

Dear Chief 411

Chapter 411: Embarrassed to Death

In the dining hall.

The students coming and going watched this scene curiously.

“Isn’t this the little princess Yingzhu? Why is she blocked by the people from the veterinary school?”

“Oh my god! Quick, come and see! The people from the clinical medicine school were actually forced to eat pig food by the people from the veterinary school!”

“I think I heard that she has to concede defeat, right? There’s nothing to force.”

“Wow, who was so awesome to actually beat the little princess? Is she from the veterinary school? Since when was veterinary medicine so formidable?”

“I heard that there’s a new student at the veterinary school who’s very awesome. Didn’t you hear that she dissected a frog in three seconds?”

“D*mn it! How heaven-defying... The veterinary school is going to turn things around and get rid of the reputation of being a lousy school!”

Just as everyone was about to squeeze forward to see what was going on, Bai Yingzhu gnashed her teeth and finished that lunch box.

She had been injected with an unknown poison and was about to die. Why would she be afraid of eating pig food?

Oh...

She initially thought that a lump of rotten pig food would be disgusting.

She didn’t expect that... It would be curry rice.

It was even an authentic Thai-style green curry with rice!

For a moment, Bai Ying’s nose stung.

Didn’t Gu Qiqi want to torture her to death? Why was she being lenient?

How could a pig eat such good food?

Xiao Ning’s mocking voice rang in her ears. “Bai Yingzhu, we aren’t as childish as you. You can get people to kneel down for no reason. Is that very awe-inspiring? Wrong! What’s truly awe-inspiring is your own strength, not your empty bravado. You also aren’t using your family background to bully and humiliate other students in school! Remember this lesson well. If you commit it again next time, no one will let you off! I’ll be the first to press you into a pig dung pit so that you can taste pig dung!”

Bai Ying’s face flushed red and white.

After holding it in for a long time, she said, “You don’t have to lecture me!”

She was so jealous

Why did Gu Qiqi have such a good friend?

She didn't have any.

When disaster struck, everyone went their own way. When those people who usually surrounded her heard that she was going to fulfill the bet today, not a single person was seen. They were afraid of embarrassing themselves by following her.

She, Bai Yingzhu, had wasted all these years in the Imperial Capital!

She pushed through the crowd and ran out.

She silently made up her mind in her heart. If her aunt could cleanse her of the poison that had been injected into her body this time, she would be like Gu Qiqi and find a friend who treated her sincerely!

She still wanted to compete with that b*tch with her skills. She didn't believe that she would lose to that b*tch in dissecting a frog. Could it be that she would lose to her in all her studies?

==

Gu Qiqi still didn't know that special "pig food" made Bai Yingzhu so excited.

At this moment, she didn't come to the canteen to eat. Instead, she rushed to the pharmacy school after class.

Today was the deadline for the registration for the Special Examination at the pharmacy school.

She had already made up her mind to sign up.

Although the students from the veterinary school were adorable, there was no knowledge that she wanted to learn there after all.

Her biggest motive in studying medicine was to treat her younger brother's illness.

And if the pharmacy school gave her a chance to see that precious ancient book, Medicine Manual, perhaps she could find a prescription suitable for Xiaobei!

What's more, the School Dean Feng Yangchu was once the Empire's most famous great pharmacist!

Chinese Medicine was homologous. In fact, the pharmaceutical department was more ancient and mysterious than clinical medicine.

It was only because clinical medicine and western medicine had gained the upper hand in the recent era that people overlooked the glow of the ancient Empire's Chinese medicine.

Gu Qiqi thought about it as she walked.

Before she reached the pharmaceutical school, she saw a scene that made her frown.

Chapter 412: The Cowardly and Useless Trash Academy

At the entrance of the pharmaceutical school.

A group of students was busy moving something heavy.

Actually, this wasn't strange. It was very normal for students to help out in school. After all, the school was also their own home.

But this scene at the entrance of the pharmaceutical school was a little abnormal.

Among that group of students, four or five of them didn't do anything. They stood at the side with their hands on their hips and ordered people arrogantly.

"Hurry up! Why are all of you so stupid? It's fine if your brains aren't good, but why are you so stupid when you do physical work?!"

"Hey, don't break my specimen. Do you understand? A finger of this specimen is ten thousand times more expensive than yours!"

"The pharmaceutical school is really scum. The people who were recruited are really a bunch of useless people!"

"How stupid!"

Those people's curses were so unpleasant.

But the dozen freshmen who had been scolded didn't say a word.

As if they had completely accepted their fate, they lowered their heads and obediently followed their instructions. They were each carrying a huge human bone specimen and moving their feet with great difficulty!

The bone specimen was already heavy. Coupled with the fact that it was fixed to a wooden frame and was embedded in a glass frame, it was even heavier.

Those freshmen who were carrying the specimens weren't tall and sturdy boys either. There were even two young girls among them!

Carrying such a heavy bone specimen had already exceeded the limits of their tolerance. Veins bulged from their arms and they were sweating profusely. Their footsteps were also somewhat unsteady!

If those four or five people watching the commotion helped, it could reduce their burden.

However, those people were like slave owners. They only scolded them and asked them to move while they didn't even move.

They were all students. Why was there such a big difference in status?

It seemed that no matter where she went in this world, she would always see the strong bully the weak. There was no fairness at all.

It was the same even in the pharmaceutical school.

Gu Qiqi sighed lightly in her heart.

Then...

She sped up and walked towards the entrance of the pharmaceutical school.

It wasn't that she didn't have sympathy, but she still didn't know the situation in the pharmaceutical school. It would be too rash for her to interfere.

Furthermore, the senior students in the school instructed the new juniors to work. Even if it was unfair, she was an outsider. What rights did she have to say anything?

What was more urgent was that the registration deadline was about to arrive. If she didn't hurry up and the teacher in charge of registration went to lunch, she wouldn't be able to make it in time for the final registration deadline.

She couldn't even take care of herself, much less them.

Just as Gu Qiqi took a step...

She suddenly heard an exclamation behind her!

Then, there was a heavy plop!

She couldn't help but look back.

One of the girls was carrying a bone specimen. Perhaps it was too heavy.

That specimen framework that completely exceeded her height made her hunch her back.

Even so, she was still working hard to move it seriously.

Unfortunately, her efforts didn't get her any gratitude or good luck. Instead, because the frame blocked her vision, she couldn't see the bumpy road in front of her. She staggered and fell forward!

The glass specimen box was about to shatter.

The little girl exclaimed and hugged the box desperately.

Her back hit the ground hard and the specimen box landed on her hard!

Even though she protected the specimen like this, that box was too big. A corner of it still knocked against the concrete floor.

A corner of the glass shattered!

Chapter 413: These Idiots Pulled Down My IQ

"Oh my god, my specimen!"

A senior boy who was watching the fun rushed out.

The first thing that came to his mind wasn't to help that little girl up, but to check his bone specimen in pain.

In fact, he was so angry that he ruthlessly pushed the girl who was trying to get up.

"Damn it! You moron! You ruined my precious specimen! Why don't you die!"

The girl's originally skinny body felt like it had fallen apart after being smashed by the specimen.

But she still endured the pain and said weakly, "Senior Brother Liu, I'm sorry. I didn't do it on purpose." Then, she crawled up and continued to lift the specimen.

However, she was pushed away by that fat and burly boy in anger.

She fell down on the ground again!

The broken glass shards from the glass frame pierced her leg!

"Hiss!"

The girl grimaced in pain.

The bone specimen that she was holding in her hand couldn't help but fly out and fall to the ground completely.

This was over.

The cracks on the broken corner suddenly widened by a few inches. The bones that had been fixed according to the human body structure in the specimen collapsed and became a mess.

The girl was horrified.

She didn't even care about the wound on her leg. A trace of fear appeared on her anxious face. She didn't know how to apologize.

The boy who pushed her was called Liu Guanghui.

When Liu Guanghui saw that his specimen had become like this, his anger surged.

"D*mn it! I've never seen someone as stupid as you in my life! You won't be able to compensate me even if I beat you to death!"

Beside him, his companions watched the commotion with smiles on their faces.

"Hey, Senior Brother Liu. You have to be more protective of the fairer sex."

"That's right. Look at how frightened Little Junior Sister is!"

"Why are you shouting about killing her? Can't you just let Little Junior Sister massage you to relieve your anger?"

Liu Guanghui said hatefully, "Those idiots from the pharmaceutical school. I'm afraid that I'll be massaged until I'm as stupid as them! It's simply lowering my IQ! These idiots who got in with low scores can't even do a good job. They won't remember if I don't slap them!"

Liu Guanghui cursed and rolled up his sleeves.

He actually raised his hand and wanted to slap that girl.

Beside the girl were a few companions. There were men and women. At this moment, they were holding bone specimens in their hands. However, no one dared to help her block the other party's slap.

In fact, no one even had the courage to defend her.

They actually watched as the big boy slapped the little girl.

The girl closed her eyes and bit her lips in resignation.

Who told her to enter a pharmaceutical school?

Who asked her not to have the ability to enter a clinical medicine school?

Who asked her to be so clumsy and break her senior brother's bone specimen...

Just as the slap was about to land on the girl's face...

A faint herbal scent brushed past.

There was a gust of wind!

In the very next second.

Liu Guanghui's wrist was gripped tightly by the slender and fair hand that slashed across the sky!

He couldn't move!

"Which blind idiot—Ah!!!"

A tragic cry rang out.

His wrist that had only been gripped was twisted behind his back.

"Hey—Who are you calling an idiot?"

Upon hearing those words, the person behind him seemed to be very unhappy.

Immediately, Liu Guanghui's knee was kicked.

His knees went soft and he knelt onto the ground!

Liu Guanghui thought that some bold boy from the pharmaceutical department was here to cause trouble. He didn't expect that the person who made a sound was actually a woman!

He twisted his head in disbelief.

Gu Qiqi's exquisite and indifferent face was reflected in his stunned pupils!

D*mn it! He was actually beaten up by a woman!

Chapter 414: Who Told You to Be Nosy?

Gu Qiqi initially didn't have the time to pay attention to these boring people who bullied the weak.

But when that girl fell to the ground and was pushed and injured by Liu Guanghui again, the box that had originally covered the girl's face fell, revealing the girl's frightened and timid face.

Yang Xiaolan!

That girl who had been bullied was actually Yang Xiaolan.

Although Gu Qiqi and Yang Xiaolan had only known each other for less than two days, this innocent and kind girl had already left a deep impression on her.

How could she not protect this adorable girl next door, and let her be bullied by a burly senior scoundrel?

How could there be such scum in the pharmaceutical department? She had to reconsider whether this school was worth entering.

Wait a minute. That b*stard senior actually wanted to slap a girl?

Damn it! Unacceptable!

She definitely couldn't sit idle.

Gu Qiqi turned around and returned without hesitation.

At this moment, Liu Guanghui's face was filled with astonishment and disbelief. "You... Who are you? Why are you such a busybody?!"

Yang Xiaolan was even more surprised than Liu Guanghui.

She initially thought that she would definitely be beaten.

The seniors in the school had long warned her to raise the specimen properly. She couldn't provoke these people, or she would definitely be bullied.

But she still accidentally caused trouble today.

But what she never expected was that Gu Qiqi would actually come at the critical moment!

She was here to stand up for her!

She looked at Gu Qiqi with teary eyes.

For a moment, grievances, sadness, gratitude, sadness, admiration... All kinds of complicated emotions surged into her heart.

Qiqi was so awesome!

Qiqi looked so handsome when she hit him!

But she quickly reacted.

No!

Although Qiqi was very handsome, she was alone.

On the other hand, the other party consisted of a few big boys. They were all seniors. She heard that their families were also rich and powerful.

She couldn't afford to offend them.

She couldn't cause so much trouble for Qiqi because of her small mistake.

Yang Xiaolan gnashed her teeth and said with a trembling voice, "Qiqi, I'm sorry. I accidentally damaged Senior Brother Liu's bone specimen. Their first class in the afternoon of the clinical medicine school was the Orthopedics Experimental Class. They were going to use this specimen as a simulation experiment. Senior Brother Liu was also too nervous about his studies and became a little anxious for a while. It's all my fault. I'll definitely compensate Senior Brother Liu for his loss. I... I'll go home and get the money... No, no, no, no. I'll help Senior Brother Liu patch the specimen here... Qiqi, go and do your thing. Don't worry about me. Really!"

She tried her best to take responsibility for her mistakes and help Liu Guanghui find a suitable excuse to persuade Gu Qiqi to leave this troublesome place.

Her life wasn't good. It didn't matter if she was beaten up, but she definitely couldn't let Qiqi offend so many people and get injured by so many people because of her!

Seeing that Yang Xiaolan was so sensible, Liu Guanghui also raised his voice smugly and said, "Did you hear that? It's this moron's own fault. Why are you meddling in other people's business? Let go of me quickly! Otherwise, I'll teach you a lesson! I'm from the clinical medicine school. Don't be blind and provoke us. Hey, why are you guys standing there in a daze? Hurry up and drive this crazy woman away!"

Liu Guanghui's companions recovered from their shock and surrounded Gu Qiqi. They stretched out their hands and wanted to pull her arm away.

There were even shameless boys who deliberately stretched their hands towards Gu Qiqi's clothes in an attempt to take advantage of the situation.

After all, this little girl whom he didn't know was really beautiful! She was so beautiful!

She was much more interesting than those weaklings from the pharmaceutical school.

However, what no one expected was that...

Upon hearing Yang Xiaolan's words, Gu Qiqi's expression changed abruptly.

"You're saying that these people aren't from the pharmaceutical school but scum from the clinical medicine school?" Gu Qiqi's tone was slightly cold.

There was a faint coldness around her!

Those boys who wanted to take advantage of her felt their hands tremble for some reason. They actually didn't dare to move an inch forward!

Chapter 415: Your Trash Academy

Gu Qiqi's sudden cold aura stunned the senior boys who were about to besiege her.

However, Liu Guanghui didn't realize it yet and boasted smugly.

“That’s right. We’re from the clinical medicine school. You’re a new student, and still don’t know, right? In the entire Imperial Medical University, our school is the most awesome! A trash school like your pharmaceutical school is only fit to be our slaves and do crude jobs like lifting specimens that don’t require your brain. But now, you can’t even do such crude jobs. What else do you think you can do? What a bunch of useless people!”

Upon hearing Liu Guanghui admit that he was a student from the clinical medicine school, Gu Qiqi’s eyes turned even colder.

What a clinical medicine school!

From the director to the students, all of them were arrogant and conceited.

Should she teach them a lesson today?

Holding back her anger, she ignored Liu Guanghui and asked Yang Xiaolan and the rest directly, “Since these specimens aren’t from the pharmaceutical school, why are you helping them move them?”

Yang Xiaolan and the rest wanted to say something but hesitated.

Unable to hide from Gu Qiqi’s sharp gaze, he stammered and replied honestly, “It’s... It’s the seniors from the clinical medicine school. They came over and gave me an order just now. They said that in the future, the freshmen from our pharmaceutical school will form groups of fifteen people and be divided into a few groups. Like the students on duty, we will help them do chores every day. We will move the specimens, clean the laboratory... Also... Also, we will wash the blanket and socks for their dormitory...”

The more Gu Qiqi listened, the more her face sank.

What the hell was washing socks!

These scumbags really treated themselves as masters!

Damn it! They even needed her classmates to serve them when they came to school?

Although Liu Guanghui’s hand was being twisted by Gu Qiqi, he still boasted shamelessly, “What? Are you dissatisfied? This is a rule that has been passed down since a long time ago. Anyway, your trash school doesn’t have a future. You’re only fit to serve us well. In the future, when we graduate and become famous doctors, perhaps we can reward you with a meal and introduce you to be our pharmacist or something. Otherwise, we’ll let you spend five years in university in a nightmare! You won’t be able to find a job even after graduating!”

Liu Guanghui said fiercely. He was partly flaunting and partly threatening her.

Hearing this, Gu Qiqi’s heart burned with anger.

“Very good. A trash school, right? Then, I’ll let you see who’s the real trash.” Gu Qiqi’s eyes turned cold.

She kicked Liu Guanghui to the side.

Then, she said coldly, “Put them down!”

The dozen or so students from the pharmaceutical school couldn't help but put down the bone specimens in their hands.

She walked to the first bone specimen box.

She exerted force with the tip of her feet.

“Whoosh—”

The entire glass box shattered.

A student from the clinical medicine school screamed and pounced. “My specimen! A bone specimen that I spent the entire summer vacation making! You have to compensate me!”

Gu Qiqi kicked the crotch of that specimen in disdain. “You can't even differentiate between the iliac bone, sitting bone, and the pubic bone. You even put them in the wrong place, but you still have the cheek to call it a specimen? Did it get eaten by a dog?”

That senior was stunned.

A trace of embarrassment appeared on her face. He gnashed her teeth and shut up.

Gu Qiqi swept past him coldly.

She walked to the second box.

“Whoosh—”

Another one was smashed.

“Oh, this is my specimen! I... I did this according to textbooks. There's definitely nothing wrong with it!”

Gu Qiqi glanced at him coldly. “Seven cervical vertebra, twelve thoracic vertebra, five lumbar vertebra, and one bone... There are a total of 25 pieces. How did you stupidly assemble 22 pieces? With three pieces missing, you can only crawl on the ground as an animal, not as a human who walks upright! You can't even be considered to be studying medicine? Do you think that human life is as worthless as yours?”

Gu Qiqi's words were so vicious!

But it also made these people speechless.

They boasted about being the most awesome school, but the specimens they made were regarded as trash.

They were really ashamed.

Soon, Gu Qiqi made a round of comments. Every specimen had a fatal mistake.

She stopped in her tracks in front of the specimen that belonged to Liu Guanghui.

Chapter 416: Girls Should Be Cared For

Under Gu Qiqi's vicious tongue.

The specimen from the clinical medicine school was criticized as a dog.

Only Liu Guanghui's specimen was left without comment.

Yang Xiaolan accidentally smashed a glass corner specimen.

Everyone was curious about how Gu Qiqi would find fault with it.

Although Liu Guanghui was a b*stard, his grades were top-notch.

His family was rich too. The skeleton specimen that he bought was also higher-end than the others. Thus, this specimen was especially exquisite and could be said to be perfect.

It didn't look like there was anything wrong at all.

Just as everyone was waiting for Gu Qiqi to suffer a setback...

Unexpectedly, Gu Qiqi only swept a cold glance at the broken specimen before she shifted her gaze to Yang Xiaolan.

She stretched out her fair arm to Yang Xiao Lan. Her gaze softened for a moment. "Girls are born to be cherished, not beaten. Remember, you must not surrender to such a person next time. They're just paper tigers! The more you give in, the worse they will become! Tolerance won't earn any respect!"

Yang Xiao Lan nodded in a daze, seeming to understand.

But this scene was deeply engraved in her heart.

Gu Qiqi looked at her with such a gentle and doting gaze.

Her outstretched hand was so warm and powerful.

The noon sun shone brightly behind Gu Qiqi and formed a holy golden halo around her. It made Gu Qiqi feel as if she was a god descending from the heavens to her world.

It brought her a ray of light!

Yang Xiaolan's eyes sparkled as she stood silently beside Gu Qiqi.

After Gu Qiqi and Yang Xiao Lan finished speaking, her expression immediately changed when she looked at Liu Ganghui!

That arrogant and fierce aura emerged in an instant!

Liu Guanghui shivered. He suppressed a trace of fear and said, "You... What are you doing?"

As Gu Qiqi took a step forward, he couldn't help but move his knees and take a step back. However, he remained stubborn and said, "You... Don't come over. Let me tell you. So what if you realize that there's something wrong with their specimens? Our clinical medicine school is still more awesome than your pharmaceutical school! Our status is still higher than yours! You should kneel and lick my feet! This is an irreversible fact!"

Gu Qiqi squinted slightly as she watched him stir up his companions nervously.

“If history can be rewritten, what’s your so-called status?” Gu Qiqi laughed coldly.

The little dirty turtle curled its lips and couldn’t help but echo. “If my master wants to help the pharmaceutical school change its status, you wouldn’t even recognize it!”

Unfortunately, no one could hear its words. Otherwise, they would probably be frightened to death.

Liu Guanghui knelt and retreated. “You, if you dare to take another step closer, I’ll... I’ll let them beat you to death, you crazy woman! Why are you still standing there in a daze? Let’s attack together. What’s there to be afraid of about a woman?!”

His companions were so nervous that they were about to cramp up!

Liu Guanghui wasn’t someone to be trifled with.

This girl didn’t look easy to provoke!

What should they do?

They were in a dilemma.

Gu Qiqi said lightly and gave them two choices. “Each of you can slap this person surnamed Liu once and you can take your specimen and get lost. If you can’t do this, I don’t mind turning them into powder and using it as fertilizer for the medicinal field!”

Either slap Liu Guanghui...

Or lose their specimens!

Those seniors from the clinical medicine school immediately fell into a predicament!

Liu Guanghui was even more dumbfounded.

What?

A woman wanted to slap him?

No, she was inciting everyone to slap him.

Where did she get the courage from?!

No one would listen to her!

How could anyone listen to her nonsense?!

However...

Chapter 417: She Protected Her Too Handsomely

Just when Liu Guanghui thought that no one would listen to Gu Qiqi’s orders...

In the very next second.

He tasted reality!

“Senior Brother Liu, I’m sorry. Your family might not care about this specimen since you have money but my family can’t help but care. If I break the specimen, my father will beat me to death!”

“Senior Brother Liu, although I don’t lack money to get another specimen, it’s too late! The afternoon class is taught by Head Shen Ping. He’s famous for being strict. If he finds out that I don’t have a specimen when I attend the class... I’ll die a terrible death!”

“Senior Brother Liu, you can only blame yourself for offending this pharmaceutical school girl!”

“Senior Brother Liu, she can shatter our specimen box with a kick. Think about it. If she kicked your balls... In comparison, one slap isn’t a big deal, right?”

“Senior Brother Liu, we’re in someone else’s territory. We have to lower our heads. You have to be sacrificed so that we can all be free...”

As a few clinical medicine students muttered to themselves, one by one, they walked over and raised their hands. Liu Guanghui’s pupils nearly exploded!

Gosh!

They... They actually betrayed him!

His face turned pale. He turned back and reprimanded the dozen freshmen from the pharmaceutical school in disbelief. “Are you guys tired of living too? Stop them for me!”

The freshmen who had been so submissive just now and were so afraid of him all had determined expressions on their faces. They stood behind Gu Qiqi with their arms crossed over their chests. No one listened to his orders!

Damn!

The new and old students had all been subdued by Gu Qiqi!

He had become meat on a chopping board and had actually fallen to the extent of being trampled on by others.

The students from the clinical medicine school walked forward.

“Slap—”

“Slap—”

“Slap—”

The crisp sound of slaps reverberated!

Liu Guanghui’s pale face gradually swelled up.

Everyone slapped him one by one.

With a timid expression and a heart filled with pettiness, she asked Gu Qiqi, “Sister, can we go now?”

There was also someone else who was afraid that Gu Qiqi would be dissatisfied and said obsequiously, “Sister, do you want to slap me personally? Or let Xiaolan do it?”

Everyone knew that Gu Qiqi was supporting Yang Xiaolan and the people from the pharmaceutical school to take revenge.

Gu Qiqi glanced at Liu Guanghui lightly. "Your face is too dirty. I can't dirty my Xiaolan's hand."

Everyone was speechless. This was too heaven-defying.

Yang Xiao Lan was speechless. Qiqi, why are you so handsome?

Liu Guanghui's face was swollen. Upon hearing these words, he nearly fainted from anger.

He had entered clinical medicine school with high scores after all. His family's business was also quite big. His parents were well-respected. He was always well-respected in university and received a lot of support.

Why was he tortured by a little girl who had just entered school today until he was humiliated? She even complained that his face was dirty?

He retorted in a hoarse voice indignantly. "You bunch of pigs from the pharmaceutical school. If you can't find fault with my specimen, then do it! If you have the ability, then crush my IQ! What's the use of using force! In university, you still have to rely on your IQ and ability to survive. What's the difference between you and hooligans like this?!"

The new students from the pharmacy were speechless.

He was the one who made the first move. But now, he was calling Gu Qiqi and the rest of them gangsters.

Such a thought process was so twisted.

But...

What he said wasn't wrong at all. His specimen was indeed perfect. He was also indeed an excellent third-year student in the clinical medicine school. New students from the pharmaceutical school definitely couldn't compare to his profession.

Wasn't he relying on his professional prowess to bully people?

Just as everyone couldn't find a reason to refute him...

Gu Qiqi snorted.

Chapter 418: How Could A Man Be Compared to a Pig?

"Why? Do you want to compete in IQ now?" Gu Qiqi laughed coldly in disdain.

"That's right. Didn't you fly into a rage out of humiliation because you weren't as capable as me and couldn't find fault with my specimen? What's the use of encouraging others to take action? If you have the ability, why don't you compete in IQ? Do you dare to compete?" The more Liu Guanghui thought about it, the more he felt that his opinion made sense. Thus, he became more and more righteous.

Who knew?

Gu Qiqi said lightly, "Compete in IQ? But you need it first..."

Liu Guanghui was speechless. He had seen vicious-tongued people before, but he had never seen someone as vicious as her!

Gu Qiqi kicked that broken specimen box and continued unhurriedly, "This specimen material of yours seems to be of high quality, but it's made of animal bones. A human rib cage has 12 pairs, and a pig rib cage has 14 pairs. Don't you even know this? Did you take out 2 more pairs of bones from yourself? You still want to compete in IQ with me? How can a person be compared to a pig? Tell me, okay?"

As Gu Qiqi's words fell, everyone couldn't help but exclaim.

Then, they laughed secretly.

How awesome!

She could even tell the details of 14 ribs at a glance. This girl was too awesome!

Was she really an ordinary new student?

The freshmen from the pharmaceutical school were even more excited when they heard this.

They initially thought that Liu Guanghui and the rest were so awesome.

It turned out that after studying for so many years, they still made so many mistakes. They would still make such stupid mistakes professionally.

Such trash actually had the cheek to strut around in front of their pharmaceutical school all day long and laugh at them for being in a trash school? Ridicule them for being poor students and treating the freshmen who didn't know the truth as slaves?

Weren't they too easy to bully?

For a moment, everyone was furious.

"Senior Brother Liu, your pig-like specimen is a reflection of your ability, right?"

"You just broke your pig specimen and you want to hit our Xiaolan? Do you really think that there's no one left in our pharmaceutical school?"

"No matter how bad our grades are and how trashy we are, we're still a little better than you, a pig, right?"

"A pig from a clinical medicine school is only worth this much!"

Liu Guanghui felt so ashamed after being mocked by the people from the pharmaceutical school.

He never expected that Gu Qiqi would still be waiting for him here to deliver a final fatal blow to his pride.

He dragged his unsteady leg and couldn't even be bothered to take his own specimen. He left hurriedly with the people from the clinical medicine school.

Not far away.

In the shadows of the corridor in the office building, a skinny old man admired this scene the entire time.

When he heard Gu Qiqi comment on all the problems with those specimens, his wrinkled face revealed a rare smile. "Hmph, finally, there's a person who's not too stupid!"

A faint herbal scent traveled through the air.

The old man sniffed and his gaze deepened a few degrees. He muttered, "No wonder the other party listened to her words so well. What she said was the truth and her attacks were justified. If she wanted them to get lost, they would get lost. It turns out that this person even used some tricks to emit the fragrance of purple sage..."

Anyone who studied pharmaceuticals knew that purple sage could relax one's emotions.

This was especially true when a psychiatrist was conducting hypnosis experiments. Coupled with the lavender essential oil, it was effective in relaxing the patient's nerves and making the patient obediently follow his instructions in the next step.

Those people from the clinical medicine school didn't sincerely repent.

Gu Qiqi had added some herbal fragrance so that they would lay their hands on Liu Guanghui.

"What a cunning little fox!" The old man curled his lips, and the smile on his face became stronger.

Chapter 419: If She Didn't Want To Be Bullied, She Could Only...

Liu Guanghui and the rest left dejectedly.

The dozen or so students from the pharmaceutical school immediately surrounded Gu Qiqi in the middle. All of them were filled with gratitude and admiration.

"Senior Sister, why haven't we seen you before?"

"Senior Sister, you're so awesome! Thank you for saving us. You're our savior!"

"Senior Sister, do you know how badly we've been bullied these few days? Just now, when we were moving the specimens, my hand cracked... I thought that I would have to be ordered around for five years in university... Wuwuwuwu..."

"Senior Sister, I'll be your die-hard fan in the future! With you around, Mom won't have to worry about me studying anymore. I won't be afraid of those pretentious people from the clinical medicine school anymore!"

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

But she wasn't their Senior Sister...

Seeing that everyone was praising Gu Qiqi in admiration, Yang Xiaolan was like a little hen protecting her food. She immediately opened her arms and blocked them from Gu Qiqi.

“Everyone, don’t be so excited, okay? Be careful. Don’t touch Qiqi and step on her shoes! Be quiet! Be quiet! Listen to Qiqi, okay?”

“Wow, Senior Sister Qiqi... Okay, we’ll be good!” The dozen people immediately shut up.

They looked at Gu Qiqi anxiously.

They were simply like little chicks waiting to be fed.

Gu Qiqi held her forehead. Sigh, these children had been bullied so badly by those bastards from the clinical medicine school.

Okay.

Then, she would say a few words.

“I’m not your senior sister. I’m also a new student like you. Also, I haven’t gotten into the pharmaceutical school yet.”

Gu Qiqi’s first words made everyone’s eyes fall to the ground.

What?

A new student?

Were all freshmen this capable? Those b*stards from the clinical medicine school were so angry just now that they couldn’t speak and left in a sorry state.

What?

Not from the pharmaceutical school?

She was actually not their real senior sister and was even willing to stand up for them. She didn’t even hesitate to offend those senior brothers with backgrounds from the clinical medicine school...

They admired Senior Sister Qiqi even more! No, Student Qiqi!

Looking at the heated gazes, Gu Qiqi said a second sentence. “No one can be someone else’s saviour. I can’t either. So, if you don’t want to be bullied, you have to become stronger yourself.”

In the past, she had also been bullied to the most pitiful extent. If this incredible tragic life was retold, it would probably be even more miserable than everyone present.

However, the moment she woke up, she finally understood that the Gu family’s so-called relatives were unreliable. That man who said that he loved her was also unreliable. The only person who could be relied on was herself!

She had to be powerful so that she could hold her head high in front of everyone and be fearless!

Gu Qiqi’s faint words didn’t have any profound principles or complicated rhetoric. However, it shocked everyone’s hearts.

The dozen freshmen looked at each other and their ears flushed red.

There was no savior in this world!

If they didn't want to be bullied, they had to be strong first!

That's right. They had always been hoping that someone would save them. Little did they know that this kind of dependent mindset would only make them weaker!

Putting aside the existence of that savior...

This kind of dependence would make them hide in a corner with peace of mind and wait for redemption instead of fighting back.

Just now, there were only four or five people from the clinical medicine school. What were they afraid of?

Could it be that if they didn't move their things, the other party would really eat them alive?

Why did they put themselves in such a lowly position and allow others to order them around? Why did they do those lowly things like slaves?

Chapter 420: Missing The Registration Time!

Weren't they belittling themselves!

Since they were already cowering and disrespecting themselves, of course, others would bully them even more unscrupulously.

Everyone was immediately enlightened!

They felt that the air they breathed in had a different smell.

Gu Qiqi initially thought that her sincere advice would let these children stop pestering her and they would go home to their own mothers and do what they had to do.

She didn't expect these children to look at her with even more admiration.

Who could tell her why they didn't give up?

"Big Sister Qiqi, when will you have the time to tell us how you know so much medical knowledge?"

"That's right, that's right. Big Sister Qiqi, teach us your study methods. I've decided. I want to work hard from today onwards and surpass those bastards from the clinical medicine school!"

"Big Sister Qiqi, actually, my results aren't bad either. There are a total of eight classes for the new students in the pharmaceutical school. According to the rankings, I was still assigned to the class with the best results. It's fine if I can't compare to the top students in the entire school, but I don't believe that I can't compare to those students from the worst clinical medicine school?"

"That's right. Big Sister Qiqi, you'll lead us to participate in this year's school tournament. You'll definitely defeat those blind fellows from the clinical medicine school!"

“That’s right! Who exactly are the trash students from the trash school? We won’t take these insults and return them back to them!”

Looking at the excited looks on each and every one of them who swore to work hard, Gu Qiqi felt embarrassed...

She hadn’t entered pharmaceutical school yet... She was only a veterinarian now... Ahem, a veterinarian!

Didn’t she already say it clearly? Why were these little fellows holding on to her and not letting go?

Just as everyone passionately wanted to invite Gu Qiqi to be their spiritual tutor and lead them to oppress scumbags and counterattack...

Yang Xiaolan suddenly slapped her forehead. “Oh no! Qiqi, are you here to sign up for the special admission exam?”

Gu Qiqi nodded. “Yes.”

Yang Xiaolan was as anxious as anything. “Hurry, hurry, hurry! The teacher is going to get off work soon. Everyone, stop pestering Qiqi!”

After speaking, she pulled Gu Qiqi and ran towards the office building.

“Wait.” Gu Qiqi didn’t move.

Instead, she bent down slightly to check the injuries on Yang Xiao Lan’s legs.

Previously, when Liu Guanghui pushed Yang Xiaolan onto the broken glass of the specimen, a few glass shards pierced through her legs.

Although the injury wasn’t deep, it bled a lot.

Seeing Gu Qiqi help her examine her injuries, Yang Xiaolan frowned and was about to cry. “Qiqi, don’t worry about me. It’s more important for you to sign up!”

Gu Qiqi didn’t listen to her.

Instead, she took out disinfectant paper and removed the glass that had been pierced into Yang Xiaolan’s leg. She disinfected it and bandaged it.

“Go to the school hospital later for a tetanus shot just in case. Eat lightly these two days. There won’t be a scar.” Gu Qiqi instructed carefully.

Behind her, a new student hurriedly ran into the office building to check before running out again. “Big Sister Qiqi, the teacher has gotten off work. The office is locked!”

Yang Xiaolan’s eyes brimmed with tears. She was touched, annoyed, and anxious... Countless emotions surged in her heart. She really wanted to turn back time.

“It’s all my fault! Wuwuwu... Qiqi, if you didn’t help me get out and chase away those bad people who bullied us, you wouldn’t have missed the registration period. The registration definitely stopped! Wuwuwuwu!”

Gu Qiqi facepalmed.

Ahem, so why did you drag me along to chat for so long?

However, when she decided to stop and interfere in this matter, she was already mentally prepared.

It was impossible for her to not miss the registration period while helping them.

When she was dealing with Liu Guanghui, the teacher's office hours had already passed.

She accepted the outcome of this choice which was within her expectations.