

Dear Chief 111

Chapter 111: Carrying Gu Qiqi to the Bedroom

On the streets.

Beneath the tall French parasol tree.

A black Rolls-Royce Phantom had unknowingly stopped there silently.

The car window rolled down.

The man's noble and cold side profile was slowly revealed.

It was dark.

How evil!

He revealed this cruel and evil question with a spurious smile.

Xiao Ning's small face paled and her legs went soft. "Little Uncle..."

At the same time.

In the Imperial Capital thousands of miles away.

Chu Junmo was studying in the study room at night.

A medicine book was opened and slowly unfolded under the bronze lamp.

His sky-blue long shirt exuded an ancient aura. He wore a pair of golden-rimmed glasses on his handsome nose bridge, and it made him look more refined and handsome.

Secretary Jiao stood guard in a corner of the study room and couldn't help but remind him with heartache, "CEO, your body isn't well. Don't stay up late anymore..."

Chu Junmo didn't even raise his eyelids as he said in a deep voice, "My body can't take it? Who said so?"

Secretary Jiao was about to cry.

He was also so tired that he forgot that men hated the word "no" the most!

Fortunately, Chu Junmo didn't continue to make things difficult for him. Instead, he casually asked, "Is the college entrance exam admission results out yet?"

Secretary Jiao: "I'll check immediately!"

It was said that the chairman's heart wasn't well. He usually slept and woke up early to take care of his health.

It was strange that he had to stay up till midnight tonight!

It turned out that... he was actually waiting for the admission results of the college entrance examination...

The chairman was surrounded by big shots in the pharmaceutical world. How was there anyone related to the college entrance examinations?

Of course, other than that Young Lady Qiqi...

Secretary Jiao's heart couldn't help but skip a beat. Gosh, the chairman stayed up late because of a woman!

This... This was unprecedented.

Soon, he reported the results despite his shock. "Young Lady Qiqi wasn't admitted to any school."

Chu Junmo's hand that was flipping through the book froze.

He frowned. "The reason?"

"The reason seems to be... Her college entrance exam results were found to be plagiarized through cheating, so she can't be admitted."

Looking at this notice, not only did Secretary Jiao doubt Gu Qiqi's character, but he also couldn't help but add, "CEO, cheating is a question of character..."

Chu Junmo interrupted him. "Give me her phone number."

The college entrance exam results were invalid and there was no school admission.

This cruel truth was a serious blow to that stubborn and arrogant girl, right?

He wondered if she could withstand it?

Chu Junmo's heart—which had been like a deep pool for ten thousand years—suddenly throbbed.

He was actually a little worried.

"Reporting to CEO, I can't get through to her on the phone!" Secretary Jiao became even more angry and couldn't help but complain. "CEO, this isn't an ordinary case of being unable to get through. This is putting you on the blacklist. Not only is this woman's character bad, but she's also ungrateful. She's someone who throws things away after she's done using them..."

"Secretary Jiao, you talk too much." Chu Junmo stood up abruptly. "Prepare the car. Let's go to Principal Qin's house at Imperial Medical University."

"CEO!"

"Do you want to retire early?"

"Noted!"

1 AM.

In the living room of Principal Qin's house.

The old principal—who was nearly 70 years old—wiped his cold sweat. “CEO Chu, it’s not that I’m not giving you face. It’s just that we have never had a precedent for accepting candidates who have cheated and plagiarized in our school...”

“Then, let’s set a precedent.”

“This will cause a commotion in the outside world...”

“I can invest in your latest research funding. One hundred million dollars.”

“This... Then, I’ll arrange for her to attend a veterinary or medical school and keep a low profile...”

“No, I want the best. I want her to enter the clinical medicine school officially!” Chu Junmo was expressionless and his tone was firm.

“Sigh! This is very difficult...”

“It’s not difficult if you think about your medicine,” Chu Junmo said lightly.

But the old principal’s heart tightened.

His chronic illness for many years could only be alleviated by the Chu family’s secret Chinese medicine.

He had to agree just because this medicine couldn’t be stopped!

Sigh, that young lady called Gu Qiqi was really capable, to invite such a big Buddha to owe her a favor!

Qing Cheng Base.

Gong Jue carried the unconscious Gu Qiqi out of the car and strode towards the bedroom with his long legs.

Chapter 112: Gossiping with Boyfriend for Ten Years

When he opened the door,

As he was in a hurry, Gong Jue kicked it away.

The cold and heavy back view of the man in a suit formed a stark contrast with the corner of the school uniform skirt revealed by the delicate girl in his arms.

Even Bai Lang, who was jogging behind him, couldn’t help but praise. “It really suits my face!”

Soon after, Gong Jue bumped his elbow against hers.

The door closed tightly.

“Hey! Master Jue, didn’t you call me over in the middle of the night to help her check her body? Why did you lock me outside the door?”

Bai Lang felt very unhappy.

He hadn’t found a chance to fan the flames and spread the story of that little vixen fooling around in the bar just now.

There was a lot of time in the car.

But that annoying Gong Jue actually told him to shut up and not speak. He said that he would wake up the little demon!

He didn't understand. She was a little girl who had already fallen unconscious.

He thought he had the ability to wake her up?

After a while.

The wooden bed creaked slightly behind the door.

It seemed like Gong Jue had gently placed Gu Qiqi on the bed.

Then, the man replied in a low voice. "Haven't you already prescribed medication to alleviate the anesthetic? Why do you still need to check her?!"

Bai Lang blinked wildly. "Cough, cough. Perhaps she has other injuries. Tsk, tsk. Look at the blood on her hand..."

Gong Jue said coldly, "That's not her blood."

His gaze landed on the traces of blood on Gu Qiqi's palm.

He got up and went to the bathroom to get a basin of warm water. He used his own towel to wipe her gently.

She should be a clean freak as well, right?

She always carried disinfectant tissues with her everywhere. Even after slapping someone's face, she would wipe her hands in disdain.

Wasn't it uncomfortable to be stained with such dirty blood?

If he wasn't worried about waking her up so that she wouldn't be able to sleep peacefully, he really wanted to carry her into the bathtub instead of the wooden bed and wash her with his own hands!

Upon hearing that there was no movement in the room, Bai Lang said suspiciously, "Master Jue, your mysophobia is the most serious. You hate seeing blood the most. You will take a shower after fighting an enemy. I have an alcohol cotton ball here. I can handle her blood..."

Gong Jue said impatiently, "You can get lost now."

Alcohol cotton balls?

Was that for women?

Don't you know that alcohol hurts your skin? Moron!

He was considering if it was time to replace him with a female doctor to be in charge of the Medical Department of the corporation...

Bai Lang didn't give up. "Yes, yes. It's fine if you don't let me in. I'll talk to you here. You're a little vixen! She deserved it tonight. Who asked her to..."

He had to take advantage of the little demon's unconsciousness to complain fiercely!

But before he could finish speaking...

"Special Assistant Lu, get rid of the unrelated people!" Gong Jue's order rang coldly.

Special Assistant Lu suppressed his laughter. "Young Master Bai, please return."

"F*ck! You're kicking me out when you have a woman? Am I an outsider? I'm clearly your good friend for ten years..." Bai Lang gnashed his teeth in hatred.

Forget it. He would settle this score with the little demon another day!

He was very vengeful. Hmph!

Special Assistant Lu coaxed a certain man who bore grudges away with great difficulty and returned to report. "Master Jue, should I find a female servant to serve Young Lady Qiqi..."

After all, Master Jue was a man with such a noble status. It wasn't convenient for him to take care of Young Lady Qiqi.

Our chief didn't serve anyone at all.

She never expected that...

Gong Jue interrupted her. "There's no need."

Then, his eyes turned cold and he ordered coldly, "Have you checked if any other blind brats participated in tonight's incident?"

Chapter 113: Master Jue Tortures Scumbags In The Middle of the Night

The coldness in Gong Jue's voice made even the old Special Assistant—who had been in the workplace for a long time—tremble.

She hurriedly lowered her gaze and reported honestly through the door, "I've already checked! Tonight, other than Yao Dazhuang, there was someone named Zhu Fen among Young Lady Qiqi's classmates. She was the one who wanted to lure Young Lady Qiqi to a room. That room was filled with guys who had been fed medicine..."

"Boys who were fed with medicine?" Gong Jue's tone became colder.

It turned out that there was something even more despicable that he didn't know about tonight.

These bastards were tired of living!

Special Assistant Lu shivered and hurriedly explained. "But Young Lady Qiqi didn't fall for it! On the other hand, that Zhu Fen ended up in a worse state. Speaking of which, Young Lady Qiqi is really smart. She saw through her and made her suffer on her own. I reckon that she's already in a terrible state now.

Also, Young Lady Qiqi's cousin—Gu Xuexue—isn't being honest either... But if we lay our hands on those two little girls, isn't it a little..."

Although Special Assistant Lu felt that these two little girls were vicious to the core, he had never really harmed a little girl before.

He knew that Chief would definitely help Young Lady Qiqi vent her anger. Wouldn't he cripple both his arms of Yao Dazhuang?

But the way to handle these two little girls was a little tricky.

Gong Jue muttered. "It's the fault of the father for a woman to be disobedient!"

Special Assistant Lu was stunned for a moment before he understood. "I understand! I'll do it right away!"

At night.

Miserable screams erupted from Qing Cheng Prison.

Gu Qiushan and Zhu You, who were locked in jail, were inexplicably beaten by the inmates in the same jail room until their heads bled and they lost half their lives.

What was more shocking was that...

The medical malpractice case at Qing Cheng Hospital—which had been delayed for these few days—was actually sentenced in the middle of the night.

As the chief surgeon, Zhu You had made a major technical mistake during the operation that nearly caused the death of the patient. He was sentenced to life imprisonment and had to compensate the patient 55 million dollars for treatment fees and emotional damages.

As the chairman of Qing Cheng Hospital, Gu Qiushan was negligent in his management. He was sentenced to ten years in jail and fined 99.9 million dollars to be handed over to the national treasury.

Once this verdict was out, the entire medical circles and media circles in Qing Cheng were stirred!

They had never seen such a severe verdict and punishment in a medical malpractice!

This news was bound to make the headlines tomorrow morning.

At the same time.

At the seaside research base.

There was a man who didn't sleep at all either.

Gu Qiqi was unconscious. Her sleeping posture was nothing to praise.

She only flipped over before she raised her small feet and placed them on Gong Jue's arm.

She even looked quite comfortable as she kicked his arm.

Gong Jue suppressed the anger on his face and reached out to grab her ankle before taking her small foot away.

She didn't expect that...

This little woman was actually stubborn.

She snorted indignantly and raised her feet high again!

“Pa —!”

This time, she directly put her little feet up to his neck.

Those round and shell-like toenails directly brushed past the corner of his lips, stirring up his anger!

Damn it. Was this his second time being hit by this stupid woman?

He was even beaten by her feet.

Gong Jue gnashed his teeth.

Forget it. I won't bicker with a woman who sleeps like a pig.

He grabbed Gu Qiqi's small feet.

This time, she was about to put it down.

His gaze swept across a place, but it suddenly made his arm stiffen.

Gu Qiqi's skirt was too short.

“Ask Qing Cheng to change the school uniform! Immediately! Immediately! All girls are not allowed to wear skirts!”

Gong Jue flew into a rage in the middle of the night.

After giving that speechless order, he unbuttoned his shirt and rushed into the bathroom to turn on the cold water.

Chapter 114: Could It Be That He Saved Her?

Morning.

When Gu Qiqi woke up.

At first, she felt dizzy. Then, she felt that her arm was a little cold.

She looked up and saw the fine and warm sunlight shining through the cracks in the curtains and onto the bed. She felt very safe.

Wasn't she... at a bar?

Wasn't she hit by Yao Dazhuang's sneak attack and fell down?

Could it be that she wanted to return even in her dreams to this lousy room with that domineering man?

Gu Qiqi laughed and shook her head.

She only realized how heavy she was when she wanted to get up!

The man's arm was wrapped around hers and he hugged her tightly from behind.

The man's skin was cold as if he had just taken a cold shower. It was so cold that she felt chilly.

Gu Qiqi sobered up a little.

Gong Jue was hugging her to sleep!

She wasn't dreaming!

She lowered her head and quickly checked her school uniform and skirt. They were intact and clean. There were no traces of her being bullied. Even the blood stains on her palms had been wiped clean.

Could it be that Gong Jue came back last night and saved her from the bar?

Gu Qiqi's eyes softened.

An indescribable emotion surged in her heart.

She didn't expect that this man with erectile dysfunction would occasionally do such a good thing and didn't take advantage of her. She really had to thank him.

She gently tried to move Gong Jue's arm away.

However, the man replied with a murmur and immediately tightened his grip!

It was sturdy!

It was powerful!

He was very valiant.

Gu Qiqi snorted. She felt like her small waist was going to be crushed by him.

Being confined like this wasn't a solution.

Gu Qiqi's big eyes rolled around. Suddenly, she laughed and secretly stretched out a hand that could still move slowly...

Until she touched Gong Jue's handsome nose.

She pressed it forcefully.

She pressed Gong Jue's nose down so that he couldn't breathe.

Indeed, three seconds later, Gong Jue—who had been holding his breath—waved his hand unhappily and slapped away her small claws.

Gu Qiqi took the opportunity to roll away and escape from his grasp!

“Sleeping with you is like fighting a war! We even have to compete in wits and courage.”

Gu Qiqi breathed out.

After washing up briefly, she went online immediately and opened the official website for admission.

She knew her own results well. It was definitely not plagiarized.

She had to get to the bottom of this matter.

Although university was important to her, she could accept not attending university but she definitely couldn't allow others to slander her!

However, when she opened the website, she was stunned.

When she checked it last night, it was still empty.

At this moment, the words were written clearly in black and white. They stated that she had been admitted to the Imperial Medical University as a clinical medicine major!

She rubbed her eyes.

She couldn't believe what she was seeing.

It had been turned around overnight?

Didn't they say that she cheated and her results were invalid?

Didn't they say that all the schools wouldn't accept exam candidates who cheated?

What happened to banning her and stepping on her to prevent her from entering university?

The admission results in front of her were simply like an incredible spell!

Yes, it was magic.

The kind of magic that Snow White, The Wizard of Oz, and Alice in Wonderland used!

When she woke up, the prince had already prepared everything for her. She only needed to dance in her crystal shoes.

Gu Qiqi couldn't believe it. She looked at the website thrice and confirmed that there wasn't anything wrong with it. The Imperial Medical University had really accepted her as their best professional.

She opened her mouth, but she wasn't as happy as she had expected.

But in the very next second, an even more shocking piece of news snatched her attention.

Chapter 115: The Prince's Magic Isn't All-Powerful Too

A piece of news suddenly popped up at the bottom of the webpage.

Gu Qiqi opened it.

“Zhu You was sentenced to life imprisonment and compensated 55.5 million dollars... Gu Qiushan was sentenced to ten years in jail and fined 99.9 million dollars...”

Gosh, that was too satisfying.

These two old men weren't good people. They didn't have the slightest bit of medical compassion.

This should have been done a long time ago.

However... the verdict didn't arrive earlier or later, but was announced it in the middle of the night yesterday!

For some reason, she felt that something was strange.

Her memories returned.

It seemed that the last time she was tricked by Zhu Fen and Gu Xuexue in the hospital, she had injured her back. In the end, Zhu Fen was injured all over that night. Gu Xuexue, on the other hand, had a blackout in the city and her plastic surgery malfunctioned. She couldn't get the plastic surgeon to stitch her wounds properly and an ugly scar was left on her forehead.

How uncanny!

They were all people who had schemed against her after she had been schemed against. On the contrary, they had met with great misfortune.

It was as if there was a strong karmic force in the dark.

Not only was he protecting her, but he was also taking revenge for her.

This feeling was too strange.

In her confusion, she swept a glance at the man who was sound asleep on the bed with his eyes closed.

Was it him?

He was so simple and violent... He was so cold on the outside but passionate on the inside... This kind of thing was really his style.

Then, was he the same Prince of Magic who had let the Empire Medical University admit her as a student?

That wasn't right. Gong Jue didn't know that about her situation with the college entrance exam application form.

Gu Qiqi muttered to herself and prepared to write an email to the university to ask about the situation.

However, before she could draft her email, an even more shocking piece of news immediately popped up and refreshed her horizons.

That was another trending post that followed closely behind the news of Gu Qiushan and Zhu You.

The title read:

Shocking News! A certain “straight As student” from Qing Cheng Middle School cheated in the college entrance examinations but was accepted into a university. The straight As student was fake, but the cheater was real!

It was a long and suggestive title. With just a glance, one could tell what kind of shocking thing this was.

“Classmate Gu Qiqi from Qing Cheng Middle School cheated and plagiarized. She even managed to get into a university. There must be some scheming in there!”

“The Empire Medical University has never recruited a student with such a poor character. She must have used connections!”

“Wow, she slept with a university principal?”

“Definitely! If she didn’t sleep with the principal, would he have opened such a big back door for her? To let a cheating student with corrupt morals enter the school?”

“An old driver said that she probably didn’t use the back door. It should be someone else who used her ‘back door’, right? Hahaha... These days, she has to play tricks with the hidden rules. If she doesn’t serve her financier well, will she be able to obtain such powerful resources?”

“Oh my god. The world is corrupt. Even the university campus is so dirty!”

“Hey, hey. The dirty one is Gu Qiqi. She’s the sh*tty cheater who ruined our reputation. Our university reputation was originally very pure and upright...”

“Gu Qiqi, get out of our Imperial Medical University!”

“We refuse to be classmates with a tyrant like her!”

Gu Qiqi looked at the comments coldly and they were quickly pushed to the trending list on Weibo.

The news was actually countless times more popular than the news of Gu Qiushan and the rest being sentenced.

One day, she actually became the headlines.

Indeed, this world liked to attract attention. It didn’t matter if it was real or fake!

And the person behind all of this really had a deep understanding of people’s hearts.

She was almost impressed.

She closed the webpage coldly.

Gu Qiqi laughed. “Indeed, the prince’s magic isn’t omnipotent. The witch’s poisonous apple is the best.”

So what if someone helped her get into Imperial Medical University?

In the blink of an eye, wasn’t she still being dragged down?

Ridiculous!

He was trying to crush her reputation to death.

It was fine if she only cheated, but they said she even shamelessly slept with people to climb up the ranks after cheating?

Chapter 116: Gong Jue Was a Three-year-old When He Woke Up

At this moment.

Four Seas Hotel in Qing Cheng.

In a high-end suite, Gu Meifeng was half-dressed as she leaned coquettishly against her distant cousin, Gu Enlong.

Half-truths of tears hung on her thick eyelashes. "Brother Enlong, that bookworm b*tch is simply the scum of the Gu family. Not only did she cause her father to go to jail as a form of compensation, but she also harmed my Xuexue badly. Just last night, she snatched a million dollars from Xuexue and nearly made Xuexue become a prostitute in a bar... You must help me teach her a good lesson!"

Gu Enlong pointed at the headlines smugly. "Didn't you see that the news has already been released? Once she's on the trending searches, her reputation will be ruined. Which school would still dare to take her?"

"But, isn't there someone supporting her from behind..."

"Are you stupid? Who would dare to support her now? All men have to avoid her like snakes and scorpions to avoid being implicated by her!"

"Yes, but Brother Enlong, I'm afraid that with her results and if someone finds out that you did something to her, it will be detrimental to you..."

"Don't worry about that. I've always done things flawlessly. I didn't even change a word about her grades."

"What? Didn't they say that she cheated and scored a zero?" Gu Meifeng cried out exaggeratedly.

"It's not zero. It's one point. You understand this, right? The rules of the college entrance exam are that the answer sheet must be clean otherwise no marks are given and it will be considered cheating. As for me, I just happened to draw a random mark on her answer sheet! The score for cheating is one. It's used to differentiate the zero for cheating."

"Brother Enlong, you're too awesome. This way, even if someone investigated, they wouldn't be able to discover who drew that mark at all!"

"That's right. If I changed the answer, she could still verify the handwriting. But if she drew a symbol, what the hell would she be able to verify?! No matter who checked, they wouldn't be able to find anything!"

"So, Gu Qiqi's going to die this time?"

"She's dead! And she will die an ugly death... So, shouldn't you repay me?"

"Hey, you're so hateful... Hmm..."

Gu Qiqi still didn't know that the Witch's poisonous apple had already quietly entered her mouth.

But she knew that she would definitely not take the blame for this!

But she was just a weak third-year graduate. How was she going to prove herself? To defeat the rumors?

At this moment, she suddenly realized that compared to the overwhelming and spreading rumors, a person's strength was very small!

No!

She had to do something. She couldn't control the rumors, but she could apply for the results review.

Why did she get 1 mark?

When did she cheat?

She had to seek an explanation.

She stood up abruptly

However, Gong Jue's closed eyes suddenly opened a little.

His palm suddenly scooped up the ends of her skirt and he yanked!

He pulled her back onto the bed.

"Ah!"

Gu Qiqi staggered and fell into his arms.

Gong Jue hugged her tightly like she was a pillow.

Hiss —!

Was this man made of iron? She had hit him once, but he didn't even feel pain?

On the other hand, she was in a mess from the impact. She felt pain everywhere.

"Let go of me. I have something important to do." Gu Qiqi thought that he had woken up and pushed him away.

However, Gong Jue's half-closed eyes and long and thick eyelashes cast a small shadow on her.

His thin lips muttered to himself, "Unacceptable..."

Gu Qiqi shivered.

He was acting like a three year old!

She nearly forgot that this man was like a child when he woke up.

Therefore, the correct way to communicate should be...

Chapter 117: She Flared Up Like A Kid

Gu Qiqi sighed lightly.

Her cherry-like lips pouted.

She coaxed Gong Jue softly in a very soft voice. "Be good. Let me go for a while, okay? I'll walk away for a while..."

After speaking, she even used her small hand to lightly pat Gong Jue's face as if she was dealing with a naughty pet.

Gasp! This fellow looked like a big-sized pet, but in fact, even his face was so hard that she found it painful to slap it.

She was really curious. Was there nothing about this man that wasn't hard and unyielding?

Gu Qiqi stared at Gong Jue's reaction.

Indeed, she had gone the right way!

Gong Jue frowned slightly. He snorted and loosened his hand.

Gu Qiqi was free.

She couldn't help but laugh in her heart. If she could take a photo of this man with erectile dysfunction, it would definitely be very valuable and she could blackmail him properly.

With a thought, she dug out her phone and captured Gong Jue's adorable look as a big-sized pet.

She put away her phone and crept to the door.

Suddenly, a shout exploded behind her. "What are you doing?"

The atmosphere changed drastically!

Cold!

How domineering!

Damn it. The man with erectile dysfunction was awake. He became angry when he woke up.

Gu Qiqi gripped her phone in frustration. If only she hadn't taken the photo just now.

But she was also feeling a little guilty. Could it be that he had discovered that she had secretly taken a photo?

She stopped in her tracks. "I..."

Gong Jue didn't wait for her reply. He flipped over and got out of bed agilely. He pulled out a man's shirt from the cabinet and threw it to her. "How can you wear that kind of skirt out. It's so ugly! Change it for me!"

Damn it. This was her school uniform, alright? What did he mean by that kind of skirt? Furthermore, how was it ugly?

Gu Qiqi was a little angry.

She was helpless and Gong Jue's orders couldn't be disobeyed.

She didn't want to argue over such a small matter and waste her time. Thus, she decided to go along with his morning temper and changed into a new outfit.

In the end, Gong Jue looked at her long and fair legs under her skirt and his frown deepened.

It was time to buy a few sets of clothes for this stupid woman.

Speaking of which, it was also his fault. He had never had a woman by his side before, so he had never considered the food and clothes of women.

After she came to the research base, she didn't have a single decent shirt on her.

A trace of guilt washed over Gong Jue. His expression softened a little and he said in a low voice, "Let's go downstairs to eat."

But Gu Qiqi held onto her phone tightly. "I'm not hungry... Um, I have something important to do. Can I go out for a while?"

Afraid that Gong Jue wouldn't agree, she immediately added. "I'll be back once I'm done."

Seeing Gu Qiqi's tightly gripped phone, Gong Jue immediately recalled the scene of him hugging her at the bar last night.

Actually, it felt quite good to be a hero saving a beauty.

But...

He just had to see that the number that she had dialed wasn't his!

Little Master Xiao Ning.

Hmph! He would remember this gigolo.

Could it be that this stupid woman was going to meet that gigolo secretly?

She was that eager?

Couldn't wait a second longer?

Her desire to see that man even exceeded the need to take care of her own body?

Gong Jue's expression, which had just calmed down, immediately darkened. "You're not allowed to go."

These three words silenced her thoughts of going out to complain about her grades.

Gu Qiqi frowned. "Domineering man, are you being reasonable?"

Gong Jue raised his chin proudly. "You're right. There's no need to say anything."

"You!"

"Let's go downstairs to eat!"

“I don’t want to eat.”

Gu Qiqi threw her phone onto the table and sat by the window angrily.

Why should I eat? I’m so angry!

“Then let’s starve!”

Gong Jue tolerated his anger.

Gu Qiqi’s tantrum reminded him of the boy.

Almost every time the boy protested against his actions, he would always say that he didn’t want to eat!

Why was this stupid woman still acting like a child?

Chapter 118: Stupid Man, Would It Kill You to Coax a Woman?

He faced Gu Qiqi, who refused to eat breakfast out of spite, just like the boy.

Gong Jue’s Adam’s apple bobbed.

He had never spoiled the boy.

Of course, he wouldn’t spoil her either.

If she wasn’t going to eat, then she was going to starve but he was going to see if she could still eat well next time. Otherwise, if she kept up this terrible temper of hers and didn’t eat, it would be disastrous!

This was his wolf father policy.

At this moment, he used it on Gu Qiqi without any hesitation.

Gong Jue slammed the door shut and left.

The sound of sturdy and powerful leather boots gradually disappeared at the end of the corridor.

Gu Qiqi sat opposite the window in anger.

Holding her chin, she calmed down for a moment.

Seriously, why did she have to go against that man with erectile dysfunction just now?

She clearly knew that he was a conceited and arrogant child. Couldn’t she just play along?

His attitude had inexplicably worsened just now. She didn’t know if it was because he was emotionally unstable after waking up, but it was fine as long as she didn’t mind. Perhaps she could find an opportunity to slip out after eating with him.

But for some reason, she cared a lot about his attitude!

Sigh. Furthermore, she actually felt a little sad.

Gu Qiqi thought angrily.

Stupid man. Would it kill him to coax someone?

Gong Jue went downstairs unhappily.

“Hello, good morning, my Little Jue!”

“Get lost!”

Seeing that Bai Lang was actually sitting in front of his dining table early in the morning with a bright smile on his face, Gong Jue immediately felt even more unhappy.

Bai Lang rubbed his nose in frustration and said to Deputy Lu, “Is your Master Jue’s morning temper getting worse again? I thought that he would be in a good mood after spending the night with the little demon. That’s why he came to have breakfast with him. Why does it seem like he’s seriously ill?”

Special Assistant Lu’s lips twitched but she didn’t answer. Instead, she pulled out a dining chair for Gong Jue respectfully and said softly, “Master Jue, the kitchen specially prepared kelp soup. They said that it can help with a hangover.”

Gong Jue didn’t comment.

“Master Jue, there’s a faint darkness under your eyes. Don’t tell me that you didn’t sleep much last night?” Bai Lang observed Gong Jue’s expression and said with certainty. “When the woman was unconscious, she didn’t feel anything even after you did it. Why did you have to spend so much effort? As the saying goes, there’s no land that can’t be plowed. There’s only an exhausted cow. Although you aren’t allergic to her, you still have to take good care of your dragon body... Look at how tired you are...”

“Special Assistant Lu, see the guest out!”

Gong Jue ordered coldly.

His eyes were dark?

Of course. That disobedient sleeping posture of that stupid woman last night had repeatedly challenged the willpower that he was proud of.

How many cold showers had he taken?

The showerhead was nearly broken by him. Who knew?!

It would be fine if he could plow her land! But the problem was that he didn’t! He didn’t!

Before Adjutant Lu could drive him away, Bai Lang stopped eating from the bowl of rice in front of him and refused to move. He said loudly, “Don’t drive me away! I won’t talk, okay? I will only eat! Eat!”

Gong Jue ignored him and swept his gaze across the kitchen.

What did Special Assistant Lu say just now?

Kelp soup to relieve a hangover?

That stupid woman had been drinking with someone last night and had a stomach full of alcohol. Did she have a stomach problem from not eating breakfast?

She actually had the cheek to throw a tantrum at him.

Special Assistant Lu observed his expression and suggested at the appropriate moment. “Master Jue, why don’t I scoop some kelp soup over for Young Lady Qiqi to cool down first? She can drink it directly when she goes downstairs later...”

“Are you very free?”

Gong Jue glared at her in annoyance.

Special Assistant Lu choked.

She didn’t dare to mention it again.

Bai Lang was amused.

Oh, look at Little Jue’s attitude. Did that little vixen provoke him again? He even disallowed her to eat breakfast?

That’s great! I can take this opportunity to add fuel to the fire and let the little demon suffer the consequences.

He was about to speak.

But she heard Gong Jue’s cold voice—

Chapter 119: In Less than Ten Seconds, He Had...

Gong Jue looked straight ahead and said coolly, “Since you’re so bored, send the soup up!”

Special Assistant Lu looked delighted. “Okay, I’ll go right away.”

Although she was scolded by Chief, she was very happy.

After all, Chief was still concerned about Young Lady Qiqi.

In the future, she had to get used to Master Jue’s coquettish behavior.

Bai Lang was different from Special Assistant Lu and was completely petrified.

Shit. Shit.

What did he hear?

He looked at her watch. It had only been less than ten seconds, right?

Gong Jue actually changed his mind and slapped his own face?

Didn’t he say that she would ignore the life and death of the little demon and that he would not let her eat breakfast as punishment?

Little Jue, can you have the professionalism of a domineering chairman?

He watched as Special Assistant Lu handed a bowl of fragrant kelp soup to Gu Qiqi upstairs.

Bai Lang’s heart collapsed.

However, his face was still smiling. He lowered his gaze and used his fork to poke his sandwich in a carefree manner. He said, "Master Jue, actually, I came today because I have an especially interesting news to share with you..."

"Yes? What's wrong?"

Hearing Gong Jue's interested questioning, Bai Lang was unable to contain his joy. "It's regarding that little vixen of yours. Do you know... Hey! You..."

Bai Lang looked at Gong Jue anxiously. He actually grabbed his phone and walked to the French window.

It turned out that Gong Jue didn't want to hear his gossip at all!

He was taking a call!

Wasn't he supposed to be a good friend for life?

Gong Jue ignored Bai Lang's sorrowful gaze and picked up the call from the boy.

On the other end of the call, the boy reprimanded him angrily. "You don't keep your word."

"Yes. Why?"

"You said that you would sleep with me!"

"I did accompany you last night."

"Then where are you now?"

"I'm... busy."

"Daddy, you're such a dishonorable man. You won't be able to find a wife."

"I only said that I would accompany you. I didn't say that I would definitely stay with you until daybreak."

Gong Jue replied stubbornly.

He was speechless.

Now, even a three-year-old child was accusing him of not being able to handle a woman?

There was a sudden silence on the other end of the call.

Gong Jue thought to himself, Hmph! Little brat, you still want to fight with me?

Can you be more reasonable than me?

I've explained more principles than you've eaten salt!

Wait a minute. That's not right.

Did he take the wrong medicine early in the morning? Why was everyone questioning him and reasoning with him?

It was the same for the stupid woman and for the boy.

Gong Jue sulked for a while.

He realized that the other end of the call was still silent.

He thought that the boy had nothing else to say and had accepted his reasoning.

Then, he softened his tone. "Don't you usually call yourself a gentleman? You have to know that a gentleman doesn't need someone to sleep with him. You—"

Before he could finish speaking, the boy interrupted him with an imposing manner, "Papa! Don't think that I really want you to sleep with me! If my mama comes back, I won't want to sleep with you!"

After speaking, he hung up the call.

Beep! Beep! Beep!

Traces of cracks gradually appeared on Gong Jue's cold face.

Damn it. Was he being despised by the boy?

At the dining table.

Having eaten his fill, Bai Lang stole a glance at Gong Jue as he finished the call. His face seemed to be even uglier.

Then... Should he still tell Little Jue about that matter?

If he didn't say it, he would suffocate to death.

"Why aren't you leaving yet?"

Before Bai Lang could think it through, Gong Jue had already frowned and chased him out.

"Ahem, ahem, ahem. About that, my big brother is patrolling the pharmacy. I had nothing to do today so I came to show my concern for you..."

Chapter 120: Blind or Retarded!

Gong Jue snorted coldly in disdain. "I don't need you to care."

He took a sip of black tea and glanced at Bai Lang coldly. "If you're so bored, why don't you care about the business license of your Bai family's pharmacy so that you won't be suspended for no reason? You'll be laughed at by your peers!"

Bai Lang covered his heart.

Damn it! He had exposed his shortcomings again!

Previously, he had been reported by the little demon and suffered heavy losses. He nearly lost his business license and was even scolded by his older brother, Bai Yueyuan.

When he thought of how Gu Qiqi had tricked him so many times, Bai Lang couldn't hold it back anymore.

He blurted out. "That's not as miserable as your little vixen. Hmph! She's going to be unable to attend university soon!"

Once Bai Lang said these words, the dining room immediately fell silent.

Suddenly, the temperature in the air dropped by more than ten degrees!

"What did you say about her not being able to attend university?!"

Gong Jue's deep voice suddenly rang in the cold and quiet space.

How cold!

How Dangerous!

Bai Lang's throat froze. He realized that he had used the worst method to talk about that matter and couldn't help but mutter. "It's that little vixen Gu Qiqi. She cheated in her college entrance exam results. Which university would dare to accept her?"

"She cheated? Impossible!"

Gong Jue retorted immediately.

That woman wasn't very obedient, and she was a little arrogant. Back then, she even dared to write the words "erectile dysfunction" on his medical report.

However, it was impossible for such an arrogant woman to cheat.

Bai Lang snorted. "You really have confidence in her!"

Could that little vixen have drugged Gong Jue with some brainwashing medicine? I have to do some research on it...

Just as he was thinking about this, Special Assistant Lu came down after delivering the soup.

Gong Jue immediately instructed. "Go and investigate the matter regarding that stupid woman's college entrance exam results!"

Special Assistant Lu was surprised for a moment, but she quickly nodded professionally.

Less than a minute later.

All the information was presented in front of Gong Jue.

"Reporting to Master Jue, Young Lady Qiqi is this year's top scholar. But the Gu family actually enrolled her in an extremely poor nursing school."

Gong Jue's eyes darkened. "Continue!"

"Luckily, someone changed Young Lady Qiqi's application form and changed it to Imperial Medical University..."

Gong Jue's eyes narrowed. "Who changed it?!"

"This... Someone who can help change an application form isn't an ordinary person. Let me check again."

Gong Jue nodded. "Let's talk about the application first!"

"Originally, with Young Lady Qiqi's results, it would have been easy for her to enter the Empire Medical University. But when the Review Team came to review her results, they discovered that Young Lady Qiqi had a cheat mark on her paper. Thus, her results were invalid."

Gong Jue's gaze turned cold. "Cheat mark?"

"That's right. Only the people from the Rehabilitation Team know that Young Lady Qiqi's paper was invalid because she made a mark. But once it's announced, it will be treated as cheating and plagiarism."

Gong Jue held back his anger. "Bring out the person in charge of the Review Group for me! The top scholar cheated. Is he blind or stupid? Would he believe such nonsense?"

Special Assistant Lu coughed. "Master Jue... If you want to help Young Lady Qiqi redress her injustice so that she can successfully enter the Empire Medical University, you don't have to do this... Because, according to the latest news this morning, the Empire Medical University has already decided to accept her!"

"What? The Empire Medical University is retarded. They actually admitted a student who plagiarized and cheated?" Before Gong Jue could say anything, Bai Lang couldn't help but exclaim.

He nearly stood up from the dining table.

Gong Jue glanced at him coldly. "Who's the moron?"

Bai Lang's arrogance subsided. "Ahem, ahem, ahem. That, I'm retarded... I mean, how is this possible! It's unprecedented!"

Special Assistant Lu pursed her lips. "Indeed. Someone should be helping Young Lady Qiqi behind her back. Furthermore, that person's background isn't simple."
