

Dark Ages 51

Chapter 51 - 1 eyeball

A box appeared in the box, carved from white jade, exquisite, simple, exuding a strong historical vicissitudes, making people feel that it is not extraordinary at first glance.

“What?” Qin Tiange froze, took the jade box curiously, and looked carefully.

Above the jade box, there is a mysterious pattern on the carved pattern, and there is a flow of strange light, like a living thing, it is incredible.

I held it in my hand, feeling a bit cold, and the slightest coldness invaded my body, causing a sudden big shock. Qin Tiange smiled slightly on his face, secretly thinking of being a baby, with strong curiosity, he slowly opened the jade box.

With a click, the jade box was easily opened. When the box was opened, a hint of silver awn came out, as if the strange light from the endless distance, which made people feel an extremely slow feeling.

“This is ...” Qin Tiange opened the box, and the silver glittering inside, and then saw a strange bead floating in the jade box, silvery white, and the whole body was shining brightly.

If you look closely, this bead is very similar to an eyeball. No, it is not very similar, but it is originally an eyeball.

Qin Tiange’s complexion changed slightly, his heart couldn’t help but stop beating, his blood stopped for a moment, as if affected, the whole person’s thinking became slow and dull.

“Not good!” He flashed a thought in his heart, his eyes widened, and he wanted to step back, because the silver eyeballs floating in the box drifted out slowly.

Taking a step or two steps back, Qin Tiange seemed to slow down countless times, and his body slowly turned to escape, but it seemed to be slowed down.

His face was frightened, his eyes widened, he suddenly saw the floating eyes suddenly silvery, and then he rushed towards his left eye.

“Ah ...” Yin Mang struck, his left eyeball smashed, blood and water gushing, and the severe pain was that Qin Tiange couldn’t help making a scream, his body suddenly fell to the ground and rolled back and forth.

The pain and endless pain caused him to roll back and forth on the ground, covering his left eye with his left hand, and the blood spewed out in a terrifying and terrifying scene.

His left eyeballs burst, inexplicably, and the sudden change was unprepared. Qin Tiange had strengthened his physical fitness by 60 times and could not escape.

Quickly, a silvery arc appeared on his left eye, where the flesh was drained away, the silver liquid began to occupy the blood vessels of the left eyeball, quickly peristally repaired the blood vessels, and connected the silver mysterious silver bead.

The mutation was so fast that Qin Tiange didn’t understand what was going on. The pain in his left eyeball weakened and disappeared quickly, as if it never happened.

Alas, he knew for sure that it was not an illusion, but everything that happened. Because, Qin Tiange felt that his left eyeball seemed to be restored, to be correct, it was replaced by that silver eyeball.

“What ghost thing did I get?” Qin Tiange climbed up in horror, touching his left eye, and found that his eyesight seemed to be dozens of times stronger than before.

He can see things clearly beyond ten thousand meters, which is incredible. Moreover, he also felt a trace of unusualness. His left eye was replaced by a mysterious silver eye, occupying his left eye with arrogance.

This discovery made him want to cry without tears, and there was a kind of anger that would smash the heritage stele, so that he could get such strange and hairy things.

Smashing an eyeball replaced his left eye in this way. I have to say that at this time Qin Tiange had the heart to die. This is the overlord clause.

“Go back first ...” Qin Tiange calmed down, looked at the sky, night fell, and countless mutant insects have begun to appear.

He immediately put away the jade box with eyeballs, then left the football field, ran directly to the dormitory building, and found a mirror on a bed.

“This ...” Looking at himself in the mirror, Qin Tiange froze.

His appearance hasn’t changed, but his left eye has changed. The original eyeball was blown out, replaced by a silver eyeball, cold and ruthless, showing a cold bone.

Hiss!

Seeing his own eyes, Qin Tiange couldn’t help but take a breath of air, which was too scary. This eyeball, when I saw it, felt a kind of full-fried hair, and the breath of death was extremely strong and scary.

Silver-white eyes, the white part of the eyes have become silver, and the pupils have a horrible silver arc constantly intertwined and coiled, emitting an extremely terrifying atmosphere.

Murmur!

Swallowing, Qin Tiange scolded his mother: “Your girl, what are these eyes, why do you occupy my left eye?”

The origin of this eyeball is unknown. It was obtained from the mysterious lottery. As soon as it was opened, the jade box rushed into the left eye by itself, bursting the original eyeball and replacing it by itself.

What does it mean to cry without tears? Qin Tiange at this moment is that he secretly regrets that he should not draw the last time, otherwise no such thing will happen.

But the only comfort is that at present the eyeball is not dangerous to him, and his vision is ten times stronger than before, which is good news.

The only worrying thing is, will this eyeball of unknown origin suddenly explode him one day?

This is not impossible. The mysterious and mysterious things of God cannot always be reassured. Qin Tiange has never heard of anyone who has gotten his eyes down?

“Forget it, study it later, now you should think about how to cover this weird eye?” Qin Tiange fell into a tangle again This eye is too scary and scary, Thinking about how to cover it up. Is it blindfolded? Just kidding, didn’t he become a one-eyed dragon?

Huh?

When he was worried, he suddenly found that the silver eyes began to change, the silver gradually faded, and the pupils returned to black.

I was back to normal, Qin Tiange was stunned, what happened, how did his eyes return to normal, can one eyeball understand him?

Are you kidding me? He had a chill in his heart, looking at the eyes that were back to normal, secretly wondering if he had this effect just because he had just thought?

He immediately tried it, thinking of returning to the original state, and immediately, the ordinary left eye immediately gave off a strong silver light, and then his eyes returned to the original cold and horrible appearance.

Seeing this, he understood, and felt relieved in his heart, as long as he could hide it. The abnormality of the left eye was completely covered, and the original appearance was restored. If you look closely, you can still see the silver arcs and flashes in the left eye.

“Ok?”

Qin Tiange, who was planning to take out the jade box for a detailed look, suddenly turned around, frowned slightly, his eyes flickered with a hint of coldness, and the next moment, he saw a large crowd coming to the door of the dormitory.

“Brother Qin!”

“Brother Qin!”

When a group of people arrived, they shouted carefully after seeing Qin Tiange Han's face, headed by Moda and others, all covered with blood and looking pale, apparently encountering something unhappy.

Yuliu Yan and Long Xiaoya also came with a bunch of girls, one by one looking at him with a little fear, looking forward with kindness in their eyes.

"Why are they here?" Qin Tiange whispered in his heart, didn't he tell them to leave?
