

My dear lawyer - Chapter 6 Yours is too big

William stopped after quite a while. He looked at Vivian's rosy cheeks and touched her lips. His voice was dull. "Go to my home?"

Can Vivian say no? This man's eyes, the lips she loves so much and the magnetic voice, all can't let her refuse. So, she said 'yes' in small voice.

They have not seen each other more than two weeks, so they were very eager. When they just got home, they kissed together urgently.

But William was gentle and did a great deal of foreplay until Vivian nodded. He didn't go in until Vivian nodded. When she frowned, he moved more slowly, and asked, "Does it hurt?"

"Not bad." Vivian was shaking all over and her red face was getting redder and redder. She said in a low voice, "It's just because that it's too big, so I'm a little..." It was so embarrassing that she stopped talking at last.

They had have sex many times, but Vivian couldn't get used to his size.

When William was a little stunned, and then he actually laughed, which made Vivian thought he was laughing at herself. Vivian was even more embarrassed and hit him with her hand. "You, don't laugh."

"Vivian, you're so cute." The man smiled joyfully from his throat and bent his head to kiss her red lips.

They didn't make love several times this night, but every time it lasted for a long time, which made Vivian wonder if the man would not get tired. Later, when he carried her to take a bath she really couldn't hold up and fell asleep silently in the bathtub.

By the time Vivian woke up, William was not there, and the phone on her nightstand was buzzing.

Vivian's hands shook when she saw the caller and she finally pressed the answer button.

"What's the matter, Angie?"

"What are you doing, I made a few phone calls, why don't you answer?" Angie complained and then asked Vivian if she was busy. "If you're not busy, can you go shopping with me? I'm bored at the hotel."

Vivian said yes to Angie without thinking about it. When she got out of bed after talking on the phone, she felt her legs were terrible and so sore.

Vivian blushed at the thought of her intimate affair last night.

Although William took care of her last night and his action was not rough, but because of the long time, Vivian was a bit weak.

She decided she must set a time limit next time, and let the man restrain his desire.

When Vivian changed her clothes and went out of the bedroom, she found William hadn't left: "Why haven't you left?"

"The case in my hand won't start until Friday, so I'm not busy these days. I can go to work in the morning or not." said William, glancing at her. "Are you all right? Are you sure you don't need to get any more sleep? *

Vivian glared at him instantly.

She wouldn't have been sore if the guy hadn't been full of energy all night.

Vivian didn't say she would go shopping with Angie either. She just said she was afraid the shop would be short of staff and would have to leave after breakfast.

When he went out, William took out his new pair of high heels and squatted down to put them on her. His delicate look made Vivian feel warm and guilty.

Vivian took a detour to change her shoes before she went to the hotel to pick Angie up. The clerk curiously asks: "Manager, the shoes are very nice, why do you change?"

"The shoes can't get wet. According to the weather forecast, it will rain today." Vivian replied with a smile.

Angie had seen them too, so she was afraid to wear them.

Angie was a shopaholic and would buy clothes and shoes whenever she saw them. When Vivian advised her to buy less, she said, "You can't let me put my money to sleep in the bank, can you?"

Vivian:

After hanging a half of the city, Angie was finally a little tired and looked for a place to eat.
