

Dear Chief 121

Chapter 121: Gong Jue's Glance

Bai Lang turned on his phone indignantly.

Hmph! Apart from Gong Jue, who else was speaking up for this little demon?

He didn't believe it!

He was going to complain to the Education Hall, write a letter of indictment, and file a complaint against her!

Wait a minute!

A trending news article suddenly popped up on the webpage.

"Shocking! Shocking! A certain "straight As student" from Qing Cheng Middle School cheated in the college entrance examinations but was accepted into a university. The straight As student is fake, but the "straight As in" is real!"

Bai Lang's eyes widened.

Then, he burst out laughing. "Hahaha, I knew that there was something strange about this little demon. Look..."

Special Assistant Lu naturally found that piece of news as well. Helpless, he whispered to Gong Jue,

"It's a pity that although she can attend university, her reputation has been ruined. Young Lady Qiqi is in a terrible state now..."

"It's all over the Internet that Young Lady Qiqi got into university because of unspoken rules..."

"The power of public opinion is very strong!"

"Also, once the matter gets out of hand... If this continues, I'm afraid that Imperial Medical University will be pressured into not accepting Young Lady Qiqi anymore..."

"After all, rumors are scary!"

"Even if that person who helped Young Lady Qiqi has a high status, he can't influence the hearts of people and the direction of public opinion..."

Special Assistant Lu was nervous about Gu Qiqi's future and was speaking incoherently.

However, Bai Lang was still gloating. "Aiyaya, Master Jue. I'm a genius doctor. I've already said that this little vixen isn't simple. Look, didn't she seduce a big shot behind your back? She could even do such a thing for the sake of the college entrance examinations, much less cling to you and refuse to let go for some other benefit..."

She was sticking to him and refusing to let go?

Heh heh, he wanted her to!

But that stupid woman escaped again and again.

Gong Jue's face sank. "Who did she seduce?"

Bai Lang was stunned. "Eh... It's probably the principal of the Empire Medical University, right?"

"Principal Qin is 70 years old this year." Gong Jue glanced at him coldly. "Also, he has a serious andrology disease."

Bai Lang was speechless.

Eh... It was actually like that?

Unwilling to give up, he muttered, "You can play even if you're sick... Aren't you sick too..."

Gong Jue glared at him.

Bai Lang immediately shut up.

"The important thing is that she was in Qing Cheng last night and Principal Qin was in the Imperial Capital. Why don't you give me a try at guessing what happened?"

Gong Jue said coolly.

Bai Lang pouted. "Then, perhaps there are others. The Imperial Capital is a place with hidden dragons and crouching tigers. Who knows if the little demon already..."

"Special Assistant Lu, why aren't you chasing those unrelated people out yet?!"

"Yes, Master Jue!"

Three seconds later.

Bai Lang knocked on the door of the research base in a frenzy. "Master Jue, honesty is unpleasant to the ears. Little demon isn't simple. She's not an ordinary person... Hey, Special Assistant Lu, get the sprinkler to spray further away. My white suit! It's customized. It's ruined! It's ruined!"

Upstairs.

Gong Jue stood outside the bedroom door.

Clenching his fists tightly, he maintained the posture of knocking on the door for a long time.

Finally, his fist landed on his forehead. Then, he pushed open the door and entered!

Gu Qiqi turned around abruptly. When she saw that it was him, she snorted in annoyance and continued to sit by the window.

Gong Jue's expression was cold. He strode over and stood behind her almost instantly.

A powerful pressure immediately sent a chill down Gu Qiqi's spine!

Gu Qiqi gnashed her teeth. She endured the pressure and refused to look back.

She refused to admit defeat either.

Silence spread between the two of them!

The man's rough breathing became clearer.

"Why didn't you tell me?"

Gong Jue finally spoke.

Chapter 122: Why Are You Dating With A Gigolo?!

What should she say to him?

Gu Qiqi didn't understand Gong Jue's meaning.

She thought that he was questioning her about drinking at the class gathering last night, so she brushed him off coldly. "Do I have to tell you? That's my private matter."

As she spoke, she even played with her phone twice on purpose.

To express that she didn't care about him!

Gong Jue's gaze followed Gu Qiqi's slender and fair finger and landed on the contact log on her phone.

D*mn it!

Once he thought of the words "Little Master Xiao Ning", he couldn't keep his tone steady anymore.

He said fiercely, "You're not going to tell me, but you're going to tell that gigolo? Gu Qiqi, you—"

You're a woman who only knows how to play around! You're a woman who wanders around and feels uneasy in her own home!

Why was she dating a gigolo at such a young age?

Didn't she know that 99% of school romances ended in failure?

Other than coaxing women with sweet nothings, what else would those young rascals do?

That kind of gigolo couldn't handle anything at all!

However... Before he could finish his words, he forcefully retracted them.

In other words, he seemed to be too concerned.

He couldn't say it out loud.

After criticizing her for a long time, he pursed his thin lips tightly and glared fiercely at Gu Qiqi's innocent little face.

Gu Qiqi was dumbfounded.

"What gigolo?"

When did she say anything to that gigolo? Could Gong Jue be referring to Yao Dazhuang?

That fierce-looking pig head was also called a gigolo?

Don't joke around.

Gong Jue was furious when he saw that she refused to admit it. He had also forgotten that he was supposed to come over to comfort her about the college entrance exam application form. He also couldn't be bothered to hide the problem that he didn't care.

He raised his big palm slightly and easily snatched over her phone. Then, he swiped across the screen!

Little Master Xiao Ning!

Four words popped out from his contacts.

"Do you think that I don't know where that gigolo is hiding?"

His long and slender fingers poked at the words "Little Master".

There was also disdain in his anger.

He seemed to be secretly warning her that nothing in this world could hide from his sharp eyes.

Gu Qiqi frowned and looked over.

She was silent for a few seconds.

Gong Jue thought that she was guilty and snorted coldly. "It's no wonder that you can't get into university when you're dating such a gigolo!"

Honestly speaking, he felt a little regretful.

He knew very well that although Gu Qiqi's IQ couldn't compare to his, it wouldn't be a problem for her to enter university.

It seemed a little cruel to agitate her like this.

But he couldn't help but say it out loud. How could he take it back?

Unexpectedly, Gu Qiqi didn't care about his words about "not being able to enter university" at all. Instead, her delicate eyebrows raised and her voice became very cold. "You touched my phone's contact list and blocked Xiao Ning's phone call, right?"

Her voice was soft but it had a special power!

Gong Jue's lips couldn't help but twitch. He admitted, "So what if I am?"

Gu Qiqi laughed out of anger. "I initially thought that you were sick and didn't want to bicker with you. But I didn't expect that not only are you sick, you're also ruthless and shameless! You're invading other people's privacy, do you understand?"

Gong Jue's expression turned cold. "He's just a gigolo..."

"What do you know?!" Gu Qiqi raised her voice. "Just because you blocked the phone, something nearly happened to Xiao Ning! She was always worried that she was pregnant and couldn't get the pregnancy test kits. She was so anxious every day that she couldn't sleep. Yesterday, I saw that she was very haggard! It's fine if you damaged the pregnancy test kits I bought for her, but I didn't hold it against you."

Now, you've cut off my connection with her. If something happens to Xiao Ning and she commits suicide... I definitely won't forgive you! You hateful man with erectile dysfunction! I curse you to be impotent for the rest of your life! Impotent!"

Thinking back to her previous life, Xiao Ning died so young and so pitifully.

Two lives were lost.

Gu Qiqi's eyes reddened.

She couldn't be bothered about how conceited, cold, and bad-tempered Gong Jue was as she shouted at him.

Chapter 123: An Ugly Death!

You're sick!

You're shameless!

I curse you to be impotent! Impotent!

Outside the door, Special Assistant Lu heard Gu Qiqi's fierce words towards Gong Jue.

He was so nervous that cold sweat formed on the back of his neck.

Gusts of cold wind blew across his spine.

Gosh, Chief had never been scolded like this in his life. Even the master and madam didn't dare to say such harsh words to Chief.

And the enemies who dared to be disrespectful to Chief and say a word of vulgarity had now become skeletons buried underground.

Thus, Young Lady Qiqi, you really have guts.

But do you know how serious the consequences of your words will be?

Someone would die! And it would be an extremely ugly death...

However, in the very next moment, Special Assistant Lu's eyes widened. He swallowed back the monologue in his heart and looked at Gong Jue's reaction in disbelief!

Gong Jue took a step closer to Gu Qiqi. His big palms suddenly gripped her petite shoulders and pressed her small body against the table. "Can you repeat yourself?"

His tone actually trembled.

Although it was cold, she was more anxious!

Gu Qiqi glared at him in disdain.

She was so angry just now that she had scolded this man, but he actually took the initiative to scold her.

"It's not a glorious thing to talk about your erectile dysfunction either. There's no need to let people repeat it, right?" Gu Qiqi mocked him on purpose.

She wanted to see how this man with erectile dysfunction would react when he was completely enraged.

Anyway, he had ruined her relationship with Xiao Ning and wouldn't let her go out to handle the college entrance exam results. She didn't want him to have an easy life either.

If she was in a bad mood, they could be in a bad mood together.

But what she didn't expect was that Gong Jue actually didn't show any anger on his face. His tone was a little anxious and cold. "Stupid woman, it's not about this. I want you to repeat that thing about that Little Master Xiao Ning! He's pregnant? Did you buy the pregnancy test kit for him? Tell me clearly!"

Why would a gigolo get pregnant?

Could it be that this gigolo was... a woman?

This possibility simply drove him crazy.

He had to find out immediately.

Gu Qiqi frowned. "Xiao Ning is my best friend, not yours. Why should I be clear with you?"

"Don't say it?" Gong Jue snorted coldly. "Do you think that I won't know if you don't say it? Do you think that I won't investigate him thoroughly?!"

Gu Qiqi gnashed her teeth.

D*mn it. She definitely couldn't let outsiders know that Xiao Ning might be pregnant.

What should she do?

She had already let it slip just now. She didn't want the man with erectile dysfunction to know more now.

She was in a dilemma.

Gong Jue suddenly let go of her shoulders and stared intently at her phone.

Best friend?

That stupid woman said that they were best friends just now?

Could he be her best friend?

Wouldn't he know once he called her?

Why was he wasting time here talking nonsense with this stupid woman?

He did as he thought.

Gong Jue's long and slender fingers operated the phone a few times and immediately unlocked the technology.

The phone's password protection was lifted!

He quickly dialed the number!

It rang for a long time.

The other party picked it up. "Hmm? Qiqi..."

Muffled voices traveled over the phone.

In fact, there were even suspicious sounds of beds being lifted around her.

But it was obvious that the other party was a woman!

At this moment, Gong Jue felt that the sky had lit up.

The world turned bright.

Earth was at peace.

He felt good both physically and mentally!

He hung up the call and threw the phone back to Gu Qiqi as he said arrogantly, "Tell her, why would she use such a vulgar name like mine for no reason?! Who would have the time to block your phone? It's because this name is too vulgar that the connection isn't working!"

Although his tone was filled with disdain.

But the corners of his lips actually curved up.

Chapter 124: Not Fighting With A Turtle

Because the name in the contact list was too vulgar.

So she couldn't even get through to her phone?

What kind of logic was that?

Gu Qiqi simply felt that this stupid man's IQ wasn't even on the line.

If that was the case, wouldn't her name be very vulgar in Xiao Ning's phone as well?

Thinking about this, Gu Qiqi suddenly felt guilty.

Cough, cough, cough.

That seemed to be the case.

Because in Xiao Ning's phone, her name seemed to be—"Big Chest Qiqi"!

That guy who liked to play pranks often enjoyed making fun of her big buns.

This nickname was already the most normal one.

Could it be that the signal had really been blocked because he was vulgar?

Gu Qiqi, who was filled with guilt, naturally didn't notice the arc on Gong Jue's lips at this moment.

She only saw Gong Jue sweep his gaze across the table. The kelp spare ribs soup that was about to turn cold had yet to move when he inexplicably said, "Don't you know that it's a serious crime to waste the country's food? You have to be punished for cleaning the bathroom, huh?! Drink it all for me in five minutes!"

Sweeping the bathroom?

No way!

This was a men's toilet!

"Then, if I finish drinking, can I go out to do something?" Gu Qiqi asked back.

"Finish it first!"

This stupid woman was pushing her luck?

However, now that Gong Jue knew that she was definitely going out because of the college entrance exam application, he no longer restricted her.

Gu Qiqi mumbled, "Then, I'll give you face..."

She finished the soup in one go.

Gong Jue strode away with his long legs in satisfaction. His leather boots knocked against the ground forcefully as he left.

"In the future, I'll allow you to go out for an hour a day. The premise is that you have to report it in advance!"

Hearing Gong Jue's "orders" before he left, Gu Qiqi was somewhat surprised.

She seemed to have scolded him quite badly just now. This irritable man with erectile dysfunction actually didn't get angry or bear a grudge?

He didn't even shout at her?

Wasn't this abnormal?

She could hear the joy in his tone as he left. He actually allowed her to go out for the first time and didn't lock her up as a female prisoner anymore?

Why did all these good things happen in one go? She found it unbelievable.

The little dirty turtle, who had been silent all this while and didn't dare to speak, secretly laughed twice and said in Gu Qiqi's mind, "Master, it can't be that... he's actually a masochist, right? He'll feel better after being tortured by you?"

Gu Qiqi frowned. "Why are you shivering?"

"Oh my! It's the cuteness of having strong masochistic tendencies!"

"Where did you learn this term?"

“On your phone! I learned it online!” The little dirty turtle reported as if he was presenting a treasure. “If he’s an M, then you’re an S, Master Silver. An S and an M are simply compatible!”

“Nonsense!” Gu Qiqi blushed.

She wasn’t going to play with this man with erectile dysfunction.

“Children are not allowed to learn from adults to go online in the future! Not allowed to look blindly at those chaotic, vicious, and violent things, understand?”

“But Master Silver, I have to understand this world as soon as possible so that I can better help you collect energy points and activate new skills...”

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

She actually couldn’t reject this reason of being hardworking and studious.

Damn!

Forget it. She wasn’t going to discuss at length with a turtle.

She had to call Xiao Ning first...

Once Gong Jue left, he immediately ordered Special Assistant Lu, who was following by his side.

“Go and check which blind website published fake news. Ask them to close down today! All of them will be unemployed!”

“Send that grades review team a lawyer letter again. Ask them to organize a new exam. Otherwise, sue them for bankruptcy!”

As Special Assistant Lu listened to Gong Jue’s instructions, the corners of his eyes kept twitching.

Those reporters who took money from others and wrote nonsense had lost their jobs so pitifully...

And some people who held the fate of the college entrance exam candidates would be tortured by the Gong clan’s lawyers...

Chief, can you be any more awesome?

Indeed, in the very next moment, Gong Jue gave him an even more awesome shock.

Chapter 125: Who Exactly Was The Man Who Bullied Xiao Ning?

“Not only is everyone going to take the exam again, but they’re going to do a live-stream on the internet as a show of fairness!”

Gong Jue’s powerful orders shocked Special Assistant Lu.

Oh my.

In the history of the Empire, there had never been a chance for cheating examinees to prove their innocence and take another examination.

It was even more impossible to broadcast the examination venue live!

Chief, you're going to heaven!

Couldn't he be like that big shot behind the scenes and quietly settle the Empire Medical University behind her back and directly enroll Young Lady Qiqi?

When he saw Special Assistant Lu's stunned look...

Gong Jue frowned unhappily. "Why? Can't do it?"

"Yes, yes! Definitely! But Master Jue... Isn't this too high-profile?"

"Others are already riding on your neck, but you're still fucking keeping a low profile?"

Special Assistant Lu was speechless.

Chief's words were crude but reasonable.

He suddenly understood the Chief's good intentions.

Changing an application form wasn't difficult.

It wasn't difficult to change the admission results.

What was difficult was to reverse the dark hearts of people and clear her name of being forcefully slandered!

In that split second, he suddenly felt that the Chief had struck a vital spot on the problem more ruthlessly and directly than that big shot behind the scenes.

Of course, the premise for all of this was that the chief trusted Young Lady Qiqi deeply in his heart.

That's right. Why did the chief believe that Young Lady Qiqi would definitely be able to score an amazing result for the reexamination?

What if... Young Lady Qiqi didn't perform well?

What if... Young Lady Qiqi's paper was really suspected of plagiarism?

Of course, he meant what if.

Clearly, the chief hadn't considered this possibility at all!

Special Assistant Lu sighed in his heart. Chief, you have always been arrogant and conceited. Are you really not afraid of being slapped in the face this time?

As he was thinking about it, Gong Jue's cold voice exploded above his head again. "Wait. Go and do something first."

"Yes!"

"Buy ten pregnancy test kits... No, just buy a box and throw it into that stupid woman's room."

He must have broken two to three of her limbs, right?

It should be fine to lose one to compensate for ten, right?

Special Assistant Lu was speechless.

He looked bitter and embarrassed!

What sins did Old Lu Deng commit in this lifetime to help him buy a box of pregnancy test kits?

Would the staff think that I'm an old, bad*ss, hooligan?

In the bedroom.

Gu Qiqi called Xiao Ning.

Just like when Gong Jue made the call just now, the ringtone rang at least a few times before Xiao Ning picked it up. "Yes... Yes?... Qiqi?"

On the other end of the call, Xiao Ning's voice was soft, low, and hazy.

It was as if she was on an endless coast that was being splashed by waves.

She was so... delicate!

How charming!

Gu Qiqi looked at the clock in confusion. "Are you still asleep?"

Clearly, she was too naive.

Opposite her, Xiao Ning's tone immediately became nervous. "No... No... Qiqi... Yes... Is there something wrong?"

"It's nothing. I just left in a hurry yesterday and had many things to talk to you about. I'll send the pregnancy test kits over to you today. Do you still want them?"

Xiao Ning became even more nervous and even sounded like she was about to cry. "No, no, no... Yes, no more!"

Her intermittent voice sounded breathless and suspicious.

Even the innocent Gu Qiqi frowned. "Little Lemon, what happened to you?"

"I... Ah!"

The bed on Xiao Ning's side suddenly flailed.

Gu Qiqi thought that she was going to get up and wash up. As she didn't see the road clearly when she picked up the call, she tripped and felt a little guilty. Thus, she said, "Forget it. You can continue with your work first. Tell me, is Bai Lang really your uncle?"

"Yes, that's right."

"So... the man who bullied you was actually him?" Gu Qiqi's heart burned with anger.

That scum!

"I..."

Xiao Ning's reply was drowned by a series of rustling sounds.

Chapter 126: The Wicked and Arrogant Her

Suspicious rustling sounds could be heard from Xiao Ning's end.

Then, the call was hung up.

Gu Qiqi called again, but her phone was actually switched off!

Why was Xiao Ning so afraid of answering this question?

There must be something wrong.

Coldness surged in Gu Qiqi's heart.

Could it be that in her previous life, Xiao Ning had to commit suicide because she was pregnant with the Bai family's child?!

Since that was the case, why did that scumbag Bai bully Xiao Ning and even make her pregnant?

Her heart hurt!

What should she do to help her best friend and not let her repeat her mistakes?

She lowered her eyes and was silent for a moment.

Gu Qiqi stood up abruptly.

She had to do something!

She was going to change both her university and Xiao Ning's fate. She refused to accept these shameless arrangements made by fate.

Why did the innocent have to die and the scumbags allowed to ride on their heads to strut around?

She wasn't convinced!

This time, because Gong Jue gave her the time to walk around every day, she left the house smoothly.

The first stop was to go straight to the Qing Cheng Results Research Department.

The Qing Cheng Examination Division was affiliated with the Imperial Education Hall. They definitely knew that her grades had been deemed as cheating.

She had to find out the truth.

Unfortunately...

When she handed over the application form to check the results, the middle-aged woman at the front desk rolled her eyes. "You even have the cheek to check your results, for someone who cheated and plagiarized?"

Gu Qiqi controlled her temper. "If I don't check, how will I know if you guys made a mistake?"

The auntie snorted. "Definitely not! That was discovered by the Empire's exam results review team. How could there be a mistake? Hurry up and go home. Do what you have to do. Becoming a nanny or something is also a way out."

Gu Qiqi said in a low voice, "No. I must see the exam paper. I want my innocence!"

"Innocence? Hahaha..." The auntie laughed sarcastically. "If I were you, I would hang myself to death!"

As she spoke, she actually tore Gu Qiqi's application form into pieces on the spot!

Papers scattered across the floor.

It also landed on Gu Qiqi's shoulder.

Hang to death?

Upon hearing these two words, Gu Qiqi couldn't maintain her calm attitude anymore.

"Yes, I was hung to death in my previous life!" Gu Qiqi suddenly stepped forward.

Her cold gaze squinted. "So, I have nothing to be afraid of in this lifetime. I've already recorded that comment of yours just now. Perhaps, it will be more interesting to announce it on the Internet and let everyone hear you rather than me admiring it alone?"

That auntie was dumbfounded.

This girl was so sinister!

She thought that she was just a high school student. According to her intention of taking care of Enlong, she would just humiliate her casually and send her away.

Her words just now were so unpleasant. Most girls would have cried in anger and left long ago.

But this girl actually turned around and threatened her.

"Then write another application form!"

Gu Qiqi raised her chin. Her gaze was cold. "Shouldn't it be someone who tore it to rewrite it?"

The auntie was speechless.

Not only was this girl sinister, but she was also arrogant!

She checked the results.

Gu Qiqi didn't feel very relaxed.

Although she had used some tricks to submit the application, from the attitude of that person just now, she knew that this place would definitely not let her successfully find out the truth.

Little Filthy Turtle sighed. "Master Silver, if only we were stronger. I can crawl further away to steal the exam paper for you!"

Gu Qiqi raised her eyebrows. "You can crawl away?"

Why was she still unaware of this new skill?

The little dirty turtle shrank its head guiltily...

As the pet spoke, suddenly, someone chased after them. "Student Gu, please hold on!"

The Xiao family.

In the room at the end of the fourth floor.

It was Xiao Ning's bedroom.

At this moment, it was filled with darkness...

Xiao Ning said with a sobbing tone, "Wu... I... I'm only five minutes late... Can I... Stop?"

Upon hearing this, the man's hoarse and cold voice traveled through the darkness.

Chapter 127: Don't Forget Your Identity

In a dark room.

The girl's dream-like bed was thrown into a mess.

The clean pale pink blanket was scrunched up.

Xiao Ning was dragged to the floor. Her silk nightgown was badly wrinkled.

The man looked down at her from above.

His long and cold fingers pointed at the caller ID on Xiao Ning's phone screen. His tone was hoarse and cold. "Your friends?"

Xiao Ning's eyes brimmed with tears. "That's my best friend..."

"Best friend?" The man laughed coldly. "That kind of friend who shares everything with you?"

Xiao Ning shook her head desperately. "No, no, no! I didn't tell her about you and me. Please don't do anything to her... She doesn't know anything, really! Uncle, I swear!"

The man glanced at her coolly. "Don't call me that affectionately. Others will think that I'm really your biological uncle."

Seeing Xiao Ning flinch and that pitiful look on her face, the emotions in his eyes changed slightly. A trace of undetectable love flashed past.

He retracted his gaze lightly and unloaded the battery from the phone. "What about the pregnancy test kit?"

Xiao Ning held her breath and stammered, "No... No... I'm just afraid... afraid of what if..."

"What if you get pregnant with my child?" The man suddenly grabbed her chin and exerted force.

"You're really delusional! Little Lemon, have you forgotten your identity?"

"I..." Xiao Ning's soul was sent flying as she choked on her words. "I'm sorry, Little Uncle..."

She was at a loss for words.

That's right. He wasn't her biological uncle, and neither was she his biological niece.

Their identity was that of a man! A woman!

However, in the very next second, even this pitiful understanding was shattered.

The man's cold voice traveled from above once more without any emotion. "Remember your identity. Have you seen a toy giving birth before?"

Toy... Toys...

Xiao Ning's heart skipped a beat!

Large drops of tears rolled down her face.

It turned out that she wasn't even a woman. She was just a toy.

The man laughed coldly. "How useless. You're crying already? It's still early..."

"No..." Xiao Ning cried lightly and begged, "Can you let me off..."

"Impossible," the man said coldly. "When have you seen a toy that can say stop?"

"But you said one minute late... I was only five minutes late..." Xiao Ning mustered her courage and said.

"I've changed my mind now," the man said indifferently.

Then, as if he had thought of something, his thin lips curved coldly. "In order to celebrate your admission to the veterinary profession of the Empire Medical University, I've decided to reward you double. Don't you think so, Little Lemon?"

Double?

"No... No!"

In the very next second.

The voices of objection were ruthlessly silenced!

Gu Qiqi was stopped at the door.

She looked back.

It was actually that auntie with a poor attitude just now.

At this moment, the auntie laughed like a cluster of flowers. "Classmate Gu, your application has been approved."

What?

Even the dirty little turtle couldn't believe it. "Master Silver, you humans are actually quite efficient..."

Gu Qiqi raised her eyebrows lightly. "So, I can go in and look at the exam papers now?"

The auntie waved her hand. Her attitude had changed 180 degrees. “There’s no need to trouble yourself. I’ve already copied it out for you. Look, your results are very good. It’s just that there’s a mark on the English paper. According to the rules, you have to be counted as cheating. Aiyah, we’re also very helpless. I’m sorry.”

Gu Qiqi frowned.

She definitely didn’t make this mark.

But it was too late to explain now!

Chapter 128: Slapping Her Face With A Grand Point

A test paper with marks would provide an reason for cheating on the scores. It had to be invalid.

This was the world’s recognized exam rules.

Even if she published this copy of the document, it wouldn’t be able to restore her reputation. Her reputation would probably be even worse—

For the sake of high scores and vanity, she actually made a mark to bribe the critic to cheat... She didn’t want to wear this big hat.

Gu Qiqi clenched her fists.

This way, there was no point in investigating.

Could she just let these people slander her like this?

But that auntie looked at her with a smile. “But Classmate Gu, you don’t have to worry either. We will hold a repeat exam three days later. Let’s give this student who has discovered that she cheated... No, no, no. It’s a chance for her to prove her strength. Here, this is the notice. Please definitely attend!”

Gu Qiqi was stunned.

She had heard of reexamination for the middle and final exams, but she had never heard of reexamination for the college entrance examination!

Would the review team be so kind as to think about them?

Why did she feel that the possibility was zero?

Every year, due to the controversy over the results of the examinations and the partiality of the cutoff scores across the provinces and cities, countless people missed their dream of studying in university. How lucky was she to have an additional chance to prove herself?

“Okay, I’ll participate.” Gu Qiqi took the notice and agreed.

This was her only chance.

She could only use her beautiful scores to slap those people who slandered her.

Only then could they understand the pain of slapping someone on the face!

Gu Qiqi turned around and left.

The smile on the auntie's face disappeared without a trace.

Gritting her teeth in anger, she spat. "Hmph! If it weren't for the fact that my superior personally called me just now and instructed me to redo the examinations, would a plagiarized dog like you still have a chance? I think you're cheating by plagiarizing! Even if you had another exam, you wouldn't have been able to get it! Damned girl, you still don't know that this redo exam is going to be broadcasted live on the Internet, right? I don't care how awesome your backer is. When the time comes, you'll still lose all your face under the cameras!"

Gu Qiqi went to the post office first.

She mailed out the shirt and handkerchief that she had bought for her younger brother previously.

The nursing home was located in the suburbs. It was too far away. Furthermore, without the guardian's permission, no one was allowed to visit it.

Gu Xiaobei's guardians were Gu Qiushan and Gu Meifeng.

They had also designated the nursing home.

Although Gu Qiqi was extremely dissatisfied with this greedy and irresponsible nursing home, she didn't have the right to help her younger brother change homes.

She secretly made up her mind that once she had enough wealth, she would be able to fight a lawsuit with Gu Qiushan and Gu Meifeng for Xiao Bei's custody and rights.

Bring Xiao Bei out and find a better nursing home. She would even build the best nursing home for him!

Her mind was racing with plans.

She had to revise for her examinations, work hard to earn money, and fetch her younger brother out. Also... She had to stop that scumbag uncle of Xiao Ning from persecuting Xiao Ning... Everything was very urgent and important.

She had never felt so fulfilled in her life.

Fight!

Yes, this was the feeling. The feeling of going against an unjust fate.

Her entire body was filled with blood.

The dirty little turtle seemed to have sensed her hot-blooded emotions and said excitedly, "Master Silver, why don't we continue to earn money today?"

"Okay." Gu Qiqi looked at the golden signboard of the Bai family's Medical Hall not far ahead. Suddenly, she revealed an unpredictable smile. "To earn money."

In the Medical Hall.

Bored, Bai Lang was leaning against the sofa in the VIP room.

He flipped through the account book.

“Ah, ah, ah, ah! Why are there so many account books? Can’t you just remember the total amount? There are so many numbers. My bright and energetic peach-shaped electric eyes are so tired. What if it affects this divine doctor’s handsome looks and ability to flirt?” Bai Lang complained.

The manager’s lips twitched helplessly. “Second Master... Young Master instructed you to patrol his shop...”

Chapter 129: How Many Young Masters Does Your Bai Family Have?

The manager mentioned the eldest young master of the Bai family, Bai Yeyuan.

Bai Lang immediately lost his temper.

He muttered softly, “He’s doing great. I don’t know where he went to live happily, but he made me face these hateful accounts...”

She was feeling resentful.

Suddenly, his eyes lit up!

Through the French window, he saw a petite figure walk in.

That person’s shirt was tied into a skirt. She had long seaweed-like hair, a straight waist, and a pair of clear eyes. Her skin was as white as snow... Who else could it be but Gu Qiqi?

“Heh, something interesting happened!”

Bai Lang rubbed his fists and wiped his palms. He suddenly felt that it wasn’t boring to look at the accounts in the pharmacy anymore.

“Go and ‘entertain’ that little vixen for me!”

He gnashed his teeth and made an expression like a hungry tiger pouncing on its prey.

The manager’s lips twitched.

He muttered in his heart, Second Master, are you sure that it wasn’t a vixen who ate you up until she didn’t even spit out your bones?

“Why are you still standing there in a daze? Go on! Take back all the money that she used to cheat me from that time!”

“Yes, Second Master!”

The manager led the way with an impossible task. He had a bitter expression on his face, but he still had to smile as he welcomed Gu Qiqi. “Young Lady Qiqi, you’re here! What herbs do you want to buy this time?”

“I was just looking around.”

Gu Qiqi’s tone was indifferent. She didn’t look aggressive at all.

But the manager tensed up. He didn't dare to relax at all.

After the previous two encounters, he knew all too well that although this girl looked petite, she was definitely not someone to be trifled with.

Seeing Gu Qiqi walk towards the expensive Chinese medicine counter, he hurriedly followed her. "Young Lady Qiqi, we have all the medicine in our shop this time. You can choose whatever you want..."

Back then, in order to prevent Gu Qiqi from buying the medicine, Bai Lang withdrew all of them. In the end, his business license was nearly revoked.

This time, Bai Lang learned his lesson.

Gu Qiqi looked over and there were all the herbs. The problem was that there was an extra zero on the price tag!

The price rose tenfold!

Gu Qiqi snorted coldly in her heart. "Scumbag!" But she didn't show it on her face.

She suddenly asked a question that had nothing to do with buying medicine!

"How many young masters does your Bai family have?"

The manager was stunned.

The unexpected question dumbfounded him.

Of the ten thousand lines that she had prepared in his heart, not a single one of them was suitable for this kind of problem.

He couldn't help but stammer as he replied, "There are a total of... two young masters..."

"Bai Lang is the younger one?"

"Yes, yes. Young Lady Qiqi, you're right. Second Young Master is Young Master Bai Lang. Young Master is Young Master Bai Yueyuan."

Gu Qiqi fell into deep thought.

Bai Lang was the younger one?

That was "Little Uncle", right?

Luckily, she asked a few more questions.

What if there were a few men in the Bai family? It wouldn't be good if she wronged that scum.

It was one thing for her to cheat the white scum of money previously.

It was another matter to stand up for Xiao Ning now.

Every injustice has its perpetrator, every debt has its debtor. Since she had confirmed that Bai Lang was that "Little Uncle" now, she wouldn't be soft-hearted!

That b*stard's "Little Uncle" did that disgusting thing to Xiao Ning and even locked Xiao Ning at home... She wanted to see if he would still have the leisure to bully Xiao Ning after she burned his shop down!

The manager wiped his cold sweat.

He didn't understand what Gu Qiqi was up to.

Could it be that Young Lady Qiqi and our Second Young Master became friends after fighting a few times? Could it be that they had begun to appreciate each other and have... feelings for each other?

However, when this thought surfaced, he shivered and felt a little disgusted.

Impossible!

The difference between them... was too great.

The manager sighed.

Young Lady Qiqi was such a smart person...

She probably wouldn't take a fancy to that "Second Young Master" of his, right?

Chapter 130: Walking Into His Trap Step by Step

The manager was still guessing Gu Qiqi's thoughts towards Bai Lang.

But Gu Qiqi was already pointing to the row of expensive medicine materials on the counter.

"Dendrobium, seahorses, musk, red fungus, wild ginseng, winter worm, summer herbs... This and that, take them out for me to see."

The manager shivered and couldn't help but be speechless.

One had to know that their price was ten times higher now.

It wasn't a big deal to increase the price by tenfold for a ten-dollar medicine.

These expensive herbs cost more than ten thousand dollars, or even hundreds of thousands of dollars per gram.

If it was raised tenfold, Young Lady Qiqi, have you really calculated it?

However, Gu Qiqi didn't seem to care about the price at all. Her expression was extremely calm. "Why? You don't want to sell it?"

"Selling, selling, selling! Wait a minute."

The manager could only go and take it as instructed.

He was puzzled once more. Could it be that Young Lady Qiqi really wasn't going to fight with Second Young Master anymore? Could it be that she wasn't here to cheat him this time? Was she here to express friendliness, send money, and reconcile?

Although this probability seemed to be nearly zero!

The little dirty turtle was as dumbfounded as the manager. "Master, why did you give money to that scum? He's a b*stard! He's a pervert!"

Gu Qiqi curved her lips slightly. A trace of slyness flashed past her eyes.

She didn't answer the little dirty turtle's question.

She asked it, "You said before that you could leave me and move out?"

The little dirty turtle said awkwardly, "There are too few colored spots at the moment. I can at most stay one or two meters away from you. If I move too far away, I won't have the energy to support myself."

Gu Qiqi nodded. "Yes, it's enough!"

Soon.

The mahogany counter in the pharmacy was covered with expensive Chinese medicine materials.

Especially those top-notch winter insects and summer grasses. They were carefully arranged in a straight line on a golden velvet tray.

Top-grade herbs were more expensive than gold!

Everyone knew that branded bags and jewelry were expensive. Little did they know that real rare herbs could kill those golden luxury goods in seconds with just a gram or two.

At this moment, any one of the row of winter insects and summer grasses in front of Gu Qiqi was worth a diamond ring.

She scanned the room.

Her gaze swept across the sandworms and summer grasses before finally landing on an inconspicuous box of second-grade antler slices.

"This!"

Gu Qiqi stretched out her fair finger and pointed.

The manager smiled.

Indeed, Young Lady Qiqi had considered her words.

Among all these luxurious herbs, deer antlers were the cheapest.

The original price was 2000 dollars.

Now, Second Master had deliberately made it into 20,000 dollars.

Actually, she didn't suffer a huge loss buying this box of deer antlers.

Young Lady Qiqi, you should be magnanimous. This time, you will suffer a little. Hurry up and buy it before leaving. Don't fight with our family's d*mned young master anymore.

He packed that box of deer antlers neatly. "Sure. Just foot the bill here."

But in the next second.

The manager's mouth was as wide as an egg!

He had completely misjudged Gu Qiqi's intentions.

Gu Qiqi frowned and continued, "This, I don't want! Wrap the rest up for me. I want them all!"

The manager was stunned for a moment.

Only then did he realize that among this pile of expensive Chinese medicine materials, only that box of the cheapest second-grade deer antler was something Young Lady Qiqi didn't want.

She actually wanted to take the rest away.

When he was calculating the total price, his old hands were trembling non-stop.

In a VIP room not far away.

Bai Lang watched excitedly as Gu Qiqi walked into his trap step by step.

He was so happy that he was just short of wagging his tail on the spot.

Ten million dollars...

30 million...

In the end, he watched as the manager struck out a total price of 85 million dollars.

Bai Lang couldn't help but laugh out loud. "Hahaha, you little vixen! Let's see if he still admits that you spent over 80 million dollars of Gong Jue's this time! You're a bad woman who specializes in wasting his money!"

Not only was she spending money recklessly, but she was also stupid!

Bai Lang's fingers already pressed Gong Jue's name in his phone's contact list.

He was prepared to broadcast the exciting scene of Gu Qiqi using the black diamond card like a sucker.

He never expected that...

Gu Qiqi's light and irritating voice suddenly traveled to his ears. "You must have calculated the total price wrongly!"
