

Dear Chief 97

Chapter 97: A Dog Fight

Once she said it, the students who had been quiet became active again.

“That’s right. It’s just a meal. It’s nothing to ballers!”

“This is our last meal after graduating from high school. After we’re done eating, we’ll go our separate ways. It’s also Xiao Ning’s blessing to foot the bill!”

“That’s right. It means something different. I think Little Master Xiao Ning has no reason to refuse...”

“Xue Xue, tell the waiter that you’ll go and settle the bill with Xiao Ning later!”

“Hey, let’s not drink anymore. Let’s hurry up and order some delicious food. Quick, ask what kind of snacks here are the most expensive and high-end...”

Everyone chimed in with Gu Xuexue.

In fact, she was already busy “helping” Xiao Ning spend more money.

But no one mentioned it. On the bill, the total amount of consumption was written clearly in black and white —

More than 900,000!

This wasn’t a small amount.

Gu Qiqi looked cold. With an empty wine bottle in one hand and a fingernail in the other, she said, “Do you all think that Xiao Ning should pay?”

In their high spirits, everyone nodded. “That’s right!”

They thought that they were entitled because they were poor and she was rich.

Gu Xuexue was even more arrogant.

In her heart, she couldn’t ruin Gu Qiqi but it was also very satisfying to cheat Gu Qiqi’s best friend.

“I already said that letting Xiao Ning fork out the money was everyone giving her face —”

Gu Xuexue was halfway through her impatient words.

Suddenly, she stopped.

Bam!

There was a crisp sound.

Gu Qiqi smashed the empty wine bottle in her hand.

The resplendent crystal wine bottle exploded into countless pieces and splashed onto the stage.

A second later.

The female students' screams reverberated.

But Gu Qiqi stood there coolly and smiled coldly. "So, the bet just now was nothing?"

Gu Xuexue's eyes were filled with tears. She was so frightened that she nearly pissed her pants. "Gu Qiqi, talk nicely. Why are you..."

"I'm asking you if you lied just now!"

"No, it's not lying..."

"So the rules are...?"

"Whoever loses will have to foot the bill!"

It wasn't Gu Xuexue who was being a coward. In Gu Qiqi's hand, a sharp piece of the wine bottle was pressing against her neck!

Seeing the ruthlessness in Gu Qiqi's eyes, she absolutely believed that if she still dared to push the bill to Xiao Ning...

Gu Qiqi would definitely stab the broken glass bottle into her neck!

It even scratched her face!

How would she dare to argue back?

Yao Dazhuang, on the other hand, was drunk. He glared fiercely at Gu Xuexue. "It's all because of you, you wicked woman! Weren't you telling me just now that this bookworm doesn't know how to drink at all? You wanted me to force her to drink to her death? Now, I owe 900,000 dollars. You have to pay me back!"

Gu Qiqi swept her cold gaze across Yao Dazhuang and Gu Xuexue. "Hmm? Trying to force me to my death?"

This time, even the female students who were here to support Gu Xuexue didn't dare to help her anymore.

It turned out that Xue Xue had been plotting against her cousin behind her back.

Everyone only wanted to bully a bookworm for fun, but they really didn't want to force Gu Qiqi to her death.

After all, although they looked down on her, there was no deep hatred between them.

Everyone unconsciously took a step back.

Maintaining a distance from Gu Xuexue.

This person could scheme against her cousin and her classmate like this.

It was better to stay away from people like Gu Xuexue in the future.

Gu Xuexue realized that she was being betrayed by everyone. Even Zhu Fen had begun to leave her side.

She hated Gu Qiqi to the core.

But because of the broken glass on her neck that could pierce through her skin at any moment, she could only concede. "I... I didn't say that. Yao Dazhuang heard wrongly..."

"F*ck! Stupid b*tch! Did you say that I heard wrongly?" Yao Dazhuang couldn't take it anymore.

A trace of smile flashed past Gu Qiqi's eyes.

Very good. A dogfight.
