

Death 2401

Death... and me

Chapter 2401: The Sudden Turn

Going back a few seconds in the past, just when the Vruves appeared, Grovan had already told all his companions that they would kill everyone other than Nalui. That said, his group quickly spread and charged at different opponents.

Everyone, naturally, noticed the other experts coming after them. However, little did they notice that Rean and Kentucky had purposely positioned themselves so that the Space-Time Realm enemies would end up selecting them as their targets.

As soon as the Vruve arrived, Nalui put his treasure that blocked Divine Senses away. He knew that the Vruves most likely used some other method to find his location. Not only that, but they also followed him without alarming his group.

With Nalui's treasure out, Rean and Kentucky could tell each of the experts' strengths with Rean's Divine Sense Bending Skill. He soon noticed that the Vruves had one Peak Stage Space-Time Realm expert, two Late-Stage, and two Initial Stage ones.

Kanglia was in this realm but at the Middle Stage, so she had to face the second Late Stage expert even though she would be at a disadvantage. Nalui faced the guy called Dengais, who was in the same realm and stage as him.

That left the two Initial Stage Space-Time Realm experts free to move. Once Rean and Kentucky positioned themselves, those two remaining Initial Stage Space-Time Realm experts from the Vruve immediately charged at them.

Everyone other than Kanglia, Kinglei, and Nalui was in the Elemental Space Realm, so these two Vruves didn't put them in their eyes at all. Especially since the Vruves were usually stronger than those at the same level.

Too bad, though. That overconfidence was the downfall of the first Space-Time Realm expert in this battle. Well, it wasn't like you could blame him. Although there was only one stage separating Rean and the guy, the Vruve who attacked him was in the Space-Time Realm. His ability to control Time Power was supposed to give him the ultimate advantage against anyone below this level.

Naturally, that wasn't the case for Rean. He pretended to try to flee while the enemy's Time Power forced him to slow down. While the enemy approached to deliver the killing blow, Rean even turned around and put his sword in front of him in a defensive form, seeming to be terrified.

Yet, just as the enemy's weapon was about to pierce Rean's head, Rean's Sky Energy, Sword Aura, Life World Domain, and Time Power immediately burst out at full strength. Rean dodged the sure-killing blow in the last instant while his sword changed direction. It was too fast, too sudden, too unexpected!

The heart of the Vruve was pierced, and Rean's Light and Dark Elements rampaged inside his body, completely destroying his meridians. Naturally, Rean was taking Dark Element from Roan inside the Soul Gem Dimensional Realm.

"Jidambo!" Dengais shouted as his expression showed extreme shock. He could never have expected a Space-Time Realm expert from the Vruve Organization to die in the hands of an Elemental Space Realm expert from somewhere else. Too bad Rean was as strong as a Middle-Stage Space-Time Realm, though.

Rean didn't wait for everyone to recover from their surprise. That's because Kentucky, who was still pretending to be 'weak' until now, immediately acted after Rean killed the first opponent.

'Kawa Blade Domain!'

A field of Blade Feather appeared around his enemy. Rean's body moved at breakneck speed, and he took advantage of that Kentucky had led the other Space-Time Initial Stage Vruve near him. His Life World Domain instantly neutralized all the opponent's Domain Effects, including the beneficial ones for the enemy himself.

"Nafrak, careful!" Grovan, who was keeping his Divine Sense over the battlefield, immediately noticed Rean and Kentucky's aim. By now, he would need to be an idiot to not know that Rean and Kentucky were way, wayyyy stronger than their cultivation realms suggested.

He immediately tried to get away from Kinglei, but how could Kinglei allow that? "Hey, you are playing with me!"

Kinglei increased the pressure, giving Grovan no time to care about anyone else. As much as he hated to admit it, he had to admit that this Kinglei, someone who wasn't part of the Vruves, had a similar strength to his. "Crowley, help him!"

However, that wasn't the case for everyone. Nalui could still hold his own against Dengais and prevent him from intervening. However, Kanglia was at a disadvantage from the very start. Her cultivation was a realm lower than her enemy, the guy called Crowley, and she was a pretty average cultivator at that. If things continued like this, she would die in just a few minutes. Holding her enemy back and preventing him from bothering Rean and Kentucky? That was way outside her abilities.

Nafrak was instantly put on the backfoot against Rean and Kentucky. Especially since Rean's Time Powers made his own pretty useless against his opponent. As for his Domain, he was definitely using it, but he simply couldn't feel the effect at all, which was a first in his life.

*Bang, bang, bang!*

Rean and Kentucky bombarded the guy from everywhere, giving him almost no chance to defend. In a matter of a second, the injuries over Nafrak's body were already plenty. He was purposely letting Kentucky's Blade Feather Domain hit his body just so that he could focus on Rean and Kentucky themselves. That was his only chance of surviving as long as possible.

"Immortal Slahing Through the Heavens!"

Suddenly, a powerful wave of Sword Energy entered Rean and Kentucky's domain, aiming straight at the two of them. Rean and Kentucky dodged at the last moment, but that also forced them to let Nafrak retreat. Nafrak then quickly left Rean and Kentucky's Domain while Crowley stopped just outside, having noticed Rean's weird Domain ability. Yet, he sighed in relief. At least he saved Nafrak and could now turn the tides of this battle in their favor... or so he thought.

'Death Style, Death Scythe!'

*Arrrrghhh!*

It was then that another scream echoed through the battlefield as Nafrak's body went limp. At the height of his Dantian, a White Blade split his body in two!

Roan... decided to show himself!

Death... and me

Chapter 2402: Even More Surprises

Even Kanglia and Kinglei didn't know who the guy was. Because of Rean's Body Transformation Skill, Roan had a completely different appearance to Rean. Of course, Rean didn't want to get any misunderstandings, so he sent everyone a Divine Sense Message. 'Don't worry, he is here to help. That's a friend of mine who is traveling with me. I let him inside my Pocket Dimensional Realm.'

Still, Kanglia, Kinglei, and all the other experts didn't even see him appearing. Usually, when something comes out of the Pocket Dimensional Realm, there is an oscillation in space around the area where it will appear. That oscillation was pretty obvious and prevented anyone from being taken by surprise because of experts inside someone's Dimensional Realms. However, no one noticed when Roan came outside of the Soul Gem Dimensional Realm.

Roan wasn't there to explain, though. He immediately changed targets and charged straight at Crowley. At the same time, he sent Kanglia a Divine Sense Message, too. 'What are you spacing out for? Help to deal with this guy! He is too strong for me alone.'

'Death World Domain!'

Kanglia woke up from her stupor and immediately shot in Crowley's direction. Rean, obviously, did the same thing.

Crowley quickly recovered from that setback. The truth still remained. His side her two Late Stage Space-Time Realm cultivators, and he was one of them. So what if Rean, Roan, and Kanglia joined hands? Instead of running away, he decided he might as well get rid of Roan.

'Timeless Spatial Severing!'

Space and time gathered around Roan's body and Crowley's weapon. Seeing that Roan was only in the Peak Stage of the Elemental Space Realm and was the closest to him, he was certain he could eliminate Roan in a single go. Kanglia definitely wouldn't arrive in time to help him.

Crowley's speed with his control over time was much faster than Roan's, especially since Crowley was trying to hold Roan down with his time power. His sword attack arrived in front of Roan in a fraction of a second, giving Roan no time to dodge.

Yet, Roan had no intention to dodge in the first place. His body burst with Sky Energy and Dark Element. His own Time Power, now much better after entering the Peak Stage, countered Crowley's, at least preventing him from being affected. Then, his scythe moved to encounter Crowley's attack.

'Death Style, Reversive Arcs!'

Countless threads of Dark Element and Sky Energy, fuelled by his Scythe Aura, created a shield in front of Crowley's sword just in the time it arrived.

*Bang!*

The threads bent backward, forcing Roan back several tens of meters. Yet, no injury appeared on his body, although he did look like to used quite some strength to defend against it.

"What?!" Crowley couldn't believe what he saw. He would have accepted it if Roan had used some treasure to save his life against his attack. However, it was obvious Roan only used his strength and his weapon. With just that, he was able to survive a Late Space-Time Realm attack.

Roan coldly smiled, having bought the time he needed. As soon as the attack failed, another three Domains enveloped Crowley. One was Kanglia's Fire Domain, although it wasn't as useful as the twins. The other two were obviously Rean and Kentucky's. Roan's one was already corriding Crowley's Domain. Now that Rean appeared to completely nullify all its effects, Crowley's Domain became nothing but a meaningless expenditure of energy. "What the hell is this?!"

"Ask yourself again in the next life!" Rean instantly attacked, not giving Crowley any time to think. Rean and Roan had a personal vendetta against the Vruves, too. After all, they destroyed the Sunkan Planet. If not for the system, everyone would have really died.

'Life Fire, Flame Emperor Sword!'

Crowley's anger immediately surfaced. "Just because you have a somewhat weird Domain, do you think you can bridge the gap in cultivation between us? Courting Death!"

Crowley's Domain was indeed nullified, but he could still use his Spatial and Time Powers. He raised his sword, and it began to shine with a blue color. Right after, it seemed to grow hundreds of meters long!

'Timeless Illusion Slash!'

Even though it grew that big, the sword's speed didn't reduce. If anything, it seemed even faster than when it was used to attack Roan. However, Rean was extremely confident in his Black Star Sword and his other abilities. Sky Energy, Light and Dark Element, Sword Aura, Time Power, Space-Light Power. Everything was used in his Flame Emperor Sword as both swords clashed against each other!

*Boom!*

A huge burst of Divine Origin Energy, Space and Time Powers spread from the point of collision. Just like Roan, Rean was also forced back, taking several tens of meters to steady himself. Nonetheless, he just smiled as his Light Element immediately healed the injuries caused by the clash.

Crowley was already losing his mind. Not only one, but two Elemental Space Realm cultivators were able to hold his all-out attacks. How could that be possible?!

'Not good!'

Obviously, Kanglia and ROan didn't just watch as Crowley and Rean exchanged blows. In fact, Kanglai almost stopped herself because she also didn't think Rean would be able to defend against Crowley.

Fortunately, Rean told her to believe in him and continue to charge. Without much of a choice, Kanglia did exactly that. To her shock, Rean was able to do that.

A red staff appeared in Kanglia's hand, a weapon she hadn't used until now. Her Spatial Powers, Fire Element, and everything else were already enveloping it as her staff came crashing down against Crowley.

Crowley gritted his teeth as another sword appeared on his other hand. He then performed a quite acrobatic movement, using both swords to stop Kanglia... and Roan!

Yes, he noticed Roan's opportunistic move after the clash against Rean. Still, he was furious about how annoying was the position Roan used to attack. It was truly the worst possible, forcing him to bring out his second sword, something he hadn't done in several centuries!

Death... and me

Chapter 2403: The Battle Continues

*Bang, bang!*

With Roan and Kanglia's Power, they weren't the ones being forced back this time. Instead, it was Crowley. Even his full force with Spatial and Time Powers was not enough to gain the upper hand. 'These fucking Domains! Also, how the hell are these two humans using Time Powers at the Elemental Space Realm?!'

Still, Crowley didn't give up. He didn't accept that a Late Space-Time Realm expert from the Vruve Organization like him was on his back foot against cultivators on a lower realm.

*Arrrghhh!*

Suddenly, he heard another scream. His Divine Sense then focused in that direction, just in time to see a Divine Bird finishing off one of the Vruve Organization experts. Yes, Kentucky didn't come after Crowley. Roan told him to go after the Elemental Space Realm experts. Kentucky was definitely much stronger than any of those with his own Sky Energy, after all.

Kentucky had also used his Domain to trap another two of the Vruve Organization Elemental Space Realm enemies. With the help of Bacia and a guy called Culoj, they wouldn't take more than a few seconds to finish those two.

In fact, you could say that those experts of the Vruve Organization are indeed much stronger than your usual cultivators. Kentucky wasn't as strong as Rean and Roan, but he was very close, definitely strong enough to hold his own against a Space-Time Realm Middle Stage for a while. Yet, he couldn't instantly crush these Elemental Space Realm enemies. That was proof of their much higher strength. Too bad they selected the wrong opponents.

Grovan continued to exchange several clashes against Kinglei, failing to take the upper hand. Kinglei was another anomaly that went against Grovan's expectations. Although he wasn't as ridiculous as Rean and Roan, just the fact that Kinglei could fight against him was already surprising enough.

At first, the Vruves held the advantage since they were stronger than others at the same level. The Elemental Space Realm members from Rean's group were instantly suppressed by their enemies. Unfortunately for them, they barely had the time to use that advantage before Rean killed the first Initial Stage Space-Time Realm Vruve.

*Boom!*

*Ahhhh!*

Kentucky used his Kawa's Divine Thrust, finishing another enemy. The last one inside his Domain immediately tried to flee, but with three against one and Kentucky being much faster while flying, he would find it very hard to succeed.

Roan, Rean, and Kanglia join efforts continued. Crowley was able to use his huge cultivation advantage to keep them occupied, but he knew he wouldn't last forever. He definitely had more reserves of Divine Origin Energy than the three attacking him. However, he was also spending several times more to defend against them while he could barely find opportunities to attack.

*Bzzzzzz!*

Grovan, seeing that they would end up losing, gritted his teeth and pulled out a purple and triangular-shaped object from his Pocket Dimensional Realm. Right after, he poured his Divine Origin Energy inside, causing it to suddenly expand.

Kinglei felt something wrong with that treasure and immediately flew back. However, Groan just snorted. "Too late!"

That triangular-shaped treasure then disappeared from his hand, appearing right above Kinglei's head! Kinglei was taken aback, not being able to feel how it moved so fast. However, he had fought other experts in the past that had their own treasures. 'Definitely a treasure made by a Divinity Realm expert,' he thought. He quickly took out his own trump card, which enveloped him in a green cocoon.

Both the Purple Triangle and the green cocoon emanated a power far beyond what a Space-Time Realm cultivator could show. Nonetheless, Grovan didn't seem worried. "Hmph! Idiot!"

Finally, the Purple Triangle enveloped the green cocoon, creating a separate dimension inside. Kinglei finally understood. That treasure wasn't there to use a Divinity Realm power to attack him. Instead, it was a sealing treasure. Grovan's idea was very simple. He wanted to keep Kinglei trapped while he dealt with the rest of the group of cultivators and demon beasts. Once everyone was dead, they could all focus on Kinglei alone, and he definitely wouldn't escape.

Seeing that his treasure worked, Grovan completely ignored Kinglei and flew in Crowley's direction. That was the most important battle of the field after his one. As soon as he joined that fight, he and Crowley would definitely turn the tables instantly.

*Crack...*

However, a sound that Grovan couldn't believe would appear so soon came from behind. He stopped on his track and looked back just in time to see the purple triangular prison created by the treasure cracking all over. Finally...

*Crash!*

Similar to the sound of glass breaking, the purple triangular prison broke apart!

"Impossible!"

Grovan knew that treasure better than anyone. Even a real Divinity Realm expert would have taken some time to break the treasure. Even if Kinglei had used another treasure of a similar level, the purple triangle should have lasted for quite some time until its energy was consumed. How could it break this easily?

From inside, Kinglei stepped out as his green cocoon disappeared into a green bead. He held a cold expression, preparing to continue the fight.

However, even though his expression was like that, deep in his mind, one could only see deep confusion... 'Just what happened? How did this thing break out of nowhere?'

Rean and Roan, not feeling surprised at all, continued their attacks against Crowley. They even warned Kanglia to ignore the events with Kinglei so that they could finish this side fast enough.

At the same time, Rean spoke into the Soul Gem Dimensional Realm. 'Good job, Sister Orb!'

[Hehe! That was nothing!]

Yes! Sister Orb was the reason why the Purple Triangle Prison broke like that. The treasure was basically a very compact formation of quite a high level. However, the moment Grovan took it out, Sister Orb noticed it. She didn't try to hack into it, though. Even with the Soul Gem System's actual processing power, it would still take at least half an hour to take control of it.

Instead, she took advantage of the fact that the treasure wasn't activated yet and took control of just a few very specific runes... energy runes! If it was activated, she would never be able to do that. But a completely deactivated treasure was enough to at least dominate those few runes in that small time frame. When the treasure activated, Sister Orb also acted and made the few energy runes break. All the formation of the treasure broke apart due to the lack of energy control, and the prison disappeared as soon as it manifested!

Death... and me

Chapter 2404: Monsters

Kinglei knew that it wasn't time to think about it. Regardless if it was a mistake from his enemy or some other external factor, the fact was that he was free and could continue his battle against Grovan. "You won't get another chance like that. Hand over your life!"

Grovan was furious, not understanding how 'Kinglei' broke his Purple Treasure. Nonetheless, he completely ignored Kinglei. Even though his prison broke, it still kept Kinglei a few seconds inside, which was an eternity in a battle of Space-Time Realm level. He turned around once again and charged into the Domain of Rean, Roan, and Kanglia. He had to kill at least one of them before Kinglei arrived.

Kinglei obviously understood what Grovan was doing and immediately used his Spatial and Time powers to pursue Grovan. He even manifested his own laws, the ones he was using to cultivate to reach the Divinity Realm, to try and gain some more speed. Nonetheless, he knew he wouldn't arrive there in time, so he warned the twins and Kanglia. 'Grovan is coming for you. Try to hold just for a few seconds! I'm coming!'

Rean and Roan looked at each other and nodded. Their Divine Sense reached Kanglia. 'Kanglia, we will leave Crowley for you to deal with. You shouldn't have a problem holding him for a few seconds like Kinglei asked, right?'

Kanglia, who was already thinking about retreat, couldn't help but ask. 'But who will stop Grovan?!'

'We will,' Rean and Roan answered at the same time.

'What?!' Kanglia found it ridiculous. Goku and his friend were definitely ridiculously strong, but they definitely wouldn't be able to contend against a Peak Space-Time Realm cultivator, let alone one of the Vruve Organization.

'Just do it!' Rean understood what she was thinking and immediately answered back. 'If you see that we died, then you can do whatever you want. For now, trust that we can hold him long enough for Kinglei to arrive.'

Kanglia's expression showed determination, and she increased her barrage of attacks against Crowley in exchange for much more Divine Energy than usual.

Seeing that, Rean and Roan launched one last attack against Crowley, making him think that they would try to kill him before Grovan arrived. Yet, as soon as the twins' attack appeared, their bodies flashed in another direction. Rean and Roan were now charging against Grovan, who was pretty much at their Domains' Range.

Crowley was taken aback for a moment but quickly snorted right after defending against their attacks. 'Hmph! Overestimating their abilities.' He didn't try to stop the twins and instead focused on Kanglia. If it was only her, he could definitely beat the woman down very quickly. Yet, the problem was that he was still inside Rean and Roan's Domains, so his power was greatly affected. 'What an annoying ability. I will definitely search their souls later and see how they achieved this result,' he thought.

Kinglei was surprised that Goku and his friend came out to face Grovan. At first, Kinglei thought they would send Kanglia while those two would try to hold Crowley. That seemed the best option. Yet, the weaker cultivators were the ones to take on the hardest task. 'Are they looking to die?'

Grovan was also surprised for a moment, not expecting Rean and Roan instead of Kanglia. Nonetheless, he was delighted with that result. If it was these two Elemental Space Realm cultivators, he could definitely finish them in one blow.

'Sea Splitting Slash!'

Grovan's saber then shined with the power of space and time, followed by a burst of Divine Origin Energy and Water Element and laws. Not holding back at all, Grovan gave his all to make sure the twins couldn't move away. His Spatial Powers locked the space around Rean and Roan while his Time Power slowed their movements.

Rean and Roan had Time Power as well, but the difference in cultivation was just too big. They couldn't completely nullify Grovan's Time effects... Well, they didn't intend to do it anyway. From the very start, they didn't intend to run or dodge.

Rean and Roan then moved in unison as their souls connected while their memories were shared between the two. They were doing something they hadn't done in centuries: working together! One must not forget that the twins can always take one extra step of strength, but for that, they need to perform their moves perfectly synchronized, making it look like it is just one person fighting instead of two.

Light and Dark Elements fused together as they transferred these powers between each other through their soul connection. For a moment, the sword and scythe seemed to become a single weapon while they counterattacked Grovan's attack.

'Death and Life Style, Seventh Form, Sun and Moon Obliteration!'

Light and Dark Elements were then forcefully used against each other at the front of their attacks, mixing with their Sky Energy and Weapon Auras. For a moment, the world turned Black and white as the Sun and Moon Obliteration crashed against the Sea Splitting Slash!

*BOOM!*

A huge wave of Divine Origin Energy spread outwards, causing the elements and space to go chaotic. Cracks appeared in space, and time seemed to not be able to flow normally. Yet, in the next moment, two figures were sent flying down like cannonballs, crashing against the ground.

*Bang!*

Rean and Roan spat a mouthful of blood as many injuries and broken bones appeared in their bodies. They truly seemed to be in a terrible condition. Yet, they were alive!

'Holy shit! Is that the power of the laws of an expert almost in the Divinity Realm? We almost died here!' Rean couldn't help but complain as the Instant Recovery activated.

Roan also used Rean's recovery skill while showing his usual cold expression. 'It doesn't matter. We bought Kinglei the time he wanted.'

Indeed. Rean and Roan weren't the only ones who were sent flying by the power of the explosion. Grovan, too, was forced back against his will. He wasn't really injured and only felt his hands going numb due to the impact. Nonetheless, he now saw himself forced to turn around once again. That's because Kinglei arrived. 'Just what kind of monsters are those two guys?'

Death... and me

Chapter 2405: Painful

'Goku, careful!'

Even though Grovan lost the chance to finish the twins, it didn't mean Crowley was blind. The moment the twins were sent flying by Grovan, Crowley forced Kanglia back with his superior power once again. In his eyes, the domains Rean and Roan were using were many times more dangerous than anything Kanglia could throw at him.

'Timeless Blades!'

Space contracted, creating hundreds of space-severing blades that fly at Rean and Roan from all sides. Rean and Roan had the Instant Recovery Skill, but Grovan's Water Laws and Power were still present in their injuries. It would take at least a few more seconds before they can move normally once again. Knowing about Grovan's power, Crowley was trying to take advantage of exactly that.

Yet, right when Rean and Roan were about to be cut to pieces, an enormous Black and White Birst appeared above them and covered the twins with his wings. Following that, Dark and Light Element burst into flames that covered its body.

'Dark and Light Divine Armor!'

Kentucky had finally made his appearance!

*Boom, boom, boom, boom, boom, boom...*

The Spatial Blades, fused with Crowley's Elements, Laws, and Time Power bombarded Kentucky's body from everywhere. Yet, Kentucky had the highest defensive power of the twins' group, especially when he used his Dark and Light Divine Armor.

However, that wasn't all. Kentucky knew that Crowley's cultivation was much higher, so taking this attack head-on with just that would still cause him severe injuries, perhaps even killing him. That said, he didn't hold back and released his Regal Bloodline!

Immediately, his Feather Blades and Scales hardened even more. His organs got more robust. His Light and Dark Element increased, followed by an output even higher of Sky Energy and Spatial Powers. Minokawas had quite a high affinity with Spatial Powers to start with so that only increased with the Regal Bloodline.

Crowley saw that, and his eyes turned red. 'Just where the hell did this fucking bird come from?!'

Well, he obviously knew where. Kentucky was killing the Elemental Space Realm cultivators of his Vruve Organization moments ago, after all. However, due to Grovan's sudden attack, the appearance of the purple triangle treasure, and Crowley's opportunistic move, they all forgot Kentucky existed.

During this time, Kentucky, Bacia, and Culoj finally finished the last Elemental Space Realm Vruve without Grovan and Crowley noticing. Kentucky then told Culoj and Bacia to go help the others while he shot in Rean and Roan's direction. If it was only flying speed, Kentucky could be said to be as fast as Crowley. Not even the twins could beat him in that regard. Finally, he arrived right when Crowley's attack did and protected the twins.

Crowley almost vomited blood in a fury. It was one thing for Kentucky to appear. However, he could see that Kentucky was also able to completely defend against his attack. 'So what if you did?! Let me see how many more attacks you can hold while protecting these fuckers!' He didn't give up and was just about to launch an attack directly when he was forced to divert his attention once more.

*Bang!*

Kanglia and Crowley's Weapon met once again. Kanglia was breathing heavily, feeling immense pressure for dealing with Crowley alone. Yet, even though Crowley forced her back a moment ago, it wasn't enough to prevent her from coming back at him.

Meanwhile, Kentucky raised his wings, and the twins appeared under it. Rean and Roan looked above and could see several drops of blood falling over their heads. Sure, Kentucky defended against the attack with the help of his Regal Bloodline. Yet, the difference in cultivation was still very real, not to mention Crowley had the powers of laws on his side. Kentucky was still quite injured by the attack just now.

'Fuck! This shit hurt as hell! Are these his laws? So annoying! I can't use Rean's Instant Recovery properly,' Kentucky complained.

Rean, who used that respite to get rid of Grovan's Laws, smiled at him. 'That was a very good job nonetheless, Kentucky. We were able to keep our last trump card hidden for the future. Look, even Roan's cold expression seems to have a tinge of approval.'

Roan completely ignored Rean, though. 'Now, just focus on healing yourself. The idiot here, and I can already move.' He had to admit that Kentucky's timing arrival was very convenient.

Rean smiled, and the twins once again flew from the ground. Their injuries weren't completely healed yet, but they could definitely fight again. In the next minute, they would be completely fine. Of course, not counting the Divine Origin Energy they used to get to this point.

Death World and Life World once again fell over Crowley's head, immediately relieving the pressure on Kanglia.

Crowley was feeling like crying already. Alright, Grovan wasn't able to kill Rean and Roan. Alright, he couldn't kill Rean and Roan either. However... 'For fuck's sake! What are their bodies made of?! How are they recovering so fast?!' He could see with his Divine Sense that all the injuries in Rean and Roan's bodies were quickly closing, not to mention their bones had already been mended.

If he knew Rean and Roan would come back this fast, he would have retreated already. He truly thought that after his attack landed on Kentucky, it would take a long time for Kentucky, Rean, and Roan to appear on the battlefield again. Perhaps they would use his battle against Kanglia to flee instead. Yet, here they are, pretty much at full power once again. Everything in this battle today had crossed all his widest thoughts and beyond.

*Arrrrgh!*

Suddenly, another scream filled the battlefield. With a few of the Elemental Space Realm Vruves now dead, their group was the one holding the numbers advantage. Naturally, Bacia and the others joined hands and attacked the Vruves at a similar level as theirs.

Everything began to crumble on the Vruve Organization side, and there was nothing else they could do. In the end, Grovan saw himself forced to say a word he hadn't said in tens of thousands of years...

"Retreat!"

Death... and me

Chapter 2406: Pushing Too Far

"Do you think you can run?" Kinglei was still angry by the fact he was almost trapped earlier, so he pressed Grovan, trying to keep him there. However, both Grovan and Kinglei were indeed very similar in strength, so there was little he could do if Grovan focused on escaping only.

Crowley heard that and immediately used all his Divine Origin Energy to send several attacks against Rean, Roan, and Kanglia. That cost him even more energy, but he succeeded in forcing those three back. Right after, he flashed from their encirclement, quickly leaving Rean, Roan, and Kanglia's Domains range.

Yet, surprisingly, Roan didn't give up. They needed to kill at least one of those Late-Stage Space-Time Realm Vruves, or they could return later. In fact, he was sure they would return. No one was supposed to know that their group was here, but the Vruves easily found and followed them. It was obvious the Vruves had some method to find where they were. Not to mention, the Vruves seemed to have some ties with the Devils in this place, so they could use the Devils' forces, too.

*Zush!*

Suddenly, Kentucky appeared on their side, still bleeding. However, he was able to stabilize most of his injuries in the following minute when Rean, Roan, and Kanglia fought Crowley. "Jump on! If it is just flying, I'm sure I can follow him."

Rean, Roan, and even Kanglia jumped on Kentucky's back. However, Roan didn't tell Kentucky to follow Crowley. Instead, he immediately pointed in another direction.

Kentucky seemed to understand and shot into the distance like a ray of Dark and White Light. He wasn't as fast as a Late-Stage Space-Time Realm expert, but the Vruve Organization experts were very weak after all this battle. That said, Kentucky was now able to at least keep up with their speed.

As for the target Roan chose, it was the same one who was fighting Nalui, Dengais! Both Nalui and Dengais were in the Late Stage of the Space-Time Realm. Nalui also seemed to be someone close to Flinyu, one of the Peak Divinity Realm experts, so his strength was real. Both Nalui and Dengais fought on equal terms all this time.

Another good point was that his fight ended up dragging quite far from where Grovan fought. That meant they didn't see the outcome in the distance. With Nalui holding the guy back and considering Crowley fled in another direction, they could totally encircle Dengais before he was warned to retreat.

*Boom!*

Nalui and Dengais once again clashed, neither side giving the other any advantage.

"Hmph! So the Vruve Organization is just it, uh? If you don't have your little friends to help you, you can't even get the upper hand against me." Nalui was still angry by the injury he received from Dengais during their first encounter while he fled from all the Vruves.

"Overestimating yourself," Dengais didn't let go. "If not because of these annoying treasures of your master, do you think you would have matched me for this long?"

"Ha!" Nalui snorted. "One's equipment is part of their strength. Since when do cultivators care about where their weapons came from? All that matters is whether they can use it to defeat their opponents or not!"

Suddenly, a Divine Sense passed over where Nalui and Dengais were fighting. It was Grovan's Divine Sense. Even though Nalui and Dengais were fighting far away, that was still well within Grovan's range.

Hearing the Divine Sense Message from Grovan, Dengais showed an expression of incredulity. He did see Jidambo dying, but their Vruve Organization was supposed to still have the upper hand. In his eyes, Jidambo only died because of the sneak attack from Roan. As for Nafrak, the one Rean killed, that was simply because Nafrak completely underestimated Rean.

Yet, now he heard that their team had to retreat and that they lost. He found it hard to believe. 'Fuck!'

Dengais then exchanged another move with Nalui, forcing him back for a moment before quickly turning around to flee. Yet, it was at this moment that two Domains covered his body. One of them immediately started to corrode his Domain, while the second completely nullified his Domain abilities. Last but not least, there was a third Domain of Fire, but that one didn't bother Dengais as much as the first two.

"Hehe! Are you thinking of running? That time, when you and your group pursued me, I was able to flee. Let's see if you can do the same now that the one pursuing is my group instead," Nalui laughed as he quickly regained his stability.

*Zush!*

With Rean and Roan's Domains, Nalui was now faster than Dengais, so he caught him in a flash, forcing Dengais to defend against Nalui instead of fleeing.

That was a mistake, though. If he had just received the damage and pressed forward, he could still have left Rean and Roan's Domain, which were still covering him at their furthest range. Now that he stopped to defend, the Twins' got closer, and Dengais ended up well within them. Not to mention, Kentucky was almost as fast as Dengais and was getting faster as his injuries healed, while Dengais was only getting slower.

Dengais understood he was in a life-and-death moment and immediately used his Divine Sense to request help.

Grovan, who was still running away, was taken aback for a moment. 'Weren't those ants fighting Crowley a moment ago? How did they appear where Dengais was fighting?' Well, Grovan couldn't be blamed. The moment Roan selected a target, Rean used his Divine Sense Bending skill to disappear from Grovan's vision. Kinglei was pursuing him, so Grovan's Divine Sense wasn't close enough to break through the bending power from Rean's skill.

As for Crowley, he was fleeing at full speed. When Rean's group disappeared from his Divine Sense, he simply thought they were hiding to ambush him. In his mind, Rean's group was still on his tail. Never did he think they would change targets after pushing him that far during their battle.

Death... and me

Chapter 2407: Tracker?

Dengais truly had no chance of escaping. Rean, Roan, and Kanglia were enough to gain the upper hand against Crowley, and Kentucky wasn't even part of that battle. Now, against Dengais, Kentucky was there. Let alone that Nolui, a Late-Stage Spce-Time Realm just like Dengais, was there too. The Vruves might be strong, but they were not that ridiculous.

Nolui was the one to give the last blow, ending Dengais' life right there and then. It's too bad that someone like Dengais obviously had his own Pocket Dimensional Realm, so anything in his possession was definitely lost with his life as Pocket Dimensional Realms collapsed after their owner's death.

The rest of the cultivators from Rean's group also managed to kill another two Peak Stage Elemental Space Realm Vruves, but another five still escaped. Nonetheless, their side had a major victory. The only loss on their side was a guy called Fenpol, with whom Rean barely had any interaction.

The Vruves were still much stronger, and while Kentucky fought with Bacia and Culoj, the rest of the cultivators were still on their own against their opponents. It was already a surprise that only one of them died.

On the other hand, the Vruves' losses were enormous, especially since the Realm of Gods is locked down and they can't send reinforcements. Of their group, two Initial Stage and one Late Stage Space-Time Realm cultivators died. Not to mention the other five Elemental Space Realm experts.

Around an hour later, Kinglei returned to their group with an angry expression. From the looks of it, he wasn't able to stop Grovan from leaving. In fact, he didn't inflict any meaningful injury against Grovan either. After some time, he understood that pursuing Grovan might lead him into some trap, so he gave up and returned.

Now, everyone was reunited, although they were still with their guards high. Kinglei then looked at Roan, who appeared during the battle. He had seen Roan's strength. Well, he also saw Rean and Kentucky's. "Just who are you guys? How can you be that strong?"

Rean... Well, Goku just introduced Roan's fake name, which he thought on the spot. "This is Klondalk. He is... quite of a special case..."

Roan... or Klondalk... looked at everyone with a cold expression. Right after, he looked back at Rean and showed two fingers. "Two more times. You can call me to help you another two times, and our contract will be over. Send me back into your Pocket Dimensional Realm."

Rean showed a sad expression, looking like he had lost some important treasure. "Fine, two more times it is." Right after, he waved his hand, and Roan disappeared in front of everyone. Obviously, he was sent back to the Soul Gem Dimensional Realm.

Rean and Roan basically pretended that Roan had some kind of agreement with Rean, which allowed Rean to request his help. "You probably can guess it already. It is not like we are friends or anything. It's just that he is bound by a contract between the two of us. I would rather not use him since I can only call his services twice more."

As one can imagine, Roan had a completely different appearance, making him look to be from a different race from Rean.

nolui narrowed his eyes but shook his head in the end. "Forget it. Thanks to this 'acquaintance' of yours, we got a major victory against the Vruves, so I will simply consider it as your merit. Still, you and this Divine Bird friend of yours are truly ridiculously strong. You can even use Time Power even though you aren't in the Space-Time Realm yet. How did you reach this level?"

Goku and Kenny shook their heads. "If it was you, would you reveal such a secret? For now, all we can say is that it is meaningless to ask us. Our methods can't be used by others. Whether you believe it or not is up to you, though."

Kinglei heard that and snorted in response. "Hehe! Do you think I can't force the answer out of your mouth? No, why use your mouth? I can simply search your soul, and I will get all the answers I want."

However, Kinglei's killing intent, which is always visible around him, did move in Rean and Kentucky's direction. That only made Rean smile in response, as there was no better way to tell whether Kinglei was serious or not. "Come on, senior Kinglei. We both know you have no intention of attacking us. How about we discuss the issue at hand instead?"

Kinglei was taken aback for a moment. It had been a long time since he felt like someone was seeing through him. Yet, that didn't make him angry. "Hehehe! You are quite interesting."

Right after, he shifted his attention to the matter at hand. "Now, Nalui, I want you to answer me. How the hell did the Vruves find us? Weren't we supposed to be here without anyone knowing? Don't tell me those Flinyu and Fosleve Geezers betrayed the Realm of Gods and are now an ally of the Vruves. Only they could have leaked the information about our movements."

Nalui immediately got angry. "How dare you question their loyalty? Senior Flinyu and Fosleve are absolutely on the Realm of Gods' side. There is no mistake in that."

"Is that so?" Kinglei wouldn't put his hand on fire for anyone. "Then what happened?"

Essefy raised his hand. "Wasn't Nalui pursued by the Vruves and Captured by the Devils until we rescued him? I'm a lot more inclined to believe there is some kind of tracker in Nalui's body that he doesn't know."

Everyone's eyes fell on Nalui instantly, using their Divine Senses to see if they could find anything. Even Nalui had to admit it was a possibility, so he also checked his body. Yet, he couldn't find anything. Of course, everyone knows there are many different techniques capable of leaving a mark on someone that can't be detected, so they might simply not be able to see it now.

The question was: what would they do if that was the case?

Death... and me

Chapter 2408: Going Through

Essefy couldn't help but intervene. "Well, we are only considering here if Nalui has something in his body that can be used to track him down. However, how come no one thought that we might have a traitor in our group?"

Indeed. As far as they know, their location might have been shared by someone else in their group. The Vruve Organization had deep roots in all three higher realms. It wouldn't be surprising if any of the people present were part of their organization instead.

Finally, Nalui shook his head and gave up. "This is bringing us nowhere. I would rather believe I have some tracker on me than someone in this group being a traitor. At least during the battle we won, it didn't seem the Vruves were going easy against any of you. Of course, that proves nothing, but that's what I have decided."

Rean agreed with him. "Indeed. Instead of wasting time here to find out how they found us, we should move forward. The longer we wait, the faster the Vruves will come back. Aren't we going to explore a Pseudo-Temporal Path? Once we get through it, no tracker will be able to feel anyone's presence. No communication method will work either."

Everyone had to admit Rean's words made sense. Still, there was another problem. "Even if communicating to this side becomes impossible, the fact is that the Vruves will be able to see where we disappeared. That means they will know where the entrance is located. Is it really okay to go there now?"

Nolui shrugged his shoulders. "My presence in this place already confirms that the Pseudo-Temporal Path's entrance is nearby. The Vruves can simply narrow down their search to this region, and they will eventually find it. That said, going back now will only give them the upper hand in the case."

Kinglei was already losing his patience again. "Whatever! Just let's go already. So much talk and no solution. This is too much of a waste of time."

Nolui quickly nodded and took flight. "Follow me. We are not going to hold back anymore and fly straight to the entrance. We should be there in at most an hour. Oh, right! Is everyone in a condition to fly?"

They had all just left an intense battle, after all. One didn't need to be a genius to know they were all low in their reserves of Divine Origin Energy. However, they also understood that staying in this place would be worse, so they all took Divine Stones out and followed Nolui while absorbing the stones on the way.

"Good! Let's go!" Nolui didn't ask anymore and flew into the distance. Obviously, he matched his speed with the Elemental Space Realm cultivators behind, who were obviously slower than him. He, Kinglei, and Kanglia could pull everyone together with them, but they didn't want to lose more Divine Energy than they already lost.

Nolui was right. In the next hour, they arrived at a huge field without anything around. However, Nolui confirmed this was the place. He then moved a rock on a corner, and suddenly, the environment transformed. Everyone immediately understood that Nolui had set up a concealing formation before leaving.

Well, Rean and Kentucky already knew that since Sister Orb warned them once they approached that there was a formation ahead.

Once the formation was lifted, they saw a weird crack in space, and that crack seemed to be absorbing all the air and Divine Energy of the environment around. Rean and Kentucky could confirm that was a Pseudo-Temporal Path. However, it was somewhat different from the one they used to go to the Heaven Realm. 'Why is it taking in so much Divine Energy?'

Kentucky shook his head. 'No idea. Perhaps because the other side lacks it? Or perhaps it needs the Divine Energy to keep itself open. There are many possible reasons.'

Nolui then looked at everyone. "This is it. This is the Pseudo-Temporal Path I found during my investigations. If you have seen one of these before, you probably can see the difference. What I can confirm is that it doesn't connect to the Underworld, Mortal Realm, or Heavens. The phenomenons that happen to the paths once they connect to one of those three realms are not present in this one."

He then took a deep breath and warned everyone. "Last warning. I absolutely don't know where this thing will bring us. I was alone when I found it, so I didn't have anyone I could use to test it before. In any case, even if some of you have some slaves in your Pocket Dimensional Realm that you wish to use, this is not the time. We can't wait for them to go and come back. We will have to test it ourselves. If you decide to give up, you can leave now. You simply won't get any Merit Points, and the 5000 you already received will be taken back. Yet, perhaps that's for the best."

None of them had any intention of retreating. They already got into a dangerous situation once, and that was the Vruves' attack. If they survived that, they could survive this, too. Not to mention that there is no guarantee the other side will have any dangers.

Seeing everyone stepping forward, Nolui nodded with a satisfied expression. "Alright. The objective is to go, check what the other side consists of, and return by any means to warn senior Flinyu of our discoveries. So that you don't think I'm taking advantage of you, I'll be the first one to enter."

No one complained since, in these instances, no one wanted to test the waters first. Nalui stepping into the Temporal Path could at least show them if he would be attacked or something like that before disappearing. Nalui passed through the Temporal Path entrance, charging into the Spatial tunnel. A few seconds later, his body seemed to teleport and disappear.

Everyone looked at each other. They didn't see anything until the moment Nalui disappeared, so it was relatively safe at first. Still, no one wanted to be the next... or so they thought.

"Let's go, Kenny!" Rean quickly jumped inside the Temporal Path.

"Shit! Why do you always have to do that?" Kentucky complained but followed nonetheless.

Essefy, as someone connected to the two, felt somewhat helpless and quickly jumped inside, too. In the end, all three disappeared from sight inside the Spatial Tunnel.

Death... and me

Chapter 2409: Reconnection

Spatial Distortions happened nonstop, showing why Nalui said they couldn't use anyone below the Transition Realm. In fact, the Power of these distortions made Rean, Kentucky, and Essefy sure that anyone in the Space Binding Realm and Below wouldn't be able to resist either. It's not that Nalui was wrong. It's just that he didn't have the chance to test. He based his prediction of the limit on the other Pseudo-Temporal Paths he saw in the past.

Well, at least he was right about one thing. The Spatial Tunnel of the path was quite unstable. If a Divinity Realm expert had entered it, there was no doubt it would collapse due to their huge spatial influence.

Rean's group defended themselves from the Power of space for quite a long time. It definitely was taking them much, much further away than the distance between the Heavens and the Realm of Gods. They wondered if they were being brought to some isolated corner of the Universe instead.

However, soon, they noticed something. The amount of Divine Energy began to reduce drastically. In fact, the Divine Energy they felt so far was basically the Divine Energy the tunnel was absorbing at its entrance. As they went further, this Divine Energy dispersed, seeming to be consumed by the tunnel itself. Kentucky had mentioned that before they entered as one of the possible reasons, and it seemed he was right.

Finally, Divine Energy disappeared completely, and only Spatial Laws remained as they continued to be brought further into the distance. The only source of Divine Energy the three had now was the Divine Energy in their Dantians and Core.

"We are here!" Rean noticed the laws of space opening again, just like when he traveled to the Angels' Realm. A black dot appeared in the distance, and it instantly grew to the point of covering their group in an instant. There was even a huge burst of Spatial Power when they passed through it that shocked their bodies. Fortunately, Rean, Kentucky, and Essefy were holding at each other, already expecting something to happen.

*Zush, zush, zush!*

Star Light covered their surroundings as they exited the Pseudo-Temporal path. Yet, when they looked behind to see if the other members of the group were coming, they were surprised to see that there was nothing there. "This... where is the Pseudo-Temporal Path Entrance?"

Essefy tried to feel the laws of space around them, but he couldn't find anything. "It's definitely not here. The space around us is extremely stable, not the type of place where you would have a spatial tunnel. Most likely, we were teleported far away as soon as we passed through the entrance."

Rean and Kentucky nodded. They had felt the burst of Spatial Laws when they passed through the exit, after all. Spatial Power wasn't something you could underestimate. One small mistake, and you might end in a completely different corner of the Universe, and that's if you don't die to the Spatial Storms first.

Rean then looked around and tried to find Nolui. Yet, Nolui was basically nowhere to be seen. "Seems like the teleportation sends its targets in completely random directions."

"Holy shit!" Suddenly, Kentucky exclaimed. "Try to use your Divine Senses."

Rean and Essefy nodded and spread their Divine Senses. Soon, they were taken by surprise, just like Kentucky. "WoW! How can it reach so far?!"

Back when the twins' Soul Gem System rebuilt Sunkan, they were able to expand their Divine Senses to the point of covering the entire planet and quite a few thousand kilometers further away. Yet, compared to what they can do now, that was basically nothing. By Rean's estimations, his Divine Sense was probably reaching over a hundred thousand kilometers at the very least. "Seems like we are back to the Mortal Realm. Not only that, we are at such far away corner that even our Divine Senses can spread to this length."

Kentucky found it weird, though. "Are you sure? Nolui said that the Pseudo-Temporal Path didn't connect to the Mortal Realm either. Besides..." Kentucky then tried to perceive something with his Divine Sense. "I can't feel even an iota of Spiritual Energy. The Mortal Realm is supposed to have Spiritual Energy, no?"

Rean and Essefy tried to analyze the surroundings and quickly confirmed Kentucky's words. "Indeed, there is nothing at all..."

Celis suddenly communicated with the twins from within the Soul Gem Dimensional Realm. 'Hey, what happened? The Soul Gem Dimensional Realm isn't absorbing any energy anymore.'

Rean then explained what had happened. Celis could only nod. 'I see... There is still quite a lot of Divine Energy in the Soul Gem Dimensional Realm to last a few months, but it will eventually disappear with everyone we have living and cultivating here.'

Rean didn't seem to mind. 'As long as everyone is fine, anything else can wait. If necessary, just take some of my Divine Stones and make do with them.'

'Alright,' Celis agreed. He wasn't really that concerned. That's because he only cultivated with the Divine origin Energy cores now, so he didn't really have any use for Divine Energy at the moment. One must not forget the twins have enough Cores to go all the way to the Divinity Realm. It's just that it would take time to cultivate.

"Just where are we...?" Essefy still couldn't find himself in that place. He had never been to the mortal realm, so he had never seen planets either. Nonetheless, he couldn't see any planet in his Divine Sense Range, only the Star Lights in the distance.

Rean pondered a bit and took his communication badge out. With such a lack of Divine Energy, there would be nothing to stop its signal from going even further than it does in the Divine Realm. He quickly tried to call Nalui and used the sensors in the badge to see how far the badge signal could go. Yet, there was no answer. "Without any Divine Energy to interfere, the badge's signal can reach around eighty thousand kilometers, way more than the forty thousand of the Realm of Gods. However, Nalui is definitely not within this range."

Essefy shrugged his shoulders. "My Divine Sense can reach a similar distance, so the badge isn't of much help." His soul wasn't as powerful as Rean's, so his Divine Sense, even in the same cultivation realm, was indeed smaller.

Rean agreed with him, especially since his Divine Sense could go over a hundred thousand kilometers. But in any case, he couldn't find where they were. "All I can do is open a spatial gate and try to reach some other area with some planets."

However, it was then that Roan appeared outside, visibly holding a slightly excited expression. "I wasn't wrong... It's definitely the connection!"

Rean, Essefy, and Kentucky looked at him. "Connection? What connection? The communication badges aren't connecting to anything."

Roan glanced at them and shook his head. "Not that type of connection. I'm talking about the connection I have with the organization. To be more precise, the connection a Death Spirit has with the Universal Transition Organization."

Rean was taken aback, now knowing what Roan was talking about. "Do you mean..."

Roan nodded. "There is no doubt! We are back to the other half of the Universe, our half!"

Death... and me

Chapter 2410: Let's Pay a Visit

Rean immediately understood the lack of Spiritual or Divine Energy. "So that's how it is! No wonder there isn't any energy for cultivation whatsoever." Rean then remembered something. "Wait, if we are back, Roan, you should know where we are, right?"

Roan closed his eyes and concentrated on that connection he hadn't felt for so long. After a few minutes, he nodded. "Seems like my reincarnation on the other half affected the state of my soul. I can barely feel the Organization. That's why I took this long to come out. Nonetheless, it is enough to at least travel there."

Kentucky, seeing that there was no energy around, couldn't help but ask. "Roan... Since there is no Divine Energy or even Spiritual Energy, how exactly did you travel in this Universe?"

Roan then extended his hand, and a kind of black energy began to form around it. Rean, Essefy, and Kentucky used their Divine Senses, but other than the fact they could feel its existence, they couldn't tell what it was. After a few seconds, Roan used that energy to build a door.

Only then did Rean recognize it. That was exactly the same kind of door that Roan opened to him back when they first met. At that time, he didn't think too much about it. After all, he was more concerned about not having his memories wiped out during the process of reincarnating. "That's quite impressive. What kind of energy is this? Could it be related to Devilish Energy since it is connected with this half's Underworld?"

Roan shook his head. "Back then, I've never questioned what kind of energy it was. It was just natural for me from the moment I was born. However, I've been to the Underworld of the cultivation side of the Universe with you, so I can guarantee the two are not the same. They aren't anything alike at all."

The door then opened, showing a tunnel of spatial laws that was covered by the black energy Roan was controlling. However, before anyone tried to enter it...

*Bzzzzzz!*

The Black Energy went out of control, making Roan almost throw blood.

*Boom!*

The laws of space and the black energy then entered a chaotic state and exploded in the end. The energy of the explosion was quite strong, forcing their group several hundred meters back.

Roan then shook his head, not really feeling that surprised. "As I thought..." He then summoned a little bit of that black energy, but after a few seconds, it once again went out of control and exploded in his hand. It's just that this time, it had too little of it to cause any damage. "While I was learning how to control this energy in the past, my teacher and the other Death Spirits mentioned that this energy can only be wielded by Death Spirits."

Roan then gave up and looked in a certain direction. "I'm not a Death Spirit anymore. At most, I have a residual connection with my old race because of my memories." Of course, he also understood the Soul Gem System had a part in this. "This residual connection is enough for me to gather some of it, but I definitely can't use it like I did in the past. The door I had just opened was supposed to connect back to the Universal Transition Organization, but I wasn't able to make the connection reach even half of the way before it collapsed."

Rean nodded and looked in the same direction as Roan. "However, you still have this residual connection, so you definitely can guide us, right?"

"I believe so," Roan confirmed Rean's words. However, just when he was about to close his eyes and focus on that connection again, a sudden headache struck his mind.

*Ugh!*

Everyone looked at him, alarmed. "What is it? Are you okay?"

Roan raised his hand, telling everyone to stay away from him. "My connection... it is being taken away from me."

"What?!" Everyone was taken aback. "They can do it?"

*Arrrrghhh!*

Roan's expression went pale, and he vomited even more blood. Right after, something that looked like a tiny spec of black sand came out of his forehead. Before anyone could react, that spec of sand dissipated into black dots of energy.

They all then looked at Roan, who seemed to be feeling a lot better now. Roan then gathered some of Rean's Light Element and used Rean's Instant Recovery Skill, quickly stabilizing his condition. However, his expression still looked terrible, although this time it was because he was angry. "My connection is gone."

If Roan could be said to have something related to the Death Spirits before, now he definitely lost everything. He was truly just another human who was born on the other side of the Universe.

Rean couldn't help but get a little nervous. "But without you, how will we find our way in this Universe? This Universal Transition Organization of yours is probably the only one that can travel long distances. Any other planet with living beings that we might find will have no idea about what we are talking about, let alone show us a path to return to the other side of the Universe."

Essefy was even worse. "Wait! That can't be, right? I mean, there is no cultivation energy on this side of the Universe, so what will we do? Sooner or later, our Divine Stones will be completely gone."

Of course, he didn't know that Rean and Roan's reserves of Divine Stones and even Divine Origin Energy were ridiculously high, so they weren't worried about that, at least. Not that they would tell Essefy that.

Roan quickly tranquilized everyone. "Don't worry. I lost my connection, and it was most likely forced away from me. Nonetheless, I was able to have a good feeling about its location. From now on, I'll be the one using Spatial Gates. We are going to pay a visit to the Universe Transition Organization, and I will also have a little chat with my master."
