

Dark Ages 73

Chapter 73 - 7 color magic butterfly

Qihua is hovering above the sea, hovering with colorful clouds, which are not clouds, but colorful butterflies.

This butterfly is very large. The small one can have the size of a washbasin. The large wings spread to a full one meter and close to two meters. Each colorful butterfly dances and intertwines into a large colorful cloud.

“That’s a colorful fantasy butterfly ...” Qin Tiange looked dignified.

He looked at the colorful light circles that were constantly flying and circling, and knew in his heart that it was a kind of mutated one-star colorful butterfly, called colorful magic butterfly.

The so-called colorful, is that these butterflies have colorful colors, gorgeous, covered with a layer of hazy colorful halo, like clouds and mist, looking from a distance like colorful rainbow light.

People who do n’t know think it ’s a rainbow or colorful clouds, but those who know it are very clear that these things are very dangerous.

For example, the hazy clouds surrounded by the bodies of these colorful magic butterflies are a kind of colored powder mist automatically generated in their bodies, which are beautiful but dangerous.

Wu Xinlan has been watching for a long time, muttering to himself: “This is really a butterfly, so beautiful ...”

Not only her, but as the train drove into the sea of flowers, everyone on the train saw these colorful dancing butterflies, and they were all shocked and dull.

She walked by the window, Yin Yin making a crisp laugh, looking at a huge butterfly outside the window, not afraid at all, but her small face showed a happy look.

Like her mother, she looked at the fantastic scenery outside the car window, the colorful rays of the sun, and the colorful butterflies hovering together like clouds and mists, forming a large colorful cloud.

A lot of people were stunned. They were all attracted by such fantastic scenery. They lay on the side of the car window one by one quickly, and looked at the flying butterflies and made a sound of astonishment.

“What a nice view!”

“So beautiful.”

I murmured unconsciously. These people were conquered by the beautiful colorful butterflies. They felt too beautiful. They were so beautiful that people forgot time, environment, and even danger.

They seem to have forgotten the scenes of being attacked by mutant spiders and mutant bats. Now when they see such beautiful and dreamy mutant butterflies, they never realized that they are mutant butterflies?

Grunt ...

The train broke into the sea of flowers, and it instantly alarmed the thousands of colorful fantasy butterflies. They fluttered in circles and flew along the window, pulling out a long colorful rainbow light, colorful. The powder spattered down, and some flew into the window.

Jain is a layer of colorful halo surrounding the body of the colorful fantasy butterfly, which is interwoven with countless small colored particles. It is extremely gorgeous as the colorful fantasy butterfly falls down and dances.

“Be careful, Brother Qin said these things are poisonous ...” Suddenly a person rushed in the carriage.

Moda was anxious, and originally went to report something to Qin Tiange, but never wanted to be told about the horror of these colorful fantasy butterflies, and immediately ran back to tell everyone about this problem.

But he was late, and there were a few colored spots in the compartment. These were the spots of light falling from the colorful magic butterflies, like powder, flying into the window. Many people inhaled this colored powder.

“Xiaoyu, don’t!” Moda’s face turned wild. Watching Wu Xiaoyu holding the colored powder in his hand, he inhaled a lot and immediately rushed up.

In the carriages, the survivors’ eyes were blurred, and they were looking at the colorful butterflies outside, but all of a sudden they seemed to change their environment and fell into their own illusions.

These colored powders have the effect of giving people a strong hallucination, which makes people indefensible. Taking a sip will inevitably make people’s head drowsy, which produces a strong and real hallucination and cannot be sober.

Uh ...

On the train cockpit, Qin Tiange had already reminded the train captain and the beautiful flight attendant Wu Xinlan, but it was too late.

The captain sat there in a daze, smirking for a while, and crying, as if the brain had a strong hallucination and entered a fantasy.

He originally wanted to wake up the train captain, but at this moment, a pair of slender arms wrapped around his neck from behind, fragrant.

Wu Qin Tiange doesn’t need to know that this is Wu Xinlan, a beautiful flight attendant. At this moment, she has inhaled a lot of colored powder, causing the brain to have hallucinations.

He knows very well that the colorful fantasy butterfly is famous in previous lives, and it will not actively attack humans. However, the colored halo on this mutant butterfly has a powerful magical effect. Once someone inhales this colored powder, they will fall into their own fantasy, one by one, their desires, emotions, etc. Left and right, unable to wake up.

Even if it is too deep, then it is impossible to wake up, the brain pauses, the consciousness is blurred, and eventually it becomes brain death, which is equivalent to euthanasia.

Inhaled this colored powder, some people's inner desires were magnified infinitely, and a good person suddenly went crazy and attacked the people around him.

Alas, some people's emotions suddenly amplify and then erupt, and then they will do all kinds of strange things.

For example, Wu Xinlan in front of her face, her cheeks are flushed, her eyes are silky, her brain has hallucinations, and her inner emotions are magnified.

"Love me ... love me ..." Wu Xinlan's weak and boneless hands wrapped around Qin Tiange, exhaling like blue orchids, and muttering to himself while tearing his clothes.

Seeing this, Qin Tiange's mouth twitched, his eyelids fluttered, and his heart was speechless. He did not expect that this beautiful flight attendant had hallucinations, which turned out to be this, and could not laugh or cry in his heart.

However, being held by this beautiful flight attendant, like a soft python constantly entwined, the proud twin peaks, hot body, feeling a stimulus in her arms.

"Well, the figure is very good." Qin Tiange held her hind hip in one hand and squeezed, secretly saying that the beautiful flight attendant was very sexy.

Wu Xinlan's brain was illusioned by colored powder, creating hallucinations. At this moment, she was tearing her clothes a little, and she had exposed her * underwear and a touch of black buds.

She held Qin Tiange in her arms, whispered in her mouth, and kissed hard, and did not know that they were men and women in love.

"Wake up, beauties, wake up soon!"

Qin Tiange smiled and did not continue to let her go to the hallucination, although at this time you can take the opportunity to ask the beautiful flight attendant, and even after that, the other party will be killed by the terrible hallucinogenic factor of colored powder. Idea.

But this is not what he wanted, so he directly held the middle point of Wu Xinlan's person. A sting awakened him and fell into the hallucinations of the hallucinations. instantly woke up.

"Ah ... I ... I, I, you, you ..." Wu Xinlan woke up with a scream at first glance, a handsome face close at hand, and the next moment her face turned red.

She was indignant in heart. When she woke up, everything in that illusion was clearly remembered, and she seemed to be doing something pleasant and ashamed with the mysterious and handsome young man in front of her.

Well, it turned out to be all hallucinations, but the scene in front of her made her unacceptable. She even hugged each other, and her clothes had been taken off half.

“You have hallucinations!” Qin Tiange said softly, then turned and patted the train conductor who had fallen into hallucinations.

At this moment, the train captain woke up blankly, still unclear of reality and hallucinations. Wu Xinlan blushed, shyly arranged her messy clothes, lowered her head and did not dare to look at Qin Tiange, because the scene was too fragrant and shameful.

“I’m going to see the situation of other people, you should be careful yourself.” Qin Tiange did not care, as if it had not happened, smiled, left a sentence and turned away to see the situation of other people in the car.

She stunned the cockpit, leaving a train captain with a gloomy face, and Wu Xinlan, a beautiful stewardess with a blushing face, at the moment she was very confused.

In the train compartment, a large group of people fell into a mirage, and almost all ordinary people had different changes. The inner desires were magnified infinitely, or the emotions broke out, such as the young man in front.

“You are the emperor, you all have to listen to 朕, there are always people who want to harm is the supreme emperor, and your million army? Where is your 3,000 harem?”

A young man yelled there, his expression was extremely rich, and an illusion had been generated in his brain, causing him to fall into his own spiritual world and unable to extricate himself.
