I nod my head but didn't say anything I see him glance out the back window of his truck he then looks back at me.

I turn more to look out the back window too when I see Kelly's car pulling in.

I look back at him.

"Go ahead and go with them for right now I'll come find you in a little,"

I nod my head at him but I didn't feel I needed to say anything.

He lifts my hand placing a kiss on the back of it he then lets go opened his door and slid out I was reaching for the handle when my door opened he stands there holding his hand out to me.

I slowly place my hand in his sliding out to stand in front of him. He looks down at me I could feel my face heating up.

He holds my stare for a moment I see him take a deep breath and then step back still holding my hand.

Kelly walks up to us he turns looking at her I see her nod but they didn't say anything.

Gentle squeezing my hand he then let go walking into the house.

I look at Kelly but she just smiles at me.

"What just happen" I sign to her

"I'm not exactly sure, but that was so sweet," She signs back to me

Suddenly Oscar and them are there Oscar comes up to me with a look of worry on his face.

"Are you alright?" He mouthed to me.

Shaking my head yes.

“Come on let’s go in ” He steps to the side to let me walk in front when I go to take a step I see my brother coming towards us and he looks pissed.

I didn’t move I stood still when Oscar noticed I wasn’t moving he looked in the direction I was he took a few steps back away from seeing a pissed-off Zach coming our way.
