

Dauntless 30

Dauntless God Of War

Chapter 30

After Harold and Isabella went to work, the two saw the present Craig gave Isabella the previous night. She had placed it on the table, unopened.

The two were curious to see what kind of present a bigshot like Craig would give to Isabella, and upon opening the gift box, they saw two contracts inside.

One contract was the order Craig's company signed with Turner Corporation worth two hundred million.

The other contract was an additional order worth eight hundred million.

Both contracts were worth a billion in total and immensely profitable.

Craig had already signed them, so the two contracts would take effect immediately once Turner Corporation signed them.

"Darling, Bella is already pregnant, so I don't think it's good for her to be so busy. Why don't we persuade her to return the company to Dad? Turner Corporation is Dad's lifetime's worth of efforts. If we take it just like this, people will talk behind our backs," Benson suggested after some hesitation upon seeing the two contracts.

"You make the final decision."

Though Pauline was unwilling, there was not much she could say since Benson had already thought of the reason to do so.

The two then went to the company to find Isabella.

With the two contracts, the bank would postpone Turner Corporation's bank payment, and Turner Corporation could tide over the crisis.

When Isabella arrived at the company and saw how disorganized it was, she felt her head throbbing.

After seeing the two contracts her parents sent over and hearing Benson's opinion, Isabella agreed to return the company to Edward without much hesitation.

Meanwhile, Harvey immediately went to find Bradley and Edward after Harold kicked him out of Isabella's house.

"Dad, Grandpa, Uncle Benson's family still resents us. I had not even said much when they chased me out. They even said..."

The instant Harvey saw Bradley and Edward, the former distorted the truth and smeared Isabella's family. He even paused in the middle of his sentence to create tension.

"What else did he say? Tell me everything!" Edward ordered, furrowing his brows upon hearing Harvey's words.

The grooves on his wrinkly face became even deeper.

"Uncle Benson said that since you have already chased him out of the Turner family, he has nothing to do with you anymore. He warned us to stop trying to get Turner Corporation back, lest he does something bad to us."

Harvey blurted out the words he had prepared along the way.

After hearing those words, Edward stood up while holding on to his cane with one hand. He stared intently at Harvey with murky eyes and asked, "Did your Uncle Benson truly say that?"

"Absolutely!" Harvey replied, staring straight into Edward's eyes confidently.
