

Dear Chief 651

Chapter 651: The Best Drama of the Year

Sister-in-law?!

The ministers exploded!

Who in the Empire didn't know that Master Jue was a person who didn't approach women? He patrolled the laboratories in various places all year round and trained a group of technological nerds and rough men. He didn't come into contact with women at all.

It wasn't that no one had sent him women in order to curry favor with him, but the final results were rather tragic.

Women were thrown out by Special Assistant Lu. The people who sent women often suffered terrifying suppression.

It made them secretly think that Master Jue was like the President. Could it be that... he liked men?

But now, Master Jue had publicly announced that he, he, he had a wife?

Didn't they say that brothers would love each other for life?

The ministers secretly stole a glance at the President.

The President's face darkened.

That's right. Master Jue said that the President had hidden his wife. Could it be that the President wanted to snatch his wife?

This matter was serious.

The two brothers competed for a daughter!

The best melodramatic scene of the year!

On the master seat, Gong Sheng was indeed furious.

What nonsense was this b*stard brother talking about?

"Why didn't I know that you had a wife?"

That expression and that tone simply seemed to be saying that only a blind woman would want to marry a crude and boring man like Gong Jue.

Gong Jue snorted coldly. "Don't say that the grapes are sour when you can't eat them. Gong Sheng, if you don't let her go, I'll go straight to your door to snatch her away! Don't think that I don't know that those few secret prisons of yours were built by me back then!"

Gong Sheng was speechless. As the president of a country, was he being threatened by his b*stard younger brother now?

Gong Sheng's eyes flickered.

“Get out, all of you!”

The ministers watched as the two most powerful men in the Empire drew their swords. All of them kept quiet out of fear and couldn't wait to get out of this troublesome place.

After everyone left, they felt a little regretful.

Wuwuwuwu, they really wanted to know who that “sister-in-law” that the two brothers were talking about was to actually cause the brothers to fall out.

She was definitely a devastating disaster, right?

Was that woman the president's sister-in-law or his wife? This matter had probably not been decided yet, right?

Amidst the dark speculations.

In the meeting room.

Gong Sheng's face sank.

He suddenly thought of something and frowned. “Could the woman you're talking about be that female student with poison? Her name is... Qi?”

“What Qi? Be more respectful. That's your sister-in-law! Gu Qiqi.” Gong Jue said in annoyance, “Hand her over to me!”

Gong Sheng's heart skipped a beat.

It turned out to be that girl who was suspected of being a spy from the Empire...

He had seen her photo before. She was handsome and looked a little arrogant. If she changed into a man's outfit, she would look like a handsome boy.

“Gong Jue, are you sure that you like... women?”

Gong Jue exploded. “Nonsense! I'm not like you! You're a man who hasn't had sex in 800 years. Do you know what it's like to lose your woman? Hurry up and release her for me!”

Gong Sheng was speechless.

Who said that I've never eaten meat before?!

That female waiter from the cafe was wearing an apron this evening. Her panicked face was tender and her eyes were bright.

The feeling inside her was also... quite unforgettable.

If it weren't for the important meeting tonight, he might not have been able to control himself and torment her until daybreak.

Five hours was still too short.

Gong Sheng's adam's apple bobbed as he said calmly, "Gu Qiqi. After investigation, it's possible that she's a poison weapon sent by S Nation. It has already caused panic among the citizens. We can't let her out. Let's talk after the interrogation is over."

Chapter 652: Fight Between Brothers For A Woman

As he spoke, Gong Sheng stared intently at Gong Jue's cold eyes that were nearly identical to his. He continued in a low voice, "Even if she's really my younger brother's wife, she can't be an exception! We have to differentiate between national affairs and family matters!"

Although the person pleading for leniency in front of him was his only younger brother and even if what Gong Jue said might be true, as the president of a country, he enjoyed the authority that the citizens handed to him. Thus, he couldn't mix the affairs of the country with his personal feelings.

Whether Gu Qiqi was innocent or not didn't matter to him. The interrogation results would prove everything.

This was his principle as the president!

However, Gong Jue didn't care about this.

Anger surged in her eyes.

His fists were like the wind. With a loud bang, they actually cracked the expensive rosewood on the office table in the presidential conference room!

"Damn it! So what if you're the president? Gong Sheng, let me tell you. I'm not here to ask for your approval. I'm just informing you! If you don't do it, at most, I'll blast the jails one by one. It'll just take a few more minutes!"

He supported himself with both hands on the cracked rosewood desk. He seemed to have been disturbed from his deep sleep as he growled and wanted to crush those d*mned presidential ants.

It was as if in the very next second, it wasn't only this expensive rosewood desk that had been destroyed, but everyone else who wanted to stop him from snatching Gu Qiqi back.

Of course, this included his biological older brother, Gong Sheng.

Veins throbbed on Gong Sheng's forehead.

Was this really his biological younger brother?

He was more irritable and arrogant than his enemy!

Let alone just for a woman!

However, based on his understanding of Gong Jue, this b*stard brother might really do as he said.

The Empire's most advanced technology was in Gong Jue's hands. If Gong Jue was unhappy and turned off the high-tech system, all the industries in the Empire would probably stop operating!

Even as the president, he couldn't casually interfere with the operations of the Gong clan corporation. Only the collective vote of the cabinet elders could slightly limit Gong Jue's influence.

Those old fellows who were afraid of death in the cabinet simply regarded Gong Jue as a god. Gong Jue had built a high-tech protective system by himself that protected the Empire for ten years. The old fellows were all willing to hide behind him and enjoy peace. No one dared to lightly shake Gong Jue's status!

Gong Jue was really the one and only King of Hell who dominated the Empire!

He was going to let this b*stard younger brother do whatever he wanted? Release the prisoners that he had clearly captured? Even blast the cells?

Gong Sheng's eyes were deep.

No one could guess his real emotions at this moment.

"How dare you! Do you think that the Empire is your home that you can blow up as you please?" Gong Sheng's expression didn't change at all as he asked coldly, "Isn't she just a woman?"

"Just a woman? That's my wife! If my wife loses a single strand of hair, I'll blow up your entire world!"

Gong Jue's angry look formed a stark contrast with Gong Sheng's calmness.

If someone barged into the meeting room and saw these two nearly identical faces actually show such dramatic expressions, they would definitely be dumbfounded.

Gosh, when these brothers fought, it was simply like an angel fighting a demon in front of a mirror.

Was it Gong Sheng's righteousness in the world and his presidential principles that would gain the upper hand, or was Gong Jue's power that was unmatched in the world? Could the belief that no one could touch his woman crush everything?

In the very next second, Gong Sheng said calmly, "Let me finish. Isn't she just a woman? If you want her, I'll let her go for you."

Gong Jue was still prepared to pressure Gong Sheng. He didn't expect Gong Sheng to concede so quickly.

It was unexpected!

Then, suspicion flashed across his heart.

Chapter 653: Violent and Domineering Man

Gong Jue raised his cold eyes. "Gong Sheng, don't even think about playing any tricks on me."

Gong Sheng glanced at him lightly and didn't answer.

Without any expression on his face, he pressed down the transmitter on the table. "Head Secretary Zhong, order Prison Number One to bring Gu Qiqi—who is suspected of endangering the safety of the citizens—over as soon as possible."

As he spoke, he specifically instructed, "Make sure she's healthy."

"Yes, Mr. President."

Gong Sheng looked up and stared fixedly at Gong Jue.

His silent face conveyed rich information.

Gong Jue's expression finally improved a little. He snorted coldly and the entire room finally seemed to melt a little. "You should have listened to me earlier! As a president, you just like to complicate simple problems!"

Gong Sheng lowered his gaze and took a sip of tea without batting an eyelid. He took out a mini sand table from the document cabinet by the table and said in a low voice, "S Nation and X Nation have always been eyeing us covetously. I just received news that they will be making a move around the northern mountain range recently. I haven't had the time to attend the cabinet meeting to study it. Why don't you show me how we can activate the defense system response?"

Gong Jue became interested in the mention of technological solutions.

This was his job.

As he knew that Gong Sheng had already instructed Head Secretary Zhong to send Gu Qiqi out, his anxious thoughts calmed down a little. He glanced disdainfully at the icons like "S Nation" and "X Nation" on the sand table. "Those idiots will all be defeated by me. What else can they do under my watch?! I only need to set a trap from the southern defense system to lure them..."

His long and powerful palm pointed at the sand table.

At this moment, this violent and domineering man fully displayed the demeanor of a high-tech genius.

Time passed by slowly...

Outside the presidential conference room.

In the secretary's office.

Head Secretary Zhong scratched his head with a bitter expression.

Nangong Wanwan, the little secretary who had just entered the secretary's office for an internship, asked in confusion. "Secretary-General, didn't the president ask us to let Young Lady Gu Qiqi out? This... is very difficult to handle. I can just send a message. It's not convenient for you to go to the female jail. Why don't I fetch her myself?"

Head Secretary Zhong frowned and shook his head. "What do you know?! How can the President's words be understood so simply?!"

Nangong Wanwan raised her eyebrows in astonishment. "Ah? Could it be that you don't understand it that way? There's another way?"

Head Secretary Zhong instructed her in a mature manner. "You've just arrived and still don't understand. The President's communication device has two colors. When he pressed the green light, everything he said would be carried out according to the words. But if he pressed the red light when he spoke..."

“So what if it’s a red light?” The more Nangong Wanwan listened, the more curious she became! There was actually such an unspoken rule in the presidential palace? If she hadn’t insisted on doing an internship, she wouldn’t have known about Brother Gong Sheng’s many secrets.

“If it’s a red light, it means that there’s a command hidden in his orders that’s completely different from the literal meaning! We have to rely on our guesses as secretaries!”

Gong Sheng had pressed the red light just now.

“Wow, how do you guess? We’re not the little bugs in his stomach, right?” Nangong Wanwan asked innocently. Suddenly, she patted her head again. “I understand! Since the red light lit up just now, doesn’t that mean that the President doesn’t want Young Lady Gu Qiqi to be released?”

Head Secretary Zhong frowned and shook his head.

Chapter 654: Stay and Play With Them

Head Secretary Zhong said, “You’re wrong to interpret it this way. Master Jue is inside asking for her. How can the President just say that he won’t let her go? Who doesn’t know Master Jue’s character? That living King of Hell doesn’t take anyone seriously when he’s angry. He can even blast the jailed...”

Nangong Wanwan said, “Oh, then let’s hurry up and release her.”

Head Secretary Zhong said, “It’s not that simple! That’s why I said that you’re still young and don’t understand the twists and turns in a man’s heart...”

Nangong Wanwan wiped her sweat. “Oh, so are you letting that girl go or not?” She had indeed been tricked!

Head Secretary Zhong muttered to himself and thought about it. “Just now, among the short orders from the President, there were two emphasized phrases. One was ‘as soon as possible’, and the other was ‘to ensure that she’s healthy.’ If I understand this correctly, it will definitely be the opposite. The slower the better. Then, what about ensuring her health... Health...”

At this moment, Nangong Wanwan picked up the call. “Hello? Is it Prison Number 8? Do you need medical experts to support you? Is it regarding the genetic analysis? Okay...”

Nangong Wanwan hurriedly reported her request to Secretary Zhong.

Head Secretary Zhong was suddenly enlightened. “That’s right! I understand what the President means! He wants us to stall for time while finding a medical expert to test Gu Qiqi’s blood as soon as possible. If there’s nothing wrong, then bring her out. If there’s a problem, then we definitely can’t let her go. He needs the opinion of a medical expert to shut Master Jue’s mouth! Quick, quickly take action!”

==

Prison Number 8.

Gu Qiqi looked at a beautiful purple fir tree that rose from the ground out of thin air. Her eyes were lit up by the emerald leaves. “Not bad. This skill is very interesting.”

The little dirty turtle scratched its head. "So, Master Silver, you want to use the trees to attract the attention of the guards. Then, while they open the door and enter, we can knock out a few fellows or feed them some medicine. Won't that allow us to escape from jail?"

Gu Qiqi squinted her big, black grape-like eyes. "Who said that I was leaving?"

"Ah?"

"Heh, now that they've invited me to leave, I don't even want to leave anymore..."

The little dirty turtle was speechless. Master Silver's thoughts were becoming more and more strange.

It didn't understand! Who would be willing to stay in a godforsaken place like a jail?

Gu Qiqi had already changed the topic. "Can we put this tree away?"

"Yes. Master, you can throw it into my space."

"Okay."

Soon, the jail returned to normal.

"Ka cha—"

Suddenly, the doorknob twisted.

The jailor led someone in. "Sorry to trouble you, Professor Bai. I made you come in specially."

"It's not troublesome. This is my specialty."

"Professor Bai, this female prisoner has a very bad temper and is especially stubborn. It's too difficult to pry open her mouth. You must help us verify her identity! Examine the poison in her blood and make her speechless. She can only confess!"

"Don't worry. This is my profession. I'll definitely give you a satisfactory answer."

"Professor Bai, I'll send a few people to help you. Don't let this woman attack you..."

"Okay."

"Professor Bai, please come in..."

Gu Qiqi looked up.

It was actually that female doctor!

"Master Silver, it's actually that shameless woman. She must be indignant after suffering defeat at the hotel entrance just now. She's going to chase after us and humiliate us, right? She definitely doesn't have good intentions! Why don't you reconsider my suggestion? We still have a lot of poison that we brought out from Qing Cheng in our hands... Let's rush out and escape from jail!" The little dirty turtle couldn't remain calm anymore.

Gu Qiqi raised her eyebrows and the smile on her lips became colder. "Yes, but I want to stay and play with them more..."

Chapter 655: Are You Impressed Country Bumpkin?

The little dirty turtle wanted to cry but had no tears.

Master Silver, wake up. This is other people's territory. How are we going to play?

She was completely like a fish on someone's chopping board who was at the mercy of others.

It was worried for Gu Qiqi.

However, Gu Qiqi looked calm and composed, as if she was ignoring the prison guards and female doctor who entered one after another.

"Gu Qiqi, we meet again so soon." Bai Mori squinted and secretly felt smug!

The capital had always been her territory!

Her ability and connections were far beyond that of a bumpkin like Gu Qiqi.

Once the presidential palace sent out the news of finding a genetic expert, she received it immediately.

She knew that it was best to avoid this suspicion so that Gong Jue would not suspect her of tampering with Gu Qiqi in the future.

However, she really could not help but want to see Gu Qiqi in despair with her own eyes. She wanted to personally convict Gu Qiqi of betraying the country!

Thus, she used her connections to recommend herself and obtained the opportunity to examine Gu Qiqi's blood.

In a short period of time, she settled everything with her connections. She wanted to ask Gu Qiqi, the country bumpkin, if she was impressed!

Clearly, Gu Qiqi couldn't even be bothered to look up at her.

Gu Qiqi sat on the ground and looked at the ceiling lazily. "It's a pity that I've never been interested in meeting ugly people..."

Bai Mori was speechless.

She was once the school belle of the Empire Medical University and was now the youngest and most beautiful female professor in the medical world. Gu Qiqi actually mocked her for being ugly?

Bai Mori gnashed her teeth. Gu Qiqi, you're so arrogant. Then, don't blame me for being ruthless later!

Her face sank and she instructed the prison guard. "Handcuff her wrists and ankles!"

The prison guard obeyed. Gu Qiqi didn't resist.

She allowed them to lock dozens of kilograms of iron shackles on her limbs to prevent her from moving or escaping.

The little dirty turtle wailed. "Wuwuwuwuwu, it's even harder to escape now... Master Silver, why don't we admit defeat first and plan to escape after they leave?"

But Gu Qiqi did the opposite.

She looked at Bai Mori provocatively. “You want to test my blood? Do you have the skills to pass? Do you know how to draw blood? How to do gene mapping?”

Bai Mori was speechless. She was a genetic analysis expert!

Gu Qiqi actually dared to look down on her like this!

Bai Mori bit her red lips so hard that there were a few bite marks. She placed the medical kit on the table abruptly and walked in front of Gu Qiqi in her high heels.

Lowering her voice and using a voice that only Gu Qiqi and she could hear, she laughed coldly word by word. “Gu Qiqi, don’t be smug. I’ll let you suffer a fate worse than death later! Even if Gong Jue comes, he won’t be able to save you. There’s no way to reverse the situation!”

As she spoke, Bai Mori clasped the shackles on Gu Qiqi’s wrists with both hands and pulled them forcefully to the sides!

Everyone knew that the shackles in the Empire Prison could be adjusted to be loose.

Unless there was a key, the shackles would tighten!

At this moment, Bai Mori deliberately pulled and tightened the already tight shackles.

There were two crisp sounds.

The prison guards’ hearts couldn’t help but skip a beat. Could it be that this Young Lady Gu Qiqi’s wrist bone had shattered?!

He stole a glance and saw that the girl’s fair face had indeed paled a little more. Her hands hung weakly. Ah... He heard that this girl’s identity was still a student. If her hands were crippled, could it be that she wouldn’t be able to attend school in the future? How pitiful...

Chapter 656: Piercing Her With the Most Painful Needle!

Bai Mori glanced at them unhappily and revealed a sympathetic gaze.

She pursed her lips elegantly and said casually, “Watch the prisoner closely. I’m going to draw her blood. It’s safer to tighten the shackles. It won’t be good if her blood splatters on you if she struggles...”

The prison guards were stunned.

That’s right. This Miss Gu was a female spy.

Being a student was just a cover. Why would they pity her?

The prison guards were reminded by Bai Mori in a few words and immediately reacted. They hurriedly retracted their sympathetic gazes.

Bai Mori admired the cracking sound of Gu Qiqi’s wrist and felt happy.

Heh heh, you’re still too young to fight with me, country bumpkin!

Tonight, I’ll let you know how real medical expertise makes you wish you were dead!

Bai Mori selected the thickest needle from the toolbox and placed it on the syringe.

This wasn't a needle used to draw blood at all. It was the kind of super-thick needle that anesthetists used to inject anesthesia.

Of course, the thicker the needle, the more painful it would be.

Who was better at sinister schemes than her, Bai Mori?

She had the most elegant and gentle smile on her face. Like a beautiful snake, she took a step forward and approached Gu Qiqi.

Gu Qiqi, are you afraid?

She deliberately waved the needle in front of Gu Qiqi.

However, Gu Qiqi didn't react as if she was looking at an embroidery needle.

What about fear?

What about retreating?

What about begging for mercy?

Gu Qiqi was already studying in a medical school. Could it be that she couldn't recognize the terrifying pain of such a thick needle piercing into her blood vessels?

Or was this d*mned country bumpkin a useless student who didn't even recognize needles?

Were the ignorant fearless?

Bai Mori had a feeling that her meticulous calculations were futile.

Looking at Gu Qiqi's exquisite and perfect face, she became even more angry.

Why was this d*mned country bumpkin still so calm and collected after becoming a prisoner? Why did she look so inviolable?

Could it be that Gong Jue liked how this b*tch looked?

She refused to believe it!

Under the impact of jealousy, Bai Mori raised the needle with one hand and raised the other abruptly.

Bam!

A slap landed on Gu Qiqi's face!

Half of her face had gone numb from the burning sensation. Although Gu Qiqi had applied medicine on her face in advance, Bai Mori was too ruthless. She still tilted her head in pain and clenched her slender fingers under the shackles into fists.

The jailer didn't expect Bai Mori to suddenly cause trouble.

He looked up at the ceiling camera worriedly. The CCTV there was connected to the presidential palace. Someone would check it at any time.

He reminded Bai Mori in a low voice, "Professor Bai, the presidential decree is clear and preferential to the prisoners. It's against the rules to bully prisoners. If someone catches hold of something, you and I will suffer. Let's... try our best... not to leave wounds on the prisoner..."

He gave Bai Mori a look.

It seemed to be hinting that as long as there was no wound, she could do anything.

Bai Mori pursed her lips and smiled. "You're mistaken. I'm not hitting her. Actually, I just want to see how the blood vessels will react after her face is filled with blood. Uh... This is also a step in her blood test. You can treat it as a necessary part of the experiment."

As she spoke, she looked around at Gu Qiqi's face.

One cheek was fair and the other was slightly red. There were five fingerprints.

She really wanted to slap him a few more times but she could not be so obvious. She would leave something behind.

Regretfully, she aimed the thick needle at the thin blood vessel on Gu Qiqi's elbow...

Chapter 657: I Want to Violate You and Torture You!

As Bai Mori inserted the needle, she thought happily in her heart, "Gu Qiqi. Wasn't Gong Jue most worried about your safety?"

As the Chief of the Empire, what kind of life and death crisis had he not seen before? Yet, he would kill and risk his life even if you dropped a single strand of hair. When you fell into the water, he had to jump down personally to fish you up. When you were injured by those harmless rumors, he had to bribe Old Man Feng to refute them...

You're being protected and treasured by the most powerful man in the entire empire. It's really enviable!

But now, I can hurt his precious darling, sweet candied plums!

I'll ridicule you!

I'll torture you!

I'll slander you!

I'll kill you!

Bai Mori exerted force and the thick needle pierced into Gu Qiqi's blood vessels.

When she saw Gu Qiqi's small face turn pale and her eyebrows tremble in pain, she felt indescribably pleased and smug...

During this period of time, the hatred from being crushed by Gu Qiqi everywhere and stealing Gong Jue's attention was finally comforted.

She didn't suffer in vain!

She returned it all happily today!

Bright red blood surged from the needle into the syringe.

Bai Mori drew more blood and twisted the needle around wickedly...

Everyone knew that when a needle was used to draw blood, the area where the needle and skin met was the most vulnerable. Everyone would be afraid of the needle moving.

With Bai Mori's turn, that skin that was pierced simply stung to the point of making one's scalp tingle!

Seeing that Gu Qiqi's small shoulders were trembling slightly, Bai Mori was so happy that she nearly laughed out loud.

Even when the syringe was full, she couldn't bear to take it out.

She really wanted to torture Gu Qiqi for a while longer...

Unfortunately, there were surveillance cameras. She couldn't fulfill this wish for the time being.

But it didn't matter. When the results of the examination were out later, she would apply to the presidential palace to be the exclusive researcher of the poisonous Gu Qiqi.

In the future, Gu Qiqi would become her pet that she would humiliate wantonly. She would draw blood ten or eight times a day and poke all the blood vessels in Gu Qiqi's body until they rotted, leaving countless ugly and ugly needle holes all over her body...

A vicious smile was hidden in her heart. An elegant smile appeared on Bai Mori's face. "Wait a few minutes. The results will be out soon."

She took out the detector and started to test Gu Qiqi's blood.

However...

As she checked, sweat formed on her forehead.

How did this happen?

Why was Gu Qiqi's blood... the same as a normal person?

But according to the intel of the S Nation killer, Gong Jue's abnormal behavior when he saved someone that day, and even the scene of Director Zhao dying in the hotel today, all of these proved that Gu Qiqi was that woman with poisonous blood!

How could she not detect the poison in this woman's blood?

Unless... that was a type of poison that had never been recorded in textbooks!

But the problem was that if she couldn't detect the poison, wouldn't she have to spend a lot of effort today?

Everything was done in vain!

If Gu Qiqi walked out of the jail, Gong Jue would know everything that happened here today. Then, she would be in trouble!

Bai Mori's palms started to sweat.

No, this definitely couldn't happen.

She composed herself and pretended to be calm. She typed out the experimental report and wrote the name of a poison on it.

"You can hand it to the President. Gu Qiqi's blood is indeed poisonous. My professional medical advice is to imprison this woman in the most tightly guarded jail. The most professional doctors will continue to study her and strive to figure out how to create such a poisonous person to conquer S Nation in order to prevent the enemy from releasing such a harmful thing to our country and the people in large numbers! Of course, if the President trusts me, I'm willing to participate in the research for free."

Bai Mori spoke in a dignified manner!

Chapter 658: Slapping Bai Mori Ten Times!

Bai Mori, the youngest and most professional female medical professor in the Empire, made the final decision.

The identification of Gu Qiqi as a poisonous person became an immovable fact.

The appraisal report was sent to President Gong Sheng in a second.

Gong Sheng looked at this appraisal report with a complicated gaze. His gaze met Gong Jue, who was practicing with him on a sand table.

He hesitated for a second. How should he tell Gong Jue this sad and helpless news...

His sister-in-law was indeed a vicious person hated by everyone. Furthermore, it was very likely that she was a spy from S Nation...

Would Gong Jue's violent character accept reality?

As his older brother, how should he choose between national interests and brotherhood?

==

In the cell.

The prison guard breathed a sigh of relief.

He had finally settled the case that the President had instructed him to handle as soon as possible. He should have a chance of getting a raise this year, right?

"Professor Bai, you've worked hard!"

“You’re welcome! I still want to talk to the prisoner, can I?”

“Of course!”

After receiving approval, Bai Mori walked closer to Gu Qiqi.

Looking at that small face that had turned pale from torture, Bai Mori’s heart couldn’t help but beat faster.

Bai Mori said, “Gu Qiqi, you know what the outcome of a poisonous person is, right? In the future, you’ll be a lab rat. First, you’ll be pierced until your entire body is filled with needle holes. Then, your blood will be drained. Finally, your intestines, heart, liver, and lungs will be dug out for research... Only then will you die. Who asked you to be a spy from S Nation? Heh heh...”

The image of Gu Qiqi being tortured to death by her flashed across her eyes.

She thought that this time, she would finally be able to see Gu Qiqi tremble and beg for mercy.

But she never expected that...

Gu Qiqi suddenly stretched out her hand and slapped her face thrice!

Bai Mori was stunned.

Wasn’t Gu Qiqi’s wrist bound by dozens of kilograms of shackles?

It would be difficult to even raise her hand, let alone slap her, right? How could she move left and right and make such a strong action like slapping her?

Did she have iron fists?

No, what was even more terrifying was that Gu Qiqi’s wrist had been broken by her shackles just now.

At this moment, she should be in so much pain that she would rather die. The broken bones were crazily torturing Gu Qiqi’s nerves under her skin!

How could she still have the strength to hit someone?

Bai Mori looked at Gu Qiqi’s wrist in disbelief.

Before she could see clearly, another series of seven slaps came densely.

What was more infuriating was that Gu Qiqi was still counting as she slapped. “Seven, six, five, three, two, one...” Yes, she would return it tenfold. Not a single slap could be missing.

Bai Mori was slapped until she saw stars. She staggered a step and pointed at the prison guard. “Quick, quickly control her. She dares to attack the doctor!”

However, Gu Qiqi’s actions were as fast as lightning.

She picked up the test tube on the table. It was Bai Mori’s blood that she had just used for genetic analysis.

She quickly splashed it on Bai Mori’s face!

Bai Mori's face had already been slapped by her ten slaps. The corners of her mouth had long exploded and blood was flowing from the corners of her eyes.

Once Gu Qiqi's blood was splashed on her face, it immediately soaked into Bai Mori's wound!

Everyone was stunned.

That was poisonous blood!

Professor Bai would die!

Bai Mori screamed even more. Her throat was about to burst from shouting. "Ahhh!"

Although she couldn't detect the poison in Gu Qiqi's blood, she knew better than anyone that Gu Qiqi was really poisonous!

Director Zhao didn't die in an ordinary way and was poisoned.

She still had to marry Gong Jue and have a child with him to become the envied Mrs. Gong. She didn't want to die!

Gu Qiqi, you hooligan! You actually pretended to be a pig to eat a tiger just now and hid such a vicious and sinister killer move!

Chapter 659: Blame Your Thick Skin

Bai Mori was splashed with blood and the little dirty turtle was the first to exclaim. "Master, well done! I've long wanted to kill this arrogant woman!"

Gu Qiqi said, "Who said that I wanted to kill her?"

The little dirty turtle was speechless. Master, you're being naughty again!

In the room, the prison wardens finally reacted.

"Quick, control that woman!"

"No, hurry! Hurry up and find a doctor to perform emergency treatment for Professor Bai!"

He didn't expect that Gu Qiqi, who had already been heavily punished, would actually still have the strength to resist. At this moment, the jailer's intestines were already green with regret—the correct way to interrogate her should be to wear a poison proof vest and a gas mask!

Amidst the chaos, Gu Qiqi said lightly, "Why are you panicking?!"

These simple words actually contained an imposing aura that enlightened the deaf. It made everyone's hearts tremble and they couldn't help but stop. Their gazes focused on her.

The woman who had just been tortured by Bai Mori until her face was pale and her wrist was emitting cracking sounds now had a cold and indifferent look on her face. A pair of small fair hands moved her knuckles agilely. The shackles that were a thousand pounds on her hands swayed around casually like little toys. They couldn't control her at all.

It was as if she was the master of this jail and the superior who gave the orders.

Gu Qiqi looked up in disdain and said unhurriedly, "If my blood is really poisonous, you won't be able to save her in time at all. She should fall to the ground and die now."

Only then did everyone calm down and look at Bai Mori's face belatedly.

That's true. Although Bai Mori's face was shockingly ugly at this moment—with large amounts of blood mixed with her swollen cheek, she was simply uglier than a toad.

But she didn't die.

She was just difficult to look at.

Bai Mori stretched out her hand to cover her face and said shrilly, "Don't believe her words! Spies are best at bewitching people!"

The jailer was in a dilemma and didn't know who to believe.

On one side was the Empire's youngest and authoritative female medical professor, and on the other was a cunning and arrogant criminal suspect.

Who should he believe?

Gu Qiqi raised her eyebrows and said indifferently, "You said that I'm a spy with poison and that Director Zhao died because of me. Then, may I ask why you didn't die when you were stained with my blood like Director Zhao? Unless you're a poisonous person like me!"

Her questioning was powerful.

The prison guard's heart gradually tilted...

They really couldn't accept the fact that Bai Mori was also a poisonous spy in the Empire. Then, they could only accept the possibility that Gu Qiqi was wrongly accused...

"Professor Bai, why don't we withdraw the test report..." The jailer was already extremely annoyed. He was too anxious to take credit just now. If this false accusation landed, he might not even be able to keep his job, let alone increase his salary.

"No! On what basis should I withdraw it?! I haven't settled the score with her for those ten slaps she gave me!" Bai Mori's face distorted. She was so angry that she couldn't wait to go up and scratch Gu Qiqi.

Gu Qiqi laughed even more annoyingly. "Ten slaps... Oh, I have to blame you for being too thick-skinned. After all, I only wanted you to reveal your blood vessels. If one slap can cause your face to bleed, do you think I'm willing to spend so much effort to hit you ten times?"

Bai Mori was speechless.

The prison guard was speechless.

The little dirty turtle was speechless. It had once again seen Master's ability to anger someone to death. Hahahaha.

Who asked Bai Mori to have such a cheap mouth just now? She hit her master once and insisted on saying that she was observing the blood vessels like a lotus flower b*tch. Thus, her master was now mocking her for being so thick-skinned that she had to hit her ten times to see her blood vessels. It was simply awesome.

Chapter 660: A Pool Of Dog Blood!

The little dirty turtle was so happy that its tail was about to curl up into the sky. “Master Silver, I understand now. You deliberately pretended to be a pig to eat a tiger just now because you wanted to prove that your blood wasn’t poisonous. From now on, you want to solve the problem of these people eyeing you covetously, right? You’re simply a genius to use Bai Mori to test your blood in public! You completely made Bai Mori suffer and speechless! But... why didn’t Bai Mori die from the poison?”

Gu Qiqi said lightly, “Because I changed my blood to that b*tch’s blood that I collected a while ago...”

The corners of the little dirty turtle’s mouth twitched a few times!

It would never have thought of this melodramatic scene!

More importantly, Master Silver was taking action too quickly now. Its small eyes didn’t even catch this super speed move even though they were staring unblinkingly!

“Then, Master, your wrist...” Just now, Bai Mori was so savage. She deliberately tightened the shackles and injured Master’s wrist. Seeing this made its heart bleed!

“Heh, if such toy-like shackles can injure me, won’t my martial strength have risen in vain? Did I learn the Five Animals Mimicry for nothing?”

“But I heard the sound of bones breaking just now!”

“That’s the sound of the castor beans being crushed, little idiot!”

The little dirty turtle was speechless. It was stupid. It was its master’s precious little idiot.

Bai Mori looked at Gu Qiqi’s unscathed look and covered her ugly face that was covered in blood. The more she thought about it, the angrier she became. She couldn’t suppress her anger at all.

“Interrogator, I swear on my reputation that my appraisal conclusion is real! If you don’t believe me, you can do the blood test on the spot!”

The prison guard shivered.

They didn’t want Gu Qiqi to splash blood on them too.

What if it was poisonous?

“Let’s use the dead prisoners as experiments directly!” Bai Mori saw through their thoughts and gnashed her teeth as she suggested.

The prison guard’s eyes lit up and he couldn’t wait to agree. “Good, good, good! Go, quickly bring a few dead prisoners over!”

This way, they would be safe!

A sinister hatred flashed across Bai Mori's ugly face.

Gu Qiqi, do you think that you can hide from me forever?

No matter if you're poisonous or not, I'll poison those dead prisoners later. I must confirm your title as a poisonous person.

Gu Qiqi's expression turned cold.

She had already proven that she was innocent and should be acquitted.

But this jailor was clearly a fence-sitter. She gave him an out, but he didn't take it. He insisted on courting death. Then, don't blame her for being heartless.

Her palm moved.

A few invisible seeds scattered on the ground.

Just as a prison guard twisted open the fingerprint door lock and was about to push open the door to leave, he staggered and tripped for some reason.

Something that looked like a vine seemed to have wrapped around his feet. He lost his balance and bumped into the door!

"Clang!"

The door was wide open.

The jailer fell so hard that it was difficult for him to get up. His knees broke and he gasped in pain. But there was nothing on his ankles. He nearly thought that he was seeing things.

The jailer following behind was about to reprimand him for not looking at the road when he suffered a more miserable fate. His feet slipped and it was as if he was stepping on moss. He couldn't control the balance in his body at all and bumped straight into Gu Qiqi.

Gu Qiqi dodged to the side and the jailor fell in the corner of the interrogation table.

Putting aside the fact that the corner of his mouth was broken, the sharp corner of the table poked his bulging stomach. He felt that his organs were about to be pierced through.