

Dear Chief 16

Chapter 16: It Turned Out That Master Jue Was This Kind Of Man.

This situation and this scene... Actually somewhat resembled what happened back then when he was unable to control himself and had touched that unknown woman on the operating table because of that guy Bai Lang's 'prescription'.

1

Gong Jue's gaze became even more profound. "Just because you say that you are going to change what you have written doesn't mean that I'll allow it. What do you take me for?"

"Then, what do you want? Please, as an adult, can you be more rational?"

1

"I want you to concede sincerely!"

Sitting in the driver's front seat, Special Assistant Lu felt his heart stop beating once more.

Could it be that Chief wanted to let Young Lady Qiqi...

Oh my! Master Jue had turned wicked.

Who said that his family's Master Jue avoided women like snakes? It turned out that it wasn't because Master Jue couldn't approach women, but that he was... a tsundere¹.

Just when Special Assistant Lu's heart started hopping like a frisky monkey and his mind started cantering like a horse, Gong Jue's cold voice rang out in the car.

"Speak loudly. Can I get erect or not?"

Gu Qiqi gnashed her teeth, "You can."

"Louder!"

"You can, you can, you can!" Panting with anger, Gu Qiqi replied.

This man was such a paranoid person!

Flaccid, paranoia, what else was there?

That's right, mysophobia, manic syndrome and megalomania... This man's illnesses weren't simple.

Gu Qiqi thought inwardly that as a doctor, she would not bicker about this with a patient.

1

"Are you satisfied now? Can you let me go yet? Hey—"

Gu Qiqi tried to twist herself free from the man's constraints again.

However, Gong Jue didn't release her. Instead, he tightened his grip.

That string of "you can, you can, you can" from Gu Qiqi had slightly stimulated his nerves. The way she twisted her body made him feel as if there was no place for him to unleash his emotions!

1

Release her?

No!

1

Even with his iron-clad will, he couldn't control it. This was his instinct.

"Hey! You aren't being reasonable!"

Gu Qiqi couldn't remain calm anymore.

No matter how innocent she was, even she felt the impending danger at this moment!

She didn't dare to think about what would happen in the very next moment!

She had assumed that since he couldn't get it up in the past, at least she would be safe. But now, he had actually "reacted" to her, and this even happened in an enclosed space in this car. Gu Qiqi felt too vulnerable against him!

An hour ago, she had been bullied by a man—whose face she hadn't even seen—in that operating room, so her legs were still throbbing faintly. No matter what, she couldn't withstand another impact.

1

Beaded sweat formed on Gu Qiqi's forehead.

The car was filled with the dead silence of the calm before a storm!

At the exact moment that the man's burly figure fell onto her, a phone's ringtone rang out all of a sudden.

In the driver's seat, Special Assistant Lu picked up Gong Jue's phone call for him in slight embarrassment, "Vice Premier Zhou, how are you? Master is... He's busy. If you have something to report, be concise. What? There's an outsider stirring up problems in the laboratory in the cold mountain range to the North? The sequence in the apparatus is undergoing a technical malfunction? If the product's raw materials are leaked, it will cause a serious accident with immeasurable repercussions? ... All right, I will report this to Master Jue immediately!"

In the backseat, Gong Jue had swiftly risen from Gu Qiqi's body upon hearing those words "technical malfunction" from Special Assistant Lu.

The same man who had been in an energetic state earlier was now sitting upright.

"Order the plane to set off for the cold mountain range in the north this instant!" The man's tone carried a severe firmness.

Imposing and collected.

Finally, that oppressive feeling was alleviated and Gu Qiqi's body felt lighter.

But in the next second.

The man commanded coolly, "Bring this woman back to the research base in Qing City. Lock her up until I return."

D*mn it!

He was going to imprison her?

"On what basis do you have the rights to lock me up as you please?!"

"Based on you seducing me!"

1

D*mn it!

When did she seduce him?
