

Dear Chief 801

Chapter 801: The Little Boy Really Regrets!

Gong Jue took this opportunity to snap up an island for Gu Qiqi.

Gong Qing initially wanted to find an excuse to say that the boy's illness had not been cured and that Gu Qiqi could not be cleared of suspicion.

In the end, Gong Qing smashed that stalk of the red clover and fed it to the boy. Soon, the boy's abdominal pain completely disappeared and he recovered to his original state.

Not only did Gu Qiqi know how to dig a pit, but her ability to treat illnesses was also top-notch!

'The family doctor's eyes widened when he saw this. He quickly took out a small notebook and jotted down something in his notes.

'The abdominal pain from taking too much Sanyeqing was so intense but the red clover was able to counter it and relieve the pain caused by it... This was something that he had never understood. He had definitely learned something new!

"Master Jue, can you ask Miss Qiqi to impart some other antidotes to us..." The family doctor could not help but ask.

Gong Jue glared at him. "My woman doesn't have the time!"

He rejected him for Gu Qiqi.

Hmph, if he wanted to be alone with Gu Qiqi now, he wouldn't even have peace when he had a meal with her.

How dare these idiots snatch Gu Qiqi's time from him?

Don't even think about it!

Seeing that the family doctor was completely convinced by Gu Qiqi's treatment plan and had instantly become Gu Qiqi's fanboy, Gong Qing didn't have anything to say anymore. He flicked his sleeves and returned to his room.

Everyone dispersed.

Gong Jue called out to the little packrat, "Gong Ting, come here."

'There were very few people who called him by his name!

Unless, they were really angry!

'The little packrat instinctively hugged his grandmother's leg even more tightly, begging for protection!

Songsong's heart softened and she begged for mercy for him. "Baby, it's just a misunderstanding. Jue'er, don't be too serious. Didn't his grandfather apologize just now? Just treat it as if this matter is over, okay?"

However, Gong Jue didn't plan to let it go!

His gaze deepened. "A person's character has to be nurtured from a young age. If you are used to dishonorable methods when you were young, you wouldn't become an upright person when you grow up!"

Songsong was stunned. Gong Jue's words were a little harsh.

"Jue'er, don't scare the child..."

"I didn't scare him. Your grandson knows very well why I said that. He's not stupid."

Not only was he not stupid, but he was also smart!

'When he knew that something had happened, he immediately pushed the blame onto his grandfather and looked for his grandmother to hug her legs.

This little brat was very cunning!

The boy pouted. "Daddy, I won't do it next time..."

'Wuwuwu, he really regretted it!

He regretted it. He really shouldn't have listened to Uncle Bai Lang's words. How could he have forgotten that Uncle Bai Lang's IQ had always been crushed by his father?

How could Uncle Bai Lang's suggestion be useful?

Gong Jue frowned. "Your apology is insincere! Raise your eyes! Tell me, who instigated you to do this today?!"

Instigate!

Songsong simply thought that this was a child's misunderstanding.

Why did it sound a little complicated when she heard Jue'er's words?

The boy's heart skipped a beat.

He used to think that although her father's IQ was better than Uncle Bai Lang's, his overall IQ was still lacking.

He didn't expect that he would actually see through it at a glance today!

For a moment, he was so nervous that he couldn't speak.

He was anxious. He heard that Uncle Bai Lang lived a hard life in Africa and was looking forward to coming back.

If Daddy knew that Uncle Bai Lang was related to what happened today, wouldn't he die a terrible death?

It didn't matter if he pushed the blame to Grandpa. Anyway, Daddy wouldn't want Grandpa's life.

He couldn't push the blame to Uncle Bai Lang. Uncle Bai Lang would have his neck cut off by his father, right?

Chapter 802: The Mastermind

After careful consideration, the little packrat loyally chose to bear all the crimes on his own. He shook his small head desperately. "No! No one instigated me! I didn't like my stepmother..." Gong Jue stared at him deeply. "I thought that you were very mature. I didn't expect that you were actually still very childish. You're still an insensible three-year-old." The little boy was speechless.

He hated it when people said that he was a three-year-old!

Gong Jue said, "She's not your stepmother. She only has one identity in the future, and that is my wife. Whether you like her or not, you can't influence me to be with her. The person who will spend the rest of her life with her is me, not you, and definitely not my grandparents. Gong Ting, you have to understand that you can't use your preferences to decide others' matters. This is unfair."

Songsong facepalmed. "Jue'er, he won't understand if you talk to him like this..." "T understand!" The boy suddenly raised his small face and said dejectedly.

Songsong was surprised. "What do you know?"

The boy said, "Daddy's life is different from mine. But... I still don't like my stepmother."

Songsong was speechless.

Gong Jue was speechless. He suddenly felt that it was so difficult to educate a child.

In the ancestral hall.

When Gong Jue strode in with his long legs, he didn't see anyone.

He frowned. Where was she?

Could it be that Gong Qing, that old man, was restless again and caused some trouble to bully his wife?

Holding the candle, he walked around the ancestral hall and realized that Gu Qiqi was leaning against the wall in the corner. She had actually... fallen asleep!

Gong Jue's heart ached when he saw her slender figure huddled in a corner with her arms wrapped around herself.

She was too tired.

She was busy with his grandfather's leg illness last night and didn't sleep for nearly the entire night.

Today was filled classes and school competitions. She didn't stop at all.

But he actually didn't take good care of her and even let her suffer these hardships like sleeping on the cold floor of the ancestral hall!

"I'm sorry. I came too late..." Gong Jue took off his suit and draped it over her.

Gu Qiqi was awoken by a commotion.

She propped herself up and sat up with sleepy eyes. "Oh... It's all done?"

"It's all done." Gong Jue sat on the ground and hugged her gently. His fingers couldn't help but caress her face and trace the shape of her lips. "You're really smart. Everything was within your expectations. All is fair in war. You've successfully shown them the truth."

Who said that his stupid woman was stupid? She was simply evil!

"Then, why did you still say that you were sorry?" Gu Qiqi rubbed her eyes and pouted lightly. Her slightly angry look was so pleasant.

Gong Jue's eyes darkened.

Gu Qiqi immediately felt that something was jumping around restlessly.

Needless to say, she could guess a little.

She blushed.

Gong Jue didn't notice it at all.

"I've let you down too much. I didn't protect you well and let you be slandered. I didn't take good care of you and let you sleep on the ground. I didn't introduce you well and let my family always misunderstand you..."

He had long expected that the boy would object to their relationship.

This was very normal. After all, children liked their biological mother more.

But he didn't expect Gong Qing to object so fiercely.

On his already bumpy road to wooing his wife, he actually became the biggest stumbling block because he was a father. From time to time, this fact would come to test, humiliate, and question her... It was fine if he didn't think highly of himself, but he was actually the kind of parent who was disappointing!

He really felt that he had let Gu Qiqi down..

Chapter 803: Tearing His Clothes Without a Word!

Gu Qiqi saw Gong Jue's grave and apologetic look.

Her sleepiness immediately disappeared.

She was awake!

That stupid man was apologizing to her seriously.

Really, when this domineering man admitted his mistake, he was like the most handsome man in the universe.

Actually, she didn't feel too hurt tonight.

She was even very calm when she was slandered.

She had long thought of a countermeasure before Gong Jue saved her.

The outcome was also completely within her control.

But how could Gong Jue's apology be so serious and sincere? It was about to crush the last bit of doubt that she had left in her heart.

This way, she would really be completely seduced by him.

She was about to lose control of her heart!

She thought that after her rebirth, she would never be in love again. Now, she probably had to go back on her word.

Awa feeling surged in her heart. She couldn't help but bury her small head in Gong Jue's chest. Her arms hugged him tightly. "So warm..."

Gong Jue thought that she was talking about his body temperature.

Immediately, he tore open the buttons on his shirt, revealing his real chest that was filled with warmth for her.

This time, there was no desire!

It was true. He had to use a physical method to warm her up.

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

Tearing his clothes without a word. What was going on?

Oh, but to be honest, this sturdy and sexy chest was quite comfortable to lean on!

"won't let you suffer in vain. Stupid woman, please believe me." Gong Jue suddenly said without rhyme or reason.

'A few minutes ago, he had already decided to give Gu Qiqi a surprise.

He was going to send someone to the independent island in Northern Europe to prepare a grand surprise for her.

'Who said that he didn't know how to give gifts and create surprises? This time, he would definitely break this prejudice.

He had to make her so happy that she would never forget it.

Gu Qiqi still didn't know that while she was in a daze, an invaluable vacation island had already landed in her name.

It was also impossible to know that a certain simple and crude stupid man had actually become a hopeless romantic because of her!

Soon, she would be able to witness this romantic occasion with her own eyes!

Feeling that Gu Qiqi's body was gradually warming up, Gong Jue stood up and carried her out of the ancestral hall. "Go to my room and rest well tonight."

“aren’t you going back to the Mo Garden?”

“It’s too late. You need to rest as soon as possible.”

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

He was sure that if she slept with him, she wouldn’t be able to rest well.

However, to Gu Qiqi’s surprise

Gong Jue was really well-behaved that night!

He didn’t touch or move around. He slept obediently by her side. In the middle of the night, he even got up and covered her with a blanket a few times. He didn’t take the opportunity to touch her at all.

Gu Qiqi slept peacefully!

At the Imperial Capital Airport late at night.

‘When Bai Lang stepped onto the Imperial Capital’s land, he was so excited that tears were about to burst out.

“Oh, oh, oh, oh! I’m finally back! The gourmet food and beauties in the Imperial Capital are waiting for me! Hmph, and that little vixen. I’m going to destroy you on behalf of the moon without anyone knowing!”

He called the boy happily, but his phone was switched off.

At this moment, he still didn’t know that the heavens had taken pity on him. He had just avoided a death calamity!

If the boy had not gritted his teeth and refused to confess, he would have been sent back to Africa before he even left the airport and continued to endure the heat and the mosquitoes that were bigger than flies!

Perhaps, he had been scammed by Gu Qiqi too badly previously and made a mistake. That was why God especially pitied him.

Chapter 804: Marriage to the Second Young Madam

‘The next morning.

‘The newspapers in the Imperial Capital exploded with news.

“The Gong family spent a lot of money on betrothal gifts. No one can compare to their wealth. They directly gave an island to the Second Young Madam, who is about to enter the family!”

‘The headlines and a beautiful and romantic scene on the independent island in Northern Europe simply made the young girls of the Empire extremely envious!

How generous!

‘They sent diamond rings, mansions, cruise ships, stocks, and even a super profitable listed company. Everyone was used to such common gifts.

But it was directly sent to an island!

Furthermore, it was an island that could compare to an independent king's country!

This kind of domineering style was really unprecedented!

This was simply a marriage proposal to marry the Second Young Madam of the Gong family.

For a moment, the media and the Internet were discussing it like crazy. In particular, the identity of the future Second Young Madam of the Gong family was a mystery. She immediately became a trending topic.

Everyone was extremely curious as to what kind of woman would be so lucky to receive such a precious betrothal gift from the Gong family!

Did that woman save the universe in her previous life?

'At the Gong Residence.

At the breakfast table.

Gong Qing slammed the newspaper and roared, "Who let the news out?! That island was clearly stolen by you. How did it become our Gong family's betrothal gift to her?!"

This was simply a chain trap!

It was fine if he lied to get the island, but now, he actually lied to get married?

Unacceptable!

Gong Jue finished his breakfast and coffee and stood up leisurely.

His long and narrow eyes didn't reveal any clues. His tone was very cold. "I don't know."

"Hmph, you don't know? Doesn't that girl, Gu Qiqi, know? Tell me, was she the one who spread the fake news and wanted to force the marriage? She forced our Gong family to accept her! Although I don't object to you guys dating for the time being, marriage is not child's play. I definitely won't agree with you guys being so rash! I won't give any betrothal gifts either!"

"Her? Of course not." Gong Jue raised his eyebrows arrogantly. Then, his voice revealed a trace of indolence. "She was very tired last night. She's still resting now. How would she have the strength to do that boring thing like gossip?"

Everyone was speechless.

Tired?

No strength?!

D*mn it. Gong Jue, do you have to be so meaningful with your words?

You're afraid that we won't think otherwise and don't know what intense exercise you did last night, right?!

Gong Jue threw out these thoughts and stood up to leave.

Everyone at the dining table was stunned.

Songsong asked, "Hubby, could it have been written by a gossip reporter?"

Gong Qing said, "No. That brat definitely did it on purpose!" He deliberately spread the news overnight to pave the way for Gu Qiqi to enter the Gong family in the future!

The boy asked, "What intense exercise did Daddy and the female fox do that made him so tired?"

Everyone looked embarrassed!

In Gong Jue's bedroom.

Gu Qiqi was unaware of the events outside.

She had slept soundly in Gong Jue's arms last night.

It had been a long time since she had slept so comfortably!

Gong Jue's embrace was like a warm bird's nest and he was like a big bird that was obedient and didn't peck at people. She didn't want to feel too good nestled inside!

She really couldn't bear to leave.

When she woke up this morning, her head was a little heavy. She accidentally lazed in bed until nearly ten o'clock.

'When she woke up, she remembered that she had class today. She stood up abruptly and stars actually appeared in front of her eyes. She couldn't help but fall to the ground!

This time, the stars in front of her turned golden!

What was going on?!

Chapter 805: I'll Give You Full marks for This Cruel Love

Gu Qiqi touched her forehead. Oh, it was a little hot. Was she sick?

After her rebirth, Gu Qiqi cleansed the turbid Qi in her body and nourished her body with herbs to strengthen her body. Her body could be said to be much healthier than ordinary people.

She didn't fall sick the last time she landed in the cold lake.

She had only slept in the ancestral hall for a short while last night. Could it be that she was... sick?

She supported herself up and asked for a thermometer from the butler.

Her temperature was actually 39.8 degrees!

No wonder she was seeing stars and felt weak all over.

As she was at Gong Jue's house, she couldn't walk around either. Thus, the housekeeper brought her a bowl of clear porridge. She laid on the bed and continued to rest.

In the end.

Three minutes later.

A cold air current entered the room.

The sound of sturdy leather boots knocked against the marble floor and was accompanied by a man's low and anxious voice. "Why are you running a fever?"

Gu Qiqi was shocked and nearly jumped out of bed.

Didn't Gong Jue go to a meeting? Why was he back? She heard that he had a very important meeting this morning.

The man strode to her bed in three steps. He still had the cold air around him.

His big palm covered her forehead.

Hot!

"Let's go to the hospital!" He sounded anxious.

It was all his fault. When he woke up in the morning, he even hugged the sleeping her and asked her if she was ok. He actually didn't realize that she had a fever.

Back then, he only felt that she was warm. He thought that it was because he had touched her and the fire in his body overwhelmed him.

He didn't expect her to be having a fever at all.

The man looked annoyed.

Fortunately, he had instructed the butler long ago that if Gu Qiqi had anything on her mind, he had to report it to him immediately. That was why he could rush back halfway and postpone the meeting for the time being.

Gu Qiqi was having a fever. When she saw how anxious Gong Jue was for her, her heart burned. It was even hotter than the temperature on her forehead. She said softly, "It's okay. Have you forgotten that I'm a doctor? I'll lie down myself for a while and get some herbs to cook soup. I saw yesterday that there are quite a lot of herbs in your garden. They're ready-made. Your meeting is an urgent job. Hurry up and go. Don't delay it."

It was already nice enough for this man to put down his important work and come back to accompany her! How could she bear to let him accompany her forever?

"No!" Gong Jue refused firmly. "I want to see you drink the medicine with my own eyes."

Gu Qiqi was speechless. He spoke of her like a three-year-old who couldn't take care of herself.

Was he that worried?

Due to Gong Jue's insistence, Gu Qiqi could only say the names of a few herbs. "Baili Xiang, Bodhi Flower, and chamomile..."

A minute later.

In the garden.

Everyone in the Gong residence was flabbergasted as they watched their young master... pluck grass in the garden!

The usually well-dressed him had rolled up his pants at this moment. His leather boots stepped on the soil and his shirt was folded to the side. The sleeves of his white shirt were rolled up high, revealing a sturdy and long arm.

Those big palms dug in the mud without any hesitation... They dug up the herbs one by one and carefully placed them in the basket.

That wasn't all.

After digging up the herbs, he didn't allow anyone to do anything, He insisted on washing and plucking the withered leaves by himself. He cut off his head and tail and personally used a clay pot to boil soup in the kitchen.

Outside the French window in the kitchen.

Gong Qing and the boy held hands. The old and the young looked at each other smugly.

"Little brat, I've never seen you cook soup so carefully for your Dad!"

"When Papa fed me the red clover yesterday, he seemed to have pulled it out from the ground and let me eat it. He didn't even wash it... Wuwuwu, I must not be his biological son

Seeing Gong Jue's affection for Gu Qiqi, this torturous dog, the old and the young heart ached!

Chapter 806: A Blessing From A Disaster

Gong Jue endured the indignant gazes of the old and young as he calmly brewed medicine for his wife.

He personally carried it and blew on it until it turned cold. Then, he fed it to Gu Qiqi.

Gu Qiqi felt that she was a cripple receiving 5 star treatment!

"There's really no need to do this. I just caught a cold and had a fever!" Gu Qiqi looked at the man in front of her helplessly.

Clearly, he had never served anyone before. His hand gestures were a little clumsy, but he tried his best to take care of her!

The last time she was attacked, she had only scratched the back of her hand a little. Gong Jue even wanted to drag her to the hospital for a comprehensive physical examination.

This time, it was even more exaggerated.

Should she say that this man was too nervous about her, too nervous!

Gong Jue pulled a long face. "What do you mean by a little cold? Don't you know that when a woman is cold during her menstrual period, her stomach will hurt for the rest of her life? To think that you're a medical student! Don't you know how to take care of yourself?"

Gu Qiqi shut up.

At the mention of her menstrual period, she felt very guilty!

After all, she had an agreement with Gong Jue!

After the menstrual period ended, she was going to be honest with him!

It was better not to start this topic and to take the medicine obediently.

After personally supervising Gu Qiqi to drink the medicine, he called the school and applied for leave for Gu Qiqi.

Initially, he wanted to accompany and supervise Gu Qiqi to rest. Under the strong insistence of Gu Qiqi and because the family couldn't tolerate his lovey-dovey behavior, he went out to work again.

"If you still don't leave, I'll become a vixen that brings disaster to the country!" Gu Qiqi chased him out gloomily.

Only then did the little dirty turtle dare to appear. "Master Silver, are you better?"

Gu Qiqi touched her forehead. After drinking a big bowl of medicine soup just now, her fever had subsided and she became much more energetic.

"I'm fine now. It's just that my footsteps are still a little weak. I have to go out and bask in the sun." Gu Qiqi lowered her head and caressed the little dirty turtle's head. Suddenly, she realized that something was different. "Your color changed?"

The originally orange little turtle had already become golden—a very bright yellow!

It was quite compatible with his nickname of Little Filthy Turtle.

"Master, that... I've let you down!" The little dirty turtle shrank its head and its tone was a little uneasy.

Gu Qiqi already knew this little guy's temper quite well.

If he shrank his neck, he must have done something suspicious again.

"Tell me, what happened this time?!"

"Wuwuwu, Master Silver, I definitely didn't hide it from you on purpose! I told you last time that there would be side effects from using too many color points..."

"Yes." Gu Qiqi still remembered this clearly. After all, the last time the side effect flared up, she was possessed and acted like a love-struck fool. She pounced on Gong Jue like a female pervert and kissed him a few times.

Recently, she hadn't used many color points. There was definitely no excess.

"Master Silver, actually, the logic is the same when you upgrade yourself. There are side effects."

"Oh?" The little dirty turtle definitely didn't say this!

She only remembered that her head hurt like crazy the first time she leveled up.

But it only lasted for a short moment before it healed.

During the second upgrade, this pain was slightly extended for a while, but it was still acceptable.

After all, there was a price to be paid for being reborn. It was too normal to endure some pain when upgrading. Compared to the abilities and new skills that he had obtained after upgrading, this bit of pain was bearable.

However

“Master Silver, you advanced to lower levels like the red and orange levels previously, so it only hurt a little. This time, when you advanced to a yellow level, the impact on your body was very big! If you hadn’t fallen asleep next to Master Jue last night and had his strong masculine aura to protect you, I’m afraid that it wouldn’t have been as simple as a fever...”

“Oh...” Gu Qigi facepalmed. So, this stupid man actually had such an awesome effect! Was this considered a blessing in disguise for sleeping with him?

Pfft, pfft.. Why did it feel like he had tured into some sort of supplement for her own self enhancement?

Chapter 807: I’ll Give You Ten Seconds

So, should she drag Gong Jue to sleep with her when she was about to advance in the future?!

This was really a... shameless conclusion.

Gu Qigi was feeling depressed. She didn’t expect that the little dirty turtle would quickly give her a more depressing reminder.

“Master Silver, advancing to the yellow level this time is equivalent to taking a step from the elementary level to the intermediate level. In the future, not only do you need a lot of color points to advance, but it’s also more difficult and dangerous! Every subsequent upgrade will have different symptoms. The symptoms of a cold and fever like today are already the lightest. You must be mentally prepared, Master Silver!”

Was the fever 39.8 degrees the lightest side effect?

Then, what kind of terrifying illness would the system prepare to torture her next time?

Indeed, disaster and blessings came hand in hand!

‘There was no free lunch in this world.

suddenly, she had a very shameless thought. In the future, she had to bring Gong Jue, a boy who was suitable for curing illnesses, to protect her. Cough, cough, cough.

“That’s right. Also, Master Silver, let’s activate the appraisal skill, okay? This way, we can save precious color points every time. Also, the next time we upgrade to the green level, we need a lot of yellow gems and green gems. We have to prepare them too...”

“Okay.” Gu Qigi nodded. “Let’s prepare it now.”

“Ah? Master Silver, but Master Jue wants you to rest.

“Isn’t going to stone gambling part of resting and relaxing

The little dirty turtle was speechless. Master Silver, what you said makes too much sense. I actually have nothing to say!

Gu Qiqi glanced at the butler who was obediently waiting outside the door. Without hesitation, she pulled open the window and jumped out from the back window.

At the Stone Gambling Hall in Dige.

Gu Qiqi usually went after school. Today, Gong Jue applied for leave for her. This was the first time that she went in the day.

‘There were actually many people playing in the stone gambling den in the day.

She activated her appraisal skills and sat in the VIP room. She stared at the mountains of jade and untrimmed quarry stones below and the bustling crowd.

It turned out that the effect of activating a skill was different from using color points to gamble stones!

Even among the sea of people, she could clearly feel the real quality of every jade raw material despite the distance!

The little dirty turtle wanted yellow and green jade, right?

Very good!

‘That batch of yellow diamonds and yellow jade were all of superior quality. There was also emerald... Bai Yingzhu had once opened a piece and proudly showed it off for many years. Now, there were dozens of pieces placed in front of her. She was going to sweep them all away later!

Gu Qiqi spent a lot of money and pocketed a large number of jade and untrimmed quarry stones.

The customers on the first floor were all dumbfounded.

Batch after batch of jade and untrimmed quarry stones were transported into the VIP room on the second floor.

“Who is that guest on the second floor? He’s actually so lucky!”

“Most importantly, he has sharp eyes. In this short period of time, the dozens of stones that he opened were all valuable!”

“Wow, he’s really rich!”

“What day is it today? The men in the Imperial Capital are so rich. Have you seen the news this morning? The Gong family is giving away an island as a gift to their future young madam!”

“Tsk tsk...”

Downstairs, Bai Lang was hopping around choosing stones and flirting with girls to enjoy a comfortable life far away from Africa. Unexpectedly, when he heard the words “Gong family’s Young Madam”, his neck turned cold!

What was going on?!

Only then did he turn on his phone to read the news. His eyes nearly fell onto the phone screen. "Damn it. The little demon actually settled Little Jue. There's no justice in this world..."

Bai Lang nearly couldn't breathe as he quickly dialed Gong Jue's phone.

It rang for nearly ten minutes.

Gong Jue picked up the call and said in a cold tone, "I give you ten seconds.."

Chapter 808: Breathtaking By The Little Fairy!

Bai Lang: "Damn, you're so heartless. Brother, I just came out of Africa and missed you so much. You only gave me ten seconds! You must have been on the phone with the little demon for more than ten seconds!"

Gong Jue said, "There are seven seconds left."

Bai Lang was going crazy. "I just want to ask you, what's with the news? Is the reporter talking nonsense? How could Master Gong give that island to the little demon? He doesn't have Alzheimer's!"

Gong Jue said coldly, "This is the only thing he has done recently that shows he has some IQ and not dementia."

Bai Lang was speechless. Damn it. Little Jue, is it really good for you to have such a vicious tongue? Does Old Master Gong know that you think so "highly" of him?!

Gong Jue was about to hang up the phone.

Bai Lang hurriedly said, "Are you really sure about the little vixen? She's still so young. You're already an uncle. The difference in your age, life experience, and family background is so big. What if she stabs you in the back one day or takes your money and runs away? What if she finds a fresh meat and doesn't care about you anymore?"

The call was silent for three seconds.

Just as Bai Lang thought that Gong Jue had finally listened to him.

Gong Jue said coldly, "The ungrateful little vixen that you're talking about is the little vixen that persuaded me to call you back from Africa. Ten seconds are over!"

With that, he hung up the phone!

"Damn, do you have to be so punctual..." Bai Lang was furious.

However, he was in disbelief over and over again in his heart. He recalled what Gong Jue said just now. He knew it. Why did Master Jue let him back so quickly? Could it be that the little demon really persuaded him?

He wanted to mess with the little demon, but the little demon became his benefactor.

What was going on?

More importantly, the little demon had always been at odds with him. Why was she suddenly so good to him?

'Was there some other conspiracy!

Bai Lang was unsettled by the sudden reversal of the plot.

Suddenly, there was a series of cheers in the hall!

"Look, look! That rich Young Master Ye is out! According to the manager, every time Young Master Ye comes to gamble stones, the scene is always so explosive. It's definitely not wrong to follow Young Master Ye to buy!"

"Yes, yes, we will buy the same batch of stones as long as he asks for them. Even if the quality is inferior to his, we will definitely earn and not lose anything!"

"I really admire him! It's fine if you say that his gambling skills are so awesome, but he's actually so handsome too. He simply leaves us mediocre people with no way out. The women only care about looking at him. He's simply an expert at flirting..."

"You're wrong. It's not just women. All the men present are staring at him, okay!"

Bai Lang looked over in disdain.

What handsome man could be compared to the Divine Physician Bai?

A young man walked out of the VIP room on the second floor.

'The man's figure was light and agile. Just revealing a mysterious side profile was enough to make one's heart flutter for a second!

Not to mention that his every move and unrestrained elegance was too charming!

The man walked up the stairs and left without looking at him.

No matter how passionate everyone's praise and gossip were, he turned a blind eye to them. He looked completely cold!

It truly explained the highest realm of beauty without knowing it.

Bai Lang was stunned.

His phone had unknowingly fallen to the ground.

He didn't have the time to worry about Gong Jue and Gu Qiqi either.

Damn, damn, there was really a man who was better looking than him!

Chapter 809: Little Lang Was About to Be Turned Gay

He was extremely beautiful!

How handsome!

That Young Master Ye was definitely a demon. He was even a little handsome to the point of being genderless.

Bai Lang's gaze couldn't help but follow "Young Master Ye."

His heart seemed to have been struck by something in an instant and it beat uncontrollably!

Even though he had flirted with countless girls in countless nightclubs and had rich experience in wooing girls, those were unintentional. In fact, it was just for fun and he had never felt moved by those women. There was definitely no intense shock that he had at this moment.

He picked up the phone on the ground in a daze.

He subconsciously called Gong Jue again.

On the other end of the call, Gong Jue, who was presiding over an important meeting, reprimanded impatiently and coldly, "I don't have time to talk nonsense with you!"

Bai Lang did not mind and said slowly, "Jue, I finally understand why you lost your rationality. You only dote on a little demon who is completely not compatible with you. You look at her favorably from all angles. I understand your feelings a little..."

Hearing that Bai Lang was certain about Gu Qiqi, Gong Jue's expression softened and he became more patient. "Ha, you met a girl you like?"

Bai Lang said, "Yes... I saw someone. Ahem, ahem, ahem, a particularly beautiful person... Let's not talk about it anymore. I want to go over and get this person's contact number!"
For the first time in his life, he boldly hung up the phone without thinking.

He must be crazy!

That was a man!

Was he gay?

But he couldn't help what he felt!

Even under the guise of "making friends", he had to flirt with that man and get his phone number!

Otherwise, he had a premonition that he would definitely regret it in the future.

While Bai Lang was making a call, Gu Qiqi had already walked past the corner of the staircase and along the long corridor. She was prepared to leave Dige.

'There were too many gazes following her. She had to quickly go to the washroom to change back into her female outfit.

Unfortunately.

The washroom that was commonly used on the first floor actually had a signboard that said, "Maintenance ongoing."

She thought about leaving like this.

However, a waiter was holding a wine glass. He seemed to be going to send alcohol to the guest room upstairs and enthusiastically guided her. "Sir, there's a washroom on every level from the third to the fifth floor. However, the KTV is more chaotic. There will be many drunk customers. I suggest that you use it on the sixth floor. It's clean and no one will disturb you."

Gu Qiqi sized up the waiter and raised her eyebrows. She nodded and followed the waiter to the escalator.

When Bai Lang chased over, the elevator door closed!

'When he saw the wine glass in the waiter's hand, his pupils shrank!

Little Brother Ye, you're in danger!

Only those who often came to Dige knew that that wine glass was specially used by guests on the sixth floor. That floor was Dige's most extravagant and rotten floor.

The rooms there were all prepared for customers with special hobbies to play some indescribable games.

There were all kinds of tools and unimaginable toys inside.

It was said that a mysterious guest had played a woman to death inside... Of course, there were also men who had been played to death!

However, Dige's boss was very mysterious. It was said that his backing was very strong. Thus, even if something happened, every time it was the manager who was unlucky and went to jail to take the blame. Dige's business had never been affected because of these messy things. On the contrary, it attracted more people to come over!

Bai Lang was very anxious!

Such a handsome and beautiful Young Master Ye definitely couldn't be in danger! He had to do something.

Find Gong Jue? Find Big Brother? No, distant water cannot save a close fire.

He rolled up his sleeves and thought to himself, "I finally have the chance to be a hero and save the beautiful man. I can't give it to others... I want to go by myself!"

Chapter 810: The Shady Room on the Sixth Floor

Ding!

The elevator reached the sixth floor.

Gu Qiqi followed the waiter's guidance and walked along the long corridor.

The Dige's guest rooms were simply a maze!

Furthermore, it was really as the waiter had said. It was especially quiet.

It was so quiet that it was abnormal.

The waiter coughed awkwardly and explained, "There's a soundproof carpet on the floor. The door and the wall are also sound proof. You know that some customers don't like the sound to spread..."

What was that sound that people didn't like to hear?

Heh heh!

Gu Qiqi looked indifferent and didn't comment.

"Sir, that door in front is the washroom. I still have to send alcohol to the guests. Help yourself..." As he spoke, he slipped away in a second!

Gu Qiqi stared at that door.

Heh heh, this washroom door really looked like a room door.

Did he think that she was blind?

She walked lightly towards that abnormally quiet room.

Outside the escalator!

Once Bai Lang left the escalator on the sixth floor, he rushed into the corridor anxiously. He was still holding a flower pot that he had casually brought up from the first floor.

Yes, at the critical moment, the flower pot could smash people, or he could use the soil to distract people... In short, it was better to be prepared.

The problem was, which door did Young Master Ye enter?

'As he was warily looking around, the waiter walked over suspiciously and bumped into Bai Lang!

Bai Lang frowned. "Where did you bring that young master just now? Tell me!"

He raised the flower pot and was about to hit him!

The waiter was frightened for a second. "Second... Second Young Master Bai, don't... don't hit me! A guest asked me to bring that young master to Room 606..."

"Get lost!" Bai Lang gnashed his teeth and rushed towards 606.

He had gone through life and death with Gong Jue many times in his life, but never had he been so proactive and reckless.

It was as if he would lose something he loved if he was a step late.

At the same time.

Gu Qiqi kicked open the door to Room 606!

It was pitch-black!

The door lock automatically locked behind her!

Sinister laughter began to sound in all directions in the room, accompanied by the sound of human joints cracking
Gu Qiqi stood calmly at the door.

The upgraded divine senses made her acutely feel a human body approaching her from all directions and the strange fragrance in the air!
It smelled like hallucinogens!

It smelled like a man!

They were mixed together.

An arm leaned over and tried to attack her chest.

The thin blade in Gu Qiqi's palm flashed.

"Ah!" With a scream, the man's arm spurted blood!

However, in the very next second.

The lights suddenly lit up!

The bright light finally made this room appear in front of Gu Qiqi completely.

How was this a hotel room? It was simply a... exhibition hall for sex toys!

The wall was painted an especially pink color.

A super big bed that could accommodate more than ten people was lying by the window. There was a huge rack at the side. There were all kinds of exciting and fresh "toys" and tools hanging on it.
Horsewhip

Broom,

Binding belt

All kinds of strange candles.

There were still traces of dried blood on many of the tools

It was really difficult to imagine what kind of pure and innocent girl would be tricked into such a room to be tortured.

More than ten greasy middle-aged men dressed in luxurious clothes were drooling as they surrounded her.

The person in the middle who she cut was none other than that greasy CEO Liu from last time!

Heh heh, so it was him!

He had made him doubt his life the last time, but he actually didn't give up?

Covering his injured arm, CEO Liu greeted everyone.. "How is it? This fresh meat is strong, right? I'm not lying to you, right?"
