

Death Guns 1011

1011 Chapter 1011

Today the sunlight conjured the most brilliant mosaics, reflecting from each leaf and wisp of cloud. It was as if there was pure joy in the light as if it were happy to create art where it shone, warm and steady.

Alex woke up thinking maybe Maria would still be sleeping beside him, but to his disappointment, she was already gone. After freshening up, he stepped into the hall for breakfast. There, Maria, Luna, Artemia, Gracier, Saeko, Kuina, and Sakuya were sitting, waiting for him. Alex did not find Incursio; she must be busy taking care of something; he was not worried about her.

"Good morning, everyone." Alex greeted everyone as he sat in the main chair, he wanted to start eating, but because everyone was looking at him, he stopped and heaved a sigh.

"It is because of my left eye?" He asked when he knew they were looking at him, obviously because of his left eye. His left eye was now silver, unlike the previous green; he still got heterochromia eyes but not green- ice blue; currently, it was silver-ice blue. This new combination was so beautiful that one could not keep their eyes from him. This new pair of eyes, coupled with Alex's handsome features, got highlighted, a deadly combination that increased his charm to the extreme.

"Beautiful!" Gracier declared as if she was under a charm; she was not the only one, though. Even Maria, who had seen them before anyone, was also under the charm.

"Beautiful but dangerous this silver eye. I felt uncomfortable staring into it for a long time." Sakuya said, and the others nodded.

"What happened to your left eye? Why has it become silver?" Luna asked while trying to remember where she had seen this kind of eye; it didn't take too long for her to know that Silveria got silver eyes, the same eyes as Alex's left eye.

"It is a gift. Do not ask for now. Let's eat I'm hungry. I felt like I haven't eaten anything in a couple of days." Alex said, forcing them to stop the questioning; he felt like they would be spending all their time on this subject if he were to give in. He had a lot to do, so he spent no time playing, and with the answer, he gave them, most of them would have already connected the dots.

"Let's eat," Artemia suggested as well, and everyone nodded.

Breakfast was soft pancakes and berries, as warm as they would be in the sun, maple syrup threaded upon the top. It remains by Alex's favorite breakfast, yet it has nothing at all to do with the food. He loved it because others were there present as well. After all, his loved ones were in the same room. It's odd how humans transfer emotions that way, as if they couldn't quite accept how quickly they fell in love.

Sleeping together, waking up together, and sharing breakfast together, those simple gestures were what make life with your loved ones enjoyable as in simple things do we find happiness. So, Alex believed.

After the breakfast, Alex asked them to follow him somewhere.

"Where are we going?" Gracier asked.

"In a forest to train before raiding dungeons," Alex responded before taking the sky.

Kuina wanted to ask which forest he selected but stopped as everyone had already followed Alex. Soon, they were flying; they headed northeast to the capital, and fifteen minutes later, they arrived at their destination.

The forest was colossal, bright, and flourishing. Its canopy was marked by poplar, alder, and walnut, and occasional openings in their crowns allowed plenty of light through for a mishmash of sprouts to sprout in the flat, fertile grounds below.

Curving climbing plants grasped most trees, and a hodgepodge of flowers, which claimed remnants of light, brightened up the otherwise dark lower level.

A tumult of sounds, most belonging to rummaging critters, brightened up the forest and were accompanied by the occasional roar of a large animal trying to scare away predators.

"It is Greenland," Kuina said as soon as they landed in this forest. Greenland is the name of this forest, and it was named because of its giant trees and green scenery.

"You choose this forest because it has the property to quickly restore itself after receiving damage and because there was a special dungeon in the depth of this forest, right?" After a quick analysis, Kuina said, and Alex nodded.

"Okay, I want to fight. I will be fighting both Artemia and Maria at first." Alex declared; his declaration made everyone frown, especially those two; they felt like he was looking down on them; he was saying they would lose too easily if they were to take him on alone and as women with a lot of pride, this hurts them. It doesn't matter if he was their man; he must not look down on them because he was their man and knew them best.

Alex could feel the tension in the air; he could see that the girls had misunderstood him; therefore, he ought to correct this misunderstood asap or else it would create a problem in the future.

"My bad, my suggestion was not because I'm looking down on you but because there is something I wanted to test. I know your strength the best, so believe in me and do as I've said."

"Okay."

Now that he had given them this explanation, they understood and accepted to follow his order. It was quite funny when one thinks about it. Usually, his order shouldn't have made them react as they did, but because they thought they were stronger on their own, they thought they could take him on alone.

Gracier and the others decided to put some distance between them and the three; they would watch the fight from the distance, while waiting for their turn.

The little devil secretly prayed to be selected; next, she wanted to fight her brother; it would be good if Kuina were put into her group as she was also a fire user, a Fox and a dragon fighting Alex should make a nice combination, Gracier thought.

Meanwhile, Alex was facing Artemia and Maria, both ready to start.

Screeee!

A yellow lightning attack extending from Artemia's arm shortened the distance between her and Alex in an instant.

Craaaaaash! Boom!

Alex avoided the extremely-sharp lightning attack by stepping to the side, and without looking back, he blocked Maria's sword.

Clank!

Her hand felt numb as a terrific force coming from Alex's dagger went inside her arm; she understood that she would lose if she didn't fight in her serious mode.

"Blitz!"

Alex called out a skill name, and immediately lightning chains shot out from their back, trying to pierce Maria's back; however, she reacted faster and escaped; she joined Artemia, and together they stared at Alex as if they were looking at a freak.

"Damn! Every time he will surprise us with a new skill. Let's go all out; if not, I think we might not even last five minutes." Artemia said, and Maria nodded; she also felt like Artemia.

"Ice Goddess Mode"

"Lightning Goddess Mode"

Boom! When the two activated their strongest form, the trees in the surrounding were uprooted and shredded into pieces; lightning and ice combined to create a white lightning blizzard.

"Lightning Chains" Artemia shouted; her hair was dazzling gold like a celestial, and lightning danced around her head like a golden crown.

Multiple lightning chains appeared and quickly rushed toward Alex.

The attack was several times faster than Alex's Blitz, the one he had shot a few moments ago.

Meanwhile, Maria also acted; she modified the temperature, trying to infiltrate Alex's cells through his pores; she wanted to slow down his reaction; she also activated her domain, slowly turning the ground into ice. Artemia would not let him use the silver gun to cancel their magics.

Their combination was perfect; however, they made one miscalculation which was to think that Alex still needed to use his gun to cancel magic.

From a distance, Gracier understood something and shouted.

"Big sisters immediately fall back." She tried to warn them, but unfortunately, it was already too late.

Since the beginning, Alex had never lost his smile; the way he was looking at them was as if a child who was about to play cricket.

"Nemesis's Eye!" Alex finally tested the silver eye; he saw how the mana was structured; it was complex, but he could see the key point, and he had just to alter it; he saw how more complex mana covered their bodies from inside outside, to make them closer to their respective elements, to make them use their elements like it should be used, he felt like they were not using like they should use it but now wasn't the time for this, he had to end this fight and with just a thought, he broke the key points of their forms.

Artemia and Maria got goosebumps all over their bodies at that instant, and under their astonished eyes, their magics, and their ultimate forms, got canceled.

"Ehh???"

1012 Chapter 1012

"Nemesis's Eye!"

Alex finally tested the silver eye; he saw how the mana was structured; it was complex, but he could see the key point, and he had just to alter it; he saw how more complex mana covered their bodies from inside outside to make them closer to their respective elements, to make them use their elements like it should be used, he felt like they were not using like they should use it but now wasn't the time for this, he had to end this fight. With just a thought, he broke the key points of their forms.

Artemia and Maria got goosebumps all over their bodies at that instant, and under their astonished eyes, their magics, and their ultimate forms, got canceled.

"Ehh???"

Maria, Artemia, and the others who were watching were left speechless, their mouth hanging agape; they couldn't believe what was happening w. It was too absurd, too shocking, not to cause them a such shock.

Artemia and Maria felt something touching them in the stomach, followed by a burning sensation.

A dull pulsing pain crept up their leg, increasing in intensity every second. Ten seconds passed, and then another ten. The pain would soon become unbearable. They wanted to give up; there was no way they could keep going feeling like this. Several voices echoed through their head. Some telling them everything will be fine; others tell them it won't be.

They squeezed their eyes shut tight, and their face turned to a grimace. Swallowing the pain and ignoring it the best they could be their only option. But after a few more moments of pure focus, they managed to block out the pain enough to make it nothing more than a minor annoyance. It'll last a while, but they'll manage.

A few minutes later, the pain subsided, and they were back on their feet, and the next thing they did was walk toward Alex and question him.

"It is our loss. How did you do it? It is because of your new eye?" Maria asked; Artemia was also curious; she was not the only one. Gracier and the others also wanted to know; although they had speculated that this was because of his left eye, they still needed his confirmation.

"Calm down, will you?" Alex stopped them as they tried to swarm him; after successfully putting some space between him and the others w he could now answer their questions.

"Yes, it's because of my left eye, my new eye, that I could do that."

"Wow! So cool. Our enemy who knew you could only cancel magic and skills with your silver gun would be seriously surprised if you did what you have done today." Luna said. The others nodded; what most people knew was that Alex could cancel any magic and skills with his silver bullet; some had started to prepare countermeasures; all they had to do was not to let him shoot; if you could not shoot, then how could you cancel any magic or skill?

However, now with his silver eye, Alex could cancel any magic or skill with just a thought beyond his previous capacity; it went without saying that his enemy would be shocked because their countermeasures would not work on Alex anymore.

"What an overpowered ability; I want an eye like that. I will be invincible if I have an eye like that." Kuina declared; she did not hide the envy in her voice; she truly desired the silver eye owned by Alex; with this eye, she would like a phoenix soaring through the sky undisturbed and master of the sky.

Her words and thoughts amused Alex; Silveria's eyes, although special and powerful, are far from invincible as they are few systems they couldn't work against.

Alex's expression changed abruptly, and he summoned his guns, something he had not done when fighting Artemia and Maria.

"Purgatory!" She shouted, and the sky above them turned dark as if night had fallen.

"Wheel of Chaos!" Incursio shouted. A deathly gray wheel condensed above her head as she descended from the sky.

As the Wheel of Chaos condensed, its sinister presence sliced through the night curtain, bringing back the light.

Alas, the return of light didn't bring back colors. The sky was now dyed with the color of deathly gray, just like the wheel itself.

Maria and others heard cries of anguish and howls of sorrow.

As they heard these ominous sounds, they sensed a feeling of decimation. This feeling resonated with their hearts, and they felt the world was full of suffering and dissatisfaction.

The weaker living beings inside Greenland even experienced the cycle of life; birth, life, death, and rebirth. They realized there was neither salvation nor nirvana, and if they wanted relief from this neverending cycle, there was only one choice.

"Close your senses and do not try using your elements," Artemia shouted, and the girls followed her command. They crouched, their hands on top of their ears as they cut off any connections with the outside world. This method seemed to have worked as they couldn't hear those cries any longer.

Meanwhile, Alex didn't move; he was looking at the gray wheel and the mist coming out of it, and he chuckled. This gray mist was the chaos energy, not the pure one, but it was still the same energy as the two shared a source. Alex wondered if Nemesis's Eye could work on it.

"I won't know unless I tried it unless I've experienced the real thing," Alex murmured before activating his Nemesis's Eye.

He could see the structure of the wheel of chaos, but unlike the mana system, it was more complex, and the nodes (key points) seemed non-existent, which made things difficult for Alex, but he still had a solution.

Incursio, who thought she would win as she had been spied on the ground a few minutes ago, stopped in her track when she found herself in the middle of the silver domain.

"Nemesis's Domain!"

Alex's hair elongated, turning silver and his two eyes seemed to have turned silver; time stopped, everything seemed to have been erased, and Incursio was frozen, unable to move.

1014 Chapter 1014

"I won't know unless I tried it unless I've experienced the real thing," Alex murmured before activating his Nemesis's Eye.

He could see the structure of the wheel of chaos, but unlike the mana system, it was more complex, and the nodes (key points) seemed non-existent, which made things difficult for Alex, but he still had a solution.

Incursio, who thought she would win as she had been spied on the ground a few minutes ago, stopped in her track when she found herself in the middle of the silver domain.

"Nemesis's Domain!"

Alex's hair elongated, turning silver and his two eyes seemed to have turned silver; time stopped, everything seemed to have been erased, and Incursio was frozen, unable to move.

Alex who looked a celestial being walked towards Incursio, although she could not move, her eyes could, she watched his form and was smitten. The normal Alex was without handsome but not to the point to cause Incursio to get smitten by his mere look, however, the current Alex's form put to shame his normal form, all of this to say his current form was almost perfect and was like a aphrodisiac for woman. Tall slender form but not lacking in muscles, his face seemed to have been carved out of divine stone by a divine master craftsman, his long silver hair danced along the wind and his silver eyes were epitome of perfection, so mesmerizing that you can only stare into them, forgetting everything else.

Incursio blinked twice to fight Alex's charm and to distract her thoughts, to have them under control she acknowledged her defeat.

"I lost."

"Good that you know." Alex declared while undoing the domain and immediately he returned to his normal form, to focused on the feeling and control he had while under that form he failed to see the disappointment that flashed through Incursio's eyes, she was not the only one though, Gracier and the others were disappointed as well as they could love staring at this form eternity.

Completely oblivious to Maria and other's thought, Alex carried on with his thought, he was thinking what he would achieve with Nemesis's Eye but firstly he must check his status and confirm his guess.

"As expected I got a new ability, not bad. I will check the details later." He said while helping Incursio on her feet.

"You became stronger." Incursio said while dusting her knees.

"Well, I'm not the only one. We are all progressing." Alex responded while looking at Kuina and Maria exchanging words, he wondered what those two were talking about but albeit curious he knew better not to probe.

"Big brother, I will be the next to fight right?" Gracier asked her brother, even after seeing how strong the latter had become still wanted to fight him. However, Alex had other plan.

"Sorry, but you will to have among yourself I have somewhere in need to go."

"No, no I want to fight you, you're so mean." Gracier complained but her complaint fell into deaf ears.

"You can fight Maria, Kuina, Sakuya or Artemia." Alex proposed and Gracier pouted but still accepted her brother's offer.

"Where are you going?" Sakuya asked the question Maria and the others wanted to ask.

"I want to meet Eins before visiting Elseria. Don't worry it won't take long." Alex explained before vanishing, he had used Void Steps.

"Okay, let's start." Marie said before turning to face Artemia and the others.

It was not a surprise that Incursio disappeared as soon Alex was gone.

ooooo

From the outside it looks peaceful, folksy and delightful. Clay and huge, stone pillars make up most of the building's outer structure.

It's difficult to see through the small, curtained windows, but the noise from within can be felt outside.

As Alex entered the tavern through the thick, metal door, he was welcomed by a sense of home and a pleasant atmosphere.

The bartender was buried in orders, but still manages to welcome him with a smile.

It's as enchanting inside as it was on the outside. Wooden beams support the upper floor and the Christmas-like lights attached to them. The walls are littered with so many different memorabilia, you're not sure if they tried going for a specific style at one time or just put up anything they like.

The tavern itself was packed. Tourists seem to be the primary clientele here, which could be seen as a bad sign. Several long tables were occupied by happy, excited groups of people, some are dancing on the table, while others cheer them on with clapping and yelling. The other, smaller tables are also occupied by people who seem to be close with the owner, though they happily welcome others among their midst. Even most of the stools at the bar are occupied, though nobody seems to mind more company.

After entering the tavern, Alex directly moved to the back where a lone man sat around a table; this man was none other than Eins, the leader of Alex's special force.

Upon noticing his boss's arrival, Eins wanted to stand up to greet him, but Alex stopped him with his eyes, and he nodded; however, Eins was shocked because his master's eyes had changed color; although it was still heterochromia, it was now silver and blue.

Ignoring the surprised look on Eins's face, Alex sat across from him and ordered a whisky.

"How was your mission?" Alex asked while appraising Eins.

"Hum! Not bad, almost a demigod." Alex commented, pleased with Eins's progress. The latter felt happy that Alex praised him; it meant all his efforts got recognized, and he wouldn't mind hearing more praise, but knowing Alex was not someone that loved to waste his time, Eins shook his head and answered Alex's question.

"I managed to find a few suspicious locations, and I tried exploring them, but out of seven locations, only one was particularly difficult to explore; no, it's impossible with my current strength. It's why I contacted you, I believe they must be there, or at least an important facility must be there."

"Oh? And where is the location of the seventh place?" Alex asked after hearing Eins's explanation. The mission given to Eins was simple, to go around searching for any suspicious locations; Chaos Organization's headquarters might be there. He couldn't wait for Leonardo to report to him the organization's location; too much time had passed. Alex had the feeling that he couldn't be trusted anymore nor that he had ever trusted him before, just that he hoped that he would accomplish this mission for the sake of Camilla and others, for the sake of retrieving the Gift Alex had taken from him; unfortunately, the more time passed, the more Alex believed that Leonardo wouldn't complete this mission. He had to prepare for the worst; he should have killed him back there; however, he would have all the opportunity to do so in the future.

"The location is somewhere between the two principalities, on a lone island, inside a forest. This forest is named the Forest of Brume; it wasn't like this thirty years ago; nobody managed to come back from this forest, at least nobody that really explored the real forest of Brume." Eins showed him the location of this forest on a map he brought out of his spatial ring.

Alex memorized the location with just a look, and Eins continued with his explanation.

"Your senses while be blocked even in the outer edge of this forest, so naturally one could imagine what would happen if you went deeper; I couldn't go. Master Sera contacted me, and I shared with her this information, and she said she would go check it." Eins informed him of news he wasn't expecting.

"Sera?!"

Eins nodded, wondering what Alex would do because he seemed unaware that Sera was closer to his location; she must have been heading to the Foxia empire but switched after Eins gave this information.

Alex frowned, not expecting this. Still he was not worried that something bad happening to her, she was not weak, and in a case of danger, she had the means to escape or contact him, not that it matters as he would go there, a small detour before going to meet Elseria as he had something to test wasn't bad?

"I see; join Pandora and assist her. I'll contact you later." Alex said before vanishing.

Eins nodded, seeing the smile on Alex's face; he must have decided to play with Sera; the two together might be able to find something, so he thought.

ooooo

The city of Freyport was built at the center of a delicate island and is truly a gorgeous wonder. Its appearance is matched by the backdrop of a gentle mountain that helped shape the city into what it is today.

The trade resources these mountains brought were of great importance. Still, they were also influential in architectural designs, as the vast majority of buildings have been built with rocks from those very same mountains.

The skyline is sprinkled with elaborate skyscrapers, and they seem to be continuously evolving as new additions are added even now. Technology is thriving in Freyport, and it has attracted a lot of attention. Various cultures have left their mark not just on the city's history but also upon the city's identity. What historically was a city of few differences has grown into a fusion of everything, and it's this that unites the 10 million people to this day.

It's this multicultural identity that has truly left its mark. Hundreds of concession stands, bakeries, and bars offer a plethora of culinary choices, and those who feel hungry for something else can enjoy photography, arcades, one of the many parks, or one many other recreational venues.

"This city is beautiful, as the rumors say. No wonder the two principalities desired it and were fighting over it; this would have continued if the Drexia empire had not intervened. Since emperor Julius's intervention, this city neither belonged to principalities nor the empire. Well, let's stop with the background history. Let's get over it and join Alex and the others." Sera disguised mumbled before vanishing; although she would have loved to visit the parks or one of the recreational venues, she couldn't as she didn't have much time; she wanted to meet him so much that she could only spend a few hours and verify something in that forest.

A few minutes after Sera left, Alex arrived; giving a quick glance around him, he also vanished w heading toward Sera's location.

1016 Chapter 1016

Located in the northwest of the city of Freyport was appeared to be a normal forest, well, at first glance.

The forest was small, luminous, and flourishing. Its canopy was reigned by elm, alder, and walnut, who provided just enough openings for light to pass down for scattered herbs to rule the sloping and slanting ground below.

Bundled tree limbs drooped from every tree, and a variety of flowers, which grew dispersed and sparingly, clashed with the otherwise beige lower level.

A disharmony of wild noises, most of which were small creatures, echoed in the air, and were in harmony with the occasional sounds of birds of prey gliding in the air.

"I see nothing but a normal forest, though," Sera mumbled as she descended from the sky and walked into the forest; walking inside, she did, and everything changed.

Outside, daylight still held sway. But as soon as Sera stepped into the forest a moment ago, she mistakingly thought it was a normal forest; darkness surrounded her. From chirping birds to the whistle of the wind, one could hear absolutely nothing, as if all life vanished as soon as one stepped into the forest.

Small brume started appearing all around her, and Sera could swear that the trees, which were normal a moment ago, had turned weird-shaped and eerie; no, the entire forest had become eerie.

Sera's heart skipped a beat. Still, she pressed on, marching with slow, careful steps as she spread her senses to watch out for distasteful surprises.

"Eins did not lie; this forest must hide something; it is as if it was created to lure you in." She mumbled while recalling another piece of information Eins gave her.

'According to him, the brume occasionally expands or shrinks, depending on factors that no one seems able to make sense of. Let's see what you are hiding.'

Despite her senses, her presence detection skill not working, Sera still pressed on; she had to gain as much information as she could before reporting to Alex. There was no doubt that Eins should by now reported this information to Alex; however, busy as he was, he could not spare enough time to come to investigate, so the duty of investigating to acquire more information fell on her as she was passing by, she could spare a little bit of her time for the investigation. Sera was sure that Alex would be surprised to see him and even more shocked if she were to bring more information about this mysterious forest.

Determined to give her man a nice gift, a surprise worthy of love and reward, Sera continued; however, she stopped and checked her status as she felt something wasn't right.

"Huh! As I thought, my mana was getting drained. One should not detect anything if you weren't alert. As someone who doesn't possess too many mana, I have to be careful and know how to spend them; therefore, I'm sensitive. I bet Eins didn't detect anything." Sera concluded, and her conclusion couldn't be more right on the spot; Eins didn't feel anything because he was too focused on the brume blocking his senses and what possibly could be in the depth of this ominous forest.

"This forest is dangerous, without a doubt. Should I go back?" Sera contemplated; who knows how much mana would be drained from her as she went deeper? What would happen once she ran out of mana and collapsed? The response was simple and didn't need too many thoughts; she would damned, whatever was inside this forest as it had to be, this thing would capture her, and she would die.

Facing the prospect of losing her life and not being able to see Alex anymore, normally, she should have retreated, but Sera was not normal, and she was not someone who was afraid of the unknown; on the contrary, facing the unknown would always make her excited because it means discovering new things, experiencing new challenge and challenges she loved.

Once more, she pressed on, doing her best not let the ominous feeling creep in. She walked in deeper; her mana was slowly getting eaten away, yet she never stopped her feet.

One minute passed, then two, three. With each passing minute, the brume got closer—warning the queen of Assassin that she neared her target.

Suddenly, Sera her chest tightened, ominous sensations spreading through her veins as she once again tried spreading her senses at a distance. Strangely, the presence detection skill worked, however, as if trying to mess up with her didn't sense anything, and yet the ominous senses only got stronger. Alarmed, she came to an abrupt halt.

'What is this feeling? Don't tell me that...' Sera didn't have the time to finish her words. One voice boomed out, shaking the surrounding almost as if a blizzard was passing by.

"Bold ants! How dare you step into this sacred place?!" Boundless pressure followed that voice, pinning the Sera right where she stood. Unable to resist the pressure of that voice's owner, she dropped to her knees, trembling uncontrollably.

Sera could not look ahead; the pressure she felt surpassed anything she had ever felt until now. There is no doubt that the owner of this pressure had surpassed the Demigod realm; not only did the owner's pressure make her unable to move, but it had also stripped her of her mana, turning her into a normal and fragile mortal. The Queen of Assassin had never felt so helpless before, and for a second, she regretted her decision to continue forward.

'Is this the end?' She wondered with a hardened expression.

1017 Chapter 1017

'Is this the end?' She wondered with a hardened expression. Once more, regret was trying to overwhelm her, but this time, she was the one who decided. She momentarily closed her eyes and reopened them; all of this happened in a flash.

For some unknown reason, the control of her mana came back as if it was never gone to begin.

Sera didn't believe that this was a coincidence, but she would be a fool and not make use of this opportunity, and so she did.

"Shadow World." The world around Sera was plunged into eerie darkness as soon as she summoned her domain.

"Death's han-" Barely had she begun calling the name of her most dreadful technique that everything vanished, and someone appeared above her. She was frozen on the spot.

Towering above her and closer to two meters was the most handsome young man she had ever seen, with heterochromia eyes, a mix of silver and blue, and long silver hair. His face seemed to have been carved by gods; however, it was not because of the man's handsome face she stood frozen; it was because she recognized him.

No matter how handsome he had become or would become, she would always recognize him because he was the one she gave her heart to, the one she decided to spend the rest of her life with, the eternity if it ever existed. The culprit was none other than Alex.

Staring into those frozen brown eyes, Alex's lips curved up, and he asked.

"Howdy, my sweet assassin? Do you like my surprise?"

A moment of silence before Sera answered.

"Of course, I do." She answered with a sweet smile; however, Alex didn't find this smile so sweet because her leg was moving dangerously closer to his groin.

"I don't believe so. If true, then why are you trying to make me impotent?" He asked with a playful smile. Sera stopped her sneak attack and turned around to hide her blushing face and, more importantly, to control her heart, racing like a doped horse.

"Don't know what you are talking about."

"Come on, no need to be shy, love. I-" Alex, who was about to continue teasing Sera, stopped, and his lips curved upward into an evil grin, and Sera, who happened to see this, immediately understood that what he did, he had done it with a purpose. It was not hard to predict what Alex's purpose was.

All those theatrical lines were used to lure the real boss into the depth of the forest. His goal was simple what would happen if he used some cliché line to pose as the Boss while the real one was hiding somewhere? Obviously, the real boss would feel insulted and would come out and lay judgment on the one that pretended to be the boss.

"Here he comes," Alex mumbled, already back into his normal form. As for the incoming monster already aware of his silver form, forget it; there is no way it could happen as the latter sense could penetrate his domain.

"Bold ants, how dare you to play with this king? I will kill you and torture your soul." A powerful voice rang out, followed by terrifying pressure upon the duo; Sera's legs almost gave out but thanks to Alex's help the pressure she was feeling vanished like a joke.

They lifted their eyes to see a gargantuan shadow beast, twelve meters long, with large wings, short forelegs, and a long tail.

"D-dragon?!" Sera paled, eyes filled with fear, but Alex was unfazed as he had seen a real dragon, this thing looked like a dragon, but at best, it could be called a wyvern, not a real dragon.

"You mean giant lizard?" Alex asked with his head tilted to the side.

At first, Sera thought that maybe she had misheard but seeing the smile on his lips, she understood that this man was making fun of the monster in the sky and if the story about the dragon was correct. This thing would be pretty pissed by his comment, and. Indeed emerald wyvern was, as overlord of this place since he fled that elf who slaughtered them to collect their cores; nobody had talked to him as this punny human with a bit of strength did. He had to teach him a lesson.

"Grrrrrrrr!" Rattled by Alex's mocking words, the emerald wyvern grumbled in frustration; its jaws opened wide, assaulting Alex's group with ear-splitting roars.

The earth cracked, and trees burst into splinters, but Alex snapped his fingers, conjuring a silver barrier that prevented this destructive roar from affecting them. The ease with which the punny human dismantled the Draconic Roar startled the monster, forcing him to give Alex a new appraisal.

"What are you roaring at me for? I just started what I see. For some, you might be a dragon, but for me, you're just a giant lizard, a giant lizard with wings, no a lucky lizard with wings." Alex stated with a calm face that one would think that he was saying some earth-shattered truth.

The emerald wyvern's face turned livid, and Sera burst out in laughter.

"Pft! Hahahahaha. Please stop; he is too pitiful." She declared, and Alex looked at her strangely.

"What?" She was confused by the look he was giving her.

Alex shook his head. "Nothing, but you got the potential."

Sera didn't ask what potential Alex was talking about because she felt like beating the shit out of him if she were ever to know.

Meanwhile, the emerald wyvern in the sky felt insulted, its dignity tossed and trampled by this couple. The monster never knew that words could be so infuriating.

However, the following sentence that came out of Alex's mouth made the emerald wyvern wobble, almost falling.

"It is decided, you will become a pet. Her pet." Alex said, pointing at Sera; the latter was shocked by the sudden declaration.

"Me?" She pointed at her, unsure if Alex was joking or seriously talking. Joking because he might be trying to anger the emerald wyvern to death.

1018 Chapter 1018

"It is decided, you will become a pet. Her pet." Alex said, pointing at Sera; the latter was shocked by the sudden declaration.

"Me?" She pointed at her, unsure if Alex was joking or seriously talking. Joking because he might be trying to anger the emerald wyvern to death because he could do that; he was that shameless.

"Yes! Didn't say last time you need a pet to run some errands?" Alex calmly stated, and Sera's mouth twitched, too lazy to answer this shameless man.

The emerald wyvern had enough and roared; this time, instead of a normal roar, the monster breathed toxic breath, but as soon it left its mouth, it was frozen by a special bullet, an ice bullet.

The emerald wyvern froze and once more reevaluated Alex's level.

Cracking his neck, any playfulness disappeared from his face, and Alex said.

"You seemed to be mistaking something here. I'm not asking you to be his pet, but I'm stating the truth. You don't have your say here. Just because of your punny level 157, do you think you're almighty? Don't make me laugh."

The emerald wyvern stood frozen in the air after hearing Alex's declaration. How did he know its level? Is he a special human? Those with special eyes? Many questions ran through the wyvern's mind, but all stopped when Alex released his strength and activated his second form. The dragon form.

"Isn't this? No...impossible! How could you be..."

The emerald wyvern couldn't finish his words.

A mighty dragon aura rolled out, powering every fiber of Alex's being with overwhelming destruction force.

Facing this dragon aura, the wyvern, proud of its bloodline as it was the closest to the original, felt like a fake copy. Without a doubt, death was closing in, and to survive, the monster had to strike first, regardless of the pressure and what its bloodline was telling him.

"KILL!!" The word came with a deafening roar, and like a hail of breathing projectiles, the emerald wyvern threw itself at Alex, its scaled wings spreading wide and flapping faster than the human eye could follow.

Many images of emerald wyverns appeared in the sky; the monster had used one of its special abilities, Hundred mirages.

"GRRRRRRRRRRRR!" Hundred draconic Roars reverberated through the sky before combining into a dreadful breath capable of erasing everything on its path.

Sera was calm because her man was calm; she believed he would easily take care of this monster, and indeed he didn't disappoint her.

In his dragon form, Alex left eye, which had turned golden, reverted to its original color, silver, and siphoned some of the silver energy Alex ordered.

"Discard!"

One, only one word, and the terrifying breath were erased just like that.

"What?" The emerald wyvern was shocked; no word could describe the shock its brain went through facing the absurdity that had just occurred.

"Time for some pummeling." Alex declared before his body vanished.

The emerald wyvern was back to its senses and tried to maneuver its body; alas, it was already too late.

Alex reappeared above the emerald wyvern, and his feet raised high before bringing it down into its back

"UGH!" With irresistible force, Alex's feet slammed into the dragon's back, dragging it to the ground. But by the time the emerald's wyvern brain made sense of the blow, Alex had whirled towards its large chin. His right hand clenched into a claw, sending a dreadful uppercut.

Bang! BOOM!

The dragon's large mouth fell open, and blood sprayed out as its body was sent spiraling into the sky. Alex reappeared just above the monster and kicked him toward the; the emerald wyvern's body cut through the air like a bullet but faster than a bullet, Alex reappeared below it and kicked it toward the sky again. This was repeated again and again.

And after a moment, the monster was drenched in its own blood; half of its scales were broken, blood oozing from them.

Sera closed her eyes, unable to watch any longer the pitiful dragon get beaten into such a state.

Bam ! BOOM!

The emerald wyvern's body slammed onto the earth, creating a big crater on the ground. Alex landed on top of the beast, his feet pressing against its head. The dragon was in immense pain.

A burning sensation radiated from its chest, nails digging deep into the earth in search of relief from this agony. He wanted to give up; there was no way he could keep going feeling like this. For a moment, the emerald wyvern focused on the pain, honing in on every sensation. Where it came from, how badly it hurt and how badly he wanted it to stop.

He grunted, determined to block out the pain and ignore the voices begging them not to stop. But he felt sore all over; the injury was clearly taking its toll on his entire body.

The emerald wyvern thought he could survive even after seeing that Alex could transform into a dragon form; his bloodline was purer and could seal him. He thought if he had the initiative, he could win, but unfortunately, reality was another thing; he could not leave a single scratch; no, he could not even touch Alex. From the beginning to the end, he got completely beaten up; Alex suppressed and beat him like a toy; he could do nothing but suffer.

The emerald wyvern wondered what he did do to the gods to be this unlucky; a few years ago, it was that freak of an elf; she appeared and slaughtered them as if they were cattle; he escaped by sacrificing his brethren, found this place and hide, lured adventurers, consumed them to build his strength until it reached the Demigod realm. He thought he had become invincible, he could go out and conquer more land, but fate had something else in store for him.

Before his grand domination would begin, before he would consume more quality adventurers to evolve, a freak appeared and beat him beyond words.

Standing on the trembling dragon, Alex crossed his arms.

"So?"

"I-i surrender, sir. I'll become her pet." The emerald wyvern declared, trembling.

"Good decision." Alex declared, happy to have acquired a pet for his woman.

Meanwhile, the once proud emerald wyvern felt like crying but had no tears. He was beaten into submission. He wondered what fate awaited him besides this monster.

1019 Chapter 1019

"Change into a smaller form and a cute one, that is." After giving the emerald wyvern the time to heal, Alex gave it this order.

The fearful dragon nodded and immediately turned into a small cute creature; instead of a dragon, he looked like a green cat with a small wing minus the fur.

Pleased with form, Alex spun in Sera's direction, but before talking to her, he said.

"Cough out all the treasures you have amassed, and better not play me."

The emerald wyvern, now in a small form, almost fainted.

'Master, you beat me into submission, but as if this was not enough, you now trying to rob me of my treasures? Can you be any crueller?' The poor dragon's eyes seemed to be asking, but Alex paid no heed to it and pocketed all treasure the dragon brought after disappearing and reappearing again.

"Now it's yours. You can name it as you want." Alex said as he ordered the emerald wyvern to go to Sera.

Holding the cute little thing that was like a plushie, Sera squeezed it before shaking her head.

,m "I think you should give it to Luna; it would guard her. Well, even if she doesn't need it. This cutie suited her more than me." Sera refused Alex's gift, which left him speechless; if he didn't know her better, he would have said that she refused because she was angry with him for not calling her regularly; however, knowing Sera her suggestion was genuine, this pet doesn't suit her, she wouldn't mind giving it to others and patiently wait for hers.

Having understood the logic beyond her refusal, Alex accepted it.

"Okay, you will look after it until I hand it over to Luna. Let's not name it for now. Let's leave. I'm tired, and I deserve a reward, don't you think?" Alex declared with a mysterious smile on his face.

Sera rolled her eyes at him but still answered nonetheless.

"Of course, but later you will tell everything I've missed." She added a condition. Her eyes were locked on his left eye, and he understood what she was trying to imply.

"Sure." There was no harm in sharing some of his secrets as he decided beforehand to do it with his loved ones.

Approaching and holding Sera by the waist, Alex activated his Void ability, and the trio disappeared and reappeared in Avalon, inside the Blue Haven Villa.

"Welcome, master. Mrs. Elseria said to find her as soon as you come." The head butlers greeted Alex and informed him of the message left behind by Typhania.

"I understood. Take off this thing. I'll go see her later." Alex said and tossed the emerald wyvern to the butler while, together with Sera, they disappeared into the villa.

One hour later, after taking a bath and eating a light meal, Sera and Alex sat in his room around a table. She was sitting on his lap.

"So it what happened." Alex marveled at to how Lilith handled the empire's affairs after ascending to the throne; there was almost a voice against her acting as a ruler, either because of fear or because she was one of the last members of the imperial bloodline.

To stop the future rebellion, Lilith had her loyal subordinates take the most important position in the empire besides that of the emperor, well, now it's empress. In the duke position, apart from the three dukes loyal to her father and their bloodline, the remaining five were her subordinates.

Amused by Lilith's cleverness, Alex summoned a plate full of exotic fruits. The exotic fruits' candied scent teased Sera's nose, and her lips instinctively reached out for them. Alas, Alex moved the skewered fruits out of Sera's way, raising the strawberry to his lips and holding it there, his eyes daring Sera to make a move.

"What a naughty man."

Sera frowned and blushed both at the same time at this blatant provocation. Still, she wouldn't let the sweet candied fruits escape her as she loved them. The childish nature that took over whenever she stood before delicacies resurfaced, and she leaned in, taking a bite off the closest strawberry.

Though separated by fruit and skewer, Sera's lips stood dangerously close to Alex's. Alex, too took a bite, and together, they ate the fruit; their lips brushed in the process, and as soon as the last bite had vanished in Alex's mouth, Sera's lips connected to his, her eyes playful as she knew he was after this all along.

Undisturbed by the playfulness in his lover's eyes, Alex wrapped his arms around Sera's waist, keeping her body glued to his lips and savoring the taste of her pink lips.

The normal kiss evolved from ordinary to a sensual one where they explored each other mouth as their tongues fought for supremacy but untimely, this led to Alex's victory.

Gasping for breath Sera tapped on Alex's robust chest and said.

"You are so naughty that I'm lost for word."

"Well, you like me this way, don't you?" He teased her, and she didn't deny it. On the contrary, she acknowledged it.

"I love everything about you. I love your naive self, your confident self, your arrogant self; I like everything about you." Alex quietly listened to Sera, not disturbing her in the slightest as he felt like there was more she wanted to say, and as a good listener, he should behave like one; therefore, he continued to listen.

"Maybe it is what it means to be in love. Previously when I hadn't fallen in love, I'd always thought of love as useless emotion, a tool to accomplish my goal, but I was wrong; love is a powerful emotion we all need; it doesn't matter our gender or race. Love is important. Love is a quiet emotion that in time becomes part of the oxygen you need to breathe, and so though you may feel not sure that it's there, any form of removal and the emotions begin to choke."

"Falling in love with you has taught me this. Although afraid of what future holds in store for us, I believe that together will can overcome all adversaries. Let's begin."

She said before they moved toward the bed.

"Let's me reward you." She said before kneeling between Alex's legs; the way she looked at him sent a shiver down to the black prince's spine.

Letting her body do the talking, Sera reached for Alex's belt, untying it with slow, teasing pulls as her arms purposely rested and rubbed on Alex's shaft. After some fiddling, the belt fell to the side, and by the time Sera had lowered Alex's pants, his cock had sprung free, smacking her in the cheeks.

"Ah! I missed this monster." Sera mumbled.

Alex stretched his hand out, lifting Sera's chin. Her eyes rose to meet his; the two seemed to want to see in each other souls; all they could see was their love for each other.

Suddenly Sera stuck her tongue out, licking his finger while her hand grabbed his shaft.

Alex pulled his hand back. Giving Sera free reign to do with his cock as he pleased. She didn't waste more time on games, directly flicking her tongue over Alex's shaft, pressing and licking up and down while her hands wrapped around the base, pumping the bulging meat with firm strokes.

At first, she maintained a slow and steady pace. Then, her moves grew more hurried. Her saliva basted all corners of Alex's cock, but as the shaft tensed in her hands, Sera's grip tightened on the base, preventing his milk from rising to the tip. Here, she pulled down her nightgown, letting her breasts spring free and smack into his shaft. As if relishing the taste of Alex's cock, she flicked her tongue over her lips, then, with one jerking move, trapped our monk's cock between the largest mountain peaks it ever had the chance to enjoy.

"Ohh! Good," Alex moaned.

Like a ladder to blissful heaven, her breast brought Alex closer to orgasm, but he managed to hold back. Meanwhile, Sera continued her job. Her saliva spread on her chest, perfecting the friction. Confident in her assets, the assassin queen smiled at her man, kissing the tip of his cock before pressing and gyrating her tits all over Alex's cock.

"Master, your servant can't tell if she's doing well. Do you enjoy the service?" Sera got into character, her sultry, honeyed voice teasing Alex just as much as her modest breasts were compressing his cock, further increasing Alex's sensation.

"You are doing your best. I'm enjoying it." Alex gave his honest praise, which made Sera's cheeks red, but she continued with her job. She stuck her tongue out for a lewd, teasing look, then pressed on the head of Alex's shaft, swallowing his cock, and going all the way down in one move.

"Ohhh!" Alex didn't have the time to adjust to Sera's warm and moist throat that the queen of assassin dragged tongue and throat up on his meat, bobbing on the tip while kneading her breasts over his reddening cock.

"I'm sure I'll enjoy this reward as you will," Alex mumbled amidst the moans.

1020 Chapter 1020

"Ohhh!" Alex didn't have the time to adjust to Sera's warm and moist throat that the queen of assassin dragged tongue and throat up his meat, bobbing on the tip while kneading her breasts over his reddening cock.

"I'm sure I'll enjoy this reward as you will," Alex mumbled amidst the moans.

Sera continued servicing Alex with her utmost care, the way she squeezed his holy spear between her twin peaks and how she rolled her tongue along his shaft made Alex's spine experience countless shivers, and he ejaculated a copious amount of semen into the depth of her throat, and she swallowed everything.

While Sera was cleaning Alex's cock, which was still standing proudly despite having released a copious amount of semen, Alex decided not to say idling. His right thumb sneaked under Sera's panties, pressing on and massaging her clit with slow yet firm rotations.

"Ohhhhh!" Sera bit her lower lip, stifling a loud moan. Her hands clenched on Alex's shoulders, holding on for dear life as her legs trembled and her thighs clamped on his monk's arm.

Sera's head bobbed up and down. With an impish smile, Alex let go of her tits, wrapping his arm around her waist and sinking his hand into her bouncy ass cheeks. His hand pulled on Sera's panties, making the drenched fabric pass through her dripping pussy and stir up her walls with one sharp stroke.

"Ahhh...Nooooooo!" The jolt of electricity coursing through her body made a mess of the queen of assassin's mind.

Sera, who was sensitive to Alex's teasing and the service she provided, got an orgasm and therefore was still sensitive, but Alex was not going to let her rest; he penetrated her right off the bat, sending a bout of electric shiver down to her spine. Sera's eyes rolled into the back of her head, her pussy's lips spreading to suck in Alex's cock and drag it up her walls. Her knees gave out, and she dropped on Alex's cock, sinking to the base, and impaling herself so that his shaft kissed her cervix.

"Ohhhhh!" She moaned as she threw her head backward and accepted the pleasure threatening to overwhelm her very soul. Her tongue lolled out, and she trembled in raw delight.

Fully aware of what was about to come, Sera braced herself. Her head bent at a perpendicular angle, and taking this as a signal, Alex slammed her down his hardened shaft, pounding her up and down while giving her no chance to get into a rhythm.

"Ohh yes!!!!!"

Sera's moans flowed out, a perfect match for her juice which leaked and mixed with Alex's precum, drenching the bed with abundant love juice, a testament of the evil taking place but neither cared as they seemed too far gone to worry about something like that, only pleasure and the sound of flesh slamming into each other resounded through the room creating a lustful atmosphere capable of sending daring to enter it into a beast mode.

Meanwhile, Alex kept impaling Sera's walls, reaching new heights.

Pah! Pah!

These harmonious sounds continued until Alex's cock bulged in the Sera's inner flesh walls, spreading them farther apart and causing her lust-glazed eyes to roll back and forth.

Again, she fell to another orgasm. Her hips grew weak, overwhelmed by Alex's cock.

Without warning, Alex rose from the bed, lifting Sera by the butt. Her pussy's walls tightened in excitement to what was about to come, but with a casual spin, Alex turned towards the bed, lowering her on the bed with her twin peaks kissing the soft mattress.

He didn't forget to take one moment to appreciate Sera's beautiful curves again.

"Here we go." He declared before ramming his cock up her cunt.

"Ohhhhh!"

The sound of flesh clapping flesh boomed throughout the room, almost breaking through the soundproof bedroom and reaching people outside.

Pah! Pah!

Alex continued to indulge, ramming his shaft into her moist pussy from behind for two minutes before taking hold of her hair and yanking it backward, albeit gently.

"Nooooo!"

This move made Sera tighten her cunt around his cock as if she wished to crush Alex's stick meat.

"Ugh!!" This move overwhelmed our black prince, making him sprint his movements. He pinched her erected nipple, rolling his fingers on her clit.

"Ohhhh! Cumming !" Sera had another orgasm, and Alex followed, depositing everything in the depth of her cunt.

The two stayed in this position for a moment before Alex removed his placid cock, and Sera cleaned it. Just as she finished, she started playing with it.

"I'm sure you're not satisfied. Shall we do role-playing sex?"

Alex's eyes shone, many ideas ran through his mind, and a perverted smile found its way to his face. He whispered something into Sera's ears, and the latter flinched, but as the one who suggested this idea, it would be weird to run away, so she nodded.

"Sure, why not."

~ a Few minutes later.

Sera was sitting on Alex's thighs with his spear pointed at her entrance; her face seemed to be struggling as if fighting against something; however, this stopped when Alex pierced deep inside her, reaching the deepest corner of her pussy.

"I will make you forget about your husband; the only thing you will think about from now onward will be my dick, nothing else," Alex asked while moving his waist.

"Ahhh...!" She moaned loudly and curved her neck up. She then hugged Alex's neck and started to move up and down.

"Ahhnnn, ugh, ahn, h-husband, I'm sorry... I-I betrayed you..." Sera said with a bit of sadness mixed with lust.

Soon, though, her sadness disappeared, and only lust remained.

"... Sorry... Sorry... Sorry... But I like this...! Ughn... ahn... Good!"

Sera wriggled her butt eagerly, and her white legs opened sideways to allow his huge member to push deeper inside her. Nectar gushed out of her flower garden as a stream.

The guilt she felt due to cheating on her husband and having sex while he was away eating her sanity; made her frown, and Alex felt excited when he saw the troubled expression on her face and heard her crazy moans. This ignited his lust, and his libido surged up again, making him thrust inside her soft, warm, and wet pussy in a crazed manner.

Her tender and sensitive labia rubbed against his shaft fiercely, and his gland did the same, bringing even more pleasure to them. The two kept reaching one high after another, immersed heart and mind within the pleasure.

Alex kept ramming his thighs to her sensitive body while his hands rubbed and caressed Sera's perfectly round buttocks. With each thrust, love fluids rushed out of her pussy, drenching him.

Sera could not endure this soul-melting pleasure and forget about everything around her. She forgot that she was cheating. The only thing that mattered was the heavenly feeling coursing through her body and soul.

Because they were in role-playing, he had to do his part, and so he did. He was surprised when Sera let go of all restraints at this degree. She even coiled her legs around him and opened the womb entrance ultimately to tell him to make a mess out of her, and he felt obliged to do so.

Instantly, Alex's cock reached her womb and broke inside it.

"Ahhnnnn.....!" Sera let out a loud cry and shivered deeply. The sudden pain and pleasure made her orgasm in one go.

The amount of love juice she let out was even greater than the previous ones. Alex's legs were completely drenched.

Alex grunted in excitement and pushed her down, changing their position to the missionary position and starting a new round of fierce pounding.

He pressed down her body without mercy, not giving her time to leave the afterglow of the orgasm. Instead, he attacked even more aggressively, causing Sera's vagina to contract around his shaft like a tightly coiled snake.

"Husband...! Sorry!!!" Sera let out a loud cry and hugged Alex's neck. The latter smirked and kissed her lips, owning her body and soul completely, and making her his.

She felt another orgasm coming.

And with a long shiver, she orgasmed again.

However, he continued attacking her and pounding her fiercely, and enjoying the feeling of her flesh opening and closing to receive him wholeheartedly.

By her third orgasm, she was finally unable to endure anymore. She moaned loudly and spasmed as though an electric current was attacking her.

At the same time, her throat let out a strange, unintelligible moan, and her body clung to Alex as if her life depended on it.

Seeing that, Alex increased his speed for one last sprint. Finally, he reached into her womb and injected all the semen he had accumulated in her.

Sera let out a loud moan and closed her eyes, lying powerlessly in the bed.

"... So good..." She muttered with a dazed expression.

Alex smiled and looked beside me. There, a pair of brown eyes met his eyes and smiled lustfully.

"... You are still so hard...." Sera, in a married woman's role, whispered.

He smiled and grabbed her waist. Then, he entered her again without mercy. There's a lot more to do. This was just the beginning.

Once more, her moans resounded in the room.
