Ran Xueyi politely sent her out before making a beeline toward the stairs and went upstairs to the master bedroom.

The room was wide and clean. There was a bed, a couch against the wall, a bedside table, a lamp, an office desk, and a closet inside the room. Ran Xueyi lay on the bed and had a whiff of a masculine pine scent.

Mint and pine. That was the scent that she smelled from Song Yu Han. There were two guest rooms in the villa, but it seems that Aunt Shu didn't want her to stay in one of them, making Ran Xueyi stay inside Song Yu Han's bedroom.

Ran Xueyi took her phone and saw several messages and missed calls on the screen. She turned on the silent mode after she spoke with Song Yu Han and didn't see the messages and calls until now.

The moment she pressed the messages icon, a call came in. The caller's note was 'Mother'.

Ran Xueyi paused for a second before she answered the phone.

"Ran Xueyi! Did you forget you still have a mother? Why didn't you answer my calls?!" Mother Ran reprimanded her before getting to the point. "What do you think are you doing when you said you want to break off your engagement with Yang Baihua? Ran Xueyi, are you insane?!"

Ran Xueyi replied, "Yang Baihua already told you? That's great. Now, I don't have to go and tell you myself. That's right, I broke off from our engagement. There's no need to stop me. It's impossible for me to marry him in this lifetime. Don't contact me anymore."

After saying that, she hung up the phone and put her mother on the blacklist. There was no need for her to talk to her mother anymore.
