Chapter 351 Meeting Director Fan Ning

As soon as Director Xiao was done speaking to the show's director, he made them follow them to meet Moonlight entertainment's chief director, Fan Ning.

While they were on their way to the floor where Fan Ning was, Director Xiao couldn't help but praise her and her works to Ran Xueyi and Adelle.

Director Xiao: "Fan Ning is five years older than you. I think the two of you can hit it off quickly for as long as you don't go over the line with her! She's a bit more strict in choosing her artists than me so you can rest assured that nothing like Steffanie could ever happen when you work with her."

Adelle thought that it was great if Fan Ning was not like other directors who couldn't refuse investors and sponsors of the films. In this way, Ran Xueyi would not have to be bullied by anyone!

Ran Xueyi, however, was very relaxed and indifferent when she heard Director Xiao's words.

In the years she had been living as an actress in this industry, she'd heard and seen many directors who were renowned for being strict and disciplined; they were even overly praised for being honest and righteous when they pick the actors and actresses in their films. But in truth, no one can really refuse in the face of money and opportunities.

The directors who said to never accept any actors and actresses with backings still bend their backs, and quietly and secretly let them in their films in the end.

Of course, Ran Xueyi won't blame them for that. Every human fights for themselves. They are selfish in nature just as she was selfish enough to pursue her dreams rather than be an ordinary housewife taking care of her husband and child.

The directors are only making sure that they could live and their films could survive. Was it so hard to understand?

Soon, the group left the elevator when they reached their floor. An assistant was waiting for them to arrive and he directly led them to Director Fan Ning's office.

,m "The director is still on a call with the vice president. Please wait here outside for a little bit longer," the assistant told them before asking them if they wanted anything while waiting.

Director Xiao was thirsty after talking so much with the show's director and asked for water. Adelle wanted a glass of juice, while on the other hand, Ran Xueyi gestured that she did not want anything.

After getting something to satisfy their thirst, the door to the office opened, and a tall, pretty woman poked her head out.

"Oh, you're here, Director Xiao! Come in, come in, All of you should come in." Fan Ning opened her office wide to let them inside while being apologetic for letting them wait, "It was my bad. I had you wait ten minutes later from our scheduled meeting."

Director Xiao shook his head: "It's alright, we didn't wait too long and your assistant gave us delicious drinks while waiting."

"Then, I have to pay my assistant a bonus for taking care of my senior," Fan Ning joked around with Director Xiao a for a little while before turning her attention to Ran Xueyi. She had a surprised expression on her face as she said, "And you are Miss Ran Xueyi. I've heard what happened between you and Steffanie. You did well to put her where she belongs."

Director Fan remembered a few months ago that Steffanie tried to enter into one of her films. She ruthlessly rejected her and got a call from Mr. Chang the very next day. It was a ridiculous event in her life. The daughter did not get what she wanted and went to her daddy to complain then, daddy threatened her to have her blacklisted.

After Fan Ning talked about her past encounter with Steffanie, she finally went to talk about business. "Director Xiao is here to ask me if I have any resources for Ran Xueyi, right?"

Director Xiao was slightly embarrassed to admit but still, he nodded: "That's right. She's a good tree that is already growing. I thought you could use her to your next film."

"And what do you think about this, Miss Ran?"

Ran Xueyi thought for a bit and said, "Actually, before coming here, I read the script that Director Xiao handed to me. After reading it, I couldn't sleep without thinking about what will happen next to the characters. So, in the end, I finished reading the script in just a day."

This was the highest degree of praise a director and scriptwriter could get. Naturally, Fan Ning felt good when she heard this coming from Ran Xueyi.

However, she knew that there were too many pretentious people in the acting industry so she decided to test out Ran Xueyi.

"Oh, really? What part did you like in the script?" Fan Ning wanted to see if Ran Xueyi was all talk and lied to her.

Ran Xueyi knew Fan Ning's intention, but she was prepared and hadn't lied to her at all. She said, "There are too many scenes that I could say I like as well... But the scene where Lu Ningning met her brother after he went to the army made my heart move. The separation of the siblings was too painful to read and it was also filled with misunderstanding."

"Unfortunately, the older brother didn't hear the truth because he died. Lu Ningning's regret after what happened was too painful to look at. I imagined the hurt she was feeling and thought she might have not really forgiven herself even after she married Ren Yunxi and still wanted to punish herself for what happened to her brother."

"That part made me think that she was extremely pitiful and devoted. But unfortunately, it was too late for her to regret the things she said to her brother..."

'pat'

Ran Xueyi stared at Fan Ning in surprise.

The director who was sitting before her had her eyes streaming with tears after tears. It looked like there was no stopping it.

Fan Ning became embarrassed by her sudden reaction and wiped her tears. But the more she wiped it away, the more it dripped down her face.

"Sorry, I couldn't stop crying. Can we continue this conversation next time?" Fan Ning felt awkward. She was the one who wanted to test Ran Xueyi, but look at her, she's tearing up too much.

Chapter 352 Here To Meet The President

Ran Xueyi looked at Director Xiao and saw each other's meaning in their eyes. They were both confused but also curious about the reason behind Fan Ning's tears.

The group stood up to leave the office, leaving Fan Ning to cry alone.

Director Xiao felt awkward after seeing a woman cry in front of him. As a man, he naturally has a soft spot for a woman's tears. He couldn't help but feel bothered and excused himself to go ahead of them.

Standing alone in the corridor, Ran Xueyi was also deep in her thoughts.

Adelle was bothered by her silence and was worried that Ran Xueyi was thinking of the consequences of her sudden confession when she received Guo Yun's call.

"Guo Yun? Is there something you need?" Adelle said as soon as their call connected.

"Is Ran Xueyi there with you? She's not answering her phone so the Boss asked me to call you," Guo Yun told her.

Hearing this, Adelle handed the phone to Ran Xueyi and said, "It's your husband's secretary."

Guo Yun? Why did he call? Ran Xueyi wondered before saying, "I'm here... what happened?"

Guo Yun: "The boss couldn't reach your phone so he had me call Adelle. Wait a moment, I'll transfer the phone to the boss."

Ran Xueyi waited for a bit before hearing the chocolatey, deep voice of Song Yu Han, saying, "Are you alright? You didn't answer my call after making such an announcement. Nothing bad happened, right?"

Song Yu Han was most afraid of Ran Xueyi experiencing a backlash after her announcement. He would feel extremely guilty if she ended up being mobbed by her fans outside of his own company.

Ran Xueyi felt warmed by his words and comforted him, "I'm alright. Don't worry about me. I'm still at your company, what could possibly happen to me?"

Song Yu Han was relieved to hear this before saying, "Come up to the president's office. I'll wait for you here."

"Ah?"

The call disconnected before Ran Xueyi could comprehend what he had just said.

Seeing her reaction, Adelle asked, "What did your husband say?"

Ran Xueyi raised her head and looked at her: "He... he told me to come up to the president's office."

"Huh?" Adelle was also bewildered and asked, "Are you sure?"

"Yes..." Ran Xueyi nodded.

Afterwards, Ran Xueyi and Adelle went to enter the elevator once again to go to the president's office.

When they reached their destination, a female assistant was sitting behind the desk and told them, "I think you're on the wrong floor. This is the president's office. If you're looking for the audition room, it's on the 3rd floor of this building."

The female assistant saw that Ran Xueyi's face was too beautiful and immediately thought that she was an actress who was hoping to be part of Moonlight's list of celebrities signed under them.

Everyday, there were about a hundred people who wanted to audition for the company. Sadly, not many got in and almost everyone was rejected.

Ran Xueyi was not there to audition and replied, "I'm here to meet the president."

The female assistant looked at Ran Xueyi for a bit before saying in an annoyed tone, "The president? I don't know where you got the news from or who told you, but he's not here."

She had a similar conversation about the president everyday. This method was almost boring her to death. Most of the actresses and actors who came to audition would either pretend they got lost just to see if they could 'accidentally' encounter the mysterious president. Some even faked an appointment and tried to get in. There were also those types who flaunted their background and threatened to have her fired if she didn't let them meet the president.

Of course, their intentions are way too obvious. They just wanted to gain some bit of favor from the president.

Lots of the people who got 'lost', threatened, and faked their way into this floor were jealous of her because she could work under the president and see him everyday.

But the truth couldn't even be so dark and deceiving!

Since the day she was hired and placed there to attend to the guests who left the elevator on this floor, the number of times she had seen the president could only be counted with one hand, okay!

Was she lucky? Yes, she got into one of the most prestigious entertainment companies in the country and her monthly income was thrice the amount she could get from her previous job.

But actually, all her training has gone to waste!

She turned into an elevator guardian who threw the uninvited guests out of the floor.

The female assistant looked at Ran Xueyi with an expression filled with judgment and added, "Miss, you and manager should just focus on your career. Don't think about what you cannot reach and get. It's better if you don't become like those other actresses and actors who wasted their life regretting their decisions."

Ran Xueyi didn't think that she would suddenly receive advice from the female assistant. She was also confused why the female assistant had to say that to her.

Adelle, on the other hand, was flabbergasted. "You..."

Miss assistant, why don't you worry about yourself instead of us? I think you might have to say goodbye to your job after today!

The female assistant was proud of herself after making such a speech and waited for them to leave when the elevator suddenly opened, revealing two men inside.

The female assistant's soul shuddered and almost escaped her body when she saw the familiar face of the president and hurried over to them.

"Pre...president! I didn't know you would come today!" Then, she remembered that there were still two uninvited people on the floor and turned towards them to chase them out before the president got angry at the sight of them.

Just then, the female beauty walked up to the president's side and hooked her arm around his.

The female assistant was scared to death and was too late to warn her.

But then, she heard Ran Xueyi say: "What took you so long?"

Chapter 353 Ran Xueyi Is My Wife

"Did I make you wait for too long?" Song Yu Han wrapped his arm around fragile back.

"No, I just got here too."

Song Yu Han glanced at the dumbstruck female assistant and raised an eyebrow at her while asking, "Did something happen before I got here?"

Even though he wasn't there to witness what happened, Song Yu Han has a great sense of instincts when it comes to Ran Xueyi. Thus, when he saw the female assistant's pale face, he could already guess that something must have happened before he got there.

The female assistant was scared to death when she heard the President Song question her. It was like she was inside an interrogation room, under the lights, where she became the viable suspect to a crime.

Well, to put it correctly, she did indeed do something!

"Uhm... I..." What was she going to say?

Ran Xueyi saw the female assistant stumble in her speech and decided to help her out. She turned to look at Song Yu Han and explained, "It's nothing. She's just doing her job and mistook me as someone else. I can't blame her since we haven't made an official announcement of our relationship, after all."

Song Yu Han relaxed when he heard her say.

Then, he looked over at the female assistant, who cowered under his cold and indifferent gaze, and told her, "Ran Xueyi is my wife. You can let her through this floor and let her inside my office whenever she wants."

So, that's what it was... Their relationship was between husband and wife. No wonder, the Boss was glaring at her; it was all for the Madam!

Thankfully, I didn't try to report this to the guards and have her thrown out of the company! The female assistant felt that one part of her soul left her body before making a merry go round the world and returning to her body, anew.

The female assistant immediately turned over into a new leaf and tried to fawn over Ran Xueyi, the Madam.

Ran Xueyi found this situation interesting as this was probably the first time that Song Yu Han had declared her as his own wedded wife in front of somebody. It seems that they're working their way to the day where they will publicly announce their relationship in front of everyone.

Afterwards, Ran Xueyi followed Song Yu Han to his office in the main branch of Moonlight Entertainment. Meanwhile, Adelle and Guo Yun decided to lounge around the front desk where the female assistant called Wang Yan.

"Senior Guo, is that... is that woman really the Big Boss' wife? I thought it was an actress trying to climb and hang on our boss' thigh so I told her to leave. She won't be angry at me, right?" Wang Yan was most afraid of this to happen.

Guo Yun laughed and said, "Ran Xueyi is not that kind of person so, you don't have to worry about losing your job."

Adelle chimed as well when she heard them, "Don't compare Ran Xueyi to other women. She won't become arrogant and abuse people just because she married Song Yu Han."

If Ran Xueyi was that kind of woman, would Song Yu Han marry and fall in love with her?

The office was 100 meters wide; a small apartment with a kitchen and living room could even be built in it. However, Song Yu Han chose to use a minimalistic style to design his office.

With only two colors -- black and white -- the room was too simple and ordinary yet the sophisticated feeling was not at all stripped away. In the center of the room, two black chesterfield sofas faced across each other and a quality made oak was situated in the middle, for the guests to sit on when they entered the room. Ahead of it, right next to the floor to ceiling plain window, was a wide white office desk with a stack of documents placed on top of it.

"This is where you do your work?" Ran Xueyi couldn't help but ask. This place was too simple for someone as charming and handsome as Song Yu Han.

Song Yu Han walked to stand behind her and said next to her ear, "It's a temporary office. I don't usually finish all my work here and have someone send the papers via email instead. I only come here when there's something important."

That explains why there's not a touch of life in there then.

Ran Xueyi moved forward to take a step towards the window and see the city-wide view that could be seen from where they were. However, as soon as she took a step forward, she was immediately pulled back into a warm embrace as a pair of lips found their way on the crook of her neck.

Startled, Ran Xueyi yelped a scream and adjusted to the sudden hug she received. She relaxed her body and let him hold her by the waist as Song Yu Han masterfully turned her around to place a kiss between her lips.

Ran Xueyi instantly enjoyed his gentleness before losing her breath through his touches. It wasn't until they found each other semi leaning against the couch that the couple stopped their sweet exchange.

Song Yu Han rubbed her lips with his thumb and mumbled with a husky and breathless voice, "I'm sorry. I just realized how selfish I was when I watched the live stream. I thought I wouldn't be sad and angry even if you said that you're not dating anyone, but I couldn't help but feel hurt and possessive when I heard you say those words at first."

"After you said that you're married, I was extremely happy, I could die right at this instant. But then, I also felt guilty because I know your career might become a bit harder for you now that you've announced the truth to everyone."

Ran Xueyi grabbed Song Yu Han's handsome face and cheekily smiled, "It's not hard for me... I'm married, that's the truth, there's no need for me to hide this fact. Eventually, people will find out about us. Sooner or later, people will even find out about Xiao Zhanzhan."

"And when that time comes, I won't hide and tell the world; I am married to the most handsome and sweet husband in the world and gave birth to the most adorable child they will ever meet."

"Instead of being afraid... Right now, I feel a sense of pride. I will tell the world I'm the luckiest woman alive to have the two of you in my life."

Song Yu Han buried his head on her neck and hugged her tightly. His light hazel brown eyes gleamed as he wished that the hands of time could quickly move so that day could arrive quicker.

Chapter 354 Jia Li's Devious Plan

"Are you going back to White City to shoot your scenes today?" Song Yu Han asked her.

Ran Xueyi leaned her head on Song Yu Han's body, "No, I'm done with my supplementary scenes so there's nothing for me to do at White City."

Song Yu Han placed his chin on the top of her head. He gazed into their interlocked hands and told her, "Jia Li's lover is trying to look into your background. I had my man intercept it, but it seems she's becoming more suspicious of you."

"Can't be helped... I sent a message to her that involves her past." Ran Xueyi naturally did not forget that Jia Li was the person who told Steffanie about her having a golden master. "Jia Li is trying to lay low after what happened with Steffanie. It's only natural she's becoming more suspicious and wary of me since she's expecting me to come after her soon."

"So what are you going to do now? Do you want my help?" Song Yu Han asked her even though he knew that Ran Xueyi wouldn't ask for his help and take care of her matters easily.

As expected, Ran Xueyi shook her head, "No, for some trash person like Jia Li and her lover, I don't want to dirty your hands. It's enough for me to handle them."

"The only reason why she's still able to prance around me is because the film is about to be released."

After the release of the TV drama, Ran Xueyi will no longer show mercy towards Jia Li. This kind of woman who treated life as if it was her toy to play with shouldn't even see how the world changes and become part of it.

"Ran Xueyi is very courageous. Not only did she publicly beat Steffanie and send her to prison, now she's confessing to the world that she's married to a man," Yan Zhouhui finished watching the All-Stars Showbiz video that was released and spread across the internet. "But she evaded successfully when she's questioned about the identity of the man she married."

Jia Li sat on the sofa's backrest and while placing a hand over the man's chest, her expression was filled with hatred, "So what if she's married? She's doomed after today's interview. What was she thinking by telling everybody that she's married?"

"I don't think that is what's happening right now," Yan Zhouhui disagreed with her.

Jia Li was visibly annoyed by his reply and removed the hand she had placed on his chest. While glaring at the back of his head, she said, "What? Do you think a celebrity in this era will survive if they confessed they're dating someone?"

"I'm sure Ran Xueyi married one of her investors for money and resources. That man must be helping her right now to sway everyone's opinion!"

"But I already investigated her background. Although, not much was found because someone intercepted my men, from what I discovered, Ran Xueyi came from a well-to-do family. She doesn't need any investors or any man to support her. The Ran family alone can back her up."

"And yet, she didn't use her family to get to where she is right now. I can tell from a glance that she's not that kind of woman."

"She must be so in love with that man that she dared to risk her everything to confess to the world."

Jia Li could sense that Yan Zhouhui was slightly resentful from his tone, but she couldn't understand why that was.

"I don't care if she's stupidly in love or just foolishly reckless. But I still suspect she's the one who sent those messages to me!" Jia Li threw a pillow at him and told him menacingly, "Yan Zhouhui, I can't let her treat me like Steffanie and send me back to that hell. No, I won't accept that!"

Yan Zhouhui's eyes flashed with dismay before he said, "In that case, you need to set a trap for her. You need to find out who Ran Xueyi is married to and use that to threaten her. In this way, both sides will win and no one will lose. If you really think Ran Xueyi married someone who's been helping her, that will be a useful weapon for you to get to her."

Jia Li, however, shook her head and rejected this idea, "This is too easy. Ran Xueyi won't fall for this and she will never trust me. We're not even that close for her to tell me who she is married to."

"Yan Zhouhui, do me a favor and give my spot for the CK show at Flower Capital to Ran Xueyi. She won't reject this chance to get more public appearances after her confession."

Yan Zhouhui frowned, "No... I paid so much to get you a spot there, why would I give it to somebody else?"

"Only when Ran Xueyi lets her guard down and thinks she can still get what she wants can we find an opportunity to take her down," Jia Li smiled wickedly. "What do you think will happen when Ran Xueyi is caught in an ambiguous scandal with another man soon after she confessed about her marriage?"

"Even if she received everyone's praise today, will they still side with her when she's caught cheating on her husband? As for her husband... I'm sure he won't help her solve her matters anymore when he finds out she's been unfaithful to him."

"But..."

"Ran Xueyi already showed her fangs and claws by using Steffanie. She's merely telling me she's got me under her control. Yan Zhouhui, do you really think I can resist doing this?"

She was not willing to give up the life she established after she was released from prison. Jia Li got a new life and identity, can she really let it go?

Naturally, she cannot!

In order to keep living the way she's now living, Jia Li needs to get rid of Ran Xueyi.

Chapter 355 Grandpa Ran: It's Too F*Cking Audacious!

A few days later, Ran Xueyi returned to their home in Flower Capital. Since she already finished her supplementary scenes, she had nothing left to do in the set so Director Xiao let her go earlier than the rest of the casts.

As a reward for completing filming her scenes, Ran Xueyi got a week of rest. Within that week, Ran Xueyi used that to stay at home and hang out with Xiao Zhanzhan and Song Yu Han. Every day, the trio would find themselves inseparable.

However, on the fifth day of Ran Xueyi's break, she received a call from Grandpa Ran reminding her about the party that was going to happen the next day.

Hearing this, Ran Xueyi could not refuse and decided to go.

The only problem there was to think of if she went to the party was that Xiao Zhanzhan will be left alone again.

Song Yu Han saw her face becoming more concerned as time passes by. At this time, Xiao Zhanzhan was asleep in his own room, right next to them, and won't open his eyes anytime soon.

Pulling her into his embrace, Song Yu Han's breath fanned her cheeks as he said, "I'll take Xiao Zhanzhan to the party tomorrow. You can go ahead of us so don't worry about him."

"What? Are you going to the part too?"

"I received an invitation a few weeks ago, but I ignored it. Thankfully, Guo Yun still kept the invitation cards I ignored or we won't be at the same party." Song Yu Han have showed no interest in any parties at all. For him, these kind of social parties was a waste of his time.

It was really no wonder that there wasn't that many people who knew of Song Yu Han's identity because he rarely showed his face to everyone.

Ran Xueyi was relieved when she heard this and held both his cheeks in her hands, "Hubby, you treat me so well. Whenever I'm in a pinch, you're always there."

"Seeing how you treat me so preciously... What reward do you want me to give you?"

Song Yu Han's eyes darkened slightly as he huskily said, "Don't you already know what reward I want?"

Ran Xueyi naturally knew what he wanted...

But haven't they been doing 'that' every night? Is he not tired at all?

Ran Xueyi blushed and looked away in a fluster, "Alright... But be gentle, Xiao Zhanzhan is just right next to us, he might wake up if we make a sound."

Song Yu Han felt even more tempted when he saw her cheeks flushing in pink clouds and hooked a finger under her chin so she could face him.

Then, he said while grinning, "Then, shouldn't you try harder not to make a sound?"

Later that night, Song Yu Han whose energy vigor couldn't be explained in simple words worked up Ran Xueyi so much that no matter how much she tried to keep her moan and screams, it still echoed loudly in their bedroom.

Fortunately for them, their son did not wake up despite the exciting scene happening in the master's bedroom.

...XXX...

The next day, the party that Grandpa Ran had invited Ran Xueyi to go took place as scheduled.

It was a big event. Many socialites arrived in droves; driving their most expensive branded cars and clothes, jewelries sparkled under the light as the smell of makeup and perfume mingled with one another.

The party was also a good opportunity to look for a marriage partner, and many parents brought their children just for that reason.

"We're here, Xueyi," Adelle informed her. After seeing Ran Xueyi nod, she continued to question her, "Are you sure you don't want me to tag along with you?"

"No, you can go back for now. My grandfather is already inside the venue so there's no need for you to come."

"Alright, then. Just call me if you're in trouble. Be careful."

"You too."

Well, the Big Boss will also come to the party, there's no need for her to tag along.

...

As soon as Ran Xueyi stepped out of the car, several heads turned towards her direction. At one glance, they could recognize who Ran Xueyi was because of the events that happened a few weeks ago.

However, their interest towards the entertainment world was not as strong as their interest in their own agenda. That was why as soon as they saw Ran Xueyi, they only gave her a few seconds of admiration and praise for her beauty before looking away.

Of course, it was inevitable for some young masters to stare at her for a bit longer than normal. Even when Ran Xueyi had already entered the entrance and looked around for her grandfather, the men couldn't help but hasten their feet to chase after her.

Soon, Ran Xueyi found her grandfather speaking to another three elderly men. Grandpa Ran was an old man with grey-blading hair. He possessed a cultured and refined face that nobody could ignore. The confidence in the way Grandpa Ran stood made the other old men look small.

"You're here?" said Grandpa Ran as soon as he caught sight of her.

Ran Xueyi smiled at him before giving a kiss on both his cheeks and said, "How have you been, grandpa?"

Ran Yiqing snorted, "What do you think? I've heard a lot of things about you from other people, but not once did you report any of this to me!"

Ran Xueyi was already used to her grandfather complaining to her, and she couldn't really say anything because what he said was right.

Ran Yiqing wanted to scold Ran Xueyi a bit more, but he was most curious about the man who talked to him in the phone last time. So, he held back a little.

Ran Xueyi turned her attention to the old man and nodded, "I apologize for making a scene in front of you. I am Ran Xueyi."

The old men who had just spoken was pleased by her attitude and praised her, "Look at this, Ran Yiqing, you're hiding such a splendid granddaughter without telling any of us?"

Ran Yiqing clicked his tongue, "I didn't hide her. It was my bastard of a son and his wife who hid Ran Xueyi from the world."

Hearing this, the old man felt embarrassed. He didn't know what to say to that. Who didn't know about Ran Yiqing's deep disappointment towards his son, Ran Mo Zheng?

Ever since he married his secretary, Ran Yiqing no longer held any hope for Ran Mo Zheng. But because they gave him two beautiful granddaughters, Ran Yiqing tried so hard to accept the couple. However, just recently, a rumor has been spreading around about Ran Mo Zheng getting a mistress.

This rumor affected the company's sales a lot that Ran Yiqing had to step outside of the village where he and his wife isolated themselves from the world.

Thanks to this, these old men could meet Ran Yiqing again and also talk to him about their plans to cooperate with him in their business ventures.

But unexpectedly, they actually encountered his beautiful granddaughter.

Wouldn't it be great if they could enter into the Ran family through marriage?

Having such a beautiful goddess as their sons' and grandsons' wife, won't they win in life?

Ran Yiqing's eyes gleamed coldly when he saw how these old men was staring at Ran Xueyi. They looked like hungry wolves who had a piece of meat dangling in front of their nose.

"Sorry, everyone... It's been a while since I've talked to my grandfather. Can I snatch him for a while?" Ran Xueyi sensed the strangeness in her grandfather and quickly decided to save these old men from their doom.

Pulling her grandfather away from the group of hyenas, Ran Xueyi laughed when they stopped in a corner where less people were standing there.

"Xueyi, don't get close to them. These old men think they can take you away from me when I'm not even dead yet!" Ran Yiqing's eyes became fiercer. He continued, "I don't care how outstanding their sons and grandsons turned out to be, but how dare they think that they could compare to you?"

Ran Xueyi giggled.

"Stop laughing! I'm being serious here!" Ran Yiqing was annoyed when he saw that Ran Xueyi was not taking his words seriously. He continued to fume as if he couldn't wait to ground their heads into powder, "It's too fucking audacious!"

Daring to steal his granddaughter, wasn't that absurd?

Ran Yiqing paused, then said, "Wait... what's more audacious is that someone actually already stole my granddaughter from me. I never even had knowledge of getting a grandson-in-law."

"But last time, when I called you, that man suddenly claimed himself as my grandson-in-law. Be honest with me, Xueyi... Who was that man I talked to last time?"

"Are you really married to an unknown man without telling us first?"
