

Dark Ages 27

Chapter 27 - Fire burning

“Boss, what do you want these gas tanks for? Do you want to blow up the zombies?”

In the teacher’s dormitory building, a large group of boys resisted all the gas tanks in the three-story dormitory building and placed it on the corridor.

Everyone looked at Qin Tiange. He came back as soon as he left, and the first sentence to return was to ask them to collect all the gas tanks.

In the entire teacher’s dormitory building, there are more than fifty gas tanks, placed there. It looks extremely scary. I’m really scared to explode.

The girls looked scared, and some of them were afraid to approach, one by one, staring at Qin Tiange, prying a knife on one gas tank after another, and prying open an unsearchable mouth.

The radon gas will not be leaked for the time being, but it will be leaked soon. Seeing him doing so, the girls, including Liu Yan, have a look of fear on their faces.

“Everyone, please take it easy and take out all the quilts and other clothes that can be burned upstairs in the dormitory and prepare for a barbecue feast.”

After completing these, Qin Tiange gave another order. The boys searched the dormitory one by one without saying a word, and moved out everything that could be burned.

“Wait, that’s my clothes. I can’t burn them.”

Suyanagi’s face suddenly changed, and she pushed forward and pushed away the two boys. She blushed quickly and grabbed a pile of clothes, including all kinds of * underwear, and ran into the dormitory, where she lived.

“Well, let’s go somewhere else ...”

The two boys looked embarrassed, scratched their heads, dropped a leg and ran to another dormitory to find something that could be burned. As for Liu Yan, he was hiding in the dormitory with shame.

“Hurry up!” Qin Tiange was expressionless, but in fact he vomited.

Yan Liuxian, a teacher who looks gentle and elegant, never thought she was so * inside, so many * underwears, Qin Tiange’s mouth was slightly drawn twice.

I had to sigh, woman, it’s all the same.

I soon collected everything. One hundred people, some boys carried gas cans, and the rest were holding big bags and quilts.

Even some high spirits have been searched out, and some gasoline, such as fuel tanks in cars and motorcycles, have been cleaned by some boys.

A group of people came to the football field, but Qin Tiange's face changed slightly. Looking at the messy grass in front of him, flesh and blood flew, and apparently someone died here.

When he came just now, he didn't see anyone coming, so to speak, someone came here after he left.

Thinking of this, Qin Tiange glanced around secretly, and soon saw something strange on a three-story teaching building not far away.

On the third floor, a group of students hid by the window and watched carefully. Huang Mao and others were stunned by the appearance of Qin Tiange. More than one hundred people were densely packed.

"There are still survivors. It seems that I accidentally saw what I did, and then I want to imitate to look at the heritage stone?" Qin Tiange sneered secretly, guessing the result.

He just glanced twice and stopped paying attention. Then he instructed a group of boys to throw all the quilts into the grass of the football field. Then he asked people to put all the gas tanks on the edge of the football field and opened the airlock to point to the flourishing of the football field Grass.

"Pour gasoline, ignite immediately, everyone evacuates!"

In the end, Qin Tiange ordered the ignition. Soon, a few specially-ignited boys immediately stepped forward and held up a torch to ignite. Although he was afraid, he still gritted his teeth and threw the torch into the grass.

Bear!

A blaze of flames ignited, and gasoline was immediately ignited on Mars, turning into a raging flame, and the brakes spread.

The entire football stadium was immediately caught in a sea of fire, and a one-man weed was directly engulfed in the fire, and the fire spread and became more and more fierce.

"Oh my god, they are going to set fire to the grass, why didn't we think of it?"

On the third floor of the teaching building, the Huang Mao boss was annoyed for a while, and saw Qin Tiange and others set fire to a large one-piece weed that suddenly grew up on the football field. They didn't expect it, and they finally got it back.

Now, seeing the football field wrapped in fire, the flames spread quickly, and the lush weeds across the football field were immediately lit, forming a sea of fire.

As the flames spread, the placed gas tanks suddenly emitted a long flame. That was the early-open gas valve, the liquid natural gas was ignited, and the gas tanks spit fire, blasting to the football field. Spit flame.

The scene was extremely shocking, especially when the gas tank was placed too close, which led to being surrounded by a fire. The originally intact gas tank generally did not pose a risk of explosion for a short time, but Qin Tiange pried open a small opening.

The next day the gas leaked, and the gas tank was quickly heated under the fire. Then, the cracks widened, and small leaks immediately burst into flames. Eventually the entire gas tank caught fire.

Hiss ...

At the moment when the fire was burning, Qin Tiange and others saw in the distance that there was a sizzling hissing sound on the football field, as if there were countless insects screaming and roaring.

Many insects such as ants, mantises, grasshoppers and so on became extremely huge. Now weeds are burned by the fire and rushed out madly.

It's a pity that these mutant insects couldn't get out of the fire field at all, because the edge of the grass field was blocked by countless cotton and clothes, and the fire was blocking the way.

变异 One mutant ant was killed by grilling, and another mutant insect, mosquito, etc. were quickly extinguished under the fire.

Boom!

At first glance, an explosion came, shocking the entire campus, and the powerful explosion shock wave even shattered the glass windows of nearby teaching buildings.

Soon after, the gas tanks that burst into flames burst open, and one after another huge explosions came, shocking the survivors who were hiding in the dance classroom on the third floor.

When all the gas tanks exploded, Qin Tiange waved his hand gently and led people over.

“Prepare, chop all immortal mutants and dig out useful things.”

His calm words made a group of students feel awe in their hearts. This man is not only powerful, but also more mysterious. Looking at the mutant bug that has been burned to coke they have to admire his ideas And wisdom.

The average person certainly wouldn't think of so many, but he can think of these methods for a while. Although it is not a good method, many people can think of it, but at least it is not something that ordinary people can do.

Hiss ...

Stepping on the burnt ashes, Qin Tiange was expressionless, stabbed into the top of a mutant ant's brain with a knife, and instantly killed the immortal mutant ant. A girl immediately came up to dig out the basic meat.

The football field was killed. A group of Bailai students were cleaning the entire football field. As the flames burned the weeds, the fire weakened and gradually extinguished. They began to hunt for undead mutant bugs to hunt for meat or to dig out mutant nuclei.

Qin Tiange came to the heritage stele to quickly check and exchange some useful things, such as white phosphorus incendiary bombs, powerful insect repellent and other good things.

These powerful insect repellents can't actually kill those mutant insects, but they can definitely kill those mutant insects and prevent them from being attacked as prey.

With these, Qin Tiange and others can easily begin to clear the zombies on campus, without even being surrounded by a large number of terrorist blood-sucking mutant mosquitoes and mutant flies.

After doing this, and having everyone sprayed with insect repellent, Qin Tiange led the crowd away from the football stadium and started a  cleanup on campus.

“Boss, are we going down?”

I saw Qin Tiange and others leaving the football stadium, clearing the zombies and mutants on the campus, and in the dance classroom, the Huang Mao boss and others looked excited, staring at the heritage stone one by one.

“Let’s go and see!”

Huang Mao gritted his teeth and immediately decided to go and see. This is an opportunity to become as powerful as Qin Tiange and they cannot be missed.
