

Daddy CEO 496

Chapter 496 Please*

Song Yu Han nipped at the lobe of her ear before he whispered seductively, "Tonight, do you dare to take the risk of being fucked. Thoroughly and until you can only beg me to stop?"

Ran Xueyi raised her head and looked at him in a daze, as if she was completely charmed by his magic. Song Yu Han's eyes gradually darkened even more before he moved to stare at her lips which she was biting then at her chest that was pressed against his.

His hand caressed her face and slowly descended, and passed through her thin and slender neck. He touched the collar of the shirt she was wearing, then his fingers playfully slid over her collarbones.

"Say please."

He copied her words when she told him to say please.

"Please," she breathed. Ran Xueyi wanted nothing else but to have him inside of her.

"Lie on your back on the bed," ordered Song Yu Han.

Ran Xueyi slowly leaned back and rested on her elbows, placing both her feet on top of the bed whilst her legs were spread wide open before his eyes.

Song Yu Han knelt before her as if he was praying to a God, his eyes were fixed between her thighs. He growled as Ran Xueyi placed her toes on his thighs and brought her hips closer to his face.

Ran Xueyi's lips parted as Song Yu Han kissed her through the fabric of her thin underwear. He took a long breath as though he was smelling a fine wine before he moved to cover her aching sex with his tongue, rubbing and lapping on her as if he couldn't get enough of her.

Soon, her underwear that covered her was thoroughly wet, soaked by his saliva and her sweet juices. Her hips bucked from time to time as the tip of his lips hit the nerves that made her toes curl inwardly.

Ran Xueyi released the moans she tried to cover with her hands. As time passed, she could no longer hold still as she reached her climax even without directly being touched by him.

Song Yu Han's eyes shrank slightly and his eyes darkened. It was too bad that he didn't get to taste her as she climaxed. But the night is still young and there's still a lot of time for him to taste every inch of her.

Ran Xueyi couldn't remember how many times she had her release. Song Yu Han had her come twice through the fabric of her underwear, when he was done, ripped the fabric and threw it in a corner before directly lapping and completely eating her out. But the highlight of their bed activity still hasn't come.

After he made her scream his name and come several times already, Song Yu Han finally let go of her quivering legs, and began to unzip his pants. He soon released his high-spirited c*ck and pulled her closer towards him by her hips.

Then, he directly drove his hard shaft inside her wet sex.

The soaking wet p*ssy, which was already swollen and red from his previous actions, was suddenly invaded by his rod. Ran Xueyi couldn't take the stimulation caused by his huge staff and almost c*mmmed again.

Song Yu Han's chest heaved up and down with the sensation of ecstasy he felt from being wrapped tightly by her wetness. He let out a few heavy breaths to calm himself and rained down kisses on her lips, cheeks, and neck.

Her hands were tightly holding on the sheets underneath her, treating it as her only anchor for sanity. But it did nothing as his rapid thrusts came down without mercy.

"Oh, God!" Ran Xueyi shouted and pressed her eyes close as the head of his shaft continuously struck her favorite spot. Her hips arched upwards as she watched him pull in and out.

Song Yu Han did not stop even though her voice turned hoarse from her moans and screams.

He wrapped his fingers around her legs and brought it in front of his chest, crossing it before pounding hard and rough into her. This position only brought more delicious pain inside of her, and with the next few thrusts, it hit a new place that has never been explored before and made lightning strike inside of her.

Her mind went blank and her eyes rolled back as her lewd juices splashed out and soaked the sheets and the part that joined them together. Song Yu Han, however, didn't give her a chance to recover as he tirelessly kept on pounding into her.

Song Yu Han felt so good, he couldn't stop his hips from starting another round of f*cking. He kept his pace fast and hard. His eyes inevitably moved down and focused on the movement of his c*ck going in and out of her wet p*ssy, making squelching sounds and bullying her already swollen lower lips.

"Oh, yes! Please, please, more!" she cried out. "Don't stop... Ah! Just like that! F*ck me deep and fast!"

This obscene sight of her begging him for more despite already being on the verge of her release brought a new level of satisfaction and pleasure within him.

Ran Xueyi flushed with pure carnal bliss, "Oh, god... I'm going to... I'mâ€"

He felt the walls of her wet sex tightening and twitching as if thousands of mouths were sucking him.

"Come... Come all over on me, love," Song Yu Han snarled as he felt his own release catching up quickly to her shouts.

This time, the stimulation she was giving him was so intense and extreme that it rendered him breathless. Song Yu Han finally couldn't take it any longer as he filled her to the brim with his hard length and ejaculated. At the same time, Ran Xueyi uncontrollably trembled as she uncontrollably squirted her juices all over his lower body.

Chapter 497 To Promote

The next day, Ran Xueyi woke up later with sore muscles. The bed activity last night was extremely tiring that she didn't even want to lift a finger. However, the soft and adorable voice coming from the little living room of their hotel room urged her to get up.

She couldn't allow Little Zhanzhan to come up with another misunderstanding upon seeing her right now.

Last time, he misunderstood the marks Song Yu Han left on her body. This time, will he think that his father wrestled with her all night until she's covered in bruises?

Just thinking about it made her face heat up.

"Mommy?" a small head peeked out of the door.

Ran Xueyi hurriedly covered herself under the sheets and smiled, "Yes, baby?"

"Mommy, are you and A'Yu good now?"

Ran Xueyi: "Huh?"

Little Zhanzhan: "Brother Yun and the others said that you two are fighting. Are you two good now?"

Ran Xueyi raised her eyebrows and said, "They said that?"

Little Zhanzhan nodded and pouted his lips, "I wanted to sleep in your room with you. But they said I can't."

Ran Xueyi paused before she said, "Daddy and mommy didn't fight. Mommy is just upset with daddy because mommy is so childish. But everything is alright now."

Little Zhanzhan blinked his doe eyes and slightly pushed the door. He shyly walked inside with both his hands on his back. He lowered his head before gingerly hopping up into the bed.

He then produced a flower in his hand and told her, "Mommy is not childish. Mommy is amazing!"

Ran Xueyi couldn't stop herself from gathering her son into her arms and hugged him. The two shared a sweet moment together before Song Yu Han walked in and put his hands on his hips with an expression that shows his dissatisfaction for enjoying a good time without him.

After breakfast, Ran Xueyi went down to the lobby to meet Daren Wang. The two discussed the film's direction. Daren Wang just received an invitation to a variety show which will be his first ever appearance in public.

The purpose for this was to give him and the film <Unholy Desires> an opportunity to attract more viewers.

When Ran Xueyi heard this, she agreed without any hesitation, "It's great if you receive an invitation. But what kind of show is it? How many people can go there?"

Daren Wang paused to think over it for a brief moment before he said, "The show's name is called Golden Camp. They only said to bring the important roles to the show to promote the film. I'm still not sure how many I will have to bring."

This was his first time being invited to a variety show so he has less knowledge about it. On the other hand, he was feeling nervous since this was also the only time he could promote the film. He didn't want to bomb this opportunity for everyone and ruin this chance to gather as much exposure they could get.

In any case, their film was not officially announced. The cast list was even more secretive so not many people knew that Ran Xueyi was shooting a film in a small village. Her fans were many, but they can't possibly rely on herself all the time, right?

Thus, when Daren Wang heard that he could promote his film through the variety show, he directly accepted it.

Hearing the name of the variety show, Ran Xueyi had some impression of it.

Golden Camp was one of the few variety shows in the country that lasted for over a decade. The show was relatively popular when it started until the eighth year it began to circulate in many television sites. However, two years ago, one of the show's official members was involved in a drug addiction and ended up ruining the show's reputation.

This incident led the show to take a few months break to escape the public's attention and attacks on the other members of the show. Because of one member, the other members naturally couldn't escape suspicions and many fans and passersby began to question if they were even clean themselves and took part in taking drugs.

In just a few days, the show's reputation and rankings in the variety show top list was dragged down. It was only recently that they began to rise up again.

"What do you think? Was I wrong to accept their invitation?" Daren Wang still has some reservations. He knew nothing much about the ins and outs of the entertainment industry despite being a director, he could only depend on Ran Xueyi's opinion regarding this matter since she has been in the industry for almost 2 decades now.

Although Ran Xueyi thinks that the variety show's reputation was slightly not good, it still is the best option for them right now. After all, Golden Camp stayed on the top list ranking of the variety shows in the country for a decade. It still has some glory that was inherited from its past.

Ran Xueyi patted his shoulder once and smiled, "No, you did right. It's good that you're taking the initiative to open up more opportunities for yourself and for the film."

Daren Wang was still too young. He may be talented in terms of directing films, but he was way too inexperienced when it comes to matters within the entertainment industry. It was too easy for others to take advantage of him.

So, having him open up to the world of entertainment earlier would be better so he can get used to it.

But the problem did not lie on Daren Wang. It was Song Yu Han...

Ran Xueyi wondered if he was willing to appear in the show. And with his busy schedule, Song Yu Han's participation in the variety show is slim.

After discussing the variety show, the two then talked about the scenes they were about to shoot. Ran Xueyi still had a few scenes left before she was done. After that, she could finally take a long break from acting and proceed with her other plans.

As for Song Yu Han, he still had some more scenes left so he might have to stay at the filming set for a while before he's finished.

Since Daren Wang found out that the two were not only together, but actually legally married and already have a little son, he became even more courageous as he added a few more bed and kiss scenes between the two of them.

Chapter 498 Beautiful And Affection Family Of Three

After talking to Daren Wang, Ran Xueyi went upstairs to the room and saw Song Yu Han talking to someone on his phone while Little Zhanzhan sat on his lap and played with his father's long and slender fingers.

Little Zhanzhan noticed that his mother arrived first. His eyes gleamed brightly and were about to call out to her when Ran Xueyi held out a finger over her lips to tell him not to raise his voice.

Song Yu Han didn't notice the exchanges between the pair as he continued to speak to his phone, "The land auction will proceed as planned. However, only the highest bidder can get it. The bidding price should start at 100 million yuan. That's right... Alright, tell me when the auction starts."

After he hung up, he looked up to see his wife staring at him with a smile. Little Zhanzhan also raised his head to stare at him, but he was pouting.

Song Yu Han let him play with his fingers and spoke to his wife, "Did you finish your talk with Director Daren? What did you two talk about?"

Ran Xueyi nodded as she walked over to them. "He received an invitation in a variety show."

Song Yu Han raised his eyebrows: "Isn't that great?"

"It is, but the thing is... He will bring some of the artists in his films to tag along with him," said Ran Xueyi with a slight smile.

Song Yu Han did not understand the meaning behind her smile and said, "Promoting the film is one of the artists and the production crew's duty. I see no reason why he shouldn't accept it."

"So you're agreeing to come?"

"Hm?" Song Yu Han looked at her with a confused expression. "Why?"

She chuckled and gave him a cheeky smile, "You just said it is the artist's duty to promote the film. As the male lead of our film, doesn't that include you? Daren Wang was too scared to talk to you about it. That's why he called me downstairs to ask if I could convince you to come. However, if it's impossible, it's alright for you to not go."

Ran Xueyi didn't want to force this on him. Song Yu Han was not a true actor. Despite him acting in a film now and being interested and also developing a talent in it, it doesn't change the fact that his priorities didn't lie on the acting industry but YH group.

She couldn't change him, nor does she want him to change.

Song Yu Han's decision to participate in a film with her and do it for the sake of experiencing the same thing she experienced was one thing, but getting him to abandon his goals and forcing him to accept the way things work in the entertainment industry was another thing.

Ran Xueyi added, "Actually, you don't have to go. Filming pushed back a lot of your work at the company. People will also recognize you if you appear in front of the camera. Some might even throw negative words at you."

Though she knew these things won't affect him that much, Ran Xueyi didn't want anyone to call Song Yu Han a rich young master, who was abusing his power and wealth to delve into acting. There were many actors and actresses who came from a wealthy background who were smashed by netizens because they heard they bought their way into the entertainment industry and got their roles with money.

Ran Xueyi was certain that a lot of people will surely say the same thing to Song Yu Han.

Song Yu Han was really not worried about this just as she expected. She pulled her into his arms and let Ran Xueyi sit on his other leg and hugged her by the waist.

Then, he told her, "Thank you for worrying about me, Love. But you're right. I might not be able to come since I have some business to take care of on that day."

His voice contained his disappointment. He really wanted to come and appear in the same show with Ran Xueyi. But who told him to be the chairman of YH Group? He had too many work that he pushed back that Guo Yun was practically shooting eyes at him and complaining that he will soon become bald if Song Yu Han didn't help him out at work.

Ran Xueyi also thought it was a shame that he couldn't go. But she was already expecting this so the disappointment in her heart was not much.

After calling Daren Wang and telling him that Song Yu Han couldn't come to the show, Song Yu Han took his wife and son to a mall.

Since he couldn't come to the show and share the same scene with his wife, he should at least pamper them to the fullest, right?

Thus, on that day, he almost spent a million dollars just from shopping with Ran Xueyi and Little Zhanzhan. They bought a lot of expensive stuff and brought it back to their hotel.

As soon as their car left, two figures stepped out of another car and looked in the direction where Song Yu Han and Ran Xueyi had just left.

Cao Yujin couldn't believe the scene that played before her eyes. She just saw Song Yu Han taking a woman and the boy she saw at the party to shop. He even carried the numerous bags that carried things in his hands before taking the little boy into his arms.

The three people displayed a scene of a beautiful and affectionate family of three out to play and shop.

But in her eyes, it was the most irritating thing she had seen all her life. How could this be? Did she see it wrongly? Song Yu Han was not the type to do these things and smile brightly and tenderly towards another person.

Yet, he did just that and more.

The other person next to her didn't speak, perceiving the mood Cao Yujin was in. She hesitated for a short while before she said, "Cao Yujin, don't think too much. Maybe we saw something wrong just now. How could that person be that person? Those three are obviously a family. That person isn't the type to waste his time shopping."

This was also what Cao Yujin was thinking about. It was alright if he only saw Song Yu Han with another woman, she might assume that she really sees things wrongly.

However, that little boy was stuck in her eyes since last night. How could she possibly forget his face?

Especially that woman...

Chapter 499 Generosity?

Cao Yujin didn't want to trust her intuition. But the scene earlier of the three having so much fun and enjoying their time like the perfect picture of a family became an eyesore to her.

She had always viewed herself as Song Yu Han's wife ever since she laid her eyes on him. Although Song Yu Han's mother was not the first wife and an official one, turning him into a child out of wedlock, he was still the young master who had been under the tutelage of the Old Patriarch Song. This means a lot to several people.

Old Patriarch Song particularly didn't like being dragged into a mess that he didn't want to solve. His son's messy romantic affairs were even more so. However, it became a great surprise when Old Patriarch Song not only acknowledged Song Yu Han's identity and registered him into the Song family's family registry, but he also brought him to countless important gatherings.

It would have been nothing if other children from the Song family received the same treatment, but Song Yu Han only was the child who got to stand close to him.

Thus, a lot of people were confused. Was Old Patriarch Song planning to skip one generation and give his wealth and the position of CEO of the Song Corporation to Song Yu Han?

They had a lot of speculations and suspicions regarding how precious Song Yu Han was towards the Old Patriarch Song. But they can only think inwardly and not outwardly say this to the people involved.

But all of their curiosity and suspicions were directly trampled on when Song Yu Han, who they doubted could stand on his feet and become an outstanding man, actually excelled to the sky. He was definitely a talent that could only be seen in a hundred years.

"You're right," said Cao Yujin. "Han gege isn't someone who can be tempted by something like this. I must have been seeing things because I miss him a lot."

Needless to say, her words were not only used to comfort herself, but also to warn this friend to not bark her mouth to the wrong tree and spread the things they saw earlier to anyone else.

Cao Yujin's friend paled and forced down the mockery that flashed past her eyes. Obviously, a lot of their circle knew that Cao Yujin had been chasing after Song Yu Han. They didn't know whether the latter shared the same feelings as her because they couldn't meet him easily. However, the Cao and the Song families have been quite close these past several years.

With Cao Yujin's arrival in the country, people speculated that the engagement between them will soon be official.

But who knew that she would have seen such a thing as soon as she followed Cao Yujin at the mall?

In the car.

Ran Xueyi checked the time. Later, she would be going to Chestnut to deal with some things. She had been away for so long and didn't want to depend on Elder Wu Qi to manage her company. She should at least show her face at the company from time to time in case there were some trouble.

As soon as Song Yu Han heard her plans, he detoured and drove towards Chestnut Entertainment. It took them nearly half an hour to arrive there.

The building stood tall and the exterior design was magnificent. This was Little Zhanzhan's first time in his mother's company so he was in awe for a while. However, he soon recovered as he didn't forget to cling to his mother as they made their way to the top floor.

Elder Wu Qi had long waited for them. He announced that minor employees should stay in their office and departments. The major office staff should go with him to the lobby and line up to welcome the president.

Actually, Chestnut's president's identity was not revealed to many. Only a few office staff who were close to Elder Wu Qi had met Ran Xueyi. At first, they were surprised, but it was not rare for an actress or artist to own their own agency. It was just that Ran Xueyi hid it so well that almost nobody knew about it.

"Welcome President Ran!"

When the automatic door slid open and three figures strode in, the people inside the lobby simultaneously greeted them. They were all greeting Ran Xueyi, the president of Chestnut.

Ran Xueyi didn't expect the grand welcome. She glanced at Elder Wu Qi for a brief second before understanding his intention. He was obviously making arrangements to reveal her identity to everyone now.

Although Ran Xueyi thought this was unnecessary and too dramatic, since it was already there, there was no need for her to say anymore. Besides, she thought that this arrangement was just right.

Zhao Fei and Feng Huai's wrongdoings were laid bare to everyone. They heard that they did something wrong to the company's artists that led them to be fired. But the two held a strong foundation in the company and were close to a lot of people. Added to the fact that they were rumored to be very close to the company owner, the shock everyone received when they heard them being fired and sued were tremendous.

Was Elder Wu Qi crazy? With the two's backing, was he not afraid that he'd be fired by the big boss?

But now, they understood.

Ran Xueyi was the owner and president of the company. From what they heard, Ran Xueyi was one of the artists Feng Huai and Zhao Fei offended. It was no longer a wonder why they would be cut off.

They offended the big boss. It was only natural for them to be punished for their wrongdoings.

The people in the lobby couldn't help but stare at Ran Xueyi with admiration as well as fear, their hearts swore to never offend her.

Ran Xueyi did not know what was going on in their mind as she passed by the line of people and headed to the special elevator with the others.

They arrived quickly to her office and she put Little Zhanzhan on the floor. The little boy knew that his mother had something important to do so he didn't make a lot of fuss as he looked around his mother's office.

On the side, Ran Xueyi, Song Yu Han, and Elder Wu Qi had taken their seats. At first, the three exchanged pleasantries first before moving to a serious topic. Song Yu Han did not own Chestnut thus, he didn't get himself involved and watched his wife work. He only said a few lines before treating himself to a bystander.

Their discussion went smoothly and the company matters that need to be urgently discussed were done. Next, Elder Wu Qi talked about what happened with Feng Huai and Zhao Fei.

Because Ran Xueyi went to the filming site as soon as she finished setting traps for both Zhao Fei and Feng Huai, she didn't get to see the outcome of this battle.

Elder Wu Qi took it upon himself to tell them.

As it turns out, Zhao Fei exerted a lot of effort and money to take Feng Huai out of prison. Feng Huai's brother-in-law and sister did not receive her help since they weren't close. This drove a discord between the two sides.

In the end, Zhao Fei almost expend all her money in her bank account to bail both Feng Huai and his brother-in-law. Despite being freed temporarily, the lawsuit that struck them didn't vanish. The four could only look for an excellent lawyer to give them a lower sentence as the evidence that was handed to the court was too strong for them to refute.

Feng Huai and Gong Sun were willing to settle for as long as they didn't have to rot in prison. So, they didn't skimp out on picking a lawyer who can give them a satisfying result. However, the price to hire this lawyer was a little bit too high.

In addition, Gong Sun still has to pay Dauntless 100 million. Currently, they still haven't spent the 45 million they have. But that was not enough. So, they could only turn to Zhao Fei, who earned a lot over the past years she worked in the entertainment industry.

In the end, Zhao Fei sold off her apartments and cars. Gong Sun wanted to sell his house, but his wife stopped him. Feng Huai sold his car too. Everyone pitched in to get money and save themselves from total ruin.

When she heard this, Ran Xueyi was greatly surprised and asked, "I didn't think that Zhao Fei would go as far as sell her house. If I remember correctly, she received it from her ex-husband when they divorced."

Elder Wu Qi also knew this and sighed, "It is quite strange. For someone to sacrifice a lot to save someone that is not their blood-related family or even their spouse, I am still in awe of her generosity."

Suddenly, an idea emerged in her mind. Ran Xueyi didn't think it was possible.

Generosity?

Ran Xueyi sneered.

Zhao Fei's actions might appear generous and selfless in other people's eyes. But now that Ran Xueyi understood her intentions, she couldn't help but think that Zhao Fei was really stupid.

Chapter 500 Consider (Happy 500 s!)

What Zhao Fei wanted was not Feng Huai's gratitude. True, she was showing off her great kindness as if she was a saint helping out unfortunate others. But a saint shouldn't possess any evil intentions, right?

Now thinking about it, Zhao Fei's detailed care towards Feng Huai was suspicious. Is that how a senior agent should act towards their assistants?

Zhao Fei probably is a special case.

Elder Wu Qi didn't know what Ran Xueyi was thinking about as he continued to discuss the outcome of this matter: "Through their combined actions of selling their assets, they accumulated almost 200 million yuan. It was enough to pay for the lawyers and Dauntless' settlement money. After we filed our case, the court opened a trial again. We were told to either settle the matter privately or legally. We chose legally."

He glanced at Ran Xueyi, who nodded at him to let him continue, and added, "In the end, the court made the decision to let them settle 200 million yuan for the psychological and mental health of the artists whose private information were leaked. The company will also receive another 100 million.

As for stealing Zhao Yiqing's file drive containing his songs, it will only give them attempted since the USB didn't really contain his songs. But since they had attempted to steal and sell it to a third party, the court wanted them to settle with Zhao Yiqing."

"After asking Zhao Yiqing's opinion about this, he told us to settle it with another 50 million." Elder Wu Qi recounted the situation that happened the previous month. "Yao Chen will follow through legally, saying a settlement is impossible."

Naturally, the person who was greatly affected by Feng Huai's actions was none other than Yao Chen, who was harassed by his maternal relatives. After finding out about his apartment address, they continuously visited and protested to see him again. They questioned his morality online and also accused him of having no filial piety.

These accusations were heavy and strongly frowned upon. Filial piety was something that everyone in the country held great importance to. Being accused like this, Yao Chen's career was affected. His contracts with brands and films were being held for now until they cleared it up.

Thus, Yao Chen's decision to settle things legally was just right.

However, Zhao Fei and Feng Huai didn't think it was right for him to not settle with them. They wanted him to just say his price and be over it so everyone can be on their way.

After hearing about this, Ran Xueyi was disgusted by their attitudes. They were the ones in the wrong but the way they acted and thought was as if they were the victims.

"Proceed with Yao Chen's legal matters. Make sure to refuse the settlement discussion. The court may want to settle it privately in the face of Yao Chen's public image. But if we agree to settle, Yao Chen will lose trust in me and Chestnut." Ran Xueyi finally spoke her thoughts as she looked at Elder Wu Qi in his eyes.

Elder Wu Qi nodded: "I'll tell the legal team to refuse the option to settle. Don't worry about this anymore. I will make certain that we will drain their money and still send them locked behind bars."

That's exactly what Ran Xueyi wanted.

Since Zhao Fei and Feng Huai didn't show their remorse for what they did and didn't ask for their forgiveness with sincerity, she naturally won't let them off so easily.

Let them drain their money and realize that the sky fell down above their heads.

After Elder Wu Qi left, Little Zhanzhan also finished touring his mother's office: "Mommy, your office is smaller than A'Yu's."

Ran Xueyi had been to Song Yu Han's office a few times and raised her eyebrows, "That's true. Daddy's office is bigger but mommy shouldn't be inferior, right?"

Little Zhanzhan nodded his head: "En! Mommy's office is more beautiful and awesome than A'Yu's."

Ran Xueyi liked it a lot when her son praised her. There seems to be some kind of great achievement from just hearing his praises.

"Do you want to have a place like mommy's?" Ran Xueyi asked him.

Little Zhanzhan thought about it before nodding his head like a chicken pecking rice. His eyes were shining brightly like stars as he jumped up excitedly: "I want one! It doesn't have to be big like mommy's or A'Yu's, just enough for me! Like this!"

He began to gesture how big he wanted his 'office' to be. Little Zhanzhan imagined himself working on his 'office' next to his parents and a cheeky smile bloomed on his adorable face.

Song Yu Han grabbed the little boy on the ground and brought him into his arms before taking a bite on his son's cheek.

Little Zhanzhan didn't think he would one day be bitten by his father and quickly rebelled by crying out loud, "Awoo! Stinky A'Yu bit me, Mommy! He'll leave marks on me, too!"

Ran Xueyi ignored the last sentence, keeping her mind out of that time when Little Zhanzhan asked her about the marks on her body. She then glanced at her husband in warning.

Song Yu Han gently smiled back at her, but he no longer took another bite from their son's cheek. It was unfortunate since he was too cute to resist another bite, but since his wife had already warned him, he could only retreat.

He'll attack his son later...

After giving him a tour in her office and staying there for an hour, Ran Xueyi and Song Yu Han with their son left the company building to go back to the hotel.

When they arrived, Guo Yun was standing outside their hotel room with a frown on his face, looking grim.

Ran Xueyi looked at him and nodded. Then, she walked into the room, leaving the two guys outside to talk.

Once the door was closed, Song Yu Han approached his special assistant and said, "One minute. Be brief about what you have to say."

Guo Yun was used to his stern personality when working so he didn't dally and said, "Cao family sent an invitation letter for the Old Patriarch Cao's 70th birthday. Old Patriarch Song also called earlier to tell you that you are suggested to attend."

Song Yu Han furrowed his brows altogether. He couldn't stop the irritation that had risen up to his head.

Guo Yun did not say anything, waiting for his boss to speak.

Finally, a minute after Song Yu Han's suffocating and strong aura leaked out, the atmosphere turned clearer and Guo Yun heard him say, "Tell them I don't have time to celebrate the Old Patriarch Cao's birthday. Send them a gift."

"Won't you consider coming in person?"

"What for?" Song Yu Han's eyes flashed coldly, "I'm no longer a child. They can't just tell me to go at their beck and call, don't you think so?"

If it were before, Song Yu Han might go to the party. But slowly, things were being unraveled. Song Yu Han knew what they were planning, or perhaps, their intentions in having him attend the party. However, would he actually let them do as they wanted?

Besides, he was no longer the young Song Yu Han who could only anchor himself to something to survive. He was now a man who could stand head to head with them. Do they still think he was a harmless puppet they can twist and control in their hands?