

Death Guns 1021

1021 Chapter 1021

As the sun rose over the City of Avalon, the capital of the Drexia empire, inside the Blue Ivy villa, Alex and Sera woke up and were up to a morning sex exercise.

Sera was the one who initiated this exercise by blowing our Black Prince while he was sleeping. Now in the beast mode, he would not let her go unpunished; they began. They kissed wildly, then passionately.

Their passionate kiss became wild until they ran out of breath, deciding to stop for a moment. Sera blamed Alex for what she had become

"You turned me into a sex addict."

Although her voice was laced with complaints, Alex knew deep down she was happy; therefore, he chuckled and hugged her body while kissing her earlobe.

"Stay true to yourself; it doesn't matter what you have become because no matter what you will become, I'll be there and love you nonetheless. So, be yourself as I love everything about you." Alex's words were like multiple arrows shot straight to her heart; her heart was sent through a wave of emotion, she was beyond happy, and this happiness made her body more sensitive; her love for Alex skyrocketed to a stratospheric level.

Covering his fingers in wind element, Alex slowly caressed her lover's body and declared.

"Be mine forever and ever."

Sera moaned softly and twisted her body on his things. Aksx's rock-hard glans rubbed against her thighs, making her body temperature rise.

"You're a really beautiful woman Sera. Glad I've you for myself, I can't let any other man have after all. Only I am worthy of such pearl and once again be mine forever."

Sera looked at Alex with a sweet smile as she declared.

"Glad that you know, if you don't take care of me, I'll leave for-"

He cut her off by sealing her lips as they started another tongues battle.

She kissed him passionately to show him the extent of her love.

Meanwhile, Alex was moving his finger through her spine, making Sera shiver and moan loudly.

"Anhhhhh!"

Quickly undressing her, she did the same to him, and because they were dressed lightly, it was fast.

Lowering his head, Alex went between her legs and licked her clit slowly before sending his tongue inside her pussy in slow motion. The way his tongue twisted like a snake inside her cunt made Sera's body twist, and she let out a moan.

Alex's hands traveled toward her modest breasts; he started massaging them, pinching her already hardened nipples.

"Ohhhh!"

She moans, feeling the double assault. Alex started sending his tongue in and out of her sacred place at fast speed while playing with her breasts while his other hand was used to caress her ear, one of her sensitive points, slowly.

"Oooh! Good"

Sera moaned, pushing his head deeper into her cunt, Alex's nose rubbing against her clit.

Sensing that she was about to come, Alex stopped for a moment. Sera then looked at him in confusion as if to say why the hell did you stop when I'm so close to orgasm?

Alex found Sera's current eyes cute and could not help but chuckle, Alex then lowered his head again, but this time he didn't put his tongue inside her pussy; instead, he sucked her clit so hard that her body trembled, then he pinched her hardened nipples hard at the same as he continued to suck her clit.

"Ooh! I'm cumming!!" Sera moaned as she let out her first orgasm of the day.

With slurping sounds, he drank all her love juice before raising his head and bringing his stained mouth to kiss her; she reciprocated passionately while using her hand to please his cock. She did give a blowjob, but the way she accurately moved her hand was enough to bring him closer, and soon thanks to her handjob, he had an orgasm. She cleaned his dick using her mouth, enough to ignite Alex's lust anew, and he became ready for the main dish.

Smiling, he put her on his thighs, his hardened cock aiming at her entrance.

Alex did not enter immediately. Instead, he first teased Sera slowly, causing her to moan and bit her lips. Her face slowly became redder and redder, and her breathing turned more and more rushed.

Finally, she could not endure more. She tried to push her waist towards his cock in a desperate attempt to fill her empty and craving cunt.

Unfortunately, Alex moved back at the last moment and smirked.

"You know what you need to say in a moment like these, my assassin's queen."

Sera blushed hard; she bit her rosy lips and nodded.

"..Please... I want it... Give it to me."

"Good girl," Alex praised her; he was also at his limit; he needed to feel her cunt, but he waited for the magic words.

As soon as he heard that, he pierced deep inside her, reaching the deepest corner of her pussy.

"Ahhh...!"

Sera moaned loudly and curved her neck up. She then hugged his neck and started to move up and down.

"Ahhnnn, ugh, Ahn, I'm feeling it inside me again soon." She said, eyes filled with lust.

Sera wriggled her butt eagerly, and her white legs opened sideways to allow his cock to push deeper inside her, making it easy to plow her. Nectar gushed out of her flower garden like a stream.

Alex couldn't get enough of her lust-filled face and heard her crazy moans. His libido surged up again, making his thrust inside her soft, warm, and wet cunt in a crazed manner, almost as if he got possessed by a lustful spirit.

Her tender and sensitive labia rubbed against cock fiercely, and his gland did the same, bringing even more pleasure to the duo. The two kept reaching one high after another, immersing heart and mind in the pleasure. It's why sex is a wonderful thing. Morning sex exercise was a wonderful thing, and both knew this.

Alex kept ramming his thighs to her sensitive body while his hands rubbed and caressed Sera's perfectly round buttocks. His mouth wasn't idling either; he was sucking her tit as he plowed her hard. With each thrust, love fluids rushed out of her sensitive cunt.

Sera couldn't endure this soul-melting pleasure and forgot about everything around her. She was just enjoying herself.

"Annhh! Annhh! harder, my love." She shouted desperately and was surprised. She even coiled her legs around him and opened the entrance of her womb completely. So, Alex felt obliged to comply with her demand.

Smiling, he increased his pace.

Pah* Pah* Pah*

Sounds of Alex's glands kissing her ass cheeks resonated within the room. Lifting her a little, he pierced her, sending his entire length inside her cunt.

Instantly, his dick reached her womb and broke inside it.

"Ugh! Ahnnnn.....!"

Sera let out a loud cry and shivered intensely. The sudden pain and pleasure made her orgasm in one go.

The amount of love juice she let out was even greater than her first orgasm. Alex's legs were completely drenched.

He groaned in excitement and pushed Sera down; changing their position, he lifted her legs just above her head and started a new round of fierce pounding.

"God!!!" Sera let out a loud moan and hugged Alex's neck.

And with a long shiver, she orgasmed again.

However, Alex continued attacking her, plowing her fiercely and enjoying the feeling of her flesh opening and closing to receive his gungnir.

By her third orgasm, Sera was finally unable to endure anymore. She moaned loudly and spasmed as though an electric current was attacking her.

"!!!!!!!!!"

At the same time, she let out a strange, unintelligible moan and clung to Alex's body like a child, afraid of her mother abandoning her; she tightly hugged him while reveling in the pleasant aftertaste of the orgasm she had.

Seeing that, Alex increased his speed for one last sprint. Finally, he pierced her womb and sent all the semen he had accumulated inside her. Alex stopped only after making sure that he had deposited everything inside it.

Sera let out a loud moan and closed her eyes, lying powerlessly in the bed.

"I'm dying of pleasure; please let me rest, please." She muttered with a dazed expression. She was very satisfied; she didn't want to continue any longer. She felt like going crazy with lust if this were to continue any further than this.

"Ohh? I'm not satisfied, though." Alex mumbled with a playful smile, and Sera's body trembled, visibly afraid to go for another round; she would turn into an idiot that thought nothing but sex, a price she wasn't ready to pay.

"Please, Alexander let me rest; I'm begging you." She called his name in full, and Alex chuckled and softly caressed her brown hair before planting a kiss on her forehead and leaving her cunt.

"I know, love. I was teasing you. I will let you rest. In the meantime, I will go meet the guild master, your previous boss. We will depart after I come back." Alex declared before leaving the bed, and Sera nodded; just as she was about to say something, she heard something falling onto the ground.

"Alex?"

He couldn't answer her because, at that moment, a notification rang inside his mind.

[Synchronizing..60...70...85...90....99%..... Perfect synchronization reached...]

As soon as the synchronization rate reached, Alex blanked out.

.....

He opened his eyes inside a house.

From the outside, this house looks old but wonderful. It has been built with spruce wood and has sandstone decorations. Tall, half-rounded windows allow enough light to enter the home and have been added to the house in a fairly symmetrical pattern.

The house had an average kitchen and one modern bathroom; it also had a small living room, two bedrooms, a large dining area, and a modest storage room.

The building is rectangular shaped. Overgrown wooden overhanging panels fully surround the house.

The second floor is smaller than the first, which allowed for a roof garden on one side of the house. This floor follows the same style as the floor below.

The roof is high and square shaped and is covered with wheat straw. One small chimney sits at the side of the house. Rows of small windows let in plenty of light to the rooms below the roof.

The house itself was surrounded by a well-kept garden, with a grass field and flower patches at the edges of the garden.

Inside the garden was a family of three. Two adults, one male, the younger version of what Alex believed to be Smith, and the female, should be Sera's mother as she shared similarities with Sera.

As for the third person, it was none other than Sera, a child version of Sera. Alex saw things from her point of view.

The younger Sera was playing in the garden, and her parents were watching her; her mother was playing with her; she had such a gentle smile that Alex did not doubt she was someone everyone would like.

Sera was truly happy playing with her parents as they showered her with enough love to drown her. Alex, who was watching, did not doubt that this must be one of the happiest moments of her life.

Suddenly, the scene changed to one of the saddest moments of Sera's life; the nine years old Sera stood in front of her mother's corpse. She had a fragile body; it got further degraded after she gave birth to Sera; doctors had warned Smith that she might not live past thirty, but the father-daughter thought that a miracle could happen; unfortunately, it didn't happen, and she died. Although young at that time, the younger Sera was smart which was a good thing and a bad thing. A bad thing because she was more intelligent and knew many things, she blamed the death of her mother to be her fault and since that day she never smiled from the bottom of her heart. Her father was unhappy because of her and would never be as long as he lived because he loved her mother beyond mortal's comprehension.

"I'm better off dead." Sera had repeated this sentence countless times, and it had become her catchphrase. Alex felt pained; he wanted to tell her that it was not her fault, that it was fate's doing; however, no matter how hard he tried to project his voice, only he could hear it; it was unable to reach Sera.

The saddest moments continued until Smith had an accident, and since that day, he could never be the best any longer; his dream to one day create a piece of equipment capable of rivaling the Gifts, born from the soul got shattered because of that accident, and naturally, Sera blamed herself for this. There was even that period when everything was hard, they couldn't make the end meet, and Sera accepted Elseria's offer and began working under her. She went through hell to be where she is today, and Alex witnessed everything; he better understood the woman named Sera Olivia Wexon.

He vowed to protect her and never made her experience unhappiness again.

Back in reality, a few minutes had passed, and Alex stood up and consoled Sera; after making sure she slept, Alex decided to take a bath, and while taking a shower, he checked his status.

"Waouh!" Alex could not stop an exclamation from escaping his mouth after seeing the new ability he got, probably related to Sera and his title. However, now wasn't the time to check them as he had somewhere to go; he was already late; not wanting to be later, he had to hurry up there.

A few minutes later, Alex was already inside the headquarter of the Adventurer guild, on the highest floor.

"Ah! I'm sorry, I was doing a really exhausting task!"

Alex complained as soon as he appeared; his shamelessness knew no bounds. Elseria was already there, pouring whiskey for him. She was calm as the surface of a lake.

"So sex can be an exhausting work? But I got the impression that you'll love it no matter what."

She retorted.

And Alex flinched.

He internally cursed her and took a seat. She handed him the drink and sat across him with folded hands.

"Oh wait, you do complain about that as well by saying just how much work you did? How many rounds you did."

Elseria (Typhania) added. She might be a novice in this field, but this doesn't mean she is clueless.

"....." Alex did his best to ignore her and seeped whiskey.

Of course, Elseria wouldn't stop, though. It was hard to find opportunities to roast him, and she wouldn't give up the golden opportunity now.

A few minutes later, Alex's face turned red.

"Just what will it take for you to stop!?" Alex asked as if resigned to his fate.

"Well, stop being shameless."

"....."

Alex stared at her. She stared back at him.

Sadly it was Alex who had to break the eye contact. He couldn't win against her. He was like a child before an adult, and considering the age gap between them, he was indeed a child before Elseria, the elven empress, the Goddess of the Elves, the one hailed as the strongest of all two hundred years ago.

Coughing lightly, Alex decided to switch the subject.

"I have contacted you because I think I can cure you."

Boom!

This declaration was like a bomb exploding in our empress's mind, and she got up from her seat, surprised beyond word.

"What are you saying? Are you serious?" She declared unsure, and before Alex could place one, she added.

"Be sure that I won't forgive you if you are playing with me."

p "What are you saying? Are you serious?" She declared unsure, and before Alex could place one, she added.

"Be sure that I won't forgive you if you are playing with me."

Alex did not doubt the sincerity of what Elseria had said, and he nodded, he might be shameless, but he knew when to stop playing.

"Don't worry, I'm serious; I won't joke about something like that. Now that you have seen me, you must have noticed something has changed." Alex declared, and his words made her nod her head. She had noticed the change and how stronger he had become. It would have been weird if she didn't notice—that peculiar silver eye that stands out no matter what.

There was something weird, no, something dangerous about Alex's left eye; she had seen it before, those same eyes on the silver-haired. Elseria shuddered just by remembering how scary that woman was.

"Okay, I will believe in you but let's not do it here; I'm sure that even with all the precautions I've inside this building, they will not be enough to conceal my full strength if I were to recover," Elseria said before leaving her seat. Alex nodded; even if she had suggested this, he would have become curing Elseria should remain a secret; she would be their trump card in the incoming war.

Lilith getting rid of her curse must have been noticed by Bahamut; the same goes for Artemia but while he had done nothing until now was because they couldn't be much threat. While those two would not appreciate this, from what Incursio said, the only one Bahamut considered to be dangerous was Typhania, so if he were to notice that the latter had recuperated her former strength, things might become chaotic soon. Bahamut would do anything to get rid of Typhania, meaning the war would happen sooner than anticipated, and the result would be Alex's camp's complete defeat as they wouldn't have enough time to be prepared. They would lose too much; to prevent such a situation, curing Typhania must be done in the utmost secrecy.

"Take my hand." Elseria (Typhania) offered her left hand to him, and Alex got hold of him. She nodded before they disappeared. They reappeared in a totally different place, in a forest, to be exact.

The forest was gigantic, light, and flourishing. Its canopy was marked by hickory, chestnut, and beech; their crowns allowed for short beams of light to descend for a motley of ferns to use the nut and seed-covered grounds below.

Thick branches suspended from many trees and a medley of flowers, which grew in abundance, added some bright touches to the otherwise uniform forest floor.

A hodgepodge of animal sounds, most of which were birds and insects, brightened up the forest, and were out of sync with the occasional roar of a large animal trying to scare away predators.

"A forest again? Try something new." Alex said half-jokingly, but Elseria nodded and, still holding his hand, vanished; they reappeared in another forest.

"Again?" Alex said with his voice laced with complaints, but he was ignored; then again, the scenery changed to another forest, but Alex said nothing as he didn't even have the energy to complain anymore.

Looking at Alex's face, Elseria chuckled before teleporting them to their following location, at the entrance of a realm. A special miniature world under Typhania's control.

"Great, it's the entrance of a realm this time; I just hope we won't be going through multiple realms," Alex said in a half resigned to fate.

Elseria was the first to enter, and Alex soon followed. As he walked forward through the portal. A pleasant world immediately met him. A massive, oddly colored lake reflects the even more peculiarly colored mountains in the distance. It was peaceful and quiet here. This world seems to calm. Whether this was true or just appearance remains to be seen.

In the distance, Alex could feel the presence of many creatures. They keep an eye on him in a predatory manner; the cautious path would be the best one. He could make out lean creatures, fluffy creatures, and what he thought might be flying creatures of some sort.

"This place should be safe, enough." Elseria (Typhania) stopped and declared, forcing Alex out of his daydream.

"Well, I'm sure after taking so many precautions, we are now safe." Alex declared before slowly approaching her; she said nothing, but just as he got closer, she stopped him, and Alex tilted his head to the side.

"What is it?" He questioned.

"Nothing much, but if you managed to cure my curse seriously, I would grant you one request, and I will comply no matter what your request will be." Elseria declared in a severe tone.

Alex was caught off guard, therefore, he stopped for a moment, but when he thought about it, he could understand this declaration and nod.

"I understand. Let's begin." Alex declared before appraising her; he couldn't hide his shock and wondered how much stronger she would become after being cured.

Alex sighed before simultaneously activating Nemesis's special abilities, which resulted in his silver form; in this form, he could detect the curse and tried to cure it.

BOOOOOOOOM!

The result was devastating; he was sent flying, and the whole realm was broken; the power beyond the Demigod realm was no joke.

1025 Chapter 1025

Alex sighed before simultaneously activating Nemesis's special abilities, which resulted in his silver form; in this form, he could detect the curse and tried to cure it.

It wasn't easy at first, but by combining Silveria's power, he was able to unleash a powerful bullet that penetrated through the multiple layers of gray energy protecting the curse, that gray energy is the chaos energy, not the real deal but something closer to it. Because if it was the real deal, Alex current strength couldn't hope to achieve anything against the real deal because it was an entirely different system than the mana system.

The silver bullet spiralled through the air and pierced through the curse and completely erased it and as result.

BOOOOOOOOOM!

The result was devastating; he was sent flying, and the whole realm was broken; the power beyond the Demigod realm was no joke.

Elseria, no Typhania who had returned to her original form floated in the air, surrounded by a powerful energy.

Alex surrounded himself with a silver energy, this helped him to decrease the pressure Typhania was emitting.

"What the fuck?" Even if he had expected something like this, it was still shocking nonetheless, so he couldn't help but exclaim aloud.

He thought he was at the end of his surprise but it had just begun, the pressure coming from Typhania kept increasing, to the extent that it started affecting her physical form, she became more beautiful.

"Again?" Alex exclaimed. After this status appeared, she stopped floating in the air slowly descended on the ground.

[I knew she was strong but I'm shocked because she is more powerful than I previously thought. You better not let her go because her potential is limitless.]

"Forest." She mumbled and the destroyed forest came back to life but completely different than before.

The new forest was modest, crowded, and thriving. Its canopy was contested by rhododendron, alder, and ash, and the occasional beam of light that made its way through the canopy allowed for a hodgepodge of plants to cultivate the rich grounds below.

Quiet climbing plants embraced many trees, and a variety of flowers, which claimed remnants of light, protruded from the otherwise dark green terrain.

A clamor of animal noises, most of which were vermin, reverberated through the air, and were accompanied by the barrage of noise coming from a waterfall in the distance.

"Thank you, really thank you for what you have done. I'm grateful, I have never thought you will succeed with your current strength. However, you succeeded, probably because of the eye you received from her." Typhania declared after creating a new forest and even the animals were created as well.

Alex marveled at this sight.

"You don't have to thank me because I helped you to help myself in the future. You said I can ask you anything after curing you and it's what I'm about to do right now."

"I'm listening."

"I want you to help me once no matter what the circumstance will be." Alex declared and Typhania was at first shocked because she expected something shameless, however, contrary to her expectation he asked for something simple.

Silence hung between them for a moment before she sighed.

"Ok I accept. But I will add another condition."

"And what this condition will be?" He asked with a smile.

"I want you to become my attendant."

Alex frowned but before he could ask what she meant, she talked first, explaining what she meant by becoming her attendant.

"It mean to become my guardian knight to get the tree of life blessing and many other boons."

Alex's eyes widened.

[Accept and you will not regret it.] Nyx out of everyone suggested to him to accept.

He nodded, he was thinking the same thing, he would have accepted without hesitation.

"Ok I accept." He accepted and Typhania smiled, happy that he accepted her offer.

She spoke in an ancient language that not even Alex's language comprehension skill couldn't translate, a green light covered both of them before a connection was made between them.

Alex felt refreshed and he immediately summoned his status window.

"Eh?" Alex was pleasantly surprised and could not stop an exclamation from escaping his mouth.

"Spirit of Nature, blossom." Alex looked at a frail looking flower and activated his spirit art's skill and the flower bloomed.

"Wow!" Alex exclaimed again. Typhania was shocked by his proficiency in the spirit art, he used the skill as if he was born with, it was so natural that Typhania who was once hailed as genius felt jealous.

"Thank you." He declared as she bowed and Typhania smiled.

Meanwhile in the Foxia empire, Sakuya was fighting against an assassin. Her katanas moved so swiftly that the level 120 assassin didn't see anything. The only thing he felt was regret and death.

'It's warm, it's warm and it tickles as it makes its way down my body in small rivers of crimson red. What an odd sensation, I'm dying, but it feels warm and ticklish.

The only thing holding me up is this stupid chair beneath me. Maybe I can use it to stand up, walk away and find help. No, it's no use. I'm too weak.

I can't.. I can't take this any longer. Live or die, just choose one already, body. I can't take this anymore. Please choose live. I don't want to die. I'm sure we can make it out of here, please choose live.

Exhausted. I'm absolutely exhausted. Perhaps I should lay down, it'll be easier. Yes, this is more comfortable, yet I still feel exhausted. No, I cannot give in, I cannot die just yet. Help will be here soon. I'm sure of it. I just need to keep my eyes open and wait for help.

Oh god, please, somebody find me, I'm going to die. I don't want to die alone, somebody find me please. I know I will die, so be it, just don't let me die all alone. Somebody, please, hurry up and find me.

I feel drowsy and dizzy, everything is spinning around me. It won't stop. I can't focus on anything, it keeps moving away from me. It's no use. I guess I'll close my eyes for now.'

"Regret in your afterlife." Sakuya declared as she removed the assassin's head from his body.

1026 Chapter 1026

As soon as Sakuya got rid of the assassin that came to kill her, she asked her sister.

"Where do you think they come from, Luna?"

"I'm sure, but I can say for certain that these assassins aren't from the Chaos Organization; they are too normal."

"I see, maybe your assumption is right, but still, we better watch out as they might be more of them," Sakuya said before vanishing; she didn't go back to the mansion but instead went into a dungeon to continue her training, her defeat against Kuina and Maria hit her hard; therefore she decided to increase her strength while polishing her various skills and abilities.

Luna knew this, so she secretly followed Sakuya; she also needed to become stronger; she would farm exp while secretly monitoring Sakuya and help her whenever a help was needed.

Those two weren't the only ones who went into the dungeon; Maria, Artemia, and the others as well.

Meanwhile, in another location inside the capital of the Foxia empire, in an abandoned house, something was happening.

The ground was littered with corpses, and not too far were two people; they were floating; a petite white-haired beauty was floating above a man dressed in tattered clothes full of blood.

"Next wave." The girl declared with a smile causing the man's body to twitch, he wanted to escape, but it was impossible.

Threads of energy seeped from his face and rushed into the Incursio's body.

"AAHHHHHHH!"

The assassin screamed like a pig mercilessly slaughtered by the butcher's knife. Every cell of his body seemed to be cut to release energy for the crystal's absorption.

The pain was unbearable. Not even the terrifying blows from her before he got caught made him scream so much.

"I expected you to cry from joy after a beauty like me is taking care of you, but I guess I was wrong."

'Please kill me.' The assassin seemed to be saying with his eyes, but Incursio chuckled in response. She got a nice guinea pig, so of course, she wouldn't let it go so easily.

"P-pl....ease.... I...will speak...I will tell you ever...ything." The assassin shouted amidst the inhuman pain, but Incursio ignored him.

Finally, after a moment of silence, she said.

"I refuse; I don't want to."

The assassin's face was dyed in despair, and his screams continued to ring for half hour before Incursio got bored and killed him; she incinerated the bodies and calmly waited for the person behind the assassination attempt to come. She knew people from the Chaos Organization would be coming after her; those assassins she had just slain were from the organization; they were working under the Numbers; Incursio was curious what kind of Number would come this time; she was itching for a fight.

She had no idea that another group of assassins tried to kill Luna and Sakuya. Like Luna predicted, those assassins were different from the ones Incursio killed.

After deciding to wait for whoever would come, she continued to read her book. She had arrived at one interesting passage, and for the blank Incursio, she loved scenes like this. It was a scene where the FMC and her man arrived in a room after overcoming an intense battle.

[...With the door closed, every pretense falls. The facade we show the world melts away, and all we want is to fuck each other's brains out. Every kiss has a raw intensity - breathing fast, heart rates faster. Then before I know how it happened, we are naked, and our skin is moving softly together, like the finest silk. I feel his hand enter from below, moving fast, our tongues entwined in a kiss, and then he's inside, changing my breathing with every thrust, hearing my moans timed to his body. Then all at once, he stops and kisses from my breasts to my stomach, his hands light; then he's licking and using his fingers all at once, watching my reaction, feeling how my legs move, watching my body writhe. He tells me he's going to make me beg for it, and I just let out a moan, unable to articulate a response. In seconds he's on me again, fucking me harder, just long enough to intoxicate my mind before stopping again. If it's begging he wants, he will have to stop long enough for my brain to start working again first.]

"Hum! Whenever she had sex, she would always react like this. The same thing for the other sex scenes I've read elsewhere. I wonder if sex is as wonderful as I've read many times. I asked Sakuya, but she said it was painful. Maybe she said that because she doesn't want me to taste the wine known as Alex?"

Incursio contemplated for a moment before arriving at the conclusion that it was likely Sakuya's goal; if she managed to convince Incursio that sex was really painful, this would discourage her from trying; she even said that Alex got a big one who made it more painful.

Recalling the conversation she had with Sakuya, the corners of Incursio's mouth lifted into a smile, and she mumbled.

"It doesn't matter. I want to experience sex."

And right after she said those words, a mocking voice reached her ears.

"Ohhh? The infamous Incursio is still a virgin? Pft! As your junior, I'm quite ashamed."

White hair and the same face as her. Incursio was shocked to see the newcomer resembled Alice.

"Oh, by the way, I'm Lilith, your successor, and I'm not a virgin." Lilith declared proudly, and Incursio chuckled.

"It is that so?" She tilted her head to the side before moving faster; she tore the book's first page and strengthened it with mana before launching it. Everything happened in less than a second.

With a shrill shriek, it tore through the air and heavily slammed into Lilith's chest, giving her no time to dodge.

BANG

The impact sent her crashing into another building twenty away. The wall of this building caved in, and the glass panels exploded into tinkling shards.

SCREECH~

"Cough!"

She coughed up a mouthful of blood. His chest and hands ripped open, and hot blood splashed out.

Lilith ignored the pain as the impact sent her flying. She put her feet on the ground forcefully and stopped herself from dragging back any further.

"This is so much fun!" She grinned as blood trickled down her lips.

"It's the time for a payback." Lilith declared; a sword appeared in that hand, then she lifted her bloody hand towards the sky before abruptly bringing it down.

It seemed as if the sky would be split apart.

"!"

"You are exaggerating such a worthless attack?"

Incursio icily asked.

Her voice was so cold that Lilith felt a chill crawling up her spine, and her face turned ashen.

1028 Chapter 1028

Lilith ignored the pain as the impact sent her flying. She put her feet on the ground forcefully and stopped herself from dragging back any further.

"This is so much fun!" She grinned as blood trickled down her lips.

"It's the time for a payback." Lilith declared; a sword appeared in that hand, then she lifted her bloody hand towards the sky before abruptly bringing it down.

It seemed as if the sky would be split apart.

"!"

"You are exaggerating such a worthless attack?"

Incursio icily asked.

Her voice was so cold that Lilith felt a chill crawling up her spine, and her face turned ashen. In this instant, she understood that maybe she had underestimated her predecessor a bit too much. Still, this doesn't mean she would lose; she just has to alter her original plan.

While standing, Lilith wiped away the blood around the corner of her mouth and continued with her provocation.

"For a virgin, you hit hard."

She had expected some kind of reaction from Incursio, but the latter didn't show any reaction; she didn't even attack; she just stood there looking down at Lilith like how an adult would look down on a child trying to act like an adult.

Lilith frowned before checking her status.

Because she was forced to use her mana on her defensive skill, one thousand mana points were spent, and Lilith was sure she would have suffered more damage.

'I will make you pay.' Lilith vowed and attacked right after that.

Swirls of blue flames emerged from her and spun, turning into a cyclone with her as the nucleus.

She pointed at Incursio, and a column of flame burst from the cyclone, shooting at Incursio like a savage beast.

Incursio chuckled; facing this overwhelming attack that turned the temperature hot, she simply placed her hand in front, and a sucking force surged from her palm.

Whish!

The column of flame rushed into her palm and disappeared without landing a scratch on her.

But Lilith smirked.

Because of the milliseconds Incursio spent nullifying the attack, she summoned a sword and appeared behind and slashed out.

"Reality Render!"

It was as if the world had turned monochrome, and Lilith's sword bisected this world as if though trying to deny it.

Everything happened so that Lilith, believed to be the sole owner of this dreadful ability, was already seeing Incursio injured. It was not that she was looking down on Incursio; it was simply because she had absolute confidence in this ability; it didn't matter if Incursio could control time; others might say, what if she stopped time? The answer was simple; it doesn't matter, as she said, because Reality Render was an ability capable of cutting almost everything, space and time included; therefore, Lilith's confidence wasn't unfounded, at least from her point of view.

Like always, the reality was different from what most people would expect.

"Not bad for a hatchling, but you will have to do more than that if you wish to leave a scratch on him."

Incursio declared while perfectly blocking an attack that should have been unstoppable.

Swoosh!

After putting a distance between her and Incursio, Lilith exclaimed, seeking an answer.

"How?"

She couldn't comprehend it, no matter how much she thought about it. After her failure against Lord Thanos using this ability, she believed that it was because he was a special existence; no one else could achieve the same thing, so Incursio being able to block her ability with such ease confused her, and she thirsted for an answer.

However, instead of answering her question, Incursio said while folding her arms.

"I believe Thanos must have warned you not to act recklessly."

"What? How dare you to call Lord Thanos without an honorific. Die!"

Lilith was enraged that Incursio was showing disrespect to her creator. She combined Fire, Wind, and Lightning to create a deadly combo.

A purple flame was created and shot at Incursio, the latter waved her hand, and golden energy erupted in front of her, turning into a shield.

BANG!

Sparks sputtered out as the arc blasted into it, causing a terrifying shockwave to emerge from the impact. Everything in the vicinity was crushed.

A sense of pride swelled inside her; she would defeat the former number two and earn her place, she was a Numbers, but at the same time not, she was a unique existence created with the prospect of replacing Incursio if she were ever to betray the organization and the reason why she looked like Alice was simply that the latter was created using her cells. Normally, she would have assisted her by becoming her twin, but Alex screwed things and ended up stealing her.

Now that she was activated, Lilith ought to show the world that she was better than Incursio and the easiest way to fight her. She came here while disregarding the order not to make contact with Incursio yet.

Swoosh~!

Waves of flame spread from her, burning away everything in their path. Even the fabric of space began to melt and distort, causing the dimension of the basement to tremble violently.

Just as she was about to unleash the hellfire on Incursio, the former made a slashing motion; Lilith immediately canceled her skill and dodged to the side, she had barely done that, and a sword beam passed the area she was previously at; the ground was cleanly cut.

Lilith's body trembled at what would have happened to her if she hadn't dodged in time; maybe now, she would have been split into two.

"Purgatory!"

BOOM!

Dark gray energy burst out of Lilith's body, and she switched into the Purgatory Form. Her stats were temporarily doubled.

"Hellblaze"

Lilith shot a special fireball at Lilith after her transformation. A volcanic amount of heat blasted at her Incursio at terrific speed.

However, all she did was lift her hand and wave it, causing the heat to deflect to the side and crash into the ground.

BOOOOOOOOM!

The ground exploded into tiny pieces while debris flew everywhere.

Lilith disappeared using the explosion to attack Incursio. she appeared behind him, her fire hand reaching for his neck, ready to reduce it to a pulp.

But when her hand grabbed the neck, there was nothing but thin air. He has disappeared like lightning in the night sky.

"!!"

Lilith quickly swirled around, feeling she would appear behind her and attack her as she did.

Instead of appearing behind her as it usually happens in situations like this, Incursio appeared on her left shocking Lilith. Still, she decided to respond by shooting back and simultaneously attacking her. But before she could act on her thoughts, an elbow viciously slammed into her ribs.

The flames around her body scattered, and a force ripple visible to the naked eye swept into her.

"Argh!"

A cry escaped her mouth, sending her to the ground. She crashed like a burning meteorite, pulverizing the surrounding.

But she didn't stay there for even a moment. Just as she crashed, she shot back at Incursio, leaving behind a blinding streak of fire.

"It's getting boring," Incursio said and released her power.

"Lightning!" She called out and,

RUMBLE~

Brilliant arcs of lightning spread from Incursio's body as if announcing a lightning deluge.

BOOOM

Two extremely destructive forces – lightning and fire – crashed into each other, causing a frightening detonation. Shockwaves swept out like an army of starving bulls, obliterating everything in their path.

As this happened, Lilith swung her sword so fast that it created countless afterimages and was powered by heat that could scorch the sky and consume the earth; they reached Incursio, trying to incinerate her; unfortunately, her speed was no match for Incursio's, and all her attacks passed through her afterimages.

But she wasn't concerned. Her powers had increased dramatically by then, and she roared at her like a ferocious tiger.

"Don't recklessly charge and make you choose your opponent better next time." Incursio declared before her sword pierced through Lilith's stomach.

"Puff!" She vomited blood, and her eyes widened in terror.

At the same time.

Clangs!

"Finally, I was tired of waiting." Incursio declared while blocking a sword that came from her blind spot.

1029 Chapter 1029

"Don't recklessly charge and make you choose your opponent better next time." Incursio declared before her sword pierced through Lilith's stomach.

"Puff!" She vomited blood, and her eyes widened in terror.

At the same time.

Clangs!

"Finally, I was tired of waiting." Incursio declared while blocking a sword that came from her blind spot.

"I'm sorry, Lady Incursio, I can't let you kill her yet; I will be in trouble if this happens." An apathetic voice declared from behind. The owner of this was the one that stopped Incursio from killing Lilith by sneak attacking her from behind.

"Why do I think that you're not sorry at all?" Incursio, without turning back, the man's answer was the following.

"Each own their interpretation."

Right after his declaration, he turned into smoke which snatched Lilith, who seemed to have lost her soul.

"You must be the head of the Numbers." Incursio inferred with a nonchalant attitude, but the man neither acknowledged nor denied her claim, not that she cared about his answer to start with. She moved.

The head of the Numbers' pupils dilated as, at the exact same moment, she appeared before him and grabbed his head. He was forced to toss the still frozen Lilith to the side.

Boom!

Incursio thrashed Number 1's face into the ground, bursting it with pieces of mud and stones. Before he could release a cry, she pulled him out and tossed him into the air. She followed him in the air with her knee crashing into his belly.

Number's 1 mouth fell open, and blood sprayed out.

He tumbled to the ground, his body convulsing with pain. He rolled on the ground to dodge Incursio's next attack before standing.

Just as he stood and turned around, he saw the Incursio kick close to his face, barely an inch away. His eyes narrowed, but he didn't panic.

Swoosh!

From the ground, tentacle-like veins emerged and coiled around the Incursio's leg, stopping it from banging into his face.

"Not, So quick!"

Incursio exclaimed with a half-smiling face, but she wasn't really surprised.

It was the newly appointed head of the Numbers from the Chaos Organization and not some random Demigod that the rapid turn of events could catch off guard.

But Incursio wasn't the type to accept failure.

So, the instant the tentacles coiled her leg; she made some acrobatic move; somehow, her second leg kicked out, aiming for the place where the Number 1 thighs joined. It was a vicious move that could leave anyone shocked.

Naturally, Number 1 was shocked as well, not expecting a such vicious move from the one hailed as the future strongest and a real monster.

He had acted faster than lightning to block the kick but spent a bit of energy in the process. Now there was no time to react that fast.

He tried to twist his body and summon more tentacles, but it was too late.

BANG!

The kick successfully landed, sending a burst of terrifying energy into his crotch. His mouth flew open, and he let out a horrifying scream.

"AHHHHHH!"

Number 1 dropped to the floor, his eyes popping out. Lilith, who had regained her senses, was left speechless, mouth agape. She could not believe the one she was looking forward to and planned on beating would use such an underhanded move.

Meanwhile, Number 1 had never suffered such pain in his life, and he couldn't handle it.

It went without saying that a kick to the most sensitive zone sent a signal directly to the mind without dilution by the physical body.

What should have been tragically painful, even for the physical body, now turned a hundred times more powerful?

Number 1 snapped his teeth and lifted his head to look at Lilith while declaring.

"As expected, the rumors are true. You're really vicious." He declared while immediately crushing an instant teleportation scroll. It would be foolish to fight Incursio here; his goal had never been a confrontation but to safely bring back Lilith, who acted on her own despite their Lord's warning.

Multiple tentacles shot from beneath his feet, aiming at Incursio.

Swoosh! Swoosh!!!

She shot back while dodging them. There were far too many of them, and he couldn't avoid them without creating a safe distance from Number 1.

That's what he wanted. It was his goal.

He needed a minute to neutralize the pain, and he couldn't let Incursio take advantage in that time.

And Incursio obviously knew that, but there wasn't much she could do now if she didn't want to go all out, something she couldn't do because she had the feeling that it would spell troubles for her, therefore she could only play a passive role; however, this didn't mean she was totally helpless.

"Sigh!"

After weaving a long sigh, she flicked a coin in their direction, trying to pierce a hole in his body but shockingly, he used her body as a shield.

"Shit!"

Lilith, who returned to her senses at that moment, swore, but she couldn't do anything and got hit in the stomach.

"Ugh!"

She grunted in pain and vomited blood; Number's 1 eyes were cold as he poured mana into the teleportation scroll, and they successfully managed to escape. That blow could be considered Lilith's first punishment after disobeying the orders that were given to her.

After watching the two Numbers escape, Incursio sighed.

"What interesting bunches. Different from us but not bad. I must increase my strength and be ready for anything."

She went silent for a moment before deciding.

"I must drag their attention elsewhere now that they knew my whereabouts. I must distract them, letting Alex and the others increase their strength while I do the same on the run."

Having decided what to do next, Incursio glanced in the sky before vanishing; she would have loved to see him once before leaving but curbed this growing desire. She believed that their next reunion would be sweeter this way.

oooo

The city of Amberhill was built amidst the dry grasses of a simple savanna and is truly a true modern city. Its grace is matched by the backdrop of an abundance of hills that helped shape the city into what it is today.

The trade resources these hills brought were of great importance. Still, they were also influential when it came to architectural designs as the vast majority of buildings follow the flowing round shapes of those very same hills and continue the overall aesthetics.

The skyline was riddled with peculiar skyscrapers, and many had clearly been built within the last decade. The business was booming in Amberhill, and it had attracted a lot of attention. Many different cultures have left their mark not just on the city's cuisine but also upon the city's identity. What historically was a city of few differences has grown into a fusion of everything, and it's this that unites the 200 thousand people to this day.

It's this multicultural identity that has indeed left its mark. Hundreds of bars, sandwich bars, and food carts offer many culinary choices. Those who feel hungry for something else can enjoy libraries, city exploring, or one of the many other recreational venues.

Incursio appeared in this city after leaving the capital of the Foxia empire. She had something to accomplish here; it was why she came.

"Let's check the progress of my pet." She declared before vanishing, going to an underground facility the residents of this city never knew it existed.

ooooo

At the same time, in the special realm owned by Typhania, she was asking Alex a question, more than a question; it was a request.

"Show me your status."

Alex was shocked at first but still nodded at this strange request; he believed Typhania must have a goal in mind for asking this.

He didn't show her everything, but what she said shocked him and made him jump back.

"As expected, you don't have one." Typhania had declared with a grave expression.

1030 Chapter 1030

Alex did not show Typhania everything; however, what the latter wanted, she had found it; what she said next shocked him and made him jump back.

"As expected, you don't have one." Typhania had declared with a grave expression.

"Be more explicit and tell me what you're talking about," Alex stated, hoping that the Elven Goddess wouldn't beat around the bush and would immediately answer him, and it was what she did, but not the way Alex expected.

"Mother's Nature embrace."

Immediately after Typhania called out, the tree's roots shot out from the ground aiming at Alex while their leaves sharpened and, like shurikens, shot toward Alex.

He was attacked from all sides, and because he had spent half of his mana and almost emptied his reserve of silver energy, Alex frowned, but this did not mean he was helpless facing her attack.

A silver gun appeared, and sunlight shone on it before it moved.

Bang! Bang! Bang!!!

Multiple gunshots rang out; Alex destroyed those leaves like shurikens with normal bullets while simultaneously creating a small inviolable domain around himself. The tree's roots were unable to come closer, and just as Alex wanted to go on the counterattack, something unexpected happened that not him had anticipated.

The new tree's roots that came attacking released deadly pollens from their tip, and those pollens got mixed in the air, and Alex inadvertently inhaled some of them, and he was immediately brought to his knees.

"Cough!" Alex violently coughed blood; he thought he was immune to most poisons thanks to his special and enhanced physics, but Typhania's poison released by the tree's roots seemed not to be included, and he was suffering greatly from them.

『Now you're aware of one of your shortcomings. I thought you'd have it on your own but sadly, you didn't; however, thankfully, this girl noticed it, and now you can remedy to this problem.』 Nyx's voice echoed inside Alex's mind shocking him; now that Nyx brought that matter up Alex remembered that he was indeed lacking when it comes to having a powerful resistance to poisons, he thought it would be okay with the many special physics he got thanks to his many special forms; unfortunately, today fight proved him that he was just being arrogant, overconfident in his physics.

Typhania approached Alex, whose half of his face had gained a purple shade, and said.

"You must have noticed by now what you urgently need."

"Cough! Yes..I do." Alex acknowledged it; he was shocked to see his high regenerative skill being unable to erase the toxins trying to cover every one of his cells.

"Cough!" Alex vomited purple blood, and his veins were pulsating across his face, creating a hideous image on his handsome face, but he didn't care as there was something more important to do.

"I bet you did this because you've got the solution. I'm listening."

Typhania nodded, acknowledging Alex's speculation.

"Indeed, I have the solution, but you must know that it would be extremely painful. Will you still want to continue?" She asked with a teasing smile, she knew the answer yet still asked, and Alex didn't disappoint her.

"Don't make me laugh. No pain, no gain. Bring it on."

Upon hearing this answer, Typhania couldn't help but feel a little amused as the corners of her mouth perked up.

"Good, let's begin." Automatically after uttering those words, Typhania flicked her fingers, and a dark green vine shot from beneath her feet and pierced Alex's chest, going straight into his heart and; because from the beginning until this happened, Alex never showed the slightest resistance; everything happened swiftly and smoothly.

However, Alex soon experienced an intense pain that almost forced his knees to give up.

Alex gasping for air, almost stumbled on his feet but managed not to; the world seemed to spin around him as if telling him to give up because of the intense pain, and for he wanted to give up, there was no way he could keep going feeling like this. He held his fingers against his temples and gently massaged them. One deep breath followed another; indeed, this pain could be ignored if he tried, if he endured long enough.

Tried as he might, it seemed impossible to relax completely. Alex was unable to block out the pain entirely. But he managed to block out some of the pain by keeping his mind occupied with other thoughts. It wasn't ideal, but by the time he was done, the pain would hopefully have subsided again.

『Endure it, master, the more you endured, the most benefits you'll get.』 Silveria encouraged him, and even without her encouragement, he would have continued because he understood as soon as that vine pumped poison into his heart that the more he endured, the most benefits he would get, so he continued to endure.

Typhania who was watching him, nodded in silence. Knowing him, she was certain that he would have understood even without her spelling anything; he was that smart, after all. The Elven Goddess simply watched, not offering no words of comfort as it was not his role. To begin with, there weren't that close; she could let that responsibility to his women and loved ones. They were just acquaintances using each other, nothing else.

Watching Alex wriggle in pain like that unexpectedly brought some kind of joy to the Elven Goddess when she thought about everything she had to sacrifice, everything she went through for this man, everything she suffered just to have him cooperate with them, all of this because of some prophecy stating that Alex was the one capable of saving this world from damnation and the only one capable of succeeding in bringing them to the Higher World.

At first, she was doubtful, wondering if the prophecy wasn't some kind of joke, however after observing him and seeing what this man could do and how fast he was progressing, hope was birthed inside Typhania's heart, and once again, she believed and decided to do anything to help him achieve their goal.

"Oh? I think it's time for round two." Typhania broke out of her reverie and stated to Alex's despair; he who thought that he had adapted to the pain and would soon overcome it flinched at Typhania's words, and the Elven goddess smiled seeing this.
