Chapter 1751 1,747, The Big Secret That I Accidentally Learned (1/92)

At the door, Jiang Xiaoche ultimately didn't have the courage to push the door open and enter. He came to find Sun Yiyuan this time because he wanted to confirm the donation of resources at the border area..

In order to ensure that the border cultivation soldiers protecting their home and country had sufficient physical strength and nutrition, this time, Huaguo Water Curtain Group's first round of donations to the various border areas totaled up to ten tons, a single pill was only a dozen grams, but ten tons was a huge amount.

The border defense was of great importance and could not be neglected. All kinds of materials had to be followed up in a timely manner.

There was a widely spread saying on the internet: "When I was eating white rice and drinking happy water, I couldn't understand why these strong and strong soldiers would die. I woke up in the middle of the night and suddenly remembered that they died for me..."

Huaguo water curtain group, as a rich domestic company in Huaxiu nation, had naturally never fallen behind in the supply of supplies to the border regions over the years.

Moreover, this area of supplies had always been a green channel. There was no need to report it layer by layer. As long as the supplies were ready, they could immediately send a car out to carry out the supply transfer.

However, according to the normal business process, Jiang Xiaoche still had to find Sun Yiyuan to inform him..

It was just that he did not expect that he had actually heard a big secret that made his soul explode.

At this time, the people in the company were already gone. Almost no one could enter the floor of the chairman's office. Speaking of which, it was also grandfather Sun who had been a little careless, he hadn't expected that Jiang Xiaoche would suddenly come looking for him at this time.

As Jiang Xiaoche listened to the conversation in the room, he was petrified for a moment.

He felt as if his breathing had stopped. After waiting for a few minutes, his legs reacted first, and he hurriedly fled the Huaguo building. Then, he petrified in the car for a few more minutes

Did the eldest miss... have a child?

And it was Wang Ling's?

His mind was filled with "Black question mark"emojis and "Grandpa on the subway looking at his phone"emojis..

Although he had indeed heard some rumors recently that Grandpa Sun had been going in and out of the company at irregular times recently because he had to spend time with a child.

Jiang Xiaocheng had originally thought that this was the child of a relative of the Sun family, but who knew that it was actually the eldest miss's..

Therefore, when he learned of this big secret, Jiang Xiaocheng had to admit that he was shocked... or more accurately, he was shocked.

He had thought that the secret of having a child to scare everyone would only happen in the entertainment industry with chaotic relationships... but in the end, this matter was actually by his side? ? ?

No matter what, this was a big deal.

Moreover, it was definitely a huge scandal for Huaguo Water Curtain Group. If it was exposed, Jiang Xiaocheng couldn't believe how the stock price would plummet the next day.

"Good guy... Wang Ling... I didn't expect you to let me know about this."At that moment, Jiang Xiaocheng's thoughts spun rapidly.

As one of the employees of the company, he naturally didn't want this matter to be exposed, because it would also affect his work. However, from the perspective of a love rival, as well as the various grudges he had left behind, he really couldn't wait to grab hold of the tail of this matter so that he could see how flustered Wang Ling would be when he was caught.

But it was useless to rely on his mouth to do that; he still needed sufficient evidence to back it up.

Then, he quickly changed to a new private car and parked it under the Huaguo building to wait for Sun Yiyuan to come out.

He took out his phone and remotely operated all the surveillance cameras at the entrance of Huaguo building in an attempt to capture Wang Muyu's face from multiple angles.

Not long after, Sun Yiyuan drove himself out of the underground parking lot.

Because he had been babysitting for the past two days, Sun Yiyuan didn't let Jiang Xiaoche be the driver. Originally, Jiang Xiaoche was very puzzled because he had known Sun Yiyuan for so many years, and the old man rarely drove by himself.

But now, everything made sense..

The person sitting in the car with him was his great-grandson... how could the treatment be the same?

The car passed through all the surveillance cameras. In just a few seconds, Jiang Xiaoche's phone immediately synchronized with the thousands of high-definition photos taken in those few seconds.

However, most of the photos were useless because the car had a reflective and hidden structure. From the outside, one couldn't see the inside of the car clearly.

But Jiang Xiaoche was pretty lucky, because recently, the Huaguo building had been equipped with a reflective and concealed structure camera

In the end, Jiang Xiaoche finally managed to take a picture of Wang Muyu's side profile from over a thousand photos.

When he saw Wang Muyu's face clearly, his hands couldn't help trembling.

This..

This familiar dead fish eye..

And this familiar face!

Wasn't this freaking Wang Ling? !

Even if he had only taken half a picture of the side of Wang Muyu's face and directly imagined a symmetrical image in his mind, Jiang Xiaoche could immediately overlap Wang Muyu's face with Wang Ling's.

This couldn't be said to be evidence anymore..

It was a real hammer!

Damn it, Wang Ling..

This time, if you don't die, I, Jiang Xiaoche, will write my name upside down!

..

Songhai city's treasure city was the largest second-hand magic treasure trading market in Songhai city. Many people could buy second-hand magic treasures they wanted here, and they could even get some top-notch goods at a very cheap price.

Jiang Xiaoche was also one of the old members of treasure city, but in fact, besides trading second-hand magic treasures, treasure city also had a hidden information trading channel that only the old members knew about.

After putting on the mask and cloak used for camouflage, Jiang Xiaoche entered through a secret passage hidden in an alley in treasure city. After confirming the password, he headed to the underground intelligence trading market.

“I want to release a message.”

In front of the trading window, Jiang Xiaoche said mysteriously, and then he sent the photo that he had taken. “I wonder how much this message is worth.”

This was a photo that had been processed by Jiang Xiaoche. There was only Wang Muyu’s side profile in it, and the part of Grandpa Sun had been cut off by him.

“This is just a child. How much can it be worth?”The boss in charge of purchasing intelligence had a nickname called Tengu. He was in a suit and leather shoes, wearing a Jason mask. He was wiping a red wine glass in front of the counter and looked at the photo, “How much can it be worth?”He asked with a lack of interest.

“A 16-year-old boy who secretly gave birth after forcefully having sex with a girl...”

“Oh? That’s interesting.”

Tengu stared at the photo and thought for a while. He looked at Jiang Xiaoche and said leisurely, “This piece of information is worth 20 million.”

“That much? Boss, aren’t you going to ask who this boy is?”

“That’s what we do. How can we not know who he is?”

Tian gou smiled and said, “If you agree, we can immediately arrange for a transfer, but you have to keep the photo.”

“Of course!”Jiang Xiaoche smiled and said, “As long as we can destroy that person’s reputation, I don’t care if I don’t want money!”

Ten minutes later, the transaction was completed.

A remittance of 20 million was directly transferred to Jiang Xiaoche’s private account abroad.

“Well, thank you for your patronage. I hope you can provide better information next time.” Looking at Jiang Xiaoche’s departing back, Tiangu smiled meaningfully.

“Boss, is this photo worth 20 million?”

After he left, a servant was puzzled and went up to ask.

“Of course it’s not worth it. But do you know who the person who just left is?”

“Who is it?”

“Jiang Xiaoche.” Tiangu smiled. “He is the secretary-general under the chairman of Huaguo Water Curtain Group, Sun Yiyuan. According to the investigation, he has always had a good impression of his young lady.” “If I’m not wrong, the child in the photo he provided this time is the child of his young lady and the 16-year-old boy.”

“This... that young lady has a child?”

“A young lady from a large corporation has an illegitimate child. Isn’t the value of this news much better than that 16-year-old boy having a child?”

Under the mask, tengu smiled. “However, there is still a lack of conclusive evidence on this matter. Immediately send someone to follow that young lady. See if they can find any clues. “If there is irrefutable evidence, I believe that many business bosses will be interested in this news.”

Chapter 1752 1,748, Treasure City Intelligence Confirmation Team (1/92)

For the Heavenly Dog, this was a very rare big deal, and the explosive news of the intelligence was enough to startle the entire cultivation world’s business circle, comparable to a magnitude-10 earthquake.

On the surface, it was shocking enough that a young lady of a financial group had given birth to a child before she was even married.

From a deeper perspective, the child in the photo looked to be about five or six years old. If Lotus Sun had really given birth to the child, she must have taken some kind of drug that could cause it to give birth in a short period of time..

“Boss, do you think that Huaguo Water Curtain Group has used drugs? It Can’t be...”

“Don’t underestimate the ugly faces of these capitalists,”said heavenly dog with a chuckle.

“According to my deduction, their goal should be to use birth control to confuse the timing of this young lady giving birth.”

“Of course, I don’t have any evidence at the moment, so there’s plenty of information to dig up on this matter.”

“If it succeeds, we’ll be able to make a lot of money.”

“Is it still the same old method?”The attendant asked.

“Yes.”The heavenly dog nodded. “Send a copy of this scandal information to the multilateral organizations. In addition to Huaguo Water Curtain Group’s competing companies, Huaguo Water Curtain Group will also send a copy. Then let them bid for the information. The highest bidder will get it.”

“Yes.”The servant nodded. “I’ll make the arrangements right away.”

“Wait.”

Just as the subordinate was about to leave, heavenly dog suddenly called out to him.

“Boss, do you have any other instructions?”

“Remember to be polite when you invite Miss Lotus Sun. After all, we’re not bandits.”

“Yes.”

“Also, have the intelligence confirmation team use our newly-equipped global face tracking system when they go to look for her.”

Heavenly Dog laughed. “This is the work of that famous online scientist, teacher Shouchong. I queued up for a long time to get it. It wasn’t easy for me to get this opportunity, so I’ll just do the experiment.”

“Yes.”

..

For all the information that passed through the treasure city’s underground intelligence black market, the treasure city’s underground intelligence network had its own primary confirmation team to confirm the authenticity of the information.

The bigger the matter, the more cautious they were in confirming it. After receiving the order from Heavenly Dog, the intelligence confirmation team immediately entered Lotus Sun’s facial recognition data according to the plan, they used the system custom-made from shouchong to conduct a global tracking.

The black van followed the GPS system and drove past the ring expressway. After a few twists and turns, it finally arrived in front of a cheap apartment.

“Strange, why does the eldest daughter of Huaguo Water Curtain Group live in a place like this?” In the intelligence group, the old driver in charge of driving stopped the car and asked suspiciously as he drank his goji tea.

His name was wolf, and he was in charge of leading the way.

“Master Shouchong said that this face tracking system is based on big data intelligence tracking. It connects to every surveillance camera in the world, locates in real time, and tracks accurately. There’s basically no mistake.” At that moment, a person in the intelligence confirmation group named Silver Fox said.

He was the small leader of this confirmation group, and the main person in charge of “Inviting” lotus sun to talk to her.

In keeping with his trust in the face recognition system, Silver Fox got out of the car with another member of the team called Kangaroo.

He held an ipad in his hand and finally arrived in front of a security door.

They had already changed into white lab coats for camouflage and wore stethoscopes on their chests. They looked like doctors from the clinic.

Confirming information was their main job.

There were many ways to confirm information. There was no need to ask the person directly. Silver Fox had always used a roundabout way to obtain information to confirm information.

Just like his code name, it was full of the colors of an old fox.

“It’s inside.” Silver Fox frowned and quickly adjusted his expression. He politely reached out and pressed the doorbell.

Not long after, a girl’s voice came from inside the security door, “Who is it?”

It was Jiang Yingying herself..

She was doing her homework, and her little face was red because she had a high school human biology class today. As a teenage girl, she had a lot of wild thoughts when she was doing her homework.

Unexpectedly, the doorbell suddenly interrupted her thoughts.

Because of the previous experience, Jiang Yingying was very careful this time. She did not open the door recklessly, but tried to confirm the other party’s identity through the peephole.

At this moment, standing in front of his door were two young men in white coats, and they were wearing stethoscopes. They did not look like bad people?

However, she still did not choose to open the door.

Such a vigilant attitude made Silver Fox feel a little funny.

However, for a veteran who used information fraud to confirm the authenticity of the information, even if he did not open the door through a security door, it would not be difficult for him.

The first thing to do, of course, was to confirm the identity.

Silver Fox thought for a moment, but he did not directly ask for the other party's name.

Because both he and kangaroo came in the guise of a community doctor. If he directly asked for the other party's name, it would definitely arouse greater vigilance, which was not conducive to intelligence fraud.

Therefore, after Silver Fox thought for a moment, he narrowed his eyes and smiled. "Hello, miss. We are the community doctors in the neighborhood. Please don't be afraid. Think about it, your grandfather is so powerful, how could we have the courage?"

Hearing this, Jiang Yingying nodded secretly.

Her grandfather was indeed powerful.

He was the Martial Saint Marshal Jiang!

These two neighborhood doctors knew about this, so it seemed that he was not a bad person.

"It's good that you know."

Jiang Yingying snorted.

After saying this, Silver Fox recorded in his notebook at the same time: [during the interrogation, the other party has admitted that he has a very powerful grandfather...]

On the other side, Kangaroo also used the perspective magic treasure to see through the security door and saw Jiang Yingying's face in her pajamas.

Then, kangaroo nodded and made an OK gesture to silver fox.

Silver Fox recorded in his notebook: [through Kangaroo's perspective magic treasure, the girl in the security door is indeed Lotus Sun...]

After a moment of silence, Silver Fox heard Jiang Yingying ask again, "Then why have you come to see me now?"

"I just want to ask a simple question."

Silver Fox said, "Our community clinic has always paid attention to the physiological knowledge and health of young people. I wonder what this lady thinks about having a child before marriage?"

His question sounded like a normal question, but he had added some tricks while asking, such as deliberately magnifying the words "Having a child before marriage."

When she heard these words, Jiang Yingying's face immediately turned red. "This... This is definitely not good... how can it be like this..."

Thus, silver Fox wrote in the notebook: [combined with the Kangaroo's synchronized perspective observation data, during the questioning process, when the words "Having a baby before marriage" were mentioned, the other party's hands and feet were unnatural, his eyes were erratic, and his face was red. It's a typical lie...]

After writing this, Silver Fox closed his notebook.

He was almost done with his questions, and now was the time to make his move..

He put away his notebook, then took out a bottle of green liquid from his pocket, and poured all of it on the anti-theft door.

This bottle of green liquid was a gold-devouring bug. It could easily break through metal bunkers, and it was a necessary weapon to break through doors..

Chapter 1753 1,749, The Unlucky Jiang Yingying (1/92)

The gold-devouring bug was originally a miniature creature that appeared in ancient tombs. Due to its special geographical environment, it was extremely afraid of light.

The first to develop the gold-devouring bug and apply it to a commercial model was a famous construction company in the cultivation circle called Casio heavy industries. This was a construction company that originated from the mixiu nation. It was also the first to use genetic technology to reprogram the genes of the gold-devouring bug so that it could be easily tamed and manipulated.

As long as a specific block was locked by an intelligent device, the gold-devouring bug could quickly form a scale and devour all the metal materials.

At present, in the cultivation world, the gold-devouring bug was mostly used for demolition and other work. Its advantage was that it was environmentally friendly and did not produce excessive smoke and dust. But at the same time, they also had a flaw: the metal eaten by the gold-devouring beetles couldn't be recycled.

So now, the gold-devouring beetles were also used for breaking down doors to save hostages.

Of course, in the cultivation world, there was a tendency for the gold-devouring beetles to be used by criminals..

For example, right now.

Silver Fox was well-versed in the art of deceiving people. He was extremely confident in the information he had just obtained with a few sentences, and firmly believed that the person in the room was Lotus Sun herself.

Why would a rich young lady from a financial group live in such an unremarkable, cheap apartment?

Silver Fox thought that there was only one answer.

That was this place, the dwelling of this rich young lady and the love of his beloved!

That must be it!

After the gold-devouring bug quietly devoured an entire metal security door, Jiang Yingying suddenly panicked in the face of the clinic doctor who had suddenly appeared in front of her.

“Who... are you people...”no matter how stupid she was, she knew at this moment that these were two intruders and definitely not some so-called community clinic doctor.

She tried to shout, but Silver Fox was very fast. He just made a gesture of silence at the corner of his mouth. Jiang Yingying instantly felt an invisible force strangling her throat, and she could not speak no matter how hard she tried.

This was the most basic “Silence spell”.

Because it was often used, Silver Fox had cultivated it to the highest level. Not only could she instantly and accurately silence, but she could also activate the “Silence spell”within a radius of ten kilometers.

Without removing the spell, the person who was cursed would be in a state of speechlessness for ten hours, unable to make a single sound.

“Miss Sun, I’m sorry. We have to ask you to come with us.” Silver Fox took the initiative to step forward and use the custom-made universe bag to wrap around Jiang Yingying. Then, the universe bag shrunk in his hand, becoming only the size of a palm. It was like a ball of Pokémon Elves.

Silver Fox held the universe bag in his palm. He could clearly feel that Jiang Yingying was struggling in extreme fear. However, she quickly disappeared.

This was not because Jiang Yingying had given up on resisting. It was because the Qiankun bag that was specially used to capture people had a certain hypnotic effect.

After doing all this, Silver Fox and the kangaroo beside him quickly and cleanly left the scene.

Before they left, they did not forget to cast a simple illusion at Jiang Yingying's door. They reinstalled the metal door that had been devoured by the gold devouring beetles.

About ten minutes later..

Jiang Yingying gradually regained consciousness. Silver Fox had already released her from the Qiankun Bag. She was blindfolded and had her hands tied behind her back, but she could still clearly sense that she was in a fast-moving car.

"I've already broken your silence spell, Miss Sun." Silver Fox smiled and stared at "Lotus Sun."

Jiang Yingying was speechless. "No... No, you've misunderstood. I'm Not Lotus Sun at all..."

"That's impossible."

Silver Fox: "My judgment has never been wrong. Miss Sun, even if you cut your hair short and change your hairstyle, we still know that you're Lotus Sun."

"Do you know who my grandfather is? My grandfather is very powerful. He's a martial saint..."

"I know. After all, he's the leader of a corporation. Grandfather Sun's strength is indeed no different from that of the martial saint among the ten generals."

"..."

"Don't worry, Miss Sun. We will never hurt you. We just need to take you to a place and take a video for you. You just need to tell the camera everything you've done."

Silver Fox crossed her fingers and rested her elbows on her knees. She looked at "Lotus Sun" and said, "After you're done, we'll naturally let you go back."

At that moment, Jiang Yingying felt wronged, and the tears in her eyes were already rolling around, gradually soaking through the blindfold.

It wasn't that she didn't know that she looked a little like Lotus Sun.

In the past, she had even thought that this was a gift from the heavens. Since Lotus Sun could pursue Wang Ling, she could do the same.

At least in terms of looks, she and Lotus Sun were on equal footing. In the end, who Wang Ling would fall for would be the result of her and Lotus Sun depending on their own abilities.

But now, when she was once again mistaken for "Lotus Sun" and tied up, for the first time, Jiang Yingying had the idea of resenting her own looks..

Why would she suffer for Lotus Sun Like This!

It was clearly not her fault!

She tried hard to hold back her tears and calm herself down, Jiang Yingying tried to negotiate with Silver Fox again. "Um... brother, I can tell you very clearly that I'm really not Lotus Sun. My surname is Jiang. You've really caught the wrong person. But don't be discouraged... if you catch the wrong person, you can start over. I Won't blame you... After all, you're not the first batch of people to get it wrong..."

However, in the face of Jiang Yingying's words, silver Fox didn't believe it at all. "Miss Sun, don't pretend anymore at this time. "We've already checked your phone contact. Isn't the person named Jiang Xiaoche your driver and the current secretary-general of Huaguo Water Curtain Group?"

"..."

These words stunned Jiang Yingying and she was instantly at a loss for words.

"Let me tell you, Miss Sun. As long as you honestly tell me what happened to you, there won't be any problems. Next, I'll ask you a few questions. You can draft a draft in your heart first so that you don't stumble when you record the video later."

At this point, Silver Fox took out his notebook again. “The first question is, after the child was born, did you use any drugs to promote growth?”

Jiang Yingying:”?”

“The second question is, how did the child come into being, with whom, and when.”

Jiang Yingying: “No... What’s going on with this child that you’re asking about?”

Silver Fox chuckled. “Miss Sun, is it interesting for you to still pretend to be like this? Your child can even be used as a soy sauce.”

Jiang Yingying:”?”

Chapter 1754 1,750, Rescue Of Jiang Yingying (1/92)

At that moment, Jiang Yingying was still in a state of confusion. She had no idea what had happened, and could only make a basic judgment from her current conversation with Silver Fox.

First of all, she must have been caught by mistake. The group’s initial target had been Lotus Sun herself... and the purpose of capturing Lotus Sun seemed to be to confirm certain information, they had used video evidence to blackmail Lotus Sun.

But the current information was a huge scandal that shocked Yingying when she heard it.

Having a child before marriage, and even using birth control after giving birth... either of these two things was enough to scare her.

But logically speaking, Yingying didn’t think Lotus Sun would do such a thing. As her long-time rival, she had felt that Lotus Sun’s personality combined with her feelings in all aspects was unreliable at the first moment, it was most likely an unproven misunderstanding.

And now, this group of people had caught her.

If she really played along and pretended to be Lotus Sun to help her record such a video... even if this matter could be cleared up in the end, it would still plunge Huaguo water curtain group into a huge storm of public opinion.

In the current online environment, sometimes the truth of a fake news that might cause public outrage wasn't the main focus of public attention, most people were just used to venting their emotions through this window... it was very rare for someone to remain rational in such a public opinion environment.

Jiang Yingying didn't like Lotus Sun, and had always regarded her as a good competitor.

But this choice was actually a good opportunity for her to take down a competitor. Even if she couldn't, at least she could disgust the other party for a while.

But no matter how much she hated Lotus Sun, Jiang Yingying wouldn't do that.

Because it was wrong.

At that moment, the first person in Jiang Yingying's mind was her grandfather.

Martial Saint Jiang's education didn't allow her to do such a dirty thing.

She was worried that she would embarrass her grandfather, who loved her dearly.

At the same time, she hoped that she would have a real chance to compete fairly with Lotus Sun for Wang Ling.

Jiang Yingying didn't know if she would regret this decision in the future.

But now, she had already made up her mind.

"Miss Sun, it's in everyone's interest to tell the truth." The corners of Silver Fox's lips curled up as he laughed.

Jiang Yingying resisted the fear in her heart and tried to calm her uncontrollable trembling. She was blindfolded, so she couldn't see Silver Fox's face clearly, however, she followed Silver Fox's voice and looked in Silver Fox's direction. "I don't care who you are. Do you want me to say it? Dream On! He-tui!"

A mouthful of saliva was spat on Silver Fox's face.

Silver Fox was so angry that he was trembling. With a slap, he immediately slapped Jiang Yingying.

"Boss... you can't hit her... otherwise, the video will see it..."kangaroo at the side held its forehead and felt helpless.

"Don't worry, I held back and nothing will happen to her. Before the video is recorded, touch up her makeup and cover up the red mark on this B * Tch's face."

Silver Fox chuckled, as he spoke, he pinched Jiang Yingying's chin. "Miss Sun, since you're so uncooperative, then don't blame us for being ruthless... none of us brothers have wives. "Guess, if we lock you up to comfort them, then we'll make a video. "As the eldest daughter of an aristocratic family, do you know how many curious viewers would watch such a video on the black market?"

Jiang Yingying didn't speak anymore. She just lowered her head. At the same time, she was praying in her heart that someone would find out that she had been kidnapped.

She knew that it was better not to anger this group of people at the moment, or else she would really be in danger..

However, at this very moment, along with her extremely helpless emotions intertwining and fluctuating, Jiang Yingying also found it a little surprising.

Even at this moment, she was secretly looking forward to the first person to save her.

The face that appeared in her mind was neither Wang Ling nor Jiang Xiaoche..

Her mind was blank.

..

On the other side, martial Saint Jiang had noticed that Jiang Yingying had been taken away by a group of people pretending to be doctors almost half an hour after Silver Fox had left.

Because he didn't live with his granddaughter now, Marshal Jiang had taken over the house opposite Jiang Yingying for safety reasons and installed a cat's eye on the door, in fact, it was a remote surveillance device..

Martial Saint Jiang had wanted to check the surveillance footage that night to see if Jiang Yingying had gone home. In the end, he had coincidentally captured the scene of Silver Fox using the gold devouring beetles to break into the door.

A few minutes later, battle sect received a notice from Huaxiu Alliance requesting them to immediately organize manpower to thoroughly investigate Jiang Yingying's capture in a short amount of time.

In the video conference.

Grenade-throwing senior immortal personally came out to comfort martial Saint Jiang.

It could be seen that this old ten general's face was full of Haggard and vicissitudes of life.

"Senior Immortal, I only have one granddaughter..."

"Don't worry, Uncle Jiang. The whole sect is cooperating with us to investigate Miss Jiang Yingying's case, and I believe we'll have a result soon. Miss Jiang is a good person, so she'll be fine."

Grenade-throwing senior immortal consoled him. As soon as he said this, a document was suddenly handed over from a blind spot on the side.

After skimming through it quickly, grenade-throwing senior immortal had a pleasantly surprised expression on his face. "There's already news, Uncle Jiang. Now, I'll switch the video to the new elder of our war sect's research group, teacher Shouchong."

Shouchong?

That unreliable online celebrity scientist?

Martial Saint Jiang had an expectant look on his face, and when he moved the video over, the scene in the video was actually a lotus pond..

“This is...”

“Oh, that’s right, I forgot to tell Uncle Jiang. Because teacher Shouchong’s body had been destroyed by the villain in the previous mission, the war sect had now reconstructed his new body of lotus root, but his body was still in the process of being nurtured. “At present, shouchong can only stay in the pool and rely on nerve conduits to transmit information.”

” ...”

Martial Saint Jiang was stunned and then said anxiously, “So, do you have any clues now?”

In the video, shouchong’s voice came from the tablet computer beside the lotus pond, “It’s like this, Mr. Jiang. Although this group of people can not be found in the police background information database, they are completely invisible people. “But on my terminal equipment, I found someone tracking Miss Jiang’s location through the facial recognition system I sold before.”

“Your facial recognition system?”

“I made some extra money from a technology company before, but because I was worried that the system would be used by criminals, I left a back door. I can find their usage records here.”

Shouchong said, “The person they should have wanted to catch was Miss Lotus Sun, but for some reason, they found Miss Jiang. My technology shouldn’t have made such a mistake.”

” ...”

Hearing this, grenade-throwing senior immortal and Martial Saint Jiang fell silent at the same time.

This person really didn’t know what he had invented..

Chapter 1755 1,751, Lotus Sun’s “Scapegoat”(1/92)

Even Sky Dog wouldn't have thought that they had been under surveillance by the "Back door" that Shouchong had left behind at that time, and that they had thoroughly investigated the members of their treasure city's underground intelligence group.

"The biggest leader of the treasure city's underground intelligence trading network is called Sky Dog. This person is a wanted criminal from many countries and is very cunning. He always wears a Jason mask, but usually it's not Tian Gou who is caught," Shouchong explained to Martial Saint Jiang.

"What does that mean?" Martial saint frowned.

Grenade-throwing senior immortal continued Shouchong's explanation. "Because according to the evidence currently held by the police, Tian Gou represents more than one person. "The true identity of this leader is a coalition of many elites, so it's useless for the police to capture him in past operations. The intelligence operation is still going on."

Shouchong nodded. "True monarch is right!" "In fact, regarding the underground intelligence network this time, the municipal bureau's Cultivation Police Department has long joined forces with the investigation teams from many countries to secretly monitor Tiangou for many days. However, they haven't found a suitable opportunity to take action. They are afraid that once they take action, they will alert the enemy."

"Then, how many national investigation teams are there to investigate this matter?" Martial Saint Jiang asked.

"In the current report of the Joint Investigation Team, there are nine investigation teams from nine countries that are cooperating with us to investigate."

"Ten countries... It seems that this heavenly dog has offended quite a number of people."

"Yes, Lord Martial Saint," Shouchong said. "Moreover, many of the investigation teams have been assigned by the various cultivation countries' rulers to capture heavenly dog in one fell swoop."

At this point..., Shouchong, who appeared in the virtual image on the tablet computer, suddenly frowned. "However... because the heavenly dogs are able to escape from every operation, the current Huaxiu police also have some doubts about the true purpose of the Foreign Joint Investigation Team."

“You mean that there might be people from the heavenly dogs in the Joint Investigation Team?”

“Yes, martial saint. However, this is just a small suspicion of mine.”

Shouchong said, “Therefore, for this operation to save student Jiang, I personally suggest that it’s best to take a private action and not use the relationship between Zhan Zong and the police. This way, we won’t disturb the people from the investigation team and the Tiangou team. “If student Jiang is rescued in the dark, the heavenly dog team will have no choice but to eat Coptis chinensis.”

“Understood.”

Martial Saint Jiang nodded. “Then, I have one last question.”

Shouchong said, “Martial saint, please speak.”

Martial saint Jiang said, “You said before that the person these people really want to capture is actually Miss Rong Rong Rong. What I want to know is, why on earth do they want to capture her?”

“Well...”

This question suddenly made Shouchong fall silent.

Martial Saint Jiang frowned. “What’s going on? He’s stammering. Sun Yiyuan and I are acquaintances, so don’t worry. No matter what the reason is, I definitely won’t blame him. There’s nothing I can do about it; it was an accident. No one wants to see that.”

After a few minutes of silence, grenade-throwing senior immortal was the first to speak. “It’s like this, Lord Martial Saint...”

He knew that there had to be an explanation for this matter.

Otherwise, the martial saint would never let it go.

“Mr. Sun is taking care of a child these days... but that little guy actually has nothing to do with Mr. Sun’s family. He’s just the younger brother of one of Miss Rong’s classmates.”

Grenade-throwing senior immortal frowned, but still decided to explain according to what he had prepared beforehand. “In the end, the informant misunderstood this child as Miss Sun’s, so...”

“That’s why Heavenly Dog had the devious idea of holding Rongrong hostage to use intelligence to blackmail her for money.”

To grenade-throwing senior immortal’s surprise, Martial Saint Jiang seemed to have known about this a long time ago.

When he heard the previous statement, the corners of his lips immediately curled up, and he couldn’t help laughing. “I already know what senior immortal is talking about.”

Grenade-throwing senior immortal came to a realization. “So this is... a test?”

“The war sect is getting bigger and bigger now, and the head of state is always a little worried. Sometimes, a necessary test is necessary.”

As he spoke, martial Saint Jiang stood up, facing the video camera, he said, “I’m glad Senior Immortal told me the truth about this. Then senior immortal doesn’t need to interfere in what’s going to happen next. Using the war sect’s resources is indeed quite a big move. So this old man has already decided to personally take action...”

After the martial saint finished speaking, he directly cut off the connection.

Grenade-throwing senior immortal had wanted to stop him, but was a step too late.

Shouchong: “What’s wrong, Senior Immortal?”

Grenade-throwing senior immortal didn’t know whether to laugh or cry. “I wanted to tell the martial saint that Miss Jiang’s people are already there... and all of them are private.”

Shouchong: “Already deployed?”

Grenade-throwing senior immortal shrugged helplessly. “You know, I’m just a combat strength measurement unit. They never listen to my orders.”

Shouchong:”...”

Grenade-throwing senior immortal: “If the martial saint goes over now, I’m afraid he’ll be able to gather a table of mahjong... it’s just that Miss Rong is also going on this operation. I’m really worried that if Miss Rong’s strength is exposed in front of the ten generals, I’m afraid she won’t be able to explain it clearly.”

..

On the other side, as grenade-throwing senior immortal had said, Lotus Sun was already on her way to rescue Jiang Yingying.

Although she didn’t know how many times she had saved Jiang Yingying, when this familiar scene happened again, even Lotus Sun herself felt that fate was playing tricks on her.

When she hadn’t been so strong in the past, Huaguo Water Curtain Group’s competitors had tried every means to hire people to kidnap her and cause trouble for her, like shadow stream in the past.

But now..

When she was strong, this group of people would mistake her for anyone they caught, and instead of looking for her, they would look for Jiang Yingying.

So in general, Lotus Sun discovered to her surprise that shadow stream’s comprehensive business ability was still a little stronger... at least, they wouldn’t mistake her for someone else.

“Lotus, ah, I don’t quite understand. Why did you save her? Haven’t you always hated that Jiang Yingying?” As they drove on the ring of the city highway on the Azure motorcycle that was transformed from Ao Hai., Lotus Sun suddenly heard Sun Ying ‘er’s voice in her mind.

“It’s true that I hate her, because she also likes Wang Ling. We’re in a competitive relationship, but there’s nothing wrong with liking someone. This is a very normal thing to begin with.”

Lotus Sun said, “Moreover, she was kidnapped because those people mistook her for me. How could I just ignore her like that? If I ignore her this time, I’ll feel that I have no right to stand on the same platform as her and like Wang Ling.”

“But what if your strength is exposed...”

Lotus Sun smiled. “I heard that senior Odd Zhuo is also on his way.”

Sun Ying ‘er:”...”

Good heavens.

Now, they shared a pot?

Chapter 1756 1,752, Unexpected Action (1/92)

Jiang Xiaocheng had gotten a 20 million intelligence fee from selling Wang Muyu’s photo, but in fact, not long after he came out from Tiangou, he met another intelligence dealer named Skunk.

That’s right.

Jiang Xiaocheng didn’t leave Duo Bao city directly.

Instead, he planned to use the 20 million he got and use some of it to buy some insider information about stocks and funds, so that he could operate in time and avoid being treated like a leek.

The skunk was a very famous traffic intelligence trafficker in the underground intelligence network of treasure city. He did not belong to any force and was a very rare independent trader. However, the accuracy of his intelligence information was quite high and was not inferior to that of the skunk's side.

Therefore, many people were actually suspicious of the skunk and thought that the skunk's side had spies.

"Wait a minute."

Under the Skunk's mask, Jiang Xiaoche heard an extremely sharp electronic sound that went straight into his ears, immediately after, a hand was placed on his shoulder. "Sir, I've received a few new pieces of information here. Are you interested?"

"Is it related to the stock fund? Or is the Baijiu stock about to fall?" Under the mask, Jiang Xiaoche was extremely alert.

"Neither. But you are definitely interested in my news. As long as you pay me five million first. If you are not interested after hearing it, I can return half of it to you," the skunk laughed.

If it was an ordinary vagrant intelligence dealer, Jiang Xiaoche naturally would not believe it. But the person who came was a skunk.

He was suspicious for a while. In the end, he went to the underground bank with the skunk and transferred the money according to the foreign account provided by the skunk.

It was not until he saw the transfer receipt that the skunk handed a piece of paper back to Jiang Xiaoche. "The information is here."

Jiang Xiaoche opened the paper and only a few words were written on it. "Jiang Yingying, the granddaughter of Martial Saint Jiang of the ten generals, was captured by Tiangou."

This news immediately made Jiang Xiaoche's scalp tingle.

Jiang Yingying was captured?

This..

What was going on?

His forehead was instantly covered with fine beads of sweat. He quickly wrote on the note and asked, "Why did Tiangou capture her?"

When the skunk saw the question, a Sly smile appeared on the Skunk's face. "It's still the same old rule. Five Million is a problem. I see that you have a lot of problems, so why don't you fill it up? If you don't use it up, I'll push it back to you."

Jiang Xiaoche gritted his teeth. In the end, he transferred another fifteen million to the skunk..

In just a short moment, the twenty million he had received had been wasted.

After seeing the transfer receipt, the skunk nodded in satisfaction and dragged Jiang Xiaoche to a secluded corner.

"Now you can tell me, right?" Jiang Xiaoche was a little anxious. "She has no grudges with Tiangou and has no connection with him..."

"I know this better than you do."

The skunk said, "It's said that there was an idiot who sold a photo related to Huaguo water curtain group. In order to verify the information, Tiangou planned to capture Miss Lotus Sun. "Who knew that because Miss Jiang is somewhat similar to miss lotus sun, they actually captured the wrong person. "This is the biggest joke in the world. "All these years, Tengu's business skills have been getting worse and worse."

"Arrest the wrong person?" Jiang Xiaoche asked. "Then will they let her go?"

"This is your third question. After I answer you now, you still have one more chance to ask." The skunk raised a finger.

“Okay... I understand...”Jiang Xiaoche nodded.

“Based on my understanding of Tengu’s group, this matter probably won’t end so satisfactorily.”

Skunk said, “The black market’s intelligence emphasizes on precision and accuracy, even though the one who made a mistake this time was only Sky Dog’s intelligence confirmation team. “But the matter of arresting the wrong person has already been spread internally... otherwise, I wouldn’t have sold this intelligence to you.”

“Then what do you mean?”

“I have a feeling that Miss Jiang’s end will be very miserable. After all, up until now, no one knows where Miss Jiang is locked up. The people of Tiangou have always been vicious and merciless. If they can erase her existence, they will not be able to prove it. “If they wash this matter clean and make it into a false rumor, with Tiangou’s reputation in the industry, I’m afraid most employers will still believe it.”

“Then what should I do?”

Jiang Xiaoche was very anxious.

The skunk pondered for a moment, then simply returned the last five million yuan to Jiang Xiaoche.

“What are you doing?”Jiang Xiaoche was anxious.

“Because I don’t know the answer either.”The skunk shrugged. “If you want to blame someone, blame that idiot who sold the information on Huaguo Water Curtain Group.”

Jiang Xiaoche:”...”

..

“Hello, Senior Odd Zhuo? Yes, I’m in Treasure City right now. But how do I get into this underground intelligence trading market?”Lotus Sun immediately gave Odd Zhuo a call after arriving in treasure city.

“Mistress, calm down.”

“I’m not your mistress...”

“Hey, don’t you know it already?”

” ...”

“Master’s wife, don’t worry. There’s a shop owner selling spirit plants in treasure city. I’ve already placed the secret order and the map to enter the underground city under a pot of rich and precious plants. “In addition, I’ve also prepared a nine-tailed Fox mask inside. Master’s wife, please don’t show your true appearance after entering.”

“Okay... I understand. I’ll go now!”

“Ah, that’s right, mistress, please don’t do anything after you enter. It’s most important to find out the location and confirm student Jiang’s safety. If student Jiang’s safety is threatened, just pretend I didn’t say what I said above.”

Odd Zhuo thought for a moment and added, “Mistress can do as she pleases. Leave all the aftermath to me. However, mistress needs to pay attention to one other thing.”

“What is it?”

“Martial Saint Jiang is already on his way here, and it’s very likely that you’ll meet him on this operation. He knows your ao hai, and he might directly see through your identity.”

“Okay, I understand. Thank you, Senior Zhuo.”

Lotus sun nodded and immediately hung up.

“Eh? Martial saint is coming too, what should we do?” Lotus Sun’s voice rang out in her mind again.

“Don’t worry.”

Lotus Sun shook her head. “Ao Hai has the ability to simulate sword qi. As long as he hides his true sword qi, he won’t be afraid.”

..

“How’s the situation now? is student Jiang in danger?”

As Odd Zhuo drove towards treasure city, Liangzi Jiugongzi, who was sitting in the passenger seat, also showed an unusual concern about this matter.

“We’re not sure yet, but Shifu has already gone over. She knows student Jiang’s aura, so she’s using Ohai to search for him. I believe she’ll be able to find her location soon. “But this matter has become a little troublesome... actually, I didn’t tell Shifu about something just now.”

“What else?”

“Little Muyu ran away...”

“AH? Ran Away?”

“Because today was supposed to be Master’s wife’s day to visit Little Muyu, but isn’t she going to save classmate Jiang now... Little Muyu must have lost his temper as a child and ran out to find master’s wife.”. “I’ve already told master about this matter. Master is also on his way.”

Hearing this, nine temples Liangzi sucked in a breath of cold air.

Good guy, she’s a good guy.

A family of three, neat and tidy..

Chapter 1757 1,753, The Lively Treasure City (1/92)

Liangzi nine temples felt that this operation in treasure city would become very lively... it was definitely not a rare sight for all the forces to gather in secret.

“What should we do next?”She had a faint ominous feeling.

This was purely a woman’s sixth sense.

“He’s just a child after all; it’s too difficult to restrain him.”Odd Zhuo shrugged helplessly as he held the steering wheel. In fact, he was also a little at a loss.

It didn’t matter if he had to take the blame. It was his duty as a disciple to take the blame for his master, but if Wang Muyu was seen by everyone, he wouldn’t be able to take the blame..

Because even if he were to break the heavens and admit that Wang Muyu was his child, no one would believe it when they saw that this Muyu had the same face as his master.

It didn’t necessarily mean that he and Wang Ling had given birth to him..

..

On the other side, Lotus Sun smoothly entered the underground intelligence market in treasure city with the pass that Odd Zhuo had prepared.

It had to be said that the scale of this place was quite astonishing. There were homeless intelligence peddlers everywhere who wore masks and tried to sell information.

There were also those who set up stalls for public sale. This was a well-planned market. The intelligence peddlers hid their hands in their long sleeves and waited for customers to arrive at the square, retro-looking stalls.

On the table were tubes containing information. According to the value of the information, these tubes could be divided into bamboo tubes, iron tubes, jade tubes, and gold tubes.

The tubes were also distributed according to the value of the information after being appraised by the special information neutral organization in Duobao city. The information vendors could not make their own decisions.

According to the normal trading process, after the payment was completed, the information in the corresponding tubes could be retrieved. Finally, the tubes would be handed over to the recycling area at the exit. There would be a special person responsible for recycling these tubes.

However, the information bought through the stalls or vagrant traders was equivalent to an act of information panning. It was possible that the information they obtained was not what they wanted.

However, the total volume of transactions sold through these stalls every year was still tens of billions, and it continued to increase year by year.

This was enough to prove how terrifying the desire for gossip in people's hearts was.

"Today's jade tube discount, buy two, get one free, choose any information you want. Today's information contains gossip about female celebrities, online authors delay updates..."

"This stall contains the latest information about the cultivation world's secret realms. If you draw a friend who has information about the secret realms, I can recommend a big shot to lead the team. There's no risk to your safety, and you'll get twice the result with half the effort."

"This stall contains information about the home address of the author, Ku Xuan. If you can draw a friend who has information about the secret realms, you'll get 88 pieces of black iron blades and express delivery service. I'm sure you'll be satisfied."

..

As she passed by these stalls, Lotus Sun heard a lot of information peddlers in the vicinity hawking their wares.

It wasn't new to set prices by the barrel in the information market. If she wanted to buy specific information, she would have to go to a larger organization that specialized in this type of information.

For example, the Heavenly Dog Alliance led by the Heavenly Dog Alliance.

It just needed to pay an even more expensive price.

As they advanced, Lotus Sun also used the passive ability of the OHAI man-sword unity to amplify her spiritual sense until it spread to the entire underground intelligence field.

-- found it!

In the space of a few breaths, lotus sun immediately locked onto Jiang Yingying's exact location.

But Jiang Yingying's location seemed a little strange.

At the entrance of an underground residential area, an old mulberry tree came into Lotus Sun's sight. The residential area here was a place for these intelligence vendors to stay, and almost all of them were rented houses for people who ran this business.

Information was a shady business. In order to hide their identity, the people who ran this business would often use multiple false identities, so it was naturally impossible for them to expose their real address in real life.

Therefore, this underground residential area provided a good cover, allowing these information peddlers to conduct their business unhindered.

In the war sect, the people who had the most say in the field of intelligence were the Lord and the Lady of the castle, who were formerly Mo Immortal Castle.

The two had a huge intelligence trading network in Songhai city. Before they were recruited by the war sect, they had once had their own place in the underground intelligence trading market.

If they hadn't officially joined the regular army, which meant that the heaven-roaring league had one less powerful opponent, the group of heavenly dog wouldn't have been able to rise so quickly in just half a year.

“Strange, student Jiang’s aura is clearly here.” Lotus sun frowned under the old mulberry tree. According to her spiritual sense, Jiang Yingying’s aura was here, and the location was almost identical.

“Not necessarily, Lotus. It might be that there’s a universe inside.” As the Master of the Void, Sun Ying ‘er was more sensitive to space and had more experience than Lotus Sun.

“Ying ‘er, are you saying that student Jiang is locked in a layered space?”

“There are too many people in this underground intelligence city. It wouldn’t be safe if he was locked in our current main space. So, he probably used some layered methods inside,” Sun Ying ‘er analyzed.

Spatial layering was explained with the simplest principle. It was similar to the layer layering effect of Photoshop. After setting up a main spatial layer, one could carry out multiple layers of spatial layering underneath, from there, one could hide the people, things, and things that one wanted to hide inside.

To put it in another way, it was similar to how some boys liked to create multiple folders and then hide the indescribable video files, moreover, the method of naming that folder “Learning materials” was exactly the same..

Many cultivation spells were originally designed from life, so it was not difficult for people who had mastered related spells to cast this technique.

The reason why Sky Dog hid Jiang Yingying like this was because this spatial delamination technique was absolutely safe.

It was impossible for a non-major power to detect it so easily.

But even so, it was impossible to escape the detection of the nine-core arcane sea.

..

At the same time, in the underground intelligence city's third delamination space, Silver Fox and the others were still in the independent interrogation room conducting video forensics on Jiang Yingying.

"Student Jiang, I hope you can cooperate a little." Silver Fox frowned. He had already changed his mind and knew that he had indeed caught the wrong person.

However, the least they could do now was to make the best of the situation. It was the best way for Jiang Yingying to pretend to be Lotus Sun and record the video.

Because of Jiang Yingying's capture, Sky Dog had judged that Huaguo water curtain group would be on guard. It wouldn't be so easy to catch Lotus Sun again.

Silver Fox had thought that the matter of Jiang Yingying impersonating Lotus Sun to record the fake video would be much smoother, because the two of them had never been on good terms.

But he had never expected that Jiang Yingying would actually be much tougher than he had imagined.

After asking for a long time and facing the prepared camera, Jiang Yingying gritted her teeth and refused to say another word.

"Don't be ungrateful." Silver Fox was annoyed. He pinched Jiang Yingying's chin. "This layered space was created by a Senior Almighty. Even if your grandfather really came, he wouldn't be able to find this place."

Silver Fox snorted.

He really didn't put martial Saint Jiang in his eyes.

As everyone knew, the ten generals were all at the true immortal realm.

But after Earth's upgrade, the highest realm of cultivators on earth had already been opened up..

True immortal realm was rare.

But in the eyes of Silver Fox and the others who had stronger backers, it was just a few cabbages.

Chapter 1758 1,754, Doomsday Straw (1/92)

Just as Silver Fox said, before earth leveled up, there were a large number of true immortal realm cultivators who had stayed in this realm for a long time.

At that time, they chose not to level up because of the overall burden of Earth. They were worried that after they leveled up, Earth's spiritual energy would be exhausted and not enough to be used.

But now, after the upgrade, the problem of spiritual energy was solved. The "True Immortal Convention" established by the various countries for this purpose came to an end.

However, what Silver Fox and the others didn't know was that the "True immortal convention" was only a piece of agreement. Before the upgrade of earth, some cultivation countries were already planning to pile up resources, let the generals of their own cultivation countries upgrade to the realm above the true immortal realm.

In this day and age, the trust between people was already very weak. The major cultivation nations were also competing with each other. Naturally, they wouldn't let go of any opportunity to surpass other cultivation nations and become an overlord.

Take the mixiu nation for example. These years, they had been following the "Convention of true immortals" on the surface, but in reality, it hadn't been a day or two since they had secretly arranged for their generals to advance to the true immortal realm.

It was just that it wasn't that easy to step into the true immortal realm.

And among them, talent was a very important part..

Thus, although the generals of many cultivation countries seemed to be following the rules these years, they weren't.

It was just that they simply didn't have the talent to step into the higher realms.

However, there were still people with talent.

The next realm in the true immortal realm was venerated immortal. Of course, there were also very few people like grenade-throwing senior immortal who could unexpectedly step into the intermediate realm between the two realms, which was the venerated immortal realm.

This was a small chance of advancement, but at the same time, it was also a manifestation of talent. This was because entering the venerated immortal realm meant that the cultivator's own foundation would be more solid, and they would have the talent to break through to the ancestral realm in the future.

But in most cases, the next realm of the true immortal realm was venerated immortal, and their combat strength was the same as Immortal Zhenyuan.

Silver Fox thought that the current strength of the ten generals was still in the true immortal realm.

But in fact, his intelligence was still behind.

In the past few years, the ten generals had followed the Pact of the true immortal, but they had never forgotten about cultivation.

To break through to the venerated immortal realm, it was far from enough to just pile up resources. Upper-level self-cultivators needed to cultivate their hearts, and as long as their state of mind reached a certain level, even a small portion of resources could break through to the higher level.

This was the legendary strategy of lying low and keeping a low profile.

Boom!

In the third layered space, there was a huge fluctuation at this time. The divine light bar seemed to be on the verge of shattering the sky and Earth. The building that was used to capture Jiang Yingying's video also seemed to be on the verge of collapse under such a huge fluctuation.

"What's going on..."silver fox turned pale with fright.

“Master Silver Fox, someone has broken into the layered space!” Kangaroo, who had been monitoring the state of the space with his tablet, immediately replied.

He also had a shocked expression on his face. He had an incredulous expression.

Because the intruders were too fierce and overbearing, they had clearly separated several layers of space and had absolute encryption. However, the intruders seemed to have already known which layer Jiang Yingying was locked in. After pinpointing the exact location, they went straight in.

“Use the record to stop them. We’ll take her and retreat!” Silver Fox made a prompt decision.

He tried to take Jiang Yingying out of the space and hide in a new layered space. However, Kangaroo’s face showed a difficult expression.

Because he realized that the layered space was no longer under his control. The great senior who stood behind them had arranged everything and only gave them a tablet computer to control everything, no matter how many layers of space they wanted, it would be a one-click operation for a fool. All they had to do was click on it.

But now, the kangaroo found that the buttons on it had actually failed.

At that moment, a red dot appeared on the map of the tablet computer. This was the intrusion display function of the third layered space, and this red dot was the position of the intruder.

When the screen was projected, Jiang Yingying also saw the appearance of the intruder. It was a mysterious woman wearing a nine-tailed fox mask, holding a bandage sword, and dressed in Han Chinese clothing..

In order to hide ao hai, Lotus Sun had carefully wrapped ao hai tightly with a special white bandage.

Because her face was blocked and her figure was covered by the Loose Han Chinese clothing, she didn’t know who it was for a moment.

Thanks to Sun Ying ‘ER’s patient explanation, Lotus Sun was able to reach the third level smoothly.

It wasn't her first time in battle. After a few battles, Lotus Sun clearly understood the importance of sealing off the map, so as to ensure that her target wouldn't escape.

Therefore, as soon as she entered the third level, she immediately unleashed a spatial swordsmanship called "Oath of eternal love." This was a spatial swordsmanship that used the power of Ao Hai to form a contract with a specific space, it could seal off a specific space for a short period of time, making the space under Lotus Sun's control.

The architectural pattern of Space No. 3 was almost the same as that of the first floor. Only a few buildings had changed. Lotus Sun moved forward and accurately locked onto the position of the old mulberry tree that she had previously detected from the outside.

A biting cold sword qi swept across, making the Silver Fox break out in cold sweat on the spot.

Lotus Sun walked over step by step. At the same time, she saw countless black divine birds flying in the sky. They looked like crows, but they were bigger than crows.

These black divine birds crouched in the air, densely forming a vortex. Then, in an instant, they gathered like a long dragon and swooped down to attack Lotus Sun.

"Eh? The immemorial?"

Lotus Sun was astonished. She could feel that the power of the immemorial was contained in this divine black bird.

Could it be that in the picture of the immemorial corpse, besides patriarch heartless, there was also the immemorial who had been left out and had survived until now?

Her expression was calm. She stretched out her arm, revealing a section of her snow-white wrist. At this moment, Ao Hai, wrapped in bandages, simulated a kind of red sword qi, pressing down toward the void, it was like an endless stream of dazzling multicolored light pouring down on the divine birds.

Boom!

The moment these divine black birds touched it, they let out painful cries.

This kind of power was too astonishing. Fighting against the tens of thousands of divine birds in the sky by herself didn't seem to be difficult at all.

"Hey, what's This?" Lotus Sun looked at the divine black birds that she had burned all over the sky. Suddenly, she stretched out her flower-picking finger and clamped down on the debris left behind after the divine black birds had been burned.

It was only at this moment that she realized that the black divine bird was actually a product of black straw.

"As expected of senior eternal warrior. It's indeed extraordinary." Lotus Sun was secretly amazed.

These black divine birds were at the true immortal realm in terms of combat power alone. If they all swooped down and exploded in a suicide attack, the power would probably stack up to the venerated immortal realm or even higher.

But it was a pity that before they could swoop down, these divine birds, which were made of black straw, were burned to ashes.

At the same time, Wang Ling, who was watching this scene from the screen, was also stunned.

Because he recognized the origin of this black straw.

It was something called doomsday straw..

Chapter 1759 1,755. There Were Two People At My Door (1/92)

With Lotus Sun's help, rescuing Jiang Yingying was a piece of cake. Silver Fox alone wasn't enough to stop her.

Boom!

With a loud bang, the door of the building where Jiang Yingying was imprisoned was burst open by the red spirit light simulated by Ao Hai. The ancient stone door was instantly torn into pieces, neatly cut into pieces of tofu.

Lotus Sun stepped in with the nine-tailed Fox mask on, but Silver Fox quickly grabbed Jiang Yingying by the throat.

“If you come any closer, I’ll kill him!” Silver Fox was truly afraid, the expression on his face twisted.

“Ha.”

Lotus sun smiled lightly, not putting Silver Fox and the others in her eyes at all. Sword Qi surged from her body, instantly splitting into several sword Qi incarnations, at an incredible speed, they appeared behind the people of the Roaring Sky Alliance, including Silver Fox, like ghosts.

These sword Qi incarnations had precise positioning. They appeared almost instantaneously and caught Silver Fox and the others in a flash. Then, they supported their legs and buried them into the ground, leaving only their heads exposed.

The instantaneous completion of the operation left Silver Fox and the others unable to react at all.

The Sword Qi was too strong and fierce. When the sword Qi avatar approached, it blew away the cloth covering Jiang Yingying’s eyes.

After a blinding halo, Jiang Yingying finally recognized the person in the light..

“You Are...”

“Your grandfather asked me to save you,” Lotus Sun said after a pause.

She deliberately changed her voice so that Jiang Yingying wouldn’t be able to hear it.

..

..

“There are two people at my door. One is a scarecrow, and the other is also a scarecrow...”

At that moment, Wang Ling suddenly remembered a passage from an ancient literary classic.

The name of this classic was “The saying of the eternal swiftness”, and it was a collection of classic sayings from all the great literary masters of the ancient times. It was said to be a great help in purifying one’s mind and even helping one break through a critical bottleneck.

As for why he suddenly remembered these words, it was also because he had seen these black divine birds woven from “Doomsday straw” in front of him. There were over ten thousand black divine birds, and all of them were woven from such mystical materials, the strength of the person behind the scenes could indeed be said to be extraordinary.

Wang Ling asked the rest of the eternal practitioners in the corpse painting, and no one seemed to be able to think of anyone who was particularly good at using this kind of straw.

Because there were quite a few ancients who knew how to weave “Doomsday Straw,” it was only natural that not many people would pay attention to the situation of the people around them.

If someone had deliberately hidden their abilities from the ancients until now, it would indeed be difficult for these ancients to think about it.

“This person must have hidden it very well. The weaving of doomsday straw is very troublesome. To be able to weave these black birds on such a scale, this person must at least be at the ancestor realm.”

“In that case, as you can see, what realm is the ancestor realm? Is It Ren Zu, Earth Zu, or Heaven Zu? Or is it possible that it’s the ancestor king or Ancestor Immortal?”

“It’s impossible that it’s the ancestor king or ancestor immortal. The higher realms have a higher probability.”

“Sigh, there’s no point in discussing this person’s realm here. In any case, it’s impossible for this person to really defeat Ling Zhenren.”

Wang Ling: "..."

"In my opinion, it's not a matter of beating Ling Zhenren; even Miss Lotus Sun can't deal with this person."

Inside the supreme corpse-wrapping diagram, a group of eternal warriors with their skeletal bodies were engaged in an intense discussion.

There was no doubt that this was the truth.

In fact, Wang Ling's misgivings about these eternal warriors weren't about how strong they were, but rather what they had done after escaping dao ancestor Wang's "Devil's hand"? Why had they all embarked on the path of aiding the wicked?

Of course, these questions would come later.

After all, Wang Ling still hadn't figured out the real reason why dao ancestor Wang had used all sorts of excuses to seal the eternal warriors in the corpse map back then.

He felt that the best way to find out was to ask Dao ancestor Wang directly... the main thing was that he didn't have any clues at the moment, so when he could fully deduce the logic behind dao ancestor Wang's actions.., he didn't know how long it would take.

But putting everything aside and speaking only from instinct, Wang Ling felt that Dao ancestor Wang's actions were actually a form of protection.

Although Dao ancestor Wang's current reputation wasn't good, and he had always been viewed as an enemy by these immemorial cultivators, he had been called "Old thief Wang".

But Wang Ling still felt that his instincts might be right.

As he was thinking, he had already entered the vicinity of treasure city in a snow-white sportswear, and Lotus Sun had rescued Jiang Yingying, thus, his purpose for this trip wasn't to rescue Jiang Yingying... it was to find Wang Muyu in advance and avoid a blunder.

He realized that the little guy had a terrible temper. He usually looked so obedient and well-behaved, but in the end, he turned on him as soon as he said it.

In the end, he was still a child.

According to Odd Zhuo's arrangements, Wang Ling also went to the spirit plant stall and took the pass to the underground intelligence market, as well as a raccoon mask.

But just as he put it on, an old man suddenly walked over to him.

"Young man, which side did you come from?"

He seemed to have heard a very familiar voice on television.

When Wang Ling turned his head, he couldn't help revealing a stunned expression under the mask.

Because the person standing behind him was none other than martial Saint Jiang himself..

However, martial Saint Jiang had deliberately used shapeshifting to prevent others from seeing his true appearance.

But how could such shapeshifting escape Wang Ling's eyes.

He had also come for the pass and mask, and hadn't seen Wang Ling's face. When he walked in, Wang Ling had already put on the raccoon mask.

Seeing this familiar operation, martial Saint Jiang instantly knew that this young man in front of him was probably someone sent by the war sect.

Martial Saint Jiang looked at Wang Ling and raised his eyebrows. "Young man, you have some guts. Are you also here on a Mission?"

Wang Ling:"..."

Martial saint didn't say much, and there wasn't a smile on his face at all. He immediately put on the Sichuan opera mask prepared by the shop owner and then looked at Wang Ling. "Since you're already here, let's go together."

Wang Ling:"..."

He could sense the vitality of a young man in Wang Ling, so he judged that Wang Ling was very young and not very strong.

It was good for young people to have drive, but the underground market was a big black market after all, and the waters were very deep. It would be boorish to simply charge forward.

"Young man, sometimes it's good to have drive, but we have to take a look at the actual situation. But don't worry, since this old man is here, we can act together to ensure that you're safe. "In addition, this is also a rare opportunity to learn."

Wang Ling:"..."

..

After another dozen or so seconds, Wang Ling followed Martial Saint Jiang into the underground intelligence trading market.

At the same time, the owner of the Spirit Plant Shop, who was in charge of handing over the mask and pass, also took off his mask.

He was none other than Zhou Ziyi, who odd Zhuo had pulled over to help.

After seeing Wang Ling enter the underground market with the martial saint, Zhou Ziyi immediately called Odd Zhuo to report the situation. "Shifu... Shifu happened to run into the martial saint when he was taking the token, and now he's going in with him!"

Odd Zhuo facepalmed."..."

They were really about to form a table of Mahjong!

Chapter 1760 1756: Jiang Yingying's Apprenticeship (1/92)

"Classmate Jiang, are you okay?" Lotus Sun stepped forward and untied the rope that bound Jiang Yingying.

For some reason, she felt that the person in front of her with the nine-tailed Fox mask had a familiar feeling.

In fact, when Lotus Sun had first appeared, Jiang Yingying had been blindfolded, and had thought that Lotus Sun had come to save her.

But in the end, this thought was instantly shattered by her.

Especially after her blindfold had been blown off, she saw that this person's sword energy was red.

Strong and domineering.

Completely different from Lotus Sun's arcane sea.

At once, Jiang Yingying couldn't help but laugh at herself.

She didn't know what she was fantasizing about... to actually want her love rival to save her?

This thought was a little too naive.

Then Lotus Sun spoke. The nine-tailed Fox Mask had a voice-changing function, which made Lotus Sun's voice sound very different from her original voice.

"How should I address you?" Asked Jiang Yingying.

Lotus sun quickly replied, "My name is... Pretty Wang."

"Oh, then I'll Call You Pretty Sis!"

Jiang Yingying smiled brilliantly.

Although everyone had always said that Jiang Yingying was very similar to herself, including Lotus Sun, who would occasionally fall into a trance when she looked at Jiang Yingying face-to-face, in fact, after looking at her for a long time, she could tell, she could still tell.

For example, the smile in front of her, when Lotus Sun noticed that Jiang Yingying smiled, it was actually completely different from herself.

“They didn’t do anything to you, did they?” Lotus Sun asked.

“Not bad, just two big slaps.” Jiang Yingying rubbed her face. In fact, for the sake of filming the video, Silver Fox hadn’t used much force before.

Lotus sun checked and used the battle Grandmaster’s phone that she had prepared beforehand to record the evidence. Then, she used ao Hai’s power to help heal Jiang Yingying’s injuries.

She had used the simulated red spiritual energy, but Jiang Yingying couldn’t tell.

“By the way, do you know why they arrested you?” While she was healing, lotus sun asked as “Pretty Wang.” Of course, she already knew what was going on, so this question was just a test.

“They arrested the wrong person. They were going to arrest the eldest daughter of Huaguo Water Curtain Group.”

Jiang Yingying smiled bitterly. “At first, I said that they caught the wrong person, but they didn’t believe me. They even hit me. Later, they found out that they really caught the wrong person, so they planned to beat me up.”

“Beat you up?”

“Yeah, they seemed to have some dirt on that young miss, so they wanted to make a video to prove it. They wanted to catch her, but they caught me. Then they wanted me to cooperate with them in making the video.”

Jiang Yingying said, “But I didn’t agree to it, so I got beaten up...”

Lotus Sun’s heart skipped a beat when she heard this.

Suddenly, she realized that she didn’t hate Jiang Yingying that much anymore.

It was clearly such a dangerous situation..

Even if Jiang Yingying had really betrayed her.

She would have thought that she had been coerced, that Jiang Yingying had no choice but to protect her life, and that she wouldn’t really blame her.

But now, Lotus Sun heard what Jiang Yingying said, and felt a little uncomfortable.

After a moment of silence, she asked Jiang Yingying again, “But according to the information from the war sect, they said that you and this young lady have a grudge. In fact... you could have sold her out to protect yourself, couldn’t you?”

“AH... how do you even know about this...”

Jiang Yingying seemed to have thought of something, and her face suddenly turned red. “Don’t tell me that even my grandfather knows about this. If he knew, I would be in deep trouble!”

“Don’t worry, student Jiang. The old martial saint doesn’t know yet...”lotus sun comforted her.

Jiang Yingying patted her chest and heaved a sigh of relief.

She didn’t know if this “Pretty Wang”before her had saved her relationship, but she suddenly felt that this person seemed to be someone who could let her freely talk about her feelings.

She had never said these things to anyone.

Firstly, she did not dare to. Secondly, she felt that even if she said it, no one would be able to understand her and listen to her feelings carefully.

But now, facing the “Wang Pretty” who had saved her, even though she was not very familiar with Wang pretty, she had a baffling sense of trust in Wang Pretty.

“Actually, it’s not really a grudge between her and me.”

Jiang yingying sighed and said, “But they both fell in love with the same person. What she did to me wasn’t too overboard. It was just a little against me... if it were me, I would have done the same thing. It’s normal.”

“But isn’t this a good opportunity to step on her?” Lotus Sun asked sharply.

“That’s true. But these evildoers are evildoers after all. If I help them, won’t I be aiding the wicked?”

Jiang Yingying laughed. “And at the end of the day, this is between us little girls. There’s no need to use such methods to ruin others’ reputation. “She’s my competitor. As my competitor, I believe that she would never do such a immoral thing.”

” ... ”

Lotus Sun didn’t say anything for a long time after hearing these words. She was only moved.

After suppressing her emotions, she did the final healing for Jiang Yingying.

Then, she took out a small mirror and handed it to Jiang Yingying. “Student Jiang, you can take a look in the mirror. I’ve already healed your injury, and I’ve also helped you repair the red mark on your face.”

“Thank you, pretty sister. It really doesn’t hurt that much anymore.”

Jiang Yingying nodded and took the mirror. She looked at herself in the mirror and couldn't help but feel pleasantly surprised. "Wow! Why do I feel like my face has turned much paler! Pretty sister is so amazing!"

"It's... It's just some insignificant tricks..." Lotus Sun said modestly.

"Speaking of which, sister pretty and I hit it off at first sight. Sister pretty is so skilled, can I learn some tricks from her?" At that moment, Jiang Yingying suddenly changed the subject, her eyes full of expectation.

"You mean... become my disciple?" Lotus Sun was taken aback.

"Yes, yes, yes, that's it! I wonder if this will break the rules of the war sect," said Jiang Yingying.

In fact, she had noticed that Lotus Sun was wearing a Han costume with the emblem of the war sect on it. She immediately knew that this sister in front of her was a member of the war sect.

And judging from her outstretched hand, it was very likely that she was at the level of an elder!

"If you want to be my disciple... then the martial saint..."

"If grandfather finds out, I'll take responsibility for this matter. Grandfather won't ask too much."

Jiang Yingying said, "I'm just a girl. He has been teaching me hand-to-hand combat, martial arts, physical skills, and so on... But what I really want to learn are the combat abilities that are relatively easy to use. Just like when pretty sister used her sword aura to wipe out this group of people. How cool is that?"
