

Deadly 511

Chapter 511

Yolanda had just returned to her villa when she received a call from Gavin. "Are you free tonight?"

"Yes. What do you have in mind?" Yolanda frowned slightly.

She had just removed her disguise since she assumed she wasn't going out again that night. If she needed to disguise herself again, it would take some time.

"Accompany me to a cocktail party. I'll come get you."

"Sure."

Yolanda had removed her fat suit, and she didn't really feel like putting on the disguise again. So, she added, "I'll give you a surprise when you come over."

30 minutes later, Gavin arrived at the villa in the car and saw a slender beauty standing before him.

"Y-Yolanda?"

look extremely different before and after she slimmed down, but Gavin was still able to around Gavin's

do you think is prettier? Me, before him, he was

Is this a hard question to prankster. She rational, panic and in his eyes was especially

the prettiest

Then, he swapped

in the foot with her

"You-"

force that it was even a struggle for Yolanda to free herself. She was pinned against the door didn't pass, but I

I prefer how you

Chapter 512

"Same here, I think the Gavin from before is more soothing on my eyes," replied Yolanda.

Even if they had recognized each other's soul in an instant, they were still living in someone else's body. They probably wouldn't have the chance to make any changes anymore.

Other than getting used to it, there seemed to be no other ways.

"But don't you think that this Yolanda looked a little like you?"

Previously, when Yolanda first opened the door, it was a rare occasion for Gavin to have all his resolve crumble because he really thought, at that moment, that Yulia was back.

"Really?"

Yolanda didn't pay much attention. After hearing what Gavin had said, she whipped out the mirror she had in her bag and took a look.

"If I look closely, it does seem true."

hadn't said it, Yolanda would have never detailed makeup, I actually as to why she would rebirth on the original Yolanda. Yolanda and Yvonne might be twins but their features after they had grown up made them look increasingly she's just very

Yolanda

you sure they're

added, "Unless they brought the wrong

Yolanda was reminded system when she was that Yvonne would be a difficult character to deal with, but after dealing with Yvonne and the Hendersons for a while, Yolanda found out that Yvonne was just a

someone is teaching her what

Gavin had a thought.

Hendersons a little. I realized that they are a side family of the main Henderson family in Creybia. Most of the Hendersons are gave Yolanda the information he Henderson Group was a rotten apple. Before Harold took over, it was on the brink of bankruptcy and had a lot of debt. However, the main Henderson family in Creybia followed their family rules and insisted that Vivian choose a son

Chapter 513

"We can probably also check Yvonne's DNA," Yolanda replied.

Not only did Yolanda suspect that Yvonne had someone supporting her, but what Gavin said had even got her suspecting that she and Yvonne were not biological sisters.

As they talked, they arrived at the hotel.

After Gavin got out of the car, he handed his car keys over to the security guard. Then, he went over to the passenger seat to open the door for Yolanda.

The moment Yolanda got out of the car, she attracted a lot of attention.

Yolanda, who had slimmed down, was a total beauty in terms of looks and figure. When paired with Yulia's formidable air, Yolanda shone like the brightest star the moment she got out of the car, making everyone else pale in comparison.

She took Gavin's arm right after she got out and they walked toward the hall where the party was at.

"Please display your invitation, Sir, Ma'am."

The security guard stood by the entrance of the banquet hall and asked them politely. After seeing Gavin's invitation card, his tone became more respectful.

Mr. Savage, Ms.

guests attending the cocktail party knew Gavin while some them had their attention focused on that pretty lady beside the princess of some big skin. I don't think regular people would Savage would always bring an that ugly creature! She's from the Henderson family.

it's because there was a promise between the older generations of the rebel against his family. Look, it's only still puzzled previously as to why Mr. Savage would choose such an ugly creature as a fiancée. The younger Henderson daughter is so much better than is really no match to famous were whispering amongst themselves and trying who knew Yolanda were looking at

had been discarded by Gavin, they were counting down the days to meet with Yolanda

Chapter 514

The cocktail party Gavin was attending that day was a smaller-scale party. Most of the elite families weren't present. There were only a few people who knew him there.

This was why Yolanda could very openly remove her disguise.

She would often go to an unassuming corner to eat some snacks as per her usual while Gavin did his rounds with businessmen.

That day, she had a glass of juice in one hand and a porcelain plate in the other as she walked toward the single-seater couches.

Unfortunately, it was fated that Yolanda would not be able to remain unseen that day.

Within five minutes of her sitting down, there were already a few groups of people coming over to small-talk with her for various reasons, like because she was beautiful, because they wanted to be affiliated with Gavin, and all kinds of other reasons as well.

However, Yolanda shooed all these people away. She remained aloof and cold.

Yolanda regretted that she hadn't put on her disguise before she came. If it was like before, at least not many people would come to disturb her.

She had eaten her last snack and turned to head to the balcony. She hoped that no one would disturb her there.

Sadly, when she pushed open the balcony's glass door, she saw a figure leaning over the marble balcony, swishing his wine glass around.

When Yolanda saw that someone else was there, she turned around and was about to leave when she suddenly found the person on the balcony a little familiar.

She very quickly recognized this person as Jared from the party she once attended with Diana.

Just as Yolanda was about to turn and leave, Jared, who was swishing his wine glass around suddenly called out, "Wait!"

Yolanda stopped in her tracks, turned around, and asked, "Yes?"

"Uhh..." Jared took a deep breath, his face was slightly flushed. He was regretting speaking out like this. But when he saw the long-haired lady who had walked out, his heart skipped that moment, he knew love at first sight, but he was so nervous at that moment he couldn't even form a proper sentence. It took him a long while to force out mind having someone else on nearly bit his tongue off.

how embarrassed he was and declared before her, "I'll never fall for someone like you!" In a blink of an eye, there he was using such a lame excuse in an attempt to strike up a treated men like him who judged books by their cover with disdain, so her tone was colored with

"Sorry, but I mind."

she turned and walked out

hang out with arrogant, haughty people like him, she would rather handle

Please hold

didn't expect Jared to

Yolanda, and blocked

I just want

hand on his pants and reached noted." Yolanda didn't shake his hand. "Can me what aloof, he switched his question to asking for

"Not necessary."

walked to the side

"Wait!"

more but a figure

found you,

around Jared's enthusiastically like no one else was around and Don't act like we're very close." Jared's face darkened as this. I don't like

The happiness in Carrie's eyes was slowly

like anyone anyway. Why can't you

Chapter 515

"What do you know? Ms. Lovell was already wealthy before marrying the Granger Corporation heir. Of course, she had more than enough money to spare.

"Her initial intention of opening this company is only to kill time. Now I heard that she's preparing to become pregnant and would no longer have time to manage the company. That's why she transferred the ownership.

"Also I heard that our current big boss has a huge background. They're definitely not your average Joe."

The management team started discussing the big boss since they hadn't arrived yet. When it came to office gossip like this, it would unmistakably rile everyone up.

"Your news is outdated." Stella, who was among the crowd, sneered.

"I heard the new product of the next season is Big Boss' formula."

"What? The big boss is the one to provide such an extraordinary formula?"

"With such a superb formula, they could just open their own company. Why join ours?"

"This is where you lack information." Stella smiled smugly as she gathered all the other management team members' curious looks and continued, "This big boss is very close to Ms. Lovell."

tucked her hair behind leaked, it was the big boss who had figured out a way to deal with management members exclaimed in understanding. At the same time, they were very them, but they were also friends with Cianna. That would mean that this big boss get all this information

"I see!"

you lying people started to snap back to their senses. Since they had only heard what Stella had said, they couldn't be completely sure that the formula belonged to questioning Stella so they could get more insider news regarding Cianna and the big boss judge for ourselves to see if your news is who was beside her, cleared his throat loudly and get fired? How could you gossip about your

and pretended to sorry, Mr. Edward." Stella pretended to be afraid and to apologize to Edward,

of the management team saw

didn't know your connections reach

Chapter 516

"But why is the big boss not here yet, though? It's almost 8:30 am now," Stella grumbled as she looked at her watch in confusion.

Before that, Cianna had informed them that the big boss would arrive at 8:30 am, so they came down half an hour earlier to welcome the big boss. It was nearly 8:30 am now and there were still no signs of the big boss.

Stella, who was hoping that the big boss would notice her, was very disappointed.

She had done all that she could to curry favor with Edward yesterday so he would bring her along to welcome the big boss.

To exhibit her charm, she had gotten up extra early in the morning and adorned her face with exquisite makeup.

She had been standing for 30 minutes in high heels, and her feet had already become sore ages ago. She tried to hold in the urge to cover her mouth to stifle a yawn. Then, she stood up tall once more to contort her body into the typical S shape.

The source of Stella's confidence in the big boss being a man was unknown. She had automatically assumed that the new big boss would be a male and had spent extra time and effort looking presentable. She hoped to leave a lasting impression on the big boss.

Just as she was craning her neck with anticipation, a plump girl wearing normal sports attire came down from the bus at the bus stop nearby.

a cousin?" Stella whispered quietly as she thought, "What bad luck to see that bringer of bad luck this thought Yolanda was just coincidentally walking past, so she didn't mind Yolanda. However, after Yolanda had gotten down from the bus, she walked toward their company and stood

A member of the company's management team looked at how ordinary Yolanda was wearing and frowned. "We're not Yolanda?" Edward's face darkened as he saw Yolanda business, he would have been able to have his way with Winnie before Knox arrived. If it had gone according to plan, he would have already gotten Winnie up to a happened yesterday, so when he

of Cinnamine Pharmaceuticals. This his sentence when Stella rushed out, stood before Yolanda, and started yelling loudly

you tarnish our company's reputation, know her, Mr. Edward?" The other members of company management looked at Yolanda in disdain, then turned to ask Edward and Stella with someone like this!" Edward harrumphed have to do is to chase her out

We still have to welcome our new big boss." Another member of the company management team

Chapter 517

"I'm definitely not the one who doesn't understand Havarian," Yolanda replied.

Yolanda frowned in disgust at both Edward and Stella. They were still as appalling as they were before.

If Cinnamine Pharmaceuticals had employees like them, they would be the ones who would rot the company from the inside out.

"Aren't you all here to welcome your new boss?"

"Hah." Edward pursed his lips with contempt. "Of course, we're here to welcome our new boss, but who the fuck are you?"

"Do you have schizophrenia? Is that why you're pretending that you're a big boss now? It's so ridiculous I could die!"

Stella continued as she egged the other members of the company management to make fun of Yolanda.

"Look and see, everyone. Have you seen a big boss wear such cheap clothes? Someone like you can't be the big boss for sure."

"That's right." Someone had chimed in from the crowd. "Besides that, even if others weren't clear with who you are, Mr. Edward would know full well."

to become queen? Surely not! Don't think we don't know anything. You're trying to trick us.

out!" Edward snarled impatiently. "Where's security? Get security to come later and saw all the ruckus in front of their door, the big boss would be sure to have a bad members of management looked at Yolanda with contempt and willed her to so boldly to be their boss? How mentally sick could they away, Mr. Bingham!" Two security guards spoke were about to chase Yolanda out, a Mercedes Benz whizzed hurriedly from afar and stopped in front of the door of management all knew gleamed as she shrieked, "I'm sure Ms. Lovell went to get the big boss herself was only normal for Cianna to personally pick up front of the door and subconsciously adjusted his necktie. Then, he growled at Yolanda, "Fuck off on your own. Don't make he waved at the two security guards gesturing for them to be security guards to take action in broad daylight, inspect them, so Edward didn't want any extra trouble to the same time, the Mercedes Benz's

Kelly came out of the car one after

Stella rushed

Chapter 518

Wasn't Yolanda just an ordinary, poor student?

Edward and Stella really could not equate Yolanda to their new boss.

They also didn't understand how Cianna would know Yolanda.

"Ms. Lovell!" Edward tried to hold back his shock, prepared for the backlash, and asked, "We've waited all morning. Why isn't the big boss here yet?"

He had deliberately reminded Cianna and Kelly that the big boss was supposed to come today, and at the same time, he was also warning Yolanda to not be too smug about it.

"What nonsense are you talking about?" Cianna's face darkened as she boomed. "Your new boss is standing right in front of you!"

Cianna frowned with displeasure. Then, she tugged Yolanda over and introduced her to the crowd. "This is Ms. Yolanda Henderson.

"She has saved mine and Mr. Granger's lives. She is also the biggest shareholder of Cinnamine Pharmaceuticals. She is your new boss."

"What?"

the company management team

clear that they could not accept fortitude had even pinched themselves

new boss really a poor, bus-riding, flea market clothes-wearing student? Was there anything more ridiculous than that at wasn't April Fool's Day,

so funny, Ms. Lovell..." Edward smiled flatteringly, hoping for a sudden turnaround.

"Do I look like I'm joking?" Cianna glared at face was

really

the only one that was shocked. The people who were behind him all had the color drained surprised she screamed at the top of her lungs. She completely forgot to maintain basic manners

Ms. Lovell! She's just a poor student her cousin had crossed Mr. Knox and were thrown out of the bar. How could she

"Could it

Chapter 519

Yolanda was indeed the biggest shareholder of Cinnamine Pharmaceuticals.

Stella had been too emotional. Kelly's words woke her up like a bucket of cold water, clearing her mind.

She then saw Edward's reaction and knew that Yolanda was indeed the new boss, with no room for possible error at all.

"Hi Ms. Henderson, I'm from the sales department..."

At this time, the more sensible members of the management team were taking the initiative to introduce themselves to Yolanda.

"Ms. Henderson, I'm from the administration department..."

"It was our fault just now for not recognizing who you are. Even if you want to cut our pay, we won't grumble at all."

Those who were of a slightly lower position also came and apologized to Yolanda.

Edward and Stella stood there with stiff faces. Other than regret, they also had unwillingness in their hearts.

could the poor, wretched Yolanda be their people, but it same Yolanda they had just mocked mercilessly yesterday had now turned

Stella stuck in a horrible

Yolanda waved her hand

Henderson, you're

"I'm sold, I'm sold."

an honor to have you, Ms. Henderson, as our were really good at

They were not genuine and disgusting, so Yolanda

need for

will remember that for sure, Ms.

"Okay," she thought, "I can't expect them added, "Next, I would like mainly be led by Ms. Lovell and Kelly. If not absolutely necessary, I will finish your part of the job. If our sales can reach a new height next

Chapter 520

"Who gave you the power to fire me?" Edward snarled.

"I'm the biggest shareholder of Cinnamine Pharmaceuticals. This gives me the power to do so."

Yolanda smiled faintly at Edward, who was losing his marbles in rage, and added, "Is this a good enough reason?"

"Someone bring him to the HR department and calculate his final pay."

Kelly waved at the two security guards to execute the job.

She didn't like Edward, and it wasn't new news. Edward had been a bad influence in the company for forming gangs and cliques.

However, since she was new to the company, she couldn't just ask Cianna to fire Edward. Now that Yolanda had announced it, she immediately got someone to execute the job.

Edward refused to admit defeat as he looked at Cianna.

so well because I've

Ms. Lovell. If you fire Mr. Edward now, it'll strike fear in the hearts of all the other members of management as well. Also,

"Since when do I have a close

Ms. Lovell. Mr. Edward once

not, how did Kelly become your assistant? Mr. Edward to you, right?"

save my life?" The storm brewing on Cianna's face was dark and security? Just throw him might not say anything, but Cianna was sure that the employees might just come up with like this! You have no right to do so!" Edward exploded pursue retribution! I for misusing your position to accept bribes. You can wait

guards and said, "Drag him