

Dear Chief 931

Chapter 931: A Drop of Blood For Him

“Same type as me, type O.” Gong Jue said.

“What a coincidence! Me too!” Gu Qiqi was slightly surprised.

Gong Jue’s deep eyes lit up in an instant. “It seems that our fate is destined. We’re so compatible in all aspects, from size to type.”

Gu Qiqi was stunned. Then, she blushed.

She knew that the type referred to the blood type, but what the hell was the size? What size was he talking about?!

Although that nurse had left, this was an operating room after all. It could be considered a public place. How did Gong Jue say these shameless words without batting an eyelid?

She had a new understanding of this stupid man’s morals.

However, Gong Jue was still asking shamelessly, “Why? Don’t you think so?”

Gu Qiqi was so ashamed that she couldn’t show her face. “I don’t think so! How would I know if I haven’t tried?!”

She retorted impulsively and quickly regretted it.

Gosh, what did she say? Although it was the truth, she said it as if she was regretful that she hadn’t tried him.

Indeed, Gong Jue curved his lips and said, “Yes, I’ll arrange for you to try it as soon as possible. Wife, don’t be too anxious.”

If not for the fact that the operating theater was not a suitable place and that the little boy had not woken up yet, he would have immediately asked her to “remove the seal and test the goods”.

Gu Qiqi’s heart beat rapidly as she turned her face away. “Who’s anxious?! Can you be more serious? About the little boy’s blood type, since he’s type O and I’m type O too, that’s good. His anemia is very bad now and I’m going to use an acupuncture bloodletting method. When the time comes, I’ll draw my blood for him...”

“No!” Gong Jue stopped her firmly.

This time, there was no room for discussion as he glared fiercely at her.

Gu Qiqi stuck out the tip of her tongue and belatedly thought of something. “Oh no. I forgot that although my blood type is O, it’s a little special. It has poison and can’t be donated to the little boy...”

Gong Jue interrupted her. “It’s not because of the poison. It’s because your blood is also very precious. I won’t allow you to lose another drop of blood!”

She hadn't even opened her legs to shed a drop of blood for him. How could she bleed for another man?!

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

Sure, sure, sure. You're domineering. I can't out-talk you!

After discussing for a while, one minute was long gone.

Gong Qing and his wife's voices rang outside the operating room. "The boy has been lying down for three days. If I don't go in and take a look soon, I won't be able to take it anymore!"

"Master, Chief won't let anyone visit him."

"Nonsense! I'm his grandfather! If the vixen can't visit him, I also can't?"

The bodyguards couldn't stop Gong Qing at all.

Soon, Gong Qing pushed open the door and entered.

Gong Jue's reaction was also very fast. He carried Gu Qiqi and disappeared from the bed in a flash.

Gong Qing took a few steps forward as he stood by the boy's bed. "My big baby biological grandson, Grandpa is here! Tell Grandpa what you want to eat and drink, okay? Or you can even give Grandpa a dream. Don't you know that my heart hurts when you don't eat, drink, or speak? I would lie here instead of you..."

In the cramped washroom in the operating theater, Gu Qiqi was nestled in Gong Jue's arms. Upon hearing Gong Qing's sincere murmur, her heart couldn't help but skip a beat.

She did not expect that Gong Qing, who had such a bad temper, would actually speak to the boy in such a low and gentle tone.

Furthermore, the content of his words was so detailed!

It simply subverted her understanding of Gong Qing.

She couldn't help but glance at Gong Jue. Her lips moved slightly.

Chapter 932: How Can I Believe Her?

"I didn't expect your father to be such a grandfather!"

Gong Jue understood Gu Qiqi's lips at a glance.

Similarly, his thin lips replied coldly, "Soon, you'll know that my Little Gong Jue is also a different Gong Jue!"

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

Be serious! Can you not be so emotional?!

In front of the operating table, Gong Qing faced the little boy and choked on his words. "If I can wake you up, I'm willing to do anything for you..."

Beside her, Songsong suddenly sighed. "If that child Qiqi really has a way to treat the boy, would you be willing to let her come?"

Gong Qing's body trembled.

It seemed to be a very difficult psychological struggle.

After a while of silence, he suddenly said, "Come out. I agree to let Gu Qiqi treat him."

Gu Qiqi was stunned!

What did that mean?

Had she been discovered?

It turned out that Gong Qing was still young. His hearing was so sharp and he wasn't really that old.

He actually discovered that she and Gong Jue were hiding so secretly.

Gong Qing snorted coldly. "If you didn't want to sneak in to see the little boy, would Special Assistant Lu be so eager to bring me to the washroom? Do you think that I can't guess what you've been doing secretly?"

Gong Jue pushed open the washroom door and walked out with Gu Qiqi in his arms. "If you had said so earlier, I wouldn't have spent so much effort to save face for you. Since you begged my wife to treat my son, then my wife will reluctantly treat your grandson."

Gong Qing was speechless. He spoke as if the boy wasn't his biological son!

Gu Qiqi was surprised for a moment but quickly regained her composure. "Thank you, Uncle Gong. I'll do my best."

Gong Qing said in annoyance, "Don't think that just because I agreed to let you treat the boy, I agreed to let you be with Gong Jue. These are two different things. Get this straight."

Gu Qiqi replied casually, "Yes."

Gong Jue was unhappy. "Old man, pay attention to your attitude! You're the one begging now! Please have a humble posture and some self-awareness!"

Gong Qing was speechless.

Before Gong Qing could flare up, Gong Jue had already hugged Gu Qiqi's small waist and walked out the door. "Tell me, what is that medicine that you're looking for?"

Songsong looked at their backs in relief and whispered to Gong Qing, "Hubby, look at how compatible they are. One is violent, one is calm, one is gentle, and the other is domineering. I understand that you're worried about Gong Jue's safety, but let's give Young Lady Qiqi another chance. I believe that she won't let us down..."

Gong Qing didn't say anything and his cold lips remained pursed stubbornly.

He could give Gu Qiqi a chance, but his son and grandson only had one life. Should he hand the boy's only life to Gu Qiqi?

What if Gu Qiqi was a vixen hidden among foxes?

It had to be known that female doctors had endless methods. Just like the top-notch female doctor that their family had once met... The female doctor who nearly caused his family to collapse...

Although he had agreed to let Gu Qiqi treat the little boy, he could not really lower his guard against Gu Qiqi in the depths of his heart.

How exactly could he trust her completely?

Honestly speaking, he didn't know either...

If Gu Qiqi could save the boy this time, he would consider giving her a passing score of 60 points in his heart first... Then, he would observe her!

==

Gu Qiqi was carried out of the door by Gong Jue and she replied to him in a soft voice, "What's missing is a wild hundred-year-old Green Wind Vine. There definitely isn't one in this pharmacy. I have to pluck it in the wild and refine it myself. However, fortunately, when I went to find the Medicine Manual with Professor Feng Yangchu last time, a Green Wind Vine happened to grow nearby. I have a deep impression of it..."

Chapter 933: A Large Dog Wanted a Kiss!

Gong Jue raised his thick eyebrows. "Tell me, what happened to that pharmaceutical book? Can you help Xiaobei treat his eyes?"

He still liked and missed Xiaobei, this sensible brother-in-law.

Gu Qiqi shook her head. "The Medicine Manual is completely different from what I imagined. It's actually a big ordinary stone."

"Stone?"

"Yes!" Gu Qiqi took out her phone and opened the photo to show Gong Jue. "It turns out that Feng Yangchu, that cunning guy, accepted me as his disciple because he wanted me to study the pharmaceutical book with him. He's too sinister..."

Gong Jue carefully stared at the big stone in the photo.

Indeed, as Gu Qiqi said, there was nothing special about this stone other than its size.

The Empire's Medicine Manual that had been passed down for thousands of years was actually a big stone. This was really unimaginable.

Gong Jue was silent for a moment before he said in a low voice, "Perhaps, that's not the real Medicine Manual."

"Oh? Why do you think so?"

“Since it can be called a Medicine Manual, there must be a prescription with a myriad of changes inside. No matter how much a stone changes, the prescription can’t be changed. The ancient people’s wisdom is very natural and not that complicated. Next time, go and take a look at the Medicine Manual and carefully observe the environment around it to see if there’s anything special.”

Gu Qiqi’s mind was in a mess.

She felt that Gong Jue’s words were even more profound.

She couldn’t bear to say that other than trees and grass around that big stone, there was nothing else that could be related to the Medicine Manual.

However, seeing that Gong Jue was so serious in helping her study the Medicine Manual, she decided not to attack him. Instead, she encouraged him. “Not bad, not bad. It’s very enlightening for me.”

Didn’t the book say that she had to play along to men?

Indeed, Gong Jue looked like he was enjoying himself. The effect was obvious.

However...

In the very next second, Gong Jue bent down slightly and moved his chin closer to her. “Since my analysis is useful, shouldn’t you give me a reward?”

“Ah? What reward?” Gu Qiqi was stunned. Faced with Gong Jue’s cold and handsome face, she suddenly understood.

Damn, a big dog was asking for a kiss!

“Hey, there are doctors and nurses everywhere in this corridor. Don’t be so shameless, okay?” Gu Qiqi slapped his shameless thought back to him in annoyance.

“It’s fine. We can find a place with no one to do it.” A certain big dog was very stubborn and continued to suggest shamelessly.

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

Just as Gong Jue was about to drag Gu Qiqi into the nearest washroom and kiss her...

A phone call saved her.

“May I know if this is Young Lady Gu Qiqi?”

“Yes.”

“That’s great! I’ve finally found you!”

A surprised voice traveled from the receiver. It was a girl and she spoke with a thick English accent.

Gu Qiqi was stunned.

She didn’t know any foreigners.

Gong Jue was even more unhappy and wanted to end her call.

Which blind foreign blonde actually dared to disturb his good chance for kissing?

However, in the very next second, the girl's next words came from the receiver. They were fluent American words. "May I ask if Mr. Gong Jue is beside you? I want to specially thank you for saving my life!"

Gu Qiqi and Gong Jue looked at each other and finally remembered this familiar voice. That was the girl who was nearly stabbed to death by the criminal in the children's park.

That criminal was also crazy. In order to set a trap for them to fall into, he didn't hesitate to harm an innocent life.

Chapter 934: Saving Her Life

Gu Qiqi said gently, "You're welcome. I hope you enjoy yourself in the Empire."

"No, no, no. My father said that the Empire is a state that values etiquette and relationships the most. I owe you guys a favor. If I don't return it, I'll feel bad."

"There's really no need..." Gu Qiqi declined.

A thought suddenly surfaced in her mind and she couldn't help but glance at Gong Jue. Could it be that this little girl had taken a fancy to Gong Jue because he was a hero and was going to worm her way into being friends with him?

She glanced at Gong Jue mischievously and thought to herself, Yes, it's good to let this little girl tease Gong Jue. She can escape and return to the Empire Military Medical University quickly to find the Green Wind Vine next to the Medicine Manual to prepare the medicine for the boy.

Thinking about this, she relaxed. "Okay, then come to the hospital."

The girl said anxiously, "I've already been waiting downstairs in the hospital for a long time. I initially wanted to give you a surprise, but the bodyguard didn't let me go up, so... I took the liberty to call you..."

"Ah, you're already downstairs." Gu Qiqi was a little surprised. "Then, wait a minute."

She threw Gong Jue a look.

Gong Jue was expressionless. "For the sake of the little boy's safety and waiting for the opportunity to capture the criminals who might attack again, I've already instructed the bodyguards to guard all the entrances to the hospital. Everyone is only allowed to leave and not enter."

He sent Special Assistant Lu a message and let that foreign girl come up.

However, his eyes remained cold. He wasn't special to that foreign girl and was even vigilant.

When that foreign girl entered and was about to hug Gu Qiqi, he became even more impolite and blocked her. "This is my wife. Please stay away."

The passionate foreign girl smiled and introduced herself. "My name is Susanna. Thank you for saving me. I heard that in the Empire, you saved my life and I should repay you with my body..."

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

Indeed, it was here! The main point was here!

This girl had indeed taken a fancy to Gong Jue and was going to propose to him.

Gu Qiqi enjoyed the commotion and threw Gong Jue a mocking look.

Gong Jue's face darkened.

I only want my wife. Get lost, this kind of little girl.

He glared at Gu Qiqi unhappily.

Other wives took their husbands very seriously and were afraid that their husbands would mess around outside. But his wife actually pushed him out and watched the commotion foolishly.

What kind of stupid wife had he found?

The more Gong Jue thought about it, the more unhappy he became.

He turned around and prepared to send Susanna away, but...

When he looked again, he realized that the other party's eyes were actually not staring at him but at Gu Qiqi...

As she looked, her face flushed red.

The more Gong Jue thought about it, the more he felt that something was wrong.

This Susanna hadn't taken a fancy to him at all. She had taken a fancy to his wife, right?

Indeed, in the very next second, Susanna blushed shyly. "So, I'm prepared to marry Young Lady Qiqi. I'll do whatever Young Lady Qiqi tells me to do. I'll be your little maid, okay?"

Gu Qiqi was caught off guard and fainted.

What? A delicate and charming young lady wanted to be her little maid?

Was she referring to those little maids who served tea, poured water, and warmed the bed?

Gu Qiqi sized up the young lady with interest. She had fair skin, perky buttocks, and long legs!

Susanna really had a good foundation. Her life would be much more comfortable with the little beauty. Should Gu Qiqi reject her or not?

Unfortunately, Gong Jue had refused on her behalf. "My wife doesn't like women. Get lost!"

Chapter 935: Awesome Father, Awesome Competition

Susanna was blocked by Gong Jue simply and roughly. He didn't even let her touch Gu Qiqi's hand.

She pursed her lips aggrievedly. She felt that the man who was incomparably valiant and chased after the criminal three days ago was simply another person.

After hesitating for a long time, she endured the shock and said carefully, "Chief Gong, Young Lady Qiqi, I really don't have any ill intentions. I just want to repay my kindness. Yes... I don't have any other intentions than being Young Lady Qiqi's little maid because I... I heard that Young Lady Qiqi is going to participate in the World Medical Competition..."

"How did you know?" Gu Qiqi was so surprised.

This Susanna wasn't simple.

A young foreign lady could find the hospital to repay her kindness and even know her and Gong Jue's identities. She actually knew that Gu Qiqi was going to participate in an international competition.

This... Wasn't she taking her gratitude too seriously?

"I... I saw it on television..." Susanna said shyly. "Actually, my father is also one of the participants. That's why I had the chance to come to the Empire to travel. Young Lady Qiqi, don't worry. I also had the permission of my father to be your little maid. He wanted me to learn more from you about how to be a good person and how to seek medical treatment."

It turned out that this Susanna was the descendant of a famous doctor.

Gu Qiqi was surprised again.

"Who's your father?"

"He's Dr. Brown. My full name is Susanna Brown."

"M Nation's Dr. Brown? The Dr. Brown who invented painless labor in the water? The Dr. Brown who increased the microscope magnification by a thousand times? The Dr. Brown who won the lifetime honor award at the International Medical Association?! One of the top pharmacists in the world, Dr. Brown?!" Gu Qiqi's series of questions could no longer be described as astonishment.

It was simply shocking! Unbelievable!

In Gu Qiqi's eyes, Professor Brown was a medical genius. She knew his name from her previous life. In this lifetime, because she attended university, she could see Professor Brown's academic papers everywhere. They were used by the school as outstanding teaching materials.

Not to mention the number of professors in class, when Dr. Brown was mentioned, they had an admiring tone and expression.

It was as if it was a supreme honor to be able to help a medical genius like Dr. Brown in this lifetime.

But now, she, Gu Qiqi, was actually face-to-face with Dr. Brown's daughter. She was even going to be Gu Qiqi's little maid because of a word from Dr. Brown!

Letting Dr. Brown's daughter be her maid. If word got out, everyone would be shocked, right?

Gu Qiqi was stunned for a while before she gradually digested this fact. She hurriedly waved her hand. "That's even more impossible. Your father is a famous and great pharmacist. How can I treat his daughter like this? Dr. Brown contributed a lot to the world's medicine. It's only right for me to save his daughter. There's no need to repay my kindness."

Susana became anxious. She initially thought that Gu Qiqi would flock to her like ordinary people did when her father's name was mentioned. She couldn't wait to build a relationship with Gu Qiqi.

Who would have thought that Gu Qiqi actually didn't care about her reputation or connections?!

She could only continue to expose more information. "Young Lady Qiqi, I heard that the reward for the World Medical Competition is especially awesome. Every country will give away a precious national medicine as a reward. There are also many world-class pharmaceutical companies who will participate in the competition. If you can win an award, not only will your reputation be better, but you will also receive an especially awesome reward and a chance to cooperate with a company. It can be said that money will continuously come for you."

Gu Qiqi wasn't greedy for a better reputation. However, she wouldn't reject an expensive medicine and an opportunity for cooperation with a company, right?

Chapter 936: Gong Jue's Murderous Gaze!

There was a medicine reward that was as precious as a national resource?

There were even world-class pharmaceutical companies coming to cooperate?

Oh... That sounds good.

Little money-grubber Gu Qiqi squinted.

Gong Jue snorted coldly and said, "Isn't it just some lousy medicine and a lousy company? If my wife wants them, I can give them to you anytime!"

He hated this World Medical Competition a little now.

Initially, he wanted to give a spot to his wife to let her play and cheer her up.

In the end, Chu Junmo came out halfway and took advantage of a cooperation with a pharmaceutical company to get his wife.

Then, a little girl appeared. She wanted to use an award and an awesome father to bribe his wife and fight for the chance to stay with her.

Why was his stupid woman so attractive?

Gu Qiqi was also speechless. She looked at Susanna apologetically.

She had no choice. Her man was so domineering.

She replied gently, "I'm sorry, Miss Susanna. I am participating in the World Medical Competition to broaden my horizons. I didn't think that I had to win any award. Honestly speaking, I'm just leaving these to fate. It doesn't matter if I win or not..."

Although she really wanted to earn money...

But considering Gong Jue's murderous gaze, forget it. She should contact Susanna less.

Susanna was extremely regretful. "Young Lady Qiqi, if you're willing to join my father's team, these rewards will be easy to obtain. Are you really not going to consider it?"

If Professor Brown personally led the team to participate in the World Medical Competition, he would definitely be the champion.

There was no doubt about this.

Gu Qiqi never expected that the other party would be so serious in repaying her debt and even make Gu Qiqi rich.

Should she go or not?

Gu Qiqi looked at Gong Jue curiously. When she met the man's cold gaze, she shrank back and stopped immediately.

"I'm sorry, Miss Susanna. I appreciate your kindness. I... I'm not participating alone. I have a small team myself. I have to be responsible for them."

"Your team? It should be very small, right?" Susanna was a typical foreigner. She spoke honestly and without any reservation.

Gu Qiqi wasn't angry either. She smiled and said, "That's right. Not only is it small, but they're also completely unknown. In fact, they're not even doctors. They're just students. But in my heart, this small team is very important and I have a lot of emotional connections with them. If I abandon them and go to another team, they'll be sad too."

She still had Qiu Qiu, Bei Mingtian, and Xiaolan.

How could she only care about getting rich and joining Dr. Brown's team?

Gong Jue squinted and didn't stop Gu Qiqi from rejecting Susanna.

He was happy to see this happen.

Compared to this Susanna and her father, he would rather let that heartless child Qiu Qiu and that soft girl Xiaolan follow Gu Qiqi. At least, Qiu Qiu didn't treat Gu Qiqi like a woman!

As for Xiao Lan, her soul had already been seduced by Young Master Ye. She no longer had any thoughts about Qiqi.

As for that Bei Mingtian, he seemed to be disdainful of Qiqi and was extremely cold.

They were all safe!

Seeing that she couldn't persuade Gu Qiqi, Susanna could only nod gloomily. "Alright then, Young Lady Qiqi. I respect your decision. However, during the competition, if you have anything you need, you can instruct me anytime. My father definitely has any herbs that you can't find here. My father can give you the latest medical apparatus in the world for free!"

Oh, it shouldn't be a big deal to agree to this, right?

Gu Qiqi didn't look at Gong Jue's expression anymore and agreed directly. "Okay, see you in the competition."

She was still in a hurry to return to school and find medicine for the boy. She was in no mood to continue chatting with Susanna, so she prepared to leave.

Chapter 937: The Surprising Discovery From the Medicine Manual

But Susanna didn't want to leave yet.

Pursing her lips, she took out a gift box from behind her back. "This is the gift I prepared for the Little Master. I heard that you nearly lost the Little Master and that he was injured, in order to save me that day. I should apologize to him too."

Gu Qiqi was speechless.

The fact that the boy was injured and his relationship with Gong Jue could not be made public!

She was in a difficult position.

Gong Jue's face turned cold. "There's no need! Take it back!"

Susanna was speechless.

This man was too cold, heartless, and terrifying.

There was simply no way to curry favor with him!

Furthermore, he was a crazy wife-protecting demon. She was a woman. He didn't even let her approach Gu Qiqi!

Susanna had no choice but to leave with the gift box that she hadn't given away.

Gong Jue didn't allow any outsiders to visit the boy and tightened the security and patrol outside the hospital.

Gu Qiqi removed the splints on her feet and repeatedly promised Gong Jue that she would only return to school to collect herbs and definitely not run around. Only then was she able to take half a day off and leave the hospital.

As the little dirty turtle kept giving her color points to nourish her body, her fracture recovered much faster than ordinary people.

Although it had only been three days, she was no longer limping.

However, she couldn't make any big movements yet. She had to continue nursing her tendons.

She returned to school and followed the route that Feng Yangchu had given her as she walked into the depths of the dense forest.

An hour later, she slowly walked to the place where the Medicine Manual was last time.

Qing Dai Stone!

That Qing Dai Stone was still lying there untouched. It was exactly the same as when she left last time. As time passed, no strange patterns or words appeared on the stone like what was written in novels. Indeed, novels were all lies!

Gu Qiqi muttered a few words and resigned herself to picking the Green Wind Vines first.

Her memory was right. Less than half a meter away from the Qing Dai Stone, there was a purple bush covered in Green Wind Vines.

It was pure wild grown! The medicinal effect was definitely strong!

Unfortunately, it was at most three to five years old.

It would require a hundred-year-old Green Wind Vine to cure the little packrat.

However, who was Gu Qiqi? She had the little dirty turtle and the small medicine stove!

She refined the Green Wind Vine with the medicine stove and nourished it with color points. Soon, the Hundred-Year Green Wind Vine was refined!

Gu Qiqi hadn't refined medicine for a long time. This torment made her somewhat tired. She wiped her sweat and simply meditated on the spot to regulate her breathing.

Beside the purple bush was a small patch of grass. Gu Qiqi initially wanted to sit down and regulate her breathing.

But just as she was about to sit down, she realized that there was a cluster of herbs under her.

"Oh, it's black leeks. They're so lush that I can't bear to sit on you anymore..."

Gu Qiqi muttered and moved her buttocks.

However, just as she was about to sit down at the side...

"Eh, it's actually ginseng over here..."

"There's also licorice... Faxia... Seven Star Grass..."

Gu Qiqi moved all the way over. There was actually no place to place her buttocks!

It was because there were medicinal herbs all along the way. They were packed to the side and incomparably lush. They were simply like the hands of a god. The god especially favored this piece of land and didn't waste a single inch. Be it ordinary or precious herbs, they covered the ground.

It formed a stark contrast with the bare Qing Dai stone.

Previously, when she and Feng Yangchu came, they were in a hurry and didn't notice it. Seeing so many herbs at this moment, even she couldn't help but click her tongue in wonder.

All the pharmaceutical students knew that if they wanted to pluck herbs, they might not be able to collect a few even if they searched the entire mountain top.

But just within this square inch, she could see dozens of Chinese herbs with a casual glance, let alone the other three sides of the Qing Dai Stone a few meters away...

This was really a land full of treasure.

Could it be that this Qing Dai Stone had some spiritual aura?

This thought flashed across her mind.

Ding!

It seemed to have opened a door in her mind.

She made a shocking discovery!

Chapter 938: Finding the Real Medicine Manual

Gu Qiqi muttered in disbelief, "Black leek... Ginseng... licorice... Faxia... Seven Star Grass... Coupled with that Green Wind Vine just now, it was the prescription that I prepared for the little boy. I actually found it all here at once. They're all pure wild grown!"

This simply didn't make sense.

What was more amazing was that these herbs actually grew according to the order of the herbs being boiled.

For example, licorice couldn't be placed in the medicine stove at the start and was placed in the middle. The Seven Star Grass had to be boiled last, so it was also the last in a straight line.

When she came to the Seven Star Grass, it stopped abruptly. There was a small piece of land that was actually empty.

The following herbs were earth ginseng, Feiyang Grass, and Nine Li Xiang...

Gu Qiqi, who had memorized the medicine books, could tell at a glance that these few herbs were suitable to form a prescription!

Her heart beat rapidly.

A bold idea gradually formed in her mind.

Could it be that the herbs growing in this grassland were naturally arranged according to each prescription?

Was it a coincidence?

Her palms trembled slightly as she walked forward.

After walking for more than ten meters,

All the herbs that she had passed by had pharmaceutical connections and could be combined. She knew some prescriptions that increased or reduced one or two medications. She thought about it carefully and realized that this increase and reduction was indeed very marvelous. The medicinal effect was better and the side effects were fewer!

She had never seen the combination of some prescriptions before.

She could only judge from the medicinal properties that it was probably used to treat some type of illness.

As she continued to walk, her heart beat increasingly fiercely.

It was simply shocking!

If the sequence of these herbs was the masterpiece of God's Hand, that would be too shocking.

This was simply a wordless book.

It was the best medicine book written by nature.

Medicine books of nature... Medicine books...

Gu Qiqi stopped in her tracks!

Her fair fingertips couldn't help but tremble.

The words that Gong Jue said to her not long ago reverberated in her ears. "...Perhaps, that stone isn't a medicine manual. Since it can be called a medicine manual, there must be a myriad of formulas inside. No matter how much a stone changes, the prescription can't be changed. The ancient people's wisdom is very simple and isn't that complicated. The next time you look at the Medicine Manual, carefully observe the environment around it and see if there's anything special..."

Back then, she still disapproved of Gong Jue's words as a "layman".

She only brushed him off with a few words.

At this moment, when she thought back to Gong Jue's words, she realized that they actually made sense and had foresight.

Medicine Manual should be ever-changing.

The marvelous work of nature would definitely produce a myriad of changes as the seasons changed.

There were more than a hundred prescriptions in sight now. If the seasons changed, this combination would increase by a few times.

In other words, countless natural prescriptions existed within a few miles of the Qing Dai Stone.

The Medicine Manual wasn't the Qing Dai Stone.

It was the natural herbs nurtured by the land where the Qing Dai Stone was located!

How awesome!

It turned out that the Medicine Manual that had been handed down for thousands of years was really awesome.

No book with words could have such natural and comprehensive records.

Furthermore, the prescription directly gave her the raw materials to use.

Gu Qiqi cried tears of joy.

At this moment, she had a feeling that she had unintentionally understood the mysteries of nature and turned on a light.

She took a deep breath and wasn't distracted. Her gaze swept across the cluster of herbs and she started to silently record all the natural prescriptions in her mind. She would leave them for later to study. What illnesses did these prescriptions treat...

Unknowingly, the sky had turned dark.

Only when her phone rang did she wake up from the pharmaceutical world.

She thought that Gong Jue was going to flare up and urge her to return.

Unexpectedly, it wasn't Gong Jue's call...

Chapter 939: Could There Be A Mole?

Gu Qiqi picked up the call. It was from Qiu Qiu.

"Master! Where have you been these few days? Bei Mingtian said that we're going to undergo training. Otherwise, we'll lose face in the World Medical Competition. Do you know? Our opponents include the great pharmacist from the Bai Clan's Medical Hall, the great pharmacist from the Chu Clan's pharmacy, and even that most awesome team of Dr Brown's from the international medical world! Oh my, so many big shots from the pharmaceutical world. I think our small team is going to die!"

Qiu Qiu shouted exaggeratedly.

Gu Qiqi smiled. "Oh, I know that Dr. Brown's team is here. The Bai Clan's Medical Hall? I don't take them seriously. As for the Chu Clan's great pharmacist... Isn't that us?"

"Ah? Master? Is the signal bad? Did I hear wrongly? You... Can you repeat yourself?"

"I said that we're the team sponsored by the Chu Clan. So, we can represent the Chu Clan."

"Really?!" Qiu Qiu spun around in excitement. "Master, you're too awesome! You actually managed to get the Chu Clan to support us. I'm not afraid anymore! Let's kill them! Hmph!"

Gu Qiqi shook her head speechlessly. "That's not right. The only people who can support us are ourselves. In any competition, we have to rely on our own strength to win. Those supporting pharmaceutical companies are just icing on the cake."

Qiu Qiu stuck out his tongue. "I know, Master! Then when will we start the collective training? The competition will start in two days!"

Gu Qiqi thought for a while.

For the next two days, she had to accompany the little boy and observe his condition while he took the medicine. She was unable to do anything else.

“How about this? Listen to Bei Mingtian’s instructions. You’ll start the training and figure out the competition rules. Then, make a plan and study our strengths. When I have time on my side, I’ll meet up with you...”

As she spoke, she heard Bei Mingtian’s arrogant voice coming from the other end of the call. He said coldly, “Cut the crap. I knew that she was busy. Why did you call her? Let’s do it!”

Gu Qiqi couldn’t help but laugh. “I’m not a noble. I’m so busy because I work so hard, okay?”

“Hmph! Anyway, I knew that you wouldn’t come!”

“I didn’t say that I wasn’t coming either. Wait for me, in two days...” Gu Qiqi still wanted to explain, but Bei Mingtian had already cut off Qiu Qiu’s phone call.

“Oh, the cold beauty is so stubborn...” Gu Qiqi shrugged helplessly.

Why did she feel that Bei Mingtian’s coldness was a little like acting coquettishly... He was like a child who couldn’t wait for his parents at home. That kind of coquettishness was like “Don’t come back if you’re late”. Haha.

Perhaps because she had found the true location of the Medicine Manual, Gu Qiqi was in a good mood.

She curved her lips and remembered the prescription from the Medicine Manual for a while. Only when the sky was completely dark did she walk back.

When she returned to the hospital, she realized why Gong Jue didn’t call to urge her to return.

Not long after she left in the afternoon, an unknown person entered the hospital and tried to rush into the little boy’s operating room!

There were secret guards at every entrance and exit of the hospital, but someone actually managed to sneak in.

She had to admit that that person was very familiar with the current situation in the hospital.

They even knew the floor where the boy was located.

What was worse was that they had even figured out the route of retreat. They completely let Gong Jue’s people not have a hold on them.

This was dangerous.

Thus, Gong Jue spent the entire afternoon replanning the defenses. He even considered changing hospitals.

It was just that the little boy was still unconscious and it was not suitable to move him. Furthermore, he also wanted to continue catching the perpetrator like a turtle in a jar. Thus, he gave up on this thought of moving.

When Gu Qiqi returned and heard about this matter, her mood became more serious.

Could it be that... there was a spy among them?

Chapter 940: She Was A Spy?

Gu Qiqi believed that Gong Jue's subordinates must have been carefully selected to protect the boy. There was definitely no traitor.

It was even more impossible for her to reveal the little boy's whereabouts.

The medical staff in the hospital had homes and families. They were all under control, and the possibility of leaking the secret was very small.

If there was anyone else who came today... it was Dr. Brown's daughter, Susanna.

But that girl was at most a fool and a little girl who had not grown up yet. She did not even know the identity of the little boy, so who could she leak the secret to?

Gu Qiqi thought about it but couldn't think of anything.

Gong Jue took this opportunity to repeat himself so that Gu Qiqi would have less contact with that Susanna.

This matter was already over like this, so it was fine to strengthen the defense.

But when Gong Qing found out, he made a fuss for the entire night.

Gong Qing insisted that Gu Qiqi had leaked the secret.

"Only that b*tch went out for a while today. She went out for so long and only returned in the middle of the night. Who knows who she went to snitch to? How could it be such a coincidence that something happened when she wasn't around? She even said that she wasn't a spy planted in H Nation?"

Gong Qing was very angry.

If Gong Jue hadn't stopped him, Gu Qiqi would probably have been arrested and imprisoned by Gong Qing at this moment.

"With me around, who would dare to touch her?!" Gong Jue didn't say much, but his voice was powerful.

Gong Qing said, "You brat, stop acting big in front of me. One day, you'll definitely be killed by this vixen! I'll let you be stubborn!"

Gong Jue retorted without a care. "Are you going to interfere with me and my wife's immortal lust?"

Gong Qing said, "You... How did I have a shameless son like you?!"

Gong Jue asked, "Why do I have such an unclear and unreasonable father?"

Gu Qiqi's head hurt when she heard this. She didn't want father and son to quarrel all day long either.

However, Gong Qing was so stubborn. It was impossible to persuade him with just one or two words of explanation from her and Gong Jue.

She took a deep breath and said lightly, "Uncle Gong, I know that I'm very suspicious..."

Gong Qing snorted coldly. "Hmph, you still have some self-awareness?"

Gu Qiqi changed the topic. "However, I don't like to defend myself. I prefer to speak with my actions."

As she spoke, she took out the fresh herbs from her backpack, "This is the medicine that I picked in the afternoon. I have to take advantage of the freshness of the medicine to prepare the prescription, for the best effect. If there's nothing else on your end, can I prepare the medicine for the little boy first?"

Gong Qing was speechless.

Damn it. The vixen's mouth was so powerful that he couldn't refute her with just a few words.

Could it be that he was going to say that his grandson's illness wasn't urgent and that he wanted them to stay behind and listen to him lecture them for ten hours?

Gong Jue hugged his wife and left. For the first time, he felt that his daughter-in-law's calm character was really his nemesis.

Yes, this was very good!

Back in her room, Gu Qiqi started fiddling with the herbs.

The medicine was ready. But the little boy's biggest problem now was that he was unable to eat or drink while unconscious.

If he didn't drink such a big bowl of medicine, how was he going to ingest it? It would be troublesome if the medicine went into his trachea instead.

All the doctors and nurses were helpless.

Gu Qiqi made a prompt decision. "Let's let the blood flow first before we do the blood transfusion. Let's adjust the blood flow before I think of a way to administer the medicine."

Blood was released from the acupuncture points!

No one dared to operate.

Gu Qiqi held the silver needle and stood firmly on the operating table.

She was very proficient in letting blood flow through acupuncture points. It could be said to be one of the trademark skills in her previous life.

But for some reason, her fingertips trembled at this moment.

It was said that doctors couldn't operate on their own family and children because their hands would tremble!

Could it be that she had long treated the boy as her child in her heart?