

Deadly 241

Chapter 241

"But Nydia really underestimates us Hoffmans," Rowan sneered. "Even if we don't catch her now, we'll find out sooner or later. Recently, Caleb has even sent people to watch her. It's only a matter of time before she gets exposed."

Yolanda thought for a moment and said seriously, "Then you'll need to help me keep her from being revealed."

"What? I can turn a blind eye, but you want me to help that imposter cover her tracks?" Rowan was reluctant.

"It wouldn't benefit me if she gets exposed."

Yolanda lowered her voice as she continued, "Troy's background is too complicated. I even suspect the Hoffman family has people involved. Otherwise, how do you explain that plane crash?"

After all, Havaria's aviation safety system hadn't seen a major incident in nearly 50 years.

"Well... fine." Rowan was hesitant, but for Yulia and the Hoffman family, he had to go along with it.

After discussing serious matters, he shifted like the type to be bullied about the safety of the person who computer and was planning still have enough money? The million you took from me must ordinary student in Riverdale wasn't just could respond, Rowan's voice, filled with shock, reached her ears. "How does your account have so much money?"

in Yolanda's account money, it wouldn't be surprising. In fact, Yulia's account had been worth dozens of times more than

Yolanda posing as a middle-class student, the sudden influx of cash in less than a month was truly shocking to

Chapter 242

After Rowan hung up the phone, Yolanda tossed her phone onto the bed.

Her current disguise required a change every three days, which was a bit of a hassle. But since she couldn't buy better disguise materials here in Riverdale, she had to make do.

Although online shopping was convenient, using her previous channels would easily leave traces that could be discovered. So, she changed her disguise materials every three days.

After shedding those heavy "extra pounds", Yolanda felt much lighter all over.

Using the original Yolanda's plump body for daily activities was akin to weight training.

However, this level of burden was nothing to Yolanda.

Once she finished her shower and redid her disguise, she noticed three missed calls on the phone lying on her bed.

Two were from Sharon, and one was from Kelly.

they might have something urgent, Yolanda quickly

Where have you been?" The background noise on Sharon's side sounded somewhat

I wanted to ask if you want to go with us. We can grab a friends with Yolanda, so her tone had shifted a bit. "I said I'd treat you last time, but you ended up paying. Today, no stealing my Yolanda replied with a smile. "Are you all at getting ready. I'll drive over to pick you up." Sharon glanced at the time. "I'll be there in to have dinner with Yvonne and Diana anyway, so she changed hour later,

home frequently and merely adopted a parental tone to remind attitude

criticize Yolanda for embarrassing her and showed no desire as long as Yolanda didn't bring disgrace to the Henderson family and didn't affect their

Kelly to a mall

Chapter 243

Sharon loved shopping, so she was well aware of all the discount seasons at every mall.

"Alright then." Kelly was swayed by Sharon's words and agreed.

After all, now that she had graduated, she couldn't dress as casually as she used to in school when going to the office.

"But the brands I bought before were more youthful. For work, a professional outfit would be more suitable."

Sharon looked around and suddenly spotted a women's clothing store ahead with darker-toned clothes, which would be perfect for Kelly. "Let's check out that store!"

"Sounds good." Kelly nodded.

Yolanda had no objections either, so the three of them entered the store.

Seeing that they were dressed plainly, the staff lazily welcomed them with a single phrase and then lost interest. They didn't even bother to come over and introduce the clothes.

her rebirth, and clinic today, so she was dressed in cheap, customers that experienced behind them and relentlessly introducing items while they browsed for clothes could elegant but not too formal. It wasn't about to reach for the hanging jacket, she heard a voice behind her. "Kelly? You're Kelly Pattinson from Class and turned around to see a young lady in the store's uniform walking toward had a name tag that read

"You're... Sofie Mayer?"

was from the same college as Kelly and had entered the same year. She was quite

"What a coincidence!"

Kelly had seen Sofie around campus, but since she heard Kelly's words and instinctively looked up. Upon seeing Sofie, she also found recalled Sofie's information from the original Yolanda's previously bullied

Chapter 244

Although Kelly usually had a good temper, she wouldn't tolerate obvious hostility, especially since she was a customer now. Sofie's attitude was something she could easily complain about.

"Oh? It's been a few months, and you've become quite the sharp-tongued one," Sofie sneered. "Like you and your bumpkin friends."

As she spoke, her gaze swept over Sharon and Yolanda. When she saw Yolanda, she was stunned for a second. Frowning, she tried to recall who she was.

"You're the Yolanda who got sent to juvenile detention, right?" Sofie's voice was just loud enough for the other staff and customers in the store to hear clearly.

As a result, the customers who had been browsing the clothes turned their attention to Yolanda, some looking at her with disdain and disgust.

"Stop talking nonsense, Sofie!" Kelly glared fiercely at Sofie.

"Did I say something wrong?" Sofie pressed on. "Why don't you ask Yolanda yourself if she's ever been to juvenile detention?"

had indeed been in juvenile detention, but she had always thought that Yolanda was use this incident to member, how can you casually gossip about a scarf

come in because she thought the clothes in the store looked nice.

are not customers

then take photos to show off on Instagram like you're regulars here. I've seen plenty of women like this store only serves high-end customers who can afford the clothes the store was, a brand was meant to serve customers. There was no reason for the staff to be after seeing how much Kelly liked that suit, Yolanda decided was her company, so it was understandable for a scarf cost over thousands, she knew the suit

Chapter 245

Yolanda was dressed in cheap clothes, making it hard to believe she had a few thousand dollars to spend on clothing.

"Forget it, Yolanda. I feel like this style isn't really suitable for me." Kelly didn't want Yolanda to spend so much money out of spite. "Let's go check out other stores."

"Oh, you can't afford it? Just say so. Why pretend it doesn't suit you?" Sofie was even more disdainful after hearing Kelly's words. "If you can't afford it, just get out! Don't put on a show here!"

"Sofie, is this how you treat customers? I'm going to file a complaint against you!" Even with Kelly's good temper, she couldn't tolerate Sofie's contempt any longer.

"File a complaint? Ha! Do you really think I'd be scared of you?" Sofie clearly didn't take Kelly seriously.

Besides, people in the mall generally protected one another. If complaints were genuinely effective, Sofie wouldn't be so brazen.

they leave. Look at how shabbily they're dressed. They member named Jaime nodded repeatedly. The corner of her mouth curled

She pointed at Sofie and shouted, "You're going sized up Sharon and noticed the credit card a nouveau riche friend? But to buy new styles in our store, you need to buy matching accessories. That suit you like requires a minimum spend of 20 thousand dollars on accessories just to be allowed to queue up. And of course, you'll have to

was clearly making things dollars shouldn't have such a matching accessory the outfit, it would contradict Sofie's earlier claim that they

a luxury brand?" Sharon was stunned by Sofie's just a women's clothing store with slightly demand customers to purchase accessories and queue up matching accessories, just get lost!" Sofie was smug. She looked at Kelly's furious expression with a sense of

Chapter 246

Since Sofie's voice was loud, most of the customers in the store were eagerly watching as they wanted to hear more gossip. This only drew in more patrons.

"What a snob!" Sharon angrily muttered. But at that moment, she couldn't come up with a good way to counter Sofie. "Let's go!"

Yolanda's previously calm and composed demeanor gradually faded. She shot a cold glance at Sofie and said, "Yeah, let's not stoop to her level. It's not worth it!"

Sharon thought Yolanda didn't want to deal with someone like Sofie, so she turned to Kelly and said, "Let's check out another store. I'm sure their service will be much better! I'll let you swipe my card as much as you want!"

"Haha! I think you'd better head to the top floor where the department store is. The clothes there are only a few dollars. If you go early enough, you can fight with those old ladies for them!"

Sofie's words elicited laughter from the crowd surrounding them.

Yolanda glanced at the other clothing stores around Olivier Luxe, finally settling her gaze on the high-end luxury brand, Louis Vuitton. "Let's go there."

talking about Louis Vuitton. Her laughter became even the clothes in our store, and you want to go to Louis Vuitton? You'll probably were quietly snickering are super expensive." Kelly looked a bit anxious. "Why don't while leading the way toward the Louis Vuitton store. "Kelly, let's go." Sharon didn't care at all whether they could afford anything. Come on, Yolanda could buy a whole clinic. Even though Baxter didn't take the money in the end, she was truly prepared to pay when she initially went to inspect it. Plus, Yolanda was Gavin's fiancée. How could view, Kelly's

and Kelly-walked into the Louis Vuitton store greeted them with the necessary service attitude. "What are you looking for? I can help introduce pointed to the clothes displayed on the racks. "These are the classic pieces and said to the staff

The staff member

Chapter 247

"No need. Just the regular packaging will do," Yolanda replied.

Then she turned her attention to the new arrivals section and said to the short staff member, "Find two sets of those off-white-colored and light gray suits in their sizes."

"Yolanda, isn't this a bit much?" Kelly looked uneasily at Yolanda.

She had accidentally seen the price of those outfits, and they cost nearly five thousand dollars-it was way too expensive.

"Consider it a gift for you both starting your new jobs," Yolanda said with a smile. "If you don't like this style, you can try others. I was just suggesting."

"Um..." Kelly was still hesitant.

"Whatever. Let's try them on. Yolanda doesn't lack money anyway." Sharon, who knew Yolanda well, smiled and dragged Kelly toward the fitting rooms.

After Yolanda and her group left, Sofie kept a close eye on their movements.

When she saw Yolanda whip out her bank card in front of the Louis Vuitton staff, she scoffed and disdainfully remarked, "She's actually flaunting a bank card with who-knows-how-much on it? How ridiculous!

an ugly and useless adopted daughter. How could the Henderson family possibly give her that much pocket that Rachel's family background was similar to the Hendersons, and Rachel's allowance was only a few thousand a month. Yolanda could never afford so bet there's barely a few hundred in that card!" A staff member behind Sofie flattered her expressions, eagerly waiting for Yolanda without witnessing the scene they had Vuitton staff member at the front desk swiping the card. She hoped she saw them tear off the receipt from the POS machine and respectfully possible?" Sofie rubbed her eyes vigorously. Unwilling to accept the reality, she were grinning from ear to ear as if they had been hit by a shower of today was nearly equivalent to their sales for mocked Yolanda, wealthy. But now, the ones who had been slapped in that adopted daughter have so who was stunned, grew increasingly jealous. She thought that Yolanda's money must have come from dubious sources, or maybe even stolen from heard Yolanda say, "I initially intended to buy a few business outfits for those clothes like family heirlooms and seems unwilling to sell them, so I had no choice but

Chapter 248

"Did you buy all these, Mrs. Savage?" the butler, Edwin Sampson, asked.

Priscilla loved buying clothes, but she would never purchase this many at once. "No, I didn't."

She rushed over to rummage through the clothes and noticed they were all outfits meant for young women.

"Who is the recipient?"

"Mr. Gavin." Edwin hesitated for a moment before whispering, "Maybe he bought them for his girlfriend."

"No way!" Priscilla shook her head.

Yolanda was as plump. There was no way she could fit into these outfits that were a standard size and even a size smaller.

flashed in her eyes.

said to Edwin,

outfits, so Gavin's declaration of making Yolanda his fiancée must have been a way that Yolanda couldn't wear instead of plus- size dresses? Clearly, would lose his

with Gavin's transformation, she had been quite troubled about the whole fiancée situation and was pressuring the Henderson family from had uncovered the truth, she could finally relax and a 2:00 pm appointment at Blossom Wellness for me. I want to go for rush to reveal Gavin's thoughts. She believed that since he dated Yolanda to get back at them, he must be having of Gavin being forced to date Yolanda made know what he wants without comparison. He's constantly faced with a pig. He'll soon realize how final list of candidates selected for the

was prominently displayed at

Chapter 249

Dunstan's tone sounded urgent as if something major had happened.

"What's going on?" Yolanda whispered as she covered the phone with her hand.

"The State Medical Board is here claiming that Willow Creek Clinic is illegally employing people without medical licenses. They're going to shut down the clinic!"

Yolanda frowned at those words. After hanging up, she rushed out of the classroom without even grabbing her backpack.

"Yolanda! The class bell just rang. Where are you going?" the class monitor called out as Yolanda hurriedly exited.

Ignoring her, Yolanda continued out the door.

"This is outrageous! She thinks just because she aced one exam, she can do whatever she wants?"

"Skipping class so brazenly shows she doesn't care about the school's rules at all!"

"Having someone like her in Class A is an insult to us!"

chattered among lady sitting in the front row said. "I heard Yolanda made a bet with happen?"

young lady was about to speak when the physics teacher down! Class

reluctantly returned to that Yolanda might be

...

taking a cab

about the clinic being shut down. Even if it happened, she had ways to have the State Medical Board officials come personally integrity and Dunstan's unwillingness to back down. If they clashed with the officials of the State Medical Board, it could lead she noticed several vehicles parked in front of Willow Creek Clinic. Representatives from the State

a large presence indicated that might have reported Willow Creek Clinic, but given that person's family background, it was uncertain whether they could mobilize didn't want to wrongfully accuse anyone without evidence, so she didn't make any calls and instead walked straight entrance of Willow Creek Clinic were more than ten people, some in uniforms and others in plain clothes. They all had serious expressions and

Chapter 250

Sharon had a bit of experience dealing with the officials due to her family's business.

At the same time, she recognized the two men standing in front of her. One was Sean Guerrero, the director of the State Medical Board, and the other was Dallas Marquez, the chief of the local police station.

Worried that Dunstan and Daniel might act impulsively and make things worse, she quickly stepped forward and put on a friendly smile.

"I don't know who reported us, but Willow Creek Clinic is a legitimate clinic. There's no way we would allow unlicensed doctors to work-"

"Cut the crap! Whether you've violated anything isn't up to you to decide. It's up to us!" Sean interrupted her arrogantly. His belly jutted out as he shouted, "Get your owner out here! If she doesn't come out right now, we're shutting down your clinic on the spot!"

Yolanda, who stood nearby, raised an eyebrow. It was clear now that they were indeed targeting her.

"What right do you have to shut us down? Show us your closure order first!" Daniel stepped forward to shield Sharon. "Otherwise, we're not letting you in!"

the closure order?" Sean scoffed. "A punk like you is obviously just the owner's accomplice. You'll all have to come patient in the waiting area a century-old establishment?

The doctors here is getting smaller and smaller. Most effective drugs are out-of-pocket! At at Willow Creek Clinic have great skills, and they don't overcharge! That's not illegal, is that? Who are treated for food poisoning by Dr. Henderson, and she only charged us 50 bucks! If we had gone to a hospital, it would have cost prices. Why don't you go spoke up, the emotions of the surrounding crowd and patients officials. Moreover, Sean and his group were and I'll have you all arrested!" "On what grounds?" the crowd days of detention and a permanent record. You better think twice. If

Willow Creek Clinic,