

Deadly 481

Chapter 481

"Don't you know how to drive, you worthless piece of trash?! This is a limited edition car, and the paint job alone costs hundreds of thousands! How are you planning to pay for that?" The short-haired woman who was facing Sharon was named Brenda Whitmore, and she was being very aggressive.

"It was a red light. Of course, I had to stop! You rear-ended me because you were driving too fast, and now you're blaming me?" Sharon was furious, especially after being slapped for no reason.

Though she could afford to pay hundreds of thousands, this clearly was not her fault. Not only did she not report Brenda for rear-ending her, but this crazy woman was now playing the victim. She was actually accusing Sharon of scratching her car's hood paint.

"Even if the police come, you're completely at fault!"

"Hah! I'll drive however I damn well please! It's your fault for stopping suddenly and causing me to hit the back of your car! Get on your knees and apologize to me right now, then pay me half a million! This isn't over until you do!"

strike Sharon again, but this time her arm was caught mid-swing by here!" Sharon's eyes lit up. She felt more confident now. Yolanda gripped

She ignored Brenda as she spoke. "Did plan to get the police involved. But she's demanding money..." Sharon explained helplessly. "She even had the nerve to say help as she was worried that the police, you pathetic thing?" Brenda sneered after regaining her balance. Seeing that Sharon had only called just brought another worthless nobody. Are you both going to kneel and apologize, or are you two another word, Yolanda slapped her hard across the face twice. "I don't waste words on people with filthy mouths. I let Brenda seeing stars. Even her lip was bullying others, but no one had ever dared to hit her. When she recovered from her shock,

Chapter 482

Brenda kept repeating her threats while trembling. She then fumbled for her phone in her coat pocket.

"I'm calling people to deal with you right now!" she snarled between heavy breaths. But she was still cursing at Yolanda and Sharon. "I can just call someone right now to end you both, believe it or not!"

"Not really." Yolanda smirked. "Hurry up if you're going to call someone. I don't have all day."

Yolanda did not want to waste time here. She was ready to call the police if Brenda kept causing trouble, but Brenda thought she was getting scared.

Grinning with satisfaction, she pressed the call button with an evil face. "Hah! Scared now, aren't you? I warned you not to mess with me! Just you wait!"

her? Though Brenda was not from Riverdale, she was the precious daughter of a wealthy family here in Riverdale. She would certainly make Yolanda pay for those

The call connected quickly.

it's Brenda! Oh, my mom and everyone else are fine... Listen, I'm in Riverdale, and these two crazy women just crashed into my car! They won't pay for damages and they even hit me! Please come

Bring backup, they're threatening to teach me a Brenda lifted her chin haughtily at Yolanda and Sharon. "Just a big-shot businessman who's very famous in Riverdale. One phone call and she can even summon the underground forces. Are car. Sharon's car had impressive impact resistance despite being a domestic car. It was better than many mid-range imports.

much, Yolanda was determined to make Brenda pay every penny. Neither Yolanda nor Sharon would have made a big deal of it if Brenda had

Chapter 483

"Really?" Yolanda raised an eyebrow with interest as she replied. "Is that so?"

She was genuinely curious now about who Brenda's backup would be. She had met most of Riverdale's influential figures by now. If this was someone new, it would be an interesting introduction.

"Hmph, you're still acting tough." Brenda grew angrier upon seeing Yolanda's calm face. She was confident that once her people arrived, Yolanda would be begging for mercy.

Five minutes later, a few cars pulled up around them.

"Brenda, are you okay?!" A woman jumped out of one car and rushed toward Brenda. Meanwhile, thuggish-looking men in work clothes emerged from the other vehicles. They were all carrying wooden clubs with mean expressions on their faces.

the woman running toward Brenda.

shocked. She realized this situation had just become much more

Brenda was calling that woman "Aunt Diana," that meant she was talking to Yolanda's mother, Diana. Having caused trouble between Yolanda and her cousin, Sharon did not know

Yolanda had cut ties with the Hendersons. Though Yolanda had been the one to hit Brenda, this whole thing

I had no idea she was your relative..." Sharon tugged at Yolanda's sleeve. "Let me put." Yolanda grabbed Sharon's arm. "It doesn't matter who she visited Riverdale, so Yolanda had no memory of they hurt you like this?" Heartbroken, Diana touched Brenda's swollen Brenda a few times, they were still family. Seeing that Brenda was injured, Diana rushed to check on her and did not even notice Yolanda. She had no idea that her niece had been hit by the

Chapter 484

"Yolanda, Brenda is your cousin! How could you hit her?" Once Diana understood the situation, she immediately started yelling while pointing at Yolanda, "Apologize right now!"

"Cousin? I don't remember having one." Yolanda tilted her head, glancing at Joe and the others approaching from behind. "We signed papers yesterday, remember? I have nothing to do with the Hendersons anymore."

She walked up to Brenda and slapped her again.

"Yes, I hit her. What are you going to do about it? If your sister can't teach her daughter basic manners and lets her become a bully who disregards the law, then I'll teach her myself."

Another slap followed. Brenda was shocked that Yolanda dared to hit her in front of Diana. She stumbled backward before hiding behind Diana while holding her face.

aunt had twin daughters. Was this one

"Aunt Diana, is she..."

your cousin." Diana felt both angry and ashamed. How would she explain to Eleanor that her own even more emboldened knowing Yolanda was family. While she might not get

Diana glanced uncertainly yesterday, so they could not possibly demand an apology. But just as Diana and Joe were beginning to of her connection with the Savage family. All that talk about curing Beatrice was was all because of Gavin.

Yolanda lost her value to Gavin, he would discard her immediately. They no

Alice felt nothing was holding her back now that Yolanda had been cut off from the Hendersons. If these workers would follow her orders, she would have them beat Yolanda till she begged for mercy on her knees.

"It's clearly her fault for hitting Sharon's car. Not only did she refuse to pay or apologize, but she even slapped Sharon. Does she think everyone has to coddle her?"

Alice paused when she heard that Brenda was the one who rear-ended someone else's car. But she quickly found a new angle.

"Even if she did crash into someone's car, we're all family here. Can't we resolve this peacefully? You're just bitter about being kicked out of the Henderson family and taking it out on others. Have you no shame?"

"Yolanda, stop this nonsense." Right then, Joe cleared his throat and told Yolanda, "You're the one who chose to leave the family, so you shouldn't take your resentment out on others. Just apologize to Brenda, and we'll forget about you slapping her."

"You'll forget about it?" Yolanda sneered. "But I won't!"

trying to make things even again. He had not changed at all. Whenever faced rug.

Yolanda had been curious to see these powerful figures Brenda kept boasting had been quiet until now, shouted. "Even if Brenda hit your friend's of the police made Diana nervous. No matter how much they looked down on Yolanda, she had powerful backing now. Whatever Gavin might do with her later, going against for car repairs." Though Yolanda knew Sharon did not care about it!" Making Brenda pay was one thing, but demanding she kneel like you, not in this lifetime!" Brenda still had not grasped the situation. She thought that she was untouchable since Yolanda we'll see you at the police station."

exploded. She was furious that Yolanda remained aggressive even after her attempt at compromise. "You may not be a Henderson anymore,

Chapter 486

Joe still did not think he was doing anything wrong. In his mind, children should just obey their parents without question and help the family.

"If you expect me to help you out as your family, you need to give back just as much. But none of you are worth my effort!"

Yolanda's words were also meant for the original Yolanda, but she was not sure if that consciousness could still hear her. Its presence had grown weaker since Yolanda's rebirth in this body. Perhaps the only thing sustaining the original spirit was its desperate longing for family and love.

Unfortunately, this toxic family was not worth any attachment. If the original Yolanda was still there, she would only have the desire for revenge.

Seeing that Diana and Joe were speechless at her words, Yolanda continued, "Since you don't value what I've done and can't show gratitude, I have no obligation to help you anymore.

"The bank loan can be terminated, the joint projects can be halted, and you'll have to face legal consequences for the incident of counterfeit drugs. Good luck with all that."

Yolanda turned toward Sharon. "Sharon, at her worriedly. She had not realized how complicated Yolanda's family situation was. "Are

"I'm fine." Yolanda nodded.

she could not truly feel what the original Yolanda felt. This Joel's men arrived. "Ms. Henderson, where's the person ran a red light, rear-ended someone's got into Sharon's passenger seat. Sharon quickly me explain..." Diana and the others panicked when faced with law enforcement. But no amount of kept glancing at Yolanda. "Yolanda, are you really okay? If you need to cry, go ahead. I stick together despite occasional arguments. She could not understand how the Hendersons could be so cruel

Chapter 487

Sharon could not believe Yolanda was now living at Cerulean Abode. That was the most prestigious gated community in Riverdale! "Yolanda, you're absolutely incredible!"

Sharon felt angry for how Yolanda was treated just a moment ago. But now, she was just amazed. Yolanda then told her about saving Adrian's life.

"You should come over sometime for tacos!"

"Well, let's do it today then!" Sharon said enthusiastically.

"Sure, but I need to stop by Willow Creek Clinic first." Yolanda had been too busy with monthly exams and Henderson family drama to visit the clinic lately. She planned to drop by the clinic since she had some free time today.

"I'll drive you!" Sharon then drove Yolanda to Willow Creek Clinic. When they arrived, the clinic was packed with patients waiting for consultations and prescriptions.

rush hour." Seeing how idea." Yolanda wanted to

"What should I get?"

send you a list went to get a white coat from the back and wash up. But in burly young men burst in as they shoved the

"What's going on?"

patients protested the rough treatment, only to a dress pushed a wheelchair through. The wheelchair's occupant was a man in commotion and came out

Chapter 488

As Dunston struggled to his feet, he dashed over to block Raven and the man's path again.

"Who am I?" The young woman sneered. "You're just a nobody, so there's no reason for me to tell you! Just get the Ice Lily for my father's legs! Keep stalling and I'll tear this clinic apart!"

Raven commanded with an utterly dismissive and entitled attitude.

"This is outrageous! I've never seen such rude and indecent people in all my years dealing with patients!"

Though he had been humbled by Yolanda, Dunston was from a wealthy family himself and had never been disrespected that way before. He shot back angrily, "So what if we have Ice Lily? Who says we're obligated to give it to you?"

"Enough!" Raven walked ahead and slapped him hard. "Keep talking, and I'll rearrange your face!"

everyone's watching you? How arrogant!" Dunston held his cheek as he waits their turn! What gives personal playground!" The waiting patients were frustrated with Raven's behavior, so they spoke

Dr. Davidson, the miracle doctor in Riverdale! You're practically making an enemy of Dr. Davidson himself by slapping him. Good luck finding anyone in Riverdale to treat you had also improved dramatically until he could handle cases independently. The clinic's regular patients supported this young were here stopping my father from any medical expertise. Her followers threatened the other patients aggressively, "What are you looking at? Keep staring and we'll pluck

Stop delaying of Eternal Clan! None of you weaklings can touch us! We don't care what family or company you're from. You better bow your head and shut up when you meet Eternal Clan! Unless men puffed up their chests arrogantly. "Anyone who's got a

Chapter 489

"What's going on here?" Yolanda, who was now in her medical coat, saw Daniel and his people at the door and quickly walked over.

"Ms. Henderson..." Daniel lowered his voice while explaining what had happened and who Viktor and his group were.

"Eternal Clan?" Yolanda did not step forward right away. Instead, she observed the situation through gaps in the crowd.

Meanwhile, Raven jabbed her finger at Dunston again. "Get the Ice Lily now!"

The patients' silence only emboldened Raven and her people. She pointed arrogantly at Dunston. "Don't make me hurt you!"

ready to attack if he did not comply. Watching their arrogance, Yolanda frowned and shook her head. She then stepped out from the announced her diagnosis while approaching them. "Besides that, you had a head injury before this. That means you struggle with more than just walking. You in front of the group after and Viktor were shocked. Every symptom Yolanda had listed was demanding. She could not believe this young woman could diagnose her father without even examining him. Viktor stared at Yolanda in amazement as said calmly. "Of course, I know his do? Can you actually treat him?" Though surprised, Raven snapped impatiently. "If you Yolanda looked down and examined Viktor's legs. His condition would not respond to ordinary medicine or acupuncture. Only her specialized Five Elements Divine Needles would directors had claimed they could not

Chapter 490

Raven was convinced that Yolanda was just trying to stall for time. She came up with all sorts of threats she could think of and tried to place the blame on the clinic if anything happened.

Her followers from the Dragon Brigade chimed in, "Hand over the Ice Lily!"

"Move it!"

"Hurry up unless you want a beating!"

"You want the Ice Lily?" Yolanda smirked. "We do have it. But why should we give it to you?"

"The Ice Lily can cure my father! Isn't this clinic supposed to help people? You should give it to me!" Raven remained brazenly entitled.

charity. Ice Lily isn't just another herb-it's worth millions.

Ms. Henderson might have considered it out of kindness. But you're here acting like thugs! Forget about we pay for medicine, but don't think you can fool me with the price!" Pursing her should be rightfully ours if it

Dunston was speechless and furious. He had never encountered such a shameless still pay something. What's your registration fee?" She turned back to look at the registration counter. "Ten dollars? I'll give Dunston's shoulder.

for the Ice Lily?" Dunston jumped up in even a hundred