

Dear Chief 491

Chapter 491: Dare to Snatch A Woman From Master Jue

At this moment, Gu Qiqi was quite calm.

After all, she didn't know what Chu Junmo was like in the past. She thought that he had always been such a gentleman.

Chu Junmo's first words were that she was welcome. She treated it as a gentleman's courtesy.

But the second sentence asked her to call him by his name... She found it a little difficult to accept.

In fact, that mushy thought that Gong Jue would make her call him "Jue" someday flashed across her mind.

No, no, no. Gong Jue definitely wouldn't make such a mushy request... right?

"CEO Chu, how would I dare to call you by your name? If you don't mind, I'll call you Brother Chu in the future, okay?"

When Chu Junmo heard that Gu Qiqi still called him CEO Chu, a trace of disappointment surfaced in his eyes initially. But when he heard the words "Brother Chu", the corners of his lips couldn't help but curve slowly again.

"Okay," he said.

Then, he strode forward and supported Gu Qiqi's waist with his hand.

Although it was just a very ordinary way to bring a guest home...

But on this journey, Chu Junmo felt like he had walked out of a red carpet.

It was a little serious and romantic...

But at this moment.

Suddenly, a gust of wind blew.

"Woof! Woof! Woof!"

There was a series of loud dog barks.

A pure black Saint Bernard Hound appeared out of nowhere and rushed towards Chu Junmo.

It was tall and imposing.

As soon as it came up, it bit the corner of his long shirt and refused to let go. It kept shaking it.

What seriousness and romance? They had all disappeared..

It could only be said that he was in a sorry state.

But that dog didn't bite anyone ruthlessly. Instead, it seemed to be fooling around and specially picked Chu Junmo to cause trouble.

It bit her long shirt, shoes, and even tried to pounce on Chu Junmo...

Across the road, in the dark.

Special Assistant Lu was very satisfied. "Great Lord, well done! Tonight, I'll cook ten drumsticks for you as a reward! Heh heh, let's see how that sinister and scheming Chu can still pretend to be a gentleman and act innocent to snatch a woman from our Master Jue..."

The smugness didn't last for a few seconds.

That Saint Bernard Hound called "Great Lord" suddenly stopped tormenting Chu Junmo.

Actually...

It shook his long and fluffy tail, turned around and ran to Gu Qiqi obsequiously!

Gu Qiqi caressed its forehead and said something.

The tall and powerful Saint BernardHound actually became a little sheep in a second. It even licked Gu Qiqi's palm in a flattering manner.

Special Assistant Lu only hated that he didn't place a bug on the Great Lord's neck so that he could hear how Gu Qiqi managed to tame such a fierce big dog.

At this moment, the servants in the Chu residence were as surprised as Special Assistant Lu.

They were originally prepared to help the chairman out. Some even picked up brooms and prepared to hit the dog...

But he didn't expect that Young Lady Qiqi only had to snap her fingers at the dog!

The dog obediently gave up on the chairman and came to find her.

The big dog suddenly tried to flatter and curry favor with her. It was simply breathtaking.

Gu Qiqi finished feeding it the few fragrant little pills in her palm before she rubbed the Great Lord's head. "Be good. Return to your own home obediently. I'll give you more candy next time."

That dog actually nodded and ran out obediently.

Seeing Gu Qiqi tame a large dog with their own eyes, the servants were convinced. This young lady was handsome! She had the aura of a mistress of the household.

If it were other young ladies, they would definitely faint from fright long ago.

The little episode with the dog delayed the two of them at the door.

Chu Junmo invited her into the study room.

Chu Junmo introduced the house as he walked. "The old residence is very big. However, I spend most of my time reading ancient books, so I basically only move around here. The study and bedroom are connected. I often eat here..."

Gu Qiqi couldn't help but praise it. "Really? I don't think the house is too big. It's fine as long as there's a study room and bedroom. It's best if you're tired from reading and can fall onto the bed directly. It'll save more time..."

Chu Junmo's expression was slightly complicated. "What a coincidence. Our thoughts coincide..."

Before he could finish speaking...

A crisp sound traveled from the bedroom!

Chapter 492: Did You Raise Some Animal?

Boom!

The crisp sound in the bedroom wasn't loud.

But it was enough to make Gu Qiqi and Chu Junmo stop talking and look over.

As the servants had long been removed by Chu Junmo, he personally lifted the bead curtain between the study room and the bedroom to look inside.

The bedroom was decorated with an antique style. A pot of herbal fragrance seemed to be absent.

No one was there.

However, the jade inkstone that was originally placed on the bedside table in front of the screen had fallen to the ground.

It shattered into two!

Chu Junmo's eyes darkened and the aura around him suddenly turned cold.

Gu Qiqi looked over from behind him and was surprised to see that the jade inkstone that she had given him had actually shattered.

For a moment, she forgot why the inkstone wasn't placed on the study table but on the bedside table in the bedroom.

"How did it shatter? Is there... wind?" Gu Qiqi muttered.

Indeed, there was a small crack in the window.

Chu Junmo's gaze was sharp as he stared behind the screen. He said slowly without batting an eyelid, "The wind isn't that bored to something like that. Perhaps it's... some animal."

Once his words fell, Gu Qiqi clearly felt a chill from the bedroom.

But this coldness wasn't Chu Junmo's aura.

How strange!

"Animal?" She laughed. "Brother Chu, do you also like to raise pets? Are they kittens or puppies? Or lions, leopards, and giant lizards? I heard that the big chairman of the Imperial Capital likes to raise strange pets."

Chu Junmo's lips were cold as he slowly curved into a deep and playful smile. "It's probably... similar to that big dog at the door just now."

The cold aura in the room suddenly became stronger!

Gu Qiqi couldn't help but tremble. "Brother Chu, your room is a little cold."

Chu Junmo squinted. "Yes. Let's return to the study room and have tea... to warm ourselves up..."

He deliberately said the words "warm up" slowly and gently.

It sounded exciting.

Unfortunately, Gu Qiqi was a big-hearted person and didn't understand that concept at all. She rubbed her hands and obediently bounced back to the study room.

Chu Junmo slowly walked to the bedside table, picked up the broken jade inkstone, and put it in his arms.

He stopped in front of the huge screen.

He was about to turn around and investigate, but he stopped.

He took another deep look behind the screen but didn't walk back. Instead, he turned around and returned to the study room.

The two of them sat in front of the study table. Chu Junmo held the broken jade inkstone in his palm and slowly rubbed it. "I'm sorry for ruining your gift."

Gu Qiqi shook her head. "It was caused by a dog. It's not your fault. I'll choose a new gift for you another day."

She felt a little guilty in her heart. She owed Chu Junmo a lot of favors and owed him a meal. Now, even a small gift had been accidentally ruined. She owed him a little more.

Not to mention the cooperation project that she was going to discuss with him later...

Oh, she had to let the Chu clan obtain enough benefits in the cooperation. She couldn't treat Brother Chu badly.

That was what she thought.

But at this moment, Gong Jue, who was standing behind the screen in the bedroom, didn't think so!

Upon hearing her say that a dog broke the jade, Gong Jue nearly tore the screen down!

He entered very smoothly and it was also easy to break the inkstone. Originally, everything was perfect. Unfortunately, no matter how much he calculated, he didn't expect that Gu Qiqi would actually come to the Chu family as a guest!!!

This stupid woman actually looked for a man behind his back and was even caught by him.

Chapter 493: Where Did You Learn Your Flirting Skills?

Gong Jue's gaze was sinister. His cold aura nearly froze the air in the bedroom.

He really wanted to rush out and drag that stupid woman home directly before smashing the inkstone at Chu Junmo's face.

He would throw it at his face ruthlessly!

But the inkstone had already shattered and he missed the best opportunity to do so.

If he rushed out now, his imposing manner would be reduced.

Furthermore, he would make him look like a third party trying to destroy a legitimate couple. Although he was righteous, he felt strangely pitiful.

How exactly was he going to catch him in adultery and shock him a little? He was going to let that b*stard Chu Junmo remember his lesson and never provoke his woman again.

Just as Gong Jue was frowning and thinking hard...

In the study room, Chu Junmo said faintly, "As long as it's a gift from Young Lady Qiqi herself, even if it's broken, there's a meaning to it. I'll definitely treasure it well."

As he spoke, he actually combined the two pieces of the inkstone into one and carefully placed it in the most conspicuous place on the study table.

Of course, Gu Qiqi felt guilty again.

His expression became even more unbearable.

Gong Jue was so angry that he wanted to punch him.

Damn it. He was starting to suspect that Chu Junmo did it on purpose.

He deliberately left the inkstone in the bedroom and waited for him to come in and break it.

Then, he would let Gu Qiqi see the broken inkstone with her own eyes and feel that she owed this guy.

Scheming!

How sinister!

Shameless!

Gong Jue cursed Chu Junmo 1,888 times in his heart.

Chu Junmo was in a good mood. There was a faint smile on his face and he looked as elegant as a legitimate immortal.

He held the purple clay teapot in his hand. "Young Lady Qiqi, try the 20-year-old citrus tea that I made myself. Is it different from the tea outside?"

"Oh, mandarin has medicinal properties and can nourish one's health when used in tea. Brother Chu is an expert... Wait a minute! 20 years? Then, Brother Chu, didn't you start making medicine and making tea from a very young age?... This is too precious. I don't even dare to drink it anymore!"

Chu Junmo curved his lips lightly. "Of course, I have come into contact with this profession from a young age. But Young Lady Qiqi's talent in pharmaceuticals makes the teachers in the pharmaceutical school feel inferior. I can't catch up to her."

Gu Qiqi laughed. "I'm not as good as you say!"

Gong Jue, who was behind the screen, despised him.

Tsk! Chu, you only know how to act cool and boast in front of women!

What 20 years? You were just a brat 20 years ago. I was already carrying a gun, okay?

I've never bragged about fighting a city alone in front of a stupid woman. Who are you?

He suddenly remembered what Special Assistant Lu had said about flirting.

Could it be that Chu Junmo had learned this flirting skill before? Was that why he was so eloquent?

Should he find a book to learn too?

He could actually make this stupid woman laugh!

In the study room, Gu Qiqi said again, "Brother Chu, you're joking. Speaking of using medicine to drink tea, has Brother Chu heard of using jade as medicine?"

"I've never heard of it. Young Lady Qiqi, can you explain it to me?"

"It's like this. I have a friend..."

Gong Jue initially wanted to come out and catch the adulterer. Upon hearing this, he temporarily stopped this thought.

What would these two talk about when they were together?

He suddenly wanted to know!

Anyway, he was only a screen's distance away from them. If that b*stard Chu really dared to do anything to that stupid woman, he could also come out and stop him immediately.

After making up his mind, he lowered his gaze and continued to listen.

In the end, the more he listened, the more he exploded.

Gu Qiqi actually found Chu Junmo to cooperate with him because she wanted to help her friend snatch back a lousy thing called something Xuan and build a thing called something Ting to fight a commercial war?

Did this stupid woman know Chu Junmo's real background?

Cooperating with this Chu guy was simply asking a tiger for its skin. When the time comes, it'll eat your bones without spitting out your skin!

More importantly, that stupid woman actually didn't mention a word about this to him!

Why didn't she ask him for help? Wasn't it best if he directly bombed that Xuan business?

Chapter 494: The Little Plan He Was Hiding

Honestly speaking, Gu Qiqi didn't have much hope that Chu Junmo would be willing to help.

Indeed.

Chu Junmo heard Gu Qiqi talk about the Yang father and daughter.

After pondering for a moment.

His expression became serious and he said, "Young Lady Qiqi, you know that I'm a pure businessman. I don't have the heart of a saint. I definitely won't help him because he's pitiful."

Gu Qiqi nodded. "I understand."

If Chu Junmo agreed immediately, she would feel that something was wrong.

She wasn't related to him at all. On what basis should he help her?

There was a price to everything. What price would she have to pay to beg someone for help?

Chu Junmo continued, "Your business model of using jade as medicine looks good, but there are two fatal problems."

"Tell me." Gu Qiqi listened modestly.

It was an honor to be guided by a business big shot.

Chu Junmo's tone was professional and clear. "Firstly, jade that can be used for medicine is expensive, and requires a long time to refine. Secondly, even if a new brand borrows our Chu clan's pharmacy to create sales, it's very difficult to predict if the customers will buy it or not. The risk is extremely high."

Gu Qiqi had to admit. "You're right."

However...

She raised her small face and her eyes were firm. "But I have the confidence to crack them! For the first point, I have a way to find jade and refine medicine. For the second point, I already have a meticulous plan. As long as you give me a chance to try, I will know how the market will react! If the facts prove that I can't do it, you can directly kick Lan Ting out of the pharmacy, terminate the cooperation, and pursue the loss. I won't have any complaints."

Chu Junmo's eyes flickered slightly.

With a grave expression, he nodded. "Okay."

Ah?

Gu Qiqi thought that Chu Junmo would continue to make things difficult for her with a few questions, such as the investment amount, the distribution of profits and so on.

She was still thinking about how to come up with a plan to persuade him.

She didn't expect Chu Junmo to actually agree!

This was too different from his attitude towards her business model just now.

She couldn't help but ask, "Why did you agree with me?"

Chu Junmo said lightly, "Because it's you. Even if it's difficult, I'm confident."

In an instant, blood rushed to Gu Qiqi's heart.

She really couldn't let down Chu Junmo's trust, nor could she let down Yang Xiaolan and Iron Fist Yang's trust. She had to do well with Lan Ting so it becomes the number one brand in the Empire that used jade as medicine!

Behind the screen, Gong Jue snorted coldly and laughed.

Hmph! Chu, do you think that I can't tell your tricks?

You deliberately made things difficult for her first before agreeing. You're trying to let that stupid woman lower her guard against you, right?

It would appear that you're doing this for business and not for other purposes, right?

But I know that you have other motives!

We're both men. Can't I tell the hidden plan in your sly fox eyes?

Gong Jue took a deep breath. He felt that he couldn't tolerate it anymore. This time, he had to flip the roof!

"Let's talk about the detailed contract later. It's getting late. Why don't we have supper first?" Chu Junmo invited her like a gentleman.

"Uh... No, it's too troublesome. I've eaten dinner."

"It's not troublesome. I cooked it myself. They all find it disgusting. Help me eat it. Treat it as sympathy for an unwelcome chef." Chu Junmo said lightly and gently.

Oh, this reason was really difficult to reject.

Gu Qiqi facepalmed. "Okay!"

Honestly speaking, she was curious about whether a man could actually cook!

Chapter 495: Gong Jue, Wake Up!

Chu Junmo stood up elegantly and nodded at Gu Qiqi. "Wait a minute."

He left the study room and walked towards the kitchen.

He had just disappeared into the corridor.

Suddenly, a cold gust of wind assaulted the back of Gu Qiqi's neck!

Before she could react, the teacup in her hand was slapped away by a big palm and tea splashed onto the floor.

Her petite body was turned around.

Bam! She pressed it against the study table!

The man's aggressive aura caused a storm to descend.

Gu Qiqi bent her knees and was about to push forward.

Suddenly, the man clasped her knees and warned her in a muffled voice, "Do you want to be unhappy for the rest of your life?"

What? Gong Jue!

Why would Gong Jue appear in Chu Junmo's study room?

Gu Qiqi's mind went blank for a moment.

Gong Jue snorted unhappily. His cold lips landed heavily on her once more.

The anger that was stirred up by their conversation just now turned into action at this moment.

Gu Qiqi couldn't breathe!

More importantly, this was someone else's house. Chu Junmo could return from the kitchen at any moment. If someone saw her and Gong Jue like this on his study table... Would she still want her face and morals?

A slight pain traveled from her neck.

Gong Jue started to rush left and right without any order.

Gu Qiqi managed to catch her breath with great difficulty. She took a deep breath and said, "Gong Jue, wake up! This is the Chu family's house! Do you know what you're doing?"

Gong Jue's face was cold and dark, but his cheeks were flushed red. The veins on his forehead bulged faintly, and his voice was hoarse. "I'm very clear. I'm fulfilling my duty as your man!"

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

Crazy.

It turned out that he was acting impulsively...

It was impossible to talk to him logically.

What was worse was that Gong Jue continued for a while and was very dissatisfied. He returned again and ignored all the warnings that she said.

Gu Qiqi pushed him away with her small hand, but she couldn't move this man at all. Instead, she made him even more violent.

Gu Qiqi gnashed her teeth helplessly.

A faint trace of blood escaped from Gong Jue's lips.

But she didn't expect...

Not only did the smell of blood not let go of this man, but it also stimulated him!

Like a ferocious beast that had smelled blood, its attack power instantly soared by 10,000 points!

Gu Qiqi's lips went numb.

The scalpel blade that was gripped in her fingertips was raised a few times to threaten him to stop. In the end, her arm went soft helplessly and she slowly lowered it...

Damn it.

She actually couldn't do anything to this stupid man!

Chu Junmo was busy in the kitchen.

A white apron was tied around his sky-blue long gown.

Originally, it was very disharmonious, but he somehow managed to bring out the warmth of home.

It was actually true that he told Gu Qiqi that he would cook personally.

He really cooked this dish himself.

But he lied about something.

How was the food that he made disgusting? Before he could bring it out, the servants in the kitchen started gulping...

One was blueberry yam and the other was peach gelatin.

It was fragrant and alluring. It was sweet but not greasy.

Even the plate presentation was so beautiful. There were spots of blueberries on the white and clean mountain-shaped yam slices, and the peach gelatin was paired with saponin rice... It was simply a delicacy that even a girl wouldn't reject, okay? It was also pleasing to the eye if she didn't eat it.

Seeing that his cold chairman had finally revealed his flirting skills, Secretary Jiao was a little happy for him, but he couldn't help but remind him—

Chapter 496: Chu Junmo Knocked Open the Study Room's Door

"CEO, I quickly used the financial system to evaluate Lan Ting according to your instructions for your cooperation with Young Lady Qiqi just now. The risk index is still too big. Do you want to reconsider... It's fine if their entrepreneurship fails, but we're a century-old shop. I'm afraid that if it fails, it will affect our reputation too much..."

Chu Junmo didn't even raise his eyes as he focused on adjusting the distance for the blueberries on the yam to create the most perfect shape.

After a while, he said coldly, "Are you questioning my decision?"

Secretary Jiao shivered. "No, I wouldn't dare! I'll instruct the people below to do it now. I'll immediately clean the counter and set up a counter for Lan Ting!"

It was one thing to strictly follow the chairman's orders, but the aggrieved feeling in his heart was another matter.

He knew that the chairman had always indulged Young Lady Qiqi.

But this business matter wasn't a joke. Did the chairman allow Young Lady Qiqi to squander and play around casually even in business matters now?

Chu Junmo looked at the two delicacies that had finally been adjusted. Only then did his expression soften a little.

As if he was completely aware of the doubts in Secretary Jiao's heart at this moment, he said lightly, "She's not fooling around. She will definitely do it."

He was completely certain.

He trusted her completely.

After speaking, he personally picked up the silver tray and walked slowly towards the study room along the long Chinese corridor.

On the way, he couldn't help but open her phone and click on the monitoring software.

There were surveillance cameras installed in the study room.

From the angle of the surveillance camera, he could see the study table.

It had only been ten minutes since he left, but he wanted to know what she was busy with... Would that "big dog" come out again?

The moment the monitoring screen popped up.

Chu Junmo's breathing stopped!

The tray in her hand fell onto the green brick floor with a clang and shattered!

Gong Jue was actually... kissing Gu Qiqi fiercely! On his mahogany study table!

Furthermore!

Halfway through, he clearly saw Gong Jue raise his head slightly. His hawk-like gaze looked in the direction of the surveillance camera and gave off a provocative look!

On purpose!

Gong Jue definitely did it on purpose.

He knew that he would definitely look at the monitoring screen and know that he knew its hiding place well. He knew that his short departure was to lure him out. He knew that he would be sharing food intimately with Gu Qiqi alone later... Thus, Gong Jue finally couldn't help but come to declare ownership.

This was within his expectations.

But she never expected Gong Jue to use such an intense method.

This was simply trampling on a man's pride!

A ball of anger surged uncontrollably from her eyes. There was also some pain in the anger.

He had always been careful not to scare her, afraid that he would reveal a trace of his fierce background and cause her to take a step back. The girl who had always been treasured like a pearl was actually treated so simply and roughly by Gong Jue. He couldn't tolerate it! He couldn't tolerate it!

Such intense emotions were rare for him. He had been cultivating his body and mind for many years, but he never expected that one day, he would completely break through.

He admitted that this little girl had controlled all his emotions.

He lost all his calmness and self-restraint when it came to her.

Chu Junmo swallowed his saliva and strode forward. Then, he adjusted his reserved and steady posture, lifted his long shirt, and practically ran to the study room.

He didn't believe that Gong Jue would still be so thick-skinned to remain expressionless after being seen doing such a thing in someone else's study room.

Could Gu Qiqi still treat Gong Jue well?!

When he knocked open the study room door...

Chapter 497: How Ruthless! How Arrogant!

When Chu Junmo knocked open the study room door.

But this time, what he saw was...

On the messy study table, that jade inkstone was broken into four pieces from two halves. It was also cruelly pieced into a heart shape—that's right, a heart shape!

Was he mocking his heart that was destined to shatter in this lifetime?

On the floor, the orange tea that he had kept for 20 years was knocked away and scattered all over the floor.

Was he taking his precious heart and trampling it on the ground as worthless trash?

Gong Jue, you b*stard! How ruthless! How arrogant!

Chu Junmo looked around. There was no one in the study room!

His pupils shrank dangerously. He staggered and continued running towards the bedroom.

His bedroom was filled with traps.

Before he left just now, he specially set up a defense mode.

After the mechanism was activated, there was no way out!

It was to prevent Gong Jue from escaping.

But...

What did he see after rushing into the bedroom?

Gong Jue actually... destroyed his mechanisms.

The screen collapsed, the big bed was split in half, and the offensive chandelier on the ceiling was directly torn off...

It was simply a mess.

Gong Jue actually destroyed his house with his bare hands!

Gong Jue removed the entire window. He jumped out of the window and took Gu Qiqi away at the same time!

Amidst his anger, Chu Junmo couldn't help but admire Gong Jue a little.

He had a woman with him, but still had such strong destructive power. Furthermore, he had broken his mechanical defenses in a few minutes—Gong Jue, you're an opponent who's on par with me!

He was indeed the youngest business emperor in the history of the Empire.

If he had known earlier, he should have activated the special-class mechanism defense that he hadn't used for many years!

How could ordinary mechanisms trap this man who had experienced life and death before and had bones as hard as steel?

Chu Junmo calmed down.

He took a deep breath and said coldly to the empty space, "Gong Jue, this competition has just begun. Don't be too smug. You think that you really have her... Perhaps, one day, it will be easy for you to lose her!"

==

In Number 1.

Through the rearview mirror, Special Assistant Lu secretly observed the two gods in the backseat.

Both of them didn't look good!

Clearly, a second before Master Jue carried Young Lady Qiqi into the car, he was still leaning over and kissing her.

As an old man, he blushed when he saw how quickly they were stuck together.

But why did the two of them start bickering like firecrackers the moment they separated?

Gu Qiqi said angrily, "Gong Jue, you can't do this..."

Gong Jue raised his eyebrows lazily. "Can't I do that? Hmm?"

Gu Qiqi swallowed the words that were about to escape her mouth. She initially wanted to criticize him for what he had done to her in Chu Junmo's study room.

But clearly, this man was very shameless. He wasn't ashamed, but he was proud.

She changed her words. "How can you tear down the roof of the Chu residence without a word?"

Special Assistant Lu's heart skipped a beat. Oh my god. It turned out that Master Jue had flipped someone's roof. This was too cruel. Young Lady Qiqi deserved to throw a tantrum. She was right to criticize him!

Gong Jue glanced at her coolly. "This won't do? Then, he can casually call other people dogs? I'm still going easy on him by tearing down his roof!"

Large dog...

Special Assistant Lu facepalmed and his heart sank.

Someone actually dared to treat Master Jue as a dog? This way, he would be dissatisfied and rush out to bite him.

Yes, this roof should be removed. He deserved it! Definitely!

Gu Qiqi was also speechless by the childish Gong Jue.

Alright, she had already figured out that Gong Jue was triggered after he was called a dog.

But the most important thing now was...

"Let me out of the car. I still have the details of the contract to discuss with the Chu clan!"

"What's there to talk about?! You're not allowed to talk about it! You're also not allowed to cooperate with him in any way!"

Chapter 498: Gong Jue, A Large Dog Who Had Been Petted

The domineering Master Jue was back in a second!

He didn't allow Gu Qiqi to cooperate with Chu Junmo.

His tone was very firm.

Gu Qiqi's lips twitched. After being together for so many days, she had gradually understood Gong Jue's reverse scale. That was... he hated her coming into contact with any other man.

Her eyes sank. She was certain that other than being jealous, Gong Jue was still very righteous and kind. "But if I don't help my friend, can I watch as my enemy, Yang Xiaoqing, struts around and plagiarizes the Yang family's jade carvings unscrupulously?! Gong Jue, you have to know that I'm not working with Chu Junmo. I'm helping the Yang family..."

Unfortunately, Gong Jue was unmoved. "There are so many pitiful people in this world. Can you manage them one by one?"

He looked like he wasn't going to let her interfere if she didn't allow him to.

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

She didn't want to be a saint to everyone.

Xiaolan... Xiaolan was special.

However, she didn't say these words.

Just as Special Assistant Lu was mourning for Gu Qiqi for three seconds and was in pain from the Bureau Chief's cruel rejection...

Gu Qiqi quietly took out something from her bag.

She didn't say anything.

She handed it to Gong Jue.

Gong Jue's face was cold at first. He looked arrogant and took it without even looking at it.

Hmph! Could it be a business proposal?

He definitely, definitely, definitely wouldn't agree to it. Give up, stupid woman.

He took it and casually scanned it.

Then, he was stunned.

How was that a business plan?

It was a golden square velvet box.

There was a small piece of exquisite jade inside.

Gong Jue recognized that unique and noble color immediately.

This was the Deep Water Dragon Stone jade that Gu Qiqi had won from her gamble at the auction house back then!

It was the best and most precious jade in the entire venue.

But it was very different from the raw stones back then.

That Deep Water Dragon Stone Jade had been meticulously polished and carved in an ancient style. It presented a very beautiful shape and had the traditional Chinese word "Gong" carved on it!

Gong Jue's gaze became deep as he stared at Gu Qiqi. "For me?"

Without a word, Gu Qiqi removed the sachet from his waist and tied the Deep Water Dragon Stone Jade around it. Then, she helped him put it on his belt again.

It was for him.

She had prepared this gift a long time ago.

She had always wanted to find the best jade sculptor to polish it. Only when she met Iron Fist Yang did she really achieve the effect that she was satisfied with.

The jade was transparent and calm, but Gong Jue's heart surged.

This stupid woman had finally given him a reliable gift! He had looked forward to it so many times and been disappointed so many times before he finally received this exclusive gift.

Furthermore, once he made a move, it was actually the best and most awesome gift!

It had killed Chu Junmo's jade inkstone in seconds, okay?

Thinking about this, Gong Jue felt very good and felt especially superior.

Seeing that Gong Jue's expression had improved, Gu Qiqi said faintly, "This Deep Water Dragon Stone Jade was carefully carved by Yang Iron Fist for me. Do you still think that I shouldn't help him and cooperate with the Chu clan to operate the Orchid Pavilion? I'm just a planner. The Yang clan does the specific operations themselves..."

Gong Jue said, "Agreed!"

Special Assistant Lu's hand trembled in the front seat and the car nearly tilted.

Chief, can you have some principles?

Who was the one who was determined not to do business for Young Lady Qiqi just now?

Who changed their mind now?

Did she bribe you with just a gift?!

Do you know that you look like a big dog that has been patted?

He admired Young Lady Qiqi's ability to smoothen things out with him!

Gong Jue stopped pursuing the matter. He held the Deep Water Dragon Stone jade in his palm and the corners of his lips curved up proudly.

He did so until they returned to Mansion Number 0.

Once they entered.

Before he could switch on the lights, Gong Jue couldn't wait to press Gu Qiqi against the door in the dark living room!

Chapter 499: The Secret She Was Hiding

After returning to the familiar room, he seemed to be even more at ease.

Gu Qiqi thought that Chu Junmo was right.

This was a big dog!

He was simply hugging her and not letting go.

“Xiaobei... is still here... Gong Jue, stop fooling around...” Gu Qiqi could only take out her biggest killing weapon.

Beside the sofa in the living room.

The lights above Xiaobei’s mini robot, Brother Yun, flashed. “Time to sleep! Xiaobei is asleep...”

Gu Qiqi was speechless. Damn it. Had Gong Jue bribed even robots?

Gong Jue laughed lightly. His long and slender arm exerted force and hugged Gu Qiqi by the waist. “Let’s go upstairs and continue.”

Continue?!

Continue what?

Gu Qiqi’s small heart tightened and her face turned pale.

She wasn’t prepared to let her body and life completely accept the strength of a man.

“Give me some time, Gong Jue!” Gu Qiqi’s chest rose and fell. Her tone was a little unstable, but her eyes were clear and firm.

“Why do you need time?” Gong Jue said in annoyance.

The man’s charming and urgent aura brushed past her small face and earlobe heavily. It clearly revealed the impatience in his heart.

He had really waited for too long!

He didn’t want to wait anymore!

“Let me think clearly... The Mu family’s withdrawal from the engagement, the Gu family’s matter, and...” Gu Qiqi bit her lips.

There was another secret that Gong Jue didn’t know about her.

She wasn’t sure if Gong Jue would still be as passionate about her as he was now if he knew that she wasn’t a virgin.

Before she died in her previous life, hadn’t Gu Xuexue mocked her in front of her face? Which man didn’t care about this? Men hated it when there was a little green above their heads!

That’s right. All men cared. They wanted to have a complete woman. They wanted to occupy the first time of the woman they loved.

Gong Jue was such a proud and powerful man. He should be no exception, right?

In fact, he was more concerned than ordinary men, right?

If he knew that her first time had already been snatched away from him and had once been...

Back then, when they first met, she was bullied by a man she had never seen before on the operating table in Qing Cheng Hospital.

Would that unforgettable first meeting that she had with Gong Jue become a joke? A day that he hated whenever he thought about it?

If all of these facts were to be revealed in front of Gong Jue one day...

She almost didn't dare to imagine Gong Jue's expression!

How was she making his head turn green? According to her experience, she must have planted a huge grassland for him.

Gong Jue's temper could explode from jealousy even if she spoke another word to another man. He could even steal her halfway when she was visiting Chu Junmo's house.

If he knew the truth about her, what would he do?

Gu Qiqi's voice trembled. "Give me some time, Gong Jue. I'll give you a thoughtful answer."

Gong Jue bit her earlobe, gnashed his teeth, and blew into her ear. "Stupid woman, if you do this, I'll think that you're playing hard to get!"

Playing hard to get?

No...

Not like this...

Gu Qiqi's ears flushed red and a thin layer of mist gradually surfaced in her eyes.

This man still had no idea how dark, unbearable, and... unacceptable the secrets hidden in her heart were.

She needed time to give herself some courage to confess.

Under the faint moonlight, Gong Jue saw the mist in Gu Qiqi's eyes. His pupils constricted a little as he said slowly—

Chapter 500: Regretting In A Second

"Stupid woman, listen carefully. You can have time if you want, but I don't care what reason you have. It doesn't matter if you're playing hard to get. I order you to give me a satisfactory explanation after your period is over!"

Gong Jue stared into Gu Qiqi's big eyes. His tone still carried a trace of desire.

But he had already tried his best to control himself and didn't eat her up completely.

"Okay."

Gu Qiqi bit her lips and nodded.

After her period was over...

Ahem, ahem, ahem. Then, she still had some time to settle her matters, the Mu family's matter, the Yang family's matter, and the school's matter... Then, she would sit with Gong Jue calmly and tell him about the darkest part of her most unbearable and painful life.

If he couldn't accept it, she would bring Xiaobei away.

It was better to end it early...

Under the moonlight.

Gong Jue's Adam's apple bobbed.

The girl's forbearance and faint look of misery moved him.

She seemed to be hiding something heavy in her heart. Previously, when she was asleep, he had also discovered this when he covered her with a blanket in the middle of the night.

How old was she?

She was only 19 years old.

What exactly was on her mind that made her so uncomfortable?

If he could, he really wanted to turn into a gust of wind and enter her mind to take a look.

But at this moment, the place that he wanted to enter even more was...

His big palm moved restlessly to Gu Qiqi's skirt. He was really indignant that he was rejected outside the door again tonight.

"Gong Jue! You said that you would give me time!" Gu Qiqi's small face gradually flushed red as she pressed down on his moving hand.

Gong Jue's voice was hoarse. "But I regret it in a second..."

Damn it. He had overestimated his self-control.

The little woman in his arms was simply a vixen. He couldn't control himself, really.

Knock, knock, knock...

The door creaked rhythmically.

Gong Jue scratched his head in frustration. "Why did you come for?!"

No one else would knock at this time. It must be Special Assistant Lu who had just driven them back and left for less than two minutes.

Indeed.

Outside the door, Special Assistant Lu's careful voice traveled through the crack in the door. "Chief, there's an emergency report... You left your phone in the car too. I... I came to knock on the door. I'm sorry to disturb you. I'll repent..."

It was fine if Special Assistant Lu didn't say that he was disturbing them. Once he said that, Gu Qiqi, who was huddled in Gong Jue's arms, blushed even more.

Gosh, Special Assistant Lu, you always speak the truth.

They didn't do anything! They didn't succeed! They didn't succeed!

Gong Jue took a deep breath and suppressed the desire in his eyes.

He opened the door. "What report?"

Special Assistant Lu stood at the door in embarrassment. He looked at Master Jue, who was still hugging the little woman in his arms. His eyes couldn't help but flicker slightly as he stammered, "That... That... That person whom you wanted me to keep an eye on... made a move just now..."

The Chief asked him to keep an eye on Bai Mori and the two assassins from S Nation.

Would saying "Bai Mori" in front of Young Lady Qiqi make Young Lady Qiqi unhappy? He should hide it and be more reserved.

Fortunately, Gong Jue understood it in a second.

"Yes, I understand."

He put Gu Qiqi down. "Be good. Go to sleep first. Wait for me to return!"

Gu Qiqi rubbed her eyes and nodded. She looked at the ambiguous and mysterious look on their faces.

Suddenly, she said casually to Special Assistant Lu, "Actually, you don't have to hide it from me. I already know."

Special Assistant Lu shivered and looked at Gu Qiqi in disbelief. Then, he looked at the Chief guiltily.

Chief, I definitely didn't leak this matter!
