

Dear Chief 1041

Chapter 1041: Whoever Marries This Man...

Gu Qiqi and Gong Jue widened their eyes and stared for a few seconds.

Gong Jue ignored her explanation and suddenly said, "Eat bun..."

His voice was magnetic and lazy. Where was his usual arrogance?

The switch in Gu Qiqi's mind seemed to have been turned on in an instant. Oh my god, she almost forgot that this man was cute when he woke up.

During the few minutes he got out of bed, he was the most harmless and adorable obedient large dog!

Gu Qiqi was a little excited. She wrapped herself in the blanket and sat up. She teased him with a smile. "There's no breakfast at the hospital. There's only yogurt and taro. Do you want to eat it? Call me Sister and I'll get it for you. I'll feed it to you..."

Gong Jue was sleepy for a moment. He seemed to have thought for a moment. The messy hair on his forehead was casually loose, making his eyebrows especially gentle. "No, I only want to eat buns..."

But his movements were not gentle at all!

Gu Qiqi's face instantly flushed red!

Fuck, the stupid man was actually talking about eating her buns.

Enough is enough!!!

Her small body flashed and she barely dodged Gong Jue's "claw". She shyly pulled her pajamas tighter and didn't give him any more chances. "How annoying! It's getting late. Hurry up and get up to eat!"

She was in no mood to tease him.

Who knew if she would end up at a disadvantage?

She had finally seen through this man's impure nature.

Eat buns? Eat my ass!

None for him!

Gu Qiqi was about to get down to get food.

Gong Jue suddenly chased after her lazily. "I have a big yam here... and yogurt... Do you want it?"

Gu Qiqi didn't react at first.

When she scanned Gong Jue from head to toe and wondered why he had a big yam and yogurt the moment she woke up. She suddenly understood who gave him food!

Damn!

She finally knew how he got her so-called breakfast!

She had almost been fooled by him and was still thinking seriously about where breakfast had come from.

She was unobservant!

Gu Qiqi escaped.

Heavens, if anyone were to marry this man, their daily life in the future would probably be filled with riddles, right? Then, when they saw something or a word, they would have to be careful if a certain man would give them other meanings. How scary!

However, how could Gong Jue let her go?

This cute man was still very strong.

His long legs even took a step to the door, directly knocking the fleeing little woman against the door!

“Don’t you want to have breakfast properly?” Gong Jue stared at her seriously.

He pointed at her little face meaningfully. “I heard that using acid N to make a girl’s face mask will have a beautifying effect and make your skin better. If you don’t eat a good breakfast, not only will you lose the beautification effect, you will also lack nutrition and grow old poorly...”

Gu Qiqi said, “I don’t need beauty treatments or nutrition...!”

She was going to collapse.

In the future, could these good foods still be eaten properly? It was simply unbearable.

Just as she was about to collapse.

Abruptly, the door was pushed inward from the outside.

“Sister, Brother-in-law!”

The door was pushed open, and Xiao Bei’s clear voice sounded.

Gu Qiqi was so embarrassed that she couldn’t show her face. Even though she knew that Xiao Bei couldn’t see because he was blind, she quickly pushed Gong Jue away and quickly tidied up her clothes. She steadied her breathing. “Huh? Xiao Bei, why are you here?”

The bright red glow on her face could not be concealed!!!

Chapter 1042: I’ll Bring You to Smash Their Dog Faces

Xiao Bei pushed open the door and walked in. His voice was filled with the innocence of a young man. “Sister, Brother-in-law, I’m here to see the little boy. I heard that he’s been sick for so many days and I was very worried, so I made a robot gift for him. I hope he’ll be happy... Oh right, there was a food cart passing by the door just now. I brought breakfast for you directly. It’s soy milk and fried dough sticks. It smells quite fragrant. You guys have been hungry for some time, right?”

Gong Jue, who was already a little more awake, was speechless.

My little Gong Jue is very hungry!

Gu Qiqi, who had already lowered her head and was about to crawl into the crack in the floor, was speechless.

From now on, please don't mention the words soybean milk and fried dough sticks to her!

Xiao Bei didn't notice at all. He fumbled around and placed breakfast on the dining table, looking like he wouldn't leave until they ate properly.

Under the supervision of her biological brother, Gu Qiqi ate her last meal of soy milk and fried dough sticks with tears in her eyes... As Gong Jue bit the fried dough sticks, he thought about buns...

Apart from visiting the little boy, Xiao Bei had an important mission this time.

"Sis, is your phone turned off? Grandpa said he couldn't reach you."

Xiao Bei reminded her.

Gu Qiqi quickly turned on her phone.

As the scumbag Mu Liuchuan kept calling her yesterday, she was so annoyed that she simply removed the battery.

In the end, she forgot about turning it back on.

"Why is Grandpa looking for me?"

"Grandpa said that tonight, Gu Xuexue is holding her engagement at Fleur House. Sister, you know where Fleur House is, right?"

"I know," Gu Qiqi said calmly.

Fleur House was a luxurious seafood restaurant opposite the Empire State Building's presidential palace. It was said that the booking for one night was more than a hundred thousand yuan.

Hehe, Mu Liuchuan had really invested a lot in Gu Xuexue to give her face.

Xiao Bei continued, "Grandpa asked us to attend tonight. Although he's not very satisfied with this marriage, it's still a marriage between the Gu family and the Mu family. It's best if our family isn't absent."

Gu Qiqi raised her brows.

Really, the family can't be absent?

But didn't Mu Liuchuan specially come to tell her not to go last night? Didn't he say that Gu Xuexue didn't even leave a seat for her at the banquet?

Gu Qiqi said calmly, "I still have to participate in the second half of the World Medical Tournament tonight. I'm not going. Tell Grandpa that you'll accompany him."

Gong Jue, who was listening at the side, suddenly interrupted and asked coldly, "Why not? If you don't go, that idiot Mu Liuchuan will think that you still have feelings for him and are afraid of seeing them being lovey-dovey! Go, I'll bring you to smash their faces!"

Gu Qiqi glanced at Gong Jue in annoyance.

In front of a child like Xiao Bei, can't you be a little more restrained?

Gong Jue's Adam's apple bobbed as he changed his words. "Yes, we have to go. Don't they just want to show off their marriage? Go and tell them that your wedding will be ten thousand times more awesome than theirs. Your future husband can crush them with a finger."

Gu Qiqi swallowed her saliva.

Uh... it was really difficult to decide whether smashing or crushing them was more ferocious!

In the end, Gu Qiqi still called Old Master Gu personally and told him that she was participating in the competition tonight. She wanted to see the exact situation of the competition.

Since there was a celebration after the competition, whether she won an award or failed, it was not good to be absent.

Chapter 1043: Rough Men Actually Have Cute Times

Gu Qiqi didn't have much time to accompany Xiao Bei. She still had to rush back to the laboratory to observe the patient's recovery and reduce the dosage of the medicinal wine.

Therefore, after breakfast, Xiao Bei went to look for the little packrat and promised to stay with the little packrat today to watch Gu Qiqi's live broadcast of the finals. This way, he could make up for the little packrat's regret of not being able to watch the competition live.

Watching Xiao Bei and the little packrat play intimately together, and listening to the little packrat call out "Uncle Xiao Bei" in admiration...

Gu Qiqi felt very guilty. "Xiao Bei is too sensible. He works hard to learn everything and complete everything alone. Sometimes, my heart really aches when I see him like this. But I'm so useless. I've been in the capital for so long, but I still haven't found a prescription to treat Xiao Bei's eyes..."

Gong Jue's eyes darkened as he wrapped his arms around her small waist from behind. "Silly girl. This isn't your fault. Besides, you've already solved the mystery of the Medicine Manual. How many people can't do this? I won't allow you to blame yourself anymore! You've already done your best!"

Gu Qiqi's tone carried a trace of disappointment as she shook her head slightly. "Although I've found the Medicine Manual, there's no prescription for treating eye diseases there. I've already memorized the prescriptions in my mind. I've been thinking and studying it repeatedly for the past two days, but I haven't found it."

"How could this be?" Gong Jue didn't know much about medicine. "Could you have seen it wrongly?"

"It can't be wrong. Although I haven't come into contact with many of the prescriptions before, I know the medicinal properties very well. I can understand what prescriptions are used to treat illnesses after studying them. However, none of the prescriptions in the Medicine Manual are used to treat eye diseases."

Gong Jue also frowned. "Perhaps the Medicine Manual isn't as magical as the rumors say! I'll accompany you to find famous doctors all over the world. I'll definitely find someone who can treat Xiao Bei for you."

Gu Qiqi pursed her lips. She knew that this man would do anything for her. She pondered for a moment and said, "The contestants who came to the World Medical Tournament this time are already the top doctors in the world. I've also communicated with them during the competition, including Professor Brown. They've never heard of Xiao Bei's illness and have never seen it before. They're helpless... I think I might as well study the Medicine Manual seriously myself. Actually, I've thought of a possibility now. Could this Medicine Manual be incomplete? If there's another half in a certain corner of the world... Perhaps Xiao Bei still has hope!"

Gong Jue didn't care if there was still half or 80-90% left of this Medicine Manual. As long as Gu Qiqi wanted to do something, he would support her unconditionally.

"What's so difficult about that? I'll get you a helicopter squadron and search the entire world! You don't have to worry!" Gong Jue waved his hand and simply looked down on the world.

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

Okay, this simple, rough man was just that cute.

In the lab.

Gu Qiqi's patient woke up from a good sleep.

The first thing she wanted to do was look in the mirror, but there was no mirror in the operating theater!

Unable to resist the urge to see the effects, she came up with an idea. She leaned against the glass door and looked!

Just as she was bending down and pressing her face against the reflective glass door to observe her rotten face, which was originally swollen from allergies, the glass door suddenly pushed open!

She was almost knocked to the ground.

She lowered her head in embarrassment. "Dr. Gu..."

Gu Qiqi smiled and did not mock her for caring about her looks. Instead, she reassured her.

Chapter 1044: What Kind of Wine Is She Brewing?

"Don't worry. I, Gu Qiqi, have never failed in cosmetic surgery in my two lifetimes! This time is naturally no exception. 100%!" Gu Qiqi comforted the patient confidently.

In her previous life, she focused on the cardiac and ophthalmology department, but she was actually quite talented in beauty treatments. She had once been coerced by Gu Meifeng and had no choice but to use Gu Xuexue's identity to perform facial surgery for many rich ladies.

Some people even changed their entire heads in order to pursue extreme beauty.

Their features, skin, and bones were no longer original.

She had never failed such a big face-changing operation.

It was also because of her cosmetic surgery skills that Gu Xuexue gained fame. Those rich ladies liked Gu Xuexue very much and thought that Gu Xuexue had restored their beauty and won back their husbands' hearts.

Therefore, any good resources or opportunities would be thrown at Gu Xuexue without hesitation.

At this moment, the patient didn't understand why Gu Qiqi said "two lifetimes". However, she understood that Gu Qiqi definitely wouldn't fail.

The patient was reassured.

Gu Qiqi helped her back to the bed and carefully checked her various indicators. She also opened a new bottle of "wine" for her. It was half smeared on her and half drunk!

The light green wine was very special. It exuded a mysterious luster.

Soon!

A day passed.

Finally, it was the second half of the finals!

For the sake of the competition, the organizing committee invited all the reporters and media from all over the world to the venue. They set up their cameras to witness this scene that would excite the entire medical world and the general public.

The first group, Young Master Ye's patients, displayed their effects!

When the patient removed her veil, revealing her fair and tender skin, everyone was stunned.

Young Master Ye and Bai Lang only used masks.

How many heaven-defying beauty herbs did that mask contain? Could it restore youth? Could it turn eighty to eighteen?

Or could it turn twenty-eight to eighteen...

The crowd erupted.

Young Master Ye had crushed everyone the moment he came out and was definitely first.

The key was that Young Master Ye did not show up during the entire process.

In an instant, countless business calls seeking cooperation blew up Bai Lang's phone!

The judges were already on the scoreboard, waving their pens as they unloaded 100 points.

Anyone who did not give Young Master Ye 100 points for his beauty treatment would be retarded.

Yet.

When Gu Qiqi's patient appeared and displayed her effects.

The judges were dumbfounded.

As the veil was removed, a fair and flawless face appeared in front of everyone!

Unlike Young Master Ye's patient, this girl was not only fair, but also rosy. It was as if she had been nourished by good medicinal herbs for 20 years and exuded a spiritual aura.

But just a day ago, her face had been ruined beyond recognition.

On this day, Gu Qiqi didn't do any treatment at all. She only drank a little with her.

Was a little wine really so effective?

What kind of wine is this!

Could it be that it was made by immortals?

"It's the Green Rice Wine. It brings out the beauty that belongs to this girl from the inside out. Young Master Ye only cares about external beauty. I care about internal and external beauty. I'm all-rounded."
Gu Qiqi smiled and cleared the confusion.

Sorry, little Lang Lang, I let you down!

The scene was noisy again!!!

Green Rice Wine!

Gu Qiqi could actually get her hands on the Green Rice Wine. It was said that the recipe for this Green Rice Wine had long been lost. Back then, it was only a mysterious few tribes at the borders of the empire that knew how to brew it... The people of that tribe were also in a mess now...

Gu Qiqi actually knew it too?!

Incredible!

Chapter 1045: Questioned for Using Hormones

Gu Qiqi's Green Rice Wine caused a commotion.

The audience couldn't help but stand up and beg to buy it!

The pharmaceutical companies withdrew their calls from Bai Lang and started chasing after Gu Qiqi's team to seek cooperation!

The judges were even more embarrassed. They had just finished writing and gave Young Master Ye 100 points. Could it be that they still had to give Gu Qiqi 100 points at this moment?

If they had known earlier, they would have given Young Master Ye 99 points so they would have left some leeway.

Just as they were at their wits' end, a judge finally slapped his forehead and thought of a way to interrogate Gu Qiqi. "You said that this is Green Rice Wine. How can you prove it? The real way to brew Green Rice Wine has long been lost. You're not from the Jing Ning She Clan. Where did you get the recipe? Perhaps you added some hormonal medicine to the wine?"

As everyone knew, hormonal drugs could temporarily increase the brightness and fairness of a person's skin. It could even treat skin allergies.

However, once stopped, the condition usually repeated ferociously.

In fact, it would be worse than before.

So to maintain the effect, people could only continue to use hormonal drugs and this would lead to hormonal dependence.

Over time, the side effects of hormones would cause greater harm to the human body. Moreover, the skin would also leave behind negative effects such as pigmentation.

Therefore, the judges' doubts could be said to be quite harsh!

There was finally a moment of silence. The people who had been in a frenzy suddenly calmed down. No one wanted to chase a drug that might have used hormones, even if the effect was magical.

Gong Jue, who was watching the live broadcast in the VIP room, instantly had a furious expression. "Who is that judge? Does he want to die?"

Beside him, Special Assistant Lu quickly presented the judge's information. "Sir, that judge is a professional troll. He has never treated the contestants well. He's always finding fault with them. Should we... teach him a lesson?"

Special Assistant Lu thought about how when Young Master Ye was competing, a judge had said bad things about him. Master Jue was furious and instructed him to secretly arrange for those people to not be able to survive in the future!

Now that it was Young Lady Qiqi's turn to be questioned and criticized in public, Master Jue would definitely defend her even more, right?

The treatment couldn't be worse than that stinky man, Young Master Ye.

Who would have thought?

Gong Jue's reaction completely surprised Special Assistant Lu.

After a brief moment of anger, he calmly snorted. "No."

His wife could crush this jumping grasshopper with a finger.

If he had the pleasure of snatching his wife and crushing the grasshopper, he would be too tactless. After all, his wife had just said yesterday that there were some things she could handle herself. He should not get involved.

Well, then he'll just have to stand behind her and give her the support when needed.

His wife will torture the scum. Attack!

Special Assistant Lu had no idea what the Chief was thinking.

He sadly thought that the Chief's love for Young Master Ye had unknowingly surpassed Young Lady Qiqi's.

Look, when Young Master Ye was competing, Master Jue was so excited.

When he watched Young Lady Qiqi's competition again, Master Jue was much calmer.

When Young Master Ye was questioned, Master Jue clearly ordered to destroy him.

Young Lady Qiqi was questioned, and Master Jue stopped talking.

Wuwuwu, Young Lady Qiqi, I feel that it's not worth it for you. You actually lost to a pretty boy in the end!

Young Lady Qiqi, don't worry. I will help you!

Chapter 1046: Strong Counterattack!

Young Lady Qiqi, I will definitely help you chase away that gigolo Young Master Ye and let Young Master Ye and that playboy Bai Lang become a couple. You and Master Jue will be together forever...

In his heart, Special Assistant Lu was already secretly planning...

Little did he know that at this moment.

In front of the stage.

Faced with the question, Gu Qiqi already said calmly, "The Green Rice Wine brewed by the Jing Ning She clansmen doesn't have any hormonal drugs. The raw materials of the basic wine are all taken from natural Chinese herbs. Using the academic terms of Western medicine to explain, they are rich in grape polyphenols, tea polyphenols, anthocyanins, salamanders, aromatic oils, natural antioxidants, and other substances. This is the fundamental reason why Green Rice Wine is anti-oxidizing and anti-allergic. It can also strengthen skin elasticity and softness, delaying aging, and achieve a strong beautification effect."

Hearing Gu Qiqi say it so professionally and sincerely, everyone was a little relieved.

It was obvious that Gu Qiqi had studied it carefully. What she said made sense!

However, the judge was relentless. "Hmph, of course these ingredients might be included, but we can't rule out the hormonal drugs you added!"

Oh dear, why did they feel that the judge's rebuttal made sense too!

The onlookers were in a dilemma!

Gu Qiqi's lips curled up slightly, as if she had already expected the judge to ask this question. She said coldly again, "This is very simple. Take my Green Rice Wine and test it. You'll know if there are any hormones. Moreover, I'll publicize the formula for the Green Rice Wine for free today. Everyone, you're welcome to comment! I'll compensate you 10,000 yuan if it's fake!"

Wow!

Gu Qiqi's promise caused a thousand ripples.

It could be said to be a powerful counterattack!

Who would dare to say something so impressive without some confidence?

Moreover, Doctor Gu was actually willing to announce such a precious prescription. This was not something an ordinary person could do!

"I believe in Dr. Gu!"

"Dr. Gu's medical skills are obvious. She's definitely not the kind of person who would tamper with the medicine!"

"That's right. I also saw Dr. Gu participating in the surgery in the group stage. She has always been a special professional and responsible doctor. How could she fake the medicine?"

"Let's not talk about anything else. If Doctor Gu is willing to share the expensive prescription for free, I'll trust Doctor Gu unconditionally!"

More and more people stood on Gu Qiqi's side and supported her.

The questioning judge, however, blushed as if he had been slapped in the face. He was too ashamed to show his face.

Feeling embarrassed, he straightened his neck and gave one last blow. "You make it sound so nice. Who knows if you'll announce it after the competition? What's the use of making it sound so good now?"

"I'll announce it now. What's the hurry? Don't be anxious." Gu Qiqi pointed at the big screen calmly.

Indeed!

In the next second, a huge picture of a handwritten prescription lit up on the big screen!

The handwriting was delicate and elegant, with a hint of unrestrained confidence.

It was the prescription written by Gu Qiqi herself.

The recipe for this Green Rice Wine happened to be recorded in the Medicine Manual. Even the herbs were picked and refined by her on the spot. The pure ancient recipe was probably even more authentic than the lost recipe of the Jing Ning She Clan.

Of course, the medicinal effect was magical!

The judges and audience stared intently at the prescription and jotted it down in their notebooks. Meanwhile, the pharmaceutical companies were frantically taking photos.

It would be a waste not to take a photo of it. This prescription was priceless. With it, even if they didn't cooperate with Gu Qiqi, they could still earn a lot. It was too satisfying!

Except...

When everyone's gaze stopped on the last ingredient, they were dumbfounded.

Young Lady Qiqi, are you really not here to scam us?

Dr. Gu, it's impossible for us to find this last ingredient!!!

Chapter 1047: Make the Little Bitch Crazy With Jealousy!

In the green wine recipe that Gu Qiqi had announced.

The last medicine was the 300-year-old Bone Setting Wood!

It was not that the Bone Setting Wood could not be found, but 300-year-old Bone Setting Wood was extremely rare!

Only Gu Qiqi and the wealthy Chu Clan could take out 300-year-old Bone Setting Wood.

Therefore, it was true that this prescription had been announced. Gu Qiqi was also honest and didn't hide anything. However, the problem was that it was useless for everyone to have this prescription because without 300-year-old Bone Setting Wood, it was impossible to concoct the Green Rice Wine.

Therefore, the production rights of the Green Rice Wine were still firmly in the hands of Gu Qiqi and the Chu Group.

Cunning. Too cunning.

Scheming, too scheming!

Everyone loved and hated Gu Qiqi.

The pharmaceutical companies who wanted to take a shortcut and not cooperate with Gu Qiqi and the Chu clan choked. They couldn't say anything and obediently shrank their heads again. They quickly continued to please Gu Qiqi's team and continued to seek cooperation!

But for the audience, the effect was minimal.

Even if they had a prescription, they did not know how to brew wine themselves. In the end, they still hoped that a pharmaceutical company could produce it. They would just buy it.

If Gu Qiqi's prescription was announced, it would be a win-win situation.

Gong Jue, who was in the VIP room, couldn't help but smile. "Stupid woman, well done! As expected of my woman!"

In the operating theater next door, Bai Lang stomped his feet indignantly. "Scheming! Cunning! Little vixen, you really can't change your nature! Hmph! My Young Master Ye is better. He's beautiful and has a good heart!"

Unfortunately, Young Master Ye still did not appear in the finals.

Sigh, his Xiao Ye was just too low-key...

After Gu Qiqi perfectly displayed the recovery effects of her medical skills and patients, even if the judges were unwilling, they could only give her a full score of 100 points.

Even the judge who was the most unconvinced and had been making things difficult for Gu Qiqi wrote 100 points with tears in his eyes.

Who would still want to fight to the death and deduct points? They were simply morons.

It was an insult to the audience's intelligence to give such a flawless medical process a low score.

Finally, it was the turn of the last team, Professor Brown's team.

Professor Brown's patient came to the front of the stage and gently lifted the veil.

Oh...

The recovery was passable.

The allergy was gone from the face. The whitening needle was showing. The collagen-filled portion was bulging.

Nothing was wrong, but it just looked a little awkward.

The audience didn't know, but the judges understood immediately: it was an overdose of whitening needles and collagen. In order to pursue surgical results, and to whiten quickly, they had to use drugs in large doses.

As a result, the patient's face was a little swollen and a little stiff.

This was more commonly known as the unnatural fossil face.

This effect was actually not bad in the beauty industry.

However, he was competing with Young Master Ye and Gu Qiqi's medical skills!!!

Compared to the two, Professor Brown's medical work became useless.

The judges looked at each other with complicated expressions and wrote down the score with difficulty...

At this moment.

In Furong Pavilion, a high-end seafood restaurant in the capital.

The decorations were celebratory.

On the red carpet, Gu Xuexue was dressed in an exquisite white bridal dress. She was already prepared to attend the engagement ceremony.

Looking at the dozens of reporters invited below the stage, Gu Meifeng was very satisfied. She said in Gu Xuexue's ear, "Liuchuan still knows how to conduct himself and values you very much. I heard that he specially gave each of the reporters a big red packet and asked them to take the most beautiful photos of you tonight. Tomorrow morning, you'll be in the headlines! Hmph, that little b*tch Gu Qiqi will probably be so jealous that she'll go crazy!"

Chapter 1048: An Unknown Eighteenth-tier Socialite

She heard that Mu Liuchuan had actually put so much effort into preparing for the wedding.

Gu Xuexue smiled sweetly. "Really? Mommy, how much did he pay the reporters?"

Gu Meifeng spread out a hand and lifted a few fingers. "This number."

"Five hundred per person?" Usually, when reporters interviewed people, they would get at most one or two hundred yuan as a reward.

Gu Meifeng curled her lips. "How can he take out five hundred? Of course it's five thousand."

Five thousand yuan per person. There were dozens of reporters here. That was not a small sum. It was a few hundred thousand yuan for hard work.

Gu Xuexue felt sweetness in her heart.

"Brother Liuchuan really cares about me. If only this engagement banquet could be chosen in the banquet hall of the presidential palace..." Gu Xuexue was greedy and looked at the majestic building opposite the Furong Pavilion.

The banquet hall of the presidential palace was a place where top socialites went.

She also wanted to announce her marriage there in a beautiful wedding dress.

How glorious!

Gu Meifeng spat. "Silly child, how can you afford to go to that kind of place just because you have money? If you can go there just because you have money, Liuchuan will definitely do it for you. Lower your voice, don't let others laugh at you. The banquet hall of the presidential palace is a place to receive foreign guests. Only the president's daughter can have the honor of holding a banquet in that kind of banquet hall... Our ordinary upper-class families are either in Dige or Furong Pavilion. It's already a top-notch enjoyment. The Mu family feels that it's not good to have it in a casino in Dige, so they chose the traditional Furong Pavilion. You're not allowed to throw a tantrum in front of Liuchuan later..."

Gu Xuexue felt much better when she heard her mother's explanation. "Yes, I understand, Mommy. I will know my limits."

The booking fee of more than 100,000 yuan, the hard work of hundreds of thousands of reporters, and the buffet of snacks and drinks for this engagement banquet, as well as the gorgeous decorations of the venue, added up to more than a million yuan.

Although the Mu family was facing a business crisis, they were still willing to pay such a huge sum of money to organize the engagement banquet. They were taking this marriage very seriously.

How could Gu Xuexue not be satisfied?

Still, she was a little worried...

“Mommy, the reporters won’t ask about how I seduced Young Master Ye during the competition and how Brother Liuchuan and I were caught in a hotel room, right?”

Gu Meifeng sneered. “That’s why I said that Liuchuan knows how to conduct himself. Those reporters took 5,000 yuan. Who would be insensible enough to ask questions?”

Gu Xuexue was completely relieved and smiled sweetly. “Mommy, then our banquet today will be broadcasted live on television, right?”

Gu Meifeng hesitated for a moment and said, “Live television broadcast... is a little difficult, but two online radio stations have agreed to give us three minutes.”

Tonight, the television stations and online media were all focused on the finals of the World Medical Tournament. Who would split their time with an unknown eighteenth-tier socialite?

She comforted Gu Xuexue. “We’re not pursuing a live broadcast. We just need to catch the headlines tomorrow morning! It’s best if there’s still news of Gu Qiqi’s defeat in the headlines!”

Gu Xuexue smiled. “Mommy, I saw WeChat just now. A friend forwarded a photo of Gu Qiqi being bullied by the judges. The judge came out and accused her of faking the medicine and adding hormones. Do you think she can still make a comeback? She must have lost to Young Master Ye and Dr. Brown...”

Gu Meifeng nodded. “Yes, when your grandfather comes later, pretend to inadvertently remind him to see Gu Qiqi’s ugly appearance when she fails...”

“Okay, Mommy!”

Chapter 1049: The Engagement Was Ruined

As the two of them were chatting, the Mu family’s attendant suddenly ran over in a panic. “Mrs. Gu, Miss Gu, my young master said that he won’t be appearing on screen later. Miss Xuexue, you can just appear on screen with the parents of both parties to announce the marriage... Please be prepared...”

Gu Xuexue’s sweet smile froze on her face.

How could she attend her engagement party with Mu Liuchuan alone with the parents of both parties?

This wasn’t a netherworld marriage!!!

It’s not like she was marrying a ghost!!!

Gu Meifeng was also anxious. “What’s wrong with your young master? How can he screw up at the last minute? Of course, an engagement can only be counted if both parties appear at the same time.”

The Mu family’s follower had a bitter expression. “Young Master, Young Master is also doing this for everyone’s face...”

Gu Meifeng put her hands on her hips. “Then doesn’t my daughter want her face? What kind of logic is this? It’s embarrassing for him not to attend. What is he thinking?!”

Gu Xuexue bit her lip and a hint of suspicion flashed across her face. "Does your young master still have some thoughts about that little b*tch Gu Qiqi and want to see the final results of that little b*tch? Is that why he didn't even come to the engagement ceremony?"

The Mu family follower avoided his gaze and quickly waved his hand. "No... No..."

Miss Xuexue was half right!

At this moment, Young Master was indeed bored in the lounge. He raised his phone and watched Young Lady Qiqi's live broadcast alone.

However, that was not the only reason why Young Master refused to attend the engagement ceremony.

Actually...

Damn it, he was just a little follower. He could not say anything.

Seeing that his attendant wanted to say something but hesitated, Gu Meifeng was furious.

She pulled Gu Xuexue's hand and walked backstage angrily. "Are you the only follower in your Mu family? Where's Mrs. Mu and Mr. Mu? Where is your young master now? Does your Mu family value this engagement ceremony?!"

The attendant was even more speechless.

Mu Liuchuan hid in the lounge alone to watch the live broadcast.

A few minutes before the engagement ceremony, Mr. Mu suddenly received a call saying that his illegitimate son had a cold and fever. His fever was 39.9 degrees. He immediately abandoned the banquet and drove out.

Mrs. Mu was so angry that she smashed her cup and chased after him.

Her husband had actually left her eldest son's engagement party for an illegitimate child. She couldn't take this lying down! She was going to beat that shameless brat to death and his damned mistress mother!

Now that the Mu family was in a mess, only the second young master of the Mu family, Mu Tianyu, was still helping to entertain the reporters and guests.

But it was useless. He couldn't witness the engagement as an elder, right?

Gu Meifeng was so angry that she pulled Gu Xuexue to the backstage lounge to look for them one by one.

Finally, she found the dispirited Mu Liuchuan in the innermost room.

Mu Liuchuan was lying on the sofa with a row of empty wine bottles on the table. The screen of his phone was playing the scene of the World Medical Tournament finals.

At this moment, Professor Brown's patient had just finished his appearance and the judges were giving him a score.

Mu Liuchuan didn't even look at Professor Brown. Instead, he stared at Gu Qiqi, who was standing calmly beside him!

Gu Xuexue felt her blood boil. "Brother Liuchuan, what are you doing? Today is our engagement day!"

What was so worthy of Brother Liuchuan's attention that he didn't even want to attend the engagement ceremony with her?

Gu Meifeng's observation angle was different from Gu Xuexue's.

When she looked Mu Liuchuan up and down, she realized—

"Young Master Mu, your face... Why, why is it ruined?"

Chapter 1050: Didn't the Little B*tch Lose the Competition?

Mu Liuchuan's originally gentle and handsome face was now covered in bruises.

It was simply shocking!

It was as if he had just fought with someone. The other party was really not polite. He hit him directly in the most embarrassing place. That scar would not heal without ten days or half a month.

However, he did not care about the injuries on his face at all. Instead, he continued to stare at the screen of the finals in a daze and muttered, "Am I wrong... Did I choose wrongly..."

No one knew what he was talking about. He said he had chosen wrongly. Did he mean the date of the engagement? Or was it the woman who he was getting engaged to?

Gu Xuexue looked at Gu Qiqi's face on the screen and was instantly filled with jealousy and hatred.

This little b*tch was actually so far away and did not forget to ruin her engagement. How could she let her have her way?

She grabbed Mu Liuchuan's hand, snatched the phone, and threw it on the ground. "Brother Liuchuan, the engagement banquet is about to begin. There are so many reporters and guests waiting. Do you have the cheek to embarrass the Mu family and the Gu family? Even if you don't consider me, you have to consider the Mu family and your future!"

Mu Liuchuan made a sound, and a smoky smell of alcohol surged. It was very smelly.

He seemed to sober up for a moment because he heard about the Mu family's reputation and his own future. "Aren't there still my parents? They... burp... they accompanied you to attend..."

"Your parents are gone! They don't even care about you! Are you willing to let them give all their resources to your second brother and your father's illegitimate son? Brother Liuchuan, wake up. Why don't you marry me and have children to consolidate your status? Do you want to use your status as a son or wait for the Mu family's assets to fall into the hands of others?" Gu Xuexue gritted her teeth and directly revealed the benefits between the two of them.

If she played the little white rabbit again, Brother Liuchuan would not marry her!

Mu Liuchuan's eyes froze for a moment. Finally, he stood up. "I... will... get married! But my face..."

“We can wear couple masks!” Gu Xuexue had an idea and felt that she was too smart.

She hurriedly helped Mu Liuchuan dress up and tidy up.

On the other side, Gu Meifeng took the opportunity to contact the private detective she had been hiring. “Send me the photo of you took when following Mu Liuchuan last night. I want to know what happened to him last night!”

When the private detective sent a few photos of Gu Qiqi meeting Mu Liuchuan, Gu Meifeng was so angry that she almost slammed the table. She pulled Gu Xuexue to the side and showed her the photos. “Xuexue, look. The little b*tch still seduced Liuchuan the night before your wedding!”

Gu Xuexue gritted her teeth so hard that her nails dug into her palms. Damn it, Brother Liuchuan didn’t have the time to see her, but he went to see that b*tch!

She whispered fiercely, “Mommy, keep the photo. We’ll find a suitable time to expose this photo and the scandal she did four years ago!”

Gu Meifeng nodded. “Alright! Get engaged beautifully tonight. We’ll discuss this in detail later. Hurry, your grandfather is here. Hurry up and prepare!”

Old Master Gu leaned on his walking stick and pushed open the door of the lounge with Xiaobei’s help. He smelled the alcohol in the room and was a little unhappy. “What’s wrong with you guys? The banquet is about to begin. What are you guys doing here?!”

“Okay, Father, we’ll go right away!” Gu Meifeng was flustered.

“Wait, why didn’t you arrange a seat for Qiqi? Although she’s participating in the competition, she said that she would come. You didn’t even arrange a seat for her. Do you want her to stand and eat?!” The old man frowned.

Gu Meifeng rolled her eyes in her heart, but she smiled on the surface. “She might not be in the mood to come...”

Old Master Gu asked, “What do you mean?”

Gu Meifeng said, “Father, don’t you know? Her medical skills are not good at all. She was questioned by the judges and couldn’t answer. She lost that competition terribly. How can she still have the face to attend Xuexue’s engagement party?”
