

Daddy CEO 411

Chapter 411 "Brother Yun, The Meat Is Burning"

There were two tents set up on the ground. One for the boys and another for the girls. As much as Ran Xueyi wanted to stick with Song Yu Han and her son as per what he had already vocally expressed to the group when they left the hotel and bought the tent, she couldn't leave Adelle and Guo Yun to stay in the other tent alone.

After all, the two haven't yet developed enough feelings for each other to actually sleep in one tent, right?

Holding open her bag, Ran Xueyi took out a black one-piece swimsuit that had some crisscrossing patterns across her waist and her hips. The swimsuit hugged her figure very tightly enough to scream overload of sexiness. Ran Xueyi fell in love at the sight of the swimsuit when she saw it in the store before they went to the beach.

The problem was... She sneakily bought it when Song Yu Han went away for a bit to buy the tent with Guo Yun. He knew she bought a swimsuit, but if he found out what she had bought and will wear once she's outside the tent, Ran Xueyi could only pray his possessiveness doesn't come out to haul her off her feet and throw her back into the tent so nobody could see her outside while wearing that tent.

"You're beet as red as a tomato. What is so embarrassing for you to become like that while looking at the ground?" Adelle came over to stand by her side and scowled at her.

Like Ran Xueyi, she was wearing a swimsuit. However, compared to Ran Xueyi's choice, Adelle picked a royal blue strapless bikini with ruffles around the chest area. She wasn't the busty type but because of the swimwear, it made her more seductive than her usual office attire that she wore everywhere. Ran Xueyi could already hear Guo Yun's jaw falling on the group when he saw Adelle. Just thinking about it made her smug.

"Mommy, are you done changing?" From outside the flaps, Little Zhanzhan called out to them. He waited patiently outside when he could just enter, but his daddy and even Brother Guo stopped him before he could even step inside.

Ran Xueyi quickly replied, "Give mommy a minute, baby. I'll be right outside!"

Little Zhanzhan obediently went back to a portable chair that they also brought. Across him was a table and to his left was a barbeque stand and grills where there were meats cooking already. He felt his stomach rumbling and looked up at Guo Yun, who was busy cooking their lunch.

"Staring at me won't win you a meat from me, Little One. You need to practice patience and wait for the ladies to eat first." Guo Yun laughed when he saw Little Zhanzhan huffed in his chair.

Song Yu Han barely glanced at them as he placed the plates on the table and patted his son's head as if placating him.

Guo Yun and Little Zhanzhan had been closer than ever before. The Little One looked extremely adorable, but when Guo Yun first saw him, he saw a glimpse of his Boss from him and got scared off a little bit. However, after bonding with him while his parents had their honeymoon phase after their separation for three years, Guo Yun loved the little boy like his real little brother and wanted to teach him some things he learned in life.

Not like the little boy needs any of his teachings when the Little One already knows a lot of things compared to his age.

After a minute or two, the flaps in one of the tents opened and two figures appeared outside.

For half a minute, it was silent.

All three boys at the table hit the stop button on a remote control. Only the sounds of the seawater, people murmuring from afar, and sizzles coming from the grills were heard.

Although they had already seen Ran Xueyi and Adelle before, this was the first time they'd ever seen so much exposed skin. Guo Yun couldn't help but hear his heart skip a bit at the two females standing in front of them.

Okay, he had his eyes focused on Adelle mostly since he valued his life and didn't want his eyes gouged out when they returned to the capital. But still, it didn't change the fact that he was glad the Big Boss married Ran Xueyi. No wonder, she was massively coveted by many actors and rich CEOs before she retired.

Even Guo Yun felt slightly bad for Yang Baihua for settling for a rotten vegetable over a huge pearl he could tuck under his pillows for safekeeping.

"Keep your eyes off my wife, Yun." Hearing Song Yu Han's voice made him shiver. It wasn't only because his voice was dripping with the threat he thought about earlier, but because Song Yu Han used his name to call him.

Just calling him 'Yun' tells him so much.

Of course, Guo Yun wasn't completely focused on Ran Xueyi. He just got a glimpse of her and made his mental commentary about her. He still had his eyes on his target which was Adelle.

Ahem, was it safe to say that his attraction towards her is real and evidenced by another tent that was forming on his beach shorts? That may not be said out loud. But that was the truth.

Adelle's beauty wasn't like Ran Xueyi. It was the traditional kind of beauty that no one would usually see in modern women. She has that faint elegance and ignorance of her own beauty that was almost dangerous. If she only knew how much damage control she could cause just by wearing that outside, she wouldn't dare wear a swimsuit ever again.

"Brother Yun, the meat is burning..."

A tiny voice said worriedly as he looked at the piece of meat he was drooling at. He had been eyeing that piece since earlier and now that it was almost charcoaled on one side, he couldn't help but shoot an accusing look at his big brother.

Guo Yun was startled by his words and jumped as if his tail was caught in fire. He looked down on the grill and busied himself with what he was grilling. It was as if he was scared that if he even raised his head to look up, he would completely forget about grilling meat today.

Chapter 412 "Mommy, Am I Getting A Little Sister?"

Guo Yun's strange behavior was definitely caught by Ran Xueyi and Song Yu Han. However, the 'target' of his affection and admiration was completely oblivious of it as Adelle walked close to the grill and tried to help him after hearing Little Zhanzhan complaining about the burning meat.

"Let me help you with that. My brother owns a barbeque shop back home so I learned a bit." Adelle said as she tried to take the tongs from him.

Guo Yun quickly evaded her hands with a little panic as if the fire in his tail was still burning fast, almost combusting him.

"Look, just give it to me. You look like you're about to be choked just seeing how red your face has become." Adelle persisted and continued, "Or could it be you're suffering from heatstroke?"

Guo Yun gulped and shook his head. He really wanted to have a heatstroke at this moment so he could faint and not be embarrassed here. He also didn't want to get out of where he was standing where the grill stand was covering his crotch and be called a pervert when everybody sees it.

Ran Xueyi felt sympathetic towards the poor secretary of her husband and called Adelle over to her side. When the oblivious manager turned, she said, "Adelle, don't worry about him." Guo Yun almost kneeled before Ran Xueyi for her timely save, but before he could mentally shout his thanks to her, he heard her continue, "But if you're worried he'll faint, just wipe the sweat from his forehead and help him drink some water."

Guo Yun: "..."

'Madam, I don't know if you're helping me or quickening my death. Please decide quickly!'

"And do you really think you have the time to be helping other people right now?" Song Yu Han stood a bit closer to her and their skin was practically touching.

And because Ran Xueyi was wearing a swimwear that exposed more of her skin, having him stand close to her was enough to give her a pleasant shiver all over her body.

Ran Xueyi took a step back to separate them because it was torturous for her at this moment. She realized that having herself close to her husband was a red flag because she barely controlled herself from moaning.

"It's not really my fault. It just looks so beautiful that by the time I paid for it, I forgot what damages I might have caused." Ran Xueyi didn't back down and stand to defend her case.

Actually, she already knew what Song Yu Han might say, and he will surely object to her wearing that at the beach. Men and their obsession to not make their women show too much skin outside is a disease. However, Ran Xueyi still couldn't help but feel smug when she saw how possessive he was.

Song Yu Han sighed, "You didn't do any damage. Maybe later. But now, you're making me lose focus."

"And how does wearing a swimsuit make you lose focus?" Ran Xueyi was in disbelief.

Song Yu Han placed a finger under her chin and tipped it upward as he replied, "I'm having a trouble focusing my reasons whether I should make sure our son is safe under my watch or I should throw you back into that tent and rip that swimsuit from your body so I can fuck you senselessly until everyone in this beach finds out that you're mine and no one is allowed to see you like this. And right now, you're a hair's breadth away from making me do it."

He spoke so fast and it was even in one breath! Ran Xueyi couldn't help but marvel at him. However, his words definitely made her want him to do that to her. But then again, she couldn't do that. Not when their son is right beside them.

"I...I'll go back inside and change immediately." Ran Xueyi turned around to escape before he could even think of doing exactly what he had just told her he would.

But before she could take a step, Song Yu Han grabbed her by the elbow and said after he sighed, "No need. Just... Just wear my jacket."

He then took off his jacket and draped it around her. Ran Xueyi stared in silence and was strangled with the idea of screaming. Who wears a jacket at a beach? Are you not afraid of me having a heatstroke instead?

But since her husband had already conceded and let her wear her beloved swimsuit, Ran Xueyi accepted the jacket and let it sit on her shoulder. It does little help in covering her swimsuit, but it still covers up most of the skin that should be covered.

Finally, everyone settled down to take a seat around the table. With the help of Adelle, the meat was overcooked. Still, it didn't stop them from filling their stomachs until they couldn't eat anymore.

After eating her fill, Ran Xueyi leaned against the back of the portable chair and sighed. She patted her stomach in satisfaction and also rubbed it.

"Mommy, am I getting a little sister?"

Suddenly, the hand that was rubbing her stomach paused as she whipped her head to look at her son who was sitting next to her with a meat on his fork that he was holding in his hand.

"Wha-what?" Ran Xueyi never thought that this question would come from her son.

"You're rubbing and patting your stomach... I see on TV that some mommy with a big tummy do that." Little Zhanzhan opened his mouth and ate the meat as if what he had just said was not shocking enough.

Perceiving Song Yu Han's heated gaze, Ran Xueyi didn't want to turn to look at him and see what he looked like right now.

She quickly shook her head and turned to face her son before saying, "Mommy just finished eating delicious food and was happy. So, I rubbed my stomach."

"Hm..." Little Zhanzhan nodded his head with little reaction. He really didn't care but his little nod only made it look like he didn't buy her words.

At this moment, Song Yu Han took over the scene and asked, "Baby, you just said little sister... Do you want a little sister?"

"Yu Han, what are you doing?!" Ran Xueyi became flustered and her cheeks flushed.

Song Yu Han shrugged and didn't answer her. Instead, he focused his eyes at his son and waited for his response.

After a few seconds, he received his son's reply.

"No, I don't want a little sister..."

Ran Xueyi sighed in relief while Song Yu Han was slightly disappointed.

However, the Little One's not done.

"But I do want a twin brother and sister."

Chapter 413 Reason Behind The Change Of Director Fan's Heart (1)

Ran Xueyi had nothing to say, but her heart was beating faster than ever! Her son's words rattled her, although she would give him everything and even what he was asking for, which is a sibling, but getting a twin was not an easy thing to do.

However, Song Yu Han wasn't deterred or shaken by his son's words at all, quite the opposite from his wife. Instead, inside his mind, he was already thinking of meeting some renowned doctors who could help increase the odds of having twins!

"As much as I love to give Little Zhanzhan twins siblings, I still want to adore and spoil my little boy a bit more." Ran Xueyi could already see Song Yu Han's mind working about this matter. It wasn't a bad thing, but at this moment, Ran Xueyi just wanted to shower her little boy with their love more and think of having a bigger family later on.

Little Zhanzhan didn't seem to be disappointed with her answer, contrary to Song Yu Han's momentarily sulk as though his puppy ears were drooping low. His mother's response made him extremely happy that he added a few more slices of meat on top of his plates and on his mother in silence.

After the little episode during lunch, the group finally went to the sea to play. It was a good thing that the beach wasn't that crowded so that they could relax without any disturbance.

Little Zhanzhan was also ecstatic to have all his parents' time and day. He was being spoiled as they taught him how to dive deeper into the sea, holding his hands and viewing the live fish swimming away from the people that came close to them.

When dinner arrived, Ran Xueyi and Adelle decided to stay inside the tent with Little Zhanzhan, who was exhausted after a long day. He also suffered from a slight sunburn that a sunburn ointment helped ease the pain. Though he did cry out and Ran Xueyi had to coax him to sleep so that he wouldn't feel that bit of pain.

"I heard from Guo Yun that you're sending Little Zhanzhan to school next year?" asked Adelle as she watched Ran Xueyi stroke her son's hair away from his face.

Ran Xueyi peeled the hair off her son's face first before she replied, "I know it's too early for him to go to school. But things are getting far more dangerous around me and Yu Han. My little boy also needs to learn how to make friends with the other kids his age."

"But won't it be more dangerous if he stays out of your sight?"

Ran Xueyi shook her head, "The school that Yu Han picked is a private class with a few kids. It's still being reconsidered whether to relocate the whole class to a place closer to us. As for his safety, Guo Yun said he'll personally watch over my son and also station several guards from his own squad which I heard are the top soldiers in their batch."

It's not that Ran Xueyi didn't consider her son's own choice and thoughts regarding this, but she couldn't push this back any longer. The longer it takes for Little Zhanzhan to go to school and mingle with kids around his age, the harder it is for him to enjoy his youthful life.

Being around Ran Xueyi and Song Yu Han was probably the best option for his safety, but being safe and secure isn't just what being a child is all about.

Outside of the tent, another discussion between Song Yu Han and Guo Yun was being discussed.

"Have you investigated the reason why Director Fan ended up changing the final line up in her film?" Song Yu Han didn't forget about the matter this morning. Just remembering that someone had stolen something from his woman that made her sulk a little bit, made him want to call all his subordinates to the underground training basement to practice his skills again.

Guo Yun nodded. "From what my men have gathered, Director Fan privately met the manager of the actress who got the role. They talked in the restaurant for almost an hour before they separately moved out of the place. Then, after arriving at the company, Director Fan changed the line-up without informing the rest of the production crew, only announcing the changes the next morning when some of the casting crew noticed and raised his questions. From the look of it, Director Fan wouldn't have announced the changes until the initial filming if the casting crew didn't question her about it."

Song Yu Han didn't care about this and pointed his question at the important detail, "So, did you find out what Director Fan and the manager talked about in the restaurant?"

Guo Yun pulled his phone out and pressed a few things before a video played. The video showed a one perspective view where only the manager of the actress Li Na was being shown in there.

"As per your orders, we have installed a monitoring camera on each employee's ID cards. Right now, what you're seeing was recorded in their ID Cards."

In order to ensure that nobody in the Moonlight Entertainment would involve themselves in the unscrupulous ways of the entertainment industry, Song Yu Han proposed the idea of installing a micro camera into each employee's IDs three years ago. It was in order to keep track of their movements and also to ensure their safety as well. Of course, the employees have a copy of their own micro camera recordings installed in their phones. Even though they are not allowed to download, make a copy, or edit the videos, they are still able to view it anytime they want or need it for further evidence.

The employees' contract also didn't hide this from them, putting it into a highlighted clause in the contract that they will have to wear an ID with a micro camera implanted in it.

At first, the employees were afraid of losing their human rights. However, after an incident about an employee being harassed by a wealthy man but was still punished instead of the assaulter because they lack strong evidence, it instilled fear inside themselves. They knew that the law only sided with the wealthy, so in the end, they agreed to sign the contract.

Naturally, not everyone signed. But it still didn't stop Moonlight Entertainment from becoming one of the companies in the country that many newly graduated students and licensed people they wanted to work in.

Director Fan should also know of the existence of this micro camera and she wasn't usually the type to forget about it either. But, that day, as if a curtain was standing in the way of her conscience, she completely forgot about it and met Li Na's manager.

Watching the whole video would take a lot of their time to see what they wanted and so, Guo Yun had his tech team cut it into a short clip.

In the video, the new and rising actress Li Na's manager was already inside the private room. When Director Fan entered, the manager stood up to greet her and shook hands with her. The two shared a moment of pleasantries and introductions as though this was their first time meeting each other.

However, as soon as the video continued, Li Na's manager's hand that was on top of the table slowly moved closer and closer until it was placed right above Director Fan's hand.

Then, his voice was transmitted through the phone's speaker.

"It has been a while, Ning. I see that you've become even prettier after our break up."

Such a revelation wasn't exactly as surprising or shocking since many people in the entertainment circle were at some point involved with each other. There were those who became lovers with their co-stars, their directors, or even with their managers. It wasn't really a forbidden love, but in some sense, it was. After all, they had to date without having anybody else find out about it.

Director Fan's voice was also heard soon after Li Na's manager spoke.

"Brother Bei Honglin also looked even more handsome."

"Am I, really? That's a relief then since I put a lot of effort into how I looked today so I can impress you over dinner tonight." Li Na's manager, who was called Bei Honglin, smiled bashfully at her. "Fan Ning... I know this may be sudden and you might think I have ulterior motives. But, when I heard that the director of the script was you, I couldn't stop myself from approaching you first."

Director Fan Ning didn't speak. The video didn't show her face, just her own perspective through the micro camera embedded in her ID. No one knew what expression she was wearing right at this moment nor how she was feeling right now after hearing her ex-boyfriend's words.

Bei Honglin wasn't flustered when he got the silent treatment as he continued to speak while holding her hand on top of the table, "Ning, can we go back to the past? To the way we were before? I... I just missed you so much after we broke up. I couldn't stop thinking about you."

"Brother Bei Honglin, what exactly are you talking about?" Director Fan finally said.

Bei Honglin's lips twitched but he still went straight to the point, "This is a bit shameless of me even though we already broke up. But can you please let Li Na take the lead role in your film? In exchange... I'll devote myself to you and also promise to take responsibility for our child?"

Chapter 414 Reason Behind The Change Of Director Fan Heart (2)

For five years, Fan Ning only wished within those five years was to hear those words from Bei Honglin. The two of them went to the same media university in the country, dreamed of becoming gold tier directors, and racking so much money that they could drown in it with their family.

After finding out that she was pregnant five years ago, Fan Ning only knew how excited she was to break the news to her lover, but before she could tell him of the new addition to their family, Bei Honglin had already packed his suitcase and left their apartment without a word. Fan Ning didn't even get to talk to him before he completely vanished.

It was only two years ago when Fan Ning finally saw him again. The lover who had left her was now standing beside an actress who had just won Best New Actress award in a small awarding ceremony in the country as her manager. She had only recently entered the Moonlight Entertainment at the same time and had little time to care about the man who had left her.

However, the gnawing desire to get what was hers once was still growing inside. And having a child didn't help erase it either. Rather she became more desperate to get his attention.

"Let's not talk about this..." Fan Ning was slightly uncomfortable. She knew she was making a mistake by coming here and meeting with her ex-lover privately. She should have taken her assistant with her.

Bei Honglin didn't let go of her hand and neither did Fan Ning try to get his hand off her. He could already tell that his tactics were working. Just a little push and this deal was sealed in stone.

"Ning, I know how hard it is to bring up a child. I heard our daughter is being bullied at school." At the mention of their daughter, Fan Ning's heart broke even more and she wanted to scream at him that the reason why this was happening was because he left her. But Fan Ning didn't have the heart to shout at him nor did she want to lose the familiar touch his hand was causing to her body.

"Ning... Give me a chance." Bei Honglin suddenly stood up and sat on the chair next to her. He held her hands and stared at her eyes, "I already talked to my company. I told them I'll leave the company to take care of our family. But they set a condition before I could do that. And that is to land a big production film for my artist."

Fan Ning could hear the nagging voice that said he was lying, that he was manipulating and tricking her. But his eyes and voice filled with affection and familiarity seemed to filter all her doubts away.

There was a short moment of silence before Fan Ning spoke: "Are you really going back to us?"

At her question, Bei Honglin's face was bright as he showed true joy. He jumped off his chair as he suddenly pulled her into his embrace. The micro camera was completely blocked by his sudden closeness.

Holding the phone that showed the clip, Guo Yun swiped his finger across the screen to stop the video from playing anymore. The next scene was already pretty obvious since the two had shared a passionate embrace. It wouldn't be a wonder if they also shared a kiss. Guo Yun's job did not include him watching people making out.

"I already investigated Bei Honglin's background before playing this video." Guo Yun didn't need Song Yu Han to ask him about Bei Honglin's information as he narrated, "Bei Honglin went from the same university as Fan Ning. They were lovers, but Bei Honglin was drowning with debts that came from his gambling habits. In order to escape his debtors, he left his pregnant lover and got help from one of his lovers to enter YunHua Entertainment where he became Li Na's manager."

Song Yu Han patiently listened to his narrative and tapped his fingers against the table. The rhythmic tapping of his fingers stopped after Guo Yun finished. Then, he said, "And after reuniting, the two fixed their personal issues between each other. What a beautiful story, isn't it? Two lovers separated by tragedy reunited. Unfortunately, one is an opportunistic bastard and the other a hopeless romantic."

Guo Yun had nothing to say to that. The fact that Song Yu Han's only response was to comment about how such a ridiculous event could happen and resulting in his wife's role being taken away, was not a good thing.

On the contrary, Guo Yun's heart flinched when he saw the corners of his boss's lips turning upwards. The trademark that showed just how much this situation had pissed Song Yu Han.

He had never thought that such a stupid thing could happen. It was even more dramatic to think that someone could use their personal and emotional story to take away what others should already have. Song Yu Han knew that actors and actresses could be replaced at any time, and in this situation, Ran Xueyi hadn't signed the contract, but it still pissed him off that someone had involved their personal issues and feelings to move their own judgment.

"And who is this actress named Li Na? Is someone backing her?" asked Song Yu Han.

Guo Yun also investigated the actress's background and replied, "The Li family is backing her. From what I've investigated, it seems that she's pretty talented in acting. A lot of directors are singing praises of her acting and she's quickly gaining popularity."

Song Yu Han frowned when he heard this. He knew who the Li family was. They were Cao Huiling's close confidant and Li Chang's wife was also her best friend.

"Uhm... Boss. Li Na is also the woman that the Old Patriarch Song tried to set you up on a blind date." Guo Yun was sure that Song Yu Han had already forgotten about this and so he reminded him of it.

At his words, Song Yu Han frowned and sternly said, "Don't mention this ever again."

He didn't actually remember every woman who had been set up with him on a blind date. His grandfather was desperate to tie him to a marriage with anyone at that time. Cao Huiling mostly recommended all of these women to the old patriarch. And Li Na must have been one of them. However, Song Yu Han eluded him as though he was a plague.

The Old Patriarch, however, didn't give up initially and kept sending women in his way until Song Yu Han decided to stay overseas.

"Then, how should we punish Director Fan?"

Song Yu Han looked back to the tent and said, "Monitor Director Fan's movement for now. Get everything you can use against her during the office inspection to demote her from her position as Chief Director. Also, place some people to observe Bei Honglin and that actress. I want to see if what's going on has something to do with my esteemed stepmother."

He was not a hundred percent sure that Cao Huiling has something to do with the sudden removal of Ran Xueyi from the cast. However, the sudden appearance of Bei Honglin was extremely suspicious. Besides, there's also the involvement of Li Na, the girl who was once pushed to him by his grandfather for a blind date.

Song Yu Han didn't want to take any chances and lose the only lead he could trace. It didn't matter to him if he was wrong to suspect that Cao Huiling had something to do with this matter. What he cared the most about was missing a chance to keep everything in order.

Ran Xueyi's path in the entertainment circle was going to be trekked by her. However, he wouldn't let other people become an obstacle in her journey just because they were connected by marriage.

That night, Song Yu Han called out outside the tent. However, it was Adelle who answered and told him that Ran Xueyi and Little Zhanzhan were already asleep.

Adelle opened the flaps and told him, "Do you want to come in? I can stay in the other tent and let you stay with them."

It didn't really matter where she would stay the night. It was only one night anyway and there was nothing going to happen if she stayed with the obedient and gentleman Guo Yun in the same tent. She also wanted to talk about their next training session with him.

Song Yu Han was tempted to accept her offer, but when he thought of how lovesick and bothered his special assistant had become just at the sight of this girl in her swimsuit, he didn't want to damage his assistant and good friend's mental and control capacity. And most importantly, he could relate with how Guo Yun would feel being in the same room with the woman you love.

And so, he rejected her offer and returned to their tent. Song Yu Han saw Guo Yun sitting with his back straight as he tapped his fingers on the tablet. He was working even late at night.

When Song Yu Han was closer to him, he patted his assistant's shoulder and said, "I'm sorry and I'll help you get another opportunity later."

Guo Yun, who was talking to one of his squad about their new mission: ".....?"

Chapter 415 "Get Down On Your Knees"

After staying at the beach for a night, Ran Xueyi and the others were ready to go back to the hotel. She had already arranged to meet with her senior Xie Xing to discuss what had happened a few days ago.

Little Zhanzhan had been really tired after swimming in the sea for an entire day. He had to be carried on Song Yu Han's back as soon as they arrived at the hotel. Adelle and Guo Yun went out to take care of some of their duties while Ran Xueyi went to change to get ready to meet her senior.

When she stepped into the showers, Ran Xueyi thought back to the role that she didn't get to take as she closed her eyes and let the drops of water fall on her body.

Even though she had already told Song Yu Han and the others that it didn't matter, it still left a bitter taste in her mouth. Ever since she returned to the entertainment industry three years ago, her journey hasn't been that smooth. That was to be expected since she had too many enemies and being in the entertainment circle was not an easy thing to begin with.

But why was it that everyone thought that she was too easy to tackle down? Had she been so easy-going and weak? That in their eyes, she was no more than just a sinking boat trying to move along the waves of the sea?

Ran Xueyi didn't want to become a sinking boat. Not now. And not ever. She will never be that wooden boat that anyone can just step on and break whenever they want.

But to be honest, she also didn't know what she wanted to do with Director Fan. Her reason behind the change in her heart was so sudden that it even caught her off guard. They had met on a good note and even expected to work with each other. Then, why did she replace her?

Ran Xueyi sighed and thought that maybe she wasn't that great. Maybe her image and some other factors disallowed her from playing the role of the female lead in Director Fan's film.

Her eyes fluttered open when she heard the door to the bathroom being opened, but before she could turn around and look who was behind, an arm had already wrapped itself around her. She didn't have to know who had barged into the bathroom. There couldn't be anyone else that was as shameless as Song Yu Han.

"What is it?" Ran Xueyi let him embrace her in his arms.

"You've been in the showers for half an hour. I got worried and checked up on you to see if you're okay." Song Yu Han was still wearing his clothes this morning, but he didn't care even when the water had soaked him all over.

Hearing him, Ran Xueyi was shocked. Did she stay under the shower for that long?

As if he could tell what she was thinking, Song Yu Han placed his chin on top of her head, "Yes, you stayed too long in the shower that I ended sending our son away."

"What for?" Ran Xueyi wanted to face him, but she was stopped when his arms didn't let her move.

"Because I'm afraid there will soon be a scene where only adults are allowed to view and hear will happen."

Holy sh*t.

Ran Xueyi cursed loudly in her mind when she heard his words.

"Uh... I think it's too early for this. Besides, Brother Xie Xing will soon come to our room. I don't want to give him a shock when he comes over."

A chuckle rumbled in his chest as he rubbed his chin against the top of her head, "There's never an early or late for us, Love. Or are you saying that you're too shy to show how lovey-dovey we are in front of your senior brother?"

Ran Xueyi felt herself shuddering. Even through the veil of water that was pouring down on their bodies, she could smell the vinegar emanating from his body. "Can you please not get jealous of him? He's a senior I respect. And I don't think he sees me in any way other than his little sister."

"That's not what my intel says." Song Yu Han interrupted. He suddenly scooped her up into his chest and set her down on the marble countertop in the bathroom. He didn't even turn off the water from the shower as he parted the wet hair that covered her face and skin. "The two of you made a pact. You told him you would marry him if the two of you aren't married or engaged to another person. That alone is making me piss off."

Ran Xueyi swallowed hard when this topic was excavated from the ground. Why did she forget about this matter again? Why didn't she tell him about this? But then, it was just a childish agreement between her and Xie Xing. It was really nothing since the two of them lost contact as soon as the fiasco from last time happened.

Ran Xueyi groaned and shoved her face into her hands, desperate to bury all of her stupid actions and ideas from the past. She didn't really mind that Song Yu Han dug up her background and past. He had already told her that he had intel about her before he married her. But it was still a shameful thing to have him know almost everything about her.

"Alright, I'll tell you what happened and why we agreed on it. But you must answer a question that I will ask you." Ran Xueyi sighed and raised her head to look at him.

"Whatever you need, Love."

Ran Xueyi had no way of attempting to get out of this. It was even harder to do that when he's all ready and prepared to answer her questions as if it was his honor and duty to provide her answers.

"Before Yang Baihua happened, I met Brother Xie Xing. We were friends but I had a tiny little bit of crush on him. He was the only one who could understand me and relate to my situation so I was inevitably attracted to him. But that was all. After Yang Baihua came to ruin my life, everything about him is nothing. That tiny little bit of crush I had on him is also gone, so is our agreement to marry each other if we're still unmarried and single." Ran Xueyi stared at him with a smile as she took his hand and placed it over heart. "Besides, I have the man I really and truly love in my heart."

The man in front of her was too calm after her rambling. So calm that he doesn't react at all and it made her extremely nervous. Is he still jealous?

But then, his other hand made its way to her neck to hold her steady when she was speaking. The way their bodies were positioned was so hot and sexy that it made her insides throb for him.

The worst part was that she could even feel his cock in his pants, hot and hard against her thighs, a tease of what she was missing.

"It was a good thing that I sent our son away." Song Yu Han finally opened his lips to speak. But the first thing he said wasn't about what she had just confessed. "Or else, he would hear his mother being fucked by his father raw and hard in the bathroom."

Ran Xueyi blushed red at his words. She looked away from the way he was staring at her as if she was a piece of meat that he had to eat no matter what. And honestly, she wanted to be the kind of meat he'd become addicted to taste and eat every single day.

"Get down on your knees," he commanded her.

Ran Xueyi stared at him.

"We don't have time for this, Brother Xie willâ€" Ran Xueyi betrayed her own desire as she placed a hand over his chest. She didn't know whether she wanted to push him or pull him closer.

Suddenly, Ran Xueyi was made to kneel in front of his legs, looking up at him as he slowly unzipped his pants, tugging his black boxers down so he could release the raging cock that it hides. He was so red at the tip and there was even some pearly liquid that was squeezing out of the hole.

He was so ready and hot and hard.

He grabs a fistful of her hair and tugged her closer to him. Ran Xueyi looked up at him, to see how he was reacting, and as she had already expected, he was even more aroused than ever. Could it have been the tension in there? Or perhaps, it was the combination of her confession and her professing her love to him?

Staring back down at his length, Ran Xueyi licked her lower lips and fought the urge to moan as her pussy clenches at the sight of him. She wants him inside her, ravaging her and doing her as he told her just now. Raw and hard.

More than that, she wanted to take him down her throat and taste him; she wanted to swallow every last drop of his release while knowing that it was her who made him go crazy“

"If you don't open your mouth and suck me now, Love. Your Senior Brother might really see you sucking my cock when he arrives."

Ran Xueyi glared at him as he smiled back at her.