

Dear Chief 1011

Chapter 1011: Big Sister Became a Stepmother

In a daze, the little packrat saw Gu Qiqi's eyes. They were so close to him and so familiar. Coupled with the large mask, why did she look exactly like the young lady in his memory?

Like a bird returning to its nest, his excited heart began to race.

Boom! Boom!

Boom! Boom!

Boom! Boom!

With great effort, his big, beautiful eyes opened a crack...

Gu Qiqi's black grape-like eyes shone brightly. Under the lights of the operating theater, she looked like a beautiful galaxy.

The little packrat's breathing hitched!

"Little sister..."

This was his little sister. He was absolutely certain!

It had been a few months since they first met in the corridor of Qing City Hospital.

Although the face was getting more and more blurry, there was no mistaking the pair of big eyes peeking out of the white mask.

In this world, only a certain young lady's eyes were so bright and moving. One look at them was like a huge vortex that sucked him in.

No one else could have such beautiful eyes.

"Big sister..."

He was actually lying in the arms of his little sister. He was truly blessed!

The little packrat felt as if it had come back to life. He blinked, afraid that the young lady would suddenly disappear. He gripped Gu Qiqi's sleeve tightly and stared at her, muttering to itself, "Big Sister... don't go... I miss you..."

However, there was another voice in his heart. His sister had arrived. Where was his stepmother?

Was his stepmother still in danger?

That anxiety made him unable to control himself. He muttered softly, "Stepmother... Stepmother, I missed you too..."

Gu Qiqi's heart broke when she heard this.

That soft child-like voice, that mouthful of white and delicate teeth, that pair of big, black, and grape-like eyes were filled with anticipation and grievance... All of them struck a chord in her soft heart.

She really wanted to embrace him completely. She really wished that this was her biological child.

“Little boy... you’re awake. You’re finally awake. I’m so happy!” Her voice was choked with emotion.

However, why did the boy call her Big Sister?

This was very strange!

Gong Jue, who was standing behind Gu Qiqi, frowned.

“Big sister...”

The nurse that the boy had been missing dearly?

He had always thought that the boy was hallucinating. He didn’t expect it to be true.

Moreover, it was actually... Gu Qiqi!

Gong Jue was overwhelmed with emotions.

His son had finally found his little lover.

However, this little lover was his woman.

Should he be happy or unhappy?

He was sullen and not overjoyed that his son had woken up. The doctors and nurses nearby didn’t even dare to breathe loudly. The atmosphere was very subtle!

On the other hand, Gu Qiqi was completely focused. She said gently, “Little boy, does your head hurt? Do you feel unwell anywhere else? Hmm? Let me take a look for you...”

Gu Qiqi’s voice rang out slowly. The little packrat finally felt that something was wrong.

Why did this young lady’s voice sound the same as his stepmother’s?

With an effort, he opened his eyes wide and blinked hard.

He raised his weak little hand to grab Gu Qiqi’s big mask.

Gu Qiqi thought that he wanted to touch her face. She smiled and said, “You’ve been ill for so long, yet you’ve learned to act like a spoiled child. You!”

She leaned against him dotingly and pulled off her mask.

Her hair also fluttered gently to her cheeks.

Her lips were red and her teeth were white. Her skin was as fair as snow, and her eyes were bright. There was a faint smile on her face. Even when she was smiling, there was still a hint of reserved coldness in her eyes, making her bright face look a little otherworldly.

Chapter 1012: Master Jue Has Been Trained as a Pitiful Dog

The little packrat stared at Gu Qiqi in a daze!

“Big sister...”

How did she become his stepmother in a second?!

“Wah...!” His nose twitched, and he began to cry.

Gu Qiqi turned around and glanced at Gong Jue in confusion. “Is there something on my face? I’m surprised that I scared the boy. Can you help me take a look?”

Gong Jue glanced at Gu Qiqi speechlessly, his lips twitching.

In that instant, he understood the entire situation. How was he going to tell Gu Qiqi about how the little packrat had fallen in love with her at first sight?

Wasn’t this a confession on behalf of her love rival?

He absolutely refused!

Gong Jue didn’t speak, and Gu Qiqi grew even more anxious. Afraid that she would scare the boy, she hurriedly took out her hand and wiped her face with it, but she didn’t feel that anything was wrong. In a hurry, she coaxed the boy and patted his back gently. “Be good. Quickly tell Auntie Qiqi where you’re unwell, okay? Did you see something that made you unhappy?”

The little packrat’s eyes were filled with tears. Seeing Gu Qiqi’s nervous and concerned expression, he saw Gu Qiqi’s face clearly this time.

This was indeed a stepmother. A vixen stepmother... His vixen stepmother was fine! She wasn’t injured, she wasn’t missing, and she didn’t lose her life because of him. She appeared in front of him perfectly fine!

That’s great!

The vixen stepmother had returned!

His stepmother was his big sister!

The little packrat hugged Gu Qiqi tightly, refusing to let go. As he was too agitated, his mind ached and he fainted again.

Gu Qiqi was flustered. She hurriedly placed him back on the bed and quickly ordered, “Quick! Breather! Turn on the oxygen! Increase the glucose level! Test the heart rate!”

After some work, the little packrat’s various indicators gradually stabilized.

The medical staff in the room had all been cleared out by Gong Jue.

Only Gu Qiqi and the three of them were left in the room.

There were some things he could finally say to Gu Qiqi.

“Qiqi, actually... The boy saw you a long time ago...” Although Gong Jue was extremely unwilling, he still had to speak.

Gu Qiqi was confused. “What did you say?”

Gong Jue took a deep breath. "Previously, the little boy kept saying that the young lady he loved the most was the nurse he met at Qing City Hospital. I'm afraid you're the one..."

Gu Qiqi was surprised. She glanced at the little fellow on the bed again. "I see..."

In the long corridor of Qing City Hospital, the pitiful little thing who had been squatting in a corner with a sudden burst of intestinal cramps at the entrance of the toilet and the boy who cried his heart out after hearing Bai Lang say that his dad was looking for a stepmother for him were the same child.

Her heart suddenly ached even more.

Gong Jue continued, "However, this is just a child fooling around. Don't take it seriously. Just pretend that you don't exist. According to seniority, you're still his stepmother..."

Gu Qiqi suddenly interrupted him sternly. "Gong Jue! How are you taking care of the child? You're too irresponsible!"

"I..."

"What about you? Look at you. You always leave the boy alone. If it weren't for your negligence, why would he run around the hospital and the clubhouse alone? No one will notice if he's sick, and no one will comfort him if he's sad. Can you reflect on yourself?!"

"I..." Gong Jue had been holding it in for so long that his internal injuries had worsened! He had initially wanted Gu Qiqi to ignore the big sister that the little boy was talking about. In the end, why was Gu Qiqi even more worried about the boy's safety than he was?

Gong Jue, who had been reprimanded like a dog, was speechless...

Chapter 1013: Father Becomes Love Rival

Just as Gu Qiqi was criticizing Gong Jue, the little packrat's fingers moved, showing signs of waking up again.

Gu Qiqi hurriedly abandoned Gong Jue and focused all her attention on the little packrat. She pinched his little finger gently. "Little packrat?"

The little packrat took a deep breath and woke up again.

Gu Qiqi said apologetically, "I'm sorry, little packrat. Did I scare you?"

The little packrat blinked.

Just as Gu Qiqi thought that the little packrat would waver and get angry for a while as he grappled with her identity as a stepmother and big sister...

She had never expected the little packrat to give her another shock!

The weak little fellow actually managed to prop himself up with his soft body. In disbelief, he rolled to his feet. Ignoring the IV needle in his hand, he threw himself into Gu Qiqi's arms without hesitation. In a soft voice, he said, "Stepmother! Baby has finally found you! Don't ever leave me behind again, okay? I want you to be my big sister for the rest of my life, okay?"

His stepmother...

Even though this form of address was so strange, it was... indescribable.

But how could she bear to reject the child's innocent and fervent hope?

She nodded. "Okay."

Behind him, Gong Jue's expression was already as dark as the bottom of a pot.

Damn it, this was clearly my woman. She wanted to have fun with me for the rest of her life. How did she become your little sister for the rest of her life in the blink of an eye?

Little bastard, you've crossed the line!

Gong Jue stopped her unhappily. "No, call her stepmother!"

The little packrat rolled its eyes at him in disdain. "Qiqi is my big sister, not my stepmother! She has already agreed to be with me!"

Gong Jue was speechless. What a sinister little fellow! When did she agree to be with you? She was just comforting you. She just couldn't bear to reject you just now.

Gong Jue snorted and retorted, "Your ages aren't suitable."

The little packrat said, "I don't mind."

Gong Jue exploded. "She wants to marry me!"

The little packrat retorted. "She hasn't agreed to marry you!"

Gong Jue went crazy. "She'll agree to it sooner or later!"

The little packrat couldn't be bothered with him. He pouted his cute little lips and looked at Gu Qiqi. "Big sister, you won't marry this violent man, will you? His life isn't romantic at all. All he does is throw a tantrum. He is also very domineering and unreasonable. Oh right, he has a strange illness that prevents him from touching women. He..."

Now that his stepmother had become his big sister and his biological father had become a love rival, he could not show any mercy to his love rival. He had to criticize him ruthlessly and kick his biological father out of the competition.

Gong Jue was speechless. Was this really his biological son? How could he sell his father out like this?

Gu Qiqi couldn't help but laugh. Why was Gong Jue's shortcomings so adorable after being mocked by the little packrat?

The two of them were truly living treasures. What if she felt that her life in the future would be filled with fun?

But...

At the thought that she had yet to confess her past to Gong Jue and that there were still too many unknowns between them, Gu Qiqi's heart sank.

She took a deep breath and replied, "Yes, I haven't agreed to marry him."

Gong Jue's expression darkened.

The little packrat's face lit up with happiness. "Big sister, you've made the right decision! You have to consider it carefully. Why don't you consider me? I'll be able to grow up and earn money to buy you flowers and accessories soon."

Gu Qiqi's heart melted at his soft and childish words.

Oh my god, such a young kid was actually saying that he would earn money to buy flowers for her.

This was truly the most moving confession she had heard in her two lifetimes.

She couldn't help but hug the little packrat tightly and give him a peck on the cheek. "Okay."

Gong Jue's expression turned as dark as the bottom of a pot!!!

Chapter 1014: Master Jue's Heartache! Gong Qing Suffered!

The little packrat was so happy that he was about to faint again.

Sister had kissed him!

Wuwuwu, what should I do? I'm so happy that I'm about to fly.

He burrowed into Gu Qiqi's arms and refused to leave. "Big Sister, will you sleep here with me tonight? Will you sleep on this bed with me?"

Gong Jue felt that if it weren't for the fact that the little packrat had an IV in his hand, he really wouldn't have been able to resist picking it up and beating this brat up.

He actually wanted to sleep with his woman?

He stared coldly at Gu Qiqi's back, making Gu Qiqi's hair stand on end.

She comforted the little packrat. "The bed is too small. I can't sleep there..."

Gong Jue's cold aura dissipated slightly.

However, in the next second, Gu Qiqi smiled and said, "But I can sit on the chair and accompany you while you sleep."

In an instant, the cold aura pressed down again!

Gu Qiqi coughed a few times and hurriedly changed the topic. "Be good. Lie down. I'll check your body first."

Satisfied, the little packrat lay down obediently.

If Gu Qiqi asked him to raise his hand, he would.

If he was told to stretch his legs, he would.

He didn't even blink when Gu Qiqi drew his blood.

Gu Qiqi fed him the Seven-Leaf Flower. It was so bitter, but he finished it in two or three gulps. He even smacked his lips and put on an obedient and unafraid facade.

Gong Jue almost didn't recognize this little fellow anymore. This was because what this fellow hated the most in his life was needles, blood collection, and medicine.

Why was he so obedient in front of Gu Qiqi?

His son had objected to him marrying his stepmother. He was very troubled.

Now that his son liked this stepmother too much, he realized that his worries had worsened!

Gu Qiqi and the little packrat were as intimate as mother and son. Gong Jue was left alone to sulk.

But soon, he balanced himself.

When Gong Qing and Songsong found out that the little packrat had woken up, they rushed over immediately.

They bumped into the little packrat obediently taking his medicine.

Gong Qing took two steps forward and rushed to the bed. "My darling darling grandson, you've frightened Grandpa. Let Grandpa take a look at you. How are you?"

The little boy was very polite. "Grandpa, I'm fine. I feel great."

Of course he was. This young lady was his all-purpose medicine.

After thinking about it for so long, he finally found her.

Moreover, he had found her after his stepmother had risked her life to save him. Big Sister was his stepmother who loved him so much. There was nothing more beautiful in the world.

Gong Qing nodded repeatedly. "That's good, that's good."

His eyes were already gradually filled with tears.

Over the past few days, he and his wife had been extremely haggard. They couldn't even sleep well. They kept thinking about this child's illness, afraid that something would happen to him.

In his excitement, Gong Qing took a step forward and approached the bed, wanting to gently hug his dear grandson.

However...

Something unexpected happened.

Instinctively, the little packrat flew towards Gu Qiqi.

In a second, he burrowed into his stepmother Gu Qiqi's embrace!

Gong Qing, her biological grandfather, had actually missed!

As a result, Gong Qing was dumbfounded!

He had raised him for four whole years. He spent all his time with him, feeding him food and water, asking about his well-being, and doting on his darling grandson. Yet, overnight, he no longer kissed him. Instead, he kissed an outsider!

A stepmother, a vixen!

His arm froze in midair in embarrassment. He could not accept this!

Gong Jue, who was standing behind him, suddenly smiled unkindly.

So the little packrat wasn't rejecting him. It was rejecting anyone, including his grandfather.

Suddenly, he felt a little better. What was going on?

Even though he felt mentally balanced, he still felt a little sad!

Chapter 1015: The Little Packrat Was Protecting Her!

Gong Qing watched in disappointment as the little packrat burrowed into Gu Qiqi's arms.

In order to hide his embarrassment, he had no choice but to cough and keep a straight face. "Children shouldn't be carried all the time!"

Gu Qiqi raised her eyebrows slightly and looked down at the little packrat. "Did you hear what Grandpa said? You're a little man now. You can't just ask for a hug every now and then."

The little boy let go in a second, though his eyes were filled with reluctance.

Just as Gong Qing was feeling gratified that his words still carried some weight...

In the next second, reality slapped him hard.

The little packrat said to Gu Qiqi in an admiring voice, "Yes, yes. I'll listen to Big Sister. I won't ask for a hug in the future. Whatever Big Sister says is right."

Gong Qing was speechless.

Had he entered the wrong room and found the wrong grandson?!

So the little packrat wasn't listening to him at all. He was listening to Gu Qiqi.

Why were Gu Qiqi's words more effective than his?

What happened to being a stepmother and a vixen? Little boy, have you been beaten silly by the enemy? Is there something wrong with your brain?

Song Song, who was behind him, smiled and tugged at him. "Old man, it's a good thing that the boy is getting close to Qiqi. They're a family of three. Why are you joining in the fun?"

Gong Qing pursed his lips at his wife indignantly. "Where did this family of three come from? Did I approve it?"

The little boy puffed up her cheeks. "Grandpa is right. We're not a family of three."

Gong Qing smiled in relief. Fortunately, his biological grandson knew to agree with him.

He had yet to acknowledge Gu Qiqi as his stepmother!

But in the next second...

The little packrat nestled comfortably in Gu Qiqi's arms. "Sister and I are clearly a family of two."

What the f*ck! His heart... had... been... pricked!

Master Jue, who had been completely ignored, could no longer keep a straight face.

Gong Qing's expression gradually turned to that of Gong Jue's, and he seemed to be about to surpass him. This grandson was definitely picked up from the streets!

The more Gong Qing thought about it, the more upset he felt.

It wasn't easy for his grandson to wake up, but for some reason, his relationship with Gu Qiqi had become so intimate. It was so good. Not only did he obey her every word, but he was like another person.

He actually felt a little jealous and indignant.

Didn't he say that he was on his team? Didn't everyone want to work together to chase Gu Qiqi, this female fox, away from Gong Jue?

What the hell had happened overnight?

The sky had changed!

He didn't believe it!

He was even more unconvinced!

Gong Qing lowered his voice and said in a low voice, "Little boy, have you forgotten how Gu Qiqi lost you in the children's park? She's a vicious stepmother. She can't wait for you to be lost and never return."

The little packrat blinked its big black grape-like eyes and shrank into Gu Qiqi's arms. "Big Sister didn't lose me! She's not a vicious person. When she realized that I was gone, I saw her from behind the pillar. She ran with all her might, and fell so hard that her legs were crippled, bruised, and bleeding... She was still running hard to find me... She must have been in so much pain back then, but she didn't give up looking for me... Sob..."

As the little boy spoke, his voice cracked.

His little hand couldn't help but reach for Gu Qiqi's ankle. He wanted to know how Gu Qiqi's ankle was.

Previously, the people in the room had only seen the surveillance video. They knew that the first thing Gu Qiqi did was run around frantically in search of the little packrat.

However, it was still a blurry video.

At this moment, listening to the little packrat describe the scene with his own mouth made it feel very different.

In his childish words, Gu Qiqi's simple yet persistent protection touched everyone.

No wonder the little packrat would protect her no matter what. Back then, she had risked her life to protect the little packrat!

Chapter 1016: Scheming Little Packrat

From what the little packrat had said, Gong Qing knew that Gu Qiqi had sincerely protected the little packrat back then. A trace of discomfort flashed across his face.

He had always refused to acknowledge Gu Qiqi. Of course, he suspected Gu Qiqi's true motive.

He was afraid that Gu Qiqi would hurt Gong Jue and the little packrat.

But... at this critical moment, Gu Qiqi was protecting the boy so desperately. His doubts were already fading.

However, he still could not completely let his guard down. He could not bring himself to admit that his taste was bad.

Pursing his lips, he snorted. "Who knows if the vixen was just putting on a show for you! Silly boy!"

The little packrat was not confused at all.

His big eyes blinked. Suddenly, he said, "Grandpa, didn't you ask me to hide that day?"

Gong Qing was speechless. Brat, this is a secret! A secret! You can't say it in public! Don't you know?

Hurry up and shut up.

The little packrat, on the other hand, had a confused expression on its face, as if it didn't notice his anxious gaze. It continued speaking, "Grandpa, didn't you ask me to hide and test Big Sister? That's why I hid behind the pillar. I thought I would come out soon, but I didn't expect to be captured... Grandpa, if that bad person is in cahoots with Big Sister, how could they have expected me to hide? If I didn't hide, wouldn't they have no chance to do anything? Therefore, the bad person definitely isn't in cahoots with Big Sister. If you insist on believing that, then Big Sister will have reason to suspect that you sent the bad person! After all, the moment I hid, the bad person discovered me..."

Gong Qing was speechless.

He had been utterly humiliated!

He had been exposed in front of everyone for his scheme to test the vixen.

Her biological grandson even suspected that he was related to the kidnappers.

At the side, Gong Jue was already furious. His voice was cold as he glared at Gong Qing. "So, you were the initiator of that incident? In order to test Qiqi, you tricked the boy?!"

Gong Qing pursed his lips tightly, unable to answer!

Although that wasn't his intention, the truth was that it was!

He blamed himself too! He had always regretted it silently.

Gong Jue didn't intend to let him blame himself silently. He said loudly, "You keep saying that my woman has ulterior motives and that she harbors ill intentions towards the boy and me. In reality, you were the one who messed around and invited the wolf into the house! Gong Qing, what kind of grandfather are you? Are you planning to trap all three of us before you stop? Do you have any other rotten ideas to test Qiqi?"

Gong Qing was utterly humiliated by his son's reprimand.

From the corner of his eye, he saw Gu Qiqi staring at him with a faint smile, as if she was saying, "So it's a test. What's the result of your test? Are you satisfied?"

Damn it, he was mocked and despised by the vixen!

How embarrassing!

Gong Qing's face turned red for a long time before he squeezed out a few words. "I was careless this time. There won't be a next time."

Gong Jue replied coldly, "If there's a next time, I'll disown my family!"

Gong Qing was speechless.

The little packrat's large eyes darted to the side and rested peacefully on Gu Qiqi's chest.

Oh, Daddy and Grandpa, take your time arguing. I want to spend more time with Big Sister.

The little packrat, who had successfully rebuked his grandfather in front of his father, naughtily scratched Gu Qiqi's clothes with its little fingers.

At the side, Songsong watched speechlessly as her husband was rebuked by his grandson and then by his son. Thinking about how pitiful he was as an old fool, she didn't make things worse for him.

Instead, he helped him out of her predicament. "Little packrat, when you were pulled away by the bad guy, did you see what he looked like? Did he have any characteristics? If he did, tell me and help your father find the culprit. Otherwise, if that bad guy is still in the capital, you'll always be in danger."

Chapter 1017: Who's the Culprit?

As soon as Song Song asked this question...

Indeed, Gong Jue and Gong Qing had stopped fighting. They both looked at the little packrat.

"Hurry up and tell me what kind of person he is!"

"Did you see who he was?"

The little boy pondered for a few seconds and said uncertainly, "It's... a man!"

Gong Jue was speechless. Could his son be so stupid?

Gong Qing was also speechless. My grandson couldn't be so stupid!

Gu Qiqi reminded the little packrat softly, "He was wearing a baseball cap at that time. I was too far away from him, so I couldn't see him clearly. When you were grabbed by him, did you notice anything special about his face or body? Or his scent, voice, and height."

With Gu Qiqi's careful reminder, the boy understood.

After some thought, he answered clearly, "I saw that his arms were very thin, and his fingers were like eagle claws. He was also on the thin side, and he moved very nimbly. He was very strong. His face was half-covered, and his chin was pointed. His skin was bumpy, dark, and his teeth were yellow. There was a bitter smell on him, as bitter as the medicinal soup I drank! His voice was especially hoarse and unpleasant, like a drake's voice. Then, his height was average. He was two heads shorter than Papa and Grandpa."

Gong Jue and Gong Qing looked at each other. So it wasn't that their son or grandson was stupid, but that the way they spoke was too stupid!

Gu Qiqi was truly capable. With just a few words, she managed to get the little packrat to reveal so much information.

Gong Jue immediately made a call and gave it to Special Assistant Lu, asking him to pull the search circle again according to the little packrat's instructions.

He was about to hang up.

Gu Qiqi suddenly stopped him. "Wait, I have an idea. I don't know if it's mature or not. Do tell Special Assistant Lu to consider it."

Gong Jue said, "Tell me."

Gong Qing was indifferent.

Gu Qiqi was a female fox. What extraordinary clues could she have?

Hmph, she was definitely inferior to his little packrat.

However, Gu Qiqi's next guess made Gong Qing, an experienced general, look at her in admiration!

Gu Qiqi said, "The little boy said that the smell on that person's body is very bitter. This is a little unique. Most people either have a fragrance or a bad smell. The bitter smell usually comes from medicinal herbs."

The little packrat nodded vigorously. "Yes, yes. It's as bitter as medicinal soup!"

Gu Qiqi comforted his short hair as if she was rewarding him. She continued, "So I'm guessing that this person must have something to do with medicine. Considering that he's very likely to be from S Nation, I think that he might have sneaked in with the S Nation team in this World Medical Tournament! Otherwise, it would be very difficult for ordinary people from S Nation to infiltrate our empire. The top few assassins were either killed by Gong Jue or crippled. There really aren't many left. To have the courage and strength to enter, I'm afraid it's not just his martial strength. His medical skills are also quite outstanding, and his disguise is even stronger."

Gu Qiqi's deduction was well-founded. Gong Qing had nothing to say.

Gong Jue gave her a deep look.

His eyes were filled with admiration for his future wife.

Unfortunately, Gu Qiqi's gaze was completely on the little packrat. All she cared about was rewarding him. "Our little packrat is still the best. The clues were all discovered by him first. When I get the prize in the finals, I'll definitely give him half!"

Gong Jue's lips twitched a few times in frustration.

F*ck, I haven't even gotten my hands on my wife yet, and a little love rival has appeared out of nowhere. My days are numbered!

In his frustration, he said in a low voice, "I'll get Special Assistant Lu to focus on monitoring the people from Country S's representatives. I remember that Luseff, the one who spouted nonsense today, seems to have been arrested? Could it be him? He has a hooked nose!"

Chapter 1018: Almost Conquered by the Vixen

Gu Qiqi nodded. "Yes. He's very thin, as thin as a matchstick. He's also much shorter than you... He's also an apothecary. He must smell of bitter medicine."

Gong Jue frowned. "In that case, this person is very suspicious! Damn Country S. They actually let a doctor sneak in to commit murder! How shameless!"

Gu Qiqi suddenly shook her head. "But I don't think Luseff is the culprit."

Gong Jue asked, "Why?"

Gu Qiqi said, "Although he targeted me in every way during the competition, and looked down on women and nurses, these are all flaws in his personality. However, he has an obsession with medical skills and is extremely competitive. In order to win, he resorted to unscrupulous means. He even dared to hire a hit-and-run and leave behind evidence to be taken away by the police. This is also quite different from the culprit's characteristics."

"That's because the murderer is a very meticulous person. From the day he set up the trap to lure the two of you away and then attacked the little packrat, to the time he managed to escape without a trace, it's obvious that he has a complete plan. He's very well-prepared."

"If Luseff was such a person, he definitely wouldn't have lost to me in yesterday's competition. He wouldn't have broken the delivery man's leg, leaving behind such huge evidence to be taken away by the staff."

'So, Luseff's not the killer. He's not qualified.'

"Let's add the last point. The day before yesterday, when I went to the welcoming banquet, didn't the boy almost get attacked again at the hospital? But that day, Luseff was at the hotel and the banquet all day. If the person who attacked the boy at the hospital is the same person who kidnapped him at the children's park, then he has an alibi. He's not a suspect."

Gu Qiqi's analysis amazed Gong Jue, and Gong Qing looked at her in a new light.

This girl was meticulous and intelligent. She was really different from other girls her age!

Gong Qing couldn't help but ask, "Then what do you suggest?"

Gu Qiqi said, "I suggest that we investigate if there are any other suspicious people in Luseff's team. We should expand the scope."

Gong Jue said, "Okay."

Seeing that Gong Jue was obedient to the vixen, Gong Qing couldn't say a word of objection.

The vixen was not just for show. She had truly won with her strength.

He felt that this entire family was about to be conquered by the vixen.

Even his last ally, the boy, had betrayed him and surrendered to the vixen. He felt like he had nothing left to live for!

Just as he was feeling emotional, he suddenly heard Gu Qiqi give another suggestion. "The finals will start very soon after the group stages end. When the time comes, go to the martial arts school and choose a child who looks like the boy to take with you. Take a seat in the audience. If the murderer is really at the competition venue, he definitely won't be able to help but appear and target the substitute for the boy. At that time, we'll catch a turtle in a jar..."

Gong Jue nodded. "Okay."

The little packrat suddenly objected. "That murderer is very cunning. If he sees a substitute, he won't fall for it. Why don't you let me go? I want to watch Miss Qiqi's competition too!"

Sob. As he was unconscious, he had already missed Miss Qiqi's preliminary round. He definitely couldn't miss the finals.

Gong Jue said with a straight face, "No, it's too dangerous."

The little packrat raised its chin and gave him a disdainful look. "Are you not confident in yourself? With me by your side, can't you protect me?"

Gong Jue was speechless.

The little packrat said, "Moreover, the other party might be too cunning and won't take action at all. But if I were there, perhaps I would have recognized him. Then, the substitute would have no choice but to wait for others to snatch him away. This wouldn't be worth it."

Gong Jue was speechless. Children were too smart. Sometimes, adults would be embarrassed.

Chapter 1019: Taking Care of Her Body All Night

Gu Qiqi was a little worried. "Little packrat, the competition venue really isn't a game. It'll be dangerous."

The little packrat blinked its large, misty eyes. "But I want to watch you compete..."

His tearful expression made one feel that rejecting him was a crime!

Gong Jue's lips twitched.

This brat really knew how to speak to others.

Towards himself, he would be rational and intelligent. Towards Gu Qiqi, he would lower himself to play the emotional card.

Whose genes did this IQ and EQ belong to?!

At the side, Gong Qing was very displeased. He said sourly, "Look, in order to watch the competition, the child doesn't even care about the danger! Hmph, how do you adults guide the child? You've even led the child astray!"

In the dark, he was mocking Gu Qiqi for not teaching her child well.

Hearing Gong Qing mocking his wife again, Gong Jue was displeased. "Since he dared to go to the scene, he should be praised for his courage at such a young age. As a grandfather, how can you be so sarcastic? I think you should reflect on how you educate your grandchild!"

Then, he said to the little packrat, "You can go, but you have to listen to my orders. Don't leave my side."

The little packrat's eyes lit up!

He thought to himself, "Thank you, Grandpa, for being such a useless teammate!"

If Grandpa hadn't objected, perhaps his father wouldn't have agreed so quickly.

He seemed to have accidentally grasped the secret to dealing with these adults!

The little packrat's awakening brought endless joy and gratification to the Gong family.

Gu Qiqi had been guarding him in the ward. He also refused to leave her side.

Gu Qiqi chatted with him the whole day, telling him stories about her childhood. The little packrat listened with relish.

On the other hand, Gong Jue's heart ached for his wife. He felt that Gu Qiqi had spoken too much. Her mouth was dry, and he was afraid that she would be tired.

In the end, he gave the order to stop the little packrat from speaking and go to sleep!

But when he slept, the little fellow insisted on hugging Gu Qiqi's arm to sleep.

Helpless, Gong Jue had no choice but to get someone to move in another large hospital bed to be placed beside him. Then, he made Gu Qiqi lie down at the side and hug the little packrat to sleep.

Of course, he had his own selfish motives.

At ten in the morning.

After the little packrat fell asleep, he shamelessly squeezed himself next to Gu Qiqi, saying that he would help her take care of the child.

In reality...

He had been taking care of Gu Qiqi's body all night, okay?!

Under the worldwide gaze, the finals of the World Medical Tournament arrived as scheduled!

The winners of the first group were the mysterious Young Master Ye and the Bai family's Medical Hall team.

The winners of the second group were Gu Qiqi and the Chu family team from the Empire Medical University.

The winner of the third group was a world-renowned top-notch medical doctor, Professor Brown's team from Country M.

In all the competitions that Professor Brown's team had participated in, they were all champions.

Therefore, before the World Cup began, all the media and medical industry believed that he would definitely win the finals.

However, after the group stages, some people gradually changed their minds.

"The first group's Young Master Ye is extremely talented. His background is a mystery. He might be the descendant of some divine doctor. I'll stand on his side. I think he might be able to bring down Professor Brown's team!"

"The second group's Gu Qiqi is quite amazing as well. Her Bone Setting Technique is simply legendary. The priceless 300-year-old Elderberry Wood in her hands has crushed everyone present. I think she's already at the level of an apothecary. She might not lose in a PK with Professor Brown!"

"As a citizen of the empire, I still hope that Young Master Ye or Doctor Gu will win..."

"Don't you know? In order to know who will win in the end as soon as possible, the tickets to the competition have already been raised to 200,000 yuan each. It's far more expensive than the tickets to this year's Victoria's Secret Angel Show..."

Chapter 1020: I'll Take Responsibility for You

A ticket worth 200,000 yuan per ticket was simply unbelievable in a medical competition.

However, with the appearance of Young Master Ye, Gu Qiqi, and the others, the disbelief of this year's World Medical Tournament instantly turned into reality.

Once again, she stood on the field. Gu Qiqi put on a snow-white surgical gown and a light blue sterile gown. She opened her hands and slowly washed her hands in the disinfectant pool.

This moment felt different from the previous two times!

In the previous two competitions, when she appeared as Young Master Ye, it was to snatch the Seven-Leaf Flower.

When she appeared as Gu Qiqi, it was to crush Luseff, who looked down on women.

This was the only time she was doing this for her medical ideals.

In her previous life, she had possessed medical skills, but she had never stood in the light to show the world her abilities.

Under Gu Meifeng and Gu Xuexue's sinister schemes, she had lived in the dark. Under Gu Xuexue's name, she had completed beautiful surgeries one after another. All the credit and reputation had been snatched away by that shameless mother and daughter.

There was no way she would have a chance to participate in such a high-profile world-class competition to prove herself and exchange pointers with her peers.

Fortunately, the heavens had given her a chance to start over!

She could finally stand on this stage openly with her own strength.

Gu Qiqi's gaze swept across the stage through the big screen.

She saw Gong Jue and the little packrat sitting in the VIP seats.

Gong Jue and the little packrat were wearing a blue suit and a coquettish pink sweater she had bought for them. They were simply dressed like they had been on the day of the children's playground. They were so adorable!

Gu Qiqi smiled happily.

She was very happy to have someone she cared about observing her medical skills.

Her gaze swept across the two operating theaters opposite her. Inside were the Bai Medical Hall team and Professor Brown's team.

In the operating theater of the Bai family's National Medical Hall, Bai Lang was spinning around in circles. He was about to go crazy!

"Where's Young Master Ye? Why can't we contact him? Is he going to abandon us at the critical moment?"

He called Young Master Ye, but no one picked up.

He called the manager of Dige again, but the manager replied uneasily that Young Master Ye had never left anything behind. He had always left mysteriously...

Bai Lang was about to despair.

Seeing Bai Lang's worried expression, Gu Qiqi's smile widened.

She made a call.

In less than a minute.

The delivery man, Wang Kuaidi, was wearing a professional delivery suit. He walked as fast as the wind and arrived at the operating theater of Bai Lang's team. He handed a delivery box to Bai Lang and said, "Sir, this is from a young master surnamed Ye. Please sign for it."

From afar, Gu Qiqi saw Bai Lang's dumbfounded expression. She laughed heartily from the bottom of her heart and said silently, "Little Lang Lang, I won't abandon you. Don't worry, since I've promised you, I'll naturally take responsibility until the end!"

Unfortunately, she could not be present in person.

Gu Qiqi's gaze moved away from Bai Lang and turned to Professor Brown's team.

The famous doctor, Brown, who rarely showed his face, finally revealed his true colors. He was an old man in his seventies. His hair and beard had all turned white, and he was plump, but his gaze was still as sharp as an eagle's.

His hands were also chubby, but the way he held the scalpel made one feel that he was definitely not inferior to a young man in his twenties.

So this was Professor Brown.

He was also the father of the little blonde beauty, Suzanne.
