Chapter 326 Endless Support (1)

Ran Xueyi was in a good mood after giving Steffanie and Shi Lian what they deserved. Truth be told, if they hadn't provoked her like this and even tried to ruin her face by spilling chemical acid to her face, she might have only retaliated a little bit. But what they had done was merciless and inhumane. How could she not answer their action with an even more evil action?

Now, Steffanie could live in a prison where all lawless people who had the same mindset and maybe, even worse, are now living. Would she still be able to live a spoiled princess life in prison?

"Are you okay?" Adelle rushed inside the room as soon as the police officers dragged Steffanie outside.

"I'm fine. Don't worry about me. How's the thing I asked you earlier?" Ran Xueyi went back to bed to sit there.

Adelle's face lit up, and a big smile appeared on her lips. "I already sent the full video and other files we gathered from Steffanie's past violent history to all media platforms. Right now, they should be using this to bring her down, and Mr. Chang must be on the verge of crying tears of blood after the board members of Lullaby voted him out of his presidency position in the company."

"By the way, how did you know that they will certainly vote him out? Mr. Chang was known to his peers to be a gentleman with a righteous character and good working conduct. Did you find some dirt on him?"

Ran Xueyi looked away from her and responded indifferently: "Mr. Chang might have a good character, but his daughter ruined his future. He spoiled her rotten only because she was his only daughter in the family. I heard that the board members were quite unsatisfied with Mr. Chang's overly protecting of his daughter and kept on cleaning up her past actions. They might have forgiven him with a light punishment, but this has been going on for years, and one cannot let this chance pass to take everything away from him."

A good tree with a bad apple will always end up dying and being replaced. Naturally, there are other people who will keep an eye on him and take every opportunity to bring him down.

Adelle mused, "Well, it worked just fine for us anyway."

Now, all they had to do was wait for the final verdict and watch how Steffanie and Shi Lian would go down.

Days passed peacefully for Ran Xueyi and Song Yu Han. During this time, when the country's entertainment industry was again shaken by the news of Steffanie's imprisonment, she and Song Yu Han decided to stay home to spend time with each other.

Isolated by the messy world of business and the entertainment industry, the family of three was happy to play around and spend more time together.

Finally, on the fourth day after Steffanie's news broke out, Director Xiao called Ran Xueyi regarding her return to the film set.

Ran Xueyi thought about it for a moment. It has been quite a while since she went there, so if she still doesn't return, the filming schedule will be pushed back a bit more and would render the film crew to waste time, and they won't be able to join the new film crew.

Seeing her expression, Song Yu Han walked up to her and asked, "Was it Director Xiao?"

Ran Xueyi nodded. "He didn't exactly tell me to return as soon as possible, but I can't really waste everybody's precious time. But I also don't want to cut our time together."

After returning to the country, Ran Xueyi went straight to film and didn't get to be with her son. Xiao Zhanzhan might not say it and tell her he was used to her being gone to film, but Ran Xueyi didn't want him to get used to it. What kind of mother would she become if she let her son get used to her being gone by his side for too long? Allowing her three-year-old son to adjust to her schedule was being too irresponsible for a mother.

Song Yu Han did not know what she was thinking, but seeing her glance at Xiao Zhanzhan for a while, he had a few guesses.

Ran Xueyi threw herself into Song Yu Han's embrace and started speaking again, "I really don't want to be away from you and Xiao Zhanzhan... Why did I have to pick a job as an actress? I thought if I could achieve some awards, I could relax a little bit... However, reality just showed me the opposite."

When an actor or an actress was at the peak of their career, one might think they could laze around and choose whatever role they wanted and film whenever they felt like it. But in truth, the more glory and success one achieves in the entertainment industry, the more they are forced to act and accept more films to play in.

Especially Ran Xueyi, who had just returned to the country after achieving two international awards. There were more people who expected her to become more successful.

"If you want to relax, just tell me. No one will scold you, and I will always be there to support you."

He knew that at this moment, Ran Xueyi's thoughts were in conflict between spending the rest of her time with them and her acting. It didn't matter which one she ended up choosing as he would always support her decision.

Of course, Ran Xueyi was also well aware of this. She knew that Song Yu Han would still be there for her even if she quits the entertainment industry in the future.

"Then, do you want to live in the countryside with me?" Ran Xueyi played with his hand and suddenly asked this question. "Let's live in a secluded place where no one can disturb us. Maybe we can live near the seaside and build a villa there. My grandma and grandpa also chose to live in a small province where there are fewer people and the internet was never a need for them."

Chapter 327 Endless Support (2)

Song Yu Han thought of Ran Xueyi's grandparents. According to his investigation, three years ago, before they got married, Ran Yiqing and Chen Lushi, Ran Xueyi's grandfather and grandmother, were childhood sweethearts who met each other at an elementary school. But they were separated due to Chen Lushi's parents taking her with them overseas.

The childhood sweethearts love story was cut off from that point, and nobody really knew what would happen by then. Ran Yiqing and Chen Lushi led their lives and even found their own partners before they met again.

Nobody knew what happened after, but according to Grandpa Song's recollection, Ran Yiqing discovered that his girlfriend cheated on him and dumped her afterward. Two years later, Ran Yiqing found out that Chen Lushi had been single for a while and started to pursue her, trying to rekindle their love with each other during their elementary days.

Grandpa Song even furiously added that Chen Lushi was his long-time crush, but Ran Yiqing stole her from him, furthering their discord. Sadly, Chen Lushi chose Ran Yiqing in the end and ruthlessly dumped his grandfather.

The couple lived their whole life in isolation and successfully built their own hotel chain in City A. They only retreated to a life of complete seclusion when Ran Mo Zheng, Ran Xueyi's father, decided to marry his secretary, currently Ran Xueyi's mother, Li Jing.

Since then, Grandpa Ran and Grandma Ran never interfered with their son's life and dedicated it to developing Ran Xueyi into a fine woman.

If Ran Xueyi wanted them to live just like how her grandparents spent the rest of their lives, Song Yu Han didn't have reasons to say no.

But Ran Xueyi might not leave the industry yet. She still has plans before going into seclusion with him.

The next morning. The country's most prominent news and media platform published the entire full uncut video of Shi Lian throwing a cup on Ran Xueyi. The article explained everything that happened between Steffanie and Ran Xueyi while highlighting Steffanie's devious intentions and ruthlessness. They even published Steffanie's previous bullying history back in high school until the present time.

They focused on how Steffanie used her wealthy background to bully her classmates, defame Ran Xueyi's reputation, and pressure her manager to do evil deeds against other actresses. It also included pouring hazardous chemical acid on Ran Xueyi in an attempt to ruin her face.

The entire country was shaken by this incident, and everyone cursed at Steffanie's evilness, saying that she was the devil's spawn. No wonder Ran Xueyi retaliated with several lawsuits against her...

But, wait...

Does that mean that the actress who was involved in an accident several days ago turned out to be Ran Xueyi?

Once again, many sympathizers went to comment on Ran Xueyi's posts to send their support to her and told her comforting words.

Everyone, including passersby who did not use We*bo, came out to support her, expressing their concerns. In their eyes, Ran Xueyi was truly pitiful. She had just recently returned after giving glory to the country, but someone was already targeting her.

The incident where a scandal broke with Ran Xueyi having a gold master was once again discussed by netizens. This time, however, they no longer doubted Ran Xueyi; instead, they all now scolded and cursed at Steffanie's shallowness.

So what if she has a gold master? So what if she doesn't?

,m Does it have anything to do with you?

Even Bai Jingjing, who was gaining an advantage from that incident, now refused to appear on any media platforms, fearing that fans would ambush her and reporters question her involvement with Steffanie.

Just what did she do to deserve this? This was all because of Steffanie's actions!

Of course, the netizens who were usually lurking silently while watching the drama can no longer stay quiet in the dark.

["Hahaha, Bai Jingjing must have thought that she could avoid repercussions. Isn't she Steffanie's idol? I think the police department might need to check her as well. Who knows if she did some horrible things too, and Steffanie only followed her due to their fan-idol relationship, right?"]

["Oh, so it wasn't only me who was thinking like this? I knew Bai Jingjing was not a good person when I saw that video of her slapping a fan's phone. That video was now erased and nowhere to be found."]

["I've followed many celebrities and stars, but I've never met someone as vicious as Steffanie Chang. Is she out of her mind?"]

["That's right. Thankfully, Ran Xueyi handled everything so calmly. It's so scary when you think that someone could actually pour acid on your face!"]

"But, Ran Xueyi's response shouldn't be this lukewarm. Why must she send Steffanie Chang to the police? If it was me, I would ruin Steffanie's face before sending her away!"

["Upstairs, are you insane? If Ran Xueyi did that, she'd be sent to prison too! Although I also want to do the same to Steffanie Chang, it's better to leave this to the police to handle. I heard she'd be sent to the most ruthless prison in the country, where all kinds of criminals sentenced to a lifetime are sent. I can already imagine Steffanie Chang's ending there."]

Those who still wanted to support Bai Jingjing and those who admired Steffanie's viciousness did not comment and join in the discussion, fearing that their lives would be over if they did.

At the same time, Director Xiao saw an unprecedented rise in the popularity of the TV drama << The Untamed >> even before an announcement was released by their publicity team. The following count on the official page broke through millions and now became one of the most followed films of all time! And the film hadn't even finished filming everything!

After Ran Xueyi's absence, many film crews were dejected to work. Still, they were soon injected with energy boosters upon seeing the success of the film before it was even officially released!

Every day, reporters and fans would camp outside of the filming location just to wait for Ran Xueyi to appear again. Whether there was Ran Xueyi or not, they still hung around the place just to show their endless support for her.

Regardless of everything else, Ran Xueyi won a lot of sympathy from everyone. Famous directors expressed their willingness to work with Ran Xueyi in their films, saying they want her talent and popularity.

As for brands, they relentlessly called and reached out to Ran Xueyi, but they were redirected to speak to Adelle regarding any cooperation with them. Of course, the remuneration, brand reputation, and value of Ran Xueyi was also an important factor in choosing these brands.

And because Ran Xueyi was getting all the attention from everyone, there were some people who were hoping to get some of that attention.

For example, the Ran family.

Chapter 328 Ran Family's Discord (1)

The Ran family has been going through a lot of decline after Ran Xueyi ruined Ran Yue's birthday party with that recording she showed publicly. It was quite a grand show that everyone unwillingly and willingly watched as if they were watching some kind of dog-blooded TV drama.

The Yang family also shared some of their misfortunes starting with Ran Yiqing's intervention and not allowing them to be partnered into any business proposals and ventures in City A. Although they weren't able to achieve what they wanted in City A, a second-tier city in the country, they still found some way out and became business partners with other companies outside of the city.

During those three years of Ran Xueyi's disappearance from their lives, they weren't living so grandly anymore.

In any case, both the Ran family and Yang family hated Ran Xueyi so much, but can't do anything against her now that she's one of the most popular and sought-after actresses internationally and domestically.

Ran Yue returned home late that night. Her role in the film was not without any importance and the scenes were less than twenty, but due to Steffanie's repetitive mistakes on set and also hers, she had to do it countless of times, draining all her energy.

As soon as she stepped into the darkened entrance of their family home, Ran Yue saw a dark shadow standing in the corner and almost gave her a fright.

"Mother! What are you doing? Are you trying to scare me to death?!" Ran Yue's body was too tired to care about showing any respect to her mother.

"You... are you working with Ran Xueyi in the same film?" Li Jing hurriedly approached her. Under the lights coming from the entrance, Ran Yue could see the dark bags under her mother's eyes.

With the Ran family's current situation, her mother hasn't been doing well. She became more and more haggard as time passed.

Thinking of Ran Xueyi, who still hasn't appeared to film after the news with Steffanie broke out, Ran Yue wished she wouldn't appear forever!

But things weren't up to her anyway, so what was the use of praying for Ran Xueyi to not appear in front of her?

Ran Yue was about to respond to her mother with a lie, but Li Jing looked like she was possessed and latched on her arms.

"Yue'er, she's in your film, right? I saw the news this morning, her name was mentioned together that young lady from the Chang family!"

Feeling the pain from being suddenly grabbed by her mother, Ran Yue was slightly annoyed with her endless pestering. "Mom! Stop this, you're hurting me!"

At her daughter's scream, Li Jing slowly looked down at her own hands and saw her hands forcefully holding her arms. She reluctantly let Ran Yue and said, "I'm sorry... Mommy is a bit worried about you so I acted a little rough."

Ran Yue looked at her with a complicated expression and sighed, "Don't say anymore. I know I have no value in your eyes after Yang Baihua decided to keep his mistress' child."

Three years ago, she was still her mother's favorite daughter and went along with all her wishes. Ran Mo Zheng even forced the Yang family to accept her as their daughter-in-law in place of Ran Xueyi. However, everything soon changed when Yang Baihua's mistresses came out to demand him to take responsibility.

And it wasn't just one woman who came out to cause trouble for Ran Yue.

There were four women!

And one of them was even pregnant.

How could she not lose her mind from this?

She thought Yang Baihua was only playing with Song Qian because she was pretty and they worked side by side, but who knew that Song Qian actually revealed that she was pregnant with Yang Baihua's child on the same night as her wedding with Yang Baihua!

Ran Yue suffered from the humiliation after finding out the truth. How could she take it? She deceived and played along with her sister's fiancé to cheat with another woman. She even stole Yang Baihua for herself. But in the end, the one who benefited from this all was Song Qian all along!

But that wasn't the worst of it all.

Ran Yue thought that even after her marriage had failed after the arrival of Song Qian in their lives, her parents would still hold onto her and put all their dreams on her, but who could have thought that Ran Mo Zheng was more ruthless than she thought.

A week later Song Qian appeared, Ran Mo Zheng brought along his mistress one day. That mistress brought along her two children from her previous marriage, and the two children just had to be somewhat highly educated and with several achievements under their names. Ran Mo Zheng threw out a welcoming party for the two children and announced that they will be his children as well. He even changed their names to match his, completely forgetting about the existence of his current wife and real daughter.

Ran Yue was going to continue speaking when she saw the red marks on her mother's face. The five lines marking her face were startling red compared to her pale skin.

"Mother, what happened to your face?" Ran Yue held her mother's chin and turned her to the side to get a better look at it.

Li Jing finally showed a glint in her eyes and resentfully said, "It was that mistress!"

"What?! How could she do this to you? What did father do? Did they at least punish them?" It had been a while since she came home and so she didn't know the situation in the Ran family's mansion. But seeing her mother like this, it could be far worse than she expected.

"Let's go and find father. He should at least do something if they act rudely like this towards you!"

Li Jing happily followed her daughter to her husband's study. She couldn't wait to see that mistress's tears on her face as she apologized to her.

Chapter 329 Ran Family's Discord

At this moment, Ran Mo Zheng did not know that Ran Yue had arrived and was pacifying his crying mistress.

He just came home after working late in the office, but as soon as he entered his study, Ning Qing hugged him while crying. He spent a lot of effort just to have her speak why she was crying and when he found out it was because of his wife, Li Jing, he couldn't help but frown.

Li Jing was not the type to cause trouble for him unless it was something reasonable. When he announced that he had raised a mistress somewhere else and even brought home Ning Qing's daughter with him, Li Jing only slapped and screamed at him, saying he had done great injustice to her.

Ran Mo Zheng could only lower his head and feel guilty for his own actions. It wasn't that he didn't love Li Jing anymore. She was still his first love and will always be. However, time has changed everything and he couldn't help but have fun a little just like his other peers who kept several mistresses and had illegitimate children scattered in the country.

At least, he only kept one woman, right?

After his confession, Ran Mo Zheng gave everything that Li Jing wanted, buying everything that she liked. Thankfully, Li Jing no longer fussed over this matter and even accepted the fact that he couldn't undone what was already done.

Because of this, he happily brought his mistress home together with her children. Li Jing only coldly glanced at them before she kept a distance from them.

So, what was going on? Why did she suddenly cause trouble when he was outside?

Looking at Ning Qing's tear-streaked face, he felt a little bit sad for her and pitied her. He patted her back and gently said, "It's alright. Don't cry anymore. I'll talk to her tomorrow and tell her not to cause any trouble again."

Ning Qing cried even more and hugged him tightly, hiding the smile that exposed her acting. But it was only briefly revealed as she continued to act pitifully in front of Ran Mo Zheng.

Suddenly, as the two kept hugging each other, the door to the study was pushed open without warning.

Ran Mo Zheng and Ning Qing flinched as if they were criminals who were caught by police officers, and simultaneously looked towards the direction of the door.

Upon seeing Ran Yue standing before the door, Ran Mo Zheng pushed Ning Qing out of his embrace. Ning Qing, pushed gently to the side, felt wronged and bowed her head down, not revealing the flash in her eyes when she saw Ran Yue standing in front.

Ran Yue briefly glanced at Ran Mo Zheng before her sights fell on Ning Qing. She snorted and mockingly said, "Already playing the white lotus in front of my father, Miss Ning?"

Ran Yue coldly laughed, "Why don't you watch your mistress and her children first before telling me what to do?"

Ran Mo Zheng was angered by her tone and was about to scold her, but a soft hand stopped him.

Seeing her like this, Ran Mo Zheng was even more angered. He remembered that whenever Ran Yue came home, Ning Qing would show a fearful expression in her face and hide inside his room. What does this mean? Did Ran Yue think that just because she was his daughter, she could just do whatever she wanted to the people he liked?

Ran Mo Zheng exploded just thinking of what Ran Yue could have done to his mistress and shouted, "Ran Yue! How dare you say that to me, your father?! Do you even see me in your eyes? Now that you're married to Yang Baihua, that bastard, you won't even show respect to me?"

"Is it because I didn't treat you well after what Yang Baihua did to you? Because I didn't seek justice. So now, you're rebelling against me?!"

Ran Yue already expected her father to explode upon seeing the slight movements made by Ning Qing. But she didn't expect that her father would actually mention Yang Baihua in their conversation.

He knew exactly why her marriage failed and he felt pity for this daughter he raised for two decades.

Regardless of what happened, Ran Mo Zheng would never mention her marriage and problems in front of strangers.

But today, he just had to say those words. It was even in front of his mistress, Ning Qing.

Li Jing, hearing her own husband saying those words to their daughter, was immediately furious.

Within that second, she crossed the threshold and gave Ran Mo Zheng a resounding slap.

"Ran Mo Zheng, you dare raise your voice to your daughter? For what exactly? For your mistress?! I'm telling you this, but don't expect that I will stay silent just because I let you take in your mistress and her bastards inside my house!"

Li Jing turned her head towards Ning Qing and scoffed. "And you... do you think this is the era of concubines taking over the legal wife? Don't make me laugh! What do you think will happen if I filed for a divorce? Do you still think the thigh you're holding on will still have everything?"

"What did you say?!" Ran Mo Zheng was alarmed by Li Jing's words. "Divorce? Are you out of your mind?"

"Yes! I was insane to even think you'd never change your heart and have only me! Ran Mo Zheng, today, I, Li Jing, swear that I will protect my daughter and will file a divorce before you and your mistress could hurt her!"

After screaming until she was hoarse, Li Jing pulled Ran Yue outside and drove away from the Ran family's mansion.

As they sat silently inside the car for a long moment, Ran Yue finally opened her mouth to speak, "Mother... you didn't have to leave. They'll live happier if you leave! And that was our home in the first place, why does it have to be us that needs to leave?"

Li Jing shook her head and sighed. "Your father... He's been planning to sell that place. After the Yang family decided to keep that woman's child, he couldn't take it and so he wanted to use the money to invest in stocks. It's useless for us to stay there."

Ran Yue felt her heart being struck with lightning and thunder. "Then, what are we going to do?"

Li Jing: "Meet Ran Xueyi."

Chapter 330 The Couple In Love

"No."

She was already happy with Ran Xueyi taking a break from filming. And if things worked in her way, she would be able to finish all her scenes before Ran Xueyi comes back. Why would she want to see her older sister again?

Li Jing didn't know what happened between Ran Xueyi and Ran Yue in the filming set and thought that Ran Yue's refusal was due to what happened three years ago.

She took out a cigarette and lit it up before sticking the filtered side to her mouth. The smoke slowly rose and condensed inside the car.

Li Jing squeezed the cigarette in her hand under Ran Yue's shocked eyes, thought for a while, and then explained, "I know what you're thinking. Ran Xueyi will definitely not help us after what happened three years ago. If I was her, I wouldn't even stand the faces of the people who abandoned her."

Ran Yue asked, "Then, why do you want to meet her if you already know?"

"It's because despite what happened, your father cannot win against Ran Xueyi." Li Jing tapped her fingers on the steering wheel as she continued, "Three years ago, Ran Xueyi left. But the inheritance battle between your father and Ran Xueyi is still going on. Now that she returned, more successful than ever, do you think the board members will even consider your father to become the next chairman?"

As the second daughter, Ran Yue never showed any interest in her grandparents' company and pursued her dream of being a popular actress. Right now, Ran Yue still didn't have any intentions of entering the battle of inheritance.

It was only Ran Xueyi who helped her grandfather and trained under their strict lessons.

Ran Xueyi was more familiar with the board members and now that she was someone sought-after by many brands domestically and internationally, the board members will surely weigh Ran Xueyi more than their father.

It was a good plan to take Ran Mo Zheng down.

But the question is... Is Ran Xueyi even willing to join hands with them?

Furthermore... Ran Xueyi's warning to her was something she couldn't forget.

"Achoo!"

Ran Xueyi sniffed and was about to rub her nose when Song Yu Han handed a tissue to her.

After saying her thanks, she wiped her nose and sniffed again. As expected, her nose clogged up.

Song Yu Han looked away from his laptop and worriedly asked in concern, "Did you catch a cold?"

Ran Xueyi shook her head. She understands her body well and knew that she was perfectly healthy.

Song Yu Han frowned. "I'll cook up some chicken porridge for you to drink. It'll be bad if you really end up getting a cold."

Ran Xueyi still wanted to say she was not sick, but hearing him say he was cooking, how could she pass on that offer? Naturally, she wanted to taste Song Yu Han's dishes and most importantly, watch her man cook for herself!

After eating until she was completely full, Ran Xueyi lay on the bed and thought about the situation of Shi Lian. Suddenly, she thought that the manager was truly pitiful. Shi Lian was used by Steffanie under blackmail and had to do the shady business because she had no other choice. If she hadn't done that, her father's life would become miserable with her.

However, even if she had some pity towards Shi Lian, Ran Xueyi couldn't possibly let Shi Lian off either.

Shi Lian committed sins after sins under Steffanie's orders and even if she was not willing, she couldn't be free of her sinful deeds.

That was why Ran Xueyi included Shi Lian in her lawsuit.

Right now, Shi Lian was sentenced to two-years in prison and if she acted according to the rules and showed that she's ready to go out to face the world again, she could serve 12 months of probation.

Furthermore, Ran Xueyi was willing to support her father's hospital needs so Shi Lian did not have anything to worry about when she's inside the prison.

As she was thinking deeply, Ran Xueyi felt a chill sweep past her legs. When she looked down to see what was going on; it turned out, Song Yu Han had removed her pants without her noticing.

Ran Xueyi: "...When did you-"

"Since you have time to think about something else when I'm with you, shouldn't I do something that can attract your attention?"

"By eating me out?"

Song Yu Han nodded. "By eating you out."

In reality, Song Yu Han saw her being dazed and thinking about something deeply. Worried that she was thinking about the matter with Steffanie and Shi Lian again, he wanted to distract her. He just knew that Ran Xueyi was a little soft-hearted especially towards Shi Lian's case.

Initially, Ran Xueyi wanted to let Shi Lian go, but Song Yu Han advised against it, telling her that she shouldn't be too compassionate. What would happen if Shi Lian was successful in pouring that acid in her face?

Song Yu Han did not care about a person's appearance, but it was not the same for Ran Xueyi. She worked hard to protect her image and keep her dream only for someone to destroy it just for a moment of selfishness and self-immunity. How could he let Shi Lian go?

Ran Xueyi giggled as his warm hands ran up and down her slender and uncovered legs. Flushing a little bit at the closeness of his face to her privates.

"Uh... How about Xiao Zhanzhan?"

"He's asleep."

"Really asleep?"

"Don't worry, he won't wake up even if you make a sound."

In an instant, the lights were turned off. The sound of fabric rustled across the room as clothes were strewn to the floor. In the darkness, two bodies were firmly pressed together, the shadows of two people could even make one's face heat up and blush, while the sounds of their pants and hurried breathing echoed.
