Dauntless God Of War

Chapter 118

When Patrick's friend noticed his actions, his expression instantly changed, and he quickly dragged Patrick away.

Before long, the lively crowd had all disappeared.

"Mr. Xanthos, acquire Neptune Chamber of Commerce and reorganize it. Let's call it Paramount Corporation. I'll send someone to take over soon." Upon giving Levi instructions on buying over the Neptune Chamber of Commerce, Harold left Paradise Hotel and headed for home.

Regarding the thug, Thiago, Harold planned to get his revenge after Louis woke up.

"Why did you come back?" Yvonne asked, looking unfriendly. She was currently attaching the IV drip onto Louis' arm.

She thought that Harold had used the excuse of the family being in a pitiful state and left once again.

Yvonne did not even believe his words when he said that he was going to look for the people from the Neptune Chamber of Commerce and seek revenge.

"I came back to visit Dad. How is he?" Harold asked Yvonne and Felicia as he looked at Louis, who was still sleeping on the bed. There was no sign of him waking up at all.

"The Yarrow family has already invited Dr. Thompson over to take a look at your father just now. The doctor said that he will wake up tomorrow. Mr poor Yvie." Felicia sighed despite feeling happy.

"The Yarrow family invited Dr. Thompson over?" Harold was confused by Felicia's words.

He was sure that it was he who had invited Samuel to take a look at Louis. How did the Yarrow family come into the equation?

"Who else would invite Dr. Thompson if it were not the Yarrow family? You? Get out of my way, and don't disturb me," Yvonne said as she pushed Harold out of Louis' room.

Felicia had wanted to chastise her for her actions but decided against it in the end. She sighed again and left the room to clear the dining table.

"Take care of Dad, Yvie. I promise you that as long as I'm here, I will never allow you to marry that old geezer," Harold promised. He glanced at Louis before leaving to find Samuel. He wanted to ask him about Louis' condition.

“You? It'll be good enough if you don't drag me down,” Yvonne said scornfully.

Harold did not bother replying. They would understand soon enough.

Once Harold arrived at Samuel's place, he first went to look for Samuel to understand more about Louis' condition. After that, he went to visit Isabella, who was still unconscious.

When he noticed that Loraine was looking after Isabella, he stared at the sleeping lady for a while before turning to find Logan.
