Chapter 1841 1,837, Joint Investigation With Wang Ling (1/92)

It was still the cultivation training hall.

After school that day, Lotus Sun immediately put on the nine-tailed Fox mask and changed into her Han costume to rush over.

She had arranged for Jiang Yingying to train here.

The entire training took about an hour, and after that, she would immediately rush over to meet up with Wang Ling and Chenqin.

Lotus Sun had originally wanted to decline the offer.

But because she had gone abroad a few days ago, she had already stood up to Jiang Yingying several times. If she didn't come today, she was afraid that she would arouse her suspicion.

"Pretty sister!" Jiang Yingying didn't sit around idly either. She arrived at the training hall before Lotus Sun, about ten minutes earlier than Lotus Sun, and then didn't waste a minute, she began to swing her greatsword according to Professor Lotus Sun's instructions.

When Lotus Sun arrived, Jiang Yingying greeted her with a smile on her face, sweat dripping down her cheeks.

"Mm! You're working hard! Then let's hurry up with the training," Lotus Sun said.

"Okay!"

After about ten minutes of practice, Jiang Yingying suddenly asked out of the blue, "What happened to pretty sister? I feel a bit distracted today."

"Sorry, a little."

Lotus sun readily admitted it.

Even as a disciple, she could tell that her master was absent-minded, especially when she was wearing a mask... it was a little too obvious that her mind was wandering.

The reason for her absent-mindedness was very simple.

Perhaps it was because of chenqin, but it was mostly because of Wang Ling.

In fact, she had never thought that Wang Ling would be willing to directly intervene in this matter and participate with her in the first task entrusted to her by the grey cult.

She had thought that Wang Ling would definitely find this matter very boring and turn a blind eye to it..

But in the end, this blockhead simply didn't play by the rules at all!

Lotus Sun's heart was a little flustered.

Because she wasn't very sure whether she had a good impression of her or not; they were just going on a task together.

"Yingying, do you remember what I told you last time?"

"I know. That senior brother's boyfriend?"

Jiang Yingying smiled. "I knew that pretty sister was absent-minded today. There's a high chance that it has something to do with him."

"Yes..."

Lotus Sun hesitated for a moment and said, "It's like this. I'm going on a mission with him. The point is that he has never been interested in such a mission before."

“Then isn’t this progress?”

“You think it’s Progress?”

“I think so!”

Jiang Yingying said, “If I said I have no feelings for you, how could I go on a mission with you? !”

“There’s a commission fee... and it’s a commission fee that he can’t refuse.”

“Eh? So the upper-class cultivators also care about money?”

” ...”

“No matter what, Sister Lotus, I think this is a great opportunity. At the very least, you can use this mission to test me.”

“But I’m afraid I’ll screw it up.”

“I don’t think it’s a big deal. If this senior brother is willing to go on a mission with you despite your rashness, doesn’t that just prove that he’s interested in you? !”

” ...”

Suddenly, Lotus Sun came to a realization.

Jiang Yingying didn’t seem to be experienced in relationships, but was purely a girl who watched silly, sweet love dramas and comic books.

Nowadays, the setting of the reckless female lead wasn’t very likable!

And this was also one of the reasons why so many girls liked to watch TV dramas where beautiful men and beautiful men appreciated each other..

Lotus Sun facepalmed.

What everyone wanted to see was never some silly, Sweet Mary Sue routine where the sunshine-covered male protagonist went to save the reckless female protagonist. What they wanted to see was the sweet interaction between a normal female protagonist and a normal male protagonist who didn't cause any trouble!

In short, after talking to Jiang Yingying.

Lotus Sun understood one thing.

That was that the love experience provided by Jiang Yingying had no real reference value.

In fact, she could even reverse-engineer it based on Jiang Yingying's experience..

..

In class, old antique's popularization of knowledge, which couldn't be called suggestive or not, had given Wang Ling and Lotus Sun some inspiration. Now that they had, it was time to test their ideas.

First of all, it was impossible for a living person to disappear for no reason. If that video blogger was really in danger, Wang Ling felt that there would definitely be some clues left behind.

In the modern cultivation world, there were too many ways to uncover the truth. Even if Wang Ling didn't use those strange spells that he had mastered, the cultivation police could still find flaws with their current technology.

In fact, there was still corpse-dissolving water, which had once been popular in the cultivation world.

There was something about pouring a drop of it on a corpse after killing it and completely vaporizing it in an extremely short period of time without leaving a trace... this kind of method had once become a necessary magic treasure for the various major forces to secretly compete with each other in chaotic times.

However, even this magical medicinal liquid, which had once been able to destroy a corpse without leaving a trace, could be detected with modern cultivation techniques.

For example, the elemental camera.

After a cultivator died, the spirit root in their body would often leave traces of elements in the air that matched the spirit root.

Through the elemental camera, one could capture a possible crime scene and see the outline of the corpse outlined by natural elements on the camera's screen.

Of course..

It would be even more convenient for Wang Ling to go over.

He didn't need a camera; he could do it with his king's eye.

..

The grayish-white cafe on Student Street near No. 60 high school had already become a gathering point for the disciples of the Grey Cult.

Lotus Sun had immediately rushed over after her training with Jiang Yingying.

At that moment, Chenqin and Wang Ling had already been waiting in the cafe for a long time.

On the way, she had sent herself a grey cult master's order, which was mainly for Chenqin to read. The master's order clearly stated that the grey cult master had already known about this, furthermore, she had given full authority to Lotus Sun, the head of the Grey cult branch at No. 60 High School, and Wang Ling, a grey cult disciple, to be in charge of this matter.

Speaking of which, it was also very strange. When the grey cult had been founded in the first place, it had all been because of the composition called "Body double" written by crispy noodles dao monarch for Wang Ling at the Nine Dragon Mountain Physical Skills Conference, and because the golden sentence in the composition, “A speck of dust in the era,” had made Wang Ling look like a little genius in composition.

But in fact, most of the followers who had joined the grey cult had thought that this composition had been written by the master of the Grey Cult..

Naturally, Wang Ling had also played a part in tampering with most people’s memories and rationalizing everything.

Now that he was only a disciple of the grey religion, it was completely reasonable.

After all, he was just a writer.

What the hell did he know about the grey religion..

“Classmate Lotus Sun, you’re finally here!”

Chenqin had already been sitting with Wang Ling in the private room of the coffee shop for a long time. When she saw Lotus Sun, she looked like she had seen a life-saving straw and was about to cry.

“What... What’s Wrong?” Lotus Sun was startled.

“Student Wang Ling and I have been sitting here for a long time, but he hasn’t said a word.”

Student Chen Qin looked worried. “I suspect that student Wang Ling is... Broken!”

Wang Ling and Lotus Sun:”...”

Chapter 1842 1,838, Female Taoist Priest Of Wind And Thunder Manor (1/92)

Wang Ling hadn’t expected that the time he spent thinking in silence would actually cast such a psychological shadow on Chen Qin.

Under normal circumstances, when Wang Ling was thinking carefully about something, he would enter a meditative state like the one he had just entered. Even if he opened his eyes, everything in his line of sight would temporarily turn into nothingness, it was like a cloud of mist that constantly changed as the thoughts in his mind moved in front of him, giving Wang Ling certain hints.

His hearing would also be separated, preventing all external disturbances. It could be said that his mind was truly undistracted.

As for his body, it would automatically enter a system-hosted state.

At that time, his body would automatically recognize the surrounding malicious intent and enter a 100% evasive mode, causing all attacks to miss and directly fall into a state of failure.

Wang Ling had a very complicated premonition about this matter, which was why he had used this “Meditation mode” to think about it. Under normal circumstances, only the final exams were qualified for Wang Ling to use this ability.

But he had overlooked one thing: Chenqin was still here and had been frightened by his mode.

“I’m sorry,” Wang Ling said.

It was rare for him to take the initiative to apologize to someone; this was really the first time.

When he saw the expression on Chen Qin’s face relax again, Wang Ling somehow felt that he was a little closer to the boundary between normal people.

“Student Chen Qin, don’t be too afraid. When Wang Ling is thinking about something... he always looks like this.”

“Curious?”

“Why is it that a person who thinks about things without any distractions, like an old monk meditating, has an average standard in every exam? Super Chen has always told me that he suspects that Wang Ling is deliberately lowering his score.”

Wang Ling: "..."

Lotus Sun laughed when she heard this and quickly changed the topic. "But we're not here to discuss exams today. Um... didn't you say earlier that you have a new set of clues?"

"Yes!"

As she spoke, Chenqin took out a stack of photos from her pink school bag.

In addition to the screenshots of the phone that Wang Ling and Lotus Sun had already seen before, they found that this time, there were also some photos of the video blogger's life.

"Where did you get these photos?" Lotus Sun asked curiously.

"These were photos that she had posted on other social media platforms before the video had been deleted. I found them through her ID. But she seems to have logged out of other social media platforms as well... I don't know if she did," Chenqin said.

"Why didn't you take them out before?"

"Because I remembered wrongly that these photos were on another phone. Later, I used the cloud drive function of the phone I'm using now to find them."

Wang Ling carefully looked through each photo, and finally fixed his gaze on one photo.

It was a photo of the video blogger with a person dressed like a Taoist, but unfortunately, the Taoist had a thick layer of mosaic on his face.

Seeing that Wang Ling was paying special attention to this photo, Lotus Sun asked tacitly, "Do you still remember when this photo was released?"

"I remember that I saved it half a month ago, but she probably released it earlier on the Internet. Moreover, this is the only photo of her with someone on that platform," Chen Qin said.

“In other words, the Daoist priest in the photo is very likely the last person to see her.”

..

After getting new clues from Chen Qin, Wang Ling and Lotus Sun immediately began their next move.

Wang Ling took Lotus Sun on Line 19, which led to the final station of the Qingshan Lake Subway.

It was a suburban area, and hardly anyone lived there, which meant that there were more people camping there on weekends, and there were almost no people on weekdays.

Seeing that there was no one in the carriage, Lotus Sun cautiously asked, “Wang Ling, you should be able to recover the mosaic on the photo, right?”

“Mm.”

Wang Ling nodded and handed over the photo in his hand. Lotus Sun was stunned to find that Wang Ling had already removed the mosaic on the photo.

Standing next to the video blogger who looked a lot like Chen Qin was a female Taoist priest. She didn't look very big, and looked about the same age as a high school student. She was dressed in a long white robe, and her jet-black hair was tied up in a bun, there was a purple Taoist hairpin on it. She held a pink dust in her hand and wore cute straw sandals.

Lotus Sun was surprised. She was such a cute girl... but it turned out to be a female Taoist priest?

If this girl had been in a proper high school, she thought that she would definitely be the object of many boys' hearts.

But on the other hand, she also let out a long sigh of relief in her heart.

Fortunately, fortunately..

It was a female Taoist priest.

Otherwise, she would have even more strange competitors!

But even so, there was one thing that made Lotus Sun particularly surprised.

It was a little too inconceivable that Wang Ling could actually know which Taoist temple this cute little Taoist priest had come from just by looking at the photo.

Nowadays, Taoist temples mostly wore plain colors like green, white, and black, and there was no special logo on the clothes, there were more than 100,000 Daoist temples of all sizes across the country... all of them had different names, and apart from the fact that most Daoist temples were situated on mountains, there didn't seem to be much, er, similarity.

She felt that Wang Ling had probably deduced this female Daoist priest's identity.

Unexpectedly, when they arrived at the entrance of the Daoist temple...

When a thirteen or fourteen-year-old boy wearing a Taoist robe saw Wang Ling, a stunned expression immediately appeared on his face. He hurriedly put down his broom and ran into the Taoist temple, he shouted, "It's recluse Wang! Recluse Wang Is Here! Senior Sister Yueqing!"

Lotus SUN's expression froze slightly when she heard this sudden announcement. After a moment of shock, she finally saw the plaque of this Taoist temple clearly.

The words "Wind and Thunder Manor" were written on it.

This was a Taoist temple that Lotus Sun had never heard of before. She knew about Green Shirt Lake, but she had never known that there was such a Taoist temple on a mountain about five kilometers away in a straight line on the edge of Green Shirt Lake.

A hint of doubt flashed across her mind.

Lotus Sun had thought that Wang Ling had come here just by looking at the picture, but from the Little Daoist's reaction just now..., she suddenly felt that Wang Ling might have a strange connection with this remote Little Daoist Temple?

It couldn't be..

It couldn't be that coincidental, right?

Her heart was pounding.

It was at this moment that the cute little Daoist priest she had seen in the photo earlier walked out of the Daoist temple with a smile on her face, holding the pink speck in her hand and pacing around in her straw sandals.

“Long time no see, recluse Wang.”

She took the initiative to step forward and look at Wang Ling's face without any hesitation.

There seemed to be a hint of ambiguity in her eyes.

After a while, she turned her gaze to Lotus Sun on the side, then threw the speck away and stretched out her hand. “Hello, this female recluse, I'm You Yueqing, the eldest senior sister of wind and Thunder Taoist temple.”

Chapter 1843 1,839, Female Taoist Priest (1/92)

Speaking of which, Wang Ling and You Yueqing's ill-fated relationship started a long time ago. A long, long time ago... You Yueqing used to be Wang Ling's kindergarten classmate.

That was a long time ago. When they were young, parents would always jokingly ask their children how many husbands and wives they had in kindergarten, even in Wang Ling's kindergarten days, it was inevitable.

And You Yueqing had once been one of the targets of Father Wang, mother Wang and grandfather Wang's jokes.

When they were in primary school, You Yueqing had even kept in touch with Wang Ling. Sometimes, she would even take the initiative to visit the Wang family's small villa.

When father Wang and mother Wang heard that you Yueqing had moved to another city, the relationship between the two families faded.

It wasn't until the year Wang Ling was promoted that he had heard about you Yueqing's recent situation from a junior high school classmate... It was said that you Yueqing had made a bold decision when she was promoted to become a Taoist priest!

When he had heard this news at that time, Wang Ling's expression had clearly been a little muddled. He knew that you Yueqing's brain had always been abnormal, but he hadn't expected it to be so abnormal... but he quickly regained his calm.

However, you Yueqing's knowledge of Wang Ling was limited. She didn't know that he had heaven-defying abilities, but she could intuitively sense that he was different from ordinary cultivators.

Ever since she was young, she had felt that Wang Ling was particularly attractive to her.

After she had come to wind and thunder manor to be this big senior sister, she had also met Wang Ling as a female Daoist.

For example, the year Wang Ling's grandmother passed away, you Yueqing had presided over her spiritual conference.

At that time, she hadn't looked as mature as she was now. Her childish face was full of cute porcelain doll-like features, but when she presided over the spiritual conference, her little face was unusually tense and serious.

It could be seen that you Yueqing was a very skilled female Daoist.

After entering the training hall, You Yueqing led Wang Ling and Lotus Sun to sit down on a futon.

This was the lecture hall of the wind and Thunder Manor. The mahogany tables were neatly placed in front of the hall, and in front of each table was a simple futon.

At the very front of the main hall was an offering table, an incense burner, and a huge eight-trigram disc hanging on the wall at the very front.

The Futon in front of the offering table looked slightly bigger than the futon used by ordinary disciples. It was also black and white in the color of tai chi.

Usually, the master of the wind and Thunder Manor and You Yueqing would give lectures here.

Of course, the Master of the wind and thunder manor was a lazy person. It was mainly you Yueqing who lectured in the lecture hall as the eldest senior sister.

Compared to the other Taoist temples, the special feature of the wind and thunder manor was that the people here were all young Taoist priests.

After pouring tea for the two of them, you Yueqing also heard Lotus Sun talk about her request.

She didn't answer the question immediately, but smiled at Lotus Sun first, and then whispered into her ear, "Well, maybe it's a little rude, but I'm very curious... What's the relationship between you and recluse Wang?"

Lotus Sun's face immediately burned. "It's just a classmate relationship..."

"Oh, I see."

You Yueqing looked as if she had suddenly realized something, and then she became very happy. "As far as I remember, recluse Wang almost never talks to girls. The chances of them traveling together are very low."

"So Taoist priests are also interested in secular matters..." Lotus Sun's face was sweating as she probed.

"They're just Taoist priests, not monks.". Daoists are also particular and not particular, so they don't have too many restrictions on emotional matters. "A more particular person can find true love and then get married," You Yueqing said with a smile.

“Get... Get Married...”

“Of course you can get married. As long as you renounce asceticism. I became a Daoist just to wait for Wang Ling. “If he ever comes to his senses, I can renounce asceticism at any time,” You Yueqing said bluntly in front of Lotus Sun, this overflowing confidence instantly gave Lotus Sun a great sense of crisis.

On the other side, Wang Ling also choked on You Yueqing’s words.

He was sure that you Yueqing’s words were absolutely intentional.

They weren’t meant for Lotus Sun to hear, but for himself.

When he was very young, he remembered that you Yueqing liked to play tricks on him more than most girls.

He was clearly regarded as a silent monster and isolated in the eyes of others, but you Yueqing still refused to give up and played all kinds of jokes on him.

The speaker didn’t mean what he said, but the listener did.

These words instantly raised all the vigilance Lotus Sun had put down before she entered the Taoist temple!

As expected..

She was thinking too much!

So the female Taoist priest was the most dangerous one!

Pretending to be Taoist priests was actually playing hard to get!

Dangerous!

Lotus Sun felt that this was a huge crisis.

It was completely different from the feeling she had when she had faced Jiang Yingying earlier. She was certain that Jiang Yingying was absolutely no match for her, so she had been very calm all this time.

But when faced with You Yueqing, she knew nothing and didn't know what to do.

Lotus Sun also had no idea about the story between you Yueqing and Wang Ling. What kind of past did they have... she was really very curious.

As Lotus Sun's thoughts ran wild, you Yueqing flicked the pink dust off her hand and suddenly changed the subject.

In Lotus Sun's eyes, this was a very clever move.

She didn't give her any chance to ask about her past relationship with Wang Ling at all..

She looked at the photo and identified it for herself, then nodded.

"The female recluse you mentioned did come to wind and thunder manor a while ago to look for me for divination."

"And because the divination she wanted me to do was very strange, I remember it very clearly."

"Strange divination?" Lotus Sun asked.

"Yes, very strange divination." You Yueqing nodded and said, "Logically speaking, this is a client's secret, and I shouldn't have told you. But from the looks of it now, this female laywoman might have been in danger, so I made a special arrangement."

She looked at Lotus Sun and Wang Ling with a serious expression, she said, "What she wanted me to do was divination about the job interview. It's very strange, isn't it. She clearly looks like a girl of our age, but at such a young age, she has given up her studies to go to work. At such an age, studying is the only way out. Studying well is better than anything else. Instead of finding a place to work.”

” ...”

Wang Ling and Lotus Sun suddenly felt that you Yueqing didn’t seem to have the right to say this.

But she didn’t seem to sense anything wrong with what she had said, instead, she continued, “Oh right, my divination results weren’t very good at that time, so I also advised her not to take up the position and not to go even if she passed the interview.”

At that moment, you Yueqing sighed. “Sigh, it looks like she felt that I was too young and didn’t believe me at all. So she probably went to that unit and something happened.”

“Your divination is that accurate?” Lotus Sun was stunned.

You Yueqing smiled, she took out a palm-sized turtle shell from the storage bag on the lapel of her Daoist robe. “This was given to me by recluse Wang when I was very young. It has proof of our love, so it’s definitely accurate.”

Wang Ling:” ...”

Chapter 1844 1,840, You Yueqing’s Divination Ability (1/92)

This was Wang Ling’s version 1.0 Enlightenment spell’s small turtle shell. Back then, when you Yueqing was the closest to the old Wang family, father and mother Wang had forced him to give you Yueqing a birthday present.

Back then, Wang Ling had been very afraid of You Yueqing’s pestering, so he had given her the turtle shell for a very simple reason, he wanted you Yueqing to use the turtle shell to calculate where his marriage was... it was a good thing that she would find a good home to marry him in the future.

Wang Ling admitted that although he had been very young back then, he had indeed thought a little too much.

And it was clear that you Yueqing hadn't used this turtle shell to calculate her marriage. Instead, she had used this small turtle shell to directly walk the path of a female Daoist priest..

Speaking of which, Wang Ling sighed.

It wasn't an exaggeration to call this fate a bad one.

But then again, those monsters in the Wang family's small villa, such as Lord Ma, had already gone through version 3.0 of the latest enlightenment spell, wang Ling hadn't expected that the turtle shell of version 1.0 of the Enlightenment spell could actually make such an accurate calculation.

According to You Yueqing herself, the turtle shell could predict what would happen in the next half a year. If the timeline was closer, it would be more detailed, and the further the timeline was, the more blurry it would become. The most accurate thing to date was to predict the bad luck of an event.

Perhaps to show off her divination ability, you Yueqing started to shake the turtle shell in front of Lotus Sun with a straight face.

When all the copper coins in the turtle shell were shaken out, you Yueqing carefully stared at the few copper coins and began to speak.

"Today, if the brothers and sisters who left messages in this chapter will have good luck."

"..."

"Tomorrow, that shameless author, Ku Xuan, is still working on the first update. He's always dragging the update. I've never seen anything like it!"

"..."

"Four months from now, around 520, a female star from Sun Island with the surname Xinyuan will announce her marriage. The Internet will lose a wife."

You Yueqing said this very seriously, and in one divination, she directly said three things that would happen today, tomorrow and in the future, which made Lotus Sun gasp in amazement.

It was no wonder that when she and Wang Ling came here, they could see all the men and women who had gone to the Wind and Thunder Manor to worship the three pure ones.

Most people had heard that you Yueqing's divination had been accurate and had come to pay her a visit.

However, you Yueqing would usually perform a divination for herself before she performed a divination for others. She would only agree to the divination if there was an auspicious sign and according to the content of the inquiry, and not everyone would accept the request.

There were also a lot of old-looking gray-robed Daoists in the Wind and Thunder Manor. In fact, these gray-robed Daoists were all cultivators who had come from all over the country to cultivate in seclusion, the main reason was that they had made a divination for you Yueqing and then made a wish.

However, the Daoist temple was very small, and there were only six spots for cultivation.

Thus, people from all walks of life who came to make a wish had to make an appointment in advance.

Lotus Sun looked at the appointment form. The longest number of people who had come to make a wish had already been booked seven months later..

"It's indeed very popular."

Lotus Sun kept muttering in her heart.

The More You Yueqing spoke, the more she felt a sense of crisis, that was because she had never known that Wang Ling had taken the initiative to give other girls' things before giving them to her.

Furthermore, since a small turtle shell was able to predict such accurate divinations, Lotus Sun knew that it had been specially enlightened.

In other words, Wang Ling might, might, probably... have indeed had a good impression of You Yueqing in the past..

For a moment, her heart was in a mess.

She clearly knew that now wasn't the time to think about these things, but once she was conflicted, she couldn't care about anything else.

Lotus Sun had no choice but to admit that she had lost in the first round.

She couldn't see through You Yueqing.

This was really the first time she had felt this way..

On the other hand, you Yueqing was completely unperturbed and only joked about things that could easily be misunderstood.

Back to the main topic.

She pulled out the Daoist Temple's customer directory and presented Wang Ling and Lotus Sun with the records of the men and women who had come to visit, she directly flipped through the Directory to a record from more than half a month ago. "This is the female laywoman you're looking for. Her name is Li Xuan, and her address is on the back."

"Our Daoist Temple delivers small accessories to the visiting laymen every month. "Haha, actually, this is a way for the master to rope in the lay members. At the same time, the pendant delivered by express delivery also has the name of our Wind and Thunder Manor, which is also a disguised advertisement."

Lotus Sun tried hard to adjust her thoughts and asked, "Is his name Li Xuan? Could it be a fake name?"

“I don’t think so. Because every time before divination, I will explain that the divination must be done with the real name, otherwise the divination will not be accurate.”

“I see...”

“Alright, thank you, priest you.”

Lotus sun nodded and stood up.

But at that moment, you Yueqing grabbed Lotus Sun’s arm. “Eh? Wait, you’re leaving already?”

“Yes, we’ve seen the address. We’re going to look for it,” Lotus Sun said.

“Don’t worry, I’ll go with you.” You Yueqing smiled.

Lotus Sun was stunned. “But... is there no problem with Daoist priest you not being at the Taoist Temple?”

“What’s The Big Deal? If worst comes to worst, I won’t have to do divination while I’m away. Moreover, there’s manor head! If there’s anything, you can look for him!”

You Yueqing narrowed her eyes and smiled cutely. “Wang Ling... Oh No, it’s recluse Wang. It’s not easy for him to take the initiative to look for me, so I’ll definitely be of some help.”

To be honest, lotus sun actually didn’t really want to bring you Yueqing along.

But after all, you Yueqing was the one who had provided the information about that video blogger. If she rejected it too obviously, it would make her seem very ungenerous.

Helpless, Lotus Sun could only sigh silently in her heart and agree to You Yueqing’s team application.

Before leaving the Daoist Temple, a young Daoist priest from the Daoist Temple brought you Yueqing a brand-new pink dust. It was a dark pink dust. Apart from the difference in color, there didn't seem to be anything special about it.

Seeing You Yueqing replace the floating dust, Lotus Sun couldn't help asking curiously, "Is there anything special about this?"

"Nothing, it's just that I think there might be danger on this trip. It's not easy to get down the mountain, so of course we have to be fully prepared."

You Yueqing smiled. "There's a saying: the more pink the weapon, the more ruthless it is!"

Wang Ling and Lotus Sun:"..."

Although she wasn't old, she was already at the peak of the late foundation establishment stage, and was about to step into the golden core stage with half a foot in front of her.

Lotus Sun felt that you Yueqing was very similar to her in terms of talent in cultivation, and was even more talented than she was.

After confirming that you Yueqing had joined the team and moved together...

At the foot of the mountain, Lotus Sun directly used her phone to call a taxi.

Seeing this, you Yueqing was stunned. "Eh? You call a taxi here? Do you know how expensive it is to take a taxi there?"

Lotus Sun smiled awkwardly. "Then we... Ride the sword?"

"Riding the sword is too unchallenging. Since we have to focus on cultivation at the same time, of course the first choice is to ride a bicycle. Our Daoist Temple has a bicycle garage at the foot of the mountain. The three of us can ride a bicycle there." You Yueqing gave an amiable smile.

Lotus Sun had no choice but to agree.

As for Wang Ling...

He really didn't know what to do with the two girls in the middle.

But the moment the three of them saw the bicycle, Wang Ling and Lotus Sun regretted not rejecting you Yueqing's request earlier.

Because this was a three-person long bicycle!

Chapter 1845 1,841. It Was Always Right To Be A Little More Cautious (1/92)

Looking at this ivory-colored long bicycle for three people in front of them, Wang Ling and Lotus Sun fell into deep thought at the same time.

It was really hard for Wang Ling to imagine what it would be like to ride this bicycle on the street... would he really not be treated as a lunatic!

Moreover, if he was sandwiched between two girls, how would passersby look at him? He was clearly not the king of the sea; would he be treated as the king of the sea

What if some nosy person took a picture of him and posted it on the internet? Wouldn't he instantly die?

After all, some news media nowadays could directly post news about heavyweight academicians without verification; it was really a very low-class Act! It seriously reduced the credibility of the domestic media!

The most important thing was that after they had published it, if they found that the report had made a mistake, they would directly delete it as if nothing had happened and wouldn't apologize; it was simply shameless to the Max!

A great man had once said that the current news world still needed to learn more; after all, they were still too young, and they still needed to improve their level of knowledge. Otherwise, if there were any errors in future reports, they would be held responsible! Don't keep thinking about making big news all day long.

Wang Ling felt that this lecture was absolutely right.

So it was always good to be cautious.

“Don’t think that this bike is ordinary, it’s actually very flexible. I gave it a nickname, Little White Dragon.” You Yueqing smiled. “Of course, I know that you might be very uncomfortable with it, so I prepared helmets for you in advance.”

As she said this, she took out the motorcycle helmet in an unusually “Considerate” manner. You Yueqing was well aware of Wang Ling’s fear of society, and she was sure that she wouldn’t be used to letting him ride this bike around so openly.

As long as there was a suitable cover, the motorcycle helmet would be a good choice, and it would also ensure safety while riding.

After all, how fast a cultivator could ride a bicycle in real life depended on the level of the rider. You Yueqing estimated the strength of the three of them.

They were all at the peak of the late foundation establishment stage, and together, the three of them could make the little white dragon travel at more than 600 kilometers per hour.

Wang Ling and Lotus Sun both broke out in a sweat.

Of course, they also knew about the invisible rule of riding a bicycle based on one’s cultivation level... so if Wang Ling were to ride a bicycle, even Lotus Sun couldn’t imagine what kind of experience it would be; surpassing the speed of light was just a basic operation, how much faster than the speed of light was the problem.

Wang Ling took the motorcycle helmet and couldn’t help sighing in his heart.

It had been many years since he had last seen you Yueqing, but her brain was still as novel as ever. Fortunately, with the motorcycle helmet shielding her, Wang Ling felt that at least she wasn’t that ashamed.

Before getting on the bike, Wang Ling shook his finger and enchanted the little white dragon with the lowest-intensity enchantment spell to prevent it from directly disintegrating while it was moving at high speed.

Then, he put on the helmet and headed straight for the front of the bike. Just in case, Wang Ling planned to have the right to drive the bike in his hands.

But You Yueqing saw through him and immediately stopped him. “Wait, Wang Ling! Do you know the way? Why Don’t I Take It?”

Wang Ling:”...”

Of course he knew the way. If You Yueqing hadn’t insisted on following him, he might have found a remote corner and teleported there with Lotus Sun according to the coordinates.

Seeing that Wang Ling was in a dilemma because of you Yueqing’s question, Lotus Sun immediately stepped forward to smooth things over. “Why don’t I take it? I’ve been to that place before, so I know the way.”

“Are you sure?”You Yueqing confirmed it again and again.

“Mm. I’ll sit at the front of the car.”Lotus sun nodded.

“Then Wang Ling will sit in second place, and I’ll sit at the back.”

The discussion ended calmly.

Just as Lotus Sun was about to sit at the front of the car, she suddenly realized a very serious problem!

Lotus Sun suddenly realized that she seemed to have been set up by You Yueqing..

First of all, Wang Ling definitely wouldn’t be hugging her waist in the second seat... Then You Yueqing in the third seat! It was very likely that she would directly hug Wang Ling’s waist! Then she would call him “Giegie”intimately..

That thick image almost instantly occupied Lotus Sun’s entire mind..

Good heavens, so priest you was waiting for her here!

No Way!

She absolutely couldn't let you Yueqing get away with this.

So before she got into the car, Lotus Sun changed her mind again. "Priest you, I don't remember a very clear part of the road. Why Don't you sit in the second seat? It'll be convenient for you to show me the way..."

"Sure, no problem."

To Lotus Sun's surprise, you Yueqing actually agreed with a face full of joy, with no trace of regret on her face.

At that moment, Lotus Sun's heart was moved.

She felt that perhaps she had been thinking too much and shouldn't have been so petty..

But sometimes she still felt that it was always right to be a little more cautious.

Just like that, a Daoist priest and two "Foundation establishment" high school students officially rode Little White Dragon on the road in search of that video blogger named Li Xuan.

On the road, Wang Ling could feel a thick sense of shame even through the motorcycle helmet. The people around him looked at him as if they could see through the motorcycle helmet, and Wang Ling's forehead was covered in sweat.

He had no choice but to bury his head in the pedal and earnestly complete his mission. After many twists and turns, he finally arrived at the address registered in the Daoist Temple at about 7:30 p.m.

It was an apartment building. When the three of them reached the ground floor, the apartment manager immediately pushed open the door with a wary look in her eyes. "May I ask who you're looking for?"

“We’re looking for a resident named Li Xuan. Can you let us in?” Lotus Sun asked.

“You’re not from this apartment, are you? I’ve never seen you before. “Unless she comes down to pick you up, I can’t let you in,” the Uncle Apartment Manager said sternly. “And recently, there have been some criminals who like to disguise themselves as pitiful student groups and sneak into the apartment to steal things... Of course, I’m not doubting you, it’s just that people have been panicking recently, and that’s our duty.”

“Understood.”

Lotus sun nodded.

Just then..., the apartment manager added, “By the way, if you can find the landlord of this apartment, I can let you in if the landlord allows it. I’m just a part-time worker. If something happens, I really can’t bear the responsibility.”

“The landlord? are all the tenants in this apartment?” You Yueqing asked.

“Yes.” The apartment manager nodded. “This is a group of white-collar apartments specially rented to migrant workers. There’s only one landlord, and this building is all his.”

“That’s easy.” Lotus Sun instantly became happy when she heard this.

When she took out her phone, Wang Ling already knew what Lotus Sun wanted to do.

He heard Lotus Sun Dial Grandfather Sun, “Yes, grandfather! Have you heard of an apartment called conch apartment? It’s on Beihai Road. Yes, I have my eyes on this building. Can Grandfather buy it? It’ll be done in ten minutes, right? MM-HMM... Okay, I’ll wait for Grandfather’s News!”

Wang Ling, You Yueqing and the apartment manager were all dumbfounded at the same time.

From their perspective, it seemed that what Lotus Sun had just bought wasn’t an apartment, but a walnut..

Chapter 1846 1,842: How Many Birthday Gifts Did Wang Ling Give? (1/92)

Although the process of purchasing real estate wasn't as fast as he had imagined, Old Master Sun had given the landlord an irresistible price, and the landlord had quickly contacted the on-duty office to let the future owner pass.

The manager looked at Lotus Sun in astonishment.

This, this, this... this was the ability to stir up trouble!

It was almost eight o'clock at night, and Wang Ling was very calm in his heart because he had finished all his homework at school today, so he could conscientiously carry out his task without any worries.

Handing in his homework on time was also a sign of fulfilling his promise and responsibility. Father Wang was a very responsible person in this regard, just like many people who had already graduated to work, occasionally, he would have the kind of dream where he would be criticized by his teacher if he didn't finish his homework. In the end, when he woke up from the dream, he found that he had successfully graduated and worked for several years.

Holding the master key given to them by the duty room, the three of them took the elevator to the video blogger Li Xuan's apartment. When they reached the door, Lotus Sun politely knocked on it. "Excuse me, is anyone there?"

As she asked, she released her spiritual sense to sense. After confirming that there was no one in the room, she used the master key to open the door and enter.

In Wang Ling's eyes, this scene seemed a little familiar.

In his memory, for example, Xiang Yi, the new guest elder of the war sect, was an expert in this area... This guy had practiced his lock-picking skills in an uninhabited wasteland back then, and had pried out the wealth of an empire.

"Wait!"

Just as Lotus Sun was about to push open the door and enter, you Yueqing called out to Lotus Sun and Wang Ling. She took out a miniature camera from her storage bag and hung it on the lapel of her Daoist robe.

Wang Ling frowned; this miniature camera seemed a little familiar.

“What’s This?”

“A miniature camera. It’s the same as a law enforcement recorder. Although you’re the landlord now, if something happens in the house, it’s hard to explain, so it’s important to prepare in advance.”

At this point, she cupped her flushed face as if showing off, and said to Lotus Sun, “To tell you the truth, this is the second birthday present Wang Ling gave me!”

” ...”

At this point, Wang Ling instantly remembered the origins of this camera.

In theory, this wasn’t a gift from Wang Ling, but a gift from father and mother Wang. After all, father and mother Wang had arranged the best birthday presents for You Yueqing and the old Wang family each year.

Even if Wang Ling didn’t arrange it, father and mother Wang would help arrange it. Then, they would let Wang Ling enlighten them or give them a blessing buff before giving them away, and then the gifts would be given by Wang Ling himself.

So don’t look down on this tiny camera. After Wang Ling’s enlightening spell, this camera could actually shoot things that others couldn’t see.

Over the years, you Yueqing had maintained the camera very well, and it was still as good as new. She naturally sensed the magic of this tiny camera in her hand and sighed at the power of modern cultivation technology

After all, there weren’t many cameras on the market that could directly capture ghosts and send them through the lens... Thus, you Yueqing had always been very touched; she knew that this tiny camera must be very expensive, she hadn’t expected that Wang Ling would actually give her such an expensive birthday present back then.

Seeing You Yueqing flaunt it on the side, Lotus Sun also felt a little helpless.

It was unrealistic to say that it wasn't sour.

Her mouth was full of bitterness.

At the same time, she was a little envious of the childhood friendship between you Yueqing and Wang Ling.

These were things that she had never experienced before.

However, in front of You Yueqing and Wang Ling right now, she couldn't be too anxious or else she would definitely be treated as a joke.

But it was still so annoying..

She roared in her heart.

She was like a groundhog standing in the mountains.

"Come, let's go in." When everything was ready, you Yueqing smiled and waved her horsetail whisk, signaling Lotus Sun to push the door open and enter.

Lotus Sun took a deep breath and directly turned on the door handle. Then, she accurately found the room's switch and turned on the lights.

The apartment wasn't very big. It was about forty square meters in size, but the little sparrow had all the necessary organs, including the kitchen, bathroom, and balcony.

The conch apartment itself was an apartment for young people, and it was built in the Entrepreneurship Park. Every year, it received subsidies from the higher-ups, so the rent wasn't particularly high.

Li Xuan was only sixteen years old, a student's age, and she had only recently thought of going out to work, so where did she get the rent for living here?

It was definitely impossible to ask the previous landlord about this; there was simply too much information on the tenants. If he directly asked the landlord which one was Li Xuan, the former landlord would probably also be dumbfounded.

Wang Ling looked around the interior of the apartment.

It was clean, tidy, and even spotless... even if it was a place where girls lived, it was a little too quiet.

Lotus Sun and You Yueqing examined it, but didn't find any valuable clues.

However, it was precisely this incomparably clean room that made the two girls suspicious.

"I think it's strange," Lotus Sun said. "As a girl's room, apart from some girls' clothes, there doesn't seem to be anything special in the closet. "Everything is very clean, so clean that it looks like someone cleaned it."

"Mm."

You Yueqing agreed with Lotus Sun. "I agree with what Miss Sun said. There must be something wrong here!"

As she spoke, she began to undulate the images captured by the camera. From the moment they entered the room, the images inside the camera were all clean and nothing strange was captured.

You Yueqing frowned; her sixth sense told her that there was definitely something wrong with this room, and that it was very big!

"Wang Ling, what do you think?" She asked curiously.

She turned around and saw that Wang Ling was looking at a white wall.

She hurriedly used the camera to take a picture of this white wall, but still couldn't find anything.

"Is there something wrong with this wall?" You Yueqing asked.

Wang Ling didn't immediately reply.

He had indeed seen through something, and was hesitating whether or not to make a move on this problematic white wall. But at the same time, he felt that it was a little too early for him to make a move now, and it would easily alert the enemy and expose many problems.

Thus, after hesitating for a while, Wang Ling withdrew his hand again.

It seemed quite normal to Wang Ling that you Yueqing hadn't taken any unusual pictures. After all, this birthday gift was nearly ten years old, moreover, it was version 1.0 of the enlightening spell... and it had been given after he had been extremely perfunctory in the past.

Although it was more powerful than an ordinary camera, it wouldn't be able to solve a big problem if it really happened.

Just like in front of them.

The white wall they were facing.

Wang Ling was the only one who had seen the obscure runes on the wall.

He was sure.

These were the marks left behind by the ancients..

Chapter 1847 1,843: Retreating In Order To Advance You Yueqing (1/92)

It was already late at night. When Wang Ling faced this wall filled with obscure runes that ordinary people couldn't see, he immediately knew that Lotus Sun or you Yueqing couldn't get involved in this matter.

If he continued to lead them deeper, they would inevitably run into danger. Even if he had already strengthened Lotus Sun to this extent, these ancients hiding behind her were very crafty, and their lack of skill and experience might cause Lotus Sun to suffer a great loss, and experience was definitely not something that could be made up for in terms of combat strength.

As for You Yueqing, there was no need to say anything more. Although there were quite a number of enlightened birthday gifts that Wang Ling had given her as a child, even if they were brought out to face the eternal warriors, they wouldn't be enough.

Thus, after staring blankly at the wall for a moment, Wang Ling shook his head and pretended that nothing had happened as he put them in the pockets of his school uniform and started to walk out of the apartment.

He deliberately didn't tell the two of them what he had seen, and instead kept everything to himself without saying a word.

On Lotus Sun's and You Yueqing's side, the two women looked at each other before following Wang Ling out.

Because of their understanding of Wang Ling, they each had their own plans in mind.

It was already late, and the three of them planned to go home separately in front of the apartment. Before they left, You Yueqing added Wang Ling's WeChat and then called Lotus Sun.

Lotus Sun didn't decline; she actually wanted to know more about You Yueqing, so she generously took out her phone to scan the code.

After successfully obtaining their contact details, You Yueqing smiled brilliantly. "I feel that Lotus Sun and I are actually very compatible! I can read your fortune for free later, and you can ask me anything you want!"

Lotus Sun replied with a graceful smile. "Sure, then I won't stand on ceremony. Thank you, Daoist priest you."

"Just Call Me Little Qing. There's no need to be so formal. If there's anything else I can help you with later, just contact me on WeChat."

You Yueqing narrowed her eyes slightly, then flicked her horsetail whisk, mounted the little ivory white dragon, and rode off.

“Wang Ling, did you see something?”

After watching you Yueqing leave, Lotus Sun couldn't help asking Wang Ling whether she had seen anything in the room just now.

This was her question after understanding Wang Ling. Although Wang Ling had expressionlessly said that there was nothing unusual in the apartment earlier, Lotus Sun could more or less sense that something wasn't right.

And she believed that you Yueqing also had this feeling, but she had retreated in order to advance and left just like that.

Lotus Sun felt that she couldn't see through you Yueqing even more.

However, after this question, she saw Wang Ling stare at her for a while, and eventually shook his head.

He waved goodbye to Lotus Sun and motioned for her to go back earlier.

After waiting in the dark for a while and confirming that Lotus Sun had left the apartment, Wang Ling reappeared at a hidden corner on the street and returned to his room to face that strange white wall again.

He activated his king's eye to disperse the pure white mist on the white wall, exposing the mysterious runes hidden behind him.

After doing all this, he sat cross-legged on the ground and used his eye power to directly summon the three ancients with royal bloodlines who had been sealed in the “Pupil Universe” previously.

The Undead's skeleton prince, the immemorial lion man, and the Dream Clan's Princess, Meng Liuli.

Wang Ling had originally wanted to tell golden lamp monk, Li Xian, and Zhang Zicao to be present, but that would seem a little too early to alert the enemy. Now that the three of them were also important elders of the war sect, they had to go out and do some work, almost everyone in the war sect knew about this, and it wouldn't be good if word got out.

That was why Wang Ling had summoned the three imperial immemorial warriors that he had prepared in the king's eye earlier to hear their views.

Ever since they had been subdued by Wang Ling one by one in Greo City, the three Royal Ancients had completely lost their temper. Furthermore, they knew that the Saint Clan had successfully compromised with Wang Ling and transferred all their contracts to him.

What was even more unbelievable was that Wang Ling didn't care about the restrictions of these contracts at all. Once he got his hands on them, he burned them to ashes with the eternal fire of the King's eye.

This meant that he wasn't worried at all that they would run away... on the other hand, it was also a sign that he was fully confident in his own strength.

Now, the skeleton prince, the lion-headed man, and dream glaze were all looking forward to Wang Ling fulfilling his promise of "Eternal Utopia" for them.

Now that they weren't bound by any contract, they finally felt free and respected.

As for Wang Ling, he had already become their "New boss," and even if they didn't sign a labor contract, they were still willing to stay by his side.

Until Wang Ling summoned them, the slightly scholarly skeleton prince was still drafting an essay, "Wang Ling, my Superman!"

But now, when they saw the obscure runes on the white wall in front of them, the three of them looked at each other in dismay, and their expressions immediately became extremely solemn.

“This is... I remember seeing this kind of mysterious runes when a certain race was fighting.”The skeleton prince immediately frowned. He thought of a long time ago, but it was too long ago, it had to be traced back to when he was very young.

The lifespan of the immortal clan was infinite. To be able to trace it back to when he was young, the time span was even more terrifying.

Because when he was young, the old Dominators still existed, but it was already the end of the old era, far from being as glorious as the peak.

“OH ~ there are a few suspicious eternal level forces that use this kind of mysterious writing formula to create arrays and secret techniques.”The lion-headed man scratched his head and answered.

“It’s a long time ago, but given some time, we should be able to confirm it.”At this time., at that moment, Meng Liuli continued, “As long as I can search the dream world.”. This was a unique ability of the dream clan. The Dream Clan had recorded all the dreams they had invaded before, and they could gather them into a huge dream network and store them in the mental space. “As long as I can confirm the approximate time range and accurately search it, we’ll have a result soon.”

With that, she directly sat down cross-legged and started working without saying anything else. She was extremely efficient, and Wang Ling was very satisfied.

..

On the other side, after Lotus Sun reached home, the head maid surnamed Qiu immediately came over to welcome her. “Miss, you’re finally back. You have a friend who’s waiting for you in the living room.”

“Friend?”Lotus Sun’s heart froze, and she followed the head maid suspiciously.

When she arrived in the living room, she saw a familiar snow-white figure appear in front of her.

It was none other than You Yueqing.

It was you Yueqing.

“We meet again, Lotus Sun.” You Yueqing did not stand on ceremony. She immediately stood up from the sofa and looked at her with a smile, as if she had turned the tables on her.

Lotus Sun took a deep breath. She had never thought that you Yueqing would retreat to her home in order to advance at the entrance of the apartment.

What kind of show was this..

“It’s already very late. What’s the matter, Daoist priest you?” Lotus Sun tried her best to remain calm as she asked.

“I just have a few questions. I’m a little curious.”

You Yueqing rubbed her chin and studied Lotus Sun carefully. Then, she slowly walked over and got closer and closer. Looking at Lotus Sun, she couldn’t help laughing. “Actually, I really want to ask, do you like Wang Ling?”

Chapter 1848 1,844, Lotus Sun Vs You Yueqing (1/92)

This directness was completely out of Lotus Sun’s expectations. Her flushed face was clearly filled with astonishment. She had never thought that you Yueqing would come directly to her house at night, and she had even asked her a direct question.

So this was... a provocation?

Lotus Sun secretly shook her head, but she didn’t think so, because when you Yueqing said this, she didn’t feel any murderous intent at all. On the contrary, she felt a sense of déjà vu from being teased.

This feeling was all too familiar to Lotus Sun, just like how Odd Zhuo liked to make fun of her for no reason and called her “Master’s wife”.

Now that the question had been thrown at her, Lotus Sun felt that if she didn’t give any answer, she would be a little too petty, and it would also seem like she cared a lot.

It was just Wang Ling..

Just... a piece of wood..

What was there to care about... that much?

After trying hard to control her emotions, Lotus Sun took a deep breath and looked at you Yueqing, mustering up her courage to reply, “Daoist priest you was right, you’re absolutely right. I just like Wang Ling!”

“As expected, I was right again! In addition, let me tell you a little secret.”

You Yueqing narrowed her eyes and smiled, then grabbed Lotus Sun’s hand. “I like him too!”

Lotus sun: “Eh... Eh Eh?”

You Yueqing smiled. “What’s so strange about that? It’s not very normal for many people to like cute boys. In any case, you and I haven’t officially established a relationship, have we? So right now, it can only be considered a level playing field.”

” ... ”

Lotus Sun’s heart hurt a little when she heard this. She smacked her lips and felt a bitter taste in her mouth, and couldn’t find any reason to retort.

There was no first come, first served basis for liking someone, and no one said that Wang Ling had to be hers..

It could only be said that you Yueqing was a very difficult opponent, and this was the first time Lotus Sun had felt this way.

This Daoist priest was far from being as naive as Jiang Yingying, and would be easily dismissed.

Lotus Sun felt that she might have to go through a tough battle in the future.

“Daoist priest came to see me at night just to ask me about this? If there’s anything else, do you want to sit down and have a chat?”

To You Yueqing’s surprise, Lotus Sun was much calmer than she had expected. Not only did she not intend to drive her away after hearing what Lotus Sun had just said, she had even taken the initiative to ask her to stay.

Then, Lotus Sun clapped her hands and asked the head maid to serve tea. A sweet smell immediately wafted out, and the light purple tea was dotted with starlight, as if the Milky Way was reflecting on the surface of the lake at night.

You Yueqing took a sip and smacked her lips. Before Lotus Sun could introduce it, she asked in surprise, “It’s made from the top-grade moonlight grass, isn’t it?”

Lotus Sun was surprised. She hadn’t expected you Yueqing to be so knowledgeable about the way of tea, and to be able to distinguish the species with just one sip.

The spiritual tea made from the top-grade moonlight grass had the effect of calming the mind and nourishing the brain. It was very suitable for consumption at night, and had the ability to improve memory. As she drank the tea, she memorized it, ensuring that the knowledge points were constantly reinforced in her mind, one wouldn’t forget that the effect could last for several months.

The exam season was coming up, so Lotus Sun always prepared more at home.

However, the moonlight grass was expensive, and because of the harsh conditions for its growth, the number of cultivated herbs was very limited.

The top-grade moonlight grass grew in the natural environment. Every year, there was a strict standard for picking, so the quantity was even scarcer. A gram of tea grass could be sold as immortal gold.

As she leisurely sipped her tea, You Yueqing’s mood became extremely good. She looked at Lotus Sun’s seemingly calm but troubled face and found it a little funny.

After a few minutes, you Yueqing began to get into the main topic. “It seems that student Lotus Sun still doesn’t treat me as a friend. I clearly asked you to call me little Qing, but in the end, you still call me priest you.”

Lotus sun: "No, Little Qing, you're thinking too much..."

"Don't force yourself to call me that. I understand very well that we're competitors after all, and there's nothing wrong with maintaining respect for our competitors."

You Yueqing put down the Teacup in her hand and said elegantly and naturally, "Then now I'd like to hear what you think of Wang Ling? For example, what can you sense from him when he's in the apartment?"

Lotus Sun was a little wary of these words.

You Yueqing didn't know Wang Ling's true strength, but to ask this question... did she already sense something from Wang Ling?

She was very puzzled.

After a moment of silence, Lotus Sun said, "There's obviously something going on in that apartment, but Wang Ling says there's no problem."

"Yes."

You Yueqing nodded heavily, she said, "It's obvious that he doesn't want us to participate in the investigation together, and has already found some clues in the apartment. But Wang Ling's strength is the same as ours, so why is he so confident that he can participate in the investigation alone?"

Lotus Sun couldn't help rolling her throat at this question, and for the first time, she felt the sharpness radiating from You Yueqing's body from the inside out..

She even suspected that you Yueqing had most likely learned something.

She had been hesitating on how to say this to You Yueqing.

Unexpectedly, you Yueqing smiled faintly at this moment. "I know what you're trying to say, classmate Lotus Sun. Or perhaps you've also sensed something?"

“Sensed what?”

“That Wang Ling isn’t an ordinary person.”

Lotus Sun’s brows instantly furrowed slightly when you Yueqing finished speaking.

She immediately caught this subtle expression, and when she saw Lotus Sun’s changing expression.., she was even more certain of what she was thinking. “As expected, you’ve also noticed it. Although Wang Ling has always kept a low profile and concealed himself very well. In fact, if you get closer to him, sooner or later you’ll also discover something unusual about him.”

“I don’t know what Daoist priest you is talking about...”lotus sun was stupefied by you Yueqing’s words.

“Don’t worry, classmate Lotus Sun. I didn’t plan to tell anyone about Wang Ling, and now that I see you like this, I feel a lot more at ease. You’ve probably been helping him hide this whole time, haven’t you? Or even covering for him?”

You Yueqing smiled. “I’m not stupid. Those birthday gifts that Wang Ling gave me all have special abilities. Just from this alone, I can tell that he’s no ordinary person. You should be the same as me, right? Did you observe the situation from the details?”

“Mm... Yes.”

Lotus Sun said with an awkward expression.

Her emotions were intertwined and extremely complicated.

She had never thought that you Yueqing would actually sense Wang Ling’s hidden strength from the details..

And she was completely different from You Yueqing.

Thinking of this, Lotus Sun’s face couldn’t help turning slightly red.

Because Wang Ling's secret.

In a sense, it was Wang Ling himself who had told her..

Chapter 1849 1,845 -- Who In Their Right Mind Would Keep A Diary? (1/92)

This was the first time Lotus Sun had felt that she was about to be overwhelmed by the menacing you Yueqing. She had never thought that someone would actually be able to guess that Wang Ling was extraordinary based on her intuition alone.

This woman... was very dangerous. She was more dangerous than anyone she had dealt with before. She looked innocent, but she was far from being as innocent as Jiang Yingying. She was even more shrewd than nine palaces and good sons, and gave off a foggy feeling, no matter how hard one tried to observe her, they wouldn't be able to see through her.

While she was in a daze, you Yueqing once again put on that calm and composed look, she said, "Then this is now a secret that Lotus Sun and I have in common. I don't want to cause trouble for Wang Ling, so I've been keeping this secret very well."

She didn't ask Lotus Sun how she had detected Wang Ling's true strength, but chose to skip this segment.

It was mainly because you Yueqing felt that she and Lotus Sun had only known each other for a short time, and it was already a little rude to call on her tonight without any notice, so she didn't want to appear so nosy, she asked endlessly like a curious baby.

And even if she did, she didn't think Lotus Sun would honestly answer her; there was a high chance that she would find reasons that didn't match the facts.

After all, she and Lotus Sun weren't that close yet.

And it was obvious that Lotus Sun was wary of her.

So in the current situation, it wasn't the right time for her to be honest.

For You Yueqing, helping to investigate the video blogger Li Xuan wasn't the key; the key was to use this opportunity to get closer to Lotus Sun.

At that time, it would be time for her to speak.

"What does student Lotus Sun think about that video blogger?" At that moment, you Yueqing asked again.

"It's very clear that Wang Ling doesn't want us to get involved. This means that it might be very dangerous behind the scenes," Lotus Sun said. "If we forcefully get involved, I'm afraid we'll give Wang Ling Trouble. So... It's better not to move."

"That's indeed the case."

You Yueqing nodded, she said, "But I think it's still okay to do some logistical work, right? "For example, I recently discovered a mysterious organization that seems to be related to Wang Ling. I think it'll be very dangerous if this goes on... It Won't be good for Wang Ling to hide his strength."

"What organization?"

"I think it's called... Grey Cult?"

"..."

In the video blogger Li Xuan's apartment, the meeting between Wang Ling and the three Royal Ancients was still going on.

An Aurora appeared in Meng Liuli's eyes as she tried hard to look up the dream invasion records of the Dream Clan's shared spiritual space.

"Found it."

About ten minutes later, she took out a wordless jade cylinder from her sleeve and projected everything she saw in the spiritual space onto the jade cylinder.

“Which race’s script is it from?”The skeleton prince asked.

“I’m not sure which race it is yet, but I saw the mysterious script in the jade tube from the library in Emperor East’s Palace.”Meng Liuli.

Emperor East?

Wang Ling raised his eyebrows.

He had never heard of this name before, but he felt that this person wasn’t simple.

The lion-headed man immediately explained to Wang Ling, “In ancient times, when various races fought each other, some weak clans would form alliances in order to survive. In its heyday, it was divided into four camps, and Emperor East was one of them.”

“What About Dao ancestor Wang?”At that moment, Wang Ying’s voice came out of Wang Ling’s body.

“Dao ancestor Wang is elusive, and he has no interest in participating in the disputes of these ancient clans. He has no interest in commanding the ancients, and only has a very small chance of mediating when the clans have irreconcilable conflicts.”

The skeleton prince said, “This is Dao ancestor’s view of the big picture... Even those self-proclaimed emperors can’t compare. Of course, to be able to become an emperor at that time, there was no doubt about their strength. “The few of us once relied on these four emperors, and we also thought of running for the throne, but it was as difficult as ascending to the heavens.”

“So now it seems that these mysterious writings were most likely written by an Emperor?”Wang Ying asked in Wang Ling’s place.

“Not Necessarily.”

Mengliu Li shook her head. “Our clan members once invaded the dream world of the Master of Emperor East’s Scripture Pavilion, and they also found this mysterious word through his dream world. The information inside the pavilion is very complicated, so the mysterious word might not have been written by Emperor East. However, it’s very clear that he has already deciphered the mysterious word and used it to write a diary.”

“Keep a diary?” Wang Ling, Wang Ying, the skeleton prince, and the lion-headed man looked puzzled at the same time.

“The first half of the jade cylinder is a record of the various mysterious texts in the Scripture Depository, while the second half is written by the East Emperor. The timeline on the content is behind the first half, so I suspect that the East Emperor wrote it after he deciphered the mysterious text,” said Meng Liuli.

An emperor writing a diary using the mysterious text that he had just learned? What kind of operation was that?

“So the emperor can write a diary?”

The lion-headed man could not help but laugh at the thought.

“Yes, who would write a diary if they were a serious person?” The skeleton prince nodded and said.

At this point, the skeleton prince paused and asked, “Lion, do you write a diary?”

The lion-headed man: “No. What About You, skeleton?”

The skeleton prince: “Who would write the truth in a diary? How can it be called the truth if it’s written in a diary?”

At this point, the two of them burst into laughter and cried out in unison, “Lowly!”.

But Wang Ling had a completely different view of the East Emperor’s behavior of writing a diary in a mysterious language.

This clever eastern Emperor had deciphered the mysterious text and was writing a diary in a mysterious text, which meant that he was very confident in the confidentiality of the mysterious text and didn't believe that anyone could decode it at all.

So, using reverse logic, it was possible that what the Eastern Emperor had written in the diary really was true... It might involve a series of eternal secrets.

Wang Ling had thought that after searching, he would be able to quickly find out who was actually using this mysterious text in the eternal race.

Unexpectedly, Meng Liuli had directly found this great Emperor's diary.

There seemed to be only one way for Wang Ling to crack it now..

That was to use his eye power to forcibly decode the mysterious text, thus translating it into the language closest to modern writing.

However, these mysterious texts were extremely obscure, and Wang Ling was worried that his eyes might be subjected to an unprecedented amount of pressure while deciphering them. It wouldn't be good if his king's pupil was damaged.

So to be on the safe side, Wang Ling had already thought of a way to prevent this from happening..

At this thought, he pressed his palm against the ground and immediately summoned a glass display cabinet.

Inside it were actually all kinds of pupils..

At this point, the skeleton prince, Liu Li, the lion-headed man, and Wang Ying were all dumbfounded.

Wang Ling took off his king's pupil with ease and stored it in the glass display cabinet like he was changing contact lenses. Then, he took out a new pair of pupils and put them back into his eye sockets.

Chapter 1850 1,846, Wang Ling's Divine Eye Display Cabinet (1/92)

There were a total of 49 pairs of pupils in the display cabinet, which was a variation of the Dao. Each pupil was born from the Dao and possessed completely different abilities, which could be perfectly used in different situations.

In the end, Wang Ling was still cautious. He didn't want Wang Tong to be damaged because he was deciphering the mysterious text, so he decided to change his pupils before deciphering it.

All the eyes in the divine eye display cabinet had their own serial numbers, and Wang Tong was ranked 49th.

And now, he directly chose Eye No. 01.

“Eye No. 01: A Crafty Peeping Devil Eye. It has an orange + green auroral color, and its pupils are in the shape of stars. It has the ability to distinguish between crafty people and crafty things, and can use its crafty power to deceive an object with an illusion.”

Wang Ling knew all about the divine eye.

The reason why he had chosen Dao 01 eye was because it was a very powerful pair of illusion eyes, and was very deceptive. Perhaps he could take advantage of the fact that these mysterious characters weren't paying attention and directly decipher the contents of the characters.

After Wang Ling installed it, he didn't think too much about it. He directly stared at the mysterious characters on the jade cylinder and stared at them for five or six minutes. Then, he abruptly closed the jade cylinder, and with a bang, the orange-green eye pulp flew out, dao 01's eye exploded on the spot like an exploding bull's eye at a barbecue stall.

“This...”

The skeleton prince, the lion-headed man, and Meng Liuli all had horrified expressions on their faces at the same time. They had never expected to see such a terrifying scene.

But Wang Ling seemed to have already anticipated this situation, and was exceptionally calm.

He used a priming spell to retract the exploding eyedrops, then took off Dao 01's eye and put it back into the display cabinet.

The divine eye display cabinet had the effect of repairing the pupil, but the damage to the No. 01 eye was too severe; it would probably take several years for it to recover to its peak.

Wang Ling sighed in his heart. As expected, he was right to be cautious. If he used the king's eye directly, if it was damaged... it would mean that his combat strength would be damaged in some sense, instead, it would give some villains an opportunity to deal with him.

The King's eye was Dao 49, and although it could be put in the divine eye display cabinet to be repaired after it was damaged, who knew how long it would take to repair the king's eye..

The later the eye serial number, the longer it would take to repair.

In fact, Wang Ling had chosen the eye to decipher the "East Emperor's diary" to test the emperor's own strength.

He could tell that there was something strange about this "East Emperor's diary". Since this was an emperor-level figure who had once led an eternal army, his strength was definitely extraordinary, moreover, he was a few levels higher than these imperial family eternal soldiers.

The other party was familiar with the mysterious text, and using it to write the diary was also a sign of extreme confidence in his own strength. This meant that the other party wasn't afraid that others would see this diary, and even if they did, they wouldn't be able to decipher it.

Even if they were able to decipher it, it was very normal for the emperor to set up some magic traps with his ability.

For example, Wang Ling had just used the No. 01 Dao Eye to test it out when he was hit by the backlash from the magic traps.

This generally only meant that the eye Wang Ling used didn't have the ability to directly decipher the diary or fight against the magic traps hidden in the diary.

Thus, in the second round, Wang Ling directly chose Eye No. 016, directly raising the level of his eye to a whole new level.

“Eye No. 016: Resplendent Holy Eye of the Dark Forest, black and white in appearance, pure white in the center, with the ability to probe and attack unknown civilizations. When an unknown civilization tries to destroy the Holy Eye, the Holy Eye will unleash its full power and bite back.”

After silently reciting the detailed information about eye no. 16, Wang Ling thought that it was the most suitable eye for deciphering the mysterious text under the eye of the king. After all, in the minds of most cultivators, the mysterious text belonged to an unknown civilization.

Now that the East Emperor had written the mysterious text and set up a trap inside it, as long as the Holy Eye was hurt, the defense mechanism would be directly activated, and the mysterious text would instantly be swallowed up, and the hidden meaning would be deciphered.

Following the previous steps, Wang Ling continued to stare at the jade cylinder. This time, the mysterious text recorded in the jade cylinder, “East Emperor’s diary,” didn’t cause any harm to No. 16 Dao’s eye.

Furthermore, Wang Ling could clearly feel the mysterious text floating out of the jade cylinder like a feather.

Then, it floated all over the sky.

“It looks like it’s a success.” Meng Liuli looked pleasantly surprised and curious. She was also very interested in the contents of this “East Emperor’s diary,” and didn’t know what exactly was written in it.

But at that moment, Wang Ling seemed to be completely immersed in the world of “East Emperor’s diary,” and didn’t respond to the call from the outside world at all.

The crimson crescent moon hung high in the sky, illuminating the city that was silent on the alien land in front of him. Iron fortresses made of black iron rose up from the ground one after another like small mountains.

Wang Ling had never expected that after analyzing the mysterious text in “The diary of the Eastern Emperor” with his No. 16 eye, it would actually bring about such an immersive experience.

That’s right.

At that moment, Wang Ling had transformed into the Eastern Emperor from the ancient times, and was beginning to play the role of the Eastern Emperor in this diary.

At the same time, this was the first time Wang Ling had seen the ancient cultivation world. He had thought that the ancient cultivation world should be the most primitive civilization, filled with all kinds of prehistoric beasts, undeveloped areas, and terrifying secret realms, there were also primitive tribes with a hundred schools of thought..

It wasn't until this moment that Wang Ling realized that the cultivators of ancient times had long since built buildings similar to modern civilizations on other planets. This was a world where ancient and modern intersected, with traces of modern architecture, at the same time, it also retained the grandeur of ancient buildings.

So from ancient times until now, it wasn't evolution, but a sign of continuity?

Or perhaps it was reincarnation?

Wang Ling was deep in thought.

Emperor East's palace still retained the majestic appearance of Emperor City. Wang Ling stood at the top of the city, and the beacons behind him made half of his face glow red in the night.

A vermilion bird pattern was embroidered on his dark golden robe, and his wide and long sleeves fluttered in the strong wind. His sword-like eyebrows fluttered in the wind, and Emperor East stood on the Great Wall with his hands behind his back, exuding a king-like aura that could intimidate the world.

His pupils were deep, but they were different from the black jade-like pupils of the past. At this moment, the East Emperor's pupils had already transformed into the pupils of Dao No. 16, which indicated that Wang Ling was using the eye technique, he was temporarily experiencing the life recorded in this diary by the East Emperor.

“Emperor.”

At this moment, a young man with jade-white skin and long hair flew over on a flying sword from afar and landed directly next to Wang Ling.

All the characters' information, including the following script, instantly appeared in Wang Ling's mind.

This young man was the white-robed chief steward of Emperor East's Palace, the military commander, Ye Ren.

Wang Ling didn't need to speak at all, and his body automatically responded to ye Ren according to the script in the diary. "What's the matter?"

"Emperor West's emissary is here. Does the emperor want to meet him? He said that if we want a truce, we must agree to all the emissaries' requests..." at that moment, ye Ren said with a bow.
