

Dear Chief 1121

Chapter 1121: A Terrifying Struggle!

It was really bitter! The little packrat was right.

This was the smell of Professor Brown.

It was different from the faint medicinal fragrance on Gu Qiqi's body. Perhaps it was because he was passionate about making dried child corpses, but there was always a stench of sourness and grease on his body. The bitter medicinal smell was changed.

Just from this, the little packrat found a familiar scent on him. The scent of the kidnapper!

It wasn't difficult for the thin man to disguise himself as a fatty!

Professor Brown never expected that his disguise would be seen through by a brat.

It would have been fine if Gu Qiqi had exposed everything about him. That girl was so cunning. He had already lost to her once in the World Medical Tournament. It was fine if he lost again.

However, he was actually exposed by a brat now. This was too hurtful. Could it be that he was shameless?

Clearly, the little packrat was not prepared to give him face. It firmly instructed the mini robot, "Brother Yun, end them!"

A thousand degrees of heat should be enough to send these two evil scumbags to heaven.

Just as Brother Yun nodded and the machine gears spun rapidly to continue heating up...

Suddenly!

Professor Brown let out a series of sharp sounds!

He was extremely aggrieved. Finally, he exploded!

"You... ants... mortals...!"

With a violent tremble, his entire body was deformed and cracked.

Strings of flesh instantly cracked and peeled off. Even the steel wire that Brother Yun had pierced into his throat broke.

Pieces of flesh and blood covered the ground, burying Susanna, who was crawling on the ground.

Meanwhile, Professor Brown, who had stood up in blood and gore, crawled out of the fat flesh and returned to his true form—the lean and lean assassin, Kun Bu!

"Go... to... hell!"

His throat still gurgled and slurred.

However, his strength had already recovered.

After all, he was someone with a superpower. Brother Yun was just a robot, so he couldn't really trap him completely.

He grabbed with his sharp eagle claws and threw Brother Yun's light body up to the ceiling before slamming him heavily onto the ground.

"Bad man! Bastard!"

Brother Yun let out his last two curses and fell to the ground. The signal light above his head flashed and went out!

Kun Bu cut off the circuit board above Brother Yun's head.

The signal connection between Brother Yun and the little packrat was cut off.

In the next second, Kun Bu's sinister gaze shot towards the little packrat and Gu Qiqi!

Previously, he was still wearing Professor Brown's outer skin. He was chubby, but no matter how harsh his words were, he still looked kind.

Now that his outer skin had peeled off, revealing his dry and lean figure, his gaze completely revealed his ferocity!

"Little b*tch and brat, I didn't kill you on the streets last time. Now, I've gone through so much trouble to design a banquet to trick you into coming. Do you think it's that easy to leave my territory? Do you think a robot and a lousy bug can trap me? Do you think my title as the number one killer is for nothing?"

His voice had returned to normal!

What a terrifying body. Its healing power was too strong!

Gu Qiqi's pupils suddenly constricted. Before she understood this person's true superpower, she couldn't act rashly.

She said calmly, "Your superpower isn't to treat illnesses?"

Kun Bu sneered. "Real doctors are both treat and poison. Don't you know? My ability to kill is much stronger than my ability to treat illnesses! You two weaklings will see it soon!"

As he spoke, he took the initiative to attack the most defenseless and weakest little packrat!

Chapter 1122: Terrifying Triple Suppression!

The little packrat watched as its beloved Brother Yun was reduced to a pile of scrap metal.

At this moment, he finally looked like a real three-year-old child. His big eyes were instantly filled with tears. "Brother Yun... Boohoo..."

In his eyes, Brother Yun was not a cold robot.

Instead, it was his closest combat partner.

If Kun Bu killed Brother Yun, it would be equivalent to killing his friend.

His hatred points soared!

Unfortunately, without Brother Yun, he had no weapon. When Kun Bu attacked, he was like a lamb waiting to be slaughtered!

His sharp and ruthless claws instantly arrived in front of the little packrat!

Just as Kun Bu's sharp claws were about to dig at the little packrat, Gu Qiqi moved.

Her soft arms quickly scooped the little packrat behind her.

In the next instant, she bounced forward, straight past Kun Bu to where Susanna had fallen.

She was really super fast!

If Kun Bu's claws were as sharp as an eagle's, she was as swift as a leopard.

When eagles and leopards met, who would have the upper hand?!

Kun Bu's eyes bulged. "Hmph, you want to capture Su Su to threaten me?"

He thought that Gu Qiqi's goal was to step on Susanna to threaten him to stop. Hence, he revealed a disdainful smile. "Then you're too naive! At this time, it's useless even if you step on my biological father to threaten me! Today, no one can stop me from killing you! I'll take your poisonous blood!"

Susanna, who was lying on the ground with her throat twisted into a ball, was shattered by this blatant disdain and abandonment.

The relationship between killers like them was that of partners or superiors when they accepted missions. However, when it was really a critical moment, they would take care of themselves and be very cold!

However, it was really strange for Kun Bu to be so cold.

Gu Qiqi narrowed her eyes. "Do I need to invite your biological father? There's no need to go through so much trouble! I'll just reluctantly educate you on behalf of your parents!"

"Foolish girl! Let's see who dies first!" Kun Bu's eyelids narrowed into a line.

Suddenly, with a loud shout, his thin and short body suddenly grew a few feet taller!

Gu Qiqi had heard of people who could shrink their bones. It was like a yoga expert who could shrink into a small ball and escape through a narrow gap. However, this was the first time she had seen someone pull their bones! They would raise their thin bodies and attack!

Interesting. Could it be that Kun Bu's superpower was bone manipulation?

Was that why he also looked especially similar to the tall and fat Professor Brown?

Susanna, who was on the ground, also struggled to open her eyes wide, her pupils constricting in horror.

Gu Qiqi didn't know, but she did. Kun Bu's unique skill was his trump card. He usually didn't use it easily!

As long as his bones were pulled out and enlarged, his enemies would almost definitely be crushed.

This was because after he pulled out the bones, he would burn more than three times his vitality. Then, his speed, strength, and attack power would become three times stronger as his bones extended.

It could be said that at this moment, Kun Bu, who had his bones pulled out, had the combat strength of more than three men.

It was already easy for Kun Bu to beat up Gu Qiqi and the little packrat.

Now that the strength of three Kun Bus was used against her, this woman and child would probably be dead without a trace...

Really, he couldn't just easily offend Kun Bu...

He was definitely a petty person who would seek revenge for the smallest grievance, and he was very powerful!

He had already started to sympathize with Gu Qiqi and the little packrat.

Sigh, foolish women and arrogant child. If they had obediently surrendered their bodies and blood, they would have died more comfortably.

Now, they were probably going to be tortured to death by Kun Bu...

Just as Susanna watched as Kun Bu's sharp claw swung towards Gu Qiqi like a storm again...

Gu Qiqi stood calmly without a change in expression.

She even suddenly recited a strange and pleasant syllable—

Chapter 1123: Strange Mysterious Power

The moving syllables that escaped from Gu Qiqi's lips were not the language of the empire, nor was it the language of Country M or Country S.

It sounded like a spell, but more like a chant.

The clear and pleasant syllables seemed to have substance as they drifted through the air.

The little packrat was mesmerized by her words. It couldn't help but poke its head out from behind Gu Qiqi. "Big Sister, it sounds so good..."

Kun Bu sneered. "A child's trick! What's to be afraid of?"

His gaze became even more ruthless. His eagle claws were swift and fierce as he headed straight for Gu Qiqi's face!

Gu Qiqi didn't even blink. This time, she couldn't even be bothered to move.

She just stood there calmly, calmly chanting notes that no one understood.

It didn't seem to have any offensive power.

However, in an instant, Kun Bu's rapid attacks slowed down!

Kun Bu's ruthlessness, which was clearly a sure hit, actually became slow motion like an old lady scratching an itch. It actually looked a little ridiculous.

He winced.

Then, he puffed up her cheeks and exerted more strength.

However, the feeling of stagnation intensified.

It was as if there were countless arms pulling at his claws in midair, making it impossible for him to move forward at all.

What happened?

Kun Bu looked around in horror.

But there was nothing, except air.

In the dim light, there was only his own shadow and the inconspicuous "little bug" in the corner that looked like a turtle. At some point, it had changed from gold to light green!

The little dirty turtle's subtle change did not make Kun Bu pay attention for a second longer.

Soon, he looked elsewhere and continued to search for the culprit who had stopped him from using his power. "You found help? Someone sent by Gong Jue?"

As he questioned, he answered his own question. "That's impossible! I've long transferred Gong Jue to the Hanbei Ridge. It's thousands of miles away from here, and it takes half a day to fly back and forth. By the time he returns, you'll have already been skinned and thrown into the glass cover of the specimen for exhibition! It's absolutely impossible for Gong Jue to come and save you! Tell me, what are you doing?!"

Gu Qiqi ignored him and continued chanting.

Her voice was becoming more practiced, elegant, rhythmic.

Her calm voice became more and more agitated and sharp!

As her voice changed, Kun Bu immediately felt the difference.

The invisible forces that were pulling him also became ferocious.

Not only was his eagle claws unable to be used, but they were also forcefully twisted in midair!

"Ah!"

A tragic cry rang out.

One of his little fingers was actually broken!

However, there was nothing in the air. There were no enemies or weapons touching him. His finger was broken!

However, the pain was real, and so was the attack.

What was going on? Had he really seen... a ghost?

Kun Bu's hair stood on end, and cold sweat began to break out on the back of his neck.

As Gu Qiqi's chanting changed, Kun Bu's fingers broke one after another. He was like a pitiful broken doll, accepting its master's judgment without any ability to resist.

"You... What the hell did you summon... Gu Qiqi, are you a human or a ghost?" Kun Bu began to retreat in fear.

A wise man submits to circumstances. He wanted to escape.

It didn't matter if he couldn't kill Gu Qiqi today. As long as there was life, there was hope. It would be fine if he made a comeback next time!

However, in the next second, he tripped!

He fell forward with a flop!

Gu Qiqi stopped chanting.

He was delighted. He thought that Gu Qiqi had finally used up her strange attack and wanted to take the opportunity to get up.

Chapter 1124: Let You Have a Taste of Being a Corpse

But before Kun Bu could get up.

It was as if his entire body was being pressed down by countless invisible hands. Immediately after, a violent force hammered his entire body!

Just like when he had once made every baby's dried corpse, he had to beat the skin loose, tear it, and then let the skin and flesh separate. Then, he had to inject antiseptic between the flesh and dry it at a high temperature...

Now, everything he had suffered was exactly the same!

This time, Kun Bu was truly beginning to fear.

"Gu Qiqi, you brat, what spell did you use on me?! Or did you use some bug?! This is evil magic! You're violating a doctor's professional ethics! You'll suffer retribution!"

He spoke without thinking.

When faced with a real threat to his life, how could he still have any imposing manner? He was just spouting nonsense.

Gu Qiqi sneered. "Is that so? Then what you're suffering now is retribution for violating the professional ethics of a doctor! You've harmed so many sick children and turned them into dried corpses. Have you asked for their opinion? Are they willing?"

"It's already tragic enough that the children were tortured by illness when they were alive, but now that they're dead, you still have to make specimens to play with... If it's you, are you willing?"

As Gu Qiqi spoke, her tone became a little sharper. "As far as I know, some of the babies in here didn't die of illness at all. They were beaten to death by you, right?"

"In order to collect your so-called perfect specimens, you chose live babies. There was still hope for them to be cured, but you personally killed them under the guise of treating them!"

"Their parents are still in the dark. They have no idea that their child has become a dried corpse. Do you know the pain of losing a child? Even if it's a flawed child, he's still the heart and soul of their parents. Do you understand?"

Gu Qiqi's question made Kun Bu choke!

After a long while, he raised his head with difficulty and crawled on all fours, trembling. He did not reflect on his crime at all. Instead, he asked in horror, "How... how did you know? How did you know that my specimen was made from live babies..."

Gu Qiqi's eyes were cold. "They told me."

"You...! Don't play tricks!" Kun Bu's lean body trembled uncontrollably.

"There's no need to pretend. Aren't they lying on top of you now? To be honest, you're so dirty. If it weren't for the fact that they wanted you to have a taste of what they had once suffered, they wouldn't have been willing to touch you at all!" Gu Qiqi said calmly.

It was such a casual sentence, but it made Kun Bu shudder and fall to the ground as if he had lost his bones.

What did Gu Qiqi mean?

Was she saying that the force that had been blocking and holding him down was the... soul of those baby specimens?

What the hell!

Although Kun Bu was a supernatural being, he had never seen a living ghost.

At this moment, it was unknown if it was because of Gu Qiqi's stern accusation or because he already had a guilty conscience.

The invisible power in the air gradually began to reveal its shape.

The two heads of the two-headed child's corpse were charging at him angrily!

A hairy baby's arms were beating him hard!

There was also the baby with the rabbit lips whose face was covered in blood and tears. He bit his lip and tugged at his tongue...

Kun Bu closed his eyes in despair. His soul had dissipated!

These were all babies that he had mutilated, yes!!!

Could it be that they wanted to turn him into what they were now?

No!

No!

He struggled to escape, but he couldn't move at all.

Chapter 1125: Terrifying, Unable to Leave Even After Winning!

Behind him, more and more babies were gathering above Kun Bu, taking turns to pound and tear at him, pulling him toward a nearby drying stove...

The shining fire made Kun Bu open his eyes in horror. "You want to roast me dry? Gu Qiqi, you're crazy! Do you know what this place is? If I die, you won't be able to leave for the rest of your lives!"

Gu Qiqi raised her eyes calmly. "Oh? Where?"

Kun Bu gritted his teeth. "This is my medicinal furnace space! It's unbreakable! If I die, this place will become a dead zone. There's no exit, no way out. You'll be trapped here until you die!"

"Is that so?" Gu Qiqi asked calmly.

Kun Bu looked a little smug. "That's why you have to beg me for me to take you out! Now, quickly order those annoying brats to get lost!"

Hmph, now that you know that this collection room is not an ordinary basement, aren't you mortals afraid? Are you trembling?!

Kun Bu was waiting for Gu Qiqi to beg for mercy.

Unexpectedly, Gu Qiqi smiled instead.

"Hehe, I still prefer roasting you first. I'll see how you look when you're dried, made into a specimen, and sealed in a glass cover."

She spoke word by word, as easily and naturally as if she were describing a painting or making handicraft.

However, Kun Bu shuddered!

He had always thought that Gu Qiqi was just scaring him and didn't dare to touch him at all. After all, being trapped in an enclosed space wasn't something fun.

Unexpectedly, Gu Qiqi was serious.

She had really let those brats make him into a specimen!

"You, you'll regret it! You ignorant mortal, you have no idea how strong and terrifying the medicinal furnace space is!" Kun Bu roared.

Gu Qiqi calmly raised her lips. "Isn't it just a space? My little dirty turtle's space is much more beautiful than yours! I have a small medicinal furnace too..."

Kun Bu's pupils contracted.

He knew that Gu Qiqi's blood was special and her medical skills were good. She also had some martial arts skills. However, he did not expect her to be able to control souls and even have a portable space.

All the abilities that he had once been proud of were actually suppressed and surpassed by Gu Qiqi one by one!

Despair!

It was utter despair!

He cursed in despair. "Then you'll die here! In less than ten days, you'll kill each other. In less than half a month, you'll treat corpses as food. In less than a month, you'll starve to death here..."

"Oh, you make it sound so scary." Gu Qiqi narrowed her eyes and asked calmly, "Are you afraid?"

The little packrat stood up and replied confidently, "I'm not afraid! I'd love nothing more than to live here alone with Big Sister!"

"You... pervert! Big pervert, little pervert, male pervert, and female pervert!" He gritted his teeth and cursed, as if he could already foresee the outcome of Gu Qiqi and the little packrat's death.

They were being stubborn now, but they were just hanging on by a thread.

In any case, if he died, they could forget about living!

This ending gave his already despairing heart a trace of comfort.

It was as if the pain of being torn apart by the souls of babies was no longer so excruciating.

He had already been dragged to the fire by the babies. His hair was dry and withered, and the hot airflow made his skin crack like dry wood...

He endured the pain and stared at Gu Qiqi gloomily.

Hehe, I'm dying, and so are you...

However, just as he was about to close his eyes...

However, Gu Qiqi's fair hand flicked gently and she said with a smile, "Little boy, although you like to live with me here, I have to let you live in a place with sunlight. Leave such a tomb-like place for trash to enjoy..."

As he spoke, a seed in her palm bounced to the ground!

Chapter 1126: She's a Monster, Summoning the Undead!

As the little dirty turtle swallowed the Heavenly Silk and its level suddenly rose to the green level, Gu Qiqi's martial strength also became much stronger!

Every time it leveled up, not only could it unlock a new skill point, but the original skills it had unlocked would also be enhanced!

For example, the “cultivation” skill that Gu Qiqi was using now was dazzlingly powerful!

With her fair hand, she flicked out the elderberry tree seed. Before it landed on the ground, it had already sprouted.

In three seconds, a towering ancient tree was formed!

The canopy broke through the ceiling and continued to extend upward!

Broken bricks and tiles cracked all over the ground!

Kun Bu’s pupils dilated as he looked at the unbelievable scene in front of him in disbelief.

Gu Qiqi actually had such a terrifying superpower!

He couldn’t tell at all!

Was this a Spirit Plant Master? Or was it some profound magic? He had actually never seen it before!

A seed instantly grew into a towering ancient tree that was hundreds of years old, and it could even break through his spatial barrier... It was too terrifying. This skill was invincible!

Kun Bu’s mouth fell open. He finally realized that Gu Qiqi had broken through his portable space. This meant that it was also destructive to his body.

The space was destroyed! Its Master was also destroyed!

His body hunched uncontrollably, and he suddenly vomited a large mouthful of blood.

He had really failed. Completely.

He couldn’t defeat Gu Qiqi, nor could he trap her in this space.

A crushing defeat!!!

Endless despair consumed him again.

Meanwhile, the infant souls had already mercilessly dragged his entire body into the furnace!

The flames instantly swept up his body and turned him into a dried corpse.

At the last second before his consciousness was destroyed, he muttered, “Only the people from the Great Pharmacist Guild can destroy this brat... She’s a monster... She’s a monster...”

Only when she met someone more monstrous could she be destroyed...

“Ding dong—!”

A small object fell out of the dry corpse in the furnace.

The little dirty turtle ran over quickly, grabbed it, and presented it to Gu Qiqi as if it was presenting a treasure. “Master Silver this is the gold and silver key to the Ghost Island!”

Gu Qiqi picked up the exquisite key and looked at it carefully.

The little dirty turtle muttered excitedly in her ear, “Master Silver, you’re too awesome! I didn’t expect you to immediately activate the skill point to summon the undead. Let me tell you, this skill is random. It can only be activated by someone who’s very benevolent. Moreover, it’s especially powerful. As long as there’s a place where the undead gather, you can use the resentment of the undead to form a team of undead souls to be under your command! You can also use spells to trap them and keep them under your control... Master Silver, let’s upgrade this ability in the future. You’ll be even stronger than the Emperor of the Dead...”

However, Gu Qiqi was still studying the gold and silver key. Her expression was calm. “Why should I trap them? These children were already in a lot of pain when they were alive. After they died, they were even made into exhibits by Kun Bu. It wasn’t easy for me to free their souls. I want to let them go.”

Tears streamed down the little dirty turtle’s face.

Master, you’re too kind!

How could you disband a team of undead just like that!

Otherwise, you would be even more impressive than Master Jue, the commander of the three armies!

This was an invisible force, a ghost battle group that did not need to eat, drink, or be paid.

However, Gu Qiqi had already said softly into the air, “It’s been hard on you. Now that the culprit has been destroyed, you can reincarnate in peace. In your next life, I hope that you’ll be perfect. Even if you have a small flaw, you can still grow up safely by your parents’ side...”

Chapter 1127: Can We Be Together Forever?

Perhaps in her previous life, she had been enslaved and controlled by Gu Meifeng and her daughter for more than ten years. Gu Qiqi knew better than anyone how precious freedom was.

Or perhaps it was because she had almost become a homeless undead too. She was more merciful to these poor children than anyone else.

In the air, there was no sign of the undead, but there was a beautiful swirling airflow.

It was as if the undead babies were dancing and bowing to Gu Qiqi to express their gratitude.

After being trapped in Kun Bu’s space for so many years, they could finally see the light of day and reincarnate in peace.

Although the little dirty turtle felt that it was a pity to lose the undead army, it couldn’t help but be moved at this moment.

It thought that it might be starting to understand a little about the difference between enslaving others and helping them gain their freedom...

As the elderberry tree continued to break through the shackles of space, finally, a huge hole was pierced through the entire space.

The starlight and moonlight in the night sky poured down through the cracks, injecting a hint of life into the eerie space.

The undead slowly rose along the gap and bid farewell to Gu Qiqi reluctantly.

“Go, don’t linger. Go and reincarnate. Perhaps I still have a chance to deliver you as a child. I wish you happiness in your next life!” Gu Qiqi said to the void with a smile.

The little dirty turtle was about to cry.

Oh, why did it feel like its child had been saved?

The little packrat also grabbed the corner of Gu Qiqi’s clothes tightly. “Big Sister, will anyone bully them in the future?”

Gu Qiqi narrowed her eyes. She didn’t want to pretend to be calm and fool children.

After pondering for a moment, she said honestly, “Kun Bu isn’t the only bad person in the world. There are also many sanctimonious people who hide dirty thoughts and wait for an opportunity to extend their evil claws in corners that we don’t know about. I can’t guarantee that the children won’t encounter such a dark and vicious person in the future... But no matter what, it’s always right for a person to work hard to improve himself, not wasting a single second to strengthen himself and learn to observe people!”

The little boy nodded. “I understand! Just like Big Sister who can grow a big tree and talk to souls without being deceived by bad people’s disguises...”

Gu Qiqi’s heart almost melted from his praise. She stroked the little packrat’s hair gently. “I’ve been deceived before... but now, I’ve learned from my mistakes.”

The little boy blinked her big eyes. “Big Sister, who lied to you? I’ll avenge you!”

Gu Qiqi laughed so hard that she bent over. “I’ll take revenge myself! You’ll be responsible for studying hard and improving every day!”

The little boy said, “Studying... is so simple! I still like to play around with Big Sister!”

Gu Qiqi pretended to be serious. “But it’s very dangerous by Sister’s side. Look, if we hadn’t had a countermeasure long ago, I’m afraid we would have fallen into a trap today!”

However, the little boy became even more determined. “Big Sister, I’m not afraid of danger! I think it’s too interesting to be with you!”

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

Oh, little boy, it’s good to be brave, but aren’t you a little too young for that?

Today, we encountered a terrifying corpse collection room, such a perverted Kun Bu, and even the invisible undead... You actually didn't change your expression and calmly cooperated with me to destroy the enemy.

She suddenly felt that he was even more handsome than her father. What should she do?

She couldn't help but hug the little packrat tightly in her arms. "I'll bring you to play when I have the chance in the future."

"Big Sister, can you be with me for the rest of your life and stay in the Gong family?" The little packrat suddenly asked seriously.

Chapter 1128: Danger Had Long Arrived!

Seeing that soft and cute little face raised and those big, sparkling black grape-like eyes looking at her so seriously and expectantly, Gu Qiqi found it difficult to say a casual "okay."

How could she fool the little packrat into saying that she would accompany him for the rest of her life?

She wasn't sure if she could be with Gong Jue forever.

There were too many complicated pasts and too many variables between them.

Even though she was starting to dote on the little packrat more and more, she still couldn't get around Gong Jue and promise him anything.

What if the Gong family really couldn't accept her past...

Gu Qiqi's heart skipped a beat. She said softly, "I can't promise to be with you forever, but I can promise you that no matter where I go or if we're together, you'll always be in my heart!"

The little boy's eyes sparkled, as if she was trying hard to control her disappointment. "Big Sister..."

Why did he have the feeling that Big Sister was running away from something?

Was she refusing him?

Gu Qiqi sniffed. Afraid that he would continue asking, she quickly changed the topic. "Susanna is still lying on the ground. little boy, what do you think we should do?"

Sure enough, the little boy turned and glanced at Susannah.

Then, he suggested, "Big Sister, since she likes this collection room so much and has been introducing it so eloquently along the way, let her stay in this damn place for the rest of her life! It's just nice that she's a match for the specimen glass from Kun Bu!"

At the thought of Susanna trying to hurt Gu Qiqi, the little packrat couldn't help but feel furious.

He only hated that his imagination was limited. Other than sending this bad woman to prison for the rest of her life, he couldn't think of any other way to deal with her.

Gu Qiqi narrowed her eyes and praised, "Very good. Let's do as you say!"

On the cold floor.

Susannah's whole body twitched, and she made indistinct, indistinct syllables.

It was unknown if she was begging for mercy or afraid, but the sound of "Ho ho ho" kept ringing out.

Unfortunately, no one here would forgive her or give her a chance.

Life wasn't something you could change just because you wanted to! If you had known this would happen, you wouldn't have done it in the first place!

After Gu Qiqi and the little packrat climbed out of this space, Susanna's sins were forever buried in the dead realm.

Gu Qiqi sealed the spatial entrance.

Everything Susanna and Dr. Brown had planned had ended up being their own.

Outside the villa.

Those bodyguards who felt that Gu Qiqi was a delicate piece of trash and needed to be protected meticulously had eaten compressed biscuits and were still monitoring the movements around her.

As they listened, someone finally realized that something was amiss. "Don't you realize that they're always discussing something repeatedly?"

"I did. They were always keen to discuss that ghost island. In my opinion, they're crazy. There's no such thing as superpowers in this world. Supernatural? It's just nonsense!"

"No, no. I mean, even their lines and dialogue are the same over and over!"

"Really? Why didn't I notice?"

"Listen carefully. They just said that the Ghost Island will only be reopened once every few decades, and now they're saying it again! Even their tone and pause are the same. What do they mean?"

Everyone was silent for a moment.

Almost at the same time, they put down what they were doing and gripped their weapons tightly!

Everyone realized that danger was coming!

No, the danger had come long ago!

Chapter 1129: She Made Men Kneel!

That surveillance was not a real-time surveillance at all, but a recording played by the other party!

As the capacity of the tape was limited, it replayed the conversation between Gu Qiqi and Professor Brown.

However, the soldiers' attention was all on the matter of Gu Qiqi being too useless. Previously, they hadn't compared the contents of the conversation carefully at all.

At this moment, when they reacted, they immediately broke out in a cold sweat.

The listening device was hidden on Gu Qiqi.

Now that there was a problem with the monitoring, it meant that Gu Qiqi was being controlled!

And they only realized it after so long!

Had Young Lady Qiqi been killed by a bad person? How were they going to explain this to Master Jue?

Finally, someone shouted, "When did this monitoring become chaotic?"

"I-I think Young Lady Qiqi went to the collection room with Professor Brown..."

"There must be something wrong with the collection room! There's no collection room on the villa map!"

"Don't talk about this anymore. Brothers, let's go and flatten the villa! At least we can get Young Lady Qiqi's remains out. Even if Master Jue kills us, he'll reward us with a complete corpse, right?"

Everyone trembled as they finally prepared to break in.

Yet.

In the next second.

Suddenly, there was a loud bang on the roof of the villa.

"Boom!"

The entire roof had been overturned!

Immediately, under the moonlight, a towering ancient tree that was more than a hundred feet tall actually rose from the ground.

Everyone thought they were seeing things.

They rubbed their eyes and looked again, only to see an even more unbelievable scene.

Gu Qiqi and the little packrat were gently and elegantly jumping down from the crown of the ancient tree and landing steadily.

"Young Lady Qiqi!"

The bodyguards couldn't care less and quickly surrounded her.

Everyone asked, "Young Lady Qiqi, are you alright? Did something happen inside?"

"Young Lady Qiqi, why have we lost contact? We thought that you had already..."

"Is there a problem with Professor Brown? We'll go in and arrest him now!"

Gu Qiqi's lips curled up slightly as she replied calmly, "I've already dealt with them. Professor Brown was impersonated by the S Nation's assassin, Kun Bu. His daughter was impersonated by the assassin, Su Su. By the way, this is a recording of their crimes. They confessed personally. Killing such a spy isn't illegal, right?"

No one answered.

The scene was already filled with shock and disbelief!

Professor Brown and his daughter were actually assassins from S Nation?

No, it didn't matter.

More importantly, Young Miss Qiqi had actually gotten their personal confession?

No, no, that wasn't important either.

More importantly, Young Miss Qiqi had already personally dealt with the spy? In their territory? Before they could even enter to help, Young Miss Qiqi had already dealt with him alone!!!

No, no, no. That wasn't important either.

Most importantly, Young Miss Qiqi had dealt with the number one assassin in S Country!

At this moment, they looked at Gu Qiqi with admiration.

It was comparable to watching Gong Jue.

"Sister-in-law, so you're actually so awesome! You're a hidden legend!"

"Sister-in-law, quickly rest. We'll just clean up the scene!"

"Sister-in-law, it's not illegal to kill spies. To be safe, we'll go and deal with the scene of the murder for you. As long as there aren't any traces..."

All of them immediately changed their way of addressing her.

They were convinced and willing!

Gu Qiqi pondered for a few seconds. "There's no need to go through so much trouble. I'll handle it myself."

She raised her hand gently.

Another seed was thrown into the villa.

In the next second, the entire villa was blown apart by a purple fire!

The bodyguards were all dumbfounded.

Damn, Sister-in-law had something even more awesome!

They were going to have to kneel and walk in front of their sister-in-law for the rest of her life.

Which damned bastard had actually mistakenly said that his sister-in-law was a useless little sheep?

Chapter 1130: Gong Jue Is Jealous Of His Son

Seeing Gu Qiqi attack domineeringly, the soldiers instantly became as obedient as lambs. They obediently opened a path for Gu Qiqi.

Everyone was filled with curiosity. They really wanted to ask Sister-in-law what kind of mysterious weapon that small particle which had been thrown out just now was. How could it drop an attack form that looked like a tree?

This was an unknown high-tech mysterious weapon!

They really wanted to ask!

However, when they saw Gu Qiqi's cold face, no one dared to act rashly. Asking such questions made them look stupid.

The group had just left the villa.

Suddenly!

No. 1, which was parked by the roadside, moved on its own!

It actually took the initiative to drive towards Gu Qiqi.

Along the way, it stopped beside Gu Qiqi. It took the initiative to open the car door, turn on the headlights, and wait for Gu Qiqi to enter.

The bodyguards held their breaths.

They all knew that No. 1 was a smart fighter jet, but it had always listened to only one person—the Empire's Chief, Gong Jue.

In the hands of others, it was just an ordinary sports car or an ordinary plane that needed to be driven.

But now, it was actually so obedient and listened to Gu Qiqi.

The bodyguards were shocked again.

This female War God, who was as terrifying as Master Jue, had refreshed their understanding time and time again, making them feel ashamed.

Seeing Gu Qiqi get into the car, everyone looked at each other in a speechless manner. The leader sent a telegram to Gong Jue. "Sir, we retreated safely, but we didn't protect Young Lady Qiqi well and are willing to take the initiative to receive punishment..."

Three seconds later.

Gu Qiqi received an overseas call from Gong Jue on the first day.

"Stupid woman. Those brats said they didn't protect you well. What happened? What's your situation now?"

Other than having a listening device, Gu Qiqi also had a life monitor.

Once something really happened to her, Gong Jue would receive the alarm in a second.

Clearly, Gu Qiqi's various vital signs were very healthy and intact.

Gu Qiqi smiled. "It's nothing. The little boy and I worked together to kill the spies. Go and settle your matters."

She said it so casually, as if the battle with her strong enemy, Kun Bu, was just a sure-win game. It was as if Kun Bu threat to drain her blood and turn her into a child's corpse were just a child's trick...

The little packrat admired the calm and composed general Gu Qiqi.

Gong Jue's eyes darkened. "Don't report the good news!"

"As for any trouble..." Gu Qiqi pondered for a few seconds. "There doesn't seem to be anything to worry about. After we killed Kun Bu, we even destroyed his corpse..."

Gong Jue was speechless.

Damn it, I've only not seen my wife for a night, but she's actually becoming more and more valiant.

"You took out Kun Bu?!"

"Oh... Actually, it was me and the little packrat who worked together. I can't do it myself." Gu Qiqi was humble.

Gong Jue was speechless.

Like father, like son. He probably had to change that.

When the little packrat had followed him, other than causing trouble, he had never done anything earth-shattering. In fact, he had always been the one being protected.

Now that he had followed Gu Qiqi, he had actually done something big!

Impressive brat.

"The little packrat is really not bad. He's calm in the face of danger and his attacks are accurate. If it weren't for the fact that Brother Yun was crushed by Kun Bu halfway, the little packrat would have been able to give him a final fatal blow. Let me tell you, Gong Jue, your son is really too outstanding. The most rare thing is that he doesn't panic when he encounters anything unbelievable. He's also quite good at cooperating with others..." Gu Qiqi couldn't help but praise the little packrat.

As Gong Jue listened, he felt upset.
