

Daddy CEO 406

Chapter 406 Someone Stole Your Role?

Ran Xueyi never wanted Little Zhanzhan to feel like he was abandoned just because they were buried with work. However, at the rate in which they are right now, it would be long before Little Zhanzhan realized how busy his parents were.

Although their son was extremely intelligent to understand them and their situation, Ran Xueyi still didn't want him to turn out like her when she was ignored by her parents as they focused on their own lives and focused on Ran Yue.

"Baby, where do you want to go? Mommy and daddy will go wherever you want to go!" Ran Xueyi will have to send a message to her senior and tell him to postpone their meeting until a much later date. For now, she needs to give more attention to her son.

"Really?"

The eyes of the little boy were shining quickly as if stars were starting to live in them.

"Yes, where do you want to go? Do you want anything?" Ran Xueyi nodded her head as she pressed close to the two.

Little Zhanzhan squinted his eyes and pouted his lips, a habit he newly formed when he was thinking of something. Then, after a short while of thinking, he finally said, "I want to go to the beach!"

...

The sun was scorching above, the wind was dry and hot, but nevertheless, it never dampens the mood of the beach goers. Looking at the public beach that Guo Yun had found in that short time, Ran Xueyi was pretty impressed to see that the sand was fine white and there were only a few people in there.

Song Yu Han and Guo Yun went back to the car to take the huge umbrella and other things that they had brought quickly in order to just have a real good time at the beach. As for Ran Xueyi and Adelle, the two looked after Little Zhanzhan, who turned into a puppy who finally got outside of the house, running and jumping around the sandy ground as if it was his new domain.

"I never thought he could smile like that."

Adelle turned and met her eyes.

"He only showed that kind of smile when we're alone. I'm glad that he can finally show it to other people."

Maybe because he was shy around other people or just uncomfortable, Little Zhanzhan refused to show even a bit of his beautiful smile when there's other people. Although it wasn't that hard for him to show it in front of her, Ran Xueyi still worried that he would grow up never expressing his emotions, bottling it up until he finally couldn't understand which emotion he had to show to others.

As an actress, Ran Xueyi was more conscious when it comes to emotions. Being able to show any kind of emotion according to the director's words and the script's guide, was a job that anyone in the entertainment circle should learn before being able to stand in front of the camera.

Even idols, comedians, and singers should restrain their real self and put on an impenetrable mask which they could only show in public so that their images wouldn't be ruined. If a crack happens to form in their mask, they have to glue it back forcefully or it will be their destruction.

However, her son was not an actor or anyone who was in the entertainment world. He is just a child. How can he act like them, veterans in the art of masking themselves, when he should just act like a child spoiled by his parents.

Time and time again, Ran Xueyi hated herself for being unable to notice this at first. She was too preoccupied with her own obsession of success and achieving her dreams, that her son was slowly becoming a puppet.

Thankfully, there was still time.

Ran Xueyi could still save her son from becoming a doll with no emotion by letting him do whatever he wanted while being spoiled by them.

"What is my schedule for this month?" Since it was the fourth day of the February, Ran Xueyi was thinking of finishing all her schedule and not accept any resources and stay with Little Zhanzhan.

Adelle opened her phone to see the notes she wrote and replied, "You have a photoshoot on the 7th of this month. I'm still waiting for your final decision whether to join the variety show I told you about last time. The first episode will be filmed on the 13th. And since you didn't join any drama or film team, your schedule this month should be free."

It was quite a shame that Ran Xueyi didn't join any drama or film. A lot of directors and films had reached out for her, however, Ran Xueyi only told them she'll think about it. Although these films and directors weren't desperate that they couldn't find any other actresses to play in their films, Ran Xueyi's traffic this year was so hot that no one could simply let go of this hot potato that was just in front of them.

With Ran Xueyi in their film, the traffic and feedback will also help in their success.

"Should I cancel the variety show?" Adelle also noticed that Ran Xueyi desired to spend more time with her son so she considered helping her take off some of her burdens.

Ran Xueyi shook her head, "I already signed the contract with them and since it's just a guest appearance, it wouldn't take long for it to be finished."

Besides, the variety show filming site was closer to where their villa was located in the capital. It would be great if she could bring Little Zhanzhan on the set and let him watch her work.

"Ah, can you call Director Fan and ask her when we'll be able to talk about the film again?" Ran Xueyi almost forgot that Director Xiao helped her get a resource from Director Fan. She hoped that that role was still available for her taking since she really liked that role.

Adelle quickly called Director Fan and after talking for a few minutes, she finally hung up and turned around with a frown.

"What's wrong?" Ran Xueyi felt strange when she saw Adelle's expression.

Adelle took a deep breath as if she was having she didn't know where to start. However, she needed to tell Ran Xueyi about what she and Director Fan talked about.

"Director Fan said she found another actress who will play the first lead role." Adelle waited for Ran Xueyi's response, but after not getting any, she continued, "It's really strange. When we met her at her office, she certainly said she'd love to have you play the lead role! Now, she's saying she found a better actress? Isn't this a bit too strange?! Could it be that someone stole your role?"

"Stole whose role?"

A voice as cold as ice was heard from behind them accompanied by a loud thump. When they turned around, it was Song Yu Han and Guo Yun, who had returned with their things.

Song Yu Han stepped a few steps forward and stood behind Ran Xueyi. He looked down and repeated his question, "Someone stole your role?"

Chapter 407 Shouldn't They Be Punished?

"No, it wasn't stolen when it's not even mine to begin with." Ran Xueyi stopped before he could form any other thoughts. She hadn't lied when she said it wasn't stolen since it was only discussed amongst them and not officially announced or listed in the cast list.

Still, Ran Xueyi was a bit disappointed to hear that someone had taken a role that she had taken a liking to.

"Director Fan almost sounded as if she wanted to pick you as the first lead in her film when you two talked. She even had that obsessed look in their eyes, she even cried in front of us when you talked about the script! How could she say she found another actress who will play the role?" Adelle couldn't hold back from saying this. "She should have informed us first!"

Ran Xueyi also thought that Director Fan should have told them that she wanted another actress to play the role in her film. Then, Ran Xueyi wouldn't have to reject and turn away scripts that were handed out to her before?

Just thinking of the time wasted on Director Fan and her film, Adelle couldn't help but fume. But as she was about to explode from anger, a pair of big hands suddenly settled on her shoulders and startled her.

"Calm down first. Let's discuss this without getting angry at people who didn't see madam's worth. You're going to mess up your makeup." Guo Yun pacifyingly patted her shoulders. He then turned his head to look at Ran Xueyi and said, "If I may guess, this Director Fan you're talking about is the chief director at Moonlight Entertainment, right?"

Ran Xueyi was not surprised that he found exactly who they were talking about.

She slowly nodded, "Yes. We went to her office when Director Xiao insisted that I meet with her and talk with her about the film she's planning to shoot."

Song Yu Han also remembered that day when he called Ran Xueyi to his office and frowned. "Director Fan was accepted in my company several years ago because of her good and proper conduct of not taking any underhanded means. I remembered that President Liu recommended her to me for a promotion two years ago. Is she the one you two are talking about?"

"Yes, boss." Guo Yun affirmed this knowing that Song Yu Han had only briefly met Director Fan Ning.

At that time, President Liu introduced her to him, but Song Yu Han only looked at his watch and passed them by before leaving. He didn't even glance their way as he let President Liu handle it since the report was already handed to him.

"Then, what are you waiting for?" Song Yu Han suddenly raised his eyebrow at him.

"Huh?"

"I'm asking what are you waiting for?"

Song Yu Han added coldly with a smile.

"R-right! I should call the office immediately!"

The special assistant quickly rose to his feet and pulled his phone out of his pockets with trembling hands. Maybe because the days had been quite peaceful and his boss was becoming more like a sunflower, he had forgotten that his Big Boss was not a man who should be trifled with.

What's wrong with these people in Moonlight Entertainment? Can't they do their jobs and see who they just stole a role from? Are they tired of living? Even if Moonlight Entertainment was just another daughter company of YH Group and barely received the Big Boss's attention, aren't they supposed to do their greatest not to receive his fury?

Guo Yun cursed inwardly as his expression hardened. He looked like someone who anyone shouldn't even bump against without being stabbed with a knife. At this moment, the amiable appearance that makes people approach Guo Yun without any fear slowly cracked a bit.

"It's alright. I already said it doesn't matter." Ran Xueyi tried to stop them. However, Song Yu Han wasn't listening.

His expression was extremely cold and a dangerous aura was seeping out of his body, making the scorching sun in the sky desire a blanket to cover itself due to the sudden change of temperature.

"It's not alright. I never allow any of my employees to break their words to anyone. Besides, knowing that you looked forward to shoot this film, I simply can't ignore it." It would have been alright if it was just a film that Ran Xueyi picked in passing, but the fact that she liked the script so much that she refused to sleep so she could only finish it, Song Yu Han wouldn't allow anyone to waste her time and effort by letting them trample on it without even as much an apology.

Ran Xueyi sighed and grabbed his hands, pulling him down to sit next to her. "It's fine, really. This type of thing isn't the first time. And although I really like the storyline of the script, I don't want to take the role anymore after knowing that someone else will play it."

"But I want to at least make them pay for what they did." Song Yu Han still didn't want to let this matter go.

Just in time, Little Zhanzhan finished playing under the sun and saw everyone sitting under a huge umbrella. He ran towards them before lying on his back and placing his head on his mother's lap, blinking his eyes.

"What are you all talking about? Zhanzhan also wants to join!"

Ran Xueyi said, "It's nothing, baby. We're talking aboutâ€œ"

"Somebody's bullying mommy, Zhanzhan."

However, before Ran Xueyi could finish her sentence, Song Yu Han slyly interjected.

"You..." Ran Xueyi was speechless.

"Bully?" Suddenly, Little Zhanzhan's face contorted into a similar expression as his father, a cub suddenly turning into a lion. "Who bullied mommy?"

"It's daddy's employee. I want to punish them, but your mommy doesn't want to. Zhanzhan, what should daddy do?"

He... how could he involve their son right now? Is he planning to use Little Zhanzhan so she could agree to his suggestion of making them pay for what they did to her? Ran Xueyi stared in surprise and shock at Song Yu Han's cunningness.

And before she could even say anything, a tiny voice that sounded cold for some reason was heard.

"Oh? Then, shouldn't they be punished?"

A smile appeared on those small lips: "Right, mommy?"

Chapter 408 Little Zhanzhan: Mommy Is So Pretty!

"Isn't that right, mommy?"

The little boy's face brightened up as if he had just received the most precious present he had ever received his entire life! As if he's not requesting her to punish other people. Ran Xueyi was baffled by her son's reaction and couldn't help but turn her head at the culprits who may have influenced him to act like this.

Song Yu Han and Guo Yun met her gaze with clear ones as though they couldn't understand the meaning behind her glare.

After holding back the scolding that was about to rise to her throat, Ran Xueyi, under her son's beautiful and adorable persuasion, could only reluctantly nod her head.

Thus, she let free reign over Song Yu Han to do as he sees fit to handle the issue in this matter.

Upon receiving her nod, Guo Yun immediately called Moonlight HQ and asked what had happened. According to the reports he received just after he made the call, Director Fan met with another actress the same day Ran Xueyi met her at her office with Director Xiao. The actress who was picked as the main lead for her film was the rising star actress Li Na. No one knows what had happened after they met with each other at a cafe, but Director Fan listed her in the cast of her film.

Even the casting team was stunned by Director Fan's sudden change of potential cast list. When they heard it was likely that Ran Xueyi would work with the production team, they planned a celebration with everyone at a hotel. But who would have thought that just a few hours later after they saw a glimpse of their dreams coming true, Director Fan decided not to give Ran Xueyi the role and even erased her name on the cast list.

"Isn't this a bit too much!" Adelle was already angered by how Director Fan was becoming flippant with her words, but to think that she actually replaced Ran Xueyi only because she met with another actress?

Ran Xueyi also became thoughtful when she learned of this from Guo Yun. However, just like what she had said earlier, this wasn't something that they should be even bother with. After all, she hadn't signed a contract with Director Fan and they could replace anyone in the cast for as long as it's not set in stone.

"Let's not talk about this... Aren't we here to have fun?" Ran Xueyi changed the topic quickly. She didn't want to dampen the lively mood with this matter. In any case, she can still pick any role she wanted from the scripts she had back home.

Seeing her like this, Song Yu Han was even more determined to punish Director Fan and the actress who stole her role. Although Guo Yun had already said everything, he could tell by the way his assistant was looking at him that there was another reason why Director Fan refused Ran Xueyi from playing in her film.

However, Ran Xueyi was right. They were at the beach to have fun with Little Zhanzhan.

Little Zhanzhan happily sat up from where he was lying on his mother's lap and pointed at the sea, "Mommy, can we look for sharksh there? I shee in TV that sharksh appear when we shwim in the shea... Will they come if we shwim there?"

Ran Xueyi and Song Yu Han: "...."

Adelle and Guo Yun: "..."

Ran Xueyi looked at the sea across them and looked at her son, feeling helpless at her son's sudden question. What shark... Are you looking forward to being bitten and eaten by them? She really wanted to know where her son's brain was circuited right now. It was not only this time. Thinking about it, Ran Xueyi recalled some moments where Little Zhanzhan's words were too confusing and baffling for her to understand. But the point was, it was all the kind of things that are dangerous to humans.

"Uhm... Baby shouldn't watch those kinds of movies anymore."

"Hm? Why ish that?" the little boy tilted his head in confusion.

Ran Xueyi found it hard to break his little bubble for him and tentatively asked, "Baby, do you like sharks?"

Little Zhanzhan nodded: "The sharksh looks adorable like a big puppy with sharp teeth!"

Ran Xueyi was completely out of words at her son comparing a shark to a puppy. Well, there were some times that sharks do act like dogs. But most of the time, they are treated like the monsters of the sea. Nobody wanted to provoke or have them swimming around you in the sea. And it was all because of how they were portrayed in the movies.

After calming down her son and telling him that the beach they were in had no sharks, Ran Xueyi finally held his hands as they entered the sea. The water was slightly warmer than she expected which was probably due to the warm weather. On the other hand, Guo Yun and Song Yu Han had to prepare the food and everything they needed in the tent since they planned to stay on the beach until tomorrow.

Little Zhanzhan also enjoyed his time on the beach. He kicked the sand and built sand castles with his mommy. He also collected all kinds of shells he could get his hands on into his tiny bucket. He saw a tiny crab to the left and quickly ran to take it. He planned to save it by throwing it into the sea, but before he could even touch it, a big foot suddenly stepped on the tiny crab, crushing it to death.

Little Zhanzhan's eyes teared up when he thought that the tiny crab died even though he wanted to save it. He raised his head to look at the culprit but saw three adult men in beach shorts standing in front of him. It seems he had strayed a bit too far from his mommy when he was looking for pretty shells!

"Why is a midget standing in my way!" the one in the middle and who stepped on the crab was immediately angered by something blocking his way. He glared at the little pretty child in front of him and frowned. "Oh wait, is this boy a girl? Why does he look so pretty?"

"What the heck man! I said to look for beauties, why are you targeting a child? Are you that type...?" the man on the left sent the man who killed the crab with a strange look in his eyes.

The man who killed the crab rolled his eyes and replied, "Are you kidding me? Just look! This boy looks so much like a girl! Tell me I'm lying after looking at him."

The other two men with the man who killed the crab also looked down seriously to observe the little boy in front of them. It was true. The little boy was so pale and adorable. He really did look like a girl at first glance.

"Hey, little boy. Where is your mommy? Is your mommy pretty like you?" the crab killer suddenly asked.

"Hey, what do you think you are doing?"

When he received another questioning look from his buddies, he snapped and said, "If this boy's face looks pretty, doesn't it mean his mommy is pretty too?"

His buddies didn't want to play along with the crab killer. After all, the boy could have had his genes from his father too! What are you going to do if it's the dad? Are you going to hit on the father too?

However, they couldn't say what was in their minds as the crab killer was an infamous delinquent in their town.

At this time, Little Zhanzhan didn't know what was wrong with these men and hearing the question, he couldn't help but boast, "Yep! Mommy is sho pretty! She's the mosht beautiful pershon in the world!"

Hearing him say that didn't appease the crab killer's curiosity as any child could announce their parents looked the most beautiful in the world. So he asked, "Does she look like you too?"

"Hey, stop it. Let's go to a club instead." one of his buddies stepped in to stop him. However, the crab killer pushed him away and crouched down.

"So, does your mommy look like you?" He repeated the question.

Little Zhanzhan tilted his head in bewilderment. He's mommy's son. Why should mommy look like me?

But despite his internal questions, Little Zhanzhan still honestly answered, "En, mommy looksh even prettier than me!"

Chapter 409 Petty Little Zhanzhan

When the crab killer heard that from the little boy, he was almost ecstatic and glowing like a light bulb. Thank God, for allowing kids to be so innocent and clueless that they'll just say whatever without thinking twice like adults!

"Oh, really? Your mom is that pretty? I don't believe you, though?" The crab killer tried to appear as if he didn't buy the boy's words and mocked, "You know, kids do lie nowadays, and tell everyone that everything is pretty."

Little Zhanzhan never encountered a situation like this. Usually, it was people who would approach him and tell him that his mother is pretty. Now that someone had tried to tell him he was lying about how beautiful his mother turned out to be, he couldn't help but fume a lot.

However, Little Zhanzhan only pouted and didn't say anything more. It was the completely different reaction that the crab killer expected him to do. But what they didn't know was that Little Zhanzhan refuses to talk to people who wouldn't listen to him. The more people tried to speak to him nonsensically, all the more he ignored them. It was just him being petty and childish.

"Hey, why aren't you speaking anymore?" The crab killer was frustrated by the boy's silence. If it had been one of his delinquent lackeys back in town, he would have just smacked the back of their heads and had them shoot their mouths off.

Seeing him getting angry at the child, one of his buddies patted him on the arm and said, "Just leave it. We'll just go to a club and hit on girls there!"

"Don't touch me!" The crab killer smacked his hand away from him and glared at him before turning his attention towards the little boy in front. "Hey, boy. Do you not know who I am? I know the owner of this beach. He's a close friend of mine. I can just call him and tell him to force you and your mommy out of this beach."

"Hey, are you really doing this to a child?" another one of his body was in complete disbelief at what the crab killer was doing. Was he really threatening a little child just because he knew the owner of this beach?

They usually hang around the crab killer only because he was slightly well off and on top of that, the little town they lived in was basically within his family's palms. Being with him can give them a boost and also let the townspeople to fear them too.

However, seeing him bully the little boy was going a bit too far. Who didn't have a little brother or sister? Are they just going to let this man be and threaten a child just because he didn't get a satisfactory answer to his question?

Just as the two buddies nodded at each other to stop the crab killer from further scaring the little boy, a shadow mingled with theirs from behind. Without even turning around, they could sense a dangerous aura behind their backs as if a huge tiger was there, ready to jump at them and eat them alive.

Drops of sweat fell on their foreheads to their cheeks as their hearts started to pump faster. They looked at each other once again and saw terror and embarrassment in their faces.

However, the culprit of why there was a deadly presence behind them, didn't notice the change of atmosphere. The crab killer was still focused on the little boy, who now refuses to acknowledge his presence and treats him like a wall.

"Hey, boy. Do you really want everyone to see you and your mommy being dragged outside?" The crab killer continues to provoke the little boy. He didn't believe that the little boy wouldn't react even after he was being threatened with his mother!

However, Little Zhanzhan completely ignores him. It was only when he turned his head to look in the crab killer's way that there was a response from him. However, before the crab killer could get any content in seeing him react, he saw the eyes of the little boy zeroed in from behind him.

"You... Are you seriously being distracted right now even though I already told you I'll kick you and your mom out of this beach?!" said the crab killer.

"Will you now?"

A cold dripping with ice voice suddenly came from above him.

The crab killer was confident with his height, but there was no way he hallucinated a voice speaking above his head, right?

"Hey, you two idiots. Why didn't you tell me some stupid guy not afraid of his death is behind me?" The crab killer immediately straightened up and questioned his two buddies, who he obviously treated like his lackeys rather than his friends.

"W-we..."

One of the crab killer's buddies couldn't even finish his words when a pair of eyes suddenly fell on him. He immediately shuts his mouth and lowered his gaze as if he was afraid that his momentarily noise would make him lose his head.

Song Yu Han was ordered to pick up the ordered drinks from the beach's gate by Ran Xueyi when he noticed a familiar figure of his son crouching on the ground with three adult men.

Initially, he would have left it be and picked his son up. He wouldn't assume the worst since the beach isn't the crowded and there wouldn't be stupid people showing up to create a commotion when everybody wanted to relax there.

But he was wrong.

There are definitely stupid people anywhere in this world.

Song Yu Han was slightly far from them when he saw them. However, his trained ears clearly heard their conversation. When he heard no response from his son and saw him sassily ignore their presence, the corners of his lips couldn't help but lift up. He was proud of his son's petty attitude.

Song Yu Han had no doubt it came from his mother's personality.

When he got closer and heard that the adult man in the middle was about to go crazy after Little Zhanzhan's complete indifference, Song Yu Han finally stepped in.

Chapter 410 Little Betrayer

"If you're just standing there like a wall, can you please walk away now? Don't do anything stupid like provoking me right now, you don't know what danger you're getting into!" The crab killer tried to scare the tall man in front of him.

Then, after staring at the tall man, he realized something. The eyes, nose, lips, even the hair color, the tall man and the little boy matched everything besides their eye color! Is this... Is this the little pretty boy's father?

The crab killer immediately realized that something was wrong. By appearance, the boy and the tall handsome man looked exactly alike! It was as if the two were a carbon copy of each other, a clone, but only different in height and size.

Earlier, the crab killer had asked the little boy again and again whether he looked like his mother and looked pretty. The boy answered that she looked even prettier. Could it be that the little boy was actually talking about his father rather than his mother?

Thinking of the words he had said to his buddies earlier that if the boy's mommy is as pretty as he had described, he would hit on her. But now that the truth was in plain sight and it turns out that the father was actually the one who was extremely good-looking and who had similar looks as him, was the crab killer going to bend backwards and change his preferences?

The face slap he had received was too much. He couldn't help but blush. Not only because of the words he had said to his buddies, but also because of the fact that in front of this handsome man, even a man like the crab killer, couldn't stop blushing.

"Are you this little boy's father?"

The crab killer tried to look strong and thug-like so he wouldn't lose his presence and aura against Song Yu Han. However, his attempt to do exactly just that only made him look like a loser in everybody's eyes.

"A'Yu!" Little Zhanzhan completely ignored the crab killer and ran to his father's legs. He placed his tiny hands on his father's leg and placed his plastic bucket filled with pretty and colorful shells between them, presenting it to his father while saying, "I picked them up!"

Song Yu Han almost melted when he witnessed his son acting like this. His hands trembled and he could barely hold onto himself as he gently patted his son's head and said, "Zhanzhan did great today. Let's put all of them inside an aquarium later."

Little Zhanzhan happily nodded and hugged his plastic bucket of shells. He accidentally got a glimpse of the crushed crab that was now left on the side after the crab killer moved away from where he was standing. It was still breathing and moving, probably saving itself from being completely crushed by burrowing into the sand.

"A'Yu, the little crab!" Little Zhanzhan exclaimed as he pointed at it. "This old man stepped on it when I was about to shave it!"

What? What did this little boy just say?

The crab killer and his buddies were completely stunned and speechless when they heard him.

Just as they wanted to speak to defend themselves, Song Yu Han had already spoken up first. He directed his even gaze at the crab killer and icily said, "You... Did you step on my son's crab?"

...

A few minutes later, Ran Xueyi finally walked over to their side. After playing to swim in the sea with her son, she suggested picking up shells near their tent so she could look after him without restricting her son's freedom. However, who would have thought that her son would run elsewhere.

By the moment Ran Xueyi realized her son was not on any spot near the tent, she panicked and quickly looked for him.

But when she reached her son's side, she saw her husband with him and also saw a glimpse of three running figures.

Walking to stand next to them, Ran Xueyi asked, "What did you do this time?"

Song Yu Han's eyes flashed with hurt as he said, "I didn't do anything wrong."

"Then why did they run away from you?"

The coldness in his eyes returned for a little bit before a grin appeared on his lips. Ran Xueyi learned quickly after marrying him that when Song Yu Han was pissed, his lips would turn upwards into a smirk or a grin. The worst would be a kind and flawless smile on his lips as if nothing was wrong.

He shrugged a little and said with a smile, "They bullied Little Zhanzhan so I taught them a little lesson."

Song Yu Han paused to look at her. Shit. He forgot to keep this event a secret from Ran Xueyi.

As expected, a fire appeared in Ran Xueyi's eyes and she glared at him. She growled, "Why did you only teach them a little? You should have taught them a lot until they can't run!"

Little Zhanzhan didn't get what was happening, but he completely agreed with his mother. He even showed a little sheepish nod as he smiled.

Song Yu Han: "... Little betrayer."

"What's happened?" Adelle asked as soon as the family of three returned to their tent.

Ran Xueyi shook her head, "It's nothing. Some idiots think they can just bully a child because they aged a little."

When Adelle heard this, she jumped up from where she sat and said, "Where are they?"

Ran Xueyi stopped her manager from rushing forward and said, "They're gone. Yu Han already taught them a lesson."

At this time, Guo Yun stepped out of the tent while he carried a burner stove and heard what they were discussing. He glanced at Song Yu Han and asked, "Should I call the men and have those idiots rethink their life choices?"

Ran Xueyi quickly put a stop on that thought before Song Yu Han could say yes to him. "There's no need to. Again. Yu Han already taught him a lesson. Let's just enjoy our time here without distractions."

She went to pick up her bag on the ground and looked through it. After making sure her swimwear was there, she glanced at Adelle and asked, "Let's go and get ourselves changed too. I swam earlier wearing this and I need a change of outfit."

Adelle readily nodded her head and also picked up her bag.

The two girls left the three boys next to the tent as they went into the tent to change.