

Dear Chief 131

Chapter 131: Waiting For The Little Fairy To Be Tricked!

Did he calculate the total price wrongly?

Upon hearing Gu Qiqi's words, the manager hurriedly took out his calculator. With a crackling sound, he did a new round of calculations.

"Young Lady Qiqi, it's 85 million dollars..." The manager scratched his head.

Could it be that Young Lady Qiqi couldn't afford it and deliberately found a way out?

Gu Qiqi glanced lightly at the herbs on the table.

She slammed the card in her hand onto the counter.

"Money isn't a problem. But I offered a price of 85 million dollars. You have to give me medicine of the same value, right?"

The manager was shocked by Gu Qiqi's handsome actions and nearly cheered for that domineering "money isn't a problem"!

After regaining his senses, he hurriedly explained,

"This... Young Lady Qiqi, I'm sorry. Our pricing is indeed a little more expensive than the outside world, but our supply channel is especially good. The quality of the same herbs is especially high. Look at how clean and plump this wormgrass is..."

He thought that Gu Qiqi was clinging onto the price that was ten times more expensive.

He could only praise the quality of the herbs.

Not far away, Bai Lang secretly watched this scene and sneered in his heart. "Little vixen, it's useless even if you seize the loophole that it's ten times more expensive! I've done my homework. The Empire's law states that even the Bureau of Commodity Prices can't interfere with the pricing of expensive medicine materials. Expensive medicine materials are like diamonds. They can be sold for a sky-high price no matter how big the market is! The next time you dare to come again, I'll increase the price by a hundred times!"

Bai Lang was incomparably grateful. After being scammed by Gu Qiqi the last time, he—who had always hated doing business—went back and flipped through the legal regulations for the entire night.

He had memorized the laws regarding the medicinal herb business very well.

At this moment, he crossed his legs, squinted his amorous eyes, and took a sip of chilled red wine. He sat leisurely and waited for Gu Qiqi to be scammed!

85 million dollars.

Who would have thought?

Gu Qiqi stretched out her fair and jade-like finger and pointed at the most expensive winter worm and summer grass in front of her. She said unhurriedly, “Very clean? Very plump? Are you sure, Mr. Manager?”

The manager looked over in confusion.

Wearing a pair of gloves, he carefully picked up a golden cordyceps. “Young Lady Qiqi, you can take a closer look. The quality of this cordyceps is really perfect. I’ve been in the pharmacy profession for twenty years. There’s no lie—”

The confident words came to an abrupt halt!

The manager was dumbfounded as he looked at the “perfect” cordyceps.

Perfect my foot!

At some point in time, several wormholes had appeared on that short and thick blade of grass.

The originally perfect wormgrass had been eaten clean.

This was a very serious quality problem.

It could be said that the wormgrass that was originally worth hundreds of thousands of dollars became worthless because of these few wormholes!

Since it was eaten by worms, it meant that there was a big problem with the safekeeping. The medicinal effect was greatly reduced. Furthermore, it was impossible to predict whether there were other problems.

“This, this, this is definitely a mistake. I’m sorry, Young Lady Qiqi. I guarantee that only this one with poor quality is mixed in. I’ll discard this one and definitely won’t calculate it in the total price. I, I, I’ll calculate the price again for you!”

“Yes. I suggest that you do a thorough check before you do the calculations.” Gu Qiqi was calm and composed.

Cold sweat formed on the manager’s forehead. “Okay, okay. There definitely won’t be anymore—”

Unfortunately, these two words “anymore” hadn’t even been said for three seconds.

The manager was shocked to find that the entire row of winter and summer herbs had been eaten by worms!

There was no exception.

All of them were eaten!

In an instant, he felt as if someone had ruthlessly slapped his face.

It hurt!

Didn’t he say that he would never do it again?

Chapter 132: The Gloomy and Cold Young Master Bai

Next.

Not only the cordyceps.

There was also wild ginseng, musk, and red ganoderma... Almost all the expensive medicine materials that were spread out on the table looked seriously damaged.

The manager's hands trembled and he was about to cry.

It was as if he could see banknotes being ruthlessly burned in front of his eyes.

No, no, no! It was clearly their pharmacy that had caught fire! It had burned down!

There was actually a problem with all the valuable herbs!

He stole a glance at Gu Qiqi in disbelief.

Questions surfaced immediately!

Why did this problem appear the moment Young Lady Qiqi arrived?

Could it be that Young Lady Qiqi did it?

No, no, no. This doesn't make sense.

The two of them traded face-to-face. Young Lady Qiqi had always been calm like water. She only raised her eyelids and tapped her fingertips. She didn't have the chance to do anything at all.

Could it be that it was haunted?

Gu Qiqi casually said, "I heard that your Second Young Master has been purchasing herbs everywhere recently? Hmm?"

The manager suddenly remembered that these herbs were almost all plundered from the entire city by Second Young Master a few days ago in order to cheat Young Lady Qiqi. They were hidden and not sold.

Could it be that there was a problem with the medicine that Second Young Master collected to begin with?

At this moment, the manager no longer dared to make a casual judgment!

However, this hint from Young Lady Qiqi was undoubtedly the best way out. "Yes, yes, perhaps the new supply channel is unstable. I'm sorry, Young Lady Qiqi. This medicinal herb..."

"There's something wrong with these herbs, so I said that your total price is wrong. It was originally worthless trash, but as a regular customer, I can offer you a friendly acquisition price to solve your problem."

Gu Qiqi used her finger to draw a number on the table.

<ol start="250">

"2.5 million?" The manager was surprised.

Gu Qiqi shook her head lightly. "Collecting trash should deserve a trash price. Remove that ten thousand word."

The manager was speechless.

Young Lady Qiqi, you're ruthless!

After some hesitation, he felt that it was very troublesome.

Just as Gu Qiqi said, these herbs were no longer valuable.

In the VIP room, Second Young Master was desperately trying to signal to him to insist on selling it at ten times the price.

However, he knew that Young Lady Qiqi wasn't stupid. How could she possibly accept these problematic herbs at a high price?

Even if she really accepted it at a high price, that would be even more terrifying and would make it difficult for him to fall asleep.

Based on Young Lady Qiqi's level of black-belliedness, after accepting these medicine, she would take the receipt for the goods and turn around to complain...

His business license was definitely going to be invalid this time.

No, he couldn't listen to his Second Master's rotten idea anymore. He had to report this matter to Master.

"Young Lady Qiqi, please wait a moment."

The manager quickly dialed Bai Yueyuan's number.

For the first time.

He was mercilessly cut off.

The manager found it strange. Young Master was a business genius and a workaholic.

He had a professional secretary who would answer calls for instructions at work 24 hours a day.

Why was it that today...

In his anxiety, he could only call a second time while trembling in fear.

This time, it connected.

"What is it?"

Bai Yeyuan's gloomy voice traveled over the line and made the manager shiver.

It was actually Master who answered the call personally!

The manager stammered as he summarized the ins and outs of the matter and asked for instructions, "Young Master, if someone reports these problematic herbs, we will be destroyed. Even if we sell them for a low price, we won't be able to make any money. Do you think we should sell them to Young Lady Qiqi? Or should we continue to sell them at ten times the price as Second Young Master said?"

Bai Yeyuan snorted coldly. "Give her face and sell it to her."

"Okay, I understand!"

Just as he was about to hang up the call, the manager suddenly heard a voice on the other end.

"Wait a minute." Bai Yeyuan's tone was hoarse, as if he wanted to give some instructions.

But no one knew what he was doing over the phone.

Bai Yeyuan drew a cold breath and suddenly stopped. He let out a muffled groan.

Chapter 133: What Was Known As "Dumbstruck"?

What was Master talking about?

What was that thing that was so urgent?

The manager was confused.

In an instant.

Bai Yeyuan's voice returned to its usual coldness and seriousness.

"Remember, the deficit from buying the herbs this time and the gelatin previously are all on Bai Lang. You're not allowed to transfer any expenses to him this month! Until he repays the money!"

Even through the phone, Bai Yeyuan's cold words still made the manager panic.

He finally understood why the eldest young master agreed to sell this batch of problematic herbs at a low price.

He wasn't giving Young Lady Qiqi face as he said on the surface.

It was to teach Second Young Master a lesson.

She had to let Second Young Master understand that business couldn't be treated as child's play. Otherwise, he would have to bear the consequences of his actions!

Indeed, Young Master Bai was the real ruthless character in the business world!

He didn't even show any mercy when he was lecturing his younger brother.

He put down the phone.

The manager held a smile and said to Gu Qiqi, "Young Lady Qiqi, my family's Young Master agrees to your suggestion. Thank you for helping us discover the problem of the herbs."

This was really like swallowing tears and teeth.

Even if he lost his life, he had to smile.

As there were too many herbs, a small shop assistant helped Gu Qiqi move the herbs into a taxi.

Before getting into the car, Gu Qiqi looked back and smiled lightly in the direction of the VIP room.

Scumbag Bai, don't think that I don't know that you're inside, right?

He watched as the precious herbs that he had imported turned into cheap trash in an instant.

How did it feel?

At this moment, Bai Lang stood on the sofa with his hands on his hips.

He felt like he was going to explode.

250 dollars?

Gu Qiqi used 250 dollars to buy his herbs that were worth tens of millions of dollars!

She even caused him to be scolded by his older brother again.

She had even deducted all his living expenses for this month, next month, and even the following month.

He had truly experienced what it meant to be stunned!

But at this moment, Gu Qiqi looked back and laughed sarcastically.

She was simply adding oil to his fury...

"Little vixen, I swear to never forgive you!"

Gu Qiqi got the taxi driver to drive in a big circle along the seaside of Qing Cheng.

The blue sky and the blue sea connected to each other. It was indescribably magnificent and shockingly beautiful.

Gu Qiqi was born and raised on the seaside. Speaking of which, it was a little laughable. In her previous life, she had actually worked hard all her life to earn money for the Gu family. She didn't even have the time to come to the seaside to enjoy the sea breeze and relax.

That was because a controlled and brainwashed life had long made her someone else's slave. It wasn't a carefree life that belonged to oneself.

Looking at the familiar city and the vast seawater, Gu Qiqi's heart relaxed.

The world was very big.

She was still young.

Even if there were thousands of obstacles, they wouldn't be able to stop her from conquering the world.

Scumbags, are you prepared to be tortured?

The driver was stunned by the glow that bloomed on Gu Qiqi's exquisite face.

He thought that she was a tourist from the north who had come to buy herbs. She was greedy for the scenery of midsummer by the seaside and was intoxicated by the beautiful sceneries in the south.

“Beauty, do you still want to drive around Binhai Avenue?”

“Yes.”

“Actually, you northerners look at the sea in the south just like how we envy you northern people when it snows. Heh heh.”

“Yes.”

Gu Qiqi replied casually.

Snow in the north?

She didn’t have the chance to see it in her previous life, but she would experience it well in this lifetime. She would enjoy all the beauty in this world in a high profile manner.

Imperial Capital, Imperial Medical University. Wait for me!

The driver was very happy to have pulled in such a generous client.

Little did he know that Gu Qiqi wasn’t completely immersed in the scenery.

Chapter 134: Gong Jue Was Looking At Her Like She Was An Idiot

Gu Qiqi looked at the sea lightly.

But her divine senses had long condensed on the small medicine stove provided by the little dirty turtle.

“How much longer until I can refine these medicines to a higher level?” she asked.

“Master, wait for another half an hour. There are more herbs this time!” The little dirty turtle burped and couldn’t help but mutter. “Oh, that musk tastes terrible! The wormgrass tastes pretty good...”

Gu Qiqi smiled. “You like to eat cordyceps? When we reach the Imperial Capital and study in university, I’ll let you eat your fill. I heard that the Bai family’s Medical Hall has a general store in the Imperial Capital. I believe that there should be all the herbs there.”

“Good, good, good!” The little dirty turtle’s eyes lit up!

Suddenly, the turtle felt that life was filled with hope!

It could spend the rest of its life torturing Little Lang for fun.

Thinking about this, the little dirty turtle couldn’t help but chuckle. “Master, when you asked me how far I could climb just now and told me to go out and gnaw on those medicinal herbs, I didn’t know that you were doing this to take care of Little Lang. When I realized what was going on, I realized that your methods were really—crazy!”

“Why? Isn’t it good to be crazy?” Gu Qiqi curved her lips.

“No! I’m too happy! I like a crazy master like you. If I follow you, I’ll have cordyceps to eat...” The little dirty turtle rubbed against Gu Qiqi’s collarbone obsequiously.

Of course, if Master was willing to mine a certain man’s “essence” deeply and earn some points easily, that would be even better...

Gu Qiqi waited until all the herbs had been refined before instructing the driver to stop the car at the Chu clan.

She sold a third of the herbs to the Chu clan’s pharmacy for a very fair price.

The remaining ones were prepared to be sold in batches to some small pharmacies in the future.

Otherwise, it would be too conspicuous.

However, even though she sold only a third of the herbs, because the quality of the herbs had risen greatly, the profits were still considerable.

Several million dollars entered her account in an instant.

Three days later.

Early in the morning, the research team specially called Gu Qiqi.

It was a “warm reminder” that she had to attend the redo exam on time.

It also sent her the examination venue again.

“Number 1 Riverside Avenue?” Gu Qiqi muttered.

This address looked familiar.

She suddenly remembered that day when the driver drove her to the seaside to take a look, he pointed to the most luxurious six-star hotel in Qing Cheng—Four Seas Hotel. After introducing it for a long time, he said that this was some new media headquarters with an especially developed network.

The examination venue was actually in a six-star hotel. She really didn’t expect that...

It was close to noon. She had lunch early with the technical nerds in the research base. Gu Qiqi returned to her room to pack a few stationery items. As her school bag wasn’t in the research base, she casually borrowed a plastic bag from the kitchen and packed her items in it before preparing to rush to the examination room.

As soon as she stepped out of the door.

There was a screeching sound of brakes.

The valiant off-road vehicle stopped less than an inch away from her!

Gu Qiqi didn’t make a fuss. She was already used to Gong Jue’s violent style.

Indeed, the car door opened.

The man's arrogant and conceited figure was so imposing that it infuriated both men and gods. He was sitting upright in the backseat.

"Get in the car!"

Gong Jue's expression was cold and he spoke little.

Gu Qiqi thought for a while. It would be a waste if she didn't accept the free ride.

In the end, after getting into the car, he heard Gong Jue instruct Special Assistant Lu. "Go to Four Seas Hotel."

Gu Qiqi couldn't stay calm anymore.

What?

A man with erectile dysfunction was going to the hotel too?

He probably didn't know that she had applied for the re-examination and that the examination venue was at Four Seas Hotel, right?

After all, he didn't say a word to her after that big fight that day. He also didn't return to sleep at night!

As a result, she was very free these few days. She had a lot of time to study and sell medicine to earn money.

Gu Qiqi comforted herself and forced a smile. "What a coincidence. I'm going to Four Seas Hotel too."

Gong Jue glanced at her coldly and his thin lips curved up mockingly.

For some reason, Gu Qiqi felt that he was looking at her like she was an idiot.

How unpleasant!

Chapter 135: You're Not Allowed to Bow For Trash

The car drove away from the base.

Gu Qiqi's phone rang.

Seeing that it was from the class monitor, she didn't want to answer it.

The class monitor was a fence-sitter. Back when she organized a gathering, she followed Gu Xuexue's instructions and tried all means to deceive her into going.

This time, nothing good would definitely happen.

But the phone kept ringing.

It was especially piercing to the ears in the quiet backseat of a car.

Gong Jue's cold gaze swept over unhappily.

Gu Qiqi could only answer the call. "What's the matter?"

“I’m sorry, Qiqi. You left halfway through the class gathering last time and didn’t have a good time. Now that the admission results are out, you’re going to university soon. This time, the classmates are planning to hold a banquet to thank...”

“I have nothing to be thankful for!” Gu Qiqi interrupted him impolitely. “Are you thanking them for not letting me sign up for my application form, or are you thanking them for changing my results?”

The class monitor laughed bitterly in embarrassment. “Ah, that... Actually, Qiqi’s family owns a hospital. Gu Xuexue said that you can be a nurse in the hospital even without going to university...”

Upon hearing the words “Gu Xuexue”, Gu Qiqi’s tone turned cold. “So, you’re replacing Zhu Fen now and becoming her lackey?”

The class monitor’s frail body trembled. “No, no, no. Qiqi, don’t misunderstand. I was just thinking about how we were classmates after all. It’s not good to miss you at the Teacher Acknowledgement Banquet. If you have time today...”

“I’m very busy. I’m not free!”

Gu Qiqi refused directly and hung up the call.

It seemed that the class monitor still didn’t know about her re-examination.

Then... the man with erectile dysfunction should be even more unaware, right?

Gu Qiqi’s gaze quickly swept across Gong Qing.

For some reason, although Gong Jue’s cold and indifferent look was unpleasant, it was much more pleasing to the eye than that the annoying class monitor and classmates.

The car stopped at Four Seas Hotel.

When Gu Qiqi alighted from the car, the plastic bag in her hand scraped against the car door.

“Hiss—”

The thin plastic bag was originally used in the kitchen to store food to keep it fresh. It wasn’t sturdy and was immediately torn to pieces.

A pencil, a fountain pen, a piece of rubber, and a ruler fell to the ground!

Frustrated, Gu Qiqi bent over to pick them up.

In a flash!

A strong and powerful hand picked up her small waist and didn’t allow her to bend down.

An icy and unhappy voice exploded above her head. “In the future, you’re not allowed to bend over for this trash!”

Gu Qiqi’s body stiffened.

Then, a complicated look appeared on her face. “Heh heh, I’m sorry, but the ‘trash’ is very important to me.”

How was she going to take the exam without a pen?

This man was so childish!

Did he think he was a domineering CEO?

But in the very next second, the man's tall and sturdy body bent slightly. His long and slender arms instantly helped her scoop up the stationery scattered on the floor.

His tone was still filled with disdain. "What's so important about these lousy things? I can give you a dozen."

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

Her face flushed red.

Didn't you say that you weren't going to bend down... You stupid man! Could it be that your pride isn't worth anything anymore?

At this moment, for some reason, something in her heart was stirred.

It was just a short while.

Tears welled up in her eyes. She refused to admit that she had been seduced by that childish man with erectile dysfunction.

"Who cares about that? I like to use mine." She spoke rapidly as she snatched over the stationery and ran towards Four Seas Hotel.

But Gong Jue walked faster than her with his long legs.

"Stupid woman, you're going the wrong way."

Gong Jue's voice was filled with disdain.

Without further ado, he held her small hand and walked towards the escalator in the other direction.

Chapter 136: A Bunch of Female Students Were Jealous

Gu Qiqi looked at Gong Jue in astonishment. He had led her in the right direction all the way.

At the reception hall on the top floor of Four Seas Hotel.

How did Gong Jue know about this place?

This was the examination venue where she would be taking part in the re-examination.

In a flash, a thought flashed across her mind. Not only did the man with erectile dysfunction know that she was going to take the exam again, but he also knew where and when she was going to take the exam again.

He knew so much about it.

Could it be that the person who had fueled the fire behind the scenes and forced the reviewing team to organize this re-examination was actually... him?

No, how was that possible?

He had never asked her about her college entrance exam results or the application situation. He was busy with work, so he shouldn't be that bored to pay attention to the gossip news that was abusing her on the internet, right?

Honestly speaking, when she found out that she was going to take the exam again after she checked the scores in the Results Department...

She had suspected that someone was helping her behind her back.

But her rationality told her that the most likely person was that beautiful man who had helped her change her professional ambitions in the past.

She never expected that that person to be Gong Jue!

Biting her lips, she hesitated about whether she should ask about it.

However, before she could ask...

The two of them had already approached the examination room.

At the door, more than ten exam candidates were pacing back and forth excitedly as they recounted the history of this examination.

Gu Qiqi had to swallow the words that she was about to ask.

Instead, she said lightly, "Thank you."

Gong Jue acted as if he didn't hear her. His expression was cold and arrogant as always.

His voice was still as domineering as ever. "Move faster!"

It was as if he was scolding his new sidekick.

Gu Qiqi couldn't help but criticize him in her heart. She followed behind him.

However...

"Hey, where are you going? We're already here!" Gu Qiqi pointed at the examination room sign and stopped at the door. "Thank you. I'm going to the examination room."

However, what was beyond her expectations was that...

Not only did Gong Jue not stop in his tracks, he used his big palm to scoop her small waist up and pulled her into his embrace. His voice was cold. "Cut the crap. Come with me!"

Without any explanation, he pulled her away from the entrance of the examination room and walked towards the room next door.

The students at the entrance of the examination room witnessed this scene with their own eyes.

They couldn't help but widen their eyes.

The female students exclaimed even more.

“Gosh, that man is so handsome! His aura is so strong! He’s so handsome!”

“His voice is even more alluring, okay? It’s so sexy. My ears are going to get pregnant...”

“I like his long fingers. I really want him to pinch my small waist. Also, I heard that men with long fingers... Hehe, that place is also probably ruthless, long, and powerful...”

“Hmph! I don’t want to take the exam anymore. I want to chase after my male idol!”

“Look who that woman beside him is. She’s dressed so shabbily. She’s simply embarrassing my male idol!”

Everyone’s chattering entered Gu Qiqi’s ears.

Gu Qiqi was so angry that she simply wanted to give them the middle finger!

Who wanted to stand next to this man with erectile dysfunction? She was forced to, alright?

If you all like it so much, why don’t you go ahead and replace me? What’s the use of shooting your mouths off!

A group of love-struck fools!

“Oh my god! Look! Our dol brought that shabby woman to another room! Oh my god! A devastating blow!”

As the girls exclaimed in despair, Gu Qiqi realized that Gong Jue had brought her into a guest room in the hotel!

That’s right. This was a six-star hotel. Apart from the reception hall where the examination venue was located just now, of course, the rest were guest rooms!

There was a big bed, a transparent glass bathroom, and various indescribable daily necessities... A guest room!

Chapter 137: Gong Jue Created A Dream For Her

Gu Qiqi shivered.

A terrifying thought surfaced in her mind.

Could it be that the man with erectile dysfunction didn’t bring her here to take the exam out of kindness but... came to Four Seas Hotel to do evil?

Did they misunderstand something?

No, no, no. She wasn’t here to ask him out on a date.

She still had something important to do.

“Hey, hey! Let go of me! I don’t want to enter a room with you. A man and a woman alone in a room...”

Gu Qiqi’s tone became serious.

It could be said that she looked righteous!

She hated Gong Jue!

However, Gong Jue's face was filled with indifference. He even swept a glance at her in disdain.

It was as if she was saying...

This isn't even the first time! What are you shouting for?!

Gu Qiqi became anxious.

The scalpel blade in her sleeves slid down.

It was sharp and fierce!

Just as she was about to stab Gong Jue ruthlessly...

The guest room door was pushed open.

In the room, a group of people waved enthusiastically at her. "Hey! Beauty, welcome to the Alexandria VIP salon!"

Gu Qiqi was stunned.

This scene was a little different from what she had imagined.

Alexandria VIP salon?

The door closed behind her.

Gong Jue instructed coldly, "Cut the crap. There's only half an hour to the exam. Hurry up and make her look better!"

"Sure! Don't worry. Don't you trust my skills?" A charming and fashionable young woman welcomed her with a smile.

As if they were close friends, she held Gu Qiqi's small hand. "Come, Big Sister here is a magician. I'll definitely make you more dazzling than a superstar. Men won't be able to close their legs after seeing you..."

Gong Jue rebutted without a trace of politeness. "She's still a student. Don't do that nonsense! Make her look more innocent."

Beigong Xiaojiu smacked his lips. "Gosh, Master Jue, do you have to be so nervous? Don't worry. I'll take care of your precious child!"

As she spoke, she drew a curtain in the room.

In an instant, countless rows of expensive gowns and jewelry lined up behind the curtain. Gu Qiqi's eyelids twitched!

It turned out that these people were the top stylists, hairdressers, and beauticians!

No wonder she looked familiar.

In her previous life, she had only seen Beigong Xiaojiu win an international design award on television.

But at this moment, this renowned chief designer—Beigong Xiaojie—who only served the royal family and the wives of the presidents of the various countries—was actually personally designing a look for an ordinary high school girl like her!

Who could tell her that this wasn't a dream?

She was only participating in a repeat exam. Why did it involve these top-notch stylists in high society?

At the revolving restaurant on the top floor of Four Seas Hotel.

It was one of the most expensive restaurants in Qing Cheng.

The master banquet for Grade 12 Class 1 was set to commence with ten round tables by the window.

An antique screen surrounded ten tables of banquets. It was similar to a private room.

Gu Xuexue was holding on to Gu Meifeng's newly bought Gucci bag. She was wearing a new pair of shoes and an orange negligee that had been customized by Gu Meifeng. She stood in front of the screen and pointed. "I already said that we have to book a private room to make us look good. Don't you think that it's very shabby to use a screen around you guys? How can it compare to the glory of us getting into a famous university?"

The class monitor's good temper had been worn down by her scolding. He couldn't help but whisper sarcastically, "Heh heh, we know that it's glorious to have a private room. But the minimum consumption for a private room is 100,000 dollars, and it also requires an additional 20% service fees. Xue Xue, if you want a private room, will you foot the bill for everyone?"

Gu Xuexue choked.

She immediately remembered that she had been scammed by Gu Qiqi of a million dollars for a private room in a bar previously.

If Gu Meifeng hadn't embezzled Gu Qishan's money...

She was afraid that she would be sold to a bar to become a prostitute.

Just thinking about this made her panic!

Fortunately, she would be able to hold her head high after today.

She didn't know why that bookworm Gu Qiqi was so stupid to believe the nonsense about the repeat exam.

Chapter 138: Breathtaking, Live Across the Internet! (1)

Re-examination?

Hahaha.

Gu Xuexue thought with a cold smile.

Her uncle, Gu Enlong, had sworn to her mother that he would use the most difficult paper from the college entrance examination library for this examination!

They were all very challenging and mind-bending questions. Even teachers might not be able to solve them, let alone students.

That bookworm will be crushed by her!

What was more ridiculous was that she could even do a live-stream on the Internet.

At that time, the entire country would definitely see Gu Qiqi scratching her ears and fumble in the examination room.

Let's see how that bookworm would still have the cheek to pretend to be a top student in the future!

Fight with her over Brother Liuchuan?

Fight with her for the Gu family's inheritance rights?

Dream on!

Gu Qiqi, you won't be able to attend university, but you won't give up, right? Then, I'll let everyone see it with their own eyes and let you concede wholeheartedly... That rotten life of yours is only fit to do the most lowly jobs. You'll be trampled by fate and won't be able to get up in the mud.

You still want to attend university?

Dream on!

Thinking about these, Gu Xuexue's mood instantly improved.

She didn't mind that the usually docile and timid class monitor dared to argue with her.

"Forget it. Since everyone is ok, let's use the screen."

She rolled her eyes and thought to herself. The people who come here to eat are either rich or noble. It's a good opportunity to watch the live-stream with them.

Soon, the students gradually gathered.

The class teacher and the teachers from the various departments had also arrived. In the end, even the principal was there!

This was quite a show of respect.

Gu Xuexue held the principal's hand and said sweetly, "Principal, we're going to university now. Don't forget about us!"

The principal was amused. "Haha, you should be the one who shouldn't forget about me. You have a bright future ahead of you."

He scanned his surroundings. "Class One Grade 12 is present. You're all here?"

"Reporting to the principal, other than Xiao Ning, Zhu Fen, and Yao Dazhuang on their sick leave, there's also Gu Qiqi... She said that she wasn't free to come..." The class monitor said without confidence.

The principal frowned and snorted coldly. "It's better if that embarrassing person doesn't come!"

He couldn't forget how Gu Qiqi had returned to school a while ago to change her application form. She had actually treated him with indifference and disdain in front of all the students!

If he hadn't graduated from high school, he would definitely have expelled such an insensible bookworm.

Even the principal—who everyone was afraid of—gave Gu Qiqi such an evaluation.

The other students had their own thoughts as well and added insult to injury.

“That's right! She actually cheated! How embarrassing!”

“It's not just cheating! Didn't you guys see the news? She even seduced an old man and was going to university under the unspoken rules. I'm embarrassed to admit that she's my classmate.”

“Oh my god. Quick, show me the news. I still don't know about this.”

“What are you looking at? The news has already been sealed. However, we can watch her redo the exam live today!”

“She will be slapped in the face during the live-stream, right? Since her results were plagiarized, who would dare to plagiarize in the second examination?”

“Hahaha, that makes sense...”

As she listened to her classmates' sarcastic comments about Gu Qiqi—even some of the lecturers—who participated in them shook their heads. They criticized Gu Qiqi for being too studious and only knowing how to bury her head in her books to study. Gu Xuexue nearly couldn't help but laugh out loud.

The humiliation that she had suffered at the bar that day was swept away.

She was going to look down on Gu Qiqi's grand occasion of being stepped on by everyone with the attitude of a victor.

Live broadcast?

Broadcast your head!

“Look, quick! You can already see the examination venue on the Internet on your phone. It seems like the live broadcast has begun on TV too...”

“Wow, cell phones, computers, televisions... It's really a live broadcast on the Internet. Then, no matter the results of the exam, wouldn't Gu Qiqi be famous this time?”

Upon hearing these words, Gu Xuexue was unhappy.

She snorted. “With that nerd image of hers? She's not famous, she's embarrassing herself, right?”

She was shabby and old-fashioned.

Gu Qiushan had never bought a decent shirt for Gu Qiqi.

Let alone do her hair and jewelry.

If that country bumpkin wasn't making a fool of herself by wearing a tattered school uniform in front of the cameras, what was she?

Chapter 139: Breathtaking, Live Across the Internet! (1)

She laughed at Gu Qiqi's shabby character in her heart.

On the one hand, Gu Xuexue deliberately stretched out her hand to touch her own Gucci bag. She also kept changing her sitting position so that the big branded logo on her Gucci shoes would sway in front of everyone.

Although everyone was already seated and ordinary people had placed their bags behind them...

Gu Xuexue still held onto the Gucci bag tightly in order to show off!

She had to maintain the poise of a young lady from a noble family and make that poor bookworm Gu Qiqi feel inferior.

Indeed, her classmates were quickly attracted to her behavior.

"Xue Xue, where did you get these clothes?"

"Xue Xue, your bag is new, right? It seems to be more than ten thousand dollars, right?"

"Oh my, Xue Xue, even your shoes are branded. But if you wear them, they will become spoilt. Won't your heart ache after you spent a few thousand dollars to walk in them?"

"Our Xue Xue really knows how to dress up... Her bags, shoes, and skirt are all branded..."

Upon hearing these envious praise, Gu Xuexue was overjoyed.

Gu Qiqi should still be wearing that lousy school uniform tonight, right?

Her bag? It was just a lousy bag!

As for jewelry, that bookworm had been wearing a worthless broken turtle all day long recently. It was so ugly!

How could Gu Qiqi compare to her?

However, she still replied modestly, "Heh heh, it's fine. I usually wear these clothes... Why don't we toast to the principal and the teachers together and thank them..."

Gu Xuexue raised her glass and pretended to be sensible and generous as she suggested a toast.

However, just as she finished speaking...

The surroundings suddenly fell silent!

No one responded! No one bothered with her!

Gu Xuexue looked over in bewilderment and saw that everyone's gazes were gathered on the live streaming screen.

No one bothered about her.

Gu Xuexue frowned and was about to raise her voice to interrupt everyone's attention.

Suddenly, amidst the silence, someone exclaimed, "Gosh, is this Gu Qiqi?"

More and more exclamations resounded.

Gu Xuexue was dumbfounded. She looked at the live-stream screen and was instantly blinded.

In front of the camera, Gu Qiqi was holding a small navy blue handbag. She was wearing a pearl-white silk skirt. The hemline of the skirt had just reached her knees. She looked elegant and playful.

A pair of flat shoes with an unknown brand glowed, accentuating her light and agile footsteps.

Her long hair was tied into a unique princess ponytail. The glow of diamonds and pearls could be vaguely seen on her temples.

She wasn't wearing any makeup or any jewelry. There was only a thin turtle necklace around her neck.

There was also a Patek Philippe watch on her wrist with a sapphire dial.

The male-version!

Although it was a men's watch, Gu Qiqi looked valiant and handsome wearing it. It didn't feel awkward at all.

The combination of blue and white made her look thirty percent innocent and seventy percent elegant. It was perfect!

When Gu Xuexue saw this scene, she was so shocked that her eyes nearly fell out.

Impossible. This couldn't be Gu Qiqi.

"She must have bought that counterfeit from a stall..." Gu Xuexue gnashed her teeth.

This set of clothing was expensive. Putting everything else aside, just that Patek Philippe wristwatch alone was worth tens of millions!

Even if Gu Qiqi was kept by an old man, she wouldn't be able to get that much money.

However...

The students around her didn't give Gu Xuexue face at all.

They had all been conquered by Gu Qiqi's stunning appearance.

The female students, in particular, were all naturally vain. All of them studied Gu Qiqi's body curiously.

"That small navy blue handbag doesn't have a brand, but I recognize the buckle. It's unique to Hermes. Perhaps it's an exclusive limited edition bag!"

"I really can't tell the history of that pearl-white dress. But I know that this material is more than 100,000 feet long. It was introduced in the news before. It's called a Young Lady's Smile. It's a newly developed material from Alexandria Club..."

Chapter 140: Breathtaking, Live Across the Internet! (1)

“Gu Qiqi’s flat shoes definitely have an extraordinary background. Just the broken diamonds embedded on the soles are more than the diamonds I’ve seen in my life!”

“Eh? I think that that little turtle with tea crystals on her neck is ruthless and adorable. You might not know, but that kind of transparent tea crystal must be an antique...”

“I think Qiqi’s hairstyle is also very unique. Why can’t I do that with my ponytail?”

Everyone was discussing it excitedly.

Suddenly, someone took a look at Gu Xuexue’s feet.

Previously, someone even said that Gu Xuexue stepped on shoes that cost thousands of dollars.

But now, Gu Qiqi was stepping on diamonds that were worth hundreds of thousands of dollars. That was what was called awesome, okay?

Gu Xuexue’s face turned pale from everyone’s meaningful gazes.

When he saw Gu Qiqi’s expensive and elegant “battle gown” on the screen, she was even more jealous.

She had never seen such a breathtaking Gu Qiqi before!

She laughed out loud and said with curved lips, “It’s not a big deal even if you wear a crown to the examination room. The examination isn’t about whose image is better. It’s about the scores, alright?!”

What Gu Xuexue said made sense.

In particular, the principal and the class teacher had a very good relationship with Gu Meifeng. According to the hints given by Gu Meifeng, they always tried their best to suppress Gu Qiqi unreasonably.

At this moment, they naturally went along with Gu Xuexue’s words and chimed in. “That’s right. As students, good grades are the most important. She’s not a socialite from a nightclub. Why is she dressed so gorgeously? How embarrassing!”

There was nothing wrong with the words of the principal and the class teacher at first.

The problem was...

The students’ gazes shifted from the live-stream screen to Gu Xuexue, then from Gu Xuexue to Gu Qiqi on the screen.

Anyone with eyes would be able to tell that Gu Qiqi was dressed in a perfect combination of pearl white and seawater blue. She looked innocent and noble.

What about Gu Xuexue?

She was dressed in an exaggerated orange color from head to toe. Even her bag and shoes were no exception!

Once they did a comparison, they realized that compared to Gu Qiqi, Gu Xuexue’s outfit was simply blinding.

If she were to say that she was a gorgeously dressed nightclub socialite... perhaps Gu Xuexue would be able to interpret these words better.

This embarrassing person was probably Gu Xuexue, right?

Although everyone didn't say it out loud, they knew it in their hearts.

Seeing that Gu Qiqi had already taken a seat in the examination room, she calmly took out a stationery from her blue Hermes bag...

The students couldn't remain calm anymore!

"That's a Hermes bag! Gu Qiqi actually casually used it to store stationery!"

"Gosh, didn't you guys see? The pen she used, rubber, ruler... They were all made by Hermes!"

"This is too much..."

Even the mockery from the principal and the class teachers couldn't stop everyone's enthusiasm for all the expensive products around Gu Qiqi.

Because all of this was simply an eye-opener.

These top-notch luxury goods that could usually only be seen in art reports and on the Internet now appeared vividly on the student in front of them.

It was too shocking.

However, Gu Qiqi didn't seem to care about these things at all.

That expensive bag was placed by her side of the table—on the floor!

That pencil seemed to be used casually as well. The tip of her shoe even tapped the floor rhythmically by the table. Everyone was shocked when they saw this, as they were afraid that she would shake off the diamonds on the floor!

With the sound of a bell ringing, the redo exam officially began!

The four subjects for the college entrance exam had to be reexamined within a day!

The exam papers were drawn from the national college entrance examination library again to guarantee fairness.

Once the exam paper was out, the remaining dozen or so examinees in the examination room revealed miserable expressions.

It was so difficult! Why did they have to take the exam then? They might as well admit that they had cheated!

On the screen, Gu Qiqi's expression was as calm as water.
