

Deadly 109

Chapter 109

No one else aside from Yulia could pull off such a feat!

"So?" Yolanda's patience was wearing thin. She had explained so much, yet Roawn still seemed skeptical about her identity. This was going a bit too far.

"Are you really Yulia?" He was still trying to process the shock. "How did you become so ugl..."

In the end, he swallowed the words he wanted to say.

Yolanda shrugged. "I woke up this way, and I have Yolanda's memories in my mind."

She glanced at the ring on her finger while letting out a self-deprecating smile. "If it weren't for this, I might think I was going crazy."

Rowan's eyes lit up. "That ring..." Now, he was convinced that this was indeed Yulia.

his expression shift, Yolanda smiled slightly. "It's quite miraculous

the one in the

"That's Nydia!"

glint flashed in Rowan's eyes. "Damn it! How dare that bitch curse, which underscored just how infuriated he was by the situation. "Yulie, we need to go back and expose her!" As he spoke, he reached out

yet. I can't

"Why not?"

the plane is still out there, and I don't know if Nydia's actions were impulsive or part of a larger scheme. We paused before adding, "You must have noticed something was off something. We initially thought it was flickered in his eyes, clearly revealing his intent to figure this out, I won't go back. Plus, since I'm occupying Yolanda's body, seeing you like this..." Rowan observed her face while shaking his head.