

Dear Chief 851

Chapter 851 Become a Poor Man

Thus, Gong Jue remained calm and only chatted with her about the other rules of the finals for a while.

Seeing that she was really a little tired, he let her go to sleep and didn't make her stand in the corner like the previous time.

After putting down the phone, he put on his clothes and left the house at a combat speed. "Special Assistant Lu, the project is progressing. Get them to speed up the process for me! No... Tell them not to rush the work. To ensure that the blueprint will be effective, it must have that romantic atmosphere... Wait, let them be faster. It won't be a surprise if they delay it for too long!"

Special Assistant Lu felt as if ten thousand alpacas were racing across his heart. General, do you want it to be fast or slow? It's so torturous. All the romantic cells in your body were focused on this big surprise for Miss Qiqi, right?

This morning, the Empire Medical University was on vacation.

This was because the finals of the Empire's most professional and top-notch medical student competition was held on this day.

Not only were the students from the Empire Medical University here, but there were also many students and professors from other medical colleges. All of them came because they wanted to see the grand finals.

Even the media reporters flocked to report about the rise of the new generation of medical celebrities.

The finals were also held in the auditorium.

However, this time, the seats were all taken. A total of a few thousand seats on the third floor were snatched away.

There were even people who came very early to occupy their seats in the morning.

On the other hand, the students who came to watch the competition on time could only sadly sit on newspapers in the aisle.

Gu Xuexue was one of them who came early in the morning to occupy a seat.

Unfortunately, she didn't do it willingly. Today's finals were already in Gu Qiqi's favor. Whether Gu Qiqi could win or not, she was already one of the top eight. She would definitely be recorded by the media and reported in the news. Then, she would be famous.

She refused to see Gu Qiqi's glorious side.

Furthermore, Gu Meifeng had just lost the lawsuit and lost all her assets. She had been weeping these two days and the house was dark. It was all because of Gu Qiqi!

She didn't want to see Gu Qiqi's smug face either.

But she had no choice!

Today, Bai Yingzhu's confinement period was over. She was released from the family ancestral hall and was determined to snag a seat. Furthermore, she had to be in the front row.

How would she dare not to come?

Not only did she occupy a seat, but she also bought fruit juice and snacks. She also prepared the most expensive tissue to wipe Bai Yingzhu's hands.

With Qing Yuxuan gone, her "career" was completely ruined. In the future, only by clinging onto a rich daughter like Bai Yingzhu would she have the chance to continue living in the socialite circles. Only then would Brother Liuchuan think highly of her and not feel ashamed of her.

When it was about to start, Bai Yingzhu finally arrived late.

She sat down impolitely and casually picked up the fruit juice to take a sip. She frowned. "What kind of lousy thing is this? How dare you take out such a shabby and poor beverage for me to drink?"

Gu Xuexue endured the humiliation and apologized. It was so ironic. A day ago, she and her mother had mocked Gu Qiqi for being poor. She did not expect that a day later, she would become a poor person who was despised.

She bit her lip and quickly shifted her gaze and tried to arouse her anger. "Yingzhu, Gu Qiqi's name was very loudly mentioned this time. Just now, everyone behind was discussing that she might win the championship. They even placed a bet because of this, but they were all betting that she would win..." "Hmph! A bunch of bumpkins who have never seen the world. I just want to bet on her losing! She won't even have a strand of hair left!" Bai Yingzhu raised her neck, still looking like the number one little princess in the world.

"But Yingzhu, she killed Liu Guanghui and Qin Zhiming in the preliminary round..."

"That was the preliminary round! I wasn't there. With me here this time, she can forget about winning!"

Chapter 852 That Bitch Was Definitely Going to Lose!

After Bai Yingzhu finished speaking arrogantly, she couldn't be bothered with Gu Xuexue. Instead, she chatted with the people from the clinical medicine school beside her and even greeted Liu Guanghui, who was waiting in the waiting area.

Gu Xuexue initially thought that Bai Yingzhu was bragging

How was that possible?

Bai Yingzhu didn't even have the qualifications to participate in the competition this time. How could she possibly go on stage and kill Gu Qiqi instantly? Although she hated Gu Qiqi more than Bai Yingzi and hoped that Gu Qiqi's reputation would be ruined and she would lose everything, she had to be more practical.

However, when the competition officially started and the principal read the competition rules, her gaze changed.

"The finals requires a chief surgeon as a mentor and the team members had to cooperate to complete the task? Yingzhu, so you mean... our mentor candidate can crush her mentor, right?"

Gu Xuexue finally understood where Bai Yingzhu's confidence came from.

The corners of Bai Yingzhu's lips curled up proudly as she deliberately replied lazily, "Our Bai family is the head of the pharmaceutical industry. It's simply easy to hire a powerful mentor. The candidate for the chief surgeon this time... is ten streets ahead of Gu Qiqi!"

Gu Xuexue's heart seemed to come back to life and beat non-stop.

"That's great, Yingzhu. The mentor we hired is going to stun the crowd. That bitch Gu Qiqi is bound to lose!" Gu Xuexue couldn't help but smile!

Behind her, the people from the pharmaceutical school were unhappy. "Who are you saying will lose! If you have the ability, come and make a bet!"

Bai Yingzhu snorted coldly and dug out a check for 100,000 dollars from her bag. "I'll bet 100,000 dollars. Gu Qiqi will lose and she'll lose horribly!"

The people from the pharmaceutical school were stunned. Then, they retorted. "Hmph! Don't forget that if our Qiqi wins, you have to compensate us tenfold for this hundred thousand dollars bet!"

A loss of 1 million dollars!

The students of the other colleges nearby clicked their tongues secretly.

At the same time, they couldn't help but participate in the bet. For a moment, the audience was extremely lively.

Until...

When the representatives went on stage, everyone quietened down again!

The first team was the clinical medicine school as usual.

Liu Guanghui's dejection from before was swept away. He led the team onto the stage in high spirits and even waved down the stage smugly, attracting boos.

However, when the mentor of the representative team of the clinical medical school appeared, everyone held their breaths. Everyone seemed to be able to hear the sound of the woman's sharp high heels tapping the ground rhythmically from afar. A woman wearing a white skirt and exquisite makeup walked onto the stage leisurely. She was filled with elegance and her every move was elegant. One look and one could tell that she was an extraordinary person.

She stood in front of the clinical medicine school team and stopped. She smiled gently at Liu Guanghui and the rest before gently bowing to the judges and the audience.

"Hello, everyone. My name is Bai Mori. Today, I will lead the clinical medicine school to carry out a competition surgery. I graduated from the clinical medicine school and also participated in the school competition back then. Therefore, today can be considered as leading my junior brothers and junior sisters and reliving the times when I was a student. Thank you everyone for your support!" These words were said so generously.

Apart from Feng Yangchu, the senior professors at the judging panel nodded repeatedly to express their admiration.

Only Fengyang Chu snorted. "Ugly people cause trouble!"

Below the stage, the students were also in an uproar.

"Oh my god! The person that the clinical medicine school actually managed to invite was Bai Mori! She's the youngest female professor at Imperial Medical University! I heard that not only is she a genetic expert, but she's also a hypnotist. She's even good at surgery! How awesome!"

Chapter 853 Let's See Who's More Awesome!

"Senior Sister Bai Mori is so beautiful and her medical skills are so amazing, but she can be so humble and gentle. She's really one in a million. If I had such a girlfriend, I would wake up laughing like a pig in my dreams..."

"I reckon that the clinical medicine school will definitely win today, right? It's impossible for other colleges to hire experts who are better at surgery than her!"

Bai Yingzhu's was so proud that her head was about to rise to the sky. "How is it? I invited my aunt to help me fight. Is it a sure win?"

She had begged her uncle for a few days and nights before she found someone to fish her aunt out of jail while Gong Jue wasn't in the Imperial Capital for a few days.

Gu Xuexue quickly flattered her. "That's right, that's right. The effect of Professor Bai's appearance is definitely heavy! That bitch Gu Qiqi will definitely lose!"

Her mood was really good.

After being suppressed for so many days, she finally had a chance to see Gu Qiqi suffer.

She heard that Gu Qiqi worked hard to participate in the competition to help the blind Xiaobei?

Heh heh, then let that blind person continue to be blind for the rest of his life!

At this moment.

In the waiting area on stage, the people from the pharmaceutical school were ranked last by the organizing committee. Qiu Qiu complained indignantly, "Those rookies from the clinical medicine school are clearly the last place. On what basis are they the first to appear?! It's not fair! A conspiracy! Hmph!"

Bei Mingtian's expression didn't look good either.

The clinical medicine school's appearance just now was so flashy. They crushed them from the start. They were really evil!

The pharmaceutical school representatives were all a little depressed. Their coach-who was leading the team-hadn't arrived yet. Qiqi said that she was in charge of inviting their mentor and they didn't know who she had invited. This person definitely wouldn't be more awesome than Bai Mori, right?

Seeing that everyone was not in a good mood, Gu Qiqi said calmly, "What's the big deal about being the first to go on stage? The one who laughs last is the king. In such a competition, skills are important, but mentality is more important. If you can't maintain your cool, you will be chased down the stage if you make a small mistake. You understand, right?"

Her cold voice woke everyone up!

That's right. Instead of worrying about the injustice of the competition, complaining about the order of appearance, and being envious and jealous of other people's coaches' awesomeness, it was better to adjust their mentality well. Later, during the surgery, they shouldn't make any mistakes that they shouldn't make! "I'm sorry, Qiqi. We were too rash!"

"Master, I was wrong! I must be the last king to laugh!"

Seeing that everyone was apologizing, Gu Qiqi's serious expression softened. "We don't care about others. Come, we only have to care about ourselves. Believe in our own hands! Believe in the strength of the team!"

As she spoke, she stretched out her fair fingers and high-fived everyone!

A simple encouragement before the battle made everyone's blood boil instantly. They reignited their confidence and high-fived each other to encourage each other!

Only Bei Mingtian's hand seemed to have been electrocuted when it touched Gu Qiqi's small hand. He felt uncomfortable all over and a suspicious blush appeared on his face.

"Senior Brother Bei Mingtian, are you shy?" Qiu Qiu's sharp eyes discovered something. The light red on Beiming Tian's face immediately burned like a fire, as if someone had seen through his secret. "Cough cough, it's our turn!"

Only then did he cover up the awkwardness!

The group walked to the front of the stage.

After a short introduction, it was their mentor's turn to appear. A middle-aged woman wearing a cheesecake cashmere sweater, a white coat, and flat shoes walked onto the stage without even putting on makeup. Her voice was gentle and calm. "Hello, everyone. I'm Zhou Qing."

A simple self-introduction and simple appearance immediately silenced the audience!

Zhou Qing?

Which Zhou Qing?

Was she that Professor Zhou Qing who presided over the Empire's most powerful medical laboratory?

God, Gu Qiqi and the rest actually invited Professor Zhou Qing as their mentor.

Did she know Zhou Qing's status?

She was Bai Mori's superior! Bai Mori's mentor!

In other words, her status was much higher than Bai Mori's!

Chapter 854 The Little Bitch Was Awesome

The mentor that Gu Qiqi had invited was actually Professor Zhou Qing, the most awesome professor in the military laboratory. This stunned the people from the clinical medicine school.

The media's cameras flashed. The cheers and applause didn't stop.

"Damn it!"

Bai Yingzhu slammed her hand hatefully on her seat and willfully swept the fruit juice snacks that Gu Xuexue had prepared for her to the ground.

How could Gu Xuexue not be resentful?

She thought that once the Bai family appeared, they would definitely crush Gu Qiqi. She did not expect Gu Qiqi to be able to hire a top professor who was better than the Bai family in terms of medical skills!

How could a person with Professor Zhou Qing's status lower herself to come to a small school tournament?!

It was unbelievable!

However, such an incredible thing was done by Gu Qiqi.

At this moment, Liu Guanghui and Bai Mori were the most surprised and embarrassed people on the stage.

Liu Guanghui's nostrils twitched, and the veins on his forehead bulged. He refused to believe that Gu Qiqi could invite Professor Zhou Qing.

Damn, that little bitch was awesome!

On the other hand, Bai Mori was extremely embarrassed. Just now, she had been flirtatious and smug as she introduced herself on stage for a long time. She secretly praised herself to the skies. Presumably, Professor Zhou had heard it backstage. She might be looking down on her for being arrogant and conceited, right?

She quickly stopped looking smug and lowered her head humbly. She bowed at Professor Zhou Qing and said, "I didn't know you were here, Professor. I was really rude. Please give me more advice and I'll help you out."

Her tone was as restrained as possible as she tried to appease her.

What a joke. Of course she had to please Zhou Qing. It was fine if she was in prison, but she would come out one day. However, if Zhou Qing was unhappy and directly announced that her medical skills were not good enough and fired her from the laboratory, her medical career would be over.

Thus, she naturally had to humble herself and curry favor with Zhou Qing.

Unfortunately, Zhou Qing didn't seem to be interested in her quick change in attitude. She didn't even look at her, let alone talk to her.

She only replied with a faint acknowledgement and turned around to talk to Gu Qiqi about the upcoming surgical competition with a smile.

It made Bai Moli turn red.

She was so ashamed.

The episode on the stage passed very quickly. When the principal saw such an awesome lineup of coaches, he looked very proud. His tone was elevated when he announced the start of the competition.

The topic of the finals was decided by drawing lots.

The Clinical Medical School was tasked to perform a cesarean section.

Liu Guanghui sighed. How simple!

C-section surgery was not difficult, let alone the fact that they were only helping out.

It should be over in ten minutes. In order to ensure that nothing went wrong, Bai Mori prepared to operate the entire process herself. When it was over, she would let him and his teammates be in charge of the final suture.

After making the arrangements, Liu Guanghui finally regained his confidence. His eyes revealed a trace of evil as he looked at Gu Qiqi's team.

Today, he was going to beat Gu Qiqi no matter what.

He would get the right to be first place in the competition and the right to watch the Medicine Manual. Then, he would use this to threaten Gu Qiqi to kneel and lick his feet!

Subsequently, some teams were assigned pelvic sacral surgery, cardiac bypass surgery, burned skin transplant surgery, and even canine testicular cancer surgery... Finally, it was Gu Qiqi's team's turn to draw lots.

Chapter 855 The More Difficult It Was, the More Beautiful Her Win Would Be

Everyone unanimously supported Gu Qiqi to draw the lots.

"Qiqi, you're our goddess, our Little Fortune Star, and our absolute leader. You'll definitely win with the draw!"

"Master, you shocked everyone when you drew the lots last time. This time, you must take the Empire by storm!"

Gu Qiqi was speechless. She wasn't a tornado. Why would she take the Empire by storm?

She walked calmly towards the box.

The media below the stage were stunned by her calm demeanor.

The cameras could not help but point at her. The flashlights instantly gathered and shone on her like the most dazzling light on the stage.

After a while, the reporters reacted and discussed. "Who is this? Is she really a student? I thought that she was a celebrity!"

Someone with sharp eyes recognized him. "Isn't this the college entrance examination candidate who held a live webcast in Qingcheng during the summer vacation? He scored full marks in all subjects!"

"So it's her!"

Exclamations filled the air.

Everyone's cameras became even more fervent. They chased after Gu Qiqi's footsteps and captured her every move, frown and smile.

Gu Qiqi wasn't affected at all. She only focused on her work.

She stretched out her slender and fair hand and casually picked up a piece of paper from the box

"Rectal cancer resection!"

The principal announced.

Upon hearing this, Qiu Qiu and the rest thought that it was not bad. This operation wasn't too difficult.

The textbook said that they just had to remove the intestines from the cancerous cells.

However, after the patient's basic situation was announced...

They were dumbfounded.

The patient's condition was very complicated. He was in the late stages of rectal cancer, and there were many cancerous lesions in the bowel area that needed to be removed in several places. There were also many bowel tubes, and fistulas that needed to be treated.

What was a fistula?

It was the repeatedly infected intestines or anal cavity that was stimulated. It was caused by the initial abscess and ulceration that gradually formed thin tubes leading to the abdominal cavity!

The feces in the intestines should have been expelled, but now, some of it would leak out from the tubes into the abdominal cavity!

It was very dangerous!

It might cause a serious abdominal infection. The boys and Qiu Qiu looked at one another.

Their complicated gazes revealed the curses in their hearts. Son of a bitch, this patient is a life imprisonment male criminal. I'm afraid that he has been used by other male criminals in prison, right? Otherwise, why were his intestines so rotten?

Ordinary patients with intestinal cancer were not like this!

If all surgeries had to be ranked, then Liu Guanghui and the rest's C-section surgery was the easiest and the difficulty of the surgery for this patient with bowel cancer was the highest!

Seeing everyone's heavy expressions, Gu Qiqi smiled and teased them. "Who asked you to make me draw lots? You even said that I'm a lucky star? Take the Empire by storm? Hmm, this is great. The task we drew has a difficulty level that will take the Empire by storm!"

"Roar!" Everyone wailed.

However, they had already experienced the crisis of an emergency amniotic fluid embolism during the obstetric surgery during the preliminary round. Although everyone felt heavy, they didn't feel that it was impossible to complete it.

Professor Zhou Qing encouraged everyone. "Don't be afraid. The operation is difficult but it's more convincing if we win!"

"Okay!" Everyone applauded and walked towards the operating theater.

Finals!

A real-life operation!

It was completely different from a replica prop.

Ordinary medical students who had never entered a real operating theater would have weak legs. Even a top student like Liu Guanghui felt dizzy when he saw the pregnant woman lying in front of him with her stomach as high as a small mountain. She was screaming non-stop because of the severe contractions. When the pregnant woman's water flowed out, he gagged and nearly vomited!

Damn it! He didn't want to enter the delivery room in this lifetime and become an obstetrician. He also didn't want to see his wife give birth. It was too bloody and cruel!

Chapter 856 He Was Actually The Patient She Was Going to Operate On!

Just as everyone was filled with respect for the pregnant woman who had painstakingly given birth while Liu Guanghui was hating on pregnant women, Bai Mori gave the order for the cesarean section operation to begin!

When she saw that Liu Guanghui was timid and unwilling to come into contact with the pregnant woman, Bai Mori raised her exquisite eyebrows. "Why? Don't you want to beat those people next door?" "Of course!"

"Then what are you waiting for? Help me!"

"But Professor Bai, the bowel cancer surgery next door is also very simple. What if..."

Bai Mori frowned and her red lips curved up slightly. "Yes, it's very simple. However, I can also make it not simple!"

Liu Guanghui's heart skipped a beat. "Professor Bai, did you make any special arrangements?" Bai Mori smiled and didn't answer. "Do your job well. You don't have to worry about that!"

Of course, she had her own arrangements.

It wasn't easy for her to escape from jail. How could she not give that country bumpkin Gu Qiqi a "big gift"?!

In the operating theater next door.

Gu Qiqi's team was also prepared for the operation.

The patient was carried in and Gu Qiqi was in charge of anesthesia. When she was done preparing the anesthetic and carried the syringe to the operating table, she was slightly stunned!

"Qiqi, what's wrong?" Xiaolan checked the patient's temperature and heartbeat.

She saw that Gu Qiqi was calm as usual when she faced so many reporters' flashlights just now. But at this moment, her expression was different when she faced a patient. This was really abnormal!

At this moment, Gu Qiqi stared intently at the person on the hospital bed. It was indeed difficult to hide the astonishment in her heart.

That person was actually her so-called father Gu Qiushan!

This competition used death row criminals and life imprisonment criminals.

Furthermore, it was a very representative illness.

However, transferring a prisoner from Qing Cheng to be their patient for the operation... No matter how she thought about it, this arrangement didn't make sense!

She couldn't help but look at the glass door of the operating room next door.

On the other hand, Bai Mori had already skillfully cut open the patient's abdomen.

Could it be that Bai Mori had done something? She deliberately arranged for Gu Qiushan to be here?

Gu Qiqi retracted her gaze.

No matter who transferred Gu Qiushan here, their goal was obvious. They wanted to disrupt the rhythm of her surgery and make her mind chaotic. They wanted her to make a mistake when she was in a daze!

It would be easy to understand the other party's intentions.

Gu Qiqi took a deep breath. Her expression changed slightly for a moment before it returned to its usual coldness. She replied to Xiaolan, "It's nothing. I just suddenly thought that if I add too much anesthesia, the patient's brain will be damaged."

The anesthetic that she had originally prescribed for the patient was carefully measured according to his height and age. It was just the right amount.

However, since Gu Qiushan was here...

Of course, she wanted this fellow who sold women for glory to have a taste of an open surgery.

The anesthesia she used was halved!

Upon hearing Gu Qiqi's indifferent voice and Xiaolan calling Qiqi, Gu Qiushan, who was napping on the hospital bed, suddenly opened his eyes. His voice was turbid and hoarse. "Gu Qiqi! You unfilial daughter! Where are you? Hurry up and find your financier! As long as you serve your financier well, they can give me money and ransom me out! I don't want to stay in that lousy jail...!" Gu Qiushan spoke incoherently. Clearly, wanting his daughter to sell her body in exchange for money to redeem him was his greatest obsession in the next half of his life. When everyone in the operating theater heard Gu Qiushan's shameless words, they looked at Gu Qiqi in unison and lowered their heads in unison.

It turned out that Qiqi's father was such a shameless person!

They pitied her so much!

Professor Zhou Qing asked her in a low voice, "Qiqi, why don't I request for the school to change our patient?"

Chapter 857 Every Hit Hurts to Death!

Gu Qiqi's eyes were clear and firm. "There's no need."

It was too late to change the patient now. Moreover, they will give their opponents something to use against them. They would mock them for not daring to perform this intestinal cancer surgery. Professor Zhou Qing muttered, "But... he's your relative after all. It's a medical taboo to operate on a relative because it will interfere with a doctor's normal rational judgment. During the surgery later, will you have any emotional fluctuations because of this?"

Gu Qiqi shook her head.

At this moment, looking at Gu Qiushan on the stage was no different from looking at a dead pig. "No, because he has long announced that he has severed ties with me. Other than wanting to use me to sell myself to earn money and atone for his sins, he doesn't have any father-daughter kinship with me anymore. I... have long seen through him."

Gu Qiqi said coldly.

Gu Qiushan's greed and shamelessness refreshed her bottom line repeatedly.

Just a few days ago, at her grandfather's birthday banquet, Gu Qiushan actually had the cheek to record a photo in jail and broadcast it in public. He tried to slander her, threaten her, and destroy her current peaceful life.

Apart from smiling coldly at Gu Qiushan, how could she possibly have any fluctuating emotions towards him?

The person who had secretly plotted against her using Gu Qiushan really did not understand her, nor did she understand Gu Qiushan's status in her heart.

"Okay. Since that's the case, let's continue!" Zhou Qing made her decision. Qiu Qiu looked at Gu Qiqi sensibly. "Master, later, you and Professor Zhou Qing can instruct me to work. Don't come into contact with this... scumbag father! He's not fit!"

Xiaolan's heart ached even more. She had the best father in the world who could even give up his life for her. She really didn't expect such a disgusting father to sell his daughter in this world. "Qiqi, why don't we administer more anesthesia and make him faint? Let's stab him a few more times."

Zhou Qing glared at them speechlessly. "The wicked may be evil, but as doctors, our hands are used to save people. We can't use our job to take revenge. Don't mess around."

Xiaolan stuck out her tongue guiltily.

Beim Mingtian, who had been silent all this while, suddenly stepped forward and snatched the anesthetic from Gu Qiqi's hand. He cut off half of the dosage. "I'll do the anesthesia shot. Don't dirty your hands!"

It was too easy to make a disgusting man like Gu Qiushan faint!

He had to let this evil person feel the pain of every stab in the operation clearly!

The anesthetic entered his spine bit by bit and Gu Qiushan's nonsense finally stopped.

But as Zhou Qing cut open his abdomen for the first time, he screamed fiercely!

It hurt!

A question came from the judging panel. "Is there not enough anesthetic? Who was in charge of administering the anesthetic? Should he be eliminated?"

Zhou Qing calmly blocked it. "The patient's physique is resistant to anesthesia, and an excessive dosage will cause cerebral palsy. After weighing the pros and cons, we decided to reduce the dosage. It's just that the pain is a little stronger, but it won't affect the surgery process or harm the body. Therefore, there's nothing wrong with this treatment. The patient screamed because he was too unreasonable. There's no need to pay attention to it."

Zhou Qing cleverly found a perfect excuse for them.

Beiming Tian, Gu Qiqi, and the rest looked at Zhou Qing gratefully. They initially thought that Professor Zhou was strict and wouldn't be flexible. They didn't expect that Professor Zhou was also brave and righteous!

Under the premise that they did not harm Gu Qiushan's body or mess up the effect of the surgery, they gave him a small punishment and a big warning so that Gu Qiushan could feel the pain of every stab in detail. It turned out that Professor Zhou was also supportive of this!

Chapter 858 Gu Qiushan's Ending

With Zhou Qing's support, no matter how Gu Qiushan wailed, no one's heart softened. They were determined not to give him more anesthesia.

Qiu Qiu rebuked him in annoyance. "Hey, hey. Don't you know that our most respected Empire warrior was injured in a war at the front lines? He didn't undergo anesthesia during surgery to remove bullets and amputation. Why are you shouting about such a small illness?! Are you still a man? How embarrassing!"

Bei Mingtian didn't say a word and silently pressed the anesthetic needle...

Gu Qiushan wailed again.

Zhou Qing was very skilled in the surgery, and Gu Qiqi and the rest cooperated well. In fact, Gu Qiushan should be grateful to them.

Even though it hurt a little, they had removed a few intestines affected by the cancer.

The fistula disappeared. It could be said that they had helped him treat this illness.

If it were anyone else who was the chief surgeon, they might not be able to cut the intestines so cleanly. If they could not cut them cleanly and had to perform the surgery repeatedly, it would be even worse...

Xiaolan could not help but sigh. "It's so contradictory. I don't want to cure him of this illness. He's so cold-blooded to Qiqi. If he's cured, he'll be a scourge. However, if we don't treat him well and leave behind an incomplete hand, we won't be able to win today's competition. It's really contradictory and difficult to choose!"

Upon hearing this, Professor Zhou Qing looked at Gu Qiqi. "Qiqi, what do you think?"

Gu Qiqi muttered to herself for a second. "We have to cure him because we have to win this championship!"

Just as the team members sighed, Gu Qiqi changed the topic. "However, we have other ways to let him experience a life more painful than dying from illness!"

Xiaolan's eyes lit up!

"Yes, yes, just like Yang Xiaoqing. He will suffer for the rest of her life after getting black lung disease. He's in so much pain that he has to kneel every day! Even if he dies, he has to kneel!"

Gu Qiushan was in so much pain that he was covered in cold sweat. In his daze, he vaguely heard something about someone kneeling and dying. He was instantly frightened and screamed, "I don't want to die, I don't want to die. I rather go to jail than die. Gu Qiqi, why are you wasting time here? I asked you to find your financier and find money for me. Are you deaf..."

"It seems like your prison life is too comfortable. Your intestines haven't been completely messed up by your cellmate, right?" Qiu Qiu sneered and turned to Gu Qiqi. "Master, what's the method you mentioned just now? I can't wait!"

Gu Qiqi's face was cold. She glanced at the tools in her hand lightly. "When you suture it, do an incision and connect it to an artificial intestine."

Zhou Qing immediately understood and nodded. "Okay."

Qiu Qiu and the rest were still lacking in clinical experience and were confused. "What do you mean by an incision? Why do you want to connect it to an artificial intestine?"

Zhou Qing decided to teach them on the spot.

In Gu Qiushan's case, he had terminal cancer and the intestines that were removed were longer than normal. He also had a few intestinal fistulas. The situation was very complicated.

After the operation, it would be very difficult to urinate.

There were two ways to solve this problem.

One was the intestines that were working hard to return to normal. After it healed, it could defecate like a normal person.

However, this required very careful care and rest.

The patient had to have a professional serve him patiently for 24 hours. Furthermore, he had to eat especially carefully to gradually heal the damaged intestines and dug out intestines.

The second method was to use an artificial intestine and make an incision. Then, he would have to wear a ostomy pouch around his waist.

In other words, he wouldn't be able to control his excrement in the future. It would directly flow into the ostomy pouch around his waist.

Furthermore, this ostomy pouch had to be hung on his body for 24 hours. Otherwise, he would be covered in...

Which of the two subsequent ways to treat him would they choose?

Everyone thought for a while and tacitly stretched out two fingers.

Chapter 859 Stupid Woman, I'm Back

Of course, it was the second method!

Wouldn't it be satisfying to let Gu Qiushan carry an ostomy pouch around every day from now on? He would stink like the sky and be hated by everyone in jail!

On what basis should he be treated well?

Was he worthy?!

Everyone looked at each other. Without a word, they quickly connected the artificial intestines...

The judges couldn't help but give pointers again. This was especially so for Shen Ping from the clinical medicine school. He deliberately made things difficult for them. "What are your intentions in making the patient wear an ostomy pouch? How is he going to live normally like this?"

Gu Qiqi and the rest retorted calmly, "The patient is a felon with a life imprisonment sentence to begin with. He can only wait for death in jail in this lifetime. How can he have a normal life? There's no one in jail to wait on his wounds to heal 24 hours a day. An ostomy pouch is convenient for him to take care of himself. There's no other choice at all!"

Shen Ping was at a loss for words.

However, in the seat beside him, Feng Yangchu still stroked his beard and stepped on him even more. "Hmph, some so-called senior tutors are really high and mighty all the time. They don't know the hardships of the world at all. It's also been a few hundred years since they personally operated on patients, right? They only know how to follow the textbooks and announce the results according to the script. They don't even know how to be flexible and adaptable in actual operations. How sad!"

Shen Ping was so angry that his face flushed red!

Originally, they had tried to question Gu Qiqi and the rest's operating methods, but they could only leave it unsettled.

28 minutes after the competition started, Gu Qiqi's team completed this complicated and difficult bowel cancer resection.

Gu Qiushan had an ostomy pouch hanging from his body and he had already fainted from his own stench. He was carried out of the operating room and sent back to the police car.

His end was to stay in jail for the rest of his life with an ostomy pouch and enjoy the strong stench every second.

After the evaluation by the judges, Gu Qiqi's team's operation was successful! Perfect!

There was no mistake at all throughout the process! At the same time.

Twenty-eight minutes later, Liu Guanghui's team completed the routine cesarean section under Bai Mori's lead.

Although Bai Mori's actions were agile, Liu Guanghui and the rest were too slow.

During this period, Liu Guanghui nearly made a mistake while suturing. If Bai Mori hadn't saved him quickly, he would have been eliminated!

Both operations were completed in 28 minutes!

Shen Ping immediately took the lead to announce, "In second place..."

Before any name was announced, the red light in the operating theater of Liu Guanghui's team lit up!

"The pregnant woman suddenly bled heavily!"

"The pregnant woman is starting to twitch!" "Lung failure!"

"Maternal respiratory distress... cardiac arrest!"

The change happened in a flash!

Alarm bells rang in everyone's hearts. What was going on?

Bai Mori was the closest to the pregnant woman. Her face was pale and her voice was slightly frightened. She even forgot that she had turned on a mini microphone. "This is amniotic fluid embolism... It suddenly happened. This is hopeless..."

Amniotic fluid embolism could cause death in a few seconds!

The words “hopeless” came from the loudspeaker. Everyone in the auditorium was stunned.

Of course, the medical students knew that this was the midwife’s killer!

But...

Wait a minute!

Didn’t Gu Qiqi perform amniotic fluid embolism once in the preliminary round?

Perhaps...

Before everyone’s expectant gazes could land on the operating theater next door...

A cold and agile white figure had already flashed into the operating room of Liu Guanghui’s team.

“Get her on the inhaler immediately! Remove the stitches! Transparent drip! Why are you standing there in a daze? Hand me the scalpel!” Gu Qiqi roared sternly.

The fierce aura shocked everyone in Liu Guanghui’s team.

He started working uncontrollably according to her instructions!

At this moment, the sound of an aircraft rotor could be heard on the roof of the auditorium.

After a while, a man’s steady and powerful sounds of military boots traveled down the stairs and entered the auditorium door.

The evening sun shone brightly behind the man.

The man’s domineering gaze landed on Gu Qiqi. His thin lips parted slightly. “Stupid woman, I’m back!”

Chapter 860 As if Her Soul Had Been Drained

Gong Jue stood at the entrance of the auditorium. He stood tall and stared at the scene on the big screen.

The situation in the operating theater was clearly broadcasted on the screen.

Gu Qiqi pushed away the helpless Bai Mori and methodically instructed Liu Guanghui’s team to cooperate with the operation. Amniotic fluid embolism was a very dangerous emergency complication in the Gynecology Department. People could die anytime. Honestly speaking, if she sat idle and didn’t do anything, there wouldn’t be any problems. She could still sit idle and enjoy the fruits of her labor. She could directly watch as Bai Mori and Liu Guanghui’s operation failed and they suffered a crushing defeat in the finals. Perhaps it was a smarter and more correct choice!

But at this moment, she instinctively ran in the opposite direction and chose to save someone!

Even if it was to help his opponent save someone.

In order to know herself and her enemy well, she had paid attention to the patient’s information on Liu Guanghui when she was preparing for the operation.

This female patient was a prisoner on death row and was also an undergraduate high school student.

The reason for her imprisonment was that her family was poor. On the way out of school to work, she was gang-raped by ten hooligans.

When those people who took advantage of her fell asleep, she dragged her badly violated body and escaped from the Devil's Den. She turned on the gas in the room and closed the door and windows to poison them all to death.

The Empire's laws couldn't protect her because she didn't kill someone when she was violated or during the resistance process. She killed someone after the incident and that didn't constitute self-defense.

Killing ten people at once was already considered a crime of intentional murder.

What was worse was that this female high school student had just turned 18 years old. She couldn't apply for the protection law for minors, so she was directly sentenced to death!

In jail, she was found to be pregnant and the death penalty was postponed.

If she died from childbirth now, the probation that she had painstakingly earned would be useless. Furthermore, she wouldn't even be able to accompany her child for a minute.

It was because she knew this female prisoner's tragic background that Gu Qiqi couldn't sit idle!

Her gaze was prudent, careful, and firm. She gave orders to the team one after another and tried her best to save this female prisoner.

A minute later!

The woman's heart beat returned to normal.

Two minutes later!

The woman's respiratory system slowly returned to normal.

Three minutes later!

They controlled the bleeding.

On the detector, the vital signs-blood pressure, pulse, oxygen volume, and so on were gradually approaching normal levels!

On the hospital bed, a tear escaped from the corner of the unconscious woman's eye.

The little baby lying next to her actually cried very tacitly. It opened its mouth and let out a loud cry, as if it was announcing that the baby was very healthy. Mommy, you have to wake up quickly to see the baby! Gu Qiqi sighed lightly and instructed calmly, "Next, you guys extract the blood from the abdominal cavity yourself and stitch it back together. Continue to use the medicine as I say, understand?"

The people from Liu Guanghui's team nodded foolishly. They looked at the goddess like losers and replied in admiration, "Yes! Yes! Yes!"

Gu Qiqi put down the scalpel and left the operating room without looking sideways.

Behind her, Bai Mori seemed to have emptied her soul. Her face was pale and stiff.

Gosh, what did she just see?

In the three minutes of resuscitation, Gu Qiqi actually presided over a woman's amniotic fluid embolism operation alone!

Furthermore, it was a great success.

This was simply unimaginable! Impossible! She, Bai Mori, had been a doctor for so many years. She had been a top student, a genius doctor, and now the youngest female medical professor in the Empire. She didn't know how many operations she had performed, but she had never done a successful amniotic fluid embolism operation.
